LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Shareholder:

This annual report for Dreyfus Florida Municipal Money Market Fund covers the 12-month period from July 1, 2003, through June 30, 2004. Inside, you'll find valuable information about how the fund was managed during the reporting period, including a discussion with the fund's portfolio manager, Joseph Irace.

The U.S. economy increasingly showed signs of sustainable growth during the reporting period. When it became clearer in the spring of 2004 that an unexpectedly strong job market and higher energy prices reflected renewed inflationary pressures, the tax-exempt money markets began to anticipate higher interest rates, and yields began to rise from historical lows. Indeed, on the last day of the reporting period, the Federal Reserve Board raised short-term rates in what many analysts believe is the first in a series of gradual increases.

To many investors, the move to a less accommodative monetary policy marks the beginning of a new phase in the economic cycle. At times such as these, when market conditions are in a period of transition, we believe it is especially important for you to stay in close contact with your financial advisor, who can help you position your portfolio in a way that is designed to respond to the challenges and opportunities of today's changing investment environment.

Thank you for your continued confidence and support.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Canter
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer
The Dreyfus Corporation

DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Joseph Irace, Portfolio Manager

How did Dreyfus Florida Municipal Money Market Fund perform during the period?

For the 12-month period ended June 30, 2004, the fund produced a yield of 0.49%. Taking into account the effects of compounding, the fund also produced an effective yield of 0.49%.<sup>1</sup>

We attribute the fund's returns to low short-term interest rates throughout the reporting period, which persisted despite mounting signs of stronger economic growth. While the supply of newly-issued Florida securities remained relatively limited, a robust supply of securities on a national level kept tax-exempt yields high relative to comparable-term taxable yields during much of the reporting period.

What is the fund's investment approach?

The fund seeks as high a level of current income exempt from federal income tax as is consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity.

To pursue this goal, the fund normally invests at least 80% of its net assets in municipal obligations that provide income exempt from federal income tax, and which enable the fund's shares to be exempt from the Florida intangible personal property tax. In so doing, we employ two primary strategies. First, we attempt to add value by constructing a portfolio of high-quality, tax-exempt money market instruments in which the fund invests. Second, we actively manage the fund's average maturity in anticipation of what we believe are supply-and-demand changes in Florida's short-term municipal marketplace.

For example, if we expect an increase in short-term supply, we may decrease the average maturity of the fund, which could enable the fund to take advantage of opportunities when short-term supply increases. Yields generally tend to rise when there is an increase in new-issue supply competing for investor interest. New securities that are generally issued with maturities in the one-year range may in turn cause us to lengthen the fund's average maturity. If we anticipate limited new-issue supply, we may then look to extend the fund's average maturity in an effort to take advantage of then-current opportunities. At other times, we try to maintain an average maturity that reflects our view of short-term interest-rate trends and future supply-and-demand considerations.

What other factors influenced the fund's performance?

Despite mounting evidence of sustainable economic growth that began to emerge during the summer of 2003, money-market yields remained anchored by the 1% federal funds rate throughout most of the reporting period. During the first half of the reporting period, the Federal Reserve Board (the "Fed") repeatedly affirmed its commitment to an accommodative monetary policy, stating that it could be "patient" before raising rates. Later, when it appeared that long-dormant inflationary pressures might be resurfacing, the Fed commented that any future rate hikes were likely to be "measured." As a result, yields of tax-exempt money market securities remained relatively stable throughout the reporting period.

As the national economy improved, so did the fiscal condition of many states and municipalities, including Florida. Due to its diverse economic base and strong tourist activity, Florida's tax revenues recently have exceeded budgeted forecasts, and it has fared better than many other states. However, Florida continues to face fiscal challenges, including the need to fund infrastructure improvements and recently enacted education mandates.

