Independent Auditor's Report On Internal Control

To the General Partner
Grant Williams, L.P.
Philadelphia, PA 19103

We have audited the financial statements of Grant Williams, L.P. for the year ended December 31, 2002, and have issued our report thereon dated February 18, 2003.

In planning and performing our audit, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant internal controls and determined whether they had been placed in operation, and we assessed control risk in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements of Grant Williams, L.P.

The management of Grant Williams, L.P. is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control. The objectives of internal controls are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal controls, errors, irregularities or instances of noncompliance may nevertheless occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of future periods is subject to risk that procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of the design and operation of policies and procedures may deteriorate.

A material weakness is a reportable condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in the amount that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions.

Our consideration of internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal controls that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses as defined above. Our tests found no material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the general partner, management, and the Securities and Exchange Commission. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.
