Independent auditor's report

The Shareholder
RDM Investment Services, Inc.
Westport, Connecticut

We have audited the statement of financial condition of RDM Investment Services, Inc., as of December 31, 2002. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the statement of financial condition presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of RDM Investment Services, Inc., as of December 31, 2002, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to the statement of financial condition

December 31, 2002

Note 1. Organization and net capital

RDM Investment Services, Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated in 2000 in the state of Connecticut. The Company is registered as a broker-dealer in securities with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The Company is also a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"). As more fully described in notes three and five, the Company executes orders for a registered investment advisor (the "RIA") on behalf of that advisor's customers on a fully disclosed basis. The RIA is an affiliate.

As a registered broker-dealer the Company is subject to the Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1 of the SEC which requires that the Company maintain minimum net capital, as defined, of $50,000 or one-fifteenth of aggregate indebtedness, whichever is greater. Net capital and aggregate indebtedness change from day to day. As of December 31, 2002, the Company's net capital exceeded this requirement by approximately $257,000.

Note 2. Significant accounting policies

For financial reporting purposes, management considers all highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. At December 31, 2002, the Company maintained approximately $230,000 at one financial institution. This balance is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $100,000. The remainder of cash equivalents are in money market accounts maintained at the clearing broker.

Commission income and securities transactions are recorded on a trade date basis.

In preparing financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, management is required to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

December 31, 2002

Note 3. Brokerage activities

The Company acts on behalf of its customers to arrange for the purchases and sales of securities. The Company is exposed to losses if such customers do not satisfy their responsibilities for these trades. The Company seeks to control these risks by monitoring the activities of these customers. Transactions for the Company's customers are generally cleared through and carried by a carrying broker-dealer (a "clearing firm") on a fully disclosed basis. Accordingly, open customer transactions are not reflected in the accompanying financial statements. The Company is exposed to credit losses in the event customers fail to satisfy their obligations in connection with their securities transactions. As of December 31, 2002, customer obligations to the clearing firm were collateralized by cash and securities with market values in excess of the obligations.

Note 4. Income taxes

The parent company has elected that the Company shall be treated as a "Qualified Subchapter S Subsidiary" under the Internal Revenue Code. The Internal Revenue Service notified the parent company that the election was accepted, effective January 1, 2001. As a wholly owned and qualified subsidiary of an S corporation the Company is not liable for federal income taxes for operating income.

The Company's assets, liabilities and items of income, deduction and credit are treated as those of the S corporation parent.

Note 5. Related party transactions

RDM Investment Services, Inc. has agreed to reimburse its parent company for support services that are provided to the Company. The reimbursement is calculated at 75% of income before the support service expense.

An affiliate of the Company is also a registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. A large percentage of the Company's trades are executed on behalf of customers of this RIA on a fully disclosed basis, though a clearing broker.
