INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of
Headwaters Capital, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Headwaters Capital, LLC as of December 31, 2001, and the related statements of operations, changes in members' equity capital, changes in liabilities subordinated to claims of general creditors and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Headwaters Capital, LLC as of December 31, 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the supplementary schedules is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

HEADWATERS CAPITAL, LLC

NOTES TO STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION as of December 31, 2001

1. Organization

Headwaters Capital, LLC (the "Company"), a California limited liability company, was organized on February 24, 1999. The Company is a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is a member of the Pacific Exchange, Inc. (the "PCX"), the American Stock Exchange (the "AMEX") and the Philadelphia Stock Exchange (the "PHLX"). The Company is a market maker on the PCX, the AMEX and the PHLX and engages primarily in the proprietary trading of exchange-traded equity securities and equity options contracts.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition and Securities Valuation

Securities transactions and related commission revenue and expenses are recorded on a settlement date basis. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles normally requires an entity to record securities transactions on a trade date basis. However, a majority of brokers and dealers record most securities transactions on the settlement date rather than on the trade date. The difference between trade date and settlement date accounting is not material to the Company's financial position at December 31, 2001, nor material to the results of its operations for the year then ended.

Income Taxes

No provision has been made for federal income taxes, as the taxable income of the Company is included in the respective income tax returns of the members. However, certain states, in which the Company conducts business, impose nominal limited liability company fees and taxes. These fees and taxes, imposed at the Company level, are included in other expenses in the statement of operations.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Depreciation

Depreciation of furniture and equipment is computed using the straight-line method for financial reporting and accelerated methods for income tax purposes.

3. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

Securities owned, securities sold, not yet purchased, and other financial instruments used for trading purposes are recorded in the statement of financial condition at market value, with related unrealized profit or loss included in net trading gain in the statement of operations. As the Company operates as a broker-dealer, all financial instruments are stated at a value that approximates fair value.

4. Agreements and Related-Party Transactions

The Company has a Joint Back Office ("JBO") clearing agreement with First Options of Chicago, Inc. ("FOC"). The agreement allows JBO participants to receive favorable margin treatment as compared to the full customer margin requirements of Regulation T. As part of this agreement, the Company has invested $10,000 in the preferred shares of FOC. The Company's investment in FOC is reflected in other assets in the statement of financial condition. Under the rules of the Pacific Exchange, Inc., the agreement requires that the Company maintain a minimum net liquidating equity of $1 million with FOC, exclusive of the preferred stock investment.

At December 31, 2001, the Company had a receivable from Headwaters Holdings, LLC ("HWH") totaling $4,000,000. HWH is the Company's managing member. Additionally, the Company had loans payable to officers totaling $785,000. The loans bear interest at 11% and are payable on January 2, 2002.

5. Bank Loans Payable

At December 31, 2001, the Company had short-term borrowings under a $500,000 personal line of credit that totaled $45,000. The borrowings bear interest at 5.75% and are personally guaranteed by a member of HWH.

6. Trading Activities

The Company trades in exchange traded equities and equity options contracts.

The fair value of derivatives represents long and short options contracts at market value. The following table discloses the approximate fair values of derivative financial instruments held for trading as of December 31, 2001, as well as the approximate quarterly average fair values of derivatives held during 2001:

	December 31, 2001	Average During 2001
Options held	$ 52,744,000	$ 82,031,000
Options written	77,225,000	121,539,000

7. Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15(c)3-1) and has elected to use the basic method as permitted by this rule. Under this rule, the Company is required to maintain "net capital" equal to the greater of $100,000 or 6 and 2/3 % of "aggregate indebtedness", as defined.

At December 31, 2001, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of approximately $28,551,000 and $555,000, respectively.

as of December 31, 2001

8. Financial Instruments with Off-Balance Sheet Risk and Concentration of Credit Risk

In the normal course of business the Company enters into transactions in derivative financial instruments and other financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk which include exchange-traded equity options contracts and short stocks.

Options contracts grant the purchaser, for the payment of a premium, the right to either purchase from or sell to the writer a specified instrument under agreed terms. As a writer of options contracts, the Company receives a premium in exchange for bearing the risk of unfavorable changes in the price of the securities underlying the options.

Securities sold, not yet purchased, represent obligations of the Company to deliver specified securities and thereby create a liability to repurchase the securities in the market at prevailing prices. These transactions may result in off-balance sheet risk as the Company's ultimate obligation to satisfy its obligation for securities sold, not yet purchased may exceed the amount recognized in the statement of financial condition.

All financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk and other derivative financial instruments are held for trading purposes.

Risk arises from the potential inability of counterparties or exchanges to perform under the terms of the contracts (credit risk) and from changes in the values of securities, interest rates, currency exchange rates or equity index values (market risk).

The contractual or notional amounts related to derivative financial instruments reflect the volume and activity and do not reflect the amounts at risk. At December 31, 2001, the contract or notional amounts of derivative financial instruments used for trading purposes were approximately as follows:

	$ Millions
Options held	730
Options written	600

In management's opinion, the market risk is substantially diminished when all financial instruments, including stocks owned and sold, not yet purchased, are aggregated.

At December 31, 2001, a significant credit concentration consisted of approximately $68.6 million, representing the market value of the Company's trading accounts carried by its clearing broker, First Options of Chicago, Inc. Management does not consider any credit risk associated with this net receivable to be significant.

9. Employee Benefit Plans

The Company has established a profit sharing/401(k) plan for qualified employees. The Company may elect to match employees' contributions and make further discretionary contributions to the plan, subject to certain limitations as set forth in the plan agreement.

The Company has also established a defined contribution pension plan covering substantially all of its full-time employees. The pension plan requires annual payments of 5.7% of annual compensation, as defined, and has further minimum contribution requirements as set forth in the plan agreement.

10. Contingencies

In the normal course of business, the Company is subject to regulatory investigations and related determinations and charges, which may involve monetary settlements and disciplinary sanctions. In the opinion of management, based on consultation with legal counsel, these actions will not result in any material or adverse effect on the Company's operations or financial position.

11. Subsequent Events

During January 2002, capital withdrawals totaled approximately $27.5 million. For the month ended January 31, 2002, the Company had net income of approximately $3 million.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Members of
Headwaters Capital, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the statement of financial condition of Headwaters Capital, LLC (the "Company") as of December 31, 2001, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding customer and firm assets, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statement and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

Also, as required by rule 17A-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in 17a-5(g), in the following:

1. Making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by rule 15c3-3(e)
2. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
4. Obtaining and maintaining physical possession or control of a fully paid and excess margin securities of customers as required by rule 15c3-3

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principals. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2001 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the SEC, the Pacific Exchange, Inc., and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.
