Report of Independent Auditors

To the Membership of:
First Capital Investments, LLC

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of First Capital Investments, LLC (the "Company") as of December 31, 2002, and the related statements of operations, changes in membership capital, and cash flows for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of First Capital Investments, LLC as of December 31, 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As explained in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company conducted the majority of its operations with affiliate companies during the year ended December 31, 2002.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I, II, III, and IV is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17A-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements

(1) Organization, Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and Basis of Presentation

First Capital Investments, LLC (the "Company") was organized in the State of Colorado on April 23, 2002. As an NASD member firm, the Company may trade options, and equity securities for its own account provided the trades are cleared by a clearing broker-dealer. In addition, the Company may conduct business in private placement offerings, merger and acquisitions, corporate finance, and permissible offerings under Regulation A. First Capital Investments, Inc., its predecessor, (the "Predecessor") was incorporated in the State of Colorado on January 31, 1995 for the purpose of providing investment-banking services. Investment banking services revenue was derived principally from commissions and advisory fees.

Inherent in the Company's business are various risks and uncertainties, including its limited operating history. The Company's future success will be dependent upon its ability to create trading profits on a timely and cost-effective basis.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid securities with original maturities of three months or less when acquired to be cash equivalents.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, generally ranging from three to seven years. Leasehold improvements are amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets or the term of the lease, whichever is shorter.

Investments

Securities not readily marketable are carried at cost, as determined by management.

Intangible Assets

Intangibles consist of a securities broker-dealer license and NASD membership acquired from an unrelated third-party. Intangibles are amortized using the straight-line method over a period of five years.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

The Company evaluates the carrying value of its long-lived assets under the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets (Statement No. 144). Statement No. 144 requires impairment losses to be recorded on long-lived assets used in operations when indicators of impairment are present and the undiscounted future cash flows estimated to be generated by those assets are less than the assets' carrying amount. If such assets are impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amounts of the assets exceed the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying value or fair value, less cost to sell.

Income Taxes

The Company is taxed as a partnership under the Internal Revenue Code and a similar state statute. In lieu of income taxes, the members of the LLC are taxed on their proportionate share of the LLC's taxable income.

FIRST CAPITAL INVESTMENTS, LLC
Notes to Financial Statements

Therefore, no provision or liability for Federal or state income tax is included in the accompanying financial statements.

Securities transactions

Proprietary securities transactions are recorded on the trade date, as if they have settled. Profit and loss arising from all securities transactions entered into for the account and risk of the Company are recorded on a trade date basis. Revenues and expenses from investment banking services and commissions are recognized based on the terms of each individual agreement.

(2) Related Party Transactions

The Company recognized $20,000 in related party revenue each month for the year ended December 31, 2002 pursuant to a written agreement made with an affiliate. The agreement, which specifies no expiration date, requires the Company to provide to the affiliate basic broker-dealer operations at $20,000 per month.

The Company engaged two affiliates to consult in the field of securities trading and to assist the Company with hedge fund management and broker-dealer operations. Payments to the affiliates totalled $88,276 for the year ended December 31, 2002.

(3) Balance Sheet Components

Property and Equipment

Listed below are the major classes of property and equipment as of December 31, 2002:

Equipment.....	$ 45,627
Fixtures.....	2,345
Furniture.....	6,744
	54,716
Less: accumulated depreciation.....	(17,462)
	$ 37,254

Depreciation and amortization expense was $15,821 for the year ended December 31, 2002.

Intangible Assets

Listed below are the components of intangible assets as of December 31, 2002:

Broker-Dealer License and NASD Membership.....	$ 75,400
Less: accumulated depreciation.....	(20,080)
	$ 55,320

Amortization expense was $17,580 for the year ended December 31, 2002.

(4) Leases

The Company entered into an operating lease for its office space located in Golden, Colorado. The lease period commenced on July 1, 2001 and expires on June 30, 2004. Monthly payments under the lease are $1,815 plus a charge for common area maintenance ("CAM".) Rent expense for the year ended December 31, 2002 totaled $23,730. Future minimum lease payments, excluding CAM, are as follows:

January 1 through December 31, 2003.....	$	23,580
January 1 through December 31, 2004.....	$	12,090

(5) Members' Capital

Pursuant to the Uniform Net Capital Rule (15c3-1) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Company is required to maintain minimum net capital as defined by the Rule. Net capital may fluctuate on a daily basis. At December 31, 2002, the Company had net capital and net capital requirements of $1,320,250 and $100,000, respectively.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL
REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17A-5 FOR A BROKER-DEALER
CLAIMING AN EXEMPTION FROM SEC RULE 15c3-3

To the Membership of:
First Capital Investments, LLC

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of First Capital Investments, LLC (the "Company"), for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company, including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g), in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customers securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons
2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
3. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that the transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud, in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited, may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted the following matter involving the control environment and its operation that we consider to be a material weakness as defined above.

Segregation of Duties

The size of the business necessarily imposes practical limitation on the effectiveness of those internal control practices and procedures that rely on the segregation of duties. Since this condition is inherent in the size of the Company, the specific weaknesses are not described herein and no corrective action has been taken or proposed by the Company. The above condition was considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures to be performed in our audit of the financial statements of First Capital Investments, LLC, for the year ended December 31, 2002, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated January 28, 2003.

Periodic Computations of Net Capital under Rule 17a-3(a) (11)

We understand that the practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.
