Investment Description

- Linked to the Dow Jones Industrial Average® due November 2, 2022
- Unlike ordinary debt securities, the Securities do not pay interest or repay a fixed amount of principal at maturity. Instead, the Securities provide for a Payment at Maturity that may be greater than, equal to or less than the Principal Amount of the Securities, depending on the performance of the Reference Asset from the Initial Level to the Final Level.

The Payment at Maturity will reflect the following terms:

o If the level of the Reference Asset increases:

You will receive the Principal Amount plus 120% to 130% (to be determined on the Pricing Date) leveraged participation in the positive return of the Reference Asset

o If the level of the Reference Asset is flat or decreases but the decrease is not more than 30%:

You will be repaid the Principal Amount

o If the level of the Reference Asset decreases by more than 30%:

You will have full downside exposure to the decrease in the level of the Reference Asset from the Starting Level, and you will lose more than 30%, and possibly all, of the Principal Amount.

- Investors may lose a substantial portion, or all, of the Principal Amount
- Any payments on the Securities are subject to TD's credit risk
- You will have no right to the stocks comprising the Reference Asset (the "Reference Asset Constituents")
- No periodic interest payments or dividends
- No exchange listing; designed to be held to maturity

Our estimated value of the Securities on the Pricing Date is expected to be between $910.00 and $950.00 per Security. The estimated value is expected to be less than the public offering price of the Securities. See "Additional Information Regarding Our Estimated Value of the Securities" on page P-23 of the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement.

Hypothetical Payout Profile

The profile to the right is based on a hypothetical Leverage Factor of 125% (the midpoint of the specified range for the Leverage Factor), and a Threshold Level equal to 70% of the Initial Level.

This graph has been prepared for illustrative purposes only. Your actual return will depend on the actual Percentage Change, the actual Maximum Redemption Amount, and whether you hold your Securities to maturity.

*The graph to the right represents a hypothetical payout profile for the Securities. The 45 degree dotted line represents the hypothetical percentage change of the Reference Asset and the solid line represents the hypothetical return on the Securities for a given percentage change in the Reference Asset.

¹ This is the hypothetical Initial Level; the actual Initial Level will be set on the Pricing Date.

² The "return" as used in this introductory term sheet is the number, expressed as a percentage, that results from comparing the difference between the Payment at Maturity per $1,000 Principal Amount and $1,000.

The above figures are for purposes of illustration only and may have been rounded for ease of analysis. The actual Payment at Maturity will depend on the actual Final Level and Leverage Factor.

* These calculations are hypothetical and should not be taken as an indication of the future performance of the Reference Asset as measured from the actual Pricing Date. We cannot give you assurance that the performance of the Reference Asset will result in a positive Percentage Change, or any positive return on your initial investment.

How the Payment at Maturity is Calculated

The Payment at Maturity will be determined as follows:

- If the Final Level is greater than the Initial Level (the Percentage Change is positive), then an investor will receive an amount per Security equal to:

$$\text{Principal Amount} + (\text{Principal Amount} \times \text{Percentage Change} \times \text{Leverage Factor}).$$

- If the Final Level is equal to or less than the Initial Level, but greater than or equal to the Threshold Level (the Percentage Change is 0% or negative but not below -30%), then an investor will receive an amount per Security equal to:

$$\text{Principal Amount}.$$

- If the Final Level is less than the Threshold Level (the Percentage Change is negative and below -30%), then the investor will receive less than the Principal Amount, if anything, per Security, calculated using the following formula:

$$\text{Principal Amount} + (\text{Principal Amount} \times \text{Percentage Change}).$$

If the Final Level is less than the Threshold Level, the investor will have full exposure to the decrease in the level of the Reference Asset and will lose more than 30%, and possibly all, of the Principal Amount. Specifically, investors will lose 1% of the Principal Amount for each 1% decrease from the Initial Level to the Final Level and may lose all of the Principal Amount.

Historical Performance of the Reference Asset

* The graph above sets forth the historical daily performance of the Reference Asset from January 2, 2008 through October 9, 2017. The graph is based upon actual daily historical closing levels of the Reference Asset.

We obtained the information regarding the historical performance of the Reference Asset used in calculating the graph above from Bloomberg® Professional Service ("Bloomberg").

We have not conducted any independent review or due diligence of publicly available information obtained from Bloomberg. The historical performance of the Reference Asset should not be taken as an indication of its future performance, and no assurance can be given as to the Final Level of the Reference Asset. Additionally, the hypothetical examples above reflect the performance of the Reference Asset, and do not reflect or incorporate any terms of the Security. We cannot give you assurance that the performance of the Reference Asset will result in any positive return on your initial investment.

Selected Risk Considerations

The risks set forth below are discussed in detail in the “Additional Risk Factors” section in the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement, the “Additional Risk Factors Specific to the Notes” section in the product prospectus supplement and the “Risk Factors” section in the prospectus. Please review those risk disclosures carefully.

- Principal at Risk. If the Final Level is less than the Threshold Level, investors in the Securities will lose more than 30%, and possibly all, of their Principal Amount. Specifically, if the Final Level is less than the Threshold Level, you will lose 1% of the Principal Amount of your Securities for each 1% that the Final Level is less than the Initial Level and may lose all of the Principal Amount. For example, if the Reference Asset has declined by 30.1% from the Initial Level to the Final Level, you will not receive any benefit of the contingent downside feature and you will lose 30.1% of the Principal Amount per Security.
