RCII's Incumbent Directors Admit to Massive Value Destruction

RCII Investor Presentation

Prior initiatives and impacts

Pricing / value proposition	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Rates, cash prices, and total payments uncompetitive • Overstocked with older used product • EBITDA impact: ($85mm)¹
Shift towards "good" vs. better/best products	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Led to lower revenue-per-agreement • Liquidations • EBITDA impact: ($70mm)¹
Increased mix of part-time labor	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Increased employee turnover • Decreased customer service • Increased skips and stolens • EBITDA impact: ($35mm)¹
Push on quantity not quality	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Focus on deliveries at any cost • POS impacted ability to execute on account management processes • EBITDA impact: ($65mm)¹

The Board's plan for $160 million of EBITDA improvement over three years has been preceded by $255 million of EBITDA lost under the incumbent Board's oversight

The Board's failed oversight has driven RCII's stock price to 15-year lows

RCII's Current Results Reflect the Board's Strategic and Governance Failures

Core U.S. Same Store Sales

Core U.S. EBITDA

Acceptance Now ("ANow") EBITDA

Marginal sequential improvement is trivial in the context of the destruction of stockholder value over the last 1, 3, 5, and 10 year periods

RCII Has Failed to Create Value for Stockholders Over Both a Short and Long-Term Basis

Financial Risk is Increasing

- In Q1 2017, RCII breached certain debt covenants, requiring a waiver from its creditors that significantly limits its ability to borrow additional capital
- The Board was forced to reduce RCII's dividend by 67% at the beginning of 2016. At RCII's current leverage ratio, the likelihood of future dividend payments remains unclear

Net Debt / EBITDA¹

Balance sheet risk to RCII's turnaround strategy has increased

RCII's Recent Stockholder Communications are Misleading

RCII Investor Presentation¹

Acceptance Now

- 1 ~$565k per location in annual revenue
- 2 6-8x productivity vs. all competitors
- 3 Low capital investment
- 4 Provides incremental revenue for the retailer
- 5 Industry-leading approval rates
- 6 Serves both the banked and unbanked
- 7 Mid-teens operating margins
- 8 Only player offering staffed and unstaffed model

New stores require working capital investment and borrowing capacity is limited due to breached debt covenants

RCII had to announce measures to reduce elevated skips/stolens and address ANow product flooding the Core U.S. stores

Segment reporting does not represent true segment economics:

*"We will, for internal purposes, be writing down the product to wholesale cost levels when it makes its way into the Core business."*² *"That's only for internal purposes right now... At some point we may decide to change external disclosures around gross margin and the write-downs, but today it's just at the store level that they see that transfer price or adjustment to the cost of goods."*²

Only 96 ANow Direct locations remain from 545 in 2016...381 were closed in the most recent quarter:

*"...not doing much business in those particular doors...It's not a big cost, but there wasn't much volume to support it either...what we wanted to do instead was kind of pull it back in and spend the appropriate time and investment developing a platform that will be more user friendly and can scale much faster and bigger than what that particular application does, or did...it's not a product that we want to scale. So we're going to bring it down and get it right and then launch it."*²

Many of the points raised in the Board's most recent presentation to stockholders are contradictory

Criticisms of Engaged Capital's Plan Make No Sense

Engaged Capital: No Operating Plan, No View on Strategy

- ✗ Engaged Capital has not demonstrated an understanding of Rent-A-Center's business, industry or the stockholder value potential
- ✗ Engaged Capital's only proposal is to sell the Company, and yet it has not presented a single transaction for the Company to consider
- ✗ Engaged Capital's rhetoric around a sale of the Company does not offer a view on operating strategy
- ✗ Selling the Company today would deprive stockholders of the significant potential value creation that is achievable under the current strategic plan

Engaged Capital's May presentation shared detailed analysis of RCII's business and the potential for value creation

In addition, our slate of Board nominees includes one of the most experienced rent-to-own executives in the industry

Engaged Capital is NOT RCII's investment banker, but we are confident that if the Board would allow its advisors to talk with interested parties there would be numerous options to consider

How does the Board know this without running a strategic review? Is the Board clairvoyant?

