This free writing prospectus relates to an offering of securities. The purchaser of a security will acquire a senior unsecured debt security linked to the Dow Jones Industrial AverageSM as described below. Although the offering relates to the Dow Jones Industrial AverageSM, you should not construe that fact as a recommendation as to the merits of acquiring an investment in any security comprising the Dow Jones Industrial AverageSM or as to the suitability of an investment in the related securities. The following key terms relate to the offering of securities:

Issuer Rating:	AA- (S&P), A1 (Moody's), AA (Fitch) [†]

Pricing Date:	October 23, 2009

Under these circumstances, you will lose 1% of the principal amount of your securities for each percentage point that the Reference Return is below the Buffer Value. Payment at Maturity

On the maturity date, for each security you hold, we will pay you the Final Settlement Value, which is an amount in cash, as described below:

If the Reference Return is greater than zero, you will receive a cash payment on the maturity date, per $1,000 principal amount of securities, calculated as follows:

$$$1,000 + ($1,000 \times \text{Reference Return} \times \text{Upside Participation Rate}).$$

If the Reference Return is less than or equal to zero but greater than or equal to the Buffer Value, you will receive $1,000 per $1,000 principal amount of securities (zero return).

If the Reference Return is less than the Buffer Value, you will receive a cash payment on the maturity date, per $1,000 principal amount of securities, calculated as follows:

$$$1,000 + [$1,000 \times (\text{Reference Return} + 10\%)]$$

Under these circumstances, you will lose 1% of the principal amount of your securities for each percentage point that the Reference Return is below the Buffer Value. For example, because the Buffer Value protects the first 10% of loss, if the Reference Return is -30%, you will suffer a 20% loss and receive 80% of the principal amount. You should be aware that if the Reference Return is less than the Buffer Value, you may lose up to 90% of your investment.

Notwithstanding anything contained in the accompanying prospectus supplement or product supplement to the contrary, the securities will be issued under the senior indenture dated March 31, 2009, between HSBC USA Inc., as Issuer, and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as trustee. Notwithstanding anything contained in the accompanying prospectus supplement or product supplement to the contrary, HSBC Bank USA, N.A. will act as paying agent with respect to the securities pursuant to a Paying Agent and Securities Registrar Agreement dated June 1, 2009, between HSBC USA Inc. and HSBC Bank USA, N.A.

Reference Sponsor

The Dow Jones & Company, Inc. is the reference sponsor.

INVESTOR SUITABILITY

The securities may be suitable for you if:

- ◆ You seek an investment with a return linked to the potential positive performance of the Reference Asset, as modified by the Upside Participation Rate indicated herein (the actual Upside Participation Rate will be determined on the Pricing Date), and you believe the level of the Reference Asset will increase over the term of the securities.
- ◆ You are willing to make an investment that is exposed to the negative Reference Return on a 1-to-1 basis for each percentage point that the Reference Return is less than -10%.
- ◆ You are willing to forego dividends or other distributions paid to holders of stocks comprising the Reference Asset.
- ◆ You do not seek current income from this investment.
- ◆ You do not seek an investment for which there is an active secondary market.
- ◆ You are willing to hold the securities to maturity.
- ◆ You are comfortable with the creditworthiness of HSBC, as issuer of the securities.

The securities may not be suitable for you if:

- ◆ You believe the Reference Return will be negative on the Final Valuation Date or that the Reference Return will not be sufficiently positive to provide you with your desired return.
- ◆ You believe the level of the Reference Asset will decrease over the term of the securities.
- ◆ You are unwilling to make an investment that is exposed to the negative Reference Return on a 1-to-1 basis for each percentage point that the Reference Return is below -10%.
- ◆ You seek an investment that is 100% principal protected.
- ◆ You prefer the lower risk, and therefore accept the potentially lower returns, of fixed income investments with comparable maturities issued by HSBC or another issuer with a similar credit rating.
- ◆ You prefer to receive the dividends or other distributions paid on any stocks included in the Reference Asset.
- ◆ You seek current income from your investment.
- ◆ You seek an investment for which there will be an active secondary market.
- ◆ You are unable or unwilling to hold the securities to maturity.
- ◆ You are not willing or are unable to assume the credit risk associated with HSBC, as issuer of the securities.

RISK FACTORS

We urge you to read the section “Risk Factors” on page S-3 in the accompanying prospectus supplement and on page PS-4 of the accompanying product supplement. Investing in the securities is not equivalent to investing directly in any of the stocks comprising the Reference Asset. You should understand the risks of investing in the securities and should reach an investment decision only after careful consideration, with your advisers, of the suitability of the securities in light of your particular financial circumstances and the information set forth in this free writing prospectus and the accompanying product supplement, prospectus supplement and prospectus.

