1. Description of the Business

National Bank of Canada Financial Inc. (the “Company”) is a Delaware corporation, a registered broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“SEA”) as well as a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”) and a member of the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. The Company is also a member of the Depository Trust Company, the National Securities Clearing Corporation and the Options Clearing Corporation and is registered with the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board.

The parent company of the Company is National Bank of Canada Financial Group Inc. (“parent company”) and the Company is ultimately wholly-owned by National Bank of Canada (“NBC”).

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The preparation of the statement of financial condition in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingencies at the date of the statement of financial condition. These estimates and the underlying assumptions affect the amounts of assets, liabilities and reported disclosures about contingent assets and liabilities. Such estimates, including the fair value of financial instruments and valuation of deferred tax assets, are, by their nature, based on judgment and available information and, therefore, may vary from actual results. Management evaluates its estimates and assumptions on an ongoing basis using historical experience and other factors, including the current economic environment, which management believes to be reasonable under the circumstances. The Company adjusts such estimates and assumptions when facts and circumstances dictate. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Financial Instruments Transactions

Financial instruments transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Securities owned and securities sold, not yet purchased are recorded at fair value in accordance with FASB ASC 820, “Fair Value Measurement”.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with FASB ASC 740, “Income Taxes”, which requires the recognition of tax benefits or expenses on the temporary differences between the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities, including the accounting for uncertainty of income tax positions recognized in the statement of financial condition, prescribing a “more-likely-than-not” threshold and measurement attribute for recognition in the statement of financial condition of an asset or liability resulting from a tax position taken or expected to be taken in an income tax return.

Foreign Currency Translation

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the period-end exchange rates.

Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company enters into various transactions involving derivative financial instruments, including swap, option and futures contracts. These financial instruments are used to manage market risks. If quoted market prices are not available, then fair values are estimated on the basis of pricing models, quoted prices of instruments with similar characteristics or discounted cash flows.

Accounting Standards Recently Adopted

In February 2016, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update (“ASU”) No. 2016-02, “Leases (Topic 842)”. This ASU requires organizations that lease assets with lease terms of more than 12 months to recognize assets and liabilities for the rights and obligations created by those leases on their statements of financial condition. The ASU also requires new qualitative and quantitative disclosures to help financial statement users better understand the amount, timing, and uncertainty of cash flows arising from leases.

The Company adopted Topic 842 on November 1, 2019, under a modified retrospective approach. Upon adoption, in accordance with Topic 842, the Company elected to not reassess the lease classification or initial direct costs of existing leases, and to not reassess whether existing contracts contain a lease. At transition on November 1, 2019, the Company recorded right-of-use assets of $11,190 as well as liabilities of $11,636 in relation to its operating leases. Operating lease right-of-use assets and operating lease liabilities are presented under other assets and accrued expenses and other liabilities, respectively, in the statement of financial condition. See Note 10 for lease disclosures, including amounts reflected in the statement of financial condition as of October 31, 2020.

Recent Accounting Developments

In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU 2016-13, "Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments", which amends the FASB's guidance on the impairment of financial instruments. The ASU adds to U.S. GAAP an impairment model ("current expected credit loss model" or "CECL"). Under this new guidance, an entity recognizes as an allowance its estimate of expected credit losses. The ASU is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019. The Company has determined that it will utilize the practical expedient to areas such as securities borrowed and other collateralized transactions due to the continued marking of the underlying collateral. As a result, the Company does not expect the adoption of this ASU to have a material impact on its statement of financial condition.

3. Fair Value and Financial Instruments

Fair Value Measurement

FASB ASC 820 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and establishes a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the use of observable inputs to valuation techniques. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. A fair value measurement assumes that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability occurs in the principal market for the asset or liability or, in the absence of a principal market, the most advantageous market. Valuation techniques that are consistent with the market, income or cost approach, as specified by FASB ASC 820, are used to measure fair value.

The fair value hierarchy prioritizes the use of observable inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities the Company have the ability to access.
- Level 2 inputs are inputs (other than quoted prices included within Level 1) that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability and are significant to the overall fair value measurement.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3.

Fair Value Measurement (continued)

A description of the valuation techniques applied to the Company's major categories of assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis follows.

