INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

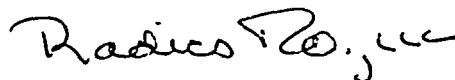

To the Board of Directors and Stockholder of Abacus International Capital Corp.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of Abacus International Capital Corp. (a wholly owned subsidiary of Abacus Federal Savings Bank and hereafter referred to as the "Company") as of December 31, 2001, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Abacus International Capital Corp. at December 31, 2001, and the results of its operations and cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information contained on page 10 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the examination of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

The Company is exempt from provisions of Rule 15c3-3 and is not responsible for compliance with Section 4(c) of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, as all customers' accounts, as defined by such rules, are carried by the security dealer.

Actual results could differ from those estimates.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Cont'd.)

Nasdaq stock warrants

Nasdaq stock warrants were issued in conjunction with a restructuring of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"). The Company, as a member of NASD, was entitled to purchase 300 warrants at $11 per warrant. Each warrant entitled the Company to purchase four shares of common stock of The NASDAQ STOCK MARKET, INC. Such shares are allocated to four tranches. The warrants become exercisable for 300 shares of stock each on June 28, 2002, June 30, 2003, June 26, 2004 and June 28, 2005 at $13.00, $14.00, $15.00 and $16.00, respectively, per share. Each exercise period expires the day before the next exercise period commences. As the warrants are not readily marketable, the Company is carrying them at cost.

Furniture and fixtures are amortized over a useful life of five years and are recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation.

3. INCOME TAXES (BENEFIT)

Income taxes (benefit) is comprised of the following:

Current federal income taxes (benefit)	$ (19,199)
Current state/city franchise taxes	(17,983)
	$ (37,182)

The following table presents a reconciliation between the reported income taxes (benefit) and the income taxes (benefit) that would have been computed by applying the normal federal income tax rate of 34% to (loss) before income taxes (benefit):

Federal income taxes (benefit)	$ (21,034)
Add effect of:
State/city franchise taxes	(11,869)
Other	(4,279)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

3. INCOME TAXES (BENEFIT) (Cont'd.)

Deferred income taxes are recognized for the tax consequences of "temporary differences" by applying the applicable income tax rate to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts and the tax basis of existing assets and liabilities. In addition, deferred tax assets are provided for the future tax benefits of net operating loss carryforwards. Net operating loss carryforwards existing prior to the date of acquisition of the Company by Abacus Federal Savings Bank (AFSB") total approximately $39,819 and expire at various times through December 31, 2014. These net operating loss carryforwards may only be utilized to offset future taxable income of the Company. As the Company has a history of losses, a 100% valuation allowance has been established against the deferred tax asset of $13,538 at December 31, 2001.

4. NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

The Company is a member of the NASD and subject to the SEC's Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital of $5,000 and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2001, the Company had net capital of $53,113, which was in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. The Company's percentage of aggregate indebtedness to net capital is 5% at December 31, 2001.

5. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company maintains an office within the facilities of AFSB. AFSB also provides various administrative and office services to the Company. During 2001, the fair value of these services were insignificant, and are not included in these financial statements. AFSB's president and Chairman of the Board is also the Company's president.

6. CONTINGENT LIABILITY

In the normal course of business, the Company is engaged in various trading and brokerage activities on an agency basis through a clearing broker.

In connection with these activities, a customer's unsettled transactions may expose the Company to off-balance-sheet risk in the event the customer is unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

Significant credit exposure may result in the event that the Company's clearing broker is unable to fulfill its contractual obligation.

7. LIQUIDITY

The Company's financial statements have been presented on the basis that it is a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and the satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company has suffered recurring losses since inception. However, the Company's parent, AFSB, has demonstrated the willingness and ability to fund the Company's losses and is expected to continue to do so.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17a-5

To the Board of Directors of
Abacus International Capital Corp.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplementary information of Abacus International Capital Corp. (the "Company") for the year ended December 31, 2001, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

This report recognizes that it is not practicable in an organization the size of the Company to have complete segregation of duties and/or other controls generally included in a system of internal control and that, alternatively, greater reliance must be placed on supervision by management.

To the Board of Directors of
Abacus International Capital Corp.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2001, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than those specified parties.
