Gentlemen:

YOU ARE IN DIRECT VIOLATION OF DELAWARE LAW AND YOUR BYLAWS.

We are in receipt of your letter dated October 4, 2010 in which you simply refuse to honor the requirements of both Section 220 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and Clean Diesel bylaws by failing to provide The Committee to Restore Stockholder Value and Integrity for Clean Diesel (the "Committee") with your stockholder list and other requested stockholder materials. You do this under the guise that this is not a "proper purpose." Stop playing games with stockholders.

You are FULLY aware from filings with the US Securities and Exchange Commission that the Committee is seeking to replace the existing Board of Directors of Clean Diesel in view of numerous detailed conflicts of interests, breach of fiduciary duties and other failings. Both those filings and previous correspondence to you advises that the Committee is seeking to hold a Special Meeting to complete those purposes. The fact that you have refused to schedule a meeting hardly makes this demand fail the "proper purpose" The Committee is entitled to the list even if the ONLY purpose is to determine which stockholders are available to DEMAND a meeting. The purpose stated in the Demand Letter is "to proceed with the Committee's intended proxy solicitation to elect directors and remove existing directors." There is absolutely no requirement that a Special Meeting be previously scheduled.

Please be advised that we have advised the US Securities and Exchange Commission of your failure to produce the required stockholder list(s) and other materials, as well as schedule the Special Meeting As I'm sure you are aware, they are monitoring your activities in connection with this proxy solicitation and the scheduled annual meeting.

You have 24 hours to produce the stockholder list, list of non-objecting beneficial owners, DTC sheet listing, any other stockholder transfer records, issuance records, transfer agent agreements and communications, and any other related stockholder materials.

In the event you fail to do so, be advised the Committee will immediately involve appropriate Delaware courts to seek to force you to (i) produce the stockholder list and other requested stockholder materials and (ii) schedule an appropriate Special Meeting in which are nominees will be elected and you and the rest of the board will be removed.

If you are advised by counsel, please advise the undersigned immediately.

We fully expect compliance in 24 hours. Govern yourself accordingly.

Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "M. Richard Cutler". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "M." and last name "Cutler" being clearly legible.

M. Richard Cutler, Esq.
