Report of Independent Auditors

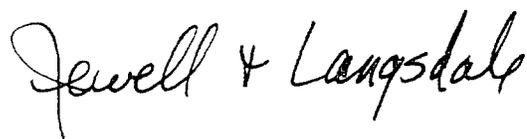

The Board of Directors
WP Securities, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of WP Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2001 and 2000 and the related statements of income (loss), changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of WP Securities, Inc. at December 31, 2001 and 2000, the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, and III is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

WP SECURITIES, INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2001 AND 2000

1. Summary of significant accounting policies

Property and depreciation - Furniture and equipment used in the business are stated at cost. Depreciation is provided on the straight line method over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets. Maintenance and repairs are expensed as incurred.

Reorganization of stockholders' equity - A quasi-reorganization of the retained earnings and common stock accounts occurred during the year ended December 31, 2001. The carrying values of assets were not affected by the restatement of stockholders' equity.

Revenue and expense recognition - Revenue is recognized at the time the income is earned. Expenses are recorded when incurred.

2. Organization

WP Securities, Inc. was organized as a corporation under the laws of California on March 12, 1990. During June 1990, the Company opened offices in Stockton and Walnut Creek and commenced operations as "Western Pacific Securities". The Stockton office was closed and a Fresno office was established during the year ended December 31, 2000. The Walnut Creek office closed during the year ended December 31, 2001 and operations are now conducted solely by the Fresno office of the Company. The Company is a full line securities firm eligible to operate and sell securities in the states of California and North Carolina.

Effective December 31, 2000, ownership of 100% of the outstanding shares was transferred. The former stockholders remained with the Company as principals until November 15, 2001.

3. Furniture and Equipment

The cost of furniture and equipment at December 31, 2001 and 2000 was $13,858 and $7,823, respectively. Depreciation expense, based upon useful lives ranging from five to seven years, was $2,808 for the year ended December 31, 2001.

Board of Directors
WP Securities, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of WP Securities, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2001, we considered its internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure.

We also made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2001 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
