FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TEVA ANNOUNCES AGREEMENT WITH BIOVAIL AND ANCHEN REGARDING GENERIC WELLBUTRIN XL®

Jerusalem, Israel, March 5, 2007 - Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd. (Nasdaq: TEVA) announced today that it has reached an agreement with Biovail Corporation regarding Bupropion Hydrochloride Extended-Release Tablets ("Bupropion HCl ER tablets"), the generic version of the antidepressant Wellbutrin XL® Tablets, for the United States market. The agreement, following U.S. Federal Trade Commission review, resolves litigation between Teva's supplier of the 300 mg product, IMPAX Laboratories, Inc. (NASDAQ:IPXL) and Biovail involving a patent which expires in 2018. The agreement also releases both Teva and IMPAX for past sales of that product, launched by Teva on December 15, 2006 (annual brand sales in the U.S. were approximately $972 million at the time of launch based on IMS data) in collaboration with IMPAX and Anchen Pharmaceuticals, Inc. Teva will continue to market generic Bupropion HCl ER tablets, 300 mg, on an exclusive basis for 6 months from launch and non-exclusively thereafter.

In addition, Teva received a license to sell Bupropion HCl ER tablets, 150 mg, in 2008 and possibly earlier under certain circumstances. That license is also exclusive for 6 months from launch and non-exclusive thereafter. Teva plans to commercialize the 150 mg product by agreement with Anchen, which was awarded 180-day statutory exclusivity for the product. Annual brand product sales in the U.S. were approximately $800 million for the twelve months ended December 2006, based on IMS data.

Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd., headquartered in Israel, is among the top 20 pharmaceutical companies in the world and is the leading generic pharmaceutical company. The company develops, manufactures and markets generic and innovative human pharmaceuticals and active pharmaceutical ingredients, as well as animal health pharmaceutical products. Over 80 percent of Teva's sales are in North America and Europe.
