LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Bond Market Index Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Laurie Carroll.

Although bond yields recently started creeping upward, long-term bond yield spreads remained relatively narrow compared to short-term bond yields throughout the reporting period — despite historical norms. In fact, long-term bond yields generally declined during the first half of the reporting period. Low inflation expectations among U.S. investors and robust demand from overseas investors appear to have helped longer-term bond prices withstand the potentially eroding effects of rising short-term interest rates.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about the investment strategies and specific portfolio allocations that may be appropriate for you.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Laurie Carroll, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Bond Market Index Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund achieved total returns of 0.72% for its Investor shares and 0.97% for its BASIC shares.¹ The fund's benchmark, the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index (the "Index"), achieved a total return of 1.13% for the same period.²

Early in the reporting period, investors' low inflation expectations supported prices of U.S. government securities, and better business conditions sparked a rally among corporate bonds. Subsequently, however, rising short-term interest rates, deteriorating business fundamentals in the automotive sector and concerns regarding the impact of soaring energy prices on inflation erased earlier gains. We attribute the difference between the fund's and benchmark's returns to fees and expenses that are not reflected in the Index.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks to match the total return of the Index. To pursue this goal, the fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in bonds that are included in the Index. To maintain liquidity, the fund may invest up to 20% of its assets in various short-term, fixed-income securities and money market instruments.

While the fund seeks to mirror the returns of the Index, it does not hold the same number of bonds. Instead, the fund holds approximately 350 securities as compared to 6,500 securities in the Index. As a matter of policy, the fund's average duration — a measure of sensitivity to changing interest rates — generally remains neutral to the Index. As of October 31, 2005, the average duration of the fund was approximately 4.58 years.

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE *(continued)What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

As index investors, we do not base our investment decisions on market or economic trends; our goal is to replicate the return of the Index. However, we remain fully cognizant of the overall economic environment, and we are aware of trends that may affect our performance.

That said, several factors influenced the bond market's performance over the reporting period, including a steadily growing U.S. economy and the Federal Reserve Board's (the "Fed") ongoing efforts to forestall potential inflationary pressures. In a move away from its accommodative monetary policy of the past several years, the Fed raised the overnight federal funds rate eight times during the reporting period, driving it from 1.75% to 3.75%. The day after the reporting period ended, the Fed acted again, hiking the federal funds rate to 4.00%.

Contrary to historical norms, however, longer-term bonds held up surprisingly well as investors' inflation expectations remained low and demand for U.S. government securities was high from overseas investors. Signs of weaker global economic growth in the spring appeared to confirm investors' views that inflationary pressures remained subdued, and the yield of 10-year U.S. Treasury securities fell below 4%.

During the summer, however, soaring energy prices caused investors to worry that inflationary pressures might be rising, potentially prompting the Fed to increase interest rates to a higher level than they previously expected. As a result, yields of the more interest-rate sensitive areas of the bond market began to rise and prices fell, offsetting earlier gains.

Within the corporate bond market, disappointing financial results in the spring from automobile manufacturers General Motors and Ford resulted in a credit-rating downgrade of their unsecured debt securities from investment grade to the high yield category. Bonds from issuers in other industries also experienced weakness, especially those that are relatively sensitive to rising oil, gas and commodities prices. Nonetheless, corporate bonds subsequently rebounded, with lower-quality corporate securities generally producing higher returns than more highly rated credits during the reporting period.

Mortgage-backed securities, which comprise approximately one-third of the Index, produced some of the bond market's stronger returns during the reporting period as mortgage rates remained relatively stable and fewer homeowners refinanced their loans. What's more, a robust housing market helped support returns for these securities.

Finally, U.S. government agency debentures offered relatively high yields in light of federal regulators' criticisms of their accounting and risk management practices. Returns from U.S. Treasury securities were more modest, largely due to a ballooning federal budget deficit that caused the supply of newly issued bonds to rise sharply.

What is the fund's current strategy?

As always, we intend to continue to employ our strategy of closely monitoring the Index in an attempt to replicate its return. Accordingly, as of October 31, 2005, approximately 35% of the fund's assets was invested in mortgage-backed securities, 26% was allocated to U.S. Treasury securities, 24% to corporate bonds and asset-backed securities, 10% to U.S. government agency bonds and 5% to securitized assets. In addition, the majority of the fund's corporate securities were BBB-rated as of the reporting period's end, which is closely aligned with the overall credit quality of the Index.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in both the BASIC shares and Investor shares of Dreyfus Bond Market Index Fund on 10/31/95 to a $10,000 investment made in the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index (the "Index") on that date. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account all applicable fees and expenses on both BASIC and Investor shares. The Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of corporate, U.S. government and U.S. government agency debt instruments, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities. The Index does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Bond Market Index Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment

assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005

| | Investor Shares | BASIC Shares |
|-------------------------------|-----------------|--------------|
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 2.02 | $.76 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $999.70 | $1,000.90 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment

assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005

| | Investor Shares | BASIC Shares |

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information (except portfolio turnover rate) reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund's financial statements.

^a As required, effective November 1, 2001, the fund has adopted the provisions of the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide for Investment Companies and began accreting discount on fixed income securities on a scientific basis and including paydown gains and losses in interest income. The effect of these changes for the period ended October 31, 2002 was to decrease net investment income per share and increase net realized and unrealized gain (loss) on investments per share by $.01 and decrease the ratio of net investment income to average net assets from 5.40% to 5.32%. Per share data and ratios/supplemental data for periods prior to November 1, 2001 have not been restated to reflect these changes in presentation.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Bond Market Index Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek to replicate the total return of the Lehman Brothers Aggregate Bond Index. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 150 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock. The fund is currently authorized to issue two classes of shares: Investor (50 million shares authorized) and BASIC (100 million shares authorized). BASIC shares and Investor shares are offered to any investor. Differences between the two classes include the services offered to and the expenses borne by each class, as well as their minimum purchase and account balance requirements. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities (excluding short-term investments other than U.S. Treasury Bills), are valued each business day by an independent pricing service (the “Service”) approved by the Board of Directors. Investments for which quoted bid prices are readily available and are representative of the bid side of the market in the judgment of the Service are valued at the mean between the quoted bid prices (as obtained by the Service from dealers in such securities) and asked prices (as calculated by the Service based upon its evaluation of the market for such securities). Other investments (which constitute a majority of the portfolio securities) are valued as determined by the Service, based on methods which include consideration of: yields or prices of securities of comparable quality, coupon, maturity and type; indications as to values from dealers; and general market conditions. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. Securities for which there are no such valuations are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under the direction of the Board of Directors. Restricted securities, as well as securities or other assets for which recent market quotations are not readily available, that are not valued by a pricing service approved by the Board of Directors, or are determined by the fund not to reflect accurately fair value (such as when an event occurs after the close of the exchange on which the security is principally traded and that is determined by the fund to have changed the value of the security), are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under the direction of the Board of Directors. The factors that may be considered when fair valuing a security include fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold, and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Short-term investments, excluding U.S. Treasury Bills, are carried at amortized cost, which approximates value.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, including where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as "affiliated" in the Act.

(d) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(e) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $18,164, accumulated capital losses $953,347 and unrealized depreciation $5,349,541.

The accumulated capital loss carryover is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, the carryover expires in fiscal 2013.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, were as follows: ordinary income $17,189,456 and $16,350,682 and long-term capital gains $469,474 and $1,704,503, respectively.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences primarily due to the tax treatment for paydown gains and losses on mortgage backed securities, the fund increased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $634,292 and decreased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by the same amount. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund at rates based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. For the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the Facility.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .15% of the value of the fund’s average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund’s allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 31, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the “Dreyfus/Laurel Funds”) attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

(b) Under the fund's Distribution Plan (the "Plan") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Investor shares may pay annually up to .25% of the value of the average daily net assets to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities primarily intended to result in the sale of Investor shares. The BASIC shares bear no distribution fee. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the Investor shares were charged $518,569 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $51,520 and Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $44,944.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales (including paydowns) of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $217,658,917 and $182,155,004, respectively.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $491,183,519; accordingly, accumulated net unrealized depreciation on investments was $5,349,541, consisting of $2,337,239 gross unrealized appreciation and $7,686,780 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Bond Market Index Fund (the "Fund") of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers were not received. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Bond Market Index Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Premier Midcap Stock Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, John O'Toole.

Over the past year, the U.S. economy once again demonstrated its fortitude, expanding at a steady pace despite the headwinds of soaring energy prices, higher short-term interest rates and the Gulf Coast hurricanes. However, after rallying in the final weeks of 2004, the U.S. stock market traded within a relatively narrow range for much of 2005, when investors responded cautiously to uncertainty regarding future business conditions. While small- and midcap stocks generally produced higher returns than large-cap equities for the reporting period, we recently have seen signs of renewed strength among larger companies compared to smaller ones, and higher-quality over lower-quality stocks.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy and financial markets may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk to your financial advisor, who can discuss with you these issues and the potential benefits of a long-term investment perspective.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

John O'Toole, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Premier Midcap Stock Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund produced total returns of 13.70% for Class A shares, 12.84% for Class B shares, 12.88% for Class C shares, 13.99% for Class R shares and 13.44% for Class T shares.¹ This compares with the fund's benchmark, the Standard & Poor's MidCap 400 Index ("S&P 400 Index"), which produced a total return of 17.65% for the same period.²

Stocks generally responded favorably to a growing economy and better-than-expected corporate earnings, with midcap stocks outperforming their small- and large-cap counterparts. The fund participated in this trend to a significant degree, deriving notably strong gains from investments in the energy and health care sectors. However, the fund's relative performance was hindered by its light exposure to high-flying coal stocks compared to the benchmark, as well as the purchase and sale of some individual holdings, particularly in the consumer cyclicals area.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks capital appreciation. To pursue its goal, the fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in stocks of midsize companies.

The fund invests primarily in a blended portfolio of growth and value stocks of mid-capitalization companies, which are chosen through a disciplined investment process that combines computer-modeling techniques, fundamental analysis and risk management.

The fund's investment process is designed to provide investors with investment exposure to sector weightings and risk characteristics generally similar to those of the S&P 400 Index.

In selecting securities, Dreyfus uses a computer model to identify and rank stocks within an industry or sector, based on several characteristics, including: value, or how a stock is priced relative to its perceived intrinsic worth; growth, in this case the sustainability or growth of earnings; and financial profile, which measures the financial health of the company.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

Midcap stocks fared well in an environment of moderate economic growth during the reporting period. However, much of the market's rise was concentrated in energy stocks as soaring oil and gas prices drove profits for energy-related companies to record levels. The fund captured even greater gains from its energy holdings than the benchmark, led by diversified oil and gas company Energen and refinery operators Tesoro and Sunoco.

Similarly, a favorable pricing environment enabled many midcap health care service providers to post robust gains. Although the fund failed to invest in a few of the health care sector's better performers, other holdings in the industry group produced substantial gains, enabling the fund's health care returns to exceed that of the benchmark's health care component. Top performers included medical services providers Coventry Health Care and Pacificare Health Systems, the latter of which received a buy-out offer, and biotechnology firm United Therapeutics, which delivered better-than-expected earnings.

Other individual holdings also helped support the fund's performance. One of the more notable of these, natural foods supermarket chain Whole Foods Market, rose on the strength of its geographic expansion. Another particularly strong performer, electronic transactions processor Global Payments, consistently beat earnings expectations, benefiting from trends toward the globalization and computerization of trade.

On the negative side, the fund's disciplined, valuation-conscious investment approach caused it to be underweighted to seemingly high-priced coal stocks. However, escalating commodity prices caused coal stocks to rise sharply during the reporting period, undermining the fund's performance relative to the benchmark in the producer goods sector. Among consumer cyclical stocks, apparel retailer

Abercrombie & Fitch contributed to the fund's gains, but the purchase of other retailers, such as Chico's FAS, Aeropostale and American Eagle Outfitters, proved disappointing.

In the financials area, a lack of exposure over most of the reporting period to brokerage firm Legg Mason hurt the fund's relative performance. Finally, Puerto Rico-based savings and loan Doral Financial detracted from returns when questions arose concerning the value of certain company assets. The fund limited its losses by selling its position in Doral during the first half of the reporting period.

What is the fund's current strategy?

With the economy showing signs of slower growth as it moves to the next phase of the economic cycle, investors currently appear to be favoring companies with relatively predictable earnings and the ability to deliver consistently positive financial results under a variety of economic conditions. We believe the fund is well-positioned to benefit in this environment. The fund's holdings are well-diversified, emphasizing companies that, in our view, have clear earnings histories and solid business prospects. We have continued to maintain the fund's disciplined focus on midcap stocks, where we have continued to find opportunities among well-established companies offering excellent growth potential.

¹ Total return includes reinvestment of dividends and any capital gains paid and does not take into consideration the maximum initial sales charges in the case of Class A and Class T shares or the applicable contingent deferred sales charges imposed on redemptions in the case of Class B and Class C shares. Had these charges been reflected, returns would have been lower. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Share price and investment return fluctuate such that upon redemption, fund shares may be worth more or less than their original cost.

FUND PERFORMANCE

† Source: Lipper Inc.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R shares of Dreyfus Premier Midcap Stock Fund on 10/31/95 to a $10,000 investment made in the Standard & Poor's MidCap 400 Index (the "Index") on that date. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested. Performance for Class T shares will vary from the performance of Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R shares shown above due to differences in charges and expenses.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account the maximum initial sales charge on Class A shares and all other applicable fees and expenses. The Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged total return index measuring the performance of the midsize company segment of the U.S. stock market and does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

† The maximum contingent deferred sales charge for Class B shares is 4%. After six years Class B shares convert to Class A shares.

†† Assumes the conversion of Class B shares to Class A shares at the end of the sixth year following the date of purchase.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Midcap Stock Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | |
|---|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | | | | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 7.15 | $ 11.11 | $ 11.11 | $ 5.83 | $ 8.47 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,102.40 | $1,098.40 | $1,098.80 | $1,104.00 | $1,101.20 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | |
|--|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 6.87 | $ 10.66 | $ 10.66 | $ 5.60 | $ 8.13 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,018.40 | $1,014.62 | $1,014.62 | $1,019.66 | $1,017.14 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.35% for Class A, 2.10% for Class B, 2.10% for Class C, 1.10% for Class R and 1.60% for Class T; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information (except portfolio turnover rate) reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund's financial statements.

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Premier Midcap Stock Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek capital appreciation. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 488 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock. The fund currently offers five classes of shares: Class A (22 million shares authorized), Class B (100 million shares authorized), Class C (100 million shares authorized), Class R (66 million shares authorized) and Class T shares (200 million shares authorized). Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares are sold primarily to retail investors through financial intermediaries and bear a distribution fee and/or service fee. Class A and Class T shares are sold with a front-end sales charge, while Class B and Class C shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”). Class B shares automatically convert to Class A shares after six years. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or an investment account or relationship at such institution and bear no distribution or service fees. Class R shares are offered without a front end sales charge or CDSC. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to distribution and service fees and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange or national securities market on which such securities are primarily traded. Securities listed on the National Market System for which market quotations are available are valued at the official closing price or, if there is no official closing price that day, at the last sale price. Securities not listed on an exchange or the national securities market, or securities for which there were no transactions, are valued at the average of the most recent bid and asked prices, except for open short positions, where the asked price is used for valuation purposes. Bid price is used when no asked price is available. When market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available, or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, such as when the value of a security has been significantly affected by events after the close of the exchange or market on which the security is principally traded (for example, a foreign exchange or market), but before the fund calculates its net asset value, the fund may value these investments at fair value as determined in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Directors. Fair valuing of securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using calculations based on indices of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as prices of relevant ADR's and futures contracts. For other securities that are fair valued by the Board of Directors, certain factors may be considered such as: fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold, and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Financial futures are valued at the last sales price.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date and interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization premium on investments, is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as “affiliated” in the Act.

(d) Dividends to shareholders: Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends from investment income-net and dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain, can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(e) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $13,002,032, undistributed capital gains $34,981,443 and unrealized appreciation $18,448,771.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004 was as follows: long-term capital gains $4,220,939 and $0.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences, primarily due to the tax treatment for net operating losses and real estate investment trusts, the fund increased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $662,484, decreased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by $659,165 and decreased paid-in capital by $3,319. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund at rates based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing.

The average daily amount of borrowings outstanding under the Facility during the period ended October 31, 2005, was approximately $96,700, with a related weighted average annualized interest rate of 2.86%.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee And Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of 1.10% of the value of the fund’s average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, service fees, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund’s allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the “Dreyfus/Laurel Funds”) attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board Meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, the Distributor retained $18,216 and $3,860 from commissions earned on sales of the fund's Class A and Class T shares, respectively, and $64,112 and $2,077 from contingent deferred sales charges on redemptions of the fund's Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

(b) Under separate Distribution Plans (the "Plans") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Class A shares may pay annually up to .25% of the value of their average daily net assets to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of Class A shares. Class B, Class C and Class T shares may pay the Distributor for distributing their shares at an aggregate annual rate of .75% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B and Class C shares and .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class T shares. The Distributor may pay one or more agents in respect of advertising, marketing and other distribution services for Class T shares and determines the amounts, if any, to be paid to agents and the basis on which such payments are made. Class B, Class C and Class T shares are also subject to a service plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1, (the “Service Plan”) under which Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay the Distributor for providing services to the holders of their shares a fee at the annual rate of .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B, Class C and Class T shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $281,846, $286,553, $125,564 and $3,976, respectively, pursuant to their respective Plans, and Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $95,518, $41,854 and $3,976, respectively, pursuant to the Service Plan.

Under its terms, the Plans and Service Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plans or Service Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $165,613, Rule 12b-1 distribution plans fees $52,032 and service plan fees $10,987.

(c) The Company and the Manager have received an exemptive order from the SEC which, among other things, permits the fund to use cash collateral received in connection with lending the fund’s securities and other uninvested cash to purchase shares of one or more registered money market mutual funds advised by the Manager in excess of the limitations imposed by the Act.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $178,779,657 and $288,020,162, respectively.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $158,722,385; accordingly, accumulated net unrealized appreciation on investments was $18,448,771, consisting of $26,055,777 gross unrealized appreciation and $7,607,006 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Premier Midcap Stock Fund (the "Fund") of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Premier Midcap Stock Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Back Cover

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Disciplined Stock Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Sean P. Fitzgibbon.

Over the past year, the U.S. economy once again demonstrated its fortitude, expanding at a steady pace despite the headwinds of soaring energy prices, higher short-term interest rates and the Gulf Coast hurricanes. However, after rallying in the final weeks of 2004, the U.S. stock market traded within a relatively narrow range for much of 2005, when investors responded cautiously to uncertainty regarding future business conditions. While small- and midcap stocks generally produced higher returns than large-cap equities for the reporting period, we recently have seen signs of renewed strength among larger companies compared to smaller ones, and higher-quality over lower-quality stocks.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy and financial markets may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk to your financial advisor, who can discuss with you these issues and the potential benefits of a long-term investment perspective.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Sean Fitzgibbon, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Disciplined Stock Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund produced a total return of 9.37%.¹ For the same period, the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index ("S&P 500 Index"), the fund's benchmark, produced a total return of 8.72%.²

Stocks generally rose on the strength of continued economic growth. The fund slightly outperformed its benchmark, primarily due to strong gains in the energy sector and above-average returns in the consumer staples, consumer discretionary and financial sectors.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks capital appreciation. To pursue its goal, the fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in stocks of large-cap companies.

