Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Directors
Frank Chappelle & Company, Inc.
Birmingham, Alabama

Gentlemen:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Frank Chappelle & Company, Inc., as of December 2001 and 2000 and the related statement of income, retained earnings and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit included examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Frank Chappelle & Company, Inc., as of December 31, 2001 and 2000 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

 NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2001 AND DECEMBER 31, 2000

SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

A) Investment Securities:

Investment securities are carried at cost as of the date of purchase. Gains or losses on the sale of securities are recognized at the time of sale. Market values of securities are reflected in Schedule 1 as of December 31, 2001.

B) The company computes depreciation on the straight line method for both financial reporting and federal income tax purposes. The estimated useful lives used to compute depreciation are as follows:

Furniture and Office Equipment	7-10 years
Automotive Equipment	5 years

C) The books and records are maintained using the accrual method in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

D) Statements of Cash Flows - For purposes of the statements of cash flows, Frank Chappelle & Company, Inc., considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less at date of purchase are carried at fair value and considered to be cash equivalents.

E) Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying disclosures. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of current events and actions the company may undertake in the future, actual results ultimately may differ from the estimates.

ELECTION OF SUB S CORPORATION STATUS FOR INCOME TAX PURPOSES:

There have been no income tax accruals on the earnings of the company for the years 2001 and 2000.

The stockholders elected to be taxed as a Sub Chapter "S" Corporation on January 1, 1990, with each shareholder paying his pro-rata share of corporate income taxes on his personal income tax return. Consequently, the corporation's financial statements reflect no income tax liability for the year 2001 and 2000.

REPORT OF INTERNAL CONTROL

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2001

FRANK CHAPPELLE & COMPANY, INC.
BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA
FOR THE YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2001

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Frank Chappelle & Company, Inc., for the year ended December 31, 2001, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17a5 (g) (1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by Frank Chappelle & Company, Inc., that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a5 (g) (1) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3 (a) (11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3 (e); (2) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13; (3) in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of Federal Reserve System; and (4) in obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of all fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by Rule 15c3-3.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a5 (g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. In addition, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

FRANK CHAPPELLE & COMPANY, INC.
BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the Internal Control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2001, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the New York Stock Exchange, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a5 (g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