As you review “Risk Factors” in the accompanying prospectus supplement, you should pay particular attention to the following sections:

- “—Risks Relating to All Note Issuances” and
- “—Additional Risks Relating to Notes with an Equity Security or Equity Index as the Reference Asset.”

You will be subject to significant risks not associated with conventional fixed-rate or floating-rate debt securities.

Your Investment in the Securities May Result in a Loss.

You will be exposed to the decline in the Final Level from the Initial Level beyond the Buffer Value of -10%. Accordingly, if the Reference Return is less than -10%, your payment at maturity will be less than the principal amount of your securities. YOU MAY LOSE UP TO 90% OF YOUR INVESTMENT AT MATURITY IF THE REFERENCE RETURN IS BETWEEN -10% AND -100%.

Credit Risk of HSBC USA Inc.

The securities are senior unsecured debt obligations of the issuer, HSBC, and are not, either directly or indirectly, an obligation of any third party. Any payment to be made on the securities, including any principal protection at maturity, depends on the ability of HSBC to satisfy its obligations as they come due. As a result, the actual and perceived creditworthiness of HSBC may affect the market value of the securities and, in the event HSBC were to default on its obligations, you may not receive the amounts owed to you under the terms of the securities.

The Securities Will Not Bear Interest.

As a holder of the securities, you will not receive periodic interest payments.

The Upside Participation Rate May be 100% and in Such a Case the Securities Will Not Provide the Opportunity to Enhance Returns.

The return you receive on the securities will be impacted by the Upside Participation Rate, which will be set on the Pricing Date and will be equal to a percentage between 100% to 105% inclusive. If the Upside Participation Rate is greater than 100%, the securities will provide the opportunity to enhance returns by multiplying a positive Reference Return, if any, by the Upside Participation Rate. If, however, the Upside Participation Rate is equal to 100%, the securities will not provide the opportunity to enhance returns. Because the securities are senior unsecured obligations of HSBC, payment of any amount at maturity is subject to HSBC’s ability to pay its obligations as they become due.

Changes that Affect the Reference Asset Will Affect the Market Value of the Securities and the Amount You Will Receive at Maturity.

The policies of the reference sponsor concerning additions, deletions and substitutions of the constituents comprising the Reference Asset and the manner in which the reference sponsor takes account of certain changes affecting those constituents included in the Reference Asset may affect the level of the Reference Asset. The policies of the reference sponsor with respect to the calculation of the Reference Asset could also affect the level of the Reference Asset. The reference sponsor may discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of the Reference Asset. Any such actions could affect the value of the securities.

Please read and pay particular attention to the section “Additional Risks Relating to Notes with an Equity Security or Equity Index as the Reference Asset” in the accompanying prospectus supplement.

The Securities are Not Insured by Any Governmental Agency of the United States or Any Other Jurisdiction.

The securities are not deposit liabilities or other obligations of a bank and are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other governmental agency or program of the United States or any other jurisdiction. An investment in the securities is subject to the credit risk of HSBC, and in the event that HSBC is unable to pay its obligations as they become due, you may not receive the full payment at maturity of the securities. This debt is not guaranteed under the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's Temporary Liquidity Guarantee Program.

Certain Built-In Costs are Likely to Adversely Affect the Value of the Securities Prior to Maturity.

While the payment at maturity described in this free writing prospectus is based on the full principal amount of your securities, the original issue price of the securities includes the placement agent's commission and the estimated cost of HSBC hedging its obligations under the securities. As a result, the price, if any, at which HSBC Securities (USA) Inc. will be willing to purchase securities from you in secondary market transactions, if at all, will likely be lower than the original issue price, and any sale prior to the maturity date could result in a substantial loss to you. The securities are not designed to be short-term trading instruments. Accordingly, you should be able and willing to hold your securities to maturity.

Lack of Liquidity.

The securities will not be listed on any securities exchange. HSBC Securities (USA) Inc. is not required to offer to purchase the securities in the secondary market, if any exists. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to trade or sell the securities easily. Because other dealers are not likely to make a secondary market for the securities, the price at which you may be able to trade your securities is likely to depend on the price, if any, at which HSBC Securities (USA) Inc. is willing to buy the securities.

Potential Conflicts.

HSBC and its affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the securities, including acting as calculation agent and hedging our obligations under the securities. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the securities. We will not have any obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the securities in taking any action that might affect the value of your securities.

Uncertain Tax Treatment.