The fund invests in a diversified portfolio of large-cap companies that we believe meet our standards for value and growth. The fund invests in growth and value stocks, which are chosen through a disciplined investment process that combines computer-modeling techniques, fundamental analysis and risk management. The fund's investment process is designed to provide investors with investment exposure to sector weightings and risk characteristics generally similar to those of the S&P 500 Index.

In addition to identifying what we believe are attractive investment opportunities, our approach has been designed to manage the risks associated with modifying the fund's sector and industry exposure often in an effort to capitalize on those sectors and industries currently in favor. We do not believe that the advantages of attempting to rotate in and out of various industry sectors outweigh the risks of such moves. Instead, our goal is to minimize these risks by being fully invested and remaining industry and sector neutral in relation to the S&P 500 Index.

The result is a broadly diversified portfolio of carefully selected stocks. At the end of the reporting period, the fund held positions in approximately 104 stocks across 10 economic sectors. Our 10 largest holdings accounted for approximately 24% of the portfolio, so that the fund's performance was not overly dependent on any one stock but was determined by a large number of securities.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

Although stocks in a wide range of industry groups performed well during the reporting period, the market's strength was concentrated in the energy sector, where high oil and gas prices led to particularly robust earnings. In most other economic sectors, the growth rate appeared to moderate as rising interest rates and higher energy prices took their toll.

The fund made effective use of both these economic trends. First, it entered the reporting period with relatively heavy exposure to energy stocks, participating heavily in their gains. Top performers ranged from major integrated oil and gas giants, such as Exxon Mobil, to oilfield service providers, such as Transocean, and independent oil and gas companies, such as Devon Energy. We later trimmed the fund's energy holdings due to rising valuations.

Second, in light of trends toward slowing economic growth, the fund gradually shifted some assets from the consumer discretionary area to traditionally defensive consumer staples stocks. For example, the fund sold its position in online auctioneer eBay in December 2004, locking in substantial gains while avoiding the stock's subsequent decline. Instead, the fund emphasized consumer staples holdings such as tobacco and food producer Altria Group and consumer products maker Gillette, which was purchased by Procter & Gamble. The fund also enjoyed strong contributions from higher-end retailers, such as Coach, that proved less sensitive than mass merchandisers to a slowdown in consumer spending.

In the financial sector, the fund successfully avoided most banks and other interest-sensitive issues in favor of better-performing brokerage and asset management firms, such as Franklin Resources and Goldman Sachs Group.

Of course, the fund suffered its share of disappointments as well. Metal mining concerns, a group in which the fund held relatively little exposure, exhibited surprising strength. However, aluminum producer Alcoa, one of the fund's few holdings in the area, experienced declines due to company-specific problems. In the telecommunications sector, returns were undermined by the fund's lack of direct exposure to wireless telephone companies. The fund's one related holding, Verizon Communications, lagged the averages.

What is the fund's current strategy?

As of the end of the reporting period, we have continued to position the fund for an environment of slow, steady economic growth. We have emphasized companies that we believe are positioned to deliver consistent results as the economy enters a more mature phase. Accordingly, the fund remains overweighted in the consumer staples sector, which historically has provided steady growth, and underweighted in the telecommunications sector, where pricing power has been weakened by stiff competition. In other sectors, we have focused on individual companies and industries that, in our judgment, appear well positioned for the current market environment.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

All performance information reflects the performance of the fund's previously existing Retail shares (which were not subject to any Rule 12b-1 fee) through December 15, 1997, and the fund's single class of shares (which are subject to a 0.10% Rule 12b-1 fee) from December 16, 1997, through October 31, 2005.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Dreyfus Disciplined Stock Fund on 10/31/95 to a $10,000 investment made in the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index (the "Index") on that date. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account all applicable fees and expenses. The Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of U.S. stock market performance, which does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Disciplined Stock Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|---|------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 4.65 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,048.40 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES
WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|--|------------|
| assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 4.58 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,020.67 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .90%; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Disciplined Stock Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek capital appreciation. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager” or “Dreyfus”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”). Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares, which are sold to the public without a sales charge.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange or national securities market on which such securities are primarily traded. Securities listed on the National Market System for which market quotations are available are valued at the official closing price or, if there is no official closing price that day, at the last sale price. Securities not listed on an exchange or the national securities market, or securities for which there were no transactions, are valued at the average of the most recent bid and asked prices, except for open short positions, where the asked price is used for valuation purposes. Bid price is used when no asked price is available. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. When market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available, or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, such as when the value of a security has been significantly affected by events after the close of the exchange or market on which the security is principally traded (for example, a foreign exchange or market), but before the fund calculates its net asset value, the fund may value these investments at fair value as determined in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Directors. Fair valuing of securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using calculations based on indices of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as prices of relevant ADR's and futures contracts. For other securities that are fair valued by the Board of Directors, certain factors may be considered such as: fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date and interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counterparty default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as "affiliated" in the Act.

(d) Dividends to shareholders: Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends from investment income-net are declared and paid on a quarterly basis. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(e) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $3,024,050, accumulated capital losses $29,648,391 and unrealized appreciation $146,527,757.

The accumulated capital loss carryover is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, $22,663,398 of the carryover expires in fiscal 2010 and $6,984,993 expires in fiscal 2011.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, were as follows: ordinary income $12,094,805 and $8,969,807, respectively.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences, primarily due to the tax treatment for real estate investment trusts, the fund decreased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $30,427 and increased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by the same amount. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund at rates based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing.

The average daily amount of borrowings outstanding under the Facility during the period ended October 31, 2005 was approximately $40,300, with a related weighted average annualized interest rate of 3.80%.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .90% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

The Manager has agreed to waive receipt of a portion of the fund's management fee, in the amount of .10% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets from November 1, 2004 through April 4, 2006. The reduction in management fee, pursuant to the undertaking, amounted to $1,174,254 during the period ended October 31, 2005.

(b) Distribution plan: Under the Distribution Plan (the "Plan") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, the fund may pay annually up to .10% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets to compensate Mellon and the Manager for shareholder servicing activities and the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of fund shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund was charged $1,174,254 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of a majority of those Directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $822,633 and Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $90,832, which are offset against an expense reimbursement currently in effect in the amount of $90,922.

(c) Pursuant to an exemptive order from the Securities and Exchange Commission, the fund may invest its available cash balances in affiliated money market mutual funds. Management fees of the underlying money market mutual funds have been waived by the Manager.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $797,088,668 and $1,067,951,810, respectively.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $932,116,658; accordingly, accumulated net unrealized appreciation on investments was $146,527,757, consisting of $166,679,092 gross unrealized appreciation and $20,151,335 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Disciplined Stock Fund (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Disciplined Stock Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Back Cover

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Sean P. Fitzgibbon.

Over the past year, the U.S. economy once again demonstrated its fortitude, expanding at a steady pace despite the headwinds of soaring energy prices, higher short-term interest rates and the Gulf Coast hurricanes. However, after rallying in the final weeks of 2004, the U.S. stock market traded within a relatively narrow range for much of 2005, when investors responded cautiously to uncertainty regarding future business conditions. While small- and midcap stocks generally produced higher returns than large-cap equities for the reporting period, we recently have seen signs of renewed strength among larger companies compared to smaller ones, and higher-quality over lower-quality stocks.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy and financial markets may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk to your financial advisor, who can discuss with you these issues and the potential benefits of a long-term investment perspective.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Sean P. Fitzgibbon, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund produced total returns of 9.23% for Class A shares, 8.42% for Class B shares, 8.42% for Class C shares, 9.50% for Class R shares and 8.93% for Class T shares.¹ For the same period, the total return of the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index ("S&P 500 Index"), the fund's benchmark, was 8.72%.²

We attribute these results to a moderately growing economy, which created a favorable environment for many stocks. The fund participated heavily in the market's advance, achieving particularly strong returns in the energy sector and outperforming its benchmark in the consumer staples, consumer discretionary and financial sectors. As a result, the fund's returns were in line with the benchmark.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks capital appreciation. To pursue its goal, the fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in stocks of large-cap companies.

The fund invests in a diversified portfolio of large companies that we believe meet our strict standards for value and growth. The fund invests in growth and value stocks, which are chosen through a disciplined investment process that combines computer-modeling techniques, fundamental analysis and risk management. The fund's investment process is designed to provide investors with investment exposure to sector weightings and risk characteristics generally similar to those of the S&P 500 Index.

In addition to identifying what we believe are attractive investment opportunities, our approach has been designed to manage the risks associated with modifying the fund's sector and industry exposure often in an effort to capitalize on those sectors and industries currently in favor. We do not believe that the advantages of attempting to rotate in and out of various industry sectors outweigh the risks of such moves. Instead, our goal is to minimize these risks by being fully invested and remaining industry and sector neutral in relation to the S&P 500 Index.

The result is a broadly diversified portfolio of carefully selected stocks. At the end of the reporting period, the fund held positions in approximately 104 stocks across 10 economic sectors. Our 10 largest holdings accounted for approximately 26% of the portfolio, so that the fund's performance was not overly dependent on any one stock, but was determined by a large number of securities.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

Two economic trends ranked among the more significant influences on the fund's performance. First, higher oil and gas prices enabled energy-related companies to generate particularly strong earnings, driving energy stocks sharply higher. Second, in other areas, the economy showed signs of shifting toward more moderate growth as it progressed to the next phase of the economic cycle.

Both these trends worked in the fund's favor. The fund entered the reporting period with relatively heavy exposure to energy stocks, which enhanced its returns. Top performers included major integrated oil and gas giants, such as Exxon Mobil; oilfield service providers, such as Transocean; and independent oil and gas companies, such as Devon Energy. As valuations rose, we trimmed the fund's energy holdings.

In recognition of the potential for slower economic growth, we gradually shifted the fund's emphasis from the consumer discretionary sector to traditionally defensive consumer staples stocks. For example, we sold the fund's position in online auctioneer eBay in December 2004, locking in substantial gains while avoiding the stock's subsequent decline. Thereafter, the fund's consumer discretionary investments focused primarily on higher-end retailers, such as Coach, that proved less sensitive than mass merchandisers to slower consumer spending. Among consumer staples stocks, the fund enjoyed strong returns from tobacco and food producer Altria Group and consumer products maker Gillette, which was acquired by Procter & Gamble. The fund also achieved strong relative performance in the financial sector, where we avoided most banks and other interest-sensitive companies in favor of brokerage and asset management firms, such as Franklin Resources and Goldman Sachs Group.

On a more negative note, the fund maintained relatively little exposure to metal mining concerns, which exhibited surprising strength. However, one of the fund's few holdings in the area, aluminum producer Alcoa, suffered declines due to company-specific problems. In the telecommunications sector, the fund held little direct exposure to wireless companies, which delivered strong returns, while a key related holding, Verizon Communications, lagged the averages.

What is the fund's current strategy?

As of the end of the reporting period, we have continued to see evidence that the economy may be growing more slowly, and we have emphasized companies that we believe are positioned for stable growth in such an environment. Accordingly, the fund remains overweighted in the consumer staples area and underweighted in the telecommunications sector, where stiff competition has undermined pricing power. In other sectors, we have focused on individual companies and industries that, in our judgment, appear poised to thrive in the current market environment.

FUND PERFORMANCE

Comparison of change in value of $10,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund Class A shares and Class R shares and the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index

† Source: Lipper Inc.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class A and Class R shares of Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund on 10/31/95 to a $10,000 investment made in the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index (the "Index") on that date. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested. Performance for Class B, Class C and Class T shares will vary from the performance of Class A and Class R shares shown above due to differences in charges and expenses.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account the maximum initial sales charge on Class A shares and all other applicable fees and expenses. The Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of U.S. stock market performance, which does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

†† Assumes the conversion of Class B shares to Class A shares at the end of the sixth year following the date of purchase.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | | |
|---|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|--|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | | | | | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 5.42 | $ 9.27 | $ 9.27 | $ 4.13 | $ 6.70 | |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | | |
|--|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|--|
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 5.35 | $ 9.15 | $ 9.15 | $ 4.08 | $ 6.61 | |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,019.91 | $1,016.13 | $1,016.13 | $1,021.17 | $1,018.65 | |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.05% for Class A, 1.80% for Class B, 1.80% for Class C, .80% for Class R and 1.30% for Class T; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information (except portfolio turnover rate) reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund's financial statements.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek capital appreciation. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 450 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock. The fund currently offers five classes of shares: Class A (20 million shares authorized), Class B (100 million shares authorized), Class C (100 million shares authorized), Class R (30 million shares authorized) and Class T (200 million shares authorized). Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares are sold primarily to retail investors through financial intermediaries and bear a distribution fee and/or service fee. Class A and Class T shares are sold with a front-end sales charge, while Class B and Class C shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”). Class B shares automatically convert to Class A shares after six years. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon Bank and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or an investment account or relationship at such institution and bear no distribution or service fees. Class R shares are offered without a front-end sales charge or CDSC. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to distribution and service fees and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange or national securities market on which such securities are primarily traded. Securities listed on the National Market System for which market quotations are available are valued at the official closing price or, if there is no official closing price that day, at the last sale price. Securities not listed on an exchange or the national securities market, or securities for which there were no transactions, are valued at the average of the most recent bid and asked prices, except for open short positions, where the asked price is used for valuation purposes. Bid price is used when no asked price is available. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. When market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available, or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, such as when the value of a security has been significantly affected by events after the close of the exchange or market on which the security is principally traded (for example, a foreign exchange or market), but before the portfolio calculates its net asset value, the fund may value these investments at fair value as determined in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Directors. Fair valuing of securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using calculations based on indices of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as prices of relevant ADR's and futures contracts. For other securities that are fair valued by the Board of Directors, certain factors may be considered such as: fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold, and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Financial futures are valued at the last sales price.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date and interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counterparty default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as “affiliated” in the Act.

(d) Dividends to shareholders: Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends from investment income-net are declared and paid on a quarterly basis. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(e) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: accumulated capital losses $51,158,621 and unrealized appreciation $9,964,873.

The accumulated capital loss carryover is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, $6,965,882 of the carryover expires in fiscal 2009, $32,648,933 expires in fiscal 2010 and $11,543,806 expires in fiscal 2011.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, were as follows: ordinary income $919,990 and $436,214, respectively.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences, primarily due to the tax treatment for real estate investment trusts, the fund increased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $85,589, increased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by $2,718 and decreased paid-in capital by $88,307. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification

NOTE 2–Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the Facility.

NOTE 3–Investment Management Fee And Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .90% of the value of the fund’s average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, service fees, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund’s allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/ Laurel Tax-Free

Municipal Funds and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the “Dreyfus/Laurel Funds”) attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board Meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

The Manager has agreed to waive receipt of a portion of the fund's management fee in the amount of .10% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets until April 4, 2006. The reduction in management fee, pursuant to the undertaking, amounted to $95,356 during the period ended October 31, 2005.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, the Distributor retained $4,476 and $43 from commissions earned on sales of the fund's Class A and Class T shares, respectively, and $97,480 and $468 from contingent deferred sales charges on redemptions of the fund's Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

(b) Under separate Distribution Plans (the "Plans") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Class A shares may pay annually up to .25% of their average daily net assets to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of Class A shares. Class B, Class C and Class T shares may pay the Distributor for distributing their shares at an aggregate annual rate of .75% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B and Class C shares and .25% of the average daily net assets of Class T shares. The Distributor may pay one or more agents in respect of advertising, marketing and other distribution services for Class T shares and determines the amounts, if any, to be paid to agents and the basis on which such payments are made. Class B, Class C and Class T shares are also subject to a service plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 (the "Service Plan") under which Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay the Distributor for providing services to the holders of their shares, a fee at the annual rate of .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B, Class C and Class T shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $94,165, $286,252, $70,332 and $1,646, respectively, pursuant to their respective Plans. Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $95,417, $23,444 and $1,646, respectively, pursuant to the Service Plan.

Under its terms, the Plans and Service Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who had no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plans or Service Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $66,474, Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $32,371 and service plan fees $8,068, which are offset against an expense reimbursement currently in effect in the amount of $6,843.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $66,343,708 and $86,495,745, respectively.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $76,887,739; accordingly, accumulated net unrealized appreciation on investments was $9,964,873, consisting of $11,965,646 gross unrealized appreciation and $2,000,773 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, of Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers. As to securities sold but not yet delivered, we performed other appropriate auditing procedures. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Premier Large Company Stock Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., as of October 31, 2005, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Institutional Government Money Market Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Patricia A. Larkin.

As the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates steadily and gradually during the past year, so too have yields of money market instruments risen over the past year. While many investors currently believe that the Fed is likely to continue to raise rates in the near future, the focus has turned toward Federal Reserve nominee Ben Bernanke, who is expected to succeed Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan early next year, and how he will interpret current economic data.

As the end of 2005 approaches, investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board and the effects of higher fuel prices on the rate of inflation may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about your current portfolio allocations and liquidity needs.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Patricia A. Larkin, Senior Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Institutional Government Money Market Fund perform during the period?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, Dreyfus Institutional Government Money Market Fund produced a 2.55% yield and, after taking into account the effects of compounding, an effective yield of 2.58%.¹

Note to shareholders: As of September 1, 2005, Patricia A. Larkin became the fund's primary portfolio manager.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal and conservative investment risk. To pursue its goal, the fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in money market instruments issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government and its agencies and instrumentalities. The fund may also invest in repurchase agreements, including tri-party repurchase agreements.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

The Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates throughout the reporting period in an ongoing effort to forestall potential inflationary pressures. When the reporting period began, however, the economic outlook was relatively uncertain amid a contentious U.S. presidential election campaign. After the election, signs of more sustainable economic growth emerged, and the Fed raised the overnight federal funds rate by 25 basis points at each of its meetings in November and December 2004, leaving short-term rates at 2.25% at year-end.

During the opening months of 2005, long-dormant inflationary pressures appeared to intensify when prices of crude oil, natural gas and other commodities surged due to robust demand from China and other developing nations. It was no surprise, therefore, that the Fed raised short-term interest rates at its February and March meetings, driving the federal funds rate to 2.75%.

Although weaker-than-expected data in April suggested that the U.S. economy might have hit a soft patch, these concerns proved to be short-lived, and it later was estimated that the U.S. labor market added more jobs than expected during the month. On the other hand, difficulties encountered by the airline and automotive industries were regarded as potential threats to consumer and business confidence and spending.

At its meeting in early May, the Fed increased the federal funds rate to 3%. Yet, evidence of slower economic growth in global markets weighed on investor sentiment, and the yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond fell below 4%. Although economic expectations appeared to improve in June, investors continued to worry that higher energy prices and borrowing costs might hinder economic activity. Still, on June 30 the Fed again hiked the federal funds rate to 3.25%. U.S. GDP grew at a 3.3% annualized rate during the second quarter of 2005.

