News Release

Geophysicist Completes X-Cal Sleeper Team

Terry White, a top geophysicist, has joined the X-Cal Resources Ltd. Sleeper Gold Exploration Team.

In a news release dated January 10, 2003 X-Cal announced that respected Nevada mine finders Larry Kornze (previously of Barrick Gold) and Ken Synder (known for the Ken Synder Midas Mine) have also joined the team.

Keith Blair, MSc. (formerly Placer Dome), a 3-D model expert, is the team co-ordinator. Winthrop Rowe, MSc. and Larry Martin (structural geologist) complete the team.

Mr. White (formerly of Placer Dome) is the author of a very high quality magnetic survey of the Sleeper Gold Property. His work will be integrated with all other data as part of the drill hole targeting process.

The team has been given the mandate to continue the targeting process with the objective of prioritizing drill targets throughout the 30 square mile property, located in Humboldt County, Nevada.

Early phase drilling is scheduled to begin this month with testing of the "chicken track" target, located east of the mine site.
