1. A credit rating reflects the creditworthiness of HSBC USA Inc. and is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities, and it may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organization. The notes themselves have not been independently rated. Each rating should be evaluated independently of any other rating.

Notes Description

This notes provide the investor with the greater-of the uncapped upside performance of the S&P 500® Index or a return of 125% of the principal amount at maturity, as long as the closing level of the index never declines below the barrier level over the term of the notes. If the barrier level is breached, the investor will lose 1.00% of the original principal amount for each percentage point that the reference return is below -10.00%.

This investment is applicable for investors who are long term bullish, seek a conditional minimum return, and have the view that the closing level of the S&P 500® Index will not decline by more than [45.00-50.00]% from its current level during the term of the notes.

Highlights

- The potential for 100% upside participation in the reference asset uncapped or a return of 125% of the principal amount at maturity.
- The investor receives full capital protection at maturity as long as the reference asset does not decline by [45.00 – 50.00]% during the term of the notes.

INVESTOR SUITABILITY

The notes may be suitable for you if:

- You believe the level of the reference asset will increase or decrease moderately—meaning that you believe the level of the reference asset will not decline below the barrier level at any time during the observation period.
- You are willing to make an investment that is exposed to downside performance of the reference asset on a 1 to 1 basis for each percentage point that the reference return is below -10.00% in the event that a trigger event occurs.
- You are willing to forego dividends paid on the stocks included in the reference asset.
- You do not seek current income from this investment.
- You do not seek an investment for which there is an active secondary market.
- You are willing to hold the notes to maturity.

The notes may not be suitable for you if:

- You believe the level of the reference asset will decline below the barrier level at any time during the observation period.
- You are unwilling to make an investment that is exposed to downside performance of the reference asset on a 1 to 1 basis for each percentage point that the reference return is below -10.00% in the event that a trigger event occurs.
- You seek an investment that is 100% principal protected.
- You prefer the lower risk, and therefore accept the potentially lower returns, of fixed income investments with comparable maturities issued by HSBC or another issuer with a similar credit rating.
- You prefer to receive the dividends paid on any stocks included in the reference asset.
- You seek current income from this investment.
- You seek an investment for which there will be an active secondary market.
- You are unable or unwilling to hold the notes to maturity.

CERTAIN RISKS AND CONSIDERATIONS

Purchasing the notes involves a number of risks. It is suggested that prospective investors reach a purchase decision only after careful consideration with their financial, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors regarding the suitability of the notes in light of their particular circumstances. See "Risk Factors" in the accompanying Free Writing Prospectus and Prospectus Supplement for a discussion of risks, which include:

- The notes are not fully principal protected and you may lose up to 90% of your initial investment.
- There may not be an active secondary trading market in the notes and notes should be viewed as long term instruments.
- Return on the notes is linked to the performance of an equity index and may be positive or negative.
- Return on the notes does not necessarily reflect the full performance of the reference asset and movements in the level of the reference asset may affect whether or not you receive your full principal at maturity.
- Your yield may be less than that of a standard debt security of comparable maturity.
- You will not receive any periodic interest payments on the notes.
- An investment in the notes is subject to risks associated with the U.S. securities market.
- There may be little or no secondary market for the notes—the notes will not be listed or displayed on any securities exchange or quotation system.
- The notes are subject to significant risks not associated with conventional fixed rate or floating rate debt securities.
- These notes are not bank deposits and are not insured by the FDIC or any other U.S. federal or state government agency.

This Free Writing Prospectus relates to one note offering linked to the reference asset identified on the cover page. We reserve the right to withdraw, cancel or modify any offering and to reject orders in whole or in part. Although the note offering relates only to the reference asset identified on the cover page, you should not construe that fact as a recommendation of the merits of acquiring an investment linked to the reference asset or as to the suitability of an investment in the notes.

You should read this document together with the Prospectus dated April 2, 2009, the Prospectus Supplement dated April 9, 2009, the Product Supplement dated April 9, 2009 and the Free Writing Prospectus dated May 11, 2009. You should carefully consider, among other things, the matters set forth in "Risk Factors" beginning on page S-3 of the Prospectus Supplement, as the notes involve risks not associated with conventional debt securities. We urge you to consult your investment, legal, tax, accounting and other advisers before you invest in the notes. As used herein, references to "HSBC", "we", "us" and "our" are to HSBC USA Inc.