Non-farm payrolls continued to increase in July, and the unemployment rate dropped to 5.0%, helping to convince investors that economic growth remained solid. While inflationary pressures appeared to stay contained due to steep discounts from automobile manufacturers and apparel retailers, oil and gas prices continued to escalate.

The economic recovery remained on track in August, and the Fed raised the federal funds rate to 3.5%. On August 29, however, Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast, leaving in its wake severe human and economic damage, and oil prices spiked to more than $70 per barrel. Hurricane Rita followed just a few weeks later, affecting a significant portion of U.S. oil drilling and refining capacity.

Although some analysts believed that the hurricanes might prompt the Fed to pause at its September 20 meeting, the Fed remained on course, increasing the federal funds rate to 3.75%. At the same time, the Fed again commented that monetary policy remained accommodative. It was later estimated that U.S. GDP grew at a relatively robust 3.8% during the third quarter of 2005.

In this changing environment, most money market investors focused primarily on securities with maturities of six months or less in an attempt to maintain liquidity and keep funds available for higher-yielding instruments as they became available. As a result, demand for shorter-term money market instruments was robust, while demand for instruments with one-year maturities was relatively low. This has caused yield differences between overnight instruments and one-year securities to widen significantly.

We maintained a relatively defensive investment posture by setting the fund's weighted average maturity in a range we considered shorter than industry averages to reflect prevailing market conditions and the proximity of upcoming FOMC meetings.

What is the fund's current strategy?

On November 1, 2005, just one day after the close of the reporting period, the Fed acted for the twelfth consecutive time, raising the federal funds rate to 4%. In its statement, the Fed appeared to confirm analysts' revised interest-rate expectations, again noting, "With underlying inflation expected to be contained, the Committee believes that policy accommodation can be removed at a pace that is likely to be measured." Accordingly, we have maintained the fund's relatively conservative positioning, which we believe is prudent until we see signs that the Fed is nearing the end of its credit-tightening campaign.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Institutional Government Money Market Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|---|------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 1.52 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,015.40 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES
WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|--|------------|
| assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 1.53 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,023.69 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .30%, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Institutional Government Money Market Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal and conservative investment risk by investing principally in high quality money market instruments issued or guaranteed by the U.S. Government and its agencies and instrumentalities. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”). Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares, which are sold to the public without a sales charge.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost in accordance with Rule 2a-7 of the Act, which has been determined by the Board of Directors to represent the fair value of the fund’s investments.

It is the fund’s policy to maintain a continuous net asset value per share of $1.00 for the fund; the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share of $1.00.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, adjusted for accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is earned from settlement date and recognized on the accrual basis. Cost of investments represents amortized cost.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The accumulated capital loss carryover of $42,631 is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, $10,982 of the carryover expires in fiscal 2006 and $31,649 expires in fiscal 2007.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, was all ordinary income.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $100 million unsecured line of credit primarily to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the line of credit.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions with Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .15% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, shareholder servicing fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and the Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

(b) Under the Shareholder Servicing Plan (the “Plan”), the fund may pay up to .15% of the value of the average daily net assets annually to compensate certain banks, brokers, dealers or other financial institutions for shareholder services. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund was charged $354,170 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $25,894 and shareholder services plan fees $25,894.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the statement of investments, of Dreyfus Institutional Government Money Market Fund (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, or other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers were not received. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Institutional Government Money Market Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Institutional Prime Money Market Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Patricia A. Larkin.

As the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates steadily and gradually during the past year, so too have yields of money market instruments risen over the past year. While many investors currently believe that the Fed is likely to continue to raise rates in the near future, the focus has turned toward Federal Reserve nominee Ben Bernanke, who is expected to succeed Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan early next year, and how he will interpret current economic data.

As the end of 2005 approaches, investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board and the effects of higher fuel prices on the rate of inflation may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about your current portfolio allocations and liquidity needs.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Patricia A. Larkin, Senior Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Institutional Prime Money Market Fund perform during the period?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, Dreyfus Institutional Prime Money Market Fund produced a 2.61% yield and, after taking into account the effects of compounding, an effective yield of 2.64%.¹

Note to shareholders: As of September 1, 2005, Patricia A. Larkin became the fund's primary portfolio manager.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks a high level of current income consistent with the stability of principal. To pursue its goal, the fund invests in a diversified portfolio of high-quality, short-term debt securities, including: securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government or its agencies and instrumentalities; certificates of deposit, time deposits, bankers' acceptances and other short-term securities issued by U.S. or foreign banks or their subsidiaries or branches; repurchase agreements, including tri-party repurchase agreements; asset-backed securities; domestic and dollar-denominated foreign commercial paper, and other short-term corporate obligations, including those with floating or variable rates of interest.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

The Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates throughout the reporting period in an ongoing effort to forestall potential inflationary pressures. When the reporting period began, however, the economic outlook was relatively uncertain amid a contentious U.S. presidential election campaign. After the election, signs of more sustainable economic growth emerged, and the Fed raised the overnight federal funds rate by 25 basis points at each of its meetings in November and December 2004, leaving short-term rates at 2.25% at year-end.

During the opening months of 2005, long-dormant inflationary pressures appeared to intensify when prices of crude oil, natural gas and other commodities surged. It was no surprise, therefore, that the Fed raised short-term interest rates at its February and March meetings, driving the federal funds rate to 2.75%. It later was revealed that the U.S. economy expanded at a 3.5% rate during the first quarter of 2005.

Although weaker-than-expected data in April suggested that the U.S. economy might have hit a soft patch, these concerns proved to be short-lived, and it later was estimated that the U.S. labor market added more jobs than expected during the month. On the other hand, difficulties encountered by the airline and automotive industries were regarded as potential threats to consumer and business confidence and spending.

Yet, evidence of slower economic growth in global markets weighed on investor sentiment during the spring, and the yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond fell below 4%. Although economic expectations appeared to improve in June, investors continued to worry about higher energy prices and interest rates. Still, on June 30 the Fed again hiked the federal funds rate to 3.25%. U.S. GDP grew at a 3.3% annualized rate during the second quarter of 2005.

Non-farm payrolls continued to increase in July, and the unemployment rate dropped to 5.0%, helping to convince investors that economic growth remained solid. While inflationary pressures appeared to stay contained due to steep discounts from automobile manufacturers and apparel retailers, oil and gas prices continued to escalate.

The economic recovery remained on track in August, and the Fed raised the federal funds rate to 3.5%. On August 29, however, Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast, leaving in its wake severe human and economic damage, and oil prices spiked to more than $70 per barrel. Hurricane Rita followed just a few weeks later, affecting a significant portion of U.S. oil drilling and refining capacity.

Although some analysts believed that the hurricanes might prompt the Fed to pause at its September 20 meeting, the Fed remained on course, increasing the federal funds rate to 3.75%. It was later estimated that U.S. GDP grew at a relatively robust 3.8% during the third quarter of 2005.

In this changing environment, most money market investors focused primarily on securities with maturities of six months or less in an attempt to maintain liquidity and keep funds available for higher-yielding instruments as they became available. As a result, demand for shorter-term money market instruments was robust, while demand for instruments with one-year maturities was relatively low. This has caused yield differences between overnight instruments and one-year securities to widen significantly.

We maintained a relatively defensive investment posture by setting the fund's weighted average maturity in a range we considered shorter than industry averages to reflect prevailing market conditions and the proximity of upcoming FOMC meetings.

What is the fund's current strategy?

On November 1, 2005, just one day after the close of the reporting period, the Fed acted for the twelfth consecutive time, raising the federal funds rate to 4%. In its statement, the Fed appeared to confirm analysts' revised interest-rate expectations, again noting, "With underlying inflation expected to be contained, the Committee believes that policy accommodation can be removed at a pace that is likely to be measured." Accordingly, we have maintained the fund's relatively conservative positioning, which we believe is prudent until we see signs that the Fed is nearing the end of its credit-tightening campaign.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Institutional Prime Money Market Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES
WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|--|------------|
| assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 1.53 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,023.69 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .30%, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Institutional Prime Money Market Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”), which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”). Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares, which are sold to the public without a sales charge.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost in accordance with Rule 2a-7 of the Act, which has been determined by the Board of Directors to represent the fair value of the fund’s investments.

It is the fund’s policy to maintain a continuous net asset value per share of $1.00 for the fund; the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share of $1.00.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, adjusted for accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is earned from settlement date and is recognized on the accrual basis. Cost of investments represents amortized cost.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counterparty default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The accumulated capital loss carryover of $211 is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, the carryover expires in fiscal 2013.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004 were all ordinary income.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences, the fund decreased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by $2,887 and increased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by the same amount. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $100 million unsecured line of credit primarily to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the line of credit.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions with Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .15% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, shareholder servicing fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

(b) Under the Shareholder Servicing Plan (the “Plan”), the fund may pay up to .15% of the value of the average daily net assets annually to compensate certain banks, brokers, dealers or other financial institutions for shareholder services. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund was charged $605,483 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $25,461 and shareholder servicing plan fees $25,460.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Institutional Prime Money Market Fund (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Institutional Prime Money Market Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Institutional U.S. Treasury Money Market Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Patricia A. Larkin.

As the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates steadily and gradually during the past year, so too have yields of money market instruments risen over the past year. While many investors currently believe that the Fed is likely to continue to raise rates in the near future, the focus has turned toward Federal Reserve nominee Ben Bernanke, who is expected to succeed Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan early next year, and how he will interpret current economic data.

As the end of 2005 approaches, investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board and the effects of higher fuel prices on the rate of inflation may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about your current portfolio allocations and liquidity needs.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Patricia A. Larkin, Senior Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Institutional U.S. Treasury Money Market Fund perform during the period?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, Dreyfus Institutional U.S. Treasury Money Market Fund produced a 2.42% yield and, after taking into account the effects of compounding, an effective yield of 2.45%.¹

Note to shareholders: As of September 1, 2005, Patricia A. Larkin became the fund's primary portfolio manager.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal and conservative investment risk. As a U.S. Treasury money market fund, we attempt to provide shareholders with an investment vehicle that invests in a portfolio of U.S. Treasury securities as well as repurchase agreements that are backed by U.S. Treasuries. A major benefit of these securities is that they are very liquid in nature — that is, they can be converted to cash quickly. Because U.S. Treasury obligations are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government, they are generally considered to be among the highest-quality investments available. By investing in these obligations, the fund seeks to add an incremental degree of safety to the portfolio. The fund is required to maintain an average dollar-weighted maturity of 90 days or less.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

The fund was primarily affected by the Federal Reserve Board's (the "Fed") ongoing moves toward a less accommodative monetary policy. In fact, soon after the reporting period began, signs of stronger economic growth emerged, and the Fed raised the overnight federal funds rate by 25 basis points at each of its meetings in November and December 2004, leaving short-term rates at 2.25% at year-end.

During the opening months of 2005, long-dormant inflationary pressures appeared to intensify when prices of crude oil, natural gas and other commodities surged. It was no surprise, therefore, that the Fed raised short-term interest rates at its February and March meetings, driving the federal funds rate to 2.75%. It later was revealed that the U.S. economy expanded at a 3.5% rate during the first quarter of 2005.

Although weaker-than-expected data in April suggested that the economy might have hit a soft patch, these concerns proved to be short-lived, and it later was estimated that the U.S. labor market added more jobs than expected during the month. At its meeting in early May, the Fed increased the federal funds rate to 3%.

Yet, evidence of slower economic growth in global markets weighed on investor sentiment during the spring, and the yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond fell below 4%. Although economic expectations appeared to improve in June, investors continued to worry about higher energy prices and interest rates. Still, on June 30 the Fed again hiked the federal funds rate to 3.25%. U.S. GDP grew at a 3.3% annualized rate during the second quarter of 2005.

Non-farm payrolls continued to increase in July, and the unemployment rate dropped to 5.0%, helping to convince investors that economic growth remained solid. While inflationary pressures appeared to stay contained due to steep discounts from automobile manufacturers and apparel retailers, oil and gas prices continued to escalate.

The economic recovery remained on track in August, and the Fed raised the federal funds rate to 3.5%. On August 29, however, Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast, leaving in its wake severe human and economic damage, and oil prices spiked to more than $70 per barrel. Hurricane Rita followed just a few weeks later, affecting a significant portion of U.S. oil drilling and refining capacity.

Although some analysts believed that the hurricanes might prompt the Fed to pause at its September 20 meeting, the Fed remained on course, increasing the federal funds rate to 3.75%. It was later estimated that U.S. GDP grew at a relatively robust 3.8% during the third quarter of 2005.

In this changing environment, most money market investors focused primarily on securities with maturities of six months or less in an attempt to maintain liquidity and keep funds available for higher-yielding instruments as they became available. As a result, demand for shorter-term money market instruments was robust, while demand for instruments with one-year maturities was relatively low. This has caused yield differences between overnight instruments and one-year securities to widen significantly.

We maintained a relatively defensive investment posture by setting the fund's weighted average maturity in a range we considered shorter than industry averages to reflect prevailing market conditions and the proximity of upcoming FOMC meetings.

What is the fund's current strategy?

On November 1, 2005, just one day after the close of the reporting period, the Fed acted for the twelfth consecutive time, raising the federal funds rate to 4%. In its statement, the Fed appeared to confirm analysts' revised interest-rate expectations, again noting, "With underlying inflation expected to be contained, the Committee believes that policy accommodation can be removed at a pace that is likely to be measured." Accordingly, we have maintained the fund's relatively conservative positioning, which we believe is prudent until we see signs that the Fed is nearing the end of its credit-tightening campaign.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Institutional U.S. Treasury Money Market Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|---|------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 1.52 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,014.70 |

WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|--|------------|
| assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 1.53 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,023.69 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .30%; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Institutional U.S. Treasury Money Market Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal and conservative investment risk by investing in direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury and repurchase agreements secured by such obligations. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager” or “Dreyfus”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”). Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares, which are sold to the public without a sales charge.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost in accordance with Rule 2a-7 of the Act, which has been determined by the Board of Directors to represent the fair value of the fund’s investments.

It is the fund’s policy to maintain a continuous net asset value per share of $1.00 for the fund; the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share of $1.00.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, adjusted for accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments is earned from settlement date and recognized on the accrual basis. Cost of investments represents amortized cost.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The accumulated capital loss carryover of $1,056 is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, the carryover expires in fiscal 2012.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004 were all ordinary income.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $100 million unsecured line of credit primarily to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the line of credit.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions with Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .15% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, shareholder servicing fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

(b) Under the Shareholder Servicing Plan (the “Plan”), the fund may pay up to .15% of the value of the average daily net assets to compensate certain banks, brokers, dealers or other financial institutions for shareholder services. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund was charged $430,873 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $32,352 and shareholder servicing plan fees $32,353.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Institutional U.S. Treasury Money Market Fund (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers were not received. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Institutional U.S. Treasury Money Market Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Back Cover

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Money Market Reserves, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Patricia A. Larkin.

As the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates steadily and gradually during the past year, so too have yields of money market instruments risen over the past year. While many investors currently believe that the Fed is likely to continue to raise rates in the near future, the focus has turned toward Federal Reserve nominee Ben Bernanke, who is expected to succeed Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan early next year, and how he will interpret current economic data.

As the end of 2005 approaches, investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board and the effects of higher fuel prices on the rate of inflation may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about your current portfolio allocations and liquidity needs.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Patricia A. Larkin, Senior Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Money Market Reserves perform during the period?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund's Investor shares produced a yield of 2.20%, and its Class R shares produced a yield of 2.41%. Taking into account the effects of compounding, the effective yields for the fund's Investor shares and Class R shares were 2.23% and 2.43%, respectively.¹

Note to shareholders: As of September 1, 2005, Patricia A. Larkin became the fund's primary portfolio manager.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal. To pursue its goal, the fund invests in a diversified portfolio of high-quality, short-term debt securities, including: securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government or its agencies and instrumentalities; certificates of deposit, time deposits, bankers' acceptances and other short-term securities issued by domestic or foreign banks or their subsidiaries or branches; repurchase agreements; asset-backed securities; domestic and dollar-denominated foreign commercial paper and other short-term corporate obligations, including those with floating or variable rates of interest.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

The Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates throughout the reporting period in an ongoing effort to forestall potential inflationary pressures. Indeed, soon after the reporting period began, signs of more sustainable economic growth emerged, and the Fed raised the overnight federal funds rate by 25 basis points at each of its meetings in November and December 2004, leaving short-term rates at 2.25% by year-end.

During the opening months of 2005, long-dormant inflationary pressures appeared to intensify when prices of crude oil, natural gas and other commodities surged. It was no surprise, therefore, that the Fed raised short-term interest rates at its February and March meetings, driving the federal funds rate to 2.75%. It later was revealed that the U.S. economy expanded at a 3.5% rate during the first quarter of 2005.

Although weaker-than-expected data in April suggested that the U.S. economy might have hit a soft patch, these concerns proved to be short-lived, and it later was estimated that the U.S. labor market added more jobs than expected during the month. Yet, evidence of slower economic growth in global markets weighed on investor sentiment during the spring, and the yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond fell below 4%.

Although economic expectations appeared to improve in June, investors continued to worry about the potentially eroding effects of higher energy prices and interest rates. Still, on June 30 the Fed again hiked the federal funds rate to 3.25%. U.S. GDP grew at a 3.3% annualized rate during the second quarter of 2005.

Non-farm payrolls continued to increase in July, and the unemployment rate dropped to 5.0%, helping to convince investors that economic growth remained solid. While inflationary pressures appeared to stay contained due to steep discounts from automobile manufacturers and apparel retailers, oil and gas prices continued to escalate.

The economic recovery remained on track in August, and the Fed raised the federal funds rate to 3.5%. On August 29, however, Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast, leaving in its wake severe human and economic damage, and oil prices spiked to more than $70 per barrel. Hurricane Rita followed just a few weeks later, affecting a significant portion of U.S. oil drilling and refining capacity.

Although some analysts believed that the hurricanes might prompt the Fed to pause at its September 20 meeting, the Fed remained on course, increasing the federal funds rate to 3.75% and leaving intact key language in its accompanying statement. It was later estimated that U.S. GDP grew at a relatively robust 3.8% during the third quarter of 2005.

In this changing environment, most money market investors focused primarily on securities with maturities of six months or less in an attempt to maintain liquidity and keep funds available for higher-yielding instruments as they became available. As a result, demand for shorter-term money market instruments was robust, while demand for instruments with one-year maturities was relatively low. This has caused yield differences between overnight instruments and one-year securities to widen significantly.

We maintained a relatively defensive investment posture by setting the fund's weighted average maturity in a range we considered shorter than industry averages to reflect prevailing market conditions and the proximity of upcoming FOMC meetings.

What is the fund's current strategy?

On November 1, 2005, just one day after the close of the reporting period, the Fed acted for the twelfth consecutive time, raising the federal funds rate to 4%. In its statement, the Fed appeared to confirm analysts' expectations of further rate hikes, again noting, "With underlying inflation expected to be contained, the Committee believes that policy accommodation can be removed at a pace that is likely to be measured." Accordingly, we have maintained the fund's relatively conservative positioning, which we believe is prudent until we see signs that the Fed is near the end of its credit-tightening campaign.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Money Market Reserves from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | |
|---|-----------------|----------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | |
| | Investor Shares | Class R Shares |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 3.55 | $ 2.54 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,013.70 | $1,014.70 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES
WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | |
|--|-----------------|----------------|
| assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | |
| | Investor Shares | Class R Shares |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 3.57 | $ 2.55 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,021.68 | $1,022.68 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .70% for Investor shares and .50% for Class R shares; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund’s financial statements.

