NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

NATURE OF BUSINESS

Hamilton, Cavanaugh & Associates, Inc. (the "Company"), a New York State corporation, is a registered broker-dealer in securities under the Securities Act of 1934 and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and Securities Investor Protection Corporation. The Company is engaged in the sale of variable annuities and mutual funds, primarily in New York and New Jersey.

INCOME TAXES

The Company is organized as an S corporation under the applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. In lieu of corporate income taxes, the shareholders of an S corporation are taxed on their proportionate share of the Company's taxable income. Therefore, no provision or liability for federal income taxes has been included in the financial statements.

The Company has determined that there are no material uncertain tax positions that require recognition or disclosure in its financial statements.

Taxable years ended from December 31, 2019, through the present are subject to examination by the taxing authorities.

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

REVENUE FROM CONTRACTS WITH CUSTOMERS

The Company follows ASC Topic 606, "Revenue from Contracts with Customers." Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when, or as, the Company satisfies performance obligations by transferring the promised goods or services to the customers. A good or service is transferred to a customer when, or as, the customer obtains control of that good or service. A performance obligation may be satisfied over time or at a point in time. Revenue from a performance obligation satisfied over time is recognized by measuring progress in satisfying the performance obligation in a manner that depicts the transfer of the goods or services to the customer. Revenue from a performance obligation satisfied at a point in time is recognized when it is determined the customer obtains control over the promised good or service. The amount of revenue recognized reflects the consideration the Company expects to be entitled to in exchange for those promised goods or services (i.e., the "transaction price"). In determining the transaction price, the Company considers multiple factors, including the effects of variable consideration. Variable consideration is included in the transaction price only to the extent it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the uncertainties with respect to the amount are resolved. In determining when to include variable consideration in the transaction price, the Company considers the range of possible outcomes, the predictive value of past experiences, the time period of when uncertainties expect to be resolved and the amount of consideration that is susceptible to factors outside of the Company's influence, such as market volatility or the judgment and actions of third parties.

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES CONTINUED

The following provides detailed information on the recognition of the Company's revenue from contracts with customers:

Significant Judgements

Revenue from contracts with customers includes commission income. The recognition and measurement of revenue is based on the assessment of individual contract terms. Significant judgement is required to determine whether performance obligations are satisfied at a point in time or over time, how to allocate transaction prices where multiple performance obligations are identified, when to recognize revenue based on the appropriate measure the Company's progress under the contract, and whether constraints on variable consideration should be applied due to uncertain future events.

Broker Dealer Commissions and Service Fee Income

The Company generates two types of commission revenues, front-end sales commissions that occur at the point of sale, as well as trailing commissions for which the Company provides ongoing support, awareness and education to its clients. Front-end sales commissions are recognized as revenue on a trade-date basis, which is when the Company's performance obligations in generating the commissions have been satisfied. Commission revenue includes mutual fund, and fixed and variable product trailing fees, which are recurring in nature. These trailing fees are earned by the Company based on a percentage of the current market value of clients' investment holdings in trail-eligible assets, and recognized over the period during which services are performed. Accounts receivable from broker-dealers was $20,565 at December 31, 2022. Management has determined no allowance for credit losses is necessary at December 31, 2022.
