Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2020

1. Organization and Nature of Business

AMG Distributors, Inc. (the "Company"), is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc. ("FINRA") and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC"), and is incorporated under the Laws of Delaware. The Company's principal business activities are to act as a distributor of AMG Funds LLC's ("LLC") family of funds (the "Funds") known as AMG Funds. In addition, the Company serves as distributor and/or intermediary placement agent for certain affiliated sub-advisors (the "Affiliates") for the offering of securities issued by the funds through financial intermediaries, such as registered investment advisers, broker-dealers and other intermediaries engaged by the Company to facilitate the launch and/or offering of the funds. See Note 6 – Related Party Transactions for further information pertaining to these agreements.

The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of LLC, whose ultimate parent company is Affiliated Managers Group, Inc. ("AMG"), an asset management holding company whose stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates or assumptions.

Revenue Recognition

The recognition and measurement of revenue is based on the assessment of individual contract terms. Judgment is required to determine whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time; how to allocate transaction prices where multiple performance obligations are identified; when to recognize revenue based on the appropriate measure of the Company's progress under the contract; and whether constraints on variable consideration should be applied due to uncertain future events.

12b-1 Fee Revenue and Distribution Expenses. The Company has entered into arrangements to provide distribution related services to certain mutual funds. Fee rates are generally between 0.25 - 1.00% (the maximum allowed) of a fund's average net assets for certain share classes. The Company believes that its performance obligation is the sale of securities to investors, which is performed each day in substantially the same manner and is therefore considered a single performance obligation. These services are performed and consumed simultaneously and, therefore, the Company recognizes revenue ratably over time.

Directly related to the 12b-1 revenue are the distribution and servicing expenses which include payments to intermediaries for the marketing and selling of fund shares, advertising, printing and mailing of prospectuses to new investors, and printing and mailing of sales literature. Since the Company acts as a principal in these intermediary arrangements, both the 12b-1 revenue and distribution expenses are reflected gross in the Statement of Operations.

AMG Distributors, Inc.

(A wholly owned subsidiary of AMG Funds LLC)

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2020

Service Revenue. Service Revenue consists of revenue earned pursuant to a Services Agreement with LLC. The Company's performance obligation is to provide services as distributor and placement agent under various contracts it has entered into. The services represent a single performance obligation and the revenue is recognized ratably over time as the services are provided. Service revenue is presented gross of expenses incurred to fulfill the contract since the Company acts as a principal in this arrangement.

Placement Fees. Placement fees consist of revenue earned pursuant to arrangements where the Company acts as distributor or placement agent for funds offered by Affiliates. The Company's performance obligation for these arrangements is generally to provide distribution related services (sales and servicing) which are performed over time and the revenue is recognized as the services are completed. In instances where multiple performance obligations are identified, management uses judgment to allocate the transaction price accordingly. Placement fees are presented gross of expenses incurred to fulfill the contracts since the Company acts as a principal in these arrangements.

Other Revenue. Other revenue consists of reimbursements from certain affiliates for the costs incurred by the Company for FINRA licensing and registration of employees of the affiliates who are registered representatives of the Company. The Company also earns commissions on sales of a mutual fund under a contract with an Affiliate. The Company recognizes revenue at the time of sales since its performance obligation is complete and the amount of revenue is fixed on that date. Other revenue is presented gross of expenses incurred to fulfill the contracts since the Company acts as a principal in these arrangements.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less, including money market mutual funds, to be cash equivalents. Cash and Cash Equivalents are stated at cost, which approximates fair market value and are classified as Level 1 financial assets. Money market mutual funds with a floating net asset value would not meet the definition of a cash equivalent if the fund has enacted liquidity fees or redemption gates.

Prepaid Expenses and Other Current Assets

Prepaid expenses and other current assets are comprised of prepaid FINRA fees, prepaid state registration fees, and receivables from third-parties.

Concentrations

Financial instruments, which potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk, consist principally of bank deposits and money market funds. The Company maintains cash balances with financial institutions, which may exceed the federally insured limit of $250,000 per institution. The Company also maintains investments in money market instruments, which are not federally insured.

3. Income Taxes

The Company is a member of AMG's consolidated group for U.S. federal income tax purposes and is included in certain combined state income tax filings of AMG. For financial accounting purposes, the Company recognizes taxes based on its allocated share of taxes from AMG, as well as those taxes it incurs for any stand-alone filings. Federal and state income taxes as well as benefits for net operating losses are allocated based on a tax sharing policy between the Company and other members of AMG's consolidated group. Under this policy, members of AMG's consolidated group that contribute net operating losses are compensated by the remaining members of the consolidated group in an amount equal to the tax savings generated from the utilization of their respective tax losses to offset taxable income of other members. At December 31, 2020, the Company has a payable for federal and state taxes in the amount of $64,916 which is included in Due to related parties. In addition, federal estimated tax payments benefiting the consolidated group are reimbursable under the tax sharing policy.

The following table presents our provision for income taxes:

	2020
Current
Federal	$ 60,923
State	14,361
Total current	75,284
Deferred
Federal	—
State	—
Total deferred	—
Provision for income taxes	$ 75,284

During 2020, the Company wrote off a tax receivable in the amount of $16,143.

The following table reconciles the U.S. federal statutory rate to the Company's effective tax rate:

	2020
Tax at U.S. federal income tax rate	21.0 %
State income taxes, net of federal benefit	3.7
Tax receivable write-off	5.3
Effective Tax Rate	30.0 %

The Company recognizes and measures its tax positions in accordance with FASB ASC 740, Income Taxes. Under that guidance the Company assesses the likelihood, based on their technical merit, that tax positions will be sustained upon examination based on the facts, circumstances and information available at the end of each period. The measurement of unrecognized tax benefits is adjusted when new information is available, or when an event occurs that requires a change. The Company did not have any unrecognized tax benefits in the accompanying financial statements. In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to examination by federal, state and local jurisdictions, where applicable. As of December 31, 2020, the tax years that remain subject to