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Money Market Reserves (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal by investing in a diversified portfolio of high-quality, short-term debt securities. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 2 billion shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock in each of the following classes of shares: Investor and Class R. Investor shares are sold primarily to retail investors and bear a distribution fee. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon Financial and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or investment account or relationship at such institution, and bear no distribution fee. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to the distribution fee and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost in accordance with Rule 2a-7 of the Act, which has been determined by the Board of Directors to represent the fair value of the fund’s investments.

It is the fund's policy to maintain a continuous net asset value per share of $1.00 for the fund; the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share of $1.00.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, adjusted for accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is earned from settlement date and recognized on the accrual basis. Cost of investments represents amortized cost.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, if any, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualifications is in the best interest of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The accumulated capital loss carryover of $603 is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, the carryover expires in fiscal 2012.

The tax character of all distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, was all ordinary income.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $100 million unsecured line of credit primarily to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. Interest is charged based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the line of credit.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .50% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund.

These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

(b) Under the fund's Distribution Plan (the "Plan") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act. Investor shares may pay annually up to .25% (currently limited by the Company's Board of Directors to .20%) of the value of the average daily net assets attributable to its Investor shares to compensate the Distributor, for shareholder servicing activities and activities primarily intended to result in the sale of Investor shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Investor shares were charged $655,702 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not "interested persons" of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $158,181 and Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $53,687.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Money Market Reserves (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and broker, or by other appropriate procedures where replies from the broker was not received. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Money Market Reserves of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Municipal Reserves, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, J. Christopher Nicholl.

As the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates steadily and gradually during the past year, so too have yields of tax-exempt money market instruments risen over the past year. While many investors currently believe that the Fed is likely to continue to raise rates in the near future, the focus has turned toward who will succeed Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan, who is set to step down as Fed Chairman next year, and how the new chairperson will interpret current economic data.

As the end of 2005 approaches, investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board and the effects of higher fuel prices on the rate of inflation may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about your current portfolio allocations and potential need for tax-free income.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

J. Christopher Nicholl, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Municipal Reserves perform during the period?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund produced yields of 1.67% for its Class R shares and 1.47% for its Investor shares. Taking into account the effects of compounding, the fund also produced effective yields of 1.68% and 1.48% for its Class R shares and Investor shares, respectively. ¹

Yields of tax-exempt money market securities rose steadily over the reporting period, primarily in response to higher short-term interest rates from the Federal Reserve Board (the “Fed”).

What is the fund’s investment approach?

The fund seeks a high level of current income, consistent with stability of principal, that is exempt from federal income tax. To pursue its goal, the fund invests at least 80% of its assets in tax-exempt municipal obligations, including short-term municipal debt securities. Among these are municipal notes, short-term municipal bonds, tax-exempt commercial paper and municipal leases. The fund reserves the right to invest up to 20% of total assets in taxable money market securities, such as U.S. government obligations, U.S. and foreign bank and corporate obligations and commercial paper. Municipal obligations are typically of two types:

- General obligation bonds, which are secured by the full faith and credit of the issuer and its taxing power.
- Revenue bonds, which are payable from the revenues derived from a specific revenue source, such as charges for water and sewer service or highway tolls.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

The Fed raised short-term interest rates by 25 basis points at each of eight meetings of its Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) during the reporting period, driving the overnight federal funds rate from 1.75% at the start of the reporting period to 3.75% by the reporting period's end. On November 1, 2005, just one day after the reporting period's close, the Fed acted again, hiking the federal funds rate to 4%.

The Fed's credit tightening campaign occurred in an environment of moderate economic growth. Despite occasional concerns among analysts that the economy might be growing too robustly, potentially igniting inflationary pressures, or too weakly, increasing the risk of recession, U.S. gross domestic product continued to expand steadily throughout the reporting period. More specifically, U.S. GDP rose at annualized rates of 3.5% during the first quarter of 2005 and 3.3% for the second quarter of 2005 and an estimated 3.8% for the third quarter of 2005. Inflation remained at persistently low levels for much of the reporting period, but higher energy prices contributed to intensifying inflation concerns late in the reporting period.

Better economic conditions helped improve the fiscal conditions of many states and municipalities. As a result, issuers had less need to borrow to cover budget shortfalls, and the supply of newly issued tax-exempt money market instruments fell compared to the same period one year earlier. Moderating supply amid robust investor demand, including participation of non-traditional investors such as hedge funds and insurance companies, generally put downward pressure on tax-exempt money market yields.

For much of the reporting period, we maintained the fund's weighted average maturity in a range we considered short. This positioning was designed to maintain the liquidity the fund needed to capture higher yields quickly as interest rates rose. However, most other money market funds adopted a similar strategy, so the fund's weighted average maturity generally remained in line with industry averages. In fact, the industry's weighted average maturity in May 2005 fell to the shortest point on record. At times, when yield differences between short- and longer-term money market instruments widened due to investor sentiment and technical factors, we extended the fund's weighted average maturity temporarily to participate in the higher yields offered by securities in the two- to six-month range.

We adjusted this strategy during the final months of the reporting period, when we believed that longer-term money market yields had become more attractive, and chances became more balanced that the Fed would continue to raise interest rates or pause to assess economic growth. Accordingly, we extended the fund's weighted average maturity modestly, including occasional purchases of municipal money market instruments with maturities of six months. As part of this strategy, we increased the fund's holdings of tax-exempt commercial paper.

What is the fund's current strategy?

In light of recent reports of stronger-than-expected economic data, we expect the Fed to continue to raise short-term interest rates at upcoming FOMC meetings at least through the end of 2005. At that point, if the Fed's credit tightening campaign has constrained the rate of economic growth and inflation remains benign, the Fed may have relatively few rate-hikes left in store. On the other hand, rising inflationary pressures and robust economic growth could lead to more interest-rate increases. Consequently, we have continued to maintain the fund's weighted average maturity in the neutral range.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Municipal Reserves from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | |
|---|-----------------|----------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | |
| | Investor Shares | Class R Shares |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 3.60 | $ 2.58 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,009.00 | $1,010.00 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | |
|--|-----------------|----------------|
| assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | |
| | Investor Shares | Class R Shares |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 3.62 | $ 2.60 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,021.63 | $1,022.63 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .71% for Class I and .51% for Class R, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund’s financial statements.

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Municipal Reserves (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek income, consistent with stability of principal, that is exempt from federal income tax. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 1 billion shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock in each of the following classes of shares: Investor and Class R. Investor shares are sold primarily to retail investors and bear a distribution fee. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or investment account or relationship at such institution, and bear no distribution fee. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to the distribution fee and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class) and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost in accordance with Rule 2a-7 of the Act, which has been determined by the Board of Directors to represent the fair value of the fund’s investments.

It is the fund's policy to maintain a continuous net asset value per share of $1.00 for the fund; the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share of $1.00.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, adjusted for accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is earned from settlement date and is recognized on the accrual basis. Cost of investments represents amortized cost.

(c) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, which can distribute tax exempt dividends, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of income and net realized capital gain sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The accumulated capital loss carryover of $2,787 is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, the carryover expires in fiscal 2011.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004 were all tax exempt income.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences due to the expiration of a capital loss carryover, the fund increased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by $1,713 and decreased paid-in capital by the same amount. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $100 million unsecured line of credit primarily to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing.

The average amount of borrowings outstanding under the line of credit during the period ended October 31, 2005 was approximately $269,400 with a related weighted average annualized interest rate of 3.30%.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .50% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and the Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

(b) Under the Distribution Plan (the “Plan”) adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Investor shares may pay annually up to .25% of the value of the average daily net assets (currently limited by the Company’s Board of Directors to .20%) attributable to its Investor shares to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and activities primarily intended to result in the sale of Investor shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Investor shares were charged $45,630 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not interested persons of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $35,530 and Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $3,799.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Municipal Reserves (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Municipal Reserves of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Dreyfus Premier
Tax Managed Growth Fund

The Fund

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Fayez Sarofim, of Fayez Sarofim & Co., the fund's sub-investment adviser.

Over the past year, the U.S. economy once again demonstrated its fortitude, expanding at a steady pace despite the headwinds of soaring energy prices, higher short-term interest rates and the Gulf Coast hurricanes. However, after rallying in the final weeks of 2004, the U.S. stock market traded within a relatively narrow range for much of 2005, when investors responded cautiously to uncertainty regarding future business conditions. While small- and midcap stocks generally produced higher returns than large-cap equities for the reporting period, we recently have seen signs of renewed strength among larger companies compared to smaller ones, and higher-quality over lower-quality stocks.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy and financial markets may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk to your financial advisor, who can discuss with you these issues and the potential benefits of a long-term investment perspective.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Faye Sarofim, Portfolio Manager
Faye Sarofim & Co., Sub-Investment Adviser

How did Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund produced total returns of 8.41% for Class A shares, 7.60% for Class B shares, 7.54% for Class C shares, 8.73% for Class R shares and 8.12% for Class T shares.¹ In comparison, the fund's benchmark, the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index ("S&P 500 Index"), provided a 8.72% total return.²

Stocks generally produced healthy gains in a growing U.S. economy during the reporting period, despite investors' concerns regarding higher interest rates and energy prices. The fund's returns were roughly in line with the S&P 500 Index. Strong results from the fund's consumer discretionary and energy holdings were offset by weakness in the health care sector.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund invests primarily in large, well-established, multinational companies that we believe are well-positioned to weather difficult economic climates and thrive during favorable times. We focus on purchasing large-cap, "blue-chip" stocks at a price we consider to be justified by a company's fundamentals. The result is a portfolio of stocks in prominent companies selected for what we consider to be sustained patterns of profitability, strong balance sheets, expanding global presence and above-average earnings growth potential.

At the same time, we manage the portfolio in a manner cognizant of the concerns of tax-conscious investors. Our tax-managed approach is based on employing a "buy-and-hold" investment strategy rather than short-term profit. We typically buy and sell relatively few stocks during the course of the year, which may help reduce investors' tax liabilities and the fund's trading costs. During the reporting period, the fund's portfolio turnover rate was 1.06%.³

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE *(continued)What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

U.S. stocks rallied sharply during the final months of 2004, when the resolution of the presidential election and signs of more sustainable economic growth boosted investor sentiment. At the time, the market's advance was led by smaller, relatively speculative stocks, causing the fund's returns to lag the S&P 500 Index at the start of the reporting period. Over the first 10 months of 2005, however, investors grew increasingly concerned about rising interest rates and surging energy prices, and their attention began to turn toward large, well-established companies with track records of consistent earnings. As a result, the fund's relative performance began to improve.

In this changing environment, the fund received an especially strong contribution to its performance from longtime holding Altria Group, the food and tobacco giant, which gained value as litigation concerns eased and investors looked forward to a corporate reorganization designed to unlock shareholder value. Other consumer discretionary holdings posting above-average returns included fast-food leader McDonald's, where customers responded positively to healthier menus, and publisher McGraw-Hill Cos., which enjoyed strong results in its Standard & Poor's division.

In the consumer staples sector, food producer Nestle and beverage maker PepsiCo advanced as more investors turned toward fundamentally sound businesses that have thrived under a variety of economic conditions. While the fund participated in gains produced by the energy sector amid soaring oil and gas prices, its energy returns fell short of the benchmark's. This was primarily due to our focus on integrated oil companies at a time in which smaller oil services companies fared even better.

The fund's health care investments detracted from its returns. Large pharmaceutical companies, including fund holdings Pfizer and Merck & Co., suffered from safety-related product issues, concerns regarding the effects of the new Medicare prescription drug benefit and anemic new product pipelines. In light of these issues, we reduced the fund's positions in Merck & Co. and Pfizer. Other disappointments included retailer Wal-Mart Stores, which was hurt by the effects of higher fuel prices on its customers, beer producer Anheuser-Busch Cos., which encountered heightened competitive pressures, and mortgage agency Fannie Mae, where accounting irregularities raised regulatory concerns. We eliminated the fund's holdings of Fannie Mae and its sister agency, Freddie Mac, during the reporting period. Instead, we established new positions in retailer Home Depot, industrial gasses manufacturer Praxair and global energy producer Total.

What is the fund's current strategy?

We have continued to see signs that large-cap growth stocks are returning to favor among investors, who appear to be coming to the realization that stocks of multinational companies with dominant market positions are now attractively valued, after having been generally disregarded over the past few years. In the environment anticipated ahead, investors appear to be more likely to scrutinize the sustainability of a company's growth rate and to reward companies, not just for improved balance sheets and reduced risk profiles, but for their ability to continue to grow. The high-quality multinationals that are the focus of our strategy are well equipped to extend their established records of earnings and dividend increases. Over the last five years, these companies have seen their price/earnings multiples contract and their valuations relative to small- and midcap issues compress. These trends, which have been historically typical early in an expansion, have persisted much longer than usual in the current cycle, but they are beginning to change. We believe our portfolios are positioned to benefit as the historical premium for quality returns to the market.

- ¹ Total return includes reinvestment of dividends and any capital gains paid, and does not take into consideration the maximum initial sales charges in the case of Class A and Class T shares, or the applicable contingent deferred sales charges imposed on redemptions in the case of Class B and Class C shares. Had these charges been reflected, returns would have been lower. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Share price and investment return fluctuate such that upon redemption, fund shares may be worth more or less than their original cost.
- ² SOURCE: LIPPER INC. — Reflects monthly reinvestment of dividends and, where applicable, capital gain distributions. The Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of U.S. stock market performance.
- ³ Portfolio turnover rates are subject to change. Portfolio turnover rates alone do not automatically result in high or low distribution levels. There can be no guarantee that the fund will generate any specific level of distributions annually.

FUND PERFORMANCE

Comparison of change in value of $10,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund Class A shares, Class B shares, Class C shares and Class T shares and the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index

[†] Source: Lipper Inc.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in each of the Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares of Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund on 11/4/97 (inception date) to a $10,000 investment made in the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index (the "Index") on that date. For comparative purposes, the value of the Index on 10/31/97 is used as the beginning value on 11/4/97. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested. Performance for Class R shares will vary from the performance of Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares shown above due to differences in charges and expenses.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account the maximum initial sales charges on Class A and Class T shares and all other applicable fees and expenses on all classes. The Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of U.S. stock market performance, which does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

Performance for Class B shares assumes the conversion of Class B shares to Class A shares at the end of the sixth year following the date of purchase.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment

assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment

assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information (except portfolio turnover rate) reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund's financial statements.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to provide investors with long-term capital appreciation consistent with minimizing realized capital gains and taxable current income. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager” or “Dreyfus”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. Dreyfus is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”). Fayez Sarofim & Co. (“Sarofim & Co.”) serves as the fund’s sub-investment adviser.

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dreyfus, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 100 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock in each of the following classes of shares: Class A, Class B, Class C, Class R and Class T. Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares are sold primarily to retail investors through financial intermediaries and bear a distribution fee and/or service fee. Class A and Class T shares are sold with a front-end sales charge, while Class B and Class C shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”). Class B shares automatically convert to Class A shares after six years. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon Financial and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or investment account or relationship at such institution, and bear no distribution or service fees. Class R shares are offered without a front-end sales charge or CDSC. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to distribution and service fees and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

As of October 31, 2005, MBC Investments Corp., an indirect subsidiary of Mellon Financial, held all of the Class R shares.

The fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange or national securities market on which such securities are primarily traded. Securities listed on the National Market System for which market quotations are available are valued at the official closing price or, if there is no official closing price that day, at the last sales price. Securities not listed on an exchange or the national securities market, or securities for which there were no transactions, are valued at the average of the most recent bid and asked prices, except for open short positions, where the asked price is used for valuation purposes. Bid price is used when no asked price is available. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. When market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available, or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, such as when the value of the security has been significantly affected by events after the close of the exchange or market on which the security is principally traded (for example, a foreign exchange or market), but before the fund calculates its net asset value, the fund may value these investments at fair value as determined in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Directors. Fair valuing of securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using calculations based on indices of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as prices of relevant ADR's and futures contracts. For other securities that are fair valued by the Board of Directors, certain factors may be considered such as: fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which securities are purchased and sold and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date and interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of Dreyfus, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by Dreyfus. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

(c) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by Dreyfus are defined as “affiliated” in the Act.

(d) Dividends to shareholders: Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends from investment income-net and dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(e) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $1,000,359, accumulated capital losses $36,644,993 and unrealized appreciation $33,425,332.

The accumulated capital loss carryover is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, $659,140 of the carryover expires in fiscal 2008, $5,341,001 expires in fiscal 2009, $14,181,361 expires in fiscal 2010, $8,603,573 expires in fiscal 2011 and $7,859,918 expires in fiscal 2012.

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing.

The average daily amount of borrowings outstanding under the Facility during the period ended October 31, 2005, was approximately $403,600, with a related weighted average annualized interest rate of 3.20%.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with Dreyfus, Dreyfus provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. Dreyfus also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay Dreyfus a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of 1.10% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, Dreyfus pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, service fees, expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, Dreyfus is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to Dreyfus, are in fact paid directly by Dreyfus to the non-interested Directors.

Pursuant to a Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement between Dreyfus and Sarofim & Co., Dreyfus pays Sarofim & Co. an annual fee of .30% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets, payable monthly.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, the Distributor retained $10,434 and $245 from commissions earned on sales of the fund's Class A and Class T shares, respectively, and $246,536 and $6,723 from contingent deferred sales charges on redemptions of the fund's Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

(b) Under separate Distribution Plans (the "Plans") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Class A shares may pay annually up to .25% of the value of its average daily net assets to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of Class A shares. Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay the Distributor for distributing their shares at an aggregate annual rate of .75% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B and Class C shares and .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class T shares. The Distributor may pay one or more agents in respect of advertising, marketing and other distribution services for Class T shares and determines the amounts, if any, to be paid to agents and the basis on which such payments are made. Class B, Class C and Class T shares are also subject to a service plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 (the “Service Plan”), under which Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay the Distributor for providing certain services to the holders of their shares a fee at the annual rate of .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B, Class C and Class T shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $258,516, $595,723, $353,447 and $10,452, respectively, pursuant to their respective Plans. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $198,574, $117,815 and $10,452, respectively, pursuant to the Service Plan.

Under its terms, the Plans and Service Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not “interested persons” of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plans or Service Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $195,147, Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $86,910 and service plan fees $22,099.