In this changing market environment, we continued to invest in high-quality money-market securities from Florida issuers. Whenever possible, we have attempted to diversify among municipal notes from various issuers within the state. However, because the supply of newly-issued money-market securities was relatively limited, we pursued this strategy primarily through the secondary market and the use of tax-exempt commercial paper. We attempted to "ladder" the fund's holdings so that securities mature — and funds can be reinvested — at regular intervals. This strategy is designed to ensure liquidity and guard against the possibility that a disproportionate amount of securities may mature during a time of unusually low reinvestment rates.

We also invested a substantial portion of the fund's assets in variable-rate demand notes on which yields are reset weekly. In addition, we maintained a relatively long weighted average maturity during much of the reporting period to earn incrementally higher yields from longer-dated money-market instruments.

What is the fund's current strategy?

In the wake of reports of a stronger U.S. labor market and higher energy prices in the spring of 2004, the Fed raised short-term interest rates by 25 basis points on June 30, the last day of the reporting period. Investors apparently believe that the Fed's recent move was just the first in a series of rate hikes, as evidenced by an increase in the yield differences among money-market instruments of various maturities. Accordingly, we recently have allowed the fund's weighted average maturity to trend lower, toward the neutral range. This strategy is designed to give us the flexibility we need to capture higher-yielding opportunities as they become available.

<sup>1</sup> Effective yield is based upon dividends declared daily and reinvested monthly. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Yields fluctuate. Some income may be subject to the federal alternative minimum tax (AMT) for certain investors. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or the U.S. government. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund. Yield provided reflects the absorption of fund expenses by The Dreyfus Corporation pursuant to an undertaking in effect that may be extended, terminated or modified at any time. Had these expenses not been absorbed, the fund's yield would have been lower.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1—Significant Accounting Policies:

Dreyfus Florida Municipal Money Market Fund (the “fund”) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Act”), as a non-diversified open-end management investment company. The fund’s investment objective is to provide investors with as high a level of current income exempt from federal income tax as is consistent with the preservation of capital and the maintenance of liquidity. The Dreyfus Corporation (the “Manager” or “Dreyfus”) serves as the fund’s investment adviser. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mellon Financial Corporation (“Mellon Financial”). Dreyfus Service Corporation (the “Distributor”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, is the distributor of the fund’s shares, which are sold to the public without a sales charge.

It is the fund’s policy to maintain a continuous net asset value per share of $1.00; the fund has adopted certain investment, portfolio valuation and dividend and distribution policies to enable it to do so. There is no assurance, however, that the fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share of $1.00.

The fund’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which may require the use of management estimates and assumptions. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The fund enters into contracts that contain a variety of indemnifications. The fund’s maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown. The fund does not anticipate recognizing any loss related to these arrangements.

(a) Portfolio valuation: Investments in securities are valued at amortized cost with Rule 2a-7 of the Act, which has been determined by the fund’s Board of Trustees to represent the fair value of the fund’s investments.

(b) Securities transactions and investment income: Securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis. Interest income, adjusted for amortization of discount and premium on investments, is earned from settlement date and recognized on the accrual basis. Realized gain and loss from securities transactions are recorded on the identified cost basis. Cost of investments represents amortized cost. Under the terms of the custody agreement, the fund received net earnings credits of $36,606 during the period ended June 30, 2004, based on available cash balances left on deposit. Income earned under this arrangement is included in interest income.

The fund follows an investment policy of investing primarily in municipal obligations of one state. Economic changes affecting the state and certain of its public bodies and municipalities may affect the ability of issuers within the state to pay interest on, or repay principal of, municipal obligations held by the fund.

(c) Dividends to shareholders: It is the policy of the fund to declare dividends daily from investment income-net. Such dividends are paid monthly. Dividends from net realized capital gain, if any, are normally declared and paid annually, but the fund may make distributions on a more frequent basis to comply with the distribution requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). To the extent that net realized capital gain can be offset by capital loss carryovers, it is the policy of the fund not to distribute such gain.

(d) Federal income taxes: It is the policy of the fund to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company, which can distribute tax exempt dividends, by complying with the applicable provisions of the Code, and to make distributions of income and net realized capital gain sufficient to relieve it from substantially all federal income and excise taxes.

