REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

The Board of Directors
Presidio Securities, Inc.
Tucson, Arizona

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of Presidio Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audits in accordance with U.S. generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Presidio Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information included in Schedule 1 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

PRESIDIO SECURITIES, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2002 and 2001

NOTE A – NATURE OF OPERATIONS, SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND USE OF ESTIMATES

Nature of Operations

Presidio Securities, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated in the State of Arizona on September 24, 1987, commenced operations in 1988, and is a securities broker and dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Bear, Stearns & Co., Inc. (Bear Stearns) acts as the Company's clearing broker to carry and clear, on a fully disclosed basis, the Company's customer accounts. The majority of the Company's commissions are generated from 5-10 institutional clients generally located in the Midwestern and Eastern U.S.

Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting policies followed by the Company and the methods of applying those policies, which materially affect the determination of its financial position, results of operations, or cash flows are summarized below.

Statement of Cash Flows – Cash Equivalents: The Company considers all short-term investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents at December 31, 2002 and 2001 include only a money market account and demand deposit accounts.

Basis of Presentation: The Company's financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Receivables: The Company uses the allowance method for recording bad debts. Management considers its receivables to be fully collectable.

Property and Equipment: Property and equipment are carried at cost. Depreciation is computed using accelerated methods with estimated lives of five to seven years.

Revenue Recognition: Commission revenues and the related expenses are recorded on the trade date.

Income Taxes: The Company, with the consent of its stockholder, has elected to be taxed as a Subchapter S corporation for Federal and State income tax purposes. Therefore, all income or loss "flows through" to the stockholder's individual income tax returns. Accordingly, no provision or liability for income taxes is reflected in these financial statements.

PRESIDIO SECURITIES, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2002 and 2001

NOTE A – NATURE OF OPERATIONS, SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND USE OF ESTIMATES (continued)

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statement Amounts

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financials statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE B – LIQUID CAPITAL REQUIREMENT

The Company is subject to the maintenance of minimum liquid capital of the greatest of $5,000 or 6-2/3% of aggregate indebtedness. At December 31, 2002, the Company had liquid capital of $252,643, which was $247,643 in excess of its required minimum capital. Additionally, the Company is subject to certain requirements under its clearing agreement with Bear Stearns (see Note F).

NOTE C – PENSION PLAN

The Company's employees are eligible to participate in a qualified profit-sharing plan (the Plan). The Plan covers substantially all full-time employees who have completed three months of service (at least 250 hours) and have attained age 21. The Plan provides for contributions by the Company in such amounts as may be determined by the Board of Directors, but not in excess of the amount permitted by the Internal Revenue Code. Participants vest over a four-year graduated period with respect to employer contributions. The Company's profit-sharing contribution was $138,027 and $88,328 for December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

NOTE D – COMMISSION REVENUE

The Company provides securities brokerage services to various financial institutions. The Company purchases investments securities on behalf of financial institutions and simultaneously clears their trades through a national brokerage house. The Company and the brokerage house have a fee-sharing arrangement based upon the nature of the trades cleared. The same brokerage house clears all of the Company's commission revenues. There were no securities held by the Company at December 31, 2002 or 2001.

PRESIDIO SECURITIES, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2002 and 2001

NOTE E -- CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT RISK

Financial instruments, which potentially subject the Company to a concentration of credit risk, consist principally of temporary cash investments. The Company places its temporary cash investments with high credit quality financial institutions and, by policy, limits the amount of credit exposure in excess of the FDIC insurance coverage limit of $100,000. At December 31, 2002 the company had cash balances in excess of the FDIC insurance limits totaling approximately $72,000.

During 2002, three customers represented approximately 65% of the buying portion of the Company's trades, and two customers represented approximately 51% of the selling side of the Company's trades.

NOTE F -- COMMITMENTS

The Company, under its clearing agreement with Bear Stearns, is required to maintain either $100,000 in an interest bearing account with Bear Stearns or to maintain a $100,000 irrevocable letter of credit for the benefit of Bear Stearns as security for any amounts payable to Bear Stearns under the agreement. The Company maintained the irrevocable letter of credit for the entire year of 2002.

Independent Auditor's Report on Internal Control

The Board of Directors
Presidio Securities, Inc.
Tucson, Arizona

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Presidio Securities, Inc. as of December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of liquid capital and the procedures for determining compliance with the provisions for exemption from Rule 15c3-3. We did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons, and the recordation of difference required by Rule 17a-13 or in complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, because the Company does not carry security accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of the controls and the practices and procedures expected to achieve the Company's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

The Board of Directors
Presidio Securities, Inc.

Because of the inherent limitation in internal control or the practices referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including procedures for safeguarding securities that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the Commission to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the use of the Board of Directors, management, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., the Securities and Exchange Commission and other regulatory agencies which rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 and should not be used for any other purpose.