(c) Pursuant to an exemptive order from the Securities and Exchange Commission, the fund may invest its available cash balances in affiliated money market mutual funds. Management fees of the underlying money market mutual funds have been waived by Dreyfus.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $2,470,719 and $61,985,532, respectively.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $174,945,655; accordingly, accumulated net unrealized appreciation on investments was $33,425,332, consisting of $48,991,021 gross unrealized appreciation and $15,565,689 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund (the "Fund") of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the periods indicated herein. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Premier Tax Managed Growth Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the periods indicated herein, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

IMPORTANT TAX INFORMATION (Unaudited)

In accordance with federal tax law, the fund hereby designates 100% of the ordinary dividends paid during the fiscal year ended October 31, 2005 as qualifying for the corporate dividends received deduction. For the fiscal year ended October 31, 2005, certain dividends paid by the fund may be subject to a maximum tax rate of 15%, as provided for by the Jobs and Growth Tax Relief Reconciliation Act of 2003. Of the distributions paid during the fiscal year, $1,649,792 represents the maximum amount that may be considered qualified dividend income. Shareholders will receive notification in January 2006 of the percentage applicable to the preparation of their 2005 income tax returns.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE REVIEW AND APPROVAL OF THE FUND'S INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT (Unaudited)

At a meeting of the fund's Board of Directors held on October 26 and 27, 2005, the Board considered the re-approval, through its annual renewal date of April 4, 2006, of the fund's Investment Management Agreement ("Management Agreement"), pursuant to which the Manager provides the fund with investment advisory and administrative services, and the Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement between the Manager and Fayez Sarofim & Co. ("Sarofim & Co."), with respect to the fund, pursuant to which Sarofim & Co. provides day-to-day management of the fund's investments subject to the Manager's oversight. The Board members, none of whom are "interested persons" (as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended) of the fund, were assisted in their review by independent legal counsel and met with counsel in executive session separate from representatives of the Manager and Sarofim & Co.

Analysis of Nature, Extent and Quality of Services Provided to the Fund. The Board members reviewed information previously provided to them in a presentation from representatives of the Manager at the March 29 and 30, 2005 Board meetings regarding services provided to the fund and other funds in the Dreyfus fund complex, and discussed the nature, extent and quality of the services provided to the fund pursuant to its Management Agreement, and by Sarofim & Co. pursuant to the Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement. The Manager's representatives reviewed the fund's distribution of accounts and the relationships the Manager has with various intermediaries and the different needs of each. The Manager's representatives noted the diversity of distribution of the fund as well as among the funds in the Dreyfus fund complex, and the Manager's corresponding need for broad, deep, and diverse resources to be able to provide ongoing shareholder services to each of the fund's distribution channels. The Board also reviewed the number of shareholder accounts in the fund, as well as the fund's asset size.

The Board members also considered the Manager's and Sarofim & Co.'s research and portfolio management capabilities and that the Manager also provides oversight of day-to-day fund operations, including fund accounting and administration and assistance in meeting legal and regulatory requirements. The Board members also considered the Manager's extensive administrative, accounting and compliance infrastructure, as well as the Manager's supervisory activities over Sarofim & Co.

Comparative Analysis of the Fund's Performance, Management Fee and Expense Ratio.

The Board members reviewed the fund's performance, management fee and expense ratios and placed significant emphasis on comparisons to a group of comparable funds and Lipper category averages, as applicable. The group of comparable funds was previously approved by the Board for this purpose, and was prepared using a Board-approved selection methodology that was based, in part, on selecting non-affiliated funds reported in the same Lipper category as the fund. The Board members discussed the results of the comparisons for various periods ended September 30, 2005, and noted that the fund's total return performance was higher than the comparison group averages for the 1- and 5-year periods, but was lower than the comparison group average for the 3-year period. The Board also noted that the fund's total return performance was lower than the Lipper category averages for the 1- and 3-year periods, but was higher than the Lipper category average for the 5-year period. The Board noted that the fund's 1-year total return performance rankings in the comparison group and Lipper category had improved since January 31, 2005, the period the Board reviewed in connection with its consideration of the renewals of the fund's Management Agreement and Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement at the March 29 and 30, 2005 Board meeting. The Board discussed with representatives of the Manager and Sarofim & Co. the investment strategy employed in the management of the fund's assets and how that strategy affected the fund's performance, particularly during periods when the fund underperformed the Lipper category and comparison group averages. The Board members noted that Sarofim & Co. are very experienced portfolio managers with an excellent long-term track record based on a long-term "buy-and-hold" investment approach to investing in what generally is known as "mega-cap" companies. Sarofim & Co.'s considerable reputation based on following such investment approach was noted. The Board also noted that while such investment approach had been predominantly out of favor over the 3-year period, it appeared that, with respect to the fund, Sarofim & Co.'s investment approach currently was producing better investment results, as evidenced by the fund's improved 1-year total return rankings.

The Board members also discussed the fund's management fee and expense ratio and reviewed the range of management fees and expense ratios in the comparison group and the expense ratio averages of the comparison group and Lipper category. The Board members noted that the fund was the only fund in the comparison group of funds with a "unitary fee" structure. The Board members noted that the fund's expense ratio was lower than the fund's Lipper category average, but was higher than the fund's comparison group average.

Representatives of the Manager reviewed with the Board members the fees paid to the Manager or its affiliates by mutual funds managed by the Manager or its affiliates with similar investment objectives, policies and strategies, and included in the same Lipper category, as the fund, or in the "Large-Cap Core Variable Insurance Products" category of Lipper (the "Similar Funds"), and by other accounts managed by the Manager, Sarofim & Co. or their respective affiliates with similar investment objectives, policies and strategies as the fund (the "Adviser Accounts," and, collectively with the Similar Funds, the "Similar Accounts"). The Manager's representatives explained the nature of the Similar Accounts and the differences, from the Manager's and Sarofim & Co.'s perspective, as applicable, in providing services to such Similar Accounts as compared to managing and providing services to the fund. The Manager's representatives also reviewed the costs associated with distribution through intermediaries. The Board analyzed differences in fees paid to the Manager or Sarofim & Co. and discussed the relationship of the advisory fees paid in light of the Manager's or Sarofim & Co.'s performance and the services provided, noting the fund's "unitary fee" structure. The Board members considered the relevance of the fee information provided for the Similar Accounts managed by the Manager and Sarofim & Co. to evaluate the appropriateness and reasonableness of the fund's management fee, sub-investment advisory fee and expense ratio. The Board acknowledged that differences in fees paid by the Similar Accounts seemed to be consistent with the services provided.

Analysis of Profitability and Economies of Scale. The Manager's representatives reviewed the dollar amount of expenses allocated and profit received by the Manager and the method used to determine such expenses and profit. The Board considered information prepared by an independent consulting firm regarding the Manager's approach to allocating costs to, and determining the profitability of, individual funds and the entire Dreyfus mutual fund complex. The Manager's representatives stated that the methodology had also been reviewed by an independent registered public accounting firm which, like the consultant, found the methodology to be reasonable. The consulting firm also analyzed where any economies of scale might emerge in connection with the management of the fund. The Board members evaluated the analysis in light of the relevant circumstances for the fund, including the recent decline in assets, and the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the fund grows and whether fee levels reflect these economies of scale for the benefit of fund shareholders. The Board members also considered potential benefits to the Manager or Sarofim & Co. from acting as investment adviser and sub-investment adviser, respectively, and noted the soft dollar arrangements with respect to trading the fund's portfolio.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE REVIEW AND APPROVAL OF THE FUND'S

It was noted that the Board members should consider the Manager's profitability with respect to the fund as part of their evaluation of whether the fees under the Management Agreement and Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement bear a reasonable relationship to the mix of services provided by the Manager and Sarofim & Co., including the nature, extent and quality of such services and that a discussion of economies of scale is predicated on increasing assets and that, if a fund's assets had been decreasing, the possibility that the Manager may have realized any economies of scale would be less. Since the Manager, and not the fund, pays Sarofim & Co. pursuant to the Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement, the Board did not consider Sarofim & Co.'s profitability to be relevant to its deliberations. It also was noted that the profitability percentage for managing the fund was within ranges determined by appropriate court cases to be reasonable given the services rendered and given the fund's overall performance and generally superior service levels provided.

At the conclusion of these discussions, each of the Board members expressed the opinion that he or she had been furnished with sufficient information to make an informed business decision with respect to continuation of the fund's Management Agreement and Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement. Based on the discussions and considerations as described above, the Board made the following conclusions and determinations.

- The Board concluded that the nature, extent and quality of the services provided by the Manager and Sarofim & Co. are adequate and appropriate.
- While the Board was concerned with the fund's three-year total return performance, the Board was satisfied with the fund's improved relative one-year performance and its five-year performance. The Board believed that the fund's performance was consistent with Sarofim & Co.'s investment approach during all periods and that the fund's performance should be measured over a longer market cycle.

- The Board concluded that the fee paid by the fund to the Manager was reasonable in light of comparative performance and expense and advisory fee information, cost of services provided and profits to be realized and benefits derived or to be derived by the Manager or Sarofim & Co. from its relationship with the fund.
- The Board determined that the economies of scale which may accrue to the Manager and its affiliates in connection with the management of the fund had been adequately considered by the Manager in connection with the management fee rate charged to the fund and that, to the extent in the future it were to be determined that material economies of scale had not been shared with the fund, the Board would seek to have those economies of scale shared with the fund.

The Board members considered these conclusions and determinations, along with information received on a routine and regular basis throughout the year, and, without any one factor being dispositive, the Board determined that re-approval of the fund's Management Agreement and Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement was in the best interests of the fund and its shareholders and that the Management Agreement and Sub-Investment Advisory Agreement would be renewed through its annual renewal period, April 4, 2006.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus BASIC S&P 500 Stock Index Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Tom Durante, CFA.

Over the past year, the U.S. economy once again demonstrated its fortitude, expanding at a steady pace despite the headwinds of soaring energy prices, higher short-term interest rates and the Gulf Coast hurricanes. However, after rallying in the final weeks of 2004, the U.S. stock market traded within a relatively narrow range for much of 2005, when investors responded cautiously to uncertainty regarding future business conditions. While small- and midcap stocks generally produced higher returns than large-cap equities for the reporting period, we recently have seen signs of renewed strength among larger companies compared to smaller ones, and higher-quality over lower-quality stocks.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy and financial markets may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk to your financial advisor, who can discuss with you these issues and the potential benefits of a long-term investment perspective.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

Tom Durante, CFA, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus BASIC S&P 500 Stock Index Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund produced a total return of 8.48%.¹ The Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index (the "S&P 500 Index"), the fund's benchmark, produced an 8.72% return for the same period.^{2,3}

We attribute the market's performance to an expanding U.S. economy and higher corporate profits, which bolstered stock prices during the first half of the reporting period. Subsequently, however, the market's gains were tempered due to concerns regarding rising short-term interest rates and soaring energy prices. The difference in returns between the fund and the S&P 500 Index was primarily the result of transaction costs and other operating expenses that are not reflected by the S&P 500 Index.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks to match the total return of the S&P 500 Index. To pursue this goal, the fund generally invests in all 500 stocks in the S&P 500 Index in proportion to their weighting in the S&P 500 Index. Often considered a barometer for the stock market in general, the S&P 500 Index is made up of 500 widely held common stocks across 10 economic sectors. The S&P 500 Index is dominated by large-cap, blue-chip stocks that comprise nearly 75% of total U.S. market capitalization.

However, it is important to note that the S&P 500 Index is not composed of the 500 largest companies; rather, it is designed to reflect the industries of the U.S. economy. Each stock is weighted by its market capitalization; that is, larger companies have greater representation in the S&P 500 Index than smaller ones. The fund may also use stock index futures as a substitute for the sale or purchase of stocks.

As an index fund, the fund uses a passive management approach; all investment decisions are made based on the composition of the S&P 500 Index. The fund does not attempt to manage market volatility.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

When the reporting period began, U.S. economic growth was strong, fueled by low interest rates, strong consumer confidence and increased capital spending among businesses. By early 2005, however, investors became concerned that rising short-term interest rates and higher energy prices might constrain economic growth. In addition, worries grew regarding a potential resurgence of inflation when energy prices soared during the second half of the reporting period, especially in the weeks following hurricanes Katrina and Rita. In an effort to forestall inflationary pressures, the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates throughout the reporting period.

Not surprisingly, energy stocks posted some of the S&P 500 Index's stronger gains for the reporting period as rising demand for crude oil from China and other emerging markets drove energy-related commodity prices to record levels. As a result, virtually all industries within the energy sector gained value during the reporting period, including integrated energy producers, oil refiners, oil services providers and exploration and production companies.

The S&P 500 Index also received strong contributions from the health care sector, where HMOs fared especially well. As more workers found employment in the recovering U.S. economy, HMO enrollment trends improved, boosting revenues. What's more, many HMOs benefited from productivity gains as a result of new technologies and administrative improvements.

Other positive contributors to the S&P 500 Index's performance included utilities stocks, which benefited from greater demand for electric power in a growing economy as well as mergers-and-acquisitions activity within the industry. Within the interest-sensitive group, brokerage and asset management firms performed well due to a healthy economy and a strong U.S. stock market. Some insurance firms also gained value later in the reporting period when they were able to raise their rates following catastrophic hurricane losses.

On the other hand, automobile manufacturers within the consumer cyclicals area produced disappointing results. In addition to offering the wrong product mix — light trucks and SUVs at a time when consumers preferred smaller cars and hybrids — the major U.S. automakers have been saddled with high labor costs, steep health care expenditures and generous pension plans. Finally, cable television companies were hurt by higher costs for broadcasting rights as well as increased competition from telephone companies for broadband Internet service customers.

What is the fund's current strategy?

As an index fund, our strategy is to attempt to replicate the returns of the S&P 500 Index. Accordingly, as of October 31, 2005, the percentage of the fund's assets invested in each industry group closely approximated its representation in the S&P 500 Index. In our view, an investment in a broadly diversified index fund, such as Dreyfus S&P 500 Index Fund, may help investors in their efforts to manage stock market risk by limiting the impact on the overall portfolio of unexpected losses in any single industry group or holding.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Dreyfus BASIC S&P 500 Stock Index Fund on 10/31/95 to a $10,000 investment made in the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index (the "Index") on that date. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account all applicable fees and expenses. The Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of U.S. stock market performance and reflects the reinvestment of dividends daily. The Index does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus BASIC S&P 500 Stock Index Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|---|------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 1.03 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,051.60 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | |
|--|------------|
| assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 1.02 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,024.20 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .20%; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus BASIC S&P 500 Stock Index Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to replicate the total return of the Standard & Poor’s 500 Composite Stock Price Index primarily through investments in equity securities. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager” or “Dreyfus”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”). Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares, which are sold to the public without a sales charge.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange or national securities market on which such securities are primarily traded. Securities listed on the National Market System for which market quotations are available are valued at the official closing price or, if there is no official closing price that day, at the last sale price. Securities not listed on an exchange or the national securities market, or securities for which there were no transactions, are valued at the average of the most recent bid and asked prices, except for open short positions, where the asked price is used for valuation purposes. Bid price is used when no asked price is available. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. When market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available, or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, such as when the value of a security has been significantly affected by events after the close of the exchange or market on which the security is principally traded (for example, a foreign exchange or market), but before the fund calculates its net asset value, the fund may value these investments at fair value as determined in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Directors. Fair valuing of securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using calculations based on indices of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as prices of relevant ADR's and futures contracts. For other securities that are fair valued by the Board of Directors, certain factors may be considered such as: fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold, and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Financial futures are valued at the last sales price.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date and interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as “affiliated” in the Act.

(d) Dividends to shareholders: Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends from investment income-net are declared and paid on a quarterly basis. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(e) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $7,175,345, accumulated capital losses $184,622,702 and unrealized appreciation $315,792,736.

The accumulated capital loss carryover is available be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, $32,219,795 of the carryover expires in fiscal 2009, $62,001,872 expires in fiscal 2010, $45,030,585 expires in fiscal 2011 and $45,370,450 expires in fiscal 2012.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, were as follows: ordinary income $27,305,892 and $19,461,638, respectively.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences primarily due to tax treatment for real estate investment trusts, the fund decreased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $84,899, increased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by $85,735 and decreased paid-in capital by $836. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowings. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the Facility.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee And Other Transactions with Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third and/or affiliated parties to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .20% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

The component of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $241,228.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities and financial futures, during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $164,936,438 and $123,331,451, respectively.

The fund may invest in financial futures contracts in order to gain exposure to or protect against changes in the market. The fund is exposed to market risk as a result of changes in the value of the underlying financial instruments. Investments in financial futures require the fund to “mark to market” on a daily basis, which reflects the change in the market value of the contract at the close of each day’s trading. Typically, variation margin payments are received or made to reflect daily unrealized gains or losses. When the contracts are closed, the fund recognizes a realized gain or loss. These investments require initial margin deposits with a broker, which consist of cash or cash equivalents. The amount of these deposits is determined by the exchange or Board of Trade on which the contract is traded and is subject to change. Contracts open at October 31, 2005, are set forth in the Statement of Financial Futures.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $1,161,640,215 accordingly, accumulated net unrealized appreciation on investments was $315,792,736, consisting of $459,581,044 gross unrealized appreciation and $143,788,308 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus BASIC S&P 500 Stock Index Fund (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statements of investments and financial futures, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and broker. As to securities purchased but not yet received or delivered, we performed other appropriate audit procedures. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus BASIC S&P 500 Stock Index Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus U.S. Treasury Reserves, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Patricia A. Larkin.

As the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates steadily and gradually during the past year, so too have yields of money market instruments risen over the past year. While many investors currently believe that the Fed is likely to continue to raise rates in the near future, the focus has turned toward Federal Reserve nominee Ben Bernanke, who is expected to succeed Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan early next year, and how he will interpret current economic data.

As the end of 2005 approaches, investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board and the effects of higher fuel prices on the rate of inflation may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about your current portfolio allocations and liquidity needs.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

Patricia A. Larkin, Senior Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus U.S. Treasury Reserves perform during the period?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund's Investor shares produced a yield of 2.01%, and its Class R shares produced a yield of 2.21%. Taking into account the effects of compounding, the effective yields for the fund's Investor shares and Class R shares were 2.03% and 2.23%, respectively.¹

Note to shareholders: As of September 1, 2005, Patricia A. Larkin became the fund's primary portfolio manager.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal. As a U.S. Treasury money market fund, we attempt to provide shareholders with an investment vehicle that is made up of Treasury bills and notes with remaining maturities of 13 months or less issued by the U.S. government as well as repurchase agreements with securities dealers, which are backed by U.S. Treasuries. To pursue its goal, the fund invests exclusively in direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury and in repurchase agreements secured by these obligations.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

The Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates throughout the reporting period in an ongoing effort to forestall potential inflationary pressures. Indeed, soon after the reporting period began, a cloud of uncertainty was lifted from the financial markets, signs of more sustainable economic growth emerged and the Fed raised the overnight federal funds rate by 25 basis points at each of its meetings in November and December 2004. As a result, short-term interest rates stood at 2.25% by year-end.

During the opening months of 2005, long-dormant inflationary pressures appeared to intensify when prices of crude oil, natural gas and other commodities surged. It was no surprise, therefore, that the Fed raised short-term interest rates at its February and March meetings, driving the federal funds rate to 2.75%. It later was revealed that the U.S. economy expanded at a 3.5% rate during the first quarter of 2005.

Although weaker-than-expected data in April suggested that the U.S. economy might have hit a soft patch, these concerns proved to be short-lived, and it later was estimated that the U.S. labor market added more jobs than expected during the month. Yet, evidence of slower economic growth in global markets weighed on investor sentiment during the spring, and the yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond fell below 4%.

