Form 10-K for the Fiscal Year Ended March 31, 2006

Consolidated Financial Statements

Note 2 – Securities, page 60

1. We note your disclosure on page 65 that at March 31, 2006 you had four available-for-sale equity securities with unrealized losses with aggregate depreciation of 11% from your cost basis. Please provide us with your comprehensive analysis describing your basis for concluding that these investments were not other than temporarily impaired as of March 31, 2006 and

September 30, 2006. Please address the following in your analysis for each security:

- the nature of the investment, including the issuer and terms;
- the individual security's cost basis and market value as of March 31, 2006 and September 30, 2006;
- the correlation of the changes in the fair value of the security compared to the specific interest rate index to which you believe the security is closely related over your past two fiscal years and the six months ending September 30, 2006;
- how you considered the length of time and the extent to which the market value has been less than cost;
- your basis for concluding that a recovery of market value is likely for equity securities, which would not appear to have contractual provisions for a return of your principal investment;
- your estimate of the time period in which the security will recover its value and your basis for this estimate;
- your assumptions regarding expected interest rate movements and the impact on the security's market value;
- other evidence you considered; such as industry analyst reports, sector credit ratings, volatility of the security's fair value; and
- at what point would you conclude that the investment was other than temporarily impaired, including duration and severity of the unrealized loss and changes in interest rates.

Please refer to FSP 115-1 and SAB Topic 5.M.