(a) U.S. Treasury Bills

U.S. Treasury Bills are valued using quoted market prices and are categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

(b) Exchange-Traded Equity Securities, Exchange-Traded Funds, Exchange-Traded Real Estate Investment Trusts and Exchange-Traded Master Limited Partnerships

Exchange-traded equity securities, exchange-traded funds, exchange-traded real estate investment trusts and exchange-traded master limited partnerships are valued using quoted market prices. Accordingly, all of these exchange-traded securities are categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

(c) Listed Derivative Contracts

Listed derivatives contracts entered into by the Company are actively traded, are valued based on quoted market prices and are categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

(d) Over-the-Counter ("OTC") Total Return Equity Swap Contracts

OTC total return equity swap contracts are valued using the accrual pricing methodology which prices each leg of the swap based on its accrued value. The value of the interest leg is simply the accrued interest, and the value of the equity leg is the difference between the last price of the underlying equity security and its fixing price, times the nominal amount of the shares, plus dividends paid. These swap contracts are categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Fair Value Measurement (continued)

As of October 31, 2020, all of the futures contracts entered into by the Company presented negative fair values. Accordingly, the following table presents information about the offsetting of fair values of futures contracts recorded in amounts payable to broker-dealers and clearing organizations in the statement of financial condition:

Risk Management

(a) Position Risk and Interest Rate Risk

The position risk of the Company corresponds to the risk that fluctuation in the prices of securities and in interest rates result in losses. The risk related to the fluctuation in the prices of securities represents the loss the Company might incur due to changes in the fair value of a given instrument. Interest rate risk corresponds to the possible effect of fluctuations in interest rates on the Company's income and the return on stockholder's equity. The Company protects itself against these risks through hedging techniques and market exposure limits.

(b) Credit Risk and Credit Risk Concentration

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss as a result of default by a counterparty with respect to its obligations towards the Company. The Company attempts to limit credit risk by dealing with counterparties it deems creditworthy and by ensuring compliance with agreements.

Credit risk concentration also arises when the Company grants loans to a single debtor or group of debtors with similar characteristics such that a change in economic or other circumstances could have the same impact on their ability to honor their obligations. The Company's greatest concentration of counterparty risk is with related parties. This concentration arises in the normal course of the Company's business and management does not believe it to be unusual.

As of October 31, 2020, the Company's greatest concentration of credit risk is from amounts totaling $5,906 that are receivable from NBFIL.

Derivative Financial Instruments

Derivative financial instruments are financial contracts whose value is derived from an underlying interest rate, exchange rate, equity, commodity, credit instrument or index. Derivatives include swap, futures, forward or option contracts, or other financial instruments with similar characteristics.

Derivative financial instruments used for trading purposes, including economic hedges of trading instruments, are carried at fair value. Open equity in futures transactions is recorded as a receivable from or payable to broker-dealers and clearing organizations, as applicable.

Derivative financial instruments used for purposes other than trading are carried at fair value. The Company has entered into total return equity swaps with NBC to economically hedge the Company's exposure arising from an employee compensation plan linked to the future fluctuation of NBC's stock price.

Derivative Financial Instruments (continued)

Notional amounts of derivative financial instruments are not presented in assets and liabilities in the statement of financial condition. They represent the set underlying principal of a derivative financial instrument and serve as a point of reference in applying an exchange rate, interest rate, stock market price or other variable in order to determine the amount of cash flows to be exchanged.

Notional amounts of derivative financial instruments as of October 31, 2020, are as follows:

	One Year or Less	One to Five Years	Total Contracts
	$	$	$
Equity derivatives
OTC contract
Swap	8,399	-	8,399
Exchange-traded contracts
Long options contracts	2,021,295	-	2,021,295
Short options contracts	2,020,516	-	2,050,516
	4,050,210	-	4,050,210
Interest rate derivatives
Exchange-traded contracts
Short futures contracts	449,000	-	449,000
	449,000	-	449,000
	4,499,210	-	4,499,210

During the year ended October 31, 2020, the month-end notional amounts of derivative financial instrument contracts entered into by the Company have fluctuated in the range of $803,000 to $4,500,000.

Derivative Financial Instruments (continued)

Fair values of derivative financial instruments as of October 31, 2020, are as follows:

	Assets	Liabilities
	$	$
Equity derivatives
OTC contract
Swap	-	109
Exchange-traded contracts
Options contracts	470,089	211,806
	470,089	211,915
Interest rate derivatives
Exchange-traded contracts
Futures contracts	-	9
	-	9
Total derivatives	470,089	211,924
Netting	-	(9)
	470,089	211,915

Derivative financial instruments present credit risk. This is the risk of financial loss that the Company will have to assume if the counterparty fails to honor its contractual obligations.