For a discussion of certain of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of your investment in a security, please see the discussion under "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations" below, the discussion under "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations" in the accompanying product supplement and the discussion under "Certain U.S. Federal Income Tax Considerations" in the accompanying prospectus supplement.

ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES

The following table and examples are provided for illustrative purposes only and are hypothetical. They do not purport to be representative of every possible scenario concerning increases or decreases in the level of the Reference Asset relative to its Initial Level. We cannot predict the Final Level of the Reference Asset on the Final Valuation Date. The assumptions we have made in connection with the illustrations set forth below may not reflect actual events, and the hypothetical Initial Level used in the illustrations below is not the actual Initial Level of the Reference Asset. You should not take these examples as an indication or assurance of the expected performance of the Reference Asset. With respect to the securities, the Final Settlement Value may be less than the amount that you would have received from a conventional debt security with the same stated maturity, including those issued by HSBC. The numbers appearing in the examples below have been rounded for ease of analysis.

The table below illustrates the payment at maturity on a $1,000 investment in securities for a hypothetical range of performance for the Reference Return from -100% to +100%. The following results are based solely on the assumptions outlined below. You should consider carefully whether the securities are suitable to your investment goals. The numbers appearing in the table below have been rounded for ease of analysis. You should not take the below illustration as an indication or assurance of the expected performance of the Reference Asset or return of the securities.

The following table and examples assume the following:

- Principal Amount: $1,000
- Hypothetical Upside Participation Rate: 102.5%* (The midpoint of 100% and 105%)
- Buffer Value: -10%
- Hypothetical Initial Level: 9,600.00*

 The actual Initial Level and the actual Upside Participation Rate will be determined on the Pricing Date.

The securities are intended to be long term investments and, as such, should be held to maturity. They are not intended to be short-term trading instruments. The price at which you will be able to sell your securities prior to maturity, if at all, may be at a substantial discount from the principal amount of the securities, even in cases where the level of the Reference Asset has appreciated since the Pricing Date of the securities. The potential returns described here assume that your securities are held to maturity.

Hypothetical Final level	Hypothetical Reference Return	Hypothetical Total Return
19,200.00	100.00%	102.50%
17,280.00	80.00%	82.00%

5,760.00	-40.00%	-30.00%
4,800.00	-50.00%	-40.00%
3,840.00	-60.00%	-50.00%
2,880.00	-70.00%	-60.00%
1,920.00	-80.00%	-70.00%
960.00	-90.00%	-80.00%
0.00	-100.00%	-90.00%

The following examples indicate how the Final Settlement Value would be calculated with respect to a hypothetical $1,000 investment in the securities.

Example 1: The level of the Reference Asset increases from the Initial Level of 9,600 to a Final Level of 10,080.

	Reference Asset
Initial level	9,600
Final level	10,080
Reference Return	5.00%
Final Settlement Value:	$1,051.25

Here, the Reference Return is 5.00%. Because the Reference Return is positive, the Final Settlement Value would be $1,100.00 per $1,000 principal amount of securities calculated as follows:

$$\begin{aligned}
 & $1,000 + ($1,000 \times \text{Reference Return} \times \text{Upside Participation Rate}) \\
 &= $1,000 + ($1,000 \times 5.00\% \times 102.50\%) \\
 &= $1,051.25
 \end{aligned}$$

Example 1 shows that you will receive the return of your principal investment plus a return equal to the Reference Return multiplied by the Upside Participation Rate when the Reference Return is positive.

Example 2: The level of the Reference Asset decreases from the Initial Level of 9,600 to a Final Level of 9,120.

	Reference Asset
Initial level	9,600
Final level	9,120
Reference Return	-5.00%
Final Settlement Value:	$1,000.00

Here, the Reference Return is -5.00%. Because the Reference Return is negative but greater than or equal to the Buffer Value, the Final Settlement Value would be $1,000.00 per $1,000 principal amount of securities (a zero return).

Example 2 shows that you will receive the return of your principal investment where the level of the Reference Asset declines by no more than 10% over the term of the securities. Nonetheless, the receipt of only the principal amount at maturity may be less than the return that you would have received from a conventional debt security.

Example 3: The level of the Reference Asset decreases from the Initial Level of 9,600 to a Final Level of 6,720.