Although economic expectations appeared to improve in June, investors continued to worry about the potentially eroding effects of higher energy prices and interest rates. Still, on June 30 the Fed again hiked the federal funds rate to 3.25%. U.S. GDP grew at a 3.3% annualized rate during the second quarter of 2005.

Non-farm payrolls continued to increase in July, and the unemployment rate dropped to 5.0%, helping to convince investors that economic growth remained solid. While inflationary pressures appeared to stay contained due to steep discounts from automobile manufacturers and apparel retailers, oil and gas prices continued to escalate.

The economic recovery remained on track in August, and the Fed raised the federal funds rate to 3.5%. On August 29, however, Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf Coast, leaving in its wake severe human and economic damage, and oil prices spiked to more than $70 per barrel. Hurricane Rita followed just a few weeks later, affecting a significant portion of U.S. oil drilling and refining capacity.

Although some analysts believed that the hurricanes might prompt the Fed to pause at its September 20 meeting, the Fed remained on course, increasing the federal funds rate to 3.75% and leaving intact key language in its accompanying statement. It was later estimated that U.S. GDP grew at a relatively robust 3.8% during the third quarter of 2005.

In this changing environment, most money market investors focused primarily on securities with maturities of six months or less in an attempt to maintain liquidity and keep funds available for higher-yielding instruments as they became available. As a result, demand for shorter-term money market instruments was robust, while demand for instruments with one-year maturities was relatively low. This has caused yield differences between overnight instruments and one-year securities to widen significantly.

We maintained a relatively defensive investment posture by setting the fund's weighted average maturity in a range we considered shorter than industry averages to reflect prevailing market conditions and the proximity of upcoming FOMC meetings.

What is the fund's current strategy?

On November 1, 2005, just one day after the close of the reporting period, the Fed acted for the twelfth consecutive time, raising the federal funds rate to 4%. In its statement, the Fed appeared to confirm analysts' expectations of further rate hikes, again noting, "With underlying inflation expected to be contained, the Committee believes that policy accommodation can be removed at a pace that is likely to be measured." Accordingly, we have maintained the fund's relatively conservative positioning, which we believe is prudent until we see signs that the Fed is near the end of its credit-tightening campaign.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus U.S. Treasury Reserves from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | |
|---|-----------------|----------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | |
| | Investor Shares | Class R Shares |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 3.55 | $ 2.54 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,012.50 | $1,013.50 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES
WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | |
|--|-----------------|----------------|
| | Investor Shares | Class R Shares |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 3.57 | $ 2.55 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,021.68 | $1,022.68 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .70% for Investor shares and .50% for Class R shares; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus U.S. Treasury Reserves (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek a high level of current income consistent with stability of principal by investing in direct obligations of U.S. Treasury and repurchase agreements secured by these obligations. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 1 billion shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock in each of the following classes of shares: Investor and Class R. Investor shares are sold primarily to retail investors and bear a distribution fee. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon Financial and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or investment account or relationship at such institution, and bear no distribution fee. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to the distribution fee and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost in accordance with Rule 2a-7 of the Act, which has been determined by the Board of Directors to represent the fair value of the fund’s investments.

It is the fund's policy to maintain a continuous net asset value per share of $1.00 for the fund; the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share of $1.00.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, adjusted for accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is earned from settlement date and recognized on the accrual basis. Cost of investments represents amortized cost.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, if any, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, was all ordinary income.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $100 million unsecured line of credit primarily to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the line of credit.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions with Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .50% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees, service fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

(b) Under the fund's Distribution Plan (the "Plan") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Investor shares may pay annually up to .25% (currently limited by the Company's Board of Directors to .20%) of the value of the average daily net assets attributable to its Investor shares to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of Investor shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Investor shares were charged $164,321 pursuant to the Plan.

Under its terms, the Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not "interested persons" of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $46,450 and Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $14,799.

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus U.S. Treasury Reserves (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers were not received. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus U.S. Treasury Reserves of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with L. Emerson Tuttle, who manages the fund's equity portfolio, and Catherine Powers, who manages the fund's fixed-income portfolio.

Over the past year, the U.S. economy once again demonstrated its fortitude, expanding at a steady pace despite the headwinds of soaring energy prices, higher short-term interest rates and the Gulf Coast hurricanes. However, after rallying in the final weeks of 2004, the U.S. stock market traded within a relatively narrow range for much of 2005, when investors responded cautiously to uncertainty regarding future business conditions. While most sectors of the fixed-income market also failed to advance robustly, they nonetheless maintained much of their value as low inflation expectations helped them withstand the potentially eroding effects of rising short-term interest rates.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy and financial markets may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk to your financial advisor, who can discuss with you these issues and the potential benefits of a long-term investment perspective.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

L. Emerson Tuttle and Catherine Powers, Portfolio Managers

How did Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund produced total returns of 4.36% for Class A shares, 3.58% for Class B shares, 3.57% for Class C shares, 4.61% for Class R shares and 4.10% for Class T shares.¹ In comparison, the fund's benchmark, a hybrid index composed of 60% Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index ("S&P 500 Index") and 40% Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index ("Lehman Aggregate Index"), provided a total return of 5.68% for the same period. Separately, the S&P 500 Index and the Lehman Aggregate Index provided total returns of 8.72% and 1.13%, respectively, for the same period.²

Stocks and bonds produced positive returns in response to ongoing economic growth and low inflation, respectively. While the fund's fixed-income returns were roughly in line with the Lehman Aggregate Index, disappointing individual stock selections in the energy, technology and financial services sectors undermined the fund's returns relative to its equity benchmark.

Note to shareholders: As of January 31, 2005, Catherine Powers became the primary portfolio manager of the fund's fixed-income portion.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks to outperform an unmanaged hybrid index, 60% of which is the S&P 500 Index and 40% of which is the Lehman Aggregate Index.

The fund is a balanced fund, with an allocation under normal circumstances of approximately 60% stocks and 40% bonds, corresponding to the fund's benchmark. However, the fund is permitted to invest up to 75%, and as little as 40%, of its total assets in stocks, and up to 60%, and as little as 25%, of its total assets in bonds.

When allocating assets between stocks and bonds, we assess the relative returns and risks of each asset class, using a model that analyzes several factors, including interest-rate-adjusted price-to-earnings ratios, the valuation and volatility levels of stocks relative to bonds, and economic factors such as interest rates.

We use a valuation model and fundamental analysis to select stocks based on: value, or how a stock is priced relative to its perceived intrinsic worth; growth, in this case the sustainability or growth of earnings or cash flow; and financial profile, which measures the financial health of the company.

In choosing bonds, we review economic, market and other factors, leading to valuations by sector, maturity and quality. The fund invests primarily in U.S. government securities, corporate bonds, mortgage-backed securities and asset-backed securities for its fixed-income portfolio. The average effective maturity of the fund's fixed-income portfolio normally will not exceed 10 years.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

Although both asset classes produced positive absolute returns, moderate economic growth and rising interest rates generally created a more favorable environment for stocks than bonds during the reporting period. The fund benefited by allocating a relatively high percentage of its assets to stocks, but returns from several individual holdings proved disappointing. Most notably, in the high-flying energy sector, the fund's disciplined investment approach led it to focus on large integrated oil producers, such as Exxon Mobil and Chevron, which generated relatively modest gains compared to smaller, more specialized companies. The fund also was hurt by company-specific problems affecting Dell, Altera and International Business Machines in the technology sector; and American International Group and Fannie Mae in the financial services sector.

On the other hand, the fund benefited from relatively strong stock selections in the health care sector, where gains in WellPoint, Caremark Rx, Alcon and Genzyme more than made up for weakness in Pfizer. Among industrial stocks, gains in Burlington Northern Santa Fe and Caterpillar outweighed a loss in Tyco International. Finally, returns from Altria Group and PepsiCo boosted performance in the consumer staples sector.

The fund's bond portfolio benefited from its overweighted position in corporate bonds, which recovered quickly after the credit-rating downgrades of major automotive companies in the spring. The fund's modestly short average duration protected it from the full brunt of rising interest rates, and a "barbell" yield curve strategy during much of the reporting period enabled the fund to participate in strength at the longer end of the bond market's maturity range.

What is the fund's current strategy?

We have continued to emphasize stocks over bonds in light of steady economic growth and modestly higher interest rates. Among equities, we have focused on relatively large companies with reliable earnings prospects. As of the reporting period's end, the fund held overweighted positions in the health care, consumer staples and energy sectors, and modestly underweighted positions in the telecommunications and consumer discretionary areas.

Because we expect the Federal Reserve Board to continue raising interest rates, we have maintained a relatively defensive posture within the fund's bond portfolio, including a modestly short average duration and an emphasis on corporate bonds that, in our view, may benefit from improving credit quality. Tactically, the fund has also invested in Treasury Inflation Protected Securities (TIPS) to benefit from rising inflation expectations amid higher energy prices.

² SOURCE: LIPPER, INC. — Reflects reinvestment of dividends and, where applicable, capital gain distributions. The Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of U.S. stock market performance. The Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged total return index of corporate, U.S. government and U.S. government agency debt instruments, mortgage-backed securities and asset-backed securities with an average maturity of 1-10 years.

FUND PERFORMANCE

Comparison of change in value of $10,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund Class A shares, Class B shares, Class C shares and Class R shares with the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index, the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index and the Hybrid Index

† Source: Lipper Inc.
Past performance is not predictive of future performance.
Part of the fund's recent performance is attributable to positive returns from its initial public offering (IPO) investments. There can be no guarantee that IPOs will have or continue to have a positive effect on the fund's performance.
The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R shares of Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund on 10/31/95 to a $10,000 investment made on that date in each of the following: the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index (the "S&P 500 Index"); the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index (the "Lehman Index"); and an unmanaged hybrid index composed of 60% S&P 500 Index and 40% Lehman Index (the "Hybrid Index"). All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested. The Hybrid Index is calculated on a year-to-year basis. Performance for Class T shares will vary from the performance of Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R shares shown above due to differences in charges and expenses.
The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account the maximum initial sales charge on Class A shares and all other applicable fees and expenses. The S&P 500 Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of U.S. stock market performance. The Lehman Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of corporate, U.S. government and U.S. government agency debt instruments, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities with an average maturity of 1-10 years. All indices do not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

Average Annual Total Returns as of 10/31/05

| without sales charge | 8/16/99 | 4.10% | (2.47)% | – | (1.53)% |

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

Performance for Class B shares assumes the conversion of Class B shares to Class A shares at the end of the sixth year following the date of purchase.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | |
|---|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | | | | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 5.61 | $ 9.42 | $ 9.42 | $ 4.34 | $ 6.88 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,024.20 | $1,020.40 | $1,021.20 | $1,025.50 | $1,022.90 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | |
|--|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 5.60 | $ 9.40 | $ 9.40 | $ 4.33 | $ 6.87 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,019.66 | $1,015.88 | $1,015.88 | $1,020.92 | $1,018.40 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.10% for Class A, 1.85% for Class B, 1.85% for Class C, .85% for Class R and 1.35% for Class T; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information (except portfolio turnover rate) reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund's financial statements.

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to outperform an unmanaged hybrid index, 60% of which is the Standard & Poor’s 500 Composite Stock Price Index and 40% of which is the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager” or “Dreyfus”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the Distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 50 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock in each of the following classes of shares: Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R and 200 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock of Class T shares. Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares are sold primarily to retail investors through financial intermediaries and bear a distribution fee and /or service fee. Class A and Class T shares are sold with a front-end sales charge, while Class B and Class C shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”). Class B shares automatically convert to Class A shares after six years. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or an investment account or relationship at such institution and bear no distribution fee or service fee. Class R shares are offered without a front-end sales charge or CDSC. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to distribution and service fees and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange or national securities market on which such securities are primarily traded. Securities listed on the National Market System for which market quotations are available are valued at the official closing price or, if there is no official closing price that day, at the last sales price. Securities not listed on an exchange or the national securities market, or securities for which there were no transactions, are valued at the average of the most recent bid and asked prices, except for open short positions, where the asked price is used for valuation purposes. Bid price is used when no asked price is available. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. When market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available, or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, such as when the value of a security has been significantly affected by events after the close of the exchange or market on which the security is principally traded (for example, a foreign exchange or market), but before the fund calculates its net asset value, the portfolio may value these investments at fair value as determined in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Directors. Fair valuing of securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using calculations based on indices of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as prices of relevant ADR's and futures contracts. For other securities that are fair valued by the Board of Directors, certain factors may be considered such as: fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Financial futures are valued at the last sales price. Investments denominated in foreign currencies are translated to U.S. dollars at the prevailing rates of exchange. Forward currency exchange contracts are valued at the forward rate.

Debt securities (excluding short-term investments (other than U.S. Treasury Bills) and financial futures) are valued each business day by an independent pricing service (the "Service") approved by the Board of Directors. Investments for which quoted bid prices are readily available and are representative of the bid side of the market in the judgment of the Service are valued at the mean between the quoted bid prices (as obtained by the Service from dealers in such securities) and asked prices (as calculated by the Service based upon its evaluation of the market for such securities). Other investments (which constitute a majority of the fund securities) are valued as determined by the Service, based on methods which include consideration of: yields or prices of securities of comparable quality, coupon, maturity and type; indications as to values from dealers; and general market conditions. Securities for which there are no such valuations are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under the direction of the Board of Directors. Restricted securities, as well as securities or other assets for which recent market quotations are not readily available, that are not valued by a pricing service approved by the Board of Directors, or are determined by the fund not to reflect accurately fair value (such as when an event occurs after the close of the exchange on which the security is principally traded and that is determined by the fund to have changed the value of the security), are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under the direction of the Board of Directors. The factors that may be considered when fair valuing a security include fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Short-term investments, excluding U.S. Treasury Bills, are carried at amortized cost, which approximates value. Financial futures and options, which are traded on an exchange, are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange on which such securities are primarily traded or at the last sales price on the national securities market on each business day. Options traded over-the-counter are priced at the mean between the bid and asked price.

(b) Foreign currency transactions: Each portfolio does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments.

Net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales and maturities of short-term securities, sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized on securities transactions and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the portfolio's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the value of assets and liabilities other than investments in securities, resulting from changes in exchange rates. Such gains and losses are included with net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments.

(c) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date and interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

(d) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as “affiliated” in the Act.

(e) Dividends to shareholders: Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends from investment income-net are declared and paid on a quarterly basis. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(f) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $1,293,954, accumulated capital losses $202,797,476 and unrealized appreciation $9,828,885.

The accumulated capital loss carryover is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to October 31, 2005. If not applied, $86,388,163 of the carryover expires in fiscal 2009, $72,687,006 expires in fiscal 2010 and $43,722,307 expires in fiscal 2011.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, were as follows: ordinary income $4,007,666 and $4,013,343, respectively.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences primarily due to the tax treatment of treasury inflation protected securities and foreign exchange gains and losses, the fund increased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $431,730 and decreased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by the same amount. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowings. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the Facility.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee And Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of 1% of the value of the fund’s average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, service fees, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund’s allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds, and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the “Dreyfus/Laurel Funds”) attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and the Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

The Manager had agreed from November 1, 2004 through April 4, 2005 to waive receipt of a portion of the fund's management fee, in the amount of .10% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. The Manager has agreed from April 5, 2005 through April 4, 2006 to waive receipt of a portion of the fund's management fee, in the amount of .15% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. The

During the period ended October 31, 2005, the Distributor retained $8,337 and $44 from commissions earned on sales of the fund's Class A and Class T shares, respectively, and $155,237 and $5,188 from contingent deferred sales charges on redemptions of the fund's Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

(b) Under separate Distribution Plans (the "Plans") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Class A shares may pay annually up to .25% of the value of their average daily net assets to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of Class A shares. Class B, Class C and Class T shares may pay the Distributor for distributing their shares at an aggregate annual rate of .75% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B and Class C shares and .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class T shares. The Distributor may pay one or more agents in respect of advertising, marketing and other distribution services for Class T shares and determines the amounts, if any, to be paid to agents and the basis on which such payments are made. Class B, Class C and Class T shares are also subject to a service plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 (the "Service Plan"), under which Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay the Distributor for providing certain services to the holders of their shares a fee at the annual rate of .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B, Class C and Class T shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $227,228, $422,783, $105,602 and $507, respectively, pursuant to their respective Plans. During the period ended October 31, 2005 Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $140,927, $35,201 and $507, respectively, pursuant to the Service Plan.

Under its terms, the Plans and Service Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those Directors who are not "interested persons" of the Company and who had no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plans or Service Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $141,782, Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $48,459 and shareholder services plan fees $9,975, which are offset against an expense reimbursement currently in effect in the amount of $21,267.

(c) Pursuant to an exemptive order from the Securities and Exchange Commission, the fund may invest its available cash balances in affiliated money market mutual funds. Management fees of the underlying money market mutual funds have been waived by the Manager.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales (including paydowns) of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, financial futures, forward currency exchange contracts and options transactions during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $477,863,298 and $573,764,067, respectively, of which $95,073,101 in purchases and $95,201,050 in sales were from dollar roll transactions.

A mortgage dollar roll transaction involves a sale by the fund of mortgage related securities that it holds with an agreement by the fund to repurchase similar securities at an agreed upon price and date. The securities purchased will bear the same interest rate as those sold, but generally will be collateralized by pools of mortgages with different prepayment histories than those securities sold.

The fund may invest in financial futures contracts in order to gain exposure to or protect against changes in the market. The fund is exposed to market risk as a result of changes in the value of the underlying financial instruments. Investments in financial futures require the fund to “mark to market” on a daily basis, which reflects the change in market value of the contracts at the close of each day’s trading. Accordingly, variation margin payments are received or made to reflect daily unrealized gains or losses. When the contracts are closed, the fund recognizes a realized gain or loss. These investments require initial margin deposits with a broker, which consist of cash or cash equivalents. The amount of these deposits is determined by the exchange or Board of Trade on which the contract is traded and is subject to change. Contracts open at October 31, 2005, are set forth in the Statement of Financial Futures.

The fund may purchase and write (sell) put and call options in order to gain exposure to or to protect against changes in the market.

As a writer of call options, the fund receives a premium at the outset and then bears the market risk of unfavorable changes in the price of the financial instrument underlying the option. Generally, the fund would incur a gain, to the extent of the premium, if the price of the underlying financial instrument decreases between the date the option is written and the date on which the option is terminated. Generally, the fund would realize a loss, if the price of the financial instrument increases between those dates.

