(1) Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and Description of Business

Oriental Financial Services Corp. (the Company) is a wholly owned subsidiary of OFG Bancorp (OFG) and is incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The Company is engaged in brokerage, underwriter syndicate and offerings, and investment advisory services in Puerto Rico and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. The Company is approved as a registered broker-dealer pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and does not carry customer accounts; accordingly, it is exempt from the Customer Protection Rule (Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Rule 15c3-3) pursuant to Provision K(2)(ii) of such rule.

The accounting and reporting policies of the Company conform to U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). The following is a summary of the Company's most significant accounting policies:

(a) Basis of Presentation

The financial statements of the Company are prepared for the purpose of complying with statutory requirements of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the SEC, and FINRA.

(b) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingencies in the statement of financial condition and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant items subject to such estimates and assumptions include the valuation of deferred tax assets, receivables from broker-dealers and others, securities owned and accruals for claims and settlements.

(c) Securities Transactions

Proprietary securities transactions in regular-way trades are recorded on the trade date, as if they had settled. Profit and loss arising from all securities transactions entered into for the account and risk of the Company are recorded on a trade-date basis.

Amounts receivable and payable for securities transactions that have not reached their contractual settlement date are recorded net on the statement of financial condition.

Securities owned are carried at fair value and the changes in fair value are included in determination of income (loss) for the reporting period.

(d) Revenue Recognition

Commissions, revenue from sale of investment company shares, and commissions related clearing broker expenses and investment management fees are recorded on a trade-date basis or as earned. Income includes revenue from transactions related to mutual fund instruments. These are fees collected from mutual funds related to support fees or revenue sharing, as well as trailer fees (also known as 12-b1 fees).

ORIENTAL FINANCIAL SERVICES CORP.
(A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of OFG Bancorp)

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017

Investment banking revenue includes gains, losses, and fees, net of syndicate expenses arising from securities offerings in which the Company acts as an underwriter or agent. Investment banking revenue also includes fees earned from providing merger-and-acquisition and financial restructuring advisory services. Investment banking management fees are recorded on the offering date, sales concessions on the settlement date, and underwriting fees at the time the underwriting is completed and the income is reasonably determinable.

Other income and expenses are accounted for on the accrual basis. Dividend and interest income are recognized on ex-dividend date on accrual basis.

(e) Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Leasehold improvements are amortized on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term or estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from five to ten years. Depreciation on equipment is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from three to five years. Total depreciation and amortization for the year ended December 31, 2017 amounted to $35,975.

(f) Income Taxes

Income taxes are accounted for under the asset and liability method. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases and operating loss carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. The Company recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. Recognized income tax positions are measured at the largest amount that is greater than 50% likely of being realized. Changes in recognition or measurement are reflected in the period in which the change in judgment occurs.

(g) Accounting for Transfers of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities

The Company recognizes the financial assets it controls and the liabilities it has incurred. At the same time, it derecognizes financial assets when control has been surrendered and liabilities when they are extinguished.

(h) Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities in which counterparties primarily include broker-dealers, banks, and other financial institutions. In the event counterparties do not fulfill their obligations, the Company may be exposed to risk. The risk of default depends on the creditworthiness of the counterparty or issuer of the instrument. It is the Company's policy to review, as necessary, the credit standing of each counterparty.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017

(i) Fair Value Measurements

The Company utilizes valuation techniques that maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs to the extent possible. The Company determines fair value based on assumptions that market participants would use in pricing an asset or liability in the principal or most advantageous market. When considering market participant assumptions in fair value measurements, the following fair value hierarchy distinguishes between observable and unobservable inputs, which are categorized in one of the following levels:

Level 1 inputs: Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities accessible to the reporting entity at the measurement date.

Level 2 inputs: Other than quoted prices included in Level 1 inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly, for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 inputs: Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability used to measure fair value to the extent that observable inputs are not available, thereby allowing for situations in which there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability at measurement date.

At December 31, 2017, the assets and liabilities recorded at amounts that approximate fair value includes cash, deposits with clearing organization, money market with clearing organization, receivables from broker-dealers and others, accounts payable and accrued expenses. The fair values of these financial instruments represent the amounts that would be received to sell those assets or that would be paid to transfer those liabilities in an orderly transaction between market participants at that date. These financial instruments have been valued at the carrying amounts reflected in the statement of financial condition, as these are reasonable estimates of fair value given the short-term nature of the instruments.

(j) Group of Related Entities

The Internal Revenue Code for a New Puerto Rico (the 2011 Code) requires that entities exceeding a predefined volume of business issue audited financial statements for filing with local taxing authorities. This predefined volume of business is determined in a "controlled group" basis, as defined in the 2011 Code. The following related entities, as defined by the 2011 Code, are engaged in active trade or business within Puerto Rico:

Oriental Bank, Inc.

