BT ACQUIRES THE ASSETS AND BUSINESS OF SCOOT.COM PLC

BT Group plc ("BT") today announced that it has entered into an agreement to acquire the assets and business of Scoot.com plc ("Scoot"), the business finder directory service. The consideration will comprise cash of £5 million and the assumption of deferred income balances and certain lease liabilities totalling approximately £3 million. The transaction, which will be unanimously recommended by the board of Scoot, is conditional only upon the approval of Scoot's shareholders. BT has received undertakings to vote in favour of the transaction from shareholders representing 26.3 per cent of the issued share capital of Scoot.

BT intends to integrate Scoot's assets into BT Retail's Operator & Directory Services business, strengthening BT's position as Europe's leading directory enquiries provider.

The forthcoming deregulation of directory enquiry services in the UK will allow BT to offer a much fuller range of services to its customers, as the boundaries between directory enquiries and the classified listing markets are removed.

Pierre Danon, CEO of BT Retail, commented “The acquisition of the Scoot business is an exciting development for BT Retail. Scoot has been very successful in developing a comprehensive classified listings database and in establishing a highly efficient classified search engine. The Scoot brand is well recognised and highly regarded. We will be making a wider strategy announcement giving further details of BT Retail’s directory enquiries strategy in due course.” The board of Scoot intends to despatch a circular shortly, in respect of the transaction, to Scoot’s shareholders. It is expected that the transaction will complete after the EGM of Scoot shareholders to approve the transaction.

BT APPOINTS NEW NON-EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

BT Group today announced the appointment of Clayton Brendish to the board of BT Group plc as a non-executive director. Mr Brendish, who will join the board on 1 September, 2002, is the former deputy chairman of CMG plc, and the founder and executive chairman of Admiral plc.

Sir Christopher Bland, chairman of BT, said: "I am delighted to welcome Clay to the board. He brings with him a wealth of experience in the information technology industry gained from a variety of entrepreneurial and non-executive roles. He will make a major contribution to our deliberations as we continue to drive the BT Group forward."

The appointment means that BT will have a majority of independent non-executive directors on its board.

Notes to Editors:

BIOGRAPHICAL DETAILS

Mr Clayton Brendish

Clay Brendish, 55, is a former executive deputy Chairman of CMG plc having joined the board when it acquired Admiral. Having overseen the first year of integration, he announced his retirement in May 2001. Clay Brendish was co-founder and executive chairman of Admiral in 1979. He has also acted as an advisor to the Government on the efficiency of the Civil Service, working as an advisor to the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster and the Office of Public Services on their respective Next Steps Agencies. He also played a prominent role in the privatisation of HMSO, the Civil Service Occupational Health & Safety Agency (OHSA) and Recruitment and Assessment Services (RAS).

Clay is president of the Chartered Management Institute; a trustee of Economist Newspapers Ltd; a council member of City University of London; non-executive chairman of Beacon Investment Fund; and a non-executive director of Elexon Ltd, Herald Investment Trust Plc, and QinetiQ. He has recently stepped down as an external non-executive member of the PricewaterhouseCoopers Corporate Finance Advisory Board, and is stepping down shortly as a member of the Independent Television Commission.
