Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Directors
Capital Investment Group, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Capital Investment Group, Inc. (the "Company") as of December 31, 2001 and 2000, and the related statements of income and retained earnings and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2001 and 2000, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules 1-3 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audits of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT GROUP, INC.

Notes to Financial Statements

Years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000

(1) Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

The Company was incorporated as Capital Investment Group, Inc., a North Carolina corporation, on January 4, 1984 to provide investment services to investors as a fully disclosed introducing broker-dealer. The Company operates as Capital Investment Group, Inc. in North Carolina and is licensed to operate in all other forty-seven contiguous states plus Alaska. It operates in states other than North Carolina primarily through independent representatives.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue from securities transactions on a trade date basis.

Basis of Presentation

The Company's policy is to prepare its financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the financial statements, cash and cash equivalents include cash, deposits in interest-bearing accounts, and other financial instruments with maturities of less than three months.

Accounts Receivable

The Company writes off doubtful receivables in amounts equal to the estimated collection losses that will be incurred. No allowance is required for 2001 and 2000.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is recorded at cost and depreciated over its estimated useful lives of five to seven years using accelerated and straight-line methods.

Income Taxes

The Company has elected S corporation status under the Internal Revenue Code whereby its income is taxed to the individual stockholders; therefore, there is no tax provision for this Company.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT GROUP, INC.

December 31, 2001 and 2000

(2) Note Receivable

Capital Investment Brokerage Inc. is a related company, which is owned by the same individuals as Capital Investment Group, Inc. These stockholders purchased certain assets from Capital Investment Group, Inc. in 1997 to form Capital Investment Brokerage, Inc. and, as a result, the stockholders have notes payable to the Company originally totaling $375,000 to be received over ten years at 7% interest with payments of $52,243, including principal and interest, due semi-annually.

(3) Investments Available-for-Sale

Investments available-for-sale are recorded at fair value. Unrealized holding gains and losses are excluded from earnings and are reported as a separate component of stockholders' equity until realized. These investments are generally held for long-term investments purposes. Dividend and interest income are recognized when earned. Realized gains and losses are included in earnings and are derived using the specific identification method of determining the cost of securities. As of December 31, 2001, investments available-for-sale consist of equity securities, and cost approximates fair value.

(4) Related Parties

The Company receives fees from Capital Investment Counsel, Inc. (a related company) as required by SEC and NASD regulations on a monthly basis for accounts under management by Capital Investment Counsel. Total fees received in 2001 and 2000 were $64,295 and $85,109, respectively.

The Company also receives fees from the Capital Value Fund, which is a balanced mutual fund managed by employees of Capital Investment Counsel, Inc. Total fees received in 2001 were $10,739.

The Company receives a monthly management fee from Capital Investment Brokerage, Inc. for services provided by its employees. Total fees received in 2001 and 2000 were $200,000 and $100,000, respectively.

(5) Lease

The Company pays rent on certain office space in Raleigh, North Carolina, which is leased by Capital Investment Counsel (a related Company) currently on a month-to-month lease for approximately $5,000 per month. The Company's portion is estimated based on the amount of space it utilizes. There is no formal agreement between the two companies.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT GROUP, INC.

Years ended December 31, 2001 and 2000

(6) Net Capital Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital. The Company has elected to use the basic method, permitted by the Rule, which requires that the Company maintain minimum net capital of $50,000, as defined, and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. As of December 31, 2001, the Company had net capital of $524,991 which was $ 474,991 in excess of required net capital and its ratio of aggregated indebtedness to net capital was 0.52 to 1.

(7) Common Stock

The authorized, issued and outstanding common stock of the Company consisted of the following as of December 31, 2001 and 2000:

| | Shares |
|---|---------------|
| Common stock - class A, voting, 50,000 shares authorized, 980 issued and outstanding | 980 |
| Common stock - class B, non-voting 500,000 shares authorized, 20 issued and outstanding | 20 |
| Total shares | 1,000 |

(8) Pension Plan

The Company maintains a defined contribution pension plan and a 401(k) profit sharing plan in accordance with applicable Internal Revenue Service guidelines. Contributions for 2001 and 2000 were $14,225 and $23,424, respectively.

(9) Litigation

The Company is subject to claims and lawsuits, which arise, primarily in the ordinary course of business. The Company does not anticipate any losses with respect to the lawsuits outstanding as of December 31, 2001, and outside counsel for the Company has advised that they cannot offer an opinion as to the probable outcomes. The Company intends to defend vigorously against these lawsuits and believes that it has valid defenses.

(10) Note Payable

The Company maintains a line of credit with a bank with a maximum credit limit of $350,000 and interest payable monthly at the bank's prime rate. The line is collateralized by accounts receivable and equipment. Total outstanding borrowings as of December 31, 2001 and 2000 were $4,603 and $5,416, respectively.

FRANKLIN T. ROBERTS
WM. JAMES BLACK, JR.

The Board of Directors and Stockholders
Capital Investment Group, Inc.:

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Capital Investment Group, Inc. (the "Company") for the year ended December 31, 2001, we considered its internal control structure in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control structure. Among the elements of the internal control structure that we considered are the accounting system and control procedures.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures (including tests of compliance with such practices and procedures) followed by the Company that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and the reserve required by Rule 15c3-3(e) and the procedures for determining compliance with the exempt provisions of Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structure policies and procedures and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. The objectives of an internal control structure and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use of disposition and transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure or the practices and procedure referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of the structure to future periods is subject to the risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation of policies and procedures may deteriorate.

Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted the following matters involving the accounting system and control procedures that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above:

The size of the business and resultant limited number of employees imposes practical limitations on the effectiveness of those control policies and procedures that depend on the segregation of duties such as processing of cash receipts, cash disbursements, and payroll. Because this condition is inherent in the size of the Company, the specific weaknesses are not described herein and no corrective action has been taken or proposed by the Company.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate as of December 31, 2001 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC and any other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
