Board of Directors of Monroe Financial Corporation

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Monroe Financial Corporation as of December 31, 2001 that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. Note 1 Nature of Operations and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations—Monroe Financial Corporation (the "Company") is a registered securities broker-dealer. The Company provides brokerage services to retail customers primarily in the Midwest. Customer transactions are cleared through another broker-dealer on a fully disclosed basis.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Income Recognition—Securities transactions and the related commission revenue and expenses are recorded on trade date.

Money Market Fund—The money market fund is a short-term investment in redeemable securities of a registered investment company.

Income Taxes—No provision has been made for Federal income taxes as the Company has elected to be taxed as an "S corporation" under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and, accordingly, income is taxable to the stockholders. In January 2002, the Company distributed a total of $75,000 to stockholders to compensate for tax liabilities incurred.

Note 2 Off-Balance-Sheet Risk

Securities transactions of customers are introduced to and cleared through a clearing broker. Under the terms of its clearing agreement, the Company is required to guarantee the performance of its customers in meeting contracted obligations. In conjunction with the clearing broker, the Company seeks to control the risks associated with its customer activities by requiring customers to maintain collateral in compliance with various regulatory and internal guidelines. Compliance with the various guidelines are monitored daily and, pursuant to such guidelines, the customers may be required to deposit additional collateral or reduce positions where necessary.

Amounts due from the clearing broker represent a concentration of credit risk and primarily relate to commissions receivable on securities transactions and deposits. The Company does not anticipate nonperformance by customers or its clearing broker. In addition, the Company has a policy of reviewing, as considered necessary, the clearing broker with which it conducts business.

Note 3 Commitments

The Company has a lease for office and storage space that expires July 31, 2003. Minimum annual rentals, exclusive of additional rentals that may be required for increases in certain operating expenses and taxes, are as follows:

2002	$ 10,982
2003	6,406
Total	$ 17,388

Note 4 Profit Sharing Plan

The Company has a profit sharing plan that covers substantially all employees. Contributions to the plan are discretionary.

Note 5 Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1). Under this rule, the Company is required to maintain "net capital" of 6-2/3 percent of "aggregate indebtedness" or $50,000, whichever is greater, as these terms are defined.

Net capital and aggregate indebtedness change from day to day, but at December 31, 2001, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $392,827 and $50,000, respectively. The net capital rule may effectively restrict the payment of cash dividends.