	Reference Asset
Initial level	9,600
Final level	6,720
Reference Return	-30.00%
Final Settlement Value:	$800.00

Here, the Reference Return is -30.00%. Because the Reference Return is less than the Buffer Value of -10%, the Final Settlement Value would be $800.00 per $1,000 principal amount of securities calculated as follows:

$$\begin{aligned}
 & $1,000 + [$1,000 \times (\text{Reference Return} + 10\%)] \\
 &= $1,000 + [$1,000 \times (-30.00\% + 10\%)] \\
 &= $800.00
 \end{aligned}$$

Example 3 shows that you are exposed on a 1-to-1 basis to declines in the value of the Reference Asset beyond the Buffer Amount of -10%. YOU MAY LOSE UP TO 90% OF THE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF YOUR SECURITIES.

DESCRIPTION OF THE REFERENCE ASSET

General

This free writing prospectus is not an offer to sell and it is not an offer to buy interests in the Reference Asset or any of the securities comprising the Reference Asset. All disclosures contained in this free writing prospectus regarding the Reference Asset, including its make-up, performance, method of calculation and changes in its components, where applicable, are derived from publicly available information. Neither HSBC nor any of its affiliates assumes any responsibilities for the adequacy or accuracy of information about the Reference Asset or any constituent included in the Reference Asset contained in this free writing prospectus. You should make your own investigation into the Reference Asset.

The Dow Jones Industrial AverageSM

We have derived all information relating to the Dow Jones Industrial AverageSM (the “Reference Asset”), including, without limitation, its make-up, performance, method of calculation and changes in its components, from publicly available sources. That information reflects the policies of and is subject to change by, Dow Jones & Company, Inc. (“Dow Jones”). Dow Jones is under no obligation to continue to publish, and may discontinue or suspend the publication of the Reference Asset at any time.

Dow Jones publishes the Reference Asset.

The Reference Asset is a price-weighted index, rather than capitalization weighted. The Reference Asset is comprised of 30 blue-chip stocks that are generally the leaders in their industry. As of August 31, 2009, 27 companies, or 90.00% of the Reference Asset, traded on the New York Stock Exchange and 3 companies, or 10.00% of the Reference Asset, traded on The NASDAQ Stock Market. The Reference Asset is intended to be a measure of the entire U.S. market, except the transportation and utilities industries, covering a diverse set of industries such as financial services, technology, retail, entertainment and consumer goods.

According to Dow Jones, the composition of the Reference Asset is determined at the discretion of the editors of The Wall Street Journal. There are no pre-determined criteria except that components should be established U.S. companies that are leaders in their respective industries. In selecting a company’s stock to be included in the Reference Asset, the editors look for a leading industrial company with a successful history of growth and a wide interest among investors. The inclusion of any particular company in the Reference Asset does not constitute a prediction as to the company’s future results of operations or stock market performance. For the sake of continuity, changes to the composition of the Reference Asset are rare, and generally occur only after corporate acquisitions or other dramatic shifts in a component’s core business. When such an event necessitates that one component be replaced, the entire Reference Asset is reviewed by the editors of The Wall Street Journal. As a result, multiple component changes are often implemented simultaneously.

Changes in the Reference Asset are reported daily in the financial pages of many major newspapers, on Bloomberg Professional[®] service page “INDU <INDEX>”. Information contained in the Dow Jones website is not incorporated by reference in, and should not be considered a part of, this free writing prospectus. The Reference Asset does not reflect the payment of dividends on the stocks included in the Reference Asset.

Computation of the Reference Asset

The Reference Asset is a price-weighted index rather than market capitalization-weighted index. In essence, the Reference Asset consists of one share of each of the 30 stocks included in the Reference Asset. Thus, the weightings of the components of the Reference Asset are affected only by changes in their prices, while the weightings of stocks in other indices are affected by price changes and changes in shares outstanding.

The Reference Asset is calculated by adding up the prices of the 30 constituent stocks and dividing the total by a divisor. The divisor is adjusted to ensure the continuity of the Reference Asset. The divisor is now an arbitrary number that reflects adjustments over time resulting from spin-offs, stock splits, stock dividends and other corporate actions, as well as additions to and deletions from the Reference Asset. Accordingly, the divisor is no longer equal to the number of components in the Reference Asset. The divisor value of the Reference Asset as of September 14, 2009 is 0.132319125.

The formula for calculating a divisor change is as follows:

$$D_{t+1} = D_t * \Sigma C^a_t / \Sigma C_t$$

Where:

D_{t+1} is the divisor to be effective on trading session t+1

D_t is the divisor on trading session t

C^a_t is the components' adjusted closing prices for stock dividends, splits, spin-offs and other applicable corporate actions on trading session t

C_t is the components' closing prices on trading session t

While Dow Jones currently employs the above methodology to calculate the Reference Asset, no assurance can be given that Dow Jones will not modify or change this methodology in a manner that may affect the performance of the Reference Asset.
