INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Member of
Subert Securities, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Subert Securities, LLC as of March 29, 2002. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the statement of financial condition is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the statement of financial condition. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall statement of financial condition presentation. We believe that our audit of the statement of financial condition provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the statement of financial condition referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Subert Securities, LLC as of March 29, 2002 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL CONDITION March 29, 2002

1. ORGANIZATION
AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

Subert Securities, LLC (the "Company") is a broker-dealer in securities registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. The Company engages in proprietary trading and acts as an introducing broker.

Effective January 1, 2002, the Managing Member of the Company transferred his entire interest in the Company to Schonfeld Group Holdings, LLC (the "Parent").

Securities owned, not readily marketable, are carried at cost which approximates fair value as determined by management.

The Company records proprietary and agency transactions in securities and the related revenue and expenses on a trade-date basis.

No provision for federal and state income taxes has been made as the Company has elected to be treated as a limited liability company. The Company's income or loss is reportable by its Member on its tax return.

The Company maintains cash in bank accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. The Company has not experienced any losses in such accounts and does not believe it is exposed to any significant credit risk on cash.

The preparation of the statement of financial condition in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of estimates by management.

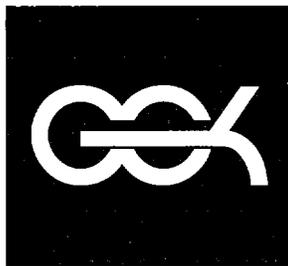

The Company's fiscal year ends on the last Friday in March. The fiscal year ended March 29, 2002 contained 52 weeks.

2. RELATED PARTY
TRANSACTIONS:

The Company employs the services of an affiliated entity (the "Affiliate"), a registered broker-dealer, for the clearance of proprietary transactions. There were no such transactions for the year ended March 29, 2002. Additionally, the Company reimburses the Affiliate for certain expenses that the Affiliate has paid on the Company's behalf, and certain services are provided at no cost to the Company. Certain services are provided by the Members of the Parent at no cost to the Company.

3. NET CAPITAL
REQUIREMENT:

As a registered broker-dealer, the Company is subject to the SEC's Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1. The rule requires that the Company maintain minimum net capital, as defined, of 6-2/3% of aggregate indebtedness, as defined, or $100,000, whichever is greater. Net capital changes from day to day, but at March 29, 2002, the Company had net capital of $173,463, which exceeded its requirement of $100,000 by $73,463.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL

To the Member of
Subert Securities, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedule of Subert Securities, LLC (the "Company") for the year ended March 29, 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at March 29, 2002 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report recognizes that it is not practicable in an organization the size of Subert Securities, LLC to achieve all the divisions of duties and cross-checks generally included in a system of internal control and that, alternatively, greater reliance must be placed on surveillance by management.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and any other regulatory agencies which rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
