Goodwill and Intangible Assets

Your estimate/assumption of the useful lives of your customer relationship intangible assets and related consumption pattern appear to involve a high-level of subjectivity and judgment, and the impact of the estimate/assumption appears to be material to your financial statements. Please expand your disclosures in future filings to analyze in greater detail how you arrived at the estimate/assumption, how accurate the estimate/assumption has been in the past, how much the estimate/assumption has changed in the past, and whether the estimate/assumption is reasonably likely to change in the future. In addition, describe the potential changes in circumstances that could affect the key assumptions, such as a customer attrition that deviates from that forecasted, and the impact the change would have on your financial statements. Refer to SEC Release 33-8350 and Section 501.14 of the Financial Reporting Codification for additional guidance.

We urge all persons who are responsible for the accuracy and adequacy of the disclosure in the filing to be certain that the filing includes the information the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and all applicable Exchange Act rules require. Since the company and its management are in possession of all facts relating to a company's disclosure, they are responsible for the accuracy and adequacy of the disclosures they have made.

In responding to our comments, please provide a written statement from the company acknowledging that:

- the company is responsible for the adequacy and accuracy of the disclosure in the filing;
- staff comments or changes to disclosure in response to staff comments do not foreclose the Commission from taking any action with respect to the filing; and
- the company may not assert staff comments as a defense in any proceeding initiated by the Commission or any person under the federal securities laws of the United States.

You may contact Ameen Hamady, Staff Accountant, at (202) 551-3891, or in his absence, Melissa Rocha, at (202) 551-3854, or me at (202) 551-3355, if you have questions regarding comments on the financial statements and related matters.

Sincerely,
