Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Feil Daily Investment Co. operates exclusively as a securities broker/dealer and is accordingly required to abide by all applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers and other regulatory bodies.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Securities transactions (and related revenue and expenses) are recorded on the settlement date of the transactions.

Securities owned are valued at quoted market prices consistent with industry practice.

Property and equipment items are stated at cost and are depreciated over their estimated useful lives using the straight-line depreciation method.

Maintenance and repairs are charged to income as incurred.

Feil Daily Investment Co. has elected S Corporation status for Federal income tax purposes. Therefore, net income passes through to the individual shareholders according to the applicable provision of the law. No provision for income taxes has been made consequently, by the Company.

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid debt instruments with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Net capital and aggregate indebtedness change from day to day, but at December 31, 2001, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $70,498 and $50,000 respectively. The net capital rule may effectively restrict the payment of cash dividends.
