News Release

BCE Emergis Unveils Next Generation, Global Electronic Invoicing Product

Additional functionality now available in a scalable Java-based solution

Montreal, Canada, August 20, 2002 — BCE Emergis Inc. (TSX: IFM), a leading provider of e-business services, today launched Release 3.5 of Emergis® e-Invoicing, the company's Java-based flagship product for business-to-business electronic invoice presentment and payment (EIPP).

"EIPP is becoming more appealing to buyers and sellers who have come to realize what they can gain by adopting and integrating an electronic invoicing solution," said Avivah Litan, Vice President Financial Services, Gartner Inc. "Billers can save over US$7.25 a bill by automating the billing, dispute, payment and customer service functions. Most of these savings come from new collaborative processes, such as online dispute resolution, that are not even possible in the paper world. Payers can reduce Accounts Payable overhead and save about 1% of their payables on goods eligible for cash discounts in return for faster payments. In short, working capital requirements for both billers and payers are reduced and business cycle times can dramatically improve with EIPP."

Built on the Java/Unix/Oracle development platform introduced with Release 3.0, Emergis e-Invoicing Release 3.5 was designed primarily to provide international capabilities, enhanced dispute capability, and to more efficiently integrate with existing ERP and accounting systems. The Java-based platform is also key to delivering the increased scalability, reliability and performance required by sophisticated users of EIPP solutions.

"Now, with the 3.5 Release, we can deliver the leading EIPP solution to our international customers throughout the world," said Paul Simons, Senior Product Manager for EIPP and EBPP at JPMorganChase, one of the financial institutions that resells the Emergis e-Invoicing product. "Clearly, the new multi-currency, multi-lingual capabilities position BCE Emergis as the leader on the international front."

Emergis e-Invoicing 3.5 is also the first release to utilize elements of a new suite of collaborative services offered by BCE Emergis that unite the legacy systems and workflows of disparate trading partners. When paired with this platform, Emergis e-Invoicing will offer suppliers and buyers direct ties to their ERP and accounting systems, accelerating ROI and driving widespread adoption for trading partners of all sizes.

Release 3.5 is in the process of being implemented with three new clients. Their launches are scheduled for later this year. Emergis e-Invoicing is offered to the market directly and by major telecommunications service providers in Canada. In the U.S. e-Invoicing is offered directly and through three of the top five U.S. banks, and is also referred by a fourth of the top five. More than $1 billion are processed monthly using Emergis e-Invoicing.
