Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This presentation includes a number of non-GAAP financial measures, which are defined and reconciled in the appendix to this presentation. These Non-GAAP measures include Adjusted EBITDA, Non-GAAP Operating Profit or Loss, Free Cash Flow and Non-GAAP Non-Material spending.

These Non-GAAP measures reflect how Avid manages its businesses internally. These measures may vary for different companies for reasons unrelated to the overall operating performance of Avid's business. When analyzing Avid's operating performance, investors should not consider these Non-GAAP financial measures as a substitute for net income or other measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. Non-GAAP financial measures are not based on a comprehensive set of accounting rules or principles. This Non-GAAP information supplements, and is not intended to represent a measure of performance in accordance with, disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP. Non-GAAP financial measures should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for or superior to, financial measures determined in accordance with GAAP.

The reconciliation of the GAAP to Non-GAAP financial measures is in the tables included in this presentation and the appendix thereto.

What We Found

- Determined many of our software updates represented implied post-contract customer support or PCS and that revenue accounting needed to be corrected
- Could not establish fair value for software updates, therefore, some or all of transaction value had to be recognized ratably over the periods the updates were provided
- We found no evidence that our previous revenue accounting was the result of intentional misconduct
- Our internal control over financial reporting was found not to be effective

Our Process

- Retained big four accounting firm to review our historical accounting practices and advise management on acceptability of accounting application
- Reviewed historical practices around upgrades and updates
- Implemented a methodical, comprehensive process for analyzing and assessing accounting impact of multiple bundled offerings
- Initiated a special purpose team to review, address and remediate internal control deficiencies

- Developed and documented new accounting framework
- Went back to 2005 and reprocessed over five million transaction lines to determine appropriate accounting treatment for five year period
- Implemented new revenue accounting sub-ledger system to apply appropriate accounting treatment for all customer sales arrangements
- Because prior periods had been reopened—evaluated certain other historical accounting decisions

Internal Controls over Financial Reporting

- As part of restatement process, we reviewed our internal control structure related to our financial reporting and identified material weaknesses which are discussed in more detail in our Form 10-K for fiscal year 2013
- Nearly all efforts have been toward regaining current filing status
- As a result, we have not yet addressed all of the underlying internal control deficiencies but have initiated remediation measures in the interim
- We've invested in the accounting and internal audit functions as it relates to people, process and technology and expect to see incremental improvements over the next 12-24 months

Targeted Timeline

Major Restatement Items

1. Revenue Recognition
2. Impairment of Goodwill
3. Discontinued Operations Classification
4. Restructuring Reserves

1. Major Restatement Items – Revenue Recognition

- Existence of implied post-contract customer support requires Company to defer and amortize a significant portion of revenue
- Impacts the timing but not the total amount of revenue earned
- Revenue accounting treatment different for pre-2011 as compared to post-2010
- Cash flow characteristics of transactions unchanged by change in accounting

2. Major Restatement Items – Impairment of Goodwill

- Restated financial statements impacted historical assessment of goodwill
- Recorded a full goodwill impairment charge in the year ended December 31, 2011

3. Major Restatement Items – Discontinued Operations

- The divestiture of consumer product lines in July 2012 should have been presented as discontinued operations
- Reclassification of all historical revenues and expenses to income or loss from discontinued operations

Major Restatement Items – Restructuring Reserves

- Revised accruals of restructuring charges in fiscal year 2009 and 2012 in a cumulative amount of $1.6 million
- Related to lease obligations and other exit activities

Operational Measure Definition

Bookings

- Bookings represents the total amount of revenue that we expect to earn over the term of the agreement between Avid and a customer for goods and /or services over the course of the agreement
- To count as a booking, we expect there to be persuasive evidence of an agreement between us and our customer and that collectability of the amounts payable under the arrangement to be reasonably assured
- Bookings are subject to cancellations, changes and adjustments and are based on certain assumptions. Bookings may not reflect final revenue earned for a particular arrangement. Bookings do not reflect adjustments related to rebates or other sales incentive programs
- The material weaknesses in our internal control environment may impact the accuracy of recorded bookings

Key Non-GAAP Financial Definitions*

Free Cash Flow

- Free cash flow represents GAAP operating cash flow less capital expenditures and excludes payments or receipts related to M&A, significant legal settlements, restructuring, restatement or other non-operational or non-recurring events

* Please reference appendix for additional detail on definition of these metrics, including a GAAP to non-GAAP reconciliation

Adjusted EBITDA

Resumption of Bookings Growth

- 4 consecutive quarters of YoY growth
- Believe third quarter 2013 represented inflection point in return to growth
- Growth relatively modest but consistent
- We expect continued modest growth as we transition to higher growth markets

Rationalization of Non-GAAP Non-Material Spending

Non-GAAP Non-Material Spending $M *

- Strategic initiatives have identified areas of cost saving opportunities without impacting investment into future growth

