Form 10-K for the Fiscal Year ended June 30, 2014

Financial Statements

Note 1 – Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, page F-8

h. Oil and Gas Sales Receivable and Revenue Recognition, page F-10

1. We note your disclosure indicating your revenue recognition policy is based on the guidance in SAB 104. However, this guidance clarifies that revenue should be recognized only when realized or realizable and earned, as when there is pervasive evidence of an arrangement, delivery has occurred, the price is fixed or determinable and collection is reasonably assured.

Within management's discussion and analysis on page 20 you explain that you have based your revenue accruals on various assumptions about production levels, energy content and price, because you have been unable to obtain updated, accurate production and sale information from the operator. You clarify that your assumptions about BTU content of the gas sold and price received are based on information received from Hycarbex-American Energy, Inc. in 2011.

You indicate you view collection as being reasonably assured on page F-10, stating that because the “payor has exhausted all of its legal remedies and failed to appear at the June 14, 2104 proceedings” you removed prior allowances that were recorded during the year. In contrast, you state the counterparty has financial difficulties and, within your risk factors on page 10, that “Investors are advised not to rely on the expectation of future revenues in making their investments, nor on the expectation that current revenues will be ultimately collected.”

Given the circumstances that you have described it is unclear how you have met the requirements for revenue recognition outlined in SAB 104. Please explain how the uncertainties over measurement and collectability were factored into your application of this guidance, and the related provisions in FASB ASC 605-10-25-1 through 5, over each period since production began. Also tell us how your view of the circumstances changed during the fourth quarter to reverse your accounting in the third quarter when you expensed the entire balance of the receivable.

Note 7 – Investment in Oil and Gas Working Interest, page F-16

2. We note that in October 2009 you acquired from Hycarbex-American Energy, Inc. (Hycarbex) a 2.5% working interest in two blocks in the Sindh and Baluchistan Provinces in Pakistan at a purchase price of $1,583,914. You appear to have reported this interest at this cost ever since, without discussing any further activity on the property. Given these circumstances and considering the financial difficulties of the operator, it is unclear how you have assessed impairment of this property pursuant to Rule 4-10(c)(3)(ii)(A)(1) of Regulation S-X. Please submit the analyses that you performed each period in formulating your view.

Exhibits

3. Please provide all of the exhibits required by Item 601 of Regulation S-K. For example, ensure that you have filed or incorporated by reference, as the case may be, your articles of incorporation and your bylaws as currently in effect and any amendments thereto, as well as any material contracts upon which your business is substantially dependent. Please see Items 601(b)(3) and 601(b)(10) of Regulation S-K. For information regarding incorporating previously filed exhibits by reference, we refer you to Exchange Act Rule 12b-32.