In case of exchange-traded contracts, exposure to credit risk is limited because these transactions are standardized contracts executed on established exchanges, each of which is associated with a well-capitalized clearing house that assumes the obligations of both counterparties and guarantees their performance obligations. All exchange-traded contracts are subject to initial margins and daily settlement.

4. Securities Financing

Securities borrowed and securities loaned transactions are presented on the statement of financial condition except where other securities are used as collateral. Securities borrowed transactions require the Company to deposit cash or securities with the lender. With respect to securities loaned, the Company receives collateral in the form of cash or securities in an amount generally in excess of the fair value of securities loaned.

The Company monitors the fair value of securities borrowed and loaned on a daily basis, with additional collateral obtained or refunded as necessary. Securities borrowed and securities loaned transactions are recorded at the amount of cash collateral advanced or received, adjusted for additional collateral obtained or received. Interest on such transactions when conducted with unrelated parties is accrued and is included on the statement of financial condition in other assets and in accrued expenses and other liabilities. Interest on such transactions when conducted with related parties is accrued and is included on the statement of financial condition in amounts receivable from and payable to related parties. For further information on securities borrowed and loaned transactions with related parties, see Note 8.

The following table presents as of October 31, 2020, the gross and net balances of securities borrowed and loaned.

9. Income Taxes

The Company files its U.S. federal income tax return on a consolidated basis with its parent company and certain other subsidiaries of the parent company. Similarly, the Company is included in the combined state and local income tax returns filed by the parent company and certain other subsidiaries of the parent company. The Company's income tax provision is computed based on the U.S. federal statutory rate and the average state and local statutory rates, net of the related federal benefit. The Company's effective tax rate differs from the U.S. federal statutory tax rate primarily as a result of state and local income taxes.

As of October 31, 2020, income taxes receivable amounted to $4,345 and income taxes payable to parent company amounted to $6,772.

Deferred income tax assets are recognized for temporary differences that will result in deductible amounts in future periods. Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for temporary differences that will result in taxable amounts in future periods. Recorded in the deferred tax balances are differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their financial reporting amounts at each period end based on enacted tax laws and statutory tax rates applicable to the periods in which the differences are expected to affect taxable income.

As of October 31, 2020, the Company had deferred income tax assets totaling $1,250, net of deferred income tax liabilities. The Company's deferred income tax assets included an asset, resulting from a foreign tax credit due from the parent company, of $4,485 which will expire through 2029 if not utilized prior to that date. Management concluded that it is more likely than not that the entire amount of the foreign tax credit carry forward will not be realized in the future carry forward periods. As a result, the Company established a valuation allowance in the amount of $4,485 against this deferred income tax asset.

As of October 31, 2020, the Company had no gross unrecognized tax benefits.

The Company is currently under examination by the Internal Revenue Service for income tax returns for the years ended October 31, 2012 to 2016, by New York State for income tax returns for the years ended October 31, 2015 to 2017 and by New York City for income tax returns for the years ended October 31, 2016 to 2018. The Company remains subject to examination by state, local and foreign tax authorities for income tax returns for the years ended October 31, 2016 to 2020, as well as for its U.S. federal income tax return for the years ended October 31, 2017 to 2020.

10. Operating Lease Right-of-Use Assets and Liabilities

The Company enters into operating leases for office facilities and equipment. FASB ASC 842, "Leases", requires the Company to recognize, for leases longer than one year, a right-of-use asset representing the right to use the underlying asset for the lease term, and a lease liability representing the liability to make payments. The lease term is generally determined based on the contractual maturity of the lease. For leases where the Company has the option to terminate or extend the lease, an assessment of the likelihood of exercising the option is incorporated into the determination of the lease term. Such assessment is initially performed at the inception of the lease and is updated if events occur that impact the original assessment.

An operating lease right-of-use asset is initially determined based on the operating lease liability, adjusted for initial direct costs, lease incentives and amounts paid at or prior to lease commencement. This amount is then amortized over the lease term.

The following table presents lease related amounts reflected in the statement of financial condition as of October 31, 2020:
