NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization and Line of Business

P.W. Stephens, Inc. (the “Company”) was incorporated on December 28, 1998 under the laws of the State of California. The Company provides abatement services for residential and commercial properties for asbestos, lead and mold materials and contamination to customers located throughout California. As of September 30, 2002, the Company has three branches in California located in Huntington Beach, Fremont and San Diego.

Through April 30, 2001, the Company was a wholly owned subsidiary of American Temporary Sanitation, Inc. (“ATS”). ATS was owned by the Barber family. Effective May 1, 2001, ATS agreed to transfer its ownership of the Company to Jane Barber in exchange for the repayment of all intercompany balances owed, the assumption of a $1,199,981 SBA loan by Jane Barber and Mrs. Barber’s ownership interest in ATS. As the transfer of ownership interest was between entities under common control, no purchase accounting entries were recorded.

As part of the agreement, income taxes arising from the Company’s estimated taxable income for the period January 1, 2001 to April 30, 2001 were assumed by ATS (who files a consolidated return). As a result, the intercompany obligation of the Company for income taxes payable to ATS of $334,833 was considered a capital contribution by ATS at the time of transfer of ownership and recorded as additional paid in capital by the Company on April 1, 2001.

As a result, of the above transaction, the SBA loan and the debt incurred by ATS to purchase the assets of the Company (see Note 5) have been “pushed down” on the accompanying balance sheet as an obligation of the Company with a corresponding increase to goodwill. The related interest and amortization expense for the periods ended September 30, 2002 and 2001 has been included in the accompanying statements of income.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Cash

The Company maintains cash balances at a financial institution that is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) up to $100,000. At September 30, 2002, the Company had approximately $39,000 in these accounts in excess of the FDIC insurance limits.

Customers

The Company extends credit to a variety of customers in the normal course of business. The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of its customers. The Company does not obtain collateral with which to secure its accounts receivable. The Company estimates credit losses based on management’s historical experience and current industry trends. Although the Company expects to collect amounts due, actual collections may differ from the estimated amounts.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that effect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the recorded amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates made by management include, among others, the allowance for doubtful accounts. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost, and are being depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, ranging from three to seven years. Leasehold improvements are amortized on a straight-line basis over the lesser of the estimated useful lives of the assets or the related lease terms. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Significant renewals and betterments are capitalized. At the time of retirement or other disposition of property and equipment, the cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is reflected in the statement of income.

Goodwill

Goodwill relates to the acquisition of the Company by ATS in 1998 and prior to January 1, 2002 was being amortized on a straight-line basis over 15 years. Amortization expense recorded on the accompanying statement of income totaled $0 and $137,499 for the periods ended September 30, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142 ("SFAS 142"), "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," which is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. SFAS 142 addresses how intangible assets that are acquired individually or with a group of other assets should be accounted for in the financial statements upon their acquisition and after they have been initially recognized in the financial statements. SFAS 142 requires that goodwill and intangible assets that have indefinite useful lives not be amortized but rather be tested at least annually for impairment, and intangible assets that have finite useful lives be amortized over their useful lives. SFAS 142 provides specific guidance for testing the impairment of goodwill and intangible assets that will not be amortized. In addition, SFAS 142 expands the disclosure requirements about goodwill and other intangible assets in the years subsequent to their acquisition. Impairment losses for goodwill and indefinite-life intangible assets that arise due to the initial application of SFAS 142 are to be reported as resulting from a change in accounting principle. The Company adopted SFAS 142 on January 1, 2002. As a result, no amortization was recorded in 2002 and management determined there was no impairment at September 30, 2002.

Long-Lived Assets

The Company's management assesses the recoverability of its long-lived assets by determining whether the depreciation and amortization of long-lived assets over their remaining lives can be recovered through projected undiscounted future cash flows. The amount of long-lived asset impairment, if any, is measured based on fair value and is charged to operations in the period in which long-lived asset impairment is determined by management. At September 30, 2002 the Company's management believes there is no impairment of its long-lived assets. There can be no assurance however, that market conditions will not change or demand for the Company's services will continue, which could result in impairment of long-lived assets in the future.

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES, continued

In August 2001, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 (“SFAS 144”), “Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets.” SFAS 144 addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment of long-lived assets and for long-lived assets to be disposed of. The provisions of SFAS 144 are effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001, and interim periods within these fiscal years, with early adoption encouraged. The Company adopted SFAS 144 on January 1, 2002, with no impact on its financial statements.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized at the time the contract and related services are performed.

Advertising

The Company expenses the cost of advertising when incurred as general and administrative expense. These amounts were not significant for the periods ended September 30, 2002 and 2001.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109 (“SFAS 109”), “Accounting for Income Taxes.” Under the asset and liability method of SFAS 109, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. Under SFAS 109, the effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. A valuation allowance is provided for certain deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that the Company will not realize tax assets through future operations.

Through April 30, 2001, the Company was a wholly owned subsidiary of ATS. For tax purposes, the Company filed a consolidated income tax return with ATS. ATS had incurred losses, which consolidated with the Company, resulted in no payment of tax liability. For periods subsequent to April 1, 2001, the shareholder has continued to file a consolidated return, including the Company. For purposes of these financial statements, the Company recorded tax provisions pursuant to SFAS 109 on a stand-alone basis, resulting in a liability for taxes, which has been recorded as a related party payable as of and for the periods ended September 30, 2002 and 2001.

Business Segments

The Company currently operates in one segment.

NOTE 3 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

As of September 30, 2002, the Company had advances of $60,940 to related parties through common ownership. The advances are non-interest bearing.

As of September 30, 2002, the Company owed $1,310,469 to a related party through common ownership. This amount is comprised primarily of the Company's share of the consolidated tax liability, less amounts paid by the Company on behalf of the shareholder.

The Company paid amounts a related party for services performed totaling approximately $137,000. These payments are reflected in general and administrative expenses in the accompanying statement of income.

NOTE 4 – LINES OF CREDIT

The Company currently has two lines of credit available. The revolving line of credit bears interest at the prime rate plus 0.75% per annum, payable monthly. The terms of the agreement provide for borrowings up to the lesser of $500,000 or the aggregate of 80% of eligible accounts receivable, as defined. The revolving line of credit expires on January 31, 2003, at which time the Company expects to replace the line through additional financing from another institution. As of September 30, 2002, the Company had outstanding borrowings totaling $487,330 under this agreement.

The equipment line of credit bears interest at the prime rate plus 1.00% per annum, payable monthly. The terms of the agreement provide for borrowings up to $200,000. The equipment line of credit expired on January 31, 2003, at which time all outstanding amounts totaling $29,000 will be repaid over 36 equal monthly installments including principal and interest through February 28, 2006. As of September 30, 2002, the Company had outstanding borrowings totaling $29,000 under this agreement.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT THEREON

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors
P.W. Stephens, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of P.W. Stephens, Inc. (the "Company") as of December 31, 2001 and 2000, and the related statements of income, stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of P.W. Stephens, Inc. as of December 31, 2001 and 2000, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Supplemental disclosure of non-cash investing and financing activities:

During 2001 and 2000, the Company incurred capital lease obligations of $174,316 and $71,860, respectively, for the purchases of equipment.

Due to a change in ownership during 2001, the previous parent company assumed $334,833 in intercompany income taxes payable that resulted from Company income which was recorded as an increase to additional paid-in capital.

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization and Line of Business

P.W. Stephens, Inc. (the “Company”) was incorporated on December 28, 1998 under the laws of the State of California. The Company provides abatement services for residential and commercial properties for asbestos, lead and mold materials and contamination to customers located throughout California. As of December 31, 2001, the Company has three branches in California located in Huntington Beach, Fremont and San Diego.

Through April 30, 2001, the Company was a wholly owned subsidiary of American Temporary Sanitation, Inc. (“ATS”). ATS was owned by the Barber family. Effective May 1, 2001, ATS agreed to transfer its ownership of the Company to Jane Barber in exchange for the repayment of all intercompany balances owed, the assumption of a $1,199,981 SBA loan by Jane Barber and Mrs. Barber’s ownership interest in ATS. As the transfer of ownership interest was between entities under common control, no purchase accounting entries were recorded.

As part of the agreement, income taxes arising from the Company’s estimated taxable income for the period January 1, 2001 to April 30, 2001 were assumed by ATS (who files a consolidated return). As a result, the intercompany obligation of the Company for income taxes payable to ATS of $334,833 was considered a capital contribution by ATS at the time of transfer of ownership and recorded as additional paid in capital by the Company on April 1, 2001.

As a result of the above transaction, the SBA loan and the debt incurred by ATS to purchase the assets of the Company (see Note 4) have been “pushed down” on the accompanying balance sheets as an obligation of the Company with a corresponding increase to goodwill. The related interest and amortization expense for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000 has been included in the accompanying statements of income.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Cash

The Company maintains cash balances at a financial institution that is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) up to $100,000. At December 31, 2001 and 2000, the Company had approximately $120,000 and $83,000, respectively, in these accounts in excess of the FDIC insurance limits.

Customers

The Company extends credit to a variety of customers in the normal course of business. The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of its customers. The Company does not obtain collateral with which to secure its accounts receivable. The Company estimates credit losses based on management’s historical experience and current industry trends. Although the Company expects to collect amounts due, actual collections may differ from the estimated amounts.

As of and during the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively, the Company’s largest customer represented approximately 13% and 15% of net sales and 14% and 20% of accounts receivable.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that effect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the recorded amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Significant estimates made by management include, among others, the allowance for doubtful accounts. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost, and are being depreciated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, ranging from three to seven years. Leasehold improvements are amortized on a straight-line basis over the lesser of the estimated useful lives of the assets or the related lease terms. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Significant renewals and betterments are capitalized. At the time of retirement or other disposition of property and equipment, the cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is reflected in the statement of income.

Goodwill

Goodwill relates to the acquisition of the Company by ATS in 1998 and is being amortized on a straight-line basis over 15 years. Amortization expense recorded on the accompanying statements of income totaled $191,161 and $191,161 for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

Long-Lived Assets

The Company's management assesses the recoverability of its long-lived assets by determining whether the depreciation and amortization of long-lived assets over their remaining lives can be recovered through projected undiscounted future cash flows. The amount of long-lived asset impairment, if any, is measured based on fair value and is charged to operations in the period in which long-lived asset impairment is determined by management. At December 31, 2001 and 2000, the Company's management believes there is no impairment of its long-lived assets. There can be no assurance however, that market conditions will not change or demand for the Company's services will continue, which could result in impairment of long-lived assets in the future.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized at the time the contract and related services are performed.

Advertising

The Company expenses the cost of advertising when incurred as general and administrative expense. Advertising expense was approximately $13,600 and $36,500 for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109 (“SFAS 109”), Accounting for Income Taxes. Under the asset and liability method of SFAS 109, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. Under SFAS 109, the effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. A valuation allowance is provided for certain deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that the Company will not realize tax assets through future operations.

Through April 30, 2001, the Company was a wholly owned subsidiary of ATS. For tax purposes, the Company filed a consolidated income tax return with ATS. ATS had incurred losses, which consolidated with the Company, resulted in no payment of tax liability. For periods subsequent to April 1, 2001, the shareholder has elected to continue to file a consolidated return, including the Company. For purposes of these financial statements, the Company recorded tax provisions pursuant to SFAS 109 on a stand-alone basis, resulting in a liability for taxes, which has been recorded as a related party payable as of and for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000.

Recent Pronouncements

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142 (“SFAS 142”), Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, which is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. SFAS 142 addresses how intangible assets that are acquired individually or with a group of other assets should be accounted for in the financial statements upon their acquisition and after they have been initially recognized in the financial statements. SFAS 142 requires that goodwill and intangible assets that have indefinite useful lives not be amortized but rather be tested at least annually for impairment, and intangible assets that have finite useful lives be amortized over their useful lives. SFAS 142 provides specific guidance for testing the impairment of goodwill and intangible assets that will not be amortized. In addition, SFAS 142 expands the disclosure requirements about goodwill and other intangible assets in the years subsequent to their acquisition. Impairment losses for goodwill and indefinite-life intangible assets that arise due to the initial application of SFAS 142 are to be reported as resulting from a change in accounting principle. The Company will adopt SFAS 142 in fiscal 2002 and believes there will be no significant impact as a result of the adoption on its financial statements.

In August 2001, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 (“SFAS 144”), Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. SFAS 144 addresses financial accounting and reporting for the impairment of long-lived assets and for long-lived assets to be disposed of. The provisions of SFAS 144 are effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001, and interim periods within these fiscal years, with early adoption encouraged. The Company will adopt SFAS 144 in fiscal 2002 and believes there will be no significant impact as a result of the adoption on its financial statements.

Depreciation and amortization expense recorded in the accompanying statements of income totaled $207,605 and $171,809 for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

NOTE 3 – RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

During 2001 and 2000, the Company wrote-off approximately $83,000 and $225,000, respectively, of advances to related parties through common ownership. As of December 31, 2001 and 2000, the balance is $0.

During 2001, the Company advanced $246,483 to a related party through common ownership. The advances are non-interest bearing. The balance was satisfied subsequent to year-end through the transfer of equipment. As a result, the Company has classified these advances as non-current.

As of December 31, 2001 and 2000, the Company owed $943,265 and $1,155,606, respectively, to a related party through common ownership. These amounts are comprised primarily of the Company's share of the consolidated tax liability, less amounts paid by the Company on behalf of the related party and have been cancelled subsequent to year-end as a result of the purchase of the Company (see Note 7).

NOTE 4 – LONG-TERM DEBT

Long-term debt consists of the following at December 31, 2001 and 2000:

	2001	2000
Note payable to Home Solutions of America, Inc. ("HSA") payable in monthly installments totaling $37,438, including interest at 7.75%, maturing July 1, 2005, secured by certain assets and certain assets held by the shareholder of the Company. This note was forgiven as part of the acquisition of the Company subsequent to year-end (see Note 7).	$ 1,401,708	$ 1,550,000

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For The Years Ended December 31, 2002 and 2001

NOTE 5 – INCOME TAXES, continued

Deferred income taxes consist primarily of accelerated depreciation for income tax purposes and other reserves. The effective tax rate is different than the statutory federal income tax rate due to the effect of state taxes and permanently non-deductible items.

NOTE 6 – COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Operating Leases

The Company leases its facilities under non-cancelable operating lease agreements. The leases expire on various dates through December 2004 and provide for monthly rents ranging from approximately $1,200 to $4,200. Rental expense under these operating leases for the years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000 were approximately $90,000 and $83,000, respectively.

Capital Leases

The Company leases certain equipment under capital lease agreements, which expire at various dates through November 2004. The leases are payable in monthly installments ranging from approximately $550 to $900 at effective interest rates ranging from 12.4% to 16.5%. The assets and liabilities under capital leases are recorded at lease inception at the lower of the present value of the minimum lease payments or the fair market value of the related assets. The leases are payable in monthly installments ranging from approximately $470 to $670 at effective interest rates ranging from 4.6% to 4.8%.

Future minimum lease payments under non-cancelable leases are as follows.

