Securities Description

These Buffered Accelerated Market Participation Securities ("AMPs") provide 2 times leveraged upside participation in gains on the related Reference Asset, up to a Maximum Cap. If the Reference Asset's performance is negative, but greater than or equal to -10%, then the full principal of your investment is returned at maturity. If the Reference Return is below the Buffer Value, then the AMPs will lose 1% for each 1% loss in the relevant Reference Asset. You may lose up to 90% of your investment.

These AMPs are alternatives to long positions in the Reference Asset that provide a return profile that may be favorable for those with moderately bullish views and for those that seek protection from the first 10% of any losses in the Reference Asset. The upside participation rate will amplify modest gains in the Reference Asset up to the relevant Maximum Cap and may result in the AMPs outperforming the returns on the Reference Asset.

Highlights

- 200% upside participation in the relevant Reference Asset up to the relevant Maximum Cap.
- You will lose 1% of your principal amount for every 1% that Reference Return is below zero.

Example Payoff Diagram:

The following diagram illustrates some hypothetical payoff possibilities for the AMPs based upon the 200% Upside Participation Rate and assuming a Maximum Cap of 13%. Please note the actual Maximum Cap will vary per Reference Asset and Security. Please see the actual range of possible Maximum Caps in the table to the left.

Reference Return	Participation in Reference Return	AMPs Return
20% 6.50%	2x Upside to Max	13% 13%
6% 3%	2x Upside	12% 6%
-5% -10%	Buffer up to -10%	0% 0%
-11% -20%	1x Loss Beyond Buffer	-1% -10%

INVESTOR SUITABILITY

The securities may be suitable for you if:

- You seek an investment with an enhanced return linked to the potential positive performance of the relevant Reference Asset and you believe the level of such Reference Asset will increase over the term of the securities.
- You are willing to invest in the securities based on the Maximum Cap indicated herein with respect to that security offering, which may limit your return at maturity. The actual Maximum Cap for each offering of securities will be determined on the Pricing Date.
- You are willing to make an investment that is exposed to the negative Reference Return on a 1-to-1 basis for each percentage point that the relevant Reference Return is less than zero.
- You are willing to forego dividends or other distributions paid to holders of stocks comprising the relevant Reference Asset.
- You do not seek current income from your investment.
- You do not seek an investment for which there is an active secondary market.
- You are willing to hold the securities to maturity.
- You are comfortable with the creditworthiness of HSBC, as issuer of the securities.

The securities may not be suitable for you if:

- You believe the relevant Reference Return will be negative on the Final Valuation Date or that the relevant Reference Return will not be sufficiently positive to provide you with your desired return.
- You are unwilling to invest in the securities based on the Maximum Cap indicated herein with respect to that security offering, which may limit your return at maturity. The actual Maximum Cap for each offering of securities will be determined on the Pricing Date.
- You are unwilling to make an investment that is exposed to the negative Reference Return on a 1-to-1 basis for each percentage point that the relevant Reference Return is below zero.
- You seek an investment that is 100% principal protected.
- You prefer the lower risk, and therefore accept the potentially lower returns, of fixed income investments with comparable maturities issued by HSBC or another issuer with a similar credit rating.
- You prefer to receive the dividends or other distributions paid on any stocks comprising the relevant Reference Asset.
- You seek current income from your investment.
- You seek an investment for which there will be an active secondary market.
- You are unable or unwilling to hold the securities to maturity.
- You are not willing or are unable to assume the credit risk associated with HSBC, as issuer of the securities.

CERTAIN RISKS AND CONSIDERATIONS

Purchasing the securities involves a number of risks. It is suggested that prospective investors reach a purchase decision only after careful consideration with their financial, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors regarding the suitability of the securities in light of their particular circumstances. See "Risk Factors" in the accompanying Free Writing Prospectus, Product Supplement and Prospectus Supplement for a discussion of risks, which include:

- The securities are not fully principal protected and you may lose up to 100% of your initial investment.
- The appreciation on the securities, if any, is limited by the relevant Maximum Cap.
- Payment, if any, is subject to the ability of HSBC to pay its obligations as they become due and market value of the securities may be affected by HSBC's actual and perceived creditworthiness.
- Certain built-in costs are likely to adversely affect the value of the securities prior to maturity and the securities should be viewed as long term instruments.
- The return on the securities is linked to the performance of an equity index and may be positive or negative.
- The return on the securities does not necessarily reflect the full performance of the reference asset.
- Your yield may be less than that of a standard debt security of comparable maturity.
- You will not receive any periodic interest payments on the securities.
- There may be little or no secondary market for the securities—the securities will not be listed or displayed on any securities exchange or quotation system.
- There is a potential conflict of interest in that we or our affiliates play a variety of roles, including acting as calculation agent and hedging our obligations under the securities, during which the economic interests of the calculation agent or other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the securities.
- The securities are subject to significant risks not associated with conventional fixed rate or floating rate debt securities.
- These securities are not bank deposits and are not insured by the FDIC or any other U.S. federal or state government agency.

Risks Relating to an Investment in the Securities Linked to the Russell 2000® Index

- The stocks that constitute the Russell 2000® Index are issued by companies with relatively small market capitalization, which may be more volatile than stock prices of large capitalization companies. Small capitalization companies may be less able to withstand adverse economic, market, trade and competitive conditions, tend to be less well-established and are less likely to pay dividends than large capitalization companies, which could be a factor that limits downward stock price pressure under adverse market conditions.

Risks Relating to an Investment in the Securities Linked to the Hang Seng China Enterprises Index®

- Stocks or companies included in the Hang Seng China Enterprises Index® are publicly traded in China and are denominated in currencies other than U.S. dollars, which involve particular risks associated with foreign securities markets.
- Many emerging nations, such as China, are undergoing rapid institutional change, involving the restructuring of economic, political, financial and legal systems, and regulatory and tax environments are subject to change without review or appeal. Many emerging markets suffer from underdevelopment of capital markets and tax regulation, the risk of expropriation and nationalization, low levels of corporate disclosure and unreliability of economic and financial data.