As a writer of put options, the fund receives a premium at the outset and then bears the market risk of unfavorable changes in the price of the financial instrument underlying the option. Generally, the fund would incur a gain, to the extent of the premium, if the price of the underlying financial instrument increases between the date the option is written and the date on which the option is terminated. Generally, the fund would realize a loss, if the price of the financial instrument decreases between those dates.

| Options Written: | Face Amount Covered by Contracts ($) | Premiums Received ($) | Options Terminated | |
|---|---|---------------------------|--------------------|----------------------------------|
| | | | Cost ($) | Net Realized Gain/(Loss) ($) |
| Contracts outstanding October 31, 2004 | - | - | - | - |
| Contracts written | 17,420,000 | 68,893 | | |
| Contracts terminated: | | | | |
| Closed | 1,600,000 | 8,625 | 22,000 | (13,375) |
| Expired | 5,490,000 | 33,789 | - | 33,789 |
| Contracts outstanding October 31, 2005 | 10,330,000 | 26,479 | | |

The fund enters into forward currency exchange contracts in order to hedge its exposure to changes in foreign currency exchange rates on its foreign portfolio holdings and to settle foreign currency transactions. When executing forward currency exchange contracts, the fund is obligated to buy or sell a foreign currency at a specified rate on a certain date in the future. With respect to sales of forward currency exchange contracts, the fund would incur a loss if the value of the contract increases between the date the forward contract is opened and the date the forward contract is closed. The fund realizes a gain if the value of the contract decreases between those dates. With respect to purchases of forward currency exchange contracts, the fund would incur a loss if the value of the contract decreases between the date the forward contract is opened and the date the forward contract is closed. The fund realizes a gain if the value of the contract increases between those dates. The fund is also exposed to credit risk associated with counterparty nonperformance on these forward currency exchange contracts which is typically limited to the unrealized gain on each open contract. The following summarizes open forward currency exchange contracts at October 31, 2005:

| Forward Currency Exchange Contracts | Foreign Currency Amounts | Proceeds ($) | Value ($) | Unrealized Appreciation ($) |
| Sales: | | | | |

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund (the "Fund") of the The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statements of investments, financial futures, and options written, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, or by other appropriate auditing procedures which replies from brokers were not received. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Premier Balanced Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

The Fund

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Chris Pellegrino.

Although bond yields recently started creeping upward, long-term bond yield spreads remained relatively narrow compared to short-term bond yields throughout the reporting period — despite historical norms. In fact, long-term bond yields generally declined during the first half of the reporting period. Low inflation expectations among U.S. investors and robust demand from overseas investors appear to have helped longer-term bond prices withstand the potentially eroding effects of rising short-term interest rates.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk with your financial advisor about the investment strategies and specific portfolio allocations that may be appropriate for you.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

Chris Pellegrino, CFA, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005 the fund achieved total returns of 0.88% for Class A shares, 0.29% for Class B shares, 0.34% for Class C shares and 1.03% for Class R shares.¹ The fund's benchmark, the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index (the "Index"), produced a total return of 1.13% for the same period.²

Longer-term fixed-income securities retained much of their value over the reporting period as low inflation expectations and robust investor demand offset the potentially eroding effects of rising short-term interest rates. The fund produced lower returns than its benchmark, primarily due to fund fees and expenses that are not reflected by the Index.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund's goal is to provide shareholders with as high a level of current income as is consistent with safety of principal and maintenance of liquidity. To pursue its goal, the fund invests primarily in various types of U.S. and foreign investment-grade bonds, including government bonds, mortgage-backed securities and corporate debt.

When choosing securities for the fund, we conduct extensive research into the credit history and current financial strength of investment-grade bond issuers. We also examine such factors as the long-term outlook for the industry in which the issuer operates, the economy, the bond market and the maturity of the securities. Generally speaking, bonds with longer maturities tend to offer higher yields but also can be expected to fluctuate more in price than their short-term counterparts. Although the portfolio manager may invest in individual bonds with different remaining maturities, the fund's dollar-weighted average portfolio maturity will be no more than 10 years.

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE *(continued)What other factors affected the fund's performance?

The Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") continued to raise short-term interest rates at each of eight meetings of its Federal Open Market Committee over the reporting period, driving the overnight federal funds rate from 1.75% at the start of the reporting period to 3.75% at the end. On November 1, 2005, just one day after the close of the reporting period, the Fed acted again, raising the federal funds rate to 4%.

As expected, rising interest rates eroded prices of short-term fixed-income securities. Contrary to previous tightening cycles, however, prices of most longer-term bonds rose, and the yield of the 10-year U.S. Treasury bond ended the reporting period close to where it began. We attribute the remarkable resilience of long-term Treasury yields to an excess of global savings, as evidenced by sizeable foreign purchases. At the same time, longer-maturity bonds benefited from the Fed's inflation-fighting credibility, which has resulted in lower inflation expectations among investors.

Corporate bonds began the reporting period with yield differences relative to U.S. Treasuries well below historical norms, leaving little room for disappointment. Indeed, the corporate bond market sold off sharply in March and April when major U.S. automotive companies released disappointing financial results, and their unsecured debt was downgraded to below investment grade. However, by the end of the reporting period, the corporate bond market made up much of the ground it had lost, as investor demand for higher-yielding securities remained robust.

In this environment, the fund achieved strong returns from its over-weighted position in corporate bonds, including an emphasis toward the lower end of the investment-grade range. Corporate bonds recovered quickly after the downgrades of General Motors and Ford Motor Company to the high yield category. The fund benefited from its relatively light holdings of bonds from automobile companies in the spring, as well as from subsequent purchases of bonds from General Motors's financing subsidiary, which rebounded during the summer. The fund also received positive contributions from its holdings of Treasury Inflation-Protected Securities (TIPs), which benefited from inflation accruals to principal.

We set the fund's average duration — a measure of sensitivity to changing interest rates — in a range that was modestly shorter than industry averages. Although this positioning resulted in only modest overall results during the reporting period, we believe it successfully protected the fund from the full brunt of the potentially eroding effects of rising interest rates. However, we also adopted a “barbell” yield curve strategy in which U.S. Treasury bonds with maturities of 20 to 25 years were balanced by securities with five-year maturities, enabling the fund to participate in strength at the longer end of the range.

What is the fund's current strategy?

In light of recent reports of stronger-than-expected economic data, many analysts expect the Fed to continue raising short-term interest rates. Accordingly, we have continued to maintain a relatively defensive posture, including a modestly short average duration, as well as an emphasis on corporate bonds that, in our view, offer the best potential to benefit from improving business conditions. In our view, these are prudent strategies until it becomes clearer to us that inflation remains subdued and the Fed is nearing the end of its credit-tightening campaign.

The Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged total return index of corporate, U.S. government and U.S. government agency debt instruments, mortgage-backed securities and asset-backed securities with an average maturity of 1-10 years.

FUND PERFORMANCE

Comparison of change in value of $10,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund Class A shares, Class B shares, Class C shares and Class R shares and the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index

† Source: Lipper Inc.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R shares of Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund on 10/31/95 to a $10,000 investment made in the Lehman Brothers U.S. Aggregate Index (the "Index") on that date. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account the maximum initial sales charge on Class A shares and all other applicable fees and expenses on all share classes. The Index is a widely accepted, unmanaged index of corporate, U.S. government and U.S. government agency debt instruments, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities. The Index does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

Average Annual Total Returns as of 10/31/05

| | 1 Year | 5 Years | 10 Years |
|---|----------------|--------------|--------------|
| Class A shares | | | |
| with maximum sales charge (3.0%) | (2.17)% | 4.70% | 4.97% |
| without sales charge | 0.88% | 5.34% | 5.30% |
| Class B shares | | | |
| with applicable redemption charge † | (2.59)% | 4.80% | 5.00% |
| without redemption | 0.29% | 4.80% | 5.00% |
| Class C shares | | | |
| with applicable redemption charge †† | (0.38)% | 4.79% | 4.63% |
| without redemption | 0.34% | 4.79% | 4.63% |
| Class R shares | 1.03% | 5.59% | 5.55% |

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

Performance for Class B shares assumes the conversion of Class B shares to Class A shares at the end of the sixth year following the date of purchase.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | |
|---|----------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | | | |
| | Class A | Class B | Class C | Class R |
| Expenses paid per $1,000 [†] | $ 4.28 | $ 6.79 | $ 6.79 | $ 3.02 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $999.60 | $996.30 | $996.00 | $1,000.00 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | |
|--|----------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|
| | Class A | Class B | Class C | Class R |
| Expenses paid per $1,000 [†] | $ 4.33 | $ 6.87 | $ 6.87 | $ 3.06 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,020.92 | $1,018.40 | $1,018.40 | $1,022.18 |

[†] Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of .85% for Class A, 1.35% for Class B, 1.35% for Class C and .60% for Class R, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information (except portfolio turnover rate) reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund's financial statements.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series, including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to obtain as high a level of current income as is consistent with safety of principal and maintenance of liquidity. Although the fund may invest in obligations with different remaining maturities, the fund’s average maturity will be no more than ten years. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 250 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock. The fund currently offers four classes of shares: Class A (50 million shares authorized), Class B (50 million shares authorized), Class C (50 million shares authorized) and Class R (100 million shares authorized). Class A, Class B and Class C shares are sold primarily to retail investors through financial intermediaries and bear a distribution fee and/or service fee. Class A shares are sold with a front-end sales charge, while Class B and Class C shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”). Class B shares automatically convert to Class A shares after six years. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon Financial and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or investment account or relationship at such institution, and bear no distribution or service fees. Class R shares are offered without a front-end sales charge or CDSC. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to distribution and service fees and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund's financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities (excluding short-term investments (other than U.S. Treasury Bills), financial futures, options, swaps and forward currency exchange contracts), are valued each business day by an independent pricing service (the "Service") approved by the Board of Directors. Investments for which quoted bid prices are readily available and are representative of the bid side of the market in the judgment of the Service are valued at the mean between the quoted bid prices (as obtained by the Service from dealers in such securities) and asked prices (as calculated by the Service based upon its evaluation of the market for such securities). Other investments (which constitute a majority of the portfolio securities) are valued as determined by the Service, based on methods which include consideration of: yields or prices of securities of comparable quality, coupon, maturity and type; indications as to values from dealers; and general market conditions. Securities for which there are no such valuations are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under the direction of the Board of Directors. Restricted securities, as well as securities or other assets for which recent market quotations are not readily available, that are not valued by a pricing service approved by the Board of Directors, or are determined by the fund not to reflect accurately fair value (such as when an event occurs after the close of the exchange on which the security is principally traded and that is determined by the fund to have changed the value of the security), are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under the direction of the Board of Directors. The factors that may be considered when fair valuing a security include fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Short-term investments, excluding U.S. Treasury Bills, are carried at amortized cost, which approximates value. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. Financial futures and options, which are traded on an exchange, are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange on which such securities are primarily traded or at the last sales price on the national securities market on each business day. Options traded over-the-counter are priced at the mean between the bid and asked price. Investments in swap transactions are valued each business day by a pricing service approved by the Board of Directors. Swaps are valued by the service by using a swap pricing model which incorporates among other factors, default probabilities, recovery rates, credit curves of the underlying issuer and swap spreads on interest rates. Investments denominated in foreign currencies are translated to U.S. dollars at the prevailing rates of exchange. Forward currency exchange contracts are valued at the forward rate.

(b) Foreign currency transactions: The fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments.

Net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales and maturities of short-term securities, sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized on securities transactions and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the value of assets and liabilities other than investments in securities, resulting from changes in exchange rates. Such gains and losses are included with net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments.

(c) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counterparty default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(d) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as “affiliated” in the Act.

(e) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net; such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, if any, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(f) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $377,630, undistributed capital gains $295,895 and unrealized depreciation $1,132,089.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004 were as follows: ordinary income $1,805,694 and $2,148,880 and long-term capital gains $671,841 and $53,791, respectively.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences, primarily due to the tax treatment for pay-downs gains and losses on mortgage-backed securities, sales treatment for treasury inflation protected securities and foreign currency transactions, the fund increased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $65,469, decreased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by $71,617 and increased paid-in capital by $6,148. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the Facility.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of .60% of the value of the fund’s average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees, service fees and expenses, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund’s allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the “Dreyfus/Laurel Funds”) attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, the Distributor retained $11,608 from commissions earned on sales of the fund's Class A shares and $50,379 and $910 from contingent deferred sales charges on redemptions of the fund's Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

(b) Under separate Distribution Plans (the "Plans") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Class A shares may pay annually up to .25% of the value of its average daily net assets to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of Class A shares. Class B and Class C shares pay the Distributor for distributing their shares at an aggregate annual rate of .50% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B and Class C shares. Class B and Class C shares are also subject to a service plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 (the "Service Plan"), under which Class B and Class C shares pay the Distributor for providing certain services to the holders of their shares a fee at the annual rate of .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B and Class C shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class A, Class B and Class C shares were charged $47,143, $72,447 and $43,363, respectively, pursuant to their respective Plans. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class B and Class C shares were charged $36,224 and $21,681, respectively, pursuant to the Service Plan.

Under its terms, the Plans and Service Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those directors who are not "interested persons" of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plans or Service Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $21,975, Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $12,287 and service plan fees $4,270.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales (including paydowns) of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, financial futures, options transactions, forward currency exchange contracts and swap transactions during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $239,308,145 and $235,818,988, respectively, of which $121,300,958 in purchases and $121,529,358 in sales were from mortgage dollar roll transactions.

A mortgage dollar roll transaction involves a sale by the fund of mortgage related securities that it holds with an agreement by the fund to repurchase similar securities at an agreed upon price and date. The securities purchased will bear the same interest rate as those sold, but generally will be collateralized by pools of mortgages with different prepayment histories than those securities sold.

The fund may invest in financial futures contracts in order to gain exposure to or protect against changes in the market. The fund is exposed to market risk as a result of changes in the value of the underlying financial instruments. Investments in financial futures require the fund to “mark to market” on a daily basis, which reflects the change in market value of the contracts at the close of each day’s trading. Accordingly, variation margin payments are received or made to reflect daily unrealized gains or losses. When the contracts are closed, the fund recognizes a realized gain or loss. These investments require initial margin deposits with a broker, which consist of cash or cash equivalents. The amount of these deposits is determined by the exchange or Board of Trade on which the contract is traded and is subject to change. Contracts open at October 31, 2005, are set forth in the Statement of Financial Futures.

The fund may purchase and write (sell) put and call options in order to gain exposure to or to protect against changes in the market.

As a writer of call options, the fund receives a premium at the outset and then bears the market risk of unfavorable changes in the price of the financial instrument underlying the option. Generally, the fund would incur a gain, to the extent of the premium, if the price of the underlying financial instrument decreases between the date the option is written and the date on which the option is terminated. Generally, the fund would realize a loss, if the price of the financial instrument increases between those dates.

As a writer of put options, the fund receives a premium at the outset and then bears the market risk of unfavorable changes in the price of the financial instrument underlying the option. | Total contracts terminated | 4,530,000 | 15,245 | 3,265 | 11,980 |
| Contracts outstanding October 31, 2005 | 4,100,000 | 15,587 | | |

The fund enters into forward currency exchange contracts in order to hedge its exposure to changes in foreign currency exchange rates on its foreign portfolio holdings and to settle foreign currency transactions. When executing forward currency exchange contracts, the fund is obligated to buy or sell a foreign currency at a specified rate on a certain date in the future. With respect to sales of forward currency exchange contracts, the fund would incur a loss if the value of the contract increases between the date the forward contract is opened and the date the forward contract is closed. The fund realizes a gain if the value of the contract decreases between those dates. With respect to purchases of forward currency exchange contracts, the fund would incur a loss if the value of the contract decreases between the date the forward contract is opened and the date the forward contract is closed. The fund realizes a gain if the value of the contract increases between those dates. The fund is also exposed to credit risk associated with counterparty nonperformance on these forward currency exchange contracts which is typically limited to the unrealized gain on each open contract. The following summarizes open forward currency exchange contracts at October 31, 2005:

| Sales: | | | | |
| Euro, expiring 12/21/2005 | 20,000 | 24,685 | 24,050 | 635 |
| Swedish Krona, expiring 12/21/2005 | 12,160,000 | 1,632,105 | 1,534,152 | 97,953 |
| Total | | | | 98,588 |

The fund may enter into swap agreements to exchange the interest rate on, or return generated by, one nominal instrument for the return generated by another nominal instrument.

The fund accrues for the interim payments on swap contracts on a daily basis, with the net amount recorded within unrealized appreciation (depreciation) of swap contracts in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Once the interim payments are settled in cash, the net amount is recorded as realized gain (loss) on swaps, in addition to realized gain (loss) recorded upon the termination of swap contracts in the Statement of Operations. Fluctuations in the value of swap contracts are recorded as a component of net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investments.

Credit default swaps involve commitments to pay a fixed interest rate in exchange for payment if a credit event affecting a third party (the referenced company) occurs. Credit events may include a failure to pay interest or principal, bankruptcy, or restructuring. For those credit default swaps in which the fund is receiving a fixed rate, the fund is providing credits protection on the underlying instrument. The maximum payouts for these contracts are limited to the notional amount of each swap. The following summarizes credit default swaps entered into by the fund at October 31, 2005:

| Notional Amount ($) | Description | Unrealized (Depreciation) ($) |
| 84,000 | Agreement with Bear Stearns terminating June 20, 2010 to pay a fixed rate of .415% and receive the notional amount as a result of interest payment default totaling $1,000,000 or principal payment default of $10,000,000 on Alcoa, 6%, 1/15/2012 | (546) |
| 186,000 | Agreement with Bear Stearns terminating June 20, 2010 to pay a fixed rate of .52% and receive the notional amount as a result of interest payment default totaling $1,000,000 or principal payment default of $10,000,000 on Alcoa, 6.5%, 6/1/2011 | (2,039) |
| 270,000 | Agreement with Bear Stearns terminating June 20, 2010 to pay a fixed rate of .31% and receive the notional amount as a result of interest payment default totaling $1,000,000 or principal payment default of $10,000,000 on ConocoPhillips, 4.75%, 10/15/2012 | (1,639) |
| 340,000 | Agreement with Citigroup terminating June 20, 2015 to pay a fixed rate of .62% and receive the notional amount as a result of interest payment default totaling $1,000,000 or principal payment default of $10,000,000 on Morgan Stanley, 6.6%, 4/1/2012 | (5,526) |
| 126,000 | Agreement with Bear Stearns terminating June 20, 2010 to pay a fixed rate of .4% and receive the notional amount as a result of interest payment default totaling $1,000,000 or principal payment default of $10,000,000 on Nucor, 4.875%, 10/1/2012 | (930) |
| Total | | (10,680) |

The fund may enter into interest rate swaps which involve the exchange of commitments to pay and receive interest based on a notional principal amount. The following summarizes open interest rate swaps entered into by the fund at October 31, 2005:

| Notional Amount ($) | Description | Unrealized Appreciation (Depreciation) ($) |
|----------------------|--|---|
| 2,709,000 | Interest Rate Swap Agreement with J.P. Morgan Chase & Co. terminating May 13, 2008 to pay 3 month LIBOR and receive a fixed rate of 4.17% | (12,014) |
| 2,709,000 | Interest Rate Swap Agreement with J.P. Morgan Chase & Co. terminating May 13, 2015 to receive 3 month LIBOR and pay a fixed rate of 4.645% | 46,554 |
| | | 34,540 |

Risks may arise upon entering into these agreements from the potential inability of the counterparties to meet the terms of the agreement and are generally limited to the amount of net payments to be received, if any, at the date of default.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $65,060,526; accordingly, accumulated net unrealized depreciation on investments was $1,165,594, consisting of $105,753 gross unrealized appreciation and $1,271,347 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund (the "Fund") of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc., including the statements of investments, financial futures, and options written as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Premier Limited Term Income Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U. S. generally accepted accounting principles.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this annual report for Dreyfus Premier Small Cap Value Fund, covering the 12-month period from November 1, 2004, through October 31, 2005. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio managers, Ronald P. Gala, CFA, and Adam T. Logan, CFA.

Over the past year, the U.S. economy once again demonstrated its fortitude, expanding at a steady pace despite the headwinds of soaring energy prices, higher short-term interest rates and the Gulf Coast hurricanes. However, after rallying in the final weeks of 2004, the U.S. stock market traded within a relatively narrow range for much of 2005, when investors responded cautiously to uncertainty regarding future business conditions. While small- and midcap stocks generally produced higher returns than large-cap equities for the reporting period, we recently have seen signs of renewed strength among larger companies compared to smaller ones, and higher-quality over lower-quality stocks.

As the end of 2005 approaches, some economists have suggested that the U.S. economy and financial markets may be reaching an inflection point. Investors' reactions to a change in leadership at the Federal Reserve Board, coupled with the potential effects of higher fuel prices on consumer spending, may set the tone for the financial markets in 2006. As always, we encourage you to talk to your financial advisor, who can discuss with you these issues and the potential benefits of a long-term investment perspective.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Ronald P. Gala, CFA, and Adam T. Logan, CFA, Portfolio Managers

How did Dreyfus Premier Small Cap Value Fund perform relative to its benchmark?

For the 12-month period ended October 31, 2005, the fund's Class A, B, C, R and T shares produced total returns of 12.29%, 11.44%, 11.49%, 12.58% and 12.00%, respectively.¹ In comparison, the fund's benchmark, the Russell 2000 Value Index ("the Index"), produced a total return of 13.04% for the same period.²

After a slow start, small-cap value stocks posted strong gains during the reporting period, as investors shrugged off higher energy prices and became more confident in the global economy. The fund's returns modestly lagged its benchmark, primarily because a number of the fund's holdings did not meet earnings expectations.

On a separate note, effective April 2005, Ronald P. Gala, CFA, and Adam T. Logan, CFA, became the fund's primary portfolio managers.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks capital appreciation. To pursue its goal, the fund normally invests at least 80% of its assets in stocks of small U.S. companies. We use a disciplined process that combines computer modeling techniques, fundamental analysis and risk management to select undervalued stocks for the fund.

In selecting securities, we use disciplined valuation models to identify undervalued stocks. Undervalued stocks are normally characterized by relatively low price-to-earnings and low price-to-book ratios. The models help analyze how a stock is priced relative to its perceived intrinsic value.

Next, based on fundamental analysis, we generally select the most attractive securities, drawing on a variety of sources, including internal as well as Wall Street research.

Then the fund is constructed with a commitment to diversification, so that its sector weightings and risk characteristics are generally similar to those of the Index.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

The small-cap value area ranked among the better performing segments of the U.S. stock market during the reporting period. After a slow start amid concerns about a possible global economic slowdown, investors became less risk-averse and more comfortable investing in smaller companies.

While the fund participated in the market's strength to a significant degree, several of its holdings produced disappointing returns that prevented the fund from matching the performance of the Index. For example, in the technology area, SigmaTel, which makes semiconductors for consumer electronics products such as mp3 players, reduced its earnings forecast despite serving a booming market. In the chemicals industry, Atlanta-based commodity chemical company Georgia Gulf posted strong earnings in late 2004, but investors became concerned about excess capacity, reduced end-market demand and rising energy prices.

Energy companies benefited during the reporting period from sharply higher oil and gas prices. The fund achieved excellent results in the energy sector with Houston-based Todco, which provides oil and gas drilling services in the Gulf of Mexico. San Antonio-based oil refiner Tesoro enjoyed higher profit margins and earnings in an environment characterized by limited refinery capacity. However, energy stocks tend to be highly dependent on the direction of oil and gas prices, which were moderating at the end of the reporting period, so we trimmed the fund's allocation to that sector toward a more market-neutral position.

Rising interest rates did not seem to derail the construction industry, even though the Federal Reserve Board raised short-term interest rates eight times over the reporting period. However, long-term interest rates remained relatively stable, which helped explain why the relatively interest-sensitive producer goods and services sector outperformed the benchmark. Eagle Materials, which manufactures basic building materials used primarily in commercial and residential construction, benefited from a robust housing market, especially in the wake of the Gulf Coast hurricanes. URS, which provides engineering design services worldwide, posted strong earnings momentum, while USG, which makes wallboard and ceiling tiles, reported good profits.

The banking sector, another interest-rate sensitive area, also fared well. We focused on banks that we believed would be less sensitive to rising short-term interest rates, such as Boston Private Financial Holdings, which provides private banking, investment management services and other fee-based services. Among real estate investment trusts, the fund's investment in Corporate Office Properties Trust, which focuses on the Washington, D.C. office market, also performed well.

Although the technology sector produced mixed results for the fund overall, it nonetheless received a strong contribution from Intergraph, a software firm that specializes in public infrastructure and energy concerns. Intergraph particularly benefited from its products used in designing offshore drilling platforms.

What is the fund's current strategy?

In an effort to add value through stock selection within each economic sector, part of the fund's strategy is to allocate assets in roughly the same proportions as the Index. When a particular segment of the market, such as the energy area during the reporting period, performs well and grows faster than other areas, prudence dictates that we take profits and trim the fund's allocation to that sector toward a market-neutral position, as mentioned previously.

We have continued to find opportunities across the economic spectrum, investing in more than 200 small-cap stocks that meet our value criteria. The stock market currently appears to be reasonably priced when viewed in the historical context of the past 10 years.

² SOURCE: LIPPER INC. — Reflects the reinvestment of dividends and, where applicable, capital gain distributions. The Russell 2000 Value Index is an unmanaged index, which measures the performance of those Russell 2000 companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values.

FUND PERFORMANCE

† Source: Lipper Inc.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance.

The above graph compares a $10,000 investment made in each of the Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R shares of Dreyfus Premier Small Cap Value Fund on 4/1/98 (inception date) to a $10,000 investment made in the Russell 2000 Value Index (the "Index") on that date. All dividends and capital gain distributions are reinvested. Performance for Class T shares will vary from the performance of Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R shares shown above due to differences in charges and expenses.

The fund's performance shown in the line graph takes into account the maximum initial sales charge on Class A shares and all other applicable fees and expenses on all classes. The Index is an unmanaged index which measures the performance of those Russell 2000 companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower forecasted growth values. The Index is an unmanaged index of small-cap stock market performance and is composed of the 2,000 smallest companies in the Russell 3000 Index. The Russell 3000 Index is composed of the 3,000 largest U.S. companies based on total market capitalization. The Index does not take into account charges, fees and other expenses. Further information relating to fund performance, including expense reimbursements, if applicable, is contained in the Financial Highlights section of the prospectus and elsewhere in this report.

Past performance is not predictive of future performance. The fund's performance shown in the graph and table does not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or the redemption of fund shares.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES (Unaudited)

As a mutual fund investor, you pay ongoing expenses, such as management fees and other expenses. Using the information below, you can estimate how these expenses affect your investment and compare them with the expenses of other funds. You also may pay one-time transaction expenses, including sales charges (loads) and redemption fees, which are not shown in this section and would have resulted in higher total expenses. For more information, see your fund's prospectus or talk to your financial adviser.

Review your fund's expenses

The table below shows the expenses you would have paid on a $1,000 investment in Dreyfus Premier Small Cap Value Fund from May 1, 2005 to October 31, 2005. It also shows how much a $1,000 investment would be worth at the close of the period, assuming actual returns and expenses.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | |
|---|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|
| assuming actual returns for the six months ended October 31, 2005 | | | | | |
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 7.93 | $ 11.87 | $ 11.87 | $ 6.61 | $ 9.24 |

COMPARING YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES
WITH THOSE OF OTHER FUNDS (Unaudited)

Using the SEC's method to compare expenses

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has established guidelines to help investors assess fund expenses. Per these guidelines, the table below shows your fund's expenses based on a $1,000 investment, assuming a hypothetical 5% annualized return. You can use this information to compare the ongoing expenses (but not transaction expenses or total cost) of investing in the fund with those of other funds. All mutual fund shareholder reports will provide this information to help you make this comparison. Please note that you cannot use this information to estimate your actual ending account balance and expenses paid during the period.

| Expenses and Value of a $1,000 Investment | | | | | |
|--|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|
| Expenses paid per $1,000† | $ 7.63 | $ 11.42 | $ 11.42 | $ 6.36 | $ 8.89 |
| Ending value (after expenses) | $1,017.64 | $1,013.86 | $1,013.86 | $1,018.90 | $1,016.38 |

† Expenses are equal to the fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.50% for Class A, 2.25% for Class B, 2.25% for Class C, 1.25% for Class R and 1.75% for Class T; multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

The following tables describe the performance for each share class for the fiscal periods indicated. All information (except portfolio turnover rate) reflects financial results for a single fund share. Total return shows how much your investment in the fund would have increased (or decreased) during each period, assuming you had reinvested all dividends and distributions. These figures have been derived from the fund's financial statements.

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Premier Small Cap Value Fund (the “fund”) is a separate diversified series of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. (the “Company”) which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as an open-end management investment company and operates as a series company currently offering sixteen series including the fund. The fund’s investment objective is to seek capital appreciation. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”).

Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares. The fund is authorized to issue 100 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock in each of the following classes: Class A, Class B, Class C and Class R and 200 million shares of $.001 par value Capital Stock of Class T shares. Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares are sold primarily to retail investors through financial intermediaries and bear a distribution fee and/or service fee. Class A and Class T shares are sold with a front-end sales charge, while Class B and Class C shares are subject to a contingent deferred sales charge (“CDSC”). Class B shares automatically convert to Class A shares after six years. Class R shares are sold primarily to bank trust departments and other financial service providers (including Mellon Financial and its affiliates) acting on behalf of customers having a qualified trust or investment account or relationship at such institution, and bear no distribution or service fees. Class R shares are offered without a front-end sales charge or CDSC. Each class of shares has identical rights and privileges, except with respect to distribution and service fees and voting rights on matters affecting a single class. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class), and realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at the last sales price on the securities exchange or national securities market on which such securities are primarily traded. Securities listed on the National Market System for which market quotations are available are valued at the official closing price or, if there is no official closing price that day, at the last sales price. Securities not listed on an exchange or the national securities market, or securities for which there were no transactions, are valued at the average of the most recent bid and asked prices, except for open short positions, where the asked price is used for valuation purposes. Bid price is used when no asked price is available. Investments in registered investment companies are valued at their net asset value. When market quotations or official closing prices are not readily available, or are determined not to reflect accurately fair value, such as when the value of a security has been significantly affected by events after the close of the exchange or market on which the security is principally traded (for example, a foreign exchange or market), but before the fund calculates its net asset value, the fund may value these investments at fair value as determined in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Directors. Fair valuing of securities may be determined with the assistance of a pricing service using calculations based on indices of domestic securities and other appropriate indicators, such as prices of relevant ADR's and futures contracts. For other securities that are fair valued by the Board of Directors, certain factors may be considered such as: fundamental analytical data, the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition, an evaluation of the forces that influence the market in which the securities are purchased and sold, and public trading in similar securities of the issuer or comparable issuers. Financial futures are valued at the last sales price.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date and interest income, including, where applicable, accretion of discount and amortization of premium on investments, is recognized on the accrual basis.

Pursuant to a securities lending agreement with Mellon Bank, N.A., an affiliate of the Manager, the fund may lend securities to qualified institutions. At origination, all loans are secured by collateral of at least 102% of the value of U.S. securities loaned and 105% of the value of foreign securities loaned. Collateral equivalent to at least 100% of the market value of securities on loan will be maintained at all times. Cash collateral is invested in certain money market mutual funds managed by the Manager. The fund will be entitled to receive all income on securities loaned, in addition to income earned as a result of the lending transaction. Although each security loaned is fully collateralized, the fund would bear the risk of delay in recovery of, or loss of rights in, the securities loaned should a borrower fail to return the securities in a timely manner.

The fund may engage in repurchase agreement transactions. Under the terms of a typical repurchase agreement, the fund, through its custodian and sub-custodian, takes possession of an underlying debt obligation subject to an obligation of the seller to repurchase, and the fund to resell, the obligation at an agreed-upon price and time, thereby determining the yield during the fund's holding period. This arrangement results in a fixed rate of return that is not subject to market fluctuations during the fund's holding period. The value of the collateral is at least equal, at all times, to the total amount of the repurchase obligation, including interest. In the event of a counter party default, the fund has the right to use the collateral to offset losses incurred. There is potential loss to the fund in the event the fund is delayed or prevented from exercising its rights to dispose of the collateral securities, including the risk of a possible decline in the value of the underlying securities during the period while the fund seeks to assert its rights. The Manager, acting under the supervision of the Board of Directors, reviews the value of the collateral and the creditworthiness of those banks and dealers with which the fund enters into repurchase agreements to evaluate potential risks.

(c) Affiliated issuers: Investments in other investment companies advised by the Manager are defined as "affiliated" in the Act.

(d) Dividends to shareholders: Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Dividends from investment income-net and dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

(e) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, if such qualification is in the best interests of its shareholders, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of taxable income sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At October 31, 2005, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were as follows: undistributed ordinary income $17,761,556, undistributed capital gains $5,322,543 and unrealized appreciation $19,442,764.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended October 31, 2005 and October 31, 2004, were as follows: ordinary income $9,145,430 and $1,824,436, and long-term capital gains $3,157,683 and $1,066,363, respectively.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, as a result of permanent book to tax differences, primarily due to the tax treatment for net operating losses and real estate investments trusts, the fund increased accumulated undistributed investment income-net by $836,518 and decreased accumulated net realized gain (loss) on investments by the same amount. Net assets were not affected by this reclassification.

NOTE 2—Bank Line of Credit:

The fund participates with other Dreyfus-managed funds in a $350 million redemption credit facility (the “Facility”) to be utilized for temporary or emergency purposes, including the financing of redemptions. In connection therewith, the fund has agreed to pay commitment fees on its pro rata portion of the Facility. Interest is charged to the fund at rates based on prevailing market rates in effect at the time of borrowing. During the period ended October 31, 2005, the fund did not borrow under the Facility.

NOTE 3—Investment Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to an Investment Management agreement with the Manager, the Manager provides or arranges for one or more third parties and/or affiliates to provide investment advisory, administrative, custody, fund accounting and transfer agency services to the fund. The Manager also directs the investments of the fund in accordance with its investment objective, policies and limitations. For these services, the fund is contractually obligated to pay the Manager a fee, calculated daily and paid monthly, at the annual rate of 1.25% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. Out of its fee, the Manager pays all of the expenses of the fund, except brokerage fees, taxes, interest, commitment fees, Rule 12b-1 distribution fees and expenses, service fees, fees and expenses of non-interested Directors (including counsel fees) and extraordinary expenses. In addition, the Manager is required to reduce its fee in an amount equal to the fund's allocable portion of fees and expenses of the non-interested Directors (including counsel fees). Effective October 1, 2005, each Director receives $45,000 per year, plus $6,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Company, The Dreyfus/Laurel Tax-Free Municipal Funds and The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds Trust (collectively, the "Dreyfus/Laurel Funds") attended, $2,000 for separate in-person committee meetings attended which are not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $1,500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that are conducted by telephone and is reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. With respect to Board meetings, the Chairman of the Board receives an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel

Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. With respect to compensation committee meetings, the Chair of the compensation committee receives $900 per meeting and, with respect to audit committee meetings, the Chair of the audit committee receives $1,350 per meeting. In the event that there is an in-person joint committee meeting or a joint telephone meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 or $1,500 fee, as applicable, will be allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. Prior to October 1, 2005, each Director received $40,000 per year, plus $5,000 for each joint Board meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds attended, $2,000 for separate committee meetings attended which were not held in conjunction with a regularly scheduled Board meeting and $500 for Board meetings and separate committee meetings attended that were conducted by telephone and was reimbursed for travel and out-of-pocket expenses. The Chairman of the Board received an additional 25% of such compensation (with the exception of reimbursable amounts). In the event that there was a joint committee meeting of the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund, the $2,000 fee was allocated between the Dreyfus/Laurel Funds and Dreyfus High Yield Strategies Fund. These fees and expenses are charged and allocated to each series based on net assets. Amounts required to be paid by the Company directly to the non-interested Directors, that would be applied to offset a portion of the management fee payable to the Manager, are in fact paid directly by the Manager to the non-interested Directors.

During the period ended October 31, 2005, the Distributor retained $112,803 and $5,239 from commissions earned on sales of fund's Class A and Class T shares, respectively, and $56,193 and $14,609 from contingent deferred sales charges on redemptions of the fund's Class B and Class C shares, respectively.

(b) Under separate Distribution Plans (the "Plans") adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act, Class A shares may pay annually up to

.25% of the value of their average daily net assets to compensate the Distributor for shareholder servicing activities and expenses primarily intended to result in the sale of Class A shares. Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay the Distributor for distributing their shares at an aggregate annual rate of .75% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B and Class C shares and .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class T shares. The Distributor may pay one or more agents in respect of advertising, marketing and other distribution services for Class T shares and determines the amounts, if any, to be paid to agents and the basis on which such payments are made. Class B, Class C and Class T shares are also subject to a service plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 (the "Service Plan"), under which Class B, Class C and Class T shares pay the Distributor for providing certain services to the holders of their shares a fee at the annual rate of .25% of the value of the average daily net assets of Class B, Class C and Class T shares. During the period ended October 31, 2005, Class A, Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $655,206, $228,559, $404,255 and $25,398, respectively, pursuant to their respective Plans, and Class B, Class C and Class T shares were charged $76,186, $134,752 and $25,398, respectively, pursuant to the Service Plan.

Under its terms, the Plans and Service Plan shall remain in effect from year to year, provided such continuance is approved annually by a vote of majority of those directors who are not "interested persons" of the Company and who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of or in any agreement related to the Plans or Service Plan.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consist of: management fees $699,328, Rule 12b-1 distribution plan fees $142,403 and service plan fees $23,573.

(c) The Company and the Manager have received an exemptive order from the SEC which, among other things, permits the fund to use cash collateral received in connection with lending the fund's securities and other uninvested cash to purchase shares of one or more registered money market mutual funds advised by the Manager in excess of the limitations imposed by the Act.

NOTE 4—Securities Transactions:

The aggregate amount of purchases and sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, during the period ended October 31, 2005, amounted to $911,888,415 and $450,538,831, respectively.

At October 31, 2005, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $673,462,361; accordingly, accumulated net unrealized appreciation on investments was $19,442,764, consisting of $53,360,314 gross unrealized appreciation and $33,917,550 gross unrealized depreciation.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Premier Small Cap Value Fund (the “Fund”) of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. including the statement of investments, as of October 31, 2005, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2005, by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, or by other appropriate auditing procedures where replies from brokers were not received. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Premier Small Cap Value Fund of The Dreyfus/Laurel Funds, Inc. as of October 31, 2005, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.
