TEFRON LTD. FILES PATENT FOR TWO-PLY SUPPORT GARMENT

Bnei-Brak, Israel, January 14, 2002 – Tefron Ltd. (NYSE:TFR), one of the world's leading producers of seamless intimate apparel, today announced that it has applied for a patent for a two-ply support garment.

Long recognized for its innovative technology in the intimate apparel, active wear, sportswear and swimwear industry the Company has filed its most recent patent for a fabric that is made less resistant to stretching by a bonding process. The resultant fabric can provide increased support and/or shaping properties in selected areas of a garment.

Mr. Yos Shiran, Chief Executive Officer of Tefron commented, "We, at Tefron are always striving to improve upon our innovations in order to provide our clients with highest quality garments for their customers. As a result of the new technology we are able to produce different degrees of stretch and support in one piece of fabric, providing today's women with a bra that melds to the body and delivers new dimensions in terms of comfort and fit."

Tefron is introducing this new product to its customers and has been receiving an enthusiastic response to its latest technological advancement. The Company anticipates the bra being in the market place toward the end of 2002.

Tefron manufactures boutique-quality everyday seamless intimate apparel sold throughout the world by such name-brand marketers as Victoria's Secret, Gap, Banana Republic, Target, Nike, DKNY, DIM and Schiesser, as well as three other well-known American designer labels.
