CONSTRUCTION STARTS ON GOLD COAST CONVENTION & EXHIBITION CENTRE

An historic milestone in Gold Coast tourism was reached today (8 February 2002) when Premier Peter Beattie performed the ground breaking ceremony to mark the construction of the Gold Coast Convention & Exhibition Centre at Broadbeach.

The centre will provide a vital stimulus for the local economy, creating over 3000 jobs in the construction phase alone and once operational the direct and flow-on effects through the community are estimated to create over 1500 jobs per year once in operation.

Jupiters Limited Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer, Rob Hines, said "It was exciting to see the much-anticipated landmark project finally begin."

"The centre will provide enormous benefits for business right across south-east Queensland and, more specifically, for the Gold Coast tourism industry," Mr Hines said.

"Research has repeatedly shown that the Gold Coast is the most preferred conference destination in Australia for delegates wanting to take partners.

Mr Hines said Jupiters Limited appreciated the strong support it was receiving from the local community.

Mr Peter Trathen, Jupiters Limited Group General Manager of Development said "The centre will be able to host events for up to 6000 people - anything from a small meeting to major international exhibitions, conferences, shows or sporting events.

"In convention mode, it will have the capability to cater for groups from 6 to 2000 people.

Mr Trathen said nine months would be spent preparing the 5.74-hectare site for the construction of the centre, which will be owned by the people of Queensland and developed and managed by Jupiters Limited. The complex would be completed in the second quarter of 2004. Bookings were already being taken for events in 2004 and beyond.

As part of the project, Jupiters Limited has undertaken to develop the surrounding Broadbeach parkland, add a nature boardwalk and enhance the existing landscaping.

A new bridge will be constructed at TE Peters Drive and a new boat ramp will replace the existing facility.

The Broadbeach Senior Citizens will get a new, purpose-designed facility adjacent to TE Peters Drive.

The four-level GCCEC will have undercover parking for 1400 cars.
