INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Arizona Ventures, Inc.
(Formerly China Global Development, Inc.)

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Arizona Ventures, Inc., (a Delaware Corporation) as of September 30, 2002 and December 31, 2001, and the related statements of income, retained earnings, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards of the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes evaluating the overall financial statement presentation and whether the financial statements are prepared in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of Arizona Ventures, Inc., at September 30, 2002 and December 31, 2001, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the years then ended, in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the basis of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. As discussed in Note #4 to the financial statements, the Company has suffered recurring losses from operations and has a net capital deficiency that raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also discussed in Note #4. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

NOTE 1 - Organization and History

Arizona Ventures, Inc. (the Company) was organized on December 26, 1991 as Life Medical Technologies, Inc. the Company operated as a development stage company and Accounting and Reporting of Development Company's financial statements consisted of no assets common stock issued in the amount of $25,424; additional paid in capital of $1,863,534). accumulated deficit of $(1,863,534).

Effective May 11, 2000, the Company acquired all of the equity of Virtual Inc., a privately-held Nevada Corporation, doing business as Virtual Inc. 9,250,000 shares of common stock in a reverse merger acquisition.

Due to the precipitous change in the Internet industry following the U.S. second quarter of 2000, VMS experienced substantial obstacles in developing its business as a provider of broadband backbone, billing services and technical support. As the general and Internet industry economic conditions continued to deteriorate, management suspended operations and laid off all its employees. Following the events of September 11, 2001, management determined that it was in the best interest of the Company to rescind the acquisition of VMS. Effective November 28, 2001, the Company rescinded the acquisition of VMS in an effort to complete a restructuring of debt. As such, 9,250,000 shares of the Company's common stock was rescinded, and the Company's additional paid-in capital, and accumulated deficit was returned to the books.

On January 10, 2002, the Company was merged into Ibonzai.com, Inc., a Nevada Corporation, for the purposes of changing corporate domicile. ## NOTE 2 - Significant Accounting Policies

- A. The Company uses the accrual method of accounting.
- B. Revenues and directly related expenses are recognized in the period when the goods are shipped to the customer.
- C. Primary Earnings Per Share amounts are based on the weighted average number of shares outstanding at the dates of the financial statements. Outstanding shares do not include shares held by employees shown on stock options and other convertible issues that may be exercised within ten years of the financial statement dates.
- D. Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 3 - Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes using the liability method. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be resolved. The effect of changes in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. A valuation allowance is recorded if it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. The Company's policy is to recognize interest and penalties related to income taxes when they are assessed by tax authorities. The Company has no unrecognized tax benefits and no amounts accrued for interest and penalties. The Company is not aware of any potential for significant changes in its tax positions.