At June 30, 2004, the components of accumulated earnings on a tax basis were substantially the same as for financial reporting purposes.

The accumulated capital loss carryover of $901 is available to be applied against future net securities profits, if any, realized subsequent to June 30, 2004. If not applied the carryover expires in fiscal 2012.

The tax character of distributions paid to shareholders during the fiscal periods ended June 30, 2004 and June 30, 2003, respectively, were all tax exempt income.

At June 30, 2004, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was substantially the same as the cost for financial reporting purposes (see the Statement of Investments).

NOTE 2—Management Fee and Other Transactions With Affiliates:

(a) Pursuant to a management agreement with the Manager, the management fee is computed at an annual rate of .50 of 1% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets and is payable monthly. The Manager had undertaken through June 30, 2004, to reduce the management fee paid by the fund, if the fund's aggregate annual expenses, exclusive of taxes, brokerage fees, interest on borrowings and extraordinary expenses, exceed an annual rate of .60 of 1% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets. The reduction in management fee, pursuant to the undertaking, amounted to $44,341 during the period ended June 30, 2004.

(b) Under the Shareholder Services Plan, the fund reimburses the Distributor, an amount not to exceed an annual rate of .25 of 1% of the value of the fund's average daily net assets for certain allocated expenses of providing personal services and/or maintaining shareholder accounts. The services provided may include personal services relating to shareholder accounts, such as answering shareholder inquiries regarding the fund and providing reports and other information, and services related to the maintenance of shareholder accounts. During the period ended June 30, 2004, the fund was charged $91,819 pursuant to the Shareholder Services Plan.

The fund compensates Dreyfus Transfer, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Manager, under a transfer agency agreement for providing personnel and facilities to perform transfer agency services for the fund. During the period ended June 30, 2004, the fund was charged $23,591 pursuant to the transfer agency agreement.

The components of Due to The Dreyfus Corporation and affiliates in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities consists of: management fees $129,597, shareholder services plan fees $847 and transfer agency per account fees $4,400, which are offset against an expense reimbursement currently in effect in the amount of $1,231.

(c) Each Board member also serves as a Board member of other funds within the Dreyfus complex. Annual retainer fees and attendance fees are allocated to each fund based on net assets.

NOTE 3—Legal Matters:

Two class actions (which have been consolidated) have been filed against Mellon Financial and Mellon Bank, N.A., and Dreyfus and Founders Asset Management LLC (the “Investment Advisers”), and the directors of all or substantially all of the Dreyfus funds, alleging that the Investment Advisers improperly used assets of the Dreyfus funds, in the form of directed brokerage commissions and 12b-1 fees, to pay brokers to promote sales of Dreyfus funds, and that the use of fund assets to make these payments was not properly disclosed to investors. The complaints further allege that the directors breached their fiduciary duties to fund shareholders under the Investment Company Act of 1940 and at common law. The complaints seek unspecified compensatory and punitive damages, rescission of the funds’ contracts with the Investment Advisers, an accounting of all fees paid, and an award of attorneys’ fees and litigation expenses. Dreyfus and the Dreyfus funds believe the allegations to be totally without merit and will defend the actions vigorously.

Additional lawsuits arising out of these circumstances and presenting similar allegations and requests for relief may be filed against the defendants in the future. Neither Dreyfus nor the Dreyfus funds believe that any of the pending actions will have a material adverse effect on the Dreyfus funds or Dreyfus’ ability to perform its contracts with the Dreyfus funds.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED
PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

Shareholders and Board of Trustees
Dreyfus Florida Municipal Money Market Fund

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Dreyfus Florida Municipal Money Market Fund, including the statement of investments, as of June 30, 2004, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and financial highlights for each of the years indicated therein. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements and financial highlights. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of June 30, 2004 by correspondence with the custodian. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dreyfus Florida Municipal Money Market Fund at June 30, 2004, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the indicated years, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.