Years Ending December 31,	Capital Leases	Operating Leases	Total

Legal

The Company continues to be involved in various claims, lawsuits, and disputes with third parties, actions involving allegations or discrimination or breach of contract actions incidental in the normal operations of the business. The Company is currently not involved in any such litigation which management believes could have a material adverse effect on its financial position or results of operations.

NOTE 7 – SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Subsequent to year-end, the Company entered into a credit agreement with a financial institution. The credit agreement includes a term loan, a revolving line of credit and an equipment line of credit. The credit agreement is guaranteed by the stockholders of the Company, secured by substantially all Company assets and contains a provision that requires the Company to maintain certain financial covenants.

The $1,100,000 term loan bears interest at the prime rate plus 0.75% with monthly principal payments of $18,333 plus accrued interest thereon. The loan matures January 28, 2007. The proceeds of the term loan were used to pay off the SBA loan (see Note 4).

The revolving line of credit bears interest at the prime rate plus 0.75% per annum, payable monthly. The terms of the agreement provide for borrowings up to the lesser of $500,000 or the aggregate of 80% of eligible accounts receivable, as defined. The revolving line of credit expires on January 28, 2003, at which time the Company expects to replace the line through additional financing from another institution.

The equipment line of credit bears interest at the prime rate plus 1.00% per annum, payable monthly. The terms of the agreement provide for borrowings up to $200,000. The equipment line of credit expires on January 31, 2003, at which time all outstanding amounts will be repaid over 36 equal monthly installments including principal and interest through February 28, 2006.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note 1 - Basis of Presentation

The unaudited pro forma combined balance sheets give effect to the acquisition of P.W. Stephens, Inc. as if the acquisition had occurred as of September 30, 2002. The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations assume the acquisition took place as of January 1, 2001.

The actual acquisition of P.W. Stephens, Inc. closed on December 27, 2002, effective November 1, 2002. Therefore, the actual purchase price allocation to the net assets acquired will be significantly different from the information presented in these pro forma financial statements.

The pro forma information has been prepared for comparative purposes only, and does not purport to be indicative of Home Solutions of America, Inc.'s ("HSA") results of operations that would have actually occurred had the transaction been in effect as of the date or for the periods presented, or of results that may occur in the future. The unaudited pro forma combined financial statements should be read in conjunction with HSA's historical financial statements and related notes.

Note 2 - Pro Forma Adjustments

The pro forma adjustments are based on HSA's management's preliminary estimates of the value of the tangible and intangible assets acquired. A valuation of the net assets acquired in the acquisition will be conducted by a third-party appraisal firm. As a result, the actual adjustments may differ materially from those presented in these unaudited pro forma combined financial statements.

Description of pro forma adjustments:

Pro Forma Adjustments to Combined Balance Sheets:

- a) Record the issuance of 1,400,000 shares of common stock for cash which was used to purchase the common stock of P.W. Stephens and pay for acquisition costs
- b) Record the purchase of P.W. Stephens stock in exchange for the following:

Cash	$ 1,000,000
Promissory notes issued by HSA	8,975,000
Assignment of promissory notes held by HSA	1,220,000
Warrant to purchase stock of HSA	425,000
	$ 11,620,000

- c) Eliminate amounts due to the shareholder of P.W. Stephens and historical equity of P.W. Stephens
- d) Eliminate note payable and related interest payable from P.W. Stephens to HSA
- e) To record legal and professional fees incurred related to the acquisition to be settled in cash and 235,294 shares of common stock

Pro Forma Adjustments to Statements of Operations:

- a) Eliminate interest expense and interest income on note payable from P.W. Stephens to HSA
- b) Record interest expense for promissory notes issued in connection with purchase of P.W. Stephens
- c) Reverse interest income on promissory notes issued in 2002 held by HSA assigned to shareholder of P.W. Stephens as part of the P.W. Stephens acquisition
- d) Adjust tax provision
- e) Record issuance of shares to raise cash used for the acquisition of P.W. Stephens and for settlement of acquisition expenses
- f) Reverse amortization of goodwill from previous acquisition
