To the Sole Proprietor
J. Brian Schaer, Sole Proprietor

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of J. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Sole Proprietor. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement of financial condition. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

NOTES TO STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION
as of December 31, 2001

1. Organization and Business

J. Brian Schaer, Sole Proprietor (the "Sole Proprietor") is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is a member of the Chicago Board Options Exchange. The Sole Proprietor engages primarily in the proprietary trading of exchange-traded equity securities, equity options, index options, futures contracts and options on futures contracts.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Securities transactions and related commission revenue and expenses are recorded on a settlement date basis. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles normally requires an entity to record securities transactions on a trade date basis, however, a majority of brokers and dealers record most securities transactions on the settlement date rather than on the trade date. The difference between trade date and settlement date accounting is not material to the Sole Proprietor's financial position at December 31, 2001, nor material to the results of its operations for the year then ended.

Income Taxes

No provision has been made for income taxes as the taxable income or loss is included in the income tax return of the Sole Proprietor.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires the Sole Proprietor to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Securities owned, securities sold, not yet purchased, and other financial instruments used for trading purposes are recorded in the statement of financial condition at market value, with related unrealized profit or loss included in net trading gain in the statement of operations. As the Sole Proprietor operates as a broker-dealer, all financial instruments are stated at a value that approximates fair value.

as of December 31, 2001

4. Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Risk and Concentration of Credit Risk

In the normal course of business the Sole Proprietor enters into transactions in derivative financial instruments and other financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk which include exchange-traded equity and index options, futures contracts, options on futures contracts and short stocks.

Futures contracts provide for the delayed delivery/receipt of securities or money market instruments with the seller/buyer agreeing to make /take delivery at a specified date, at a specified price.

Options and options on futures contracts grant the purchaser, for the payment of a premium, the right to either purchase from or sell to the writer a specified instrument under agreed terms. As a writer of options and options on futures contracts, the Sole Proprietor receives a premium in exchange for bearing the risk of unfavorable changes in the price of the securities or money market instruments underlying the options.

Securities sold, not yet purchased, represent obligations of the Sole Proprietor to deliver specified securities and thereby create a liability to repurchase the securities in the market at prevailing prices. These transactions may result in off-balance sheet risk as the Sole Proprietor's ultimate obligation to satisfy its obligation for securities sold, not yet purchased may exceed the amount recognized in the statement of financial condition.

All financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk and other derivative financial instruments are held for trading purposes.

Risk arises from the potential inability of counterparties or exchanges to perform under the terms of the contracts (credit risk) and from changes in the values of securities, interest rates, currency exchange rates or equity index values (market risk).

The contractual or notional amounts related to derivative financial instruments reflect the volume and activity and do not reflect the amounts at risk. At December 31, 2001 the Sole Proprietor held no open futures or futures options contracts. At December 31, 2001, the contract or notional amounts of derivative financial instruments held for trading purposes were approximately as follows:

Equity and index options held	$	314,000
Equity and index options written		268,000

In the Sole Proprietor's opinion, market risk is substantially diminished when all financial instruments, including stocks owned and sold, not yet purchased, are aggregated.

At December 31, 2001, a significant credit concentration consisted of approximately $1 million, representing the market value of the Sole Proprietor's trading accounts carried by the clearing broker, First Options of Chicago, Inc. The Sole Proprietor does not consider any credit risk associated with this receivable to be significant.

as of December 31, 2001

5. Trading Activities

The Sole Proprietor trades in exchange traded equities, equity options, index options, futures contracts and options on futures contracts.

The fair value of derivatives represents unrealized gains and losses on open futures contracts and options contracts at market value. At December 31, 2001, the Sole Proprietor held no open futures or futures options contracts. The following table discloses the approximate fair values of derivative financial instruments held for trading as of December 31, 2001, as well as the approximate quarterly average fair values of derivatives held during 2001:

	December 31, 2001	Average During 2001
Equity & index options assets	$ 1,475,000	$ 370,000
Equity & index options liabilities	(2,700,000)	(670,000)

6. Net Capital Requirements

The Sole Proprietor is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15(c)3-1) and has elected to use the basic method as permitted by this rule. Under this rule, the Sole Proprietor is required to maintain "net capital" equal to the greater of $100,000 or 6 and 2/3 % of "aggregate indebtedness", as defined.

At December 31, 2001, the Sole Proprietor had net capital and net capital requirements of $1,005,503 and $100,000, respectively.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Sole Proprietor of
J. Brian Schaer, Sole Proprietor

In planning and performing our audit of the statement of financial condition of J. Brian Schaer, Sole Proprietor (the "Sole Proprietor") as of December 31, 2001, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding customer and firm assets, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statement and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17A-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Sole Proprietor, including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in 17a-5(g), in the following:

1. Making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e)
2. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
4. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of a fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by rule 15c3-3

The Sole Proprietor is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Sole Proprietor has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principals. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Sole Proprietor's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2001 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC, the Chicago Board Options Exchange and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.
