Report of Independent Auditors

The Board of Directors
American Equity Capital, Inc.

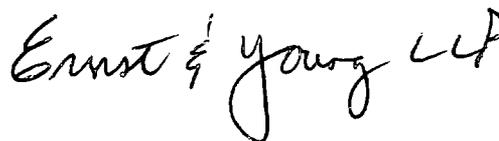

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of American Equity Capital, Inc. (wholly owned by American Equity Investment Life Holding Company) as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholder's equity, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of American Equity Capital, Inc. at December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying supplemental schedules are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statements, but are supplemental information required by Rule 17a-5 of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audits of the financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2002

1. Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

American Equity Capital, Inc. (the "Company"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Equity Investment Life Holding Company, was incorporated on February 16, 1998 and commenced operations on April 1, 1998. The Company operates as a broker-dealer, dealing primarily in the sale of variable insurance products issued by American Equity Investment Life Insurance Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Equity Investment Life Holding Company.

Commissions

Commission income on sales of variable annuity contracts is determined as a percentage of collected premiums of the affiliated insurance companies.

Deferred Income Taxes

Deferred income tax assets or liabilities are computed based on the difference between the financial statement and income tax bases of assets and liabilities using the enacted marginal tax rate. Deferred income tax expenses or credits are based on the changes in the net deferred income tax asset or liability from period to period.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. It is possible that actual experience could differ from the estimates and assumptions utilized.

2. Income Taxes

The Company's operations are included in the consolidated income tax returns of American Equity Investment Life Holding Company. The Company reports any current income tax expense (benefits) as allocated under a consolidated tax allocation agreement. Generally, this allocation would result in profitable companies recognizing a tax provision as if they filed a separate return and loss companies recognizing benefit to the extent their losses contribute to reduce consolidated income tax.

American Equity Capital, Inc.

2. Income Taxes (continued)

Deferred income taxes have been established by each member of the consolidated group for the tax effect of temporary differences in the financial reporting and tax bases of assets and liabilities and net operating losses within each entity. The Company's only temporary difference relates to the existence of tax operating loss carryforwards arising since inception. Management has established a valuation allowance of $89,773 at December 31, 2002 and $72,035 at December 31, 2001, equal to the full amount of the tax related deferred tax asset because of the uncertainty of future income estimates necessary for its ultimate realization. The tax loss carryforwards expire as follows: 2018 - $37,551; 2019 - $51,951; 2020 - $46,150, 2021 - $44,436 and 2022 - $44,344.

3. Regulatory Requirements

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission uniform net capital rule (Rule 15c3-1), which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined therein, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2002, the Company had defined net capital of $40,568, which was $35,568 in excess of its required net capital of $5,000. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was 0.09 to 1.

The Company is exempt from maintaining a special reserve bank account under Rule 15c3-3(k)(1).

4. Related Party Transactions

The Company is a member of a group of affiliated companies which are engaged in the sales of life insurance and annuities. A portion of the Company's operating expenses are paid to American Equity Investment Life Insurance Company, an affiliate, and represent an allocation of shared expenses among the affiliates of American Equity Investment Life Holding Company. The Company's portion of these shared expenses was $24,000 for each of the years ended December 31, 2002 and 2001.

Independent Auditors' Supplementary Report on Internal Control

The Board of Directors
American Equity Capital, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of American Equity Capital, Inc. (the "Company") for the year ended December 31, 2002, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the criteria stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following: (1) making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons; (2) recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13; and (3) complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned criteria. Two of the criteria of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional criteria of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, misstatements due to errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of internal control to future periods are subject to the risk that internal control may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of its design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that meet the criteria referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such criteria in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2002, to meet the SEC's criteria.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers, and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and it is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
