INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Ms. Patricia Kemble Isaac,
Mutual Funds Broker
Fresno, CA 93720

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition as of December 31, 2001 and the related statements of income, sole proprietor's capital and cash flows for the years then ended that are filed pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Security Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of Ms. Patricia Kemble Isaac, Mutual Funds Broker. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note 1, no provision for income tax has been made in the statements, as these taxes are the personal obligation of the proprietor.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Ms. Patricia Kemble Isaac, Mutual Funds Broker at December 31, 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Notes to the Financial Statement

December 31, 2001

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF ACTIVITIES AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Nature of Activities

Patricia Kemble Isaac utilizes the accrual basis of accounting in her proprietorship. The proprietor prepares her personal income tax returns on the cash method of accounting. These financial statements do not include Ms. Isaac's personal assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses. Therefore, no provision for income tax has been made. As a security dealer with only commission income, Ms. Isaac's business is solely of the offering of Mutual Funds on a subscription basis and operates pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (k) (1) of Sec rule 15C 3-3 and does not hold customer funds or securities. The firm maintains minimum Capital of $5,000.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents are considered to be short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

Nature of Estimates

The preparation of financial statement in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Depreciation

Patricia Kemble Isaac uses the straight-line method over useful life to depreciate the office equipment purchased.

NOTE 2 – PREPAID AND ACCRUED EXPENSES

Although the financial statement has been prepared on an accrual basis, there was no material amount of prepaid or accrued expense for 2001.

NOTE 3 – OTHER ASSET

Patricia Kemble Isaac was offered the opportunity to purchase 300 shares of NSAD Warrants for $11/share. The Warrants are not exercisable until June 28, 2002.

*Report on Internal Control Required by SEC
Rule 17a-5 for a Broker-Dealer Claiming an Exemption From SEC Rule 15c3-3
December 31, 2001*

Ms. Patricia Kemble Isaac,
Mutual Funds Broker
Fresno, CA 93720

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of Patricia Kemble Isaac, Mutual Funds Broker (the Company), for the year ended December 31, 2001, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the consolidated financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2001, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of Patricia Kemble Isaac, Mutual Fund Broker, the SEC, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
