ACCOUNTANTS' SUPPLEMENTARY REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL

To the Directors of
Eastlake Securities, Inc.

We have audited the financial statements of Eastlake Securities, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2001 and have issued our report thereon dated February 4, 2002. As part of our audit, we made a study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal accounting control (which includes the procedures for safeguarding securities) to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards. The purpose of our study and evaluation, which included obtaining an understanding of the accounting system, was to determine the nature, timing, and extent of the auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by Eastlake Securities, Inc., that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), (i) in making the periodic computations of net capital and aggregate indebtedness under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the procedures for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3; (ii) in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities of Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system of internal accounting control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures, and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the Commission's above-mentioned objectives. The objectives of a system and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal accounting control structure, procedures or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or irregularities may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions that the degree of compliance with them may deteriorate, or the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation made for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph would not necessarily disclose all material weaknesses in the system. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the system of internal accounting control of Eastlake Securities, Inc. taken as a whole. However, our study and evaluation disclosed no condition that we believed to be a material weakness.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2001 to meet the Commission's objectives.

In addition, our review indicated that Eastlake Securities, Inc. was in compliance with the conditions of exemptions from Rule 15c3-3 pursuant to paragraph k(2)(ii) as of December 31, 2001 and no facts came to our attention to indicate that such conditions had not been complied with during the period.

This report recognizes that it is not practicable in an organization the size of Eastlake Securities, Inc. to achieve all the divisions of duties and cross-checks generally included in a system of internal accounting control and that alternatively greater reliance must be placed on surveillance by management.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and should not be used for any other purpose.

EASTLAKE SECURITIES, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 2001

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

- A. Transactions in securities and related commission revenue and expense are recorded on a trade date basis. Securities owned or sold but not yet purchased, if any, are valued at quoted market values with the resulting unrealized gains and losses reflected in operations.
- B. Depreciation of furniture and equipment is provided using various methods over the estimated useful lives of such assets.
- C. The Company's investments in non-publicly or readily traded entities have been stated at fair value as determined by the Board of Directors of the Company, in good faith after using all relevant information. These values do not necessarily represent amounts which might ultimately be realized upon sale or other disposition of the investments. The above entities are valued at $12,190.
- D. Eastlake Securities, Inc. (the "Company") is a registered broker/dealer in securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities and, accordingly, is exempt from Rule 15c3-3. All securities transactions are cleared through a clearing broker.
- E. Securities sold but not yet purchased, if any, represent obligations of the Company to deliver the specified security at the contracted price, and thereby create a liability to repurchase the security in the market at prevailing prices. Accordingly, these transactions result in off-balance sheet risk, as the Company's ultimate obligation, where applicable, to satisfy the sale of securities sold but not yet purchased may exceed the amount recognized in the statement of financial condition.

EASTLAKE SECURITIES, INC.

DECEMBER 31, 2001

2. NET CAPITAL REQUIREMENT

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission's Net Capital Rule 15c3-1 requiring its net capital, as defined, to be at least the greater of $100,000 or one-fifteenth of aggregate indebtedness, as defined. Net capital and aggregate indebtedness change from day to day, but as of December 31, 2001 the Company had net capital of $2,022,946 which exceeded requirements of $100,000 by $1,922,946.

3. CONTINGENCIES

There is no pending or contemplated material litigation in which claim has been made against the Company which is considered a material loss contingency.

The Company is obligated under a lease for office facilities ending on September 15, 2002. The minimum annual rental costs during the term of the lease is $98,367. The lease contains the usual escalation clauses for taxes and operating costs.

4. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

During a prior fiscal year the Company agreed to buy back 20 shares of common stock of the Company, which were previously acquired by two shareholders who were officers of the Company, and 15 shares owned by related parties of the principal shareholder. The acquisition price was $2,354,867.

5. EMPLOYEE PROFIT SHARING PLAN

The Company terminated its profit sharing plan during a prior fiscal period. No liability exists in connection with the terminated plan.

A copy of the Statement of Financial Condition filed pursuant to Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission is available for inspection at the Company's office and the New York Regional Office of the Commission.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Directors of
Eastlake Securities, Inc.

We have audited the statement of financial condition of Eastlake Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2001, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Eastlake Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

As discussed in Note 1, the financial statements include investments in non-publicly or readily traded entities as of December 31, 2001, which have been valued at fair value as determined by the Board of Directors, in the absence of readily ascertainable market values. We have reviewed the procedures applied by the Directors in arriving at its estimate of value in such investments and have inspected underlying documentation, and, in the circumstances, we believe the procedures are reasonable and the documentation appropriate. However, because of the inherent uncertainty of the valuations, the Board of Directors' estimates of fair value may differ significantly from the value that would have been used had a ready market existed for the investments, and the differences may be material.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained on page 9 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.
