Media Release
26 February 2002

Mayne acquires Port Macquarie Medical Imaging

Mayne today announced the acquisition of Port Macquarie Medical Imaging in NSW. The acquisition brings a total of 13 new sites and includes Mayne providing diagnostic imaging services for inpatients and outpatients at its Port Macquarie Private Hospital and also the Port Macquarie Base Hospital, which has a funded MRI licence.

Mayne Chief Operating Officer, Stuart James, said the move was consistent with Mayne's aim to build its diagnostic imaging business with high quality services.

"The Port Macquarie Medical Imaging business will complement our existing health care network in NSW and continues to grow our total health services to the community," Mr James said.
