Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2023

1. Nature of Business and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Business Activity

FIMCO Securities Group, Inc. (the “Company”) was incorporated in the state of Wisconsin on March 25, 1992. The Company is registered as a broker and dealer in securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Company markets securities, annuities, unit investment trusts and mutual funds through savings and loans, banks and other financial institutions. Significant accounting policies followed by the Company are presented below.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concession Receivable

Concession receivable consist of 12b-1 fees. An allowance for uncollectible receivables is not considered necessary as the Company collects all amounts in the subsequent month.

Allowance for Credit losses

The Company has implemented ASU 2016-13, Financial Instruments - Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments. The amendments in this Update require a financial asset measured at amortized cost basis to be presented at the net amount expected to be collected. The allowance for credit losses is a valuation account that is deducted from the amortized cost basis of the financial asset to present the net carrying value at the amount expected to be collected on the financial asset. The Company evaluates whether an allowance for credit losses is necessary, which represents the portion of the receivable that the Company does not expect to collect over its contractual life, considering past events and reasonable and supportable forecasts of future economic conditions. The Company's allowance for credit losses on its receivables is based on specific collectability facts and circumstances for each outstanding receivable and the associated collection risk. The Company determined no allowance for credit loss was necessary on December 31, 2023.

Revenue Recognition

The Company follows a five-step model to (a) identify the contract(s) with a customer, (b) identify the performance obligations in the contract, (c) determine the transaction price, (d) allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract, and (e) recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies the performance obligation.

Income Taxes

The Company's earnings are taxed directly to its stockholder for federal and state income tax purposes under subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes is made in the accompanying financial statements. The Company accounts for any potential interest or penalties related to possible future liabilities for unrecognized income tax benefits as tax expense. The Company is no longer subject to U.S. and Wisconsin income tax examinations for years ending before December 31, 2020.

FIMCO SECURITIES GROUP, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2023

2. Revenue from Contracts with Customers

Significant Judgments

The recognition and measurement of revenue is based on the assessment of individual contract terms. Significant judgment is required to determine whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time; how to allocate transaction prices where multiple performance obligations are identified; when to recognize revenue based on the appropriate measure of the Company's progress under the contract; and whether constraints on variable consideration should be applied due to uncertain future events.

12b-1 Fee Income

The Company earns 12b-1 fees in accordance with selling agreements. Fees are based on a percentage applied to the customer's assets under management. Fees are received monthly or quarterly and are recognized as revenue in the month or quarter that relates specifically to the services provided in that period, which are distinct from the services provided in other periods.

Disaggregation of Revenue

Based on the Company's revenue for the year ended December 31, 2023, no further disaggregation of revenues is deemed necessary as all revenue streams were similar in nature.

3. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1) which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2023, the Company had net capital of $23,626. The ratio of aggregate indebtedness was 64.1 to 1.

4. Related Party

The Company's principal place of operations is the stockholder's primary residence. The stockholder does not charge the Company occupancy or other operating expenses. The Company has made payments to Mark Henry, a related party to the sole stockholder Fred Henry, for assistance with regulatory reporting requirements.

5. Subsequent Events

The Company has evaluated subsequent events for potential recognition and/or disclosure through the date the financial statements were issued, noting none.
