Notes to Financial Statements
For the Year-Ended December 31, 2020

NOTE A - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

GRF Capital Investors, Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated in June 1989 and is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") as a broker and dealer pursuant to Section 15c3-3(K)(2)(ii) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The Company has adopted a fiscal year ended December 31

Net earnings (loss) per share calculations

Net earnings (loss) per share dictates the calculation of basic earnings (loss) per share and diluted earnings per share. Basic earnings per share are computed by dividing the weighted average number of common shares outstanding per year. Diluted net earnings (loss) per share is computed similar to basic earnings (loss) per share except that the denominator is increased to include the effect of dilutive securities, stock options and stock-based awards, plus the assumed conversion of convertible debt. At December 31, 2020, there were no such dilutive instruments.

Description of Business

The Company is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), formerly the National Association of the Securities Dealers, Inc., and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. The Company executes transactions on a fully disclosed basis through a clearing broker.

The Company does not hold customer funds or safe keep customer securities.

The financial statements of GRF Capital Investors, Inc. have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and are expressed in U.S. dollars. GRF Capital Investors, Inc. fiscal year end is December 31.

Advertising

The costs of advertising are expensed either as incurred or the first time the advertising takes place.

Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts, which at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk on cash or cash equivalents.

The Company does not require collateral from its customers with respect to accounts receivable but performs periodic credit evaluations of such customers' financial conditions. The Company determines any required allowance by considering a number of factors including length of time accounts receivable are past due and previous loss history. The Company provides reserves for accounts receivable when they become uncollectible any payments subsequently received on such receivables are credited to the allowances for doubtful accounts. As of December 31, 2020 the Company has determined that no allowances for doubtful accounts is required.

Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States and are expressed in U.S. dollars. The Company's fiscal year end is December 31.

The financial statements of the Corporation have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and accordingly reflect all significant receivables, payables, and other liabilities.

Going Concern

The Company's financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the realization of assets and settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in order to continue as a going concern. Management is focusing on smaller clients and hiring more registered representatives to increase revenue.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, cash in bank, and temporary cash investments. Temporary cash investments are all highly liquid instruments with maturities of less than three months.

The Company considers as cash all short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Accounts Receivable – Recognition of Bad Debt

Account Receivable are stated at the historical carrying amount net of write-off's and allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company establishes an estimated allowance for doubtful accounts received based on various factors, including revenue, historical credit loss experience, current trends, and specific customer collection issue that the Company has identified. Uncollectable accounts receivable are written off when a settlement is reached for an amount that is less than the outstanding historical balance or when the Company has determined the balance will not be collected. As of December 31, 2020 the Company determined that all accounts receivable were collectible, therefore, no allowance for doubtful accounts was required.

The Corporation considers accounts receivable to be fully collectible; accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts is required. If amounts become uncollectible, they will be charged to operations when that determination is made.

Revenue Recognition

Under Topic 606, revenue is recognized when control of the promised goods or services is transferred to our customers, in an amount that reflects the consideration we expect to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services.

We determine revenue recognition through the following steps:

- identification of the contract, or contracts, with a customer;
- identification of the performance obligations in the contract;
- determination of the transaction price;
- allocation of the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract; and
- recognition of revenue when, or as, we satisfy a performance obligation.

Revenue from the sale of mutual funds, security transactions and other revenue are recognized on the accrual basis. The Company records its revenue as received adjusted monthly for receivables based on the Company's estimate of revenue earned from the sale of specific financial products, but not yet collected from the respective mutual fund or other financial services company. Securities transactions and all related revenue and expense are recorded in the accounts on a settlement date basis. Revenue and expenses related to securities transactions executed but not yet settled as of period end are not material to the Company's financial statements.

Revenue from the sale of mutual funds is recognized when the investment in the mutual fund is made.

Estimations

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

State	0

The Company has elected to use the basic computation method, as is permitted by the rule, which requires that the Company maintains minimum Net Capital pursuant to a fixed dollar amount of 6-2/3% of the total aggregate indebtedness, as defined, whichever is greater, and does not therefor calculate its net capital requirement under the alternative reserve requirement method.

NOTE G – OTHER COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Included in the Company's clearing agreement with its clearing broker-dealer, is an indemnification clause. This clause relates to instances where the Company's customer fail to settle security transactions. NOTE I –FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Current accounting literature clarifies that fair value is an exit price, representing the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants. As such, fair value is a market-based measurement that should be determined based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability. As a basis for considering such assumptions, accounting literature established a three-tier fair value hierarchy, which prioritizes the inputs used in measuring fair value as follows.

Level 1. Observable inputs such as quoted market prices in active markets;

Level 2. Inputs, other than quoted prices in active markets, that are observable either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3. Unobservable inputs in which there is little or no market data, which require the reporting entity to develop its own assumptions.

The Company had no assets or liabilities that were measured and recognized at fair value on a non-recurring basis as of December 31, 2020, and as such, had no assets or liabilities that fell into the tiers described above.

NOTE J – PPP LOAN AND OTHER INCOME

In May 2020, the Company received a U.S Small Business Administration Loan under the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP Loan) primarily for payroll costs related to the COVID-19 crisis in the amount of $15,000. Under the Paycheck Protection Program, the PPP Loan had a fixed interest rate of 1%, a maturity date two years from the date of funding of the loan and no payments were due for six months. Pursuant to the terms of the PPP Loan, the Company applied for forgiveness of the amount due on the PPP Loan and this forgiveness was granted in December 2020 with the gain on extinguishment of debt of $15,000 recorded as other income on the statement of operations.