Oriental International Bank, Inc.

Oriental Insurance LLC, and

OFG Bancorp

ORIENTAL FINANCIAL SERVICES CORP.
(A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of OFG Bancorp)

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017

(k) Subsequent events

The Company has evaluated the impact of subsequent events through February 28, 2018 which is the date these financial statements were issued. No events have occurred subsequent to the statement of financial condition date and to the date the financial statements were issued, that would require additional adjustment, to or disclosure in the financial statements.

(l) Commitments and Contingencies

Liabilities for loss contingencies, arising from claims, assessments, litigations, fines, and penalties and other sources, are recorded when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the assessment can be reasonably estimated. Legal costs incurred in connection with loss contingencies are expensed as incurred.

(m) Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities Receivables. In March 2017, the FASB issued ASU No. 2017-08, which requires the amortization of the premium on callable debt securities to the earliest call date. The amortization period for callable debt securities purchased at a discount would not be impacted by the ASU. This ASU will be applied prospectively for annual and interim periods in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019. The ASU is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's statements of financial condition or results of operations. At December 31, 2017, the Company does not have callable debt securities.

Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments. In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-13, which includes an impairment model (known as the current expected credit loss (CECL) model) that is based on expected losses rather than incurred losses. Under the new guidance, an entity recognizes as an allowance its estimate of expected credit losses. ASU No. 2016-13 is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods, beginning after December 15, 2020. Early application is permitted for fiscal years, and interim periods, beginning after December 15, 2018. The Company does not expect the provisions for this new accounting guidance to have a material impact on its statements of financial condition or results of operations.

Leases. In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, which requires lessees to recognize a right-of-use asset and related lease liability for leases classified as operating leases at the commencement date that have lease terms of more than 12 months. This ASU retains the classification distinction between finance leases and operating leases. ASU No. 2016-02 is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods, beginning after December 15, 2019. Early application is permitted, but we have not yet adopted ASU No. 2016-02. The Company does not expect the provisions of this new accounting guidance to have a material impact on its statements of financial condition or results of operations.

ORIENTAL FINANCIAL SERVICES CORP.
(A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of OFG Bancorp)

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017

Revenue from Contracts with Customers. In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU No. 2014-09, which supersedes the revenue recognition requirements Topic 605 (Revenue Recognition), and most industry-specific guidance. ASU No. 2014-09 is based on the principle that revenue is recognized to depict the transfer of goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. ASU No. 2014-09 also requires additional disclosure about the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from customer contracts, including significant judgments and changes in judgments and assets recognized from costs incurred to obtain or fulfill a contract. ASU No. 2014-09 permits two methods of adoption: retrospectively to each prior reporting period presented (full retrospective method), or retrospectively with the cumulative effect of initially applying the guidance recognized at the date of initial application (modified retrospective method). In August 2015, the FASB issued ASU No. 2015-14 to defer the effective date of ASU No. 2014-09 by one year to fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2018. ASU No. 2015-14 also permits early adoption of ASU No. 2014-09, but not before the original effective date, which was for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2016. While the new guidance does not apply to revenue associated with securities, the Company identified the customer contracts within the scope of the new guidance, assessed the related revenues, and has determined that it will not materially impact its financial position or results of operations. The Company will adopt the modified retrospective method. There will not be any accounting or significant internal control changes as a result of the new provisions. The timing of the Company's revenue recognition is not expected to materially change.

ORIENTAL FINANCIAL SERVICES CORP.
(A Wholly Owned Subsidiary of OFG Bancorp)

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017

The following table presents the classification in the fair value hierarchy of securities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

		Fair value measurement at reporting date

	December 31, 2017

Other Puerto Rico securities - mutual funds	26,309	-	26,309	-
	$ 191,375	-	191,375	-

The Company's accounting policy is to recognize transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy on the date of the event or change in circumstances that caused the transfer. There were no transfers into or out of Level 1, Level 2, or Level 3 during the year ended December 31, 2017.

Under the terms of the Agreement, Pershing clears and executes the brokerage transactions of the Company's customers on a fully disclosed basis. The Agreement states that the Company will assume customer obligations if a customer of the Company defaults. Also, under the terms of the Agreement, the Company is required to maintain a minimum deposit with Pershing at all times. This deposit amounted to $150,000 as of December 31, 2017.

In addition, the Company is also charged by the Bank for the use of facilities and equipment, and for occupancy, which amounted in 2017 to approximately $22,000 and $168,000, respectively, included in occupancy and equipment expenses in the statement of operations. In order to prevent non-compliance of the Bank with Regulation W, the Company prepays on a monthly basis an estimated amount for these services. At December 31, 2017, the Company registered a receivable due to an excess of such prepayments of $191,302.

The Company also maintains an operating cash account with the Bank amounting to approximately $189,000 as of December 31, 2017, included in cash and cash equivalents in the statement of financial condition.