The Board openly refuses to explore strategic alternatives, yet states that its turnaround plan is superior to a sale of the Company – This makes absolutely NO SENSE

The Board's Story Has Changed From April to May

RCII Presentation
April 2017

"Rent-A-Center's Board will continue to evaluate all opportunities to enhance stockholder value and is committed to pursuing the right course of action for all stockholders."

May 2017

"The Board rejects Engaged Capital's claim that now is the time for a process or a potential sale of the Company."

"The Board believes the strategic plan has the potential to deliver substantially more value to stockholders than conducting a sales process at this time."

The Board went from stating it would continue to evaluate ALL opportunities to enhance stockholder value in April...to categorically REJECTING the exploration of strategic alternatives only five weeks later!

What happened between April and May? Perhaps the phone started ringing?

Engaged Capital Day One Governance Imperatives

Matter	Engaged Capital Plan
Strategy	Form Subcommittee to Evaluate Strategic Alternatives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Formulate and value an independent turnaround plan for the Company • Initiate a comprehensive analysis of all strategic alternatives with the Company's financial advisors, including but not limited to: a sale of the entire Company, refranchising the Core U.S. and/or Mexico, etc. • Compare valuation and risk of all strategic alternatives • Pursue the course of action with the highest risk-adjusted value for stockholders
Governance Structure	Institute Best Corporate Governance Practices <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Separate Chairman/CEO roles • Remove the poison pill • Seek stockholder approval to declassify the Board at the 2018 Annual Meeting
Resources	Fill Vacant Management Positions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Fill several key positions left vacant after the exodus of talent under the prior management team and executive terminations, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Chief Financial Officer • Chief Human Resources Officer • Chief Marketing Officer • Chief Merchandise and Distribution Manager

Engaged Capital attempted to avoid a contested election, but no settlement proposed by the Board offered sufficient consideration to protect stockholder interests

Engaged Capital Day One Operational Imperatives

Segment	Engaged Capital Plan
Core U.S.	RCII's Plan is Reactive and Not Novel <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • RCII's "plan" to improve EBITDA by $160M is a mea culpa and request to recover from self-inflicted mistakes • RCII's "quick and decisive actions" have been completely reactive to Engaged Capital's involvement Store Operations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Explore variable pricing strategies that can stimulate incremental demand. While the Company's return to a 2x2 pricing matrix is an improvement from prior management, it is not the industry norm • Target product ownership levels consistent with a weekly pay customer (40% ownership target is not realistic) • Optimize compensation plans, reinstate corporate mystery shopper, encourage culture of entrepreneurship • Optimize store footprint based on expected improvement in productivity and profitability Franchising <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Bring a proven franchising proponent and expert to the boardroom in Mitch Fadel • Include a large-scale refranchising plan as part of the strategic review
ANow	Balance Growth and Return on Capital <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reduce elevated levels of ANow customer approvals • Assess all retail partnerships and exit relationships with unattractive terms • Objectively assess competitiveness of ANow Direct solution Relationship with Core U.S. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provide segment reporting that reflects true Core U.S. and ANow economics on an external basis • Test inventory management alternatives
Mexico	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Assess options to franchise or sell the Mexico stores immediately
Corporate	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reduce corporate expense; we believe ~$100M of cash cost is a reasonable initial target (~$140M in 2016) • Additional opportunity to reduce corporate expense with potential refranchising

The value of the above operating plan would be compared to all other strategic alternatives on a risk-adjusted basis

Engaged Capital Recommended Two of its Largest Holdings Remain Public After a Strategic Alternatives Process

- Total Stockholder Return: MED 38%¹ vs. S&P 500 19%