Non-GAAP Non-Material Spending down $35 million since 2011

The information provided in this video includes forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties, including statements about our anticipated plans, objectives, expectations and intentions. Such statements include, without limitation, statements regarding our recently filed financial statements or other information included herein based upon or otherwise incorporating judgments or estimates relating to future performance such as future earnings, bookings, backlog and free cash flow; our future strategy and business plans; our product plans, including products under development, such as Avid Everywhere; our objective to obtain relisting on the NASDAQ Stock Market and to have our shares of common stock trade on that market; and our anticipated timing for filing our future quarterly reports. These forward-looking statements are based on current expectations as of the date this video was posted on our website and subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such statements, including but not limited to: the effect on our sales, operations and financial performance resulting from: the identified material weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting; the delisting of our stock from NASDAQ; the previously disclosed ongoing SEC and Department of Justice inquiries; pending litigation, including the previously disclosed class action and possibility of further legal proceedings adverse to our company resulting from the restatement or related matters; the costs associated with the restatement; as well as our ability to have our shares relisted on the NASDAQ stock market; our liquidity; our ability to execute our strategic plan and meet customer needs; our ability to produce innovative products in response to changing market demand, particularly in the media industry; our ability to successfully accomplish our product development plans; competitive factors; history of losses; fluctuations in our revenue, based on, among other things, our performance in particular geographies or markets, fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and seasonal factors; adverse changes in economic conditions; variances in our backlog and the realization thereof. Moreover, the business may be adversely affected by future legislative, regulatory or tax changes as well as other economic, business and/or competitive factors. The risks included above are not exhaustive. Other factors that could adversely affect our business and prospects are described in the filings made by our company with the SEC. We expressly disclaim any obligation or undertaking to update or revise any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

This presentation includes a number of non-GAAP financial measures, which are defined and reconciled in the appendix to this presentation. These Non-GAAP measures include Adjusted EBITDA, Non-GAAP Operating Profit or Loss, Free Cash Flow and Non-GAAP Non-Material spending.

These Non-GAAP measures reflect how Avid manages its businesses internally. These measures may vary for different companies for reasons unrelated to the overall operating performance of Avid's business. When analyzing Avid's operating performance, investors should not consider these Non-GAAP financial measures as a substitute for net income or other measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. Non-GAAP financial measures are not based on a comprehensive set of accounting rules or principles. This Non-GAAP information supplements, and is not intended to represent a measure of performance in accordance with, disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles, or GAAP. Non-GAAP financial measures should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for or superior to, financial measures determined in accordance with GAAP.

The reconciliation of the GAAP to Non-GAAP financial measures is in the tables included in this presentation and the appendix thereto.

Room to Grow

Avid Operates in a Significant Portion of a Massive Technology Market

Projected Multi-Year CAGRs of Industry Segments and Sub-Segments Vary Widely

Market Potential and Customer Value

This is a $47 billion/year market where relationships extend for 5 or more years

Early Progress on Platform Unit Sales

- Platform sales inform us of future cross sale opportunity
- Platform message is resonating even during early phases of product launch
- MediaCentral has demonstrated most pronounced growth

* - Includes MediaCentral, Interplay Production and Interplay MAM

2014 Guidance

Process began with our initial 100-day research, customer wallet share assessment and a run-rate cost analysis and we determined ...

1. We were financially lagging our peer group
2. We had significant cost opportunities arising from lack of alignment with our key strategies which led to inefficient operations and misaligned investments
3. We needed more effective strategic-based sales planning programs to drive incremental sales through our existing customer accounts

...and, with learnings in hand, we established a market based profitability target

Non-GAAP Adjusted EBITDA*

* Please reference appendix for additional detail on definition of these metrics, including GAAP to non-GAAP reconciliation

Key Financial Metrics – 2014 Targets*

Bookings

Targeting year over year improvement of approximately 3%

Targeting $58 to $65 million

Free Cash Flow Generation

Targeting FCF of $20 million

...earnings and bookings growth should convert to higher enterprise value, reflecting the value our community places on us

* Please reference appendix for additional detail on definition of these metrics, including GAAP to non-GAAP reconciliation

Financial Modeling Fundamentals

- Bookings growth should, subject to inherent limitations, convert to Adjusted EBITDA
- The portion of Adjusted EBITDA that converts to cash should increase each year until 2017
- We believe GAAP revenue and Adjusted EBITDA will continue to be challenged due to restatement deferred revenue run-off
- We are working on strategic projects that should drive a decline in operating costs

Last 12 Months (LTM) Bookings

- Believe third quarter 2013 represented inflection point in return to growth
- Growth relatively modest but consistent
- Slower growth until we transition to higher growth markets

Expected Pre-2011 Related Revenue Amortization ($M)

As Pre-2011 Deferred Revenue amortizes it will create meaningful annual accounting related headwinds for the next few years

Revenue Model (Hypothetical – not intended as guidance)

We believe the amortization of pre-2011 restatement related deferred revenue will be impactful on our results through 2017 at which point the impact of the restatement will no longer be reflected in our financial results.

Appendix – Non-GAAP

Posted September 12, 2014

Non-GAAP Financial Definitions

Free Cash Flow

- Free cash flow represents GAAP operating cash flow less capital expenditures and excludes payments or receipts related to M&A, significant legal settlements, restructuring, restatement or other non-operational or non-recurring events

Adjusted EBITDA

- Adjusted EBITDA is defined as non-GAAP operating profit or loss excluding all depreciation and amortization expense

Non-GAAP Operating Profit or Loss

- Non-GAAP operating profit or loss is GAAP operating profit excluding restructuring costs, stock based compensation, amortization and impairment of intangibles as well as other unusual items such as costs related to the restatement; M&A related activity; or impact of significant legal settlements

Non-GAAP Non-Material Spending

- Non-GAAP Non-Material Spending is Non-GAAP operating expense plus Non-GAAP cost of sales less direct product material cost

Operational Measures

Bookings

- Bookings represents the total amount of revenue that we expect to earn over the term of the agreement between Avid and a customer for goods and /or services over the course of the agreement
- To count as a booking, we expect there to be persuasive evidence of an agreement between us and our customer and that collectability of the amounts payable under the arrangement to be reasonably assured
- Bookings are subject to cancellations, changes and adjustments and are based on certain assumptions. Bookings may not reflect final revenue earned for a particular arrangement. Bookings do not reflect adjustments related to rebates or other sales incentive programs
- The material weaknesses in our internal control environment may impact the accuracy of recorded bookings
