PRINTERON AND RIM ALLIANCE ENABLES PRINTING/VIEWING/FAXING SOLUTION FOR BLACKBERRY

Internet printing boosts productivity for mobile professionals

Kitchener-Waterloo, Ontario –Research In Motion Limited (RIM) (Nasdaq: RIMM; TSE:RIM) and PrinterOn Corporation today announced an alliance to deliver and market PrinterOn's Wireless Internet Printing application for BlackBerry™.

Called PrinterOn PocketWhere for BlackBerry, the mobile application combines viewing, faxing and printing capabilities for email and email attachments to offer true mobile printing.

Now available for corporate and individual customers, PocketWhere lets BlackBerry users experience the power and convenience of wireless printing and faxing. Users can output documents directly from their BlackBerry menu and accurately view Web pages and attachments in over 150 file formats from a multitude of networked printers or fax machines*.

"Our customers use BlackBerry to increase their mobile productivity and responsiveness through better management of their communications and workflow," said Mark Guibert, Vice President, Brand Management at Research In Motion. "PrinterOn's PocketWhere application adds another layer of utility and productivity by allowing users to view, fax and print email attachments from their BlackBerry Wireless Handhelds."

"A major problem faced by mobile professionals is how to print conveniently on the road," said Stephen Hearn, Vice President, Sales at PrinterOn Corporation. "By joining forces, RIM and PrinterOn are enhancing the entire concept of workforce mobility -- providing mobile professionals with the means to conveniently view and output documents, wherever they are."

PrinterOn and RIM will demonstrate the benefits of PocketWhere for BlackBerry at COMDEX Chicago, Booth #1603, March 5-7th, 2002.

About PrinterOn PocketWhere for BlackBerry

PrinterOn PocketWhere for BlackBerry integrates viewing, faxing, and printing for BlackBerry while connecting users directly to printers. PocketWhere enables viewing of email attachments (over 150 file formats supported) and printing to a multitude of networked printers*. Enterprises and service providers can use PocketWhere to easily make their printers securely accessible to employees, customers and partners. Once an email message or attachment has been opened, BlackBerry users choose either a fax machine or a printer from PrinterOn's Global Printer Directory, and click "print".

Other features include:

- Hosted (ASP) and enterprise server solutions available
- View, fax and print from BlackBerry drop-down menus
- View, fax and print Web pages
