Research and development, page 80

1. In order to help us evaluate your disclosure about the resources that you expend in your research and development activities, please provide us the following information:
 - Provide us a breakout of research and development expenses incurred for 2009 and 2010 for each candidate listed on pages 11-14, or if not practicable, by development phase (i.e. preclinical, phase I, phase II phase III) and by therapeutic class. Reconcile the breakout total for each year to the total research and development expenses incurred as shown on your consolidated statements of income.

- If based on a known event, trend, demand, commitment or uncertainty, future R&D expense or the mix of R&D expense is reasonably likely to differ from current trends, disclosure of the reasons for and the amount of the expected change should be made. If an estimate of the amount cannot be made, disclosure of this uncertainty should be made.
- For each of your late phase development projects (i.e. Phase III projects) listed on pages 11 and 14 please tell us the following:
 - Identify the significant patents associated with the project and their expiration date.
 - The nature and timing of the next future milestone such as completion of a development phase, date of filing an NDA with a regulatory agency, or approval from a regulatory agency, if reliably determinable. If not, tell us the facts and circumstances that prevent you from making this determination.