(9) Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the SEC Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, will not exceed the 15.00 to 1.00. At December 31, 2017, the Company had net capital of $3,047,931, which is $2,735,973 in excess of its required net capital of $311,958. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital at December 31, 2017 is 1.60 to 1.00.

(10) Income Taxes

The Company is subject to the dispositions of the 2011 Internal Revenue Code of the New Puerto Rico, as amended (the Code). Among others, the Code imposes a maximum corporate tax rate of 39%.

Under Puerto Rico law, all companies are treated as separate taxable entities and are not entitled to file consolidated tax returns. The Company and its subsidiaries are subject to Puerto Rico regular income tax or Alternative Minimum Tax ("AMT") on income earned from all sources. The AMT is payable if it exceeds regular income tax. The excess of AMT over regular income tax paid in any one year may be used to offset regular income tax in future years, subject to certain limitations.

The components of income tax expense (benefit) for the year ended December 31, 2017 are as follows:

Current income tax expense	$ 61,702
Deferred income tax benefit	(41,970)
	$ 19,732

The Company's income tax benefit differs from amounts computed by applying the applicable statutory rate to loss before income taxes as follows:

	Amount	Rate
Tax benefit at statutory rate	$ 25,157	39.00%
Non-deductible items	21,349	32.69%
Exempt income	(1,307)	-2.03%
Progressive tax rate	(14,709)	-14.59%
True ups	(8,358)	-12.30%
Other	(2,400)	-3.72%
Income tax expense	$ 19,732	39.05%

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017

The components of the Company's deferred tax assets at December 31, 2017 are as follows:

Deferred tax assets:

Alternative Minimum Tax	$ 349,028
Claims and settlements	1,566,205
Unrealized loss	177,544
Reserve for doubtful accounts	310,594
Other items	79,317
Total deferred tax asset	$ 2,482,688

In assessing the realizability of deferred tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or the entire deferred tax asset will not be realized. The ultimate realization of the deferred tax asset is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and tax planning strategies in making this assessment.

Based upon the projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred tax assets are expected to reverse, management believes it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences at December 31, 2017. The amount of the deferred tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carryforward periods are reduced.

The Company follows a two-step approach for recognizing and measuring uncertain tax positions. The first step is to evaluate the tax position for recognition by determining if the weight of available evidence indicates that it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained on audit, including resolution of related appeals or litigation process, if any. The second step is to measure the tax benefit as the largest amount that is more than 50% likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. As of December 31, 2017 the Company had recorded a liability of $26 thousand for uncertain tax positions.

The Company is potentially subject to income tax audits in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico for taxable years 2013 to 2016, until the applicable statute of limitations expire. Tax audits by their nature are often complex and can require several years to complete.

(11) Contingencies

The Company's ordinary course of business subjects it to claims, lawsuits, regulatory examinations and other proceedings. The Company is subject to examinations from its regulators. Such examinations could result in fines and penalties against the Company. No fines or penalties payments were incurred during 2017.

The volatility in prices and declines in value that Puerto Rico municipal bonds and closed-end investment companies that invest primarily in Puerto Rico municipal bonds have experienced since 2013 have led to regulatory inquiries, customer complaints and arbitrations for most broker-dealers in Puerto Rico, including the Company.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017

Oriental Financial Services Corp. has received customer complaints and is named as a respondent in arbitration proceedings. An adverse result in the matters described above could materially and adversely affect the Company. The proceedings are in their early stages and it is the view of management that the Company has meritorious defenses to the claims asserted.

On at least a quarterly basis, the Company assesses its liabilities and contingencies in connection with outstanding legal proceedings utilizing the latest information available. For matters where it is probable that the Company will incur a loss and the amount can be reasonably estimated, the Company establishes an accrual for the estimated loss. Once established, the accrual is adjusted on at least a quarterly basis as appropriate to reflect any relevant developments. At December 31, 2017 the Company had $4,015,911 related to claims and settlements, which is included in accounts payable and accrued expenses in the statement of financial condition. For matters where a material loss is not probable or the amount of the loss cannot be estimated, no accrual is established.

Any estimate involves judgment, given the varying stages of the claims and proceedings (including the fact that many of them are currently in preliminary stages), the numerous unresolved issues in many proceedings, and the inherent uncertainty of the various potential outcomes of such proceedings. Accordingly, management's estimate will change from time-to-time, and actual losses may be more or less than the current estimate.

While the final outcome of legal proceedings is inherently uncertain, based on information currently available and advice of legal counsel, management believes that the amount it has already accrued is adequate and any incremental liability arising from the Company's legal proceedings will not have an adverse material effect on the Company's financial position as a whole. However, in the event of unexpected future developments, it is possible that the ultimate resolution of these matters, if unfavorable, may be material to the Company's financial position in a particular period.
