Re: American International Group, Inc. - Omission of Shareholder Proposal Pursuant to Rule 14a-8

Ladies and Gentlemen:

This letter is submitted by American International Group, Inc. (the "Company") pursuant to Rule 14a-8(j) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), with respect to a proposal (hereinafter referred to as the "Shareholder Proposal") submitted for inclusion in the Company's 2003 proxy statement for its 2003 annual meeting of shareholders (the "Annual Meeting") by Mr. John Jennings Crapo (the "Proponent") (a copy of the Shareholder Proposal and accompanying supporting statement (the "Supporting Statement") is attached hereto as Exhibit A). In accordance with Rule 14a-8(j), six copies of this letter are attached.

The Proponent submitted a shareholder proposal, dated October 21, 2002 (the "Original Proposal") (attached hereto as Exhibit B), for inclusion in the Company's proxy statement for the Annual Meeting. Pursuant to Rule 14a-8(f), in a letter, dated November 5, 2002 (attached hereto as Exhibit C) (the "Objection Letter"), the Company notified the Proponent that it was unclear where his Original Proposal began and where it ended and therefore the Company could not confirm whether the Original Proposal was in excess of 500 words and whether the Original Proposal related to more than one proposal. Therefore, the Company requested the Proponent to clarify his Original Proposal; the Company also requested the Proponent to establish his ownership of the Company's common stock. The Proponent responded by letter, dated November 12, 2002, and enclosed the Shareholder Proposal.

Summary of the Shareholder Proposal

The Shareholder Proposal does not contain a clarification of the Original Proposal, as was requested by the Company in its Objection Letter. Instead, the Shareholder Proposal is meandering and incomprehensible.

The Proponent writes about the destruction of Lisbon by an earthquake, the history of royal families of Europe, his unfulfilled desire to study Portuguese in Lisbon, and, among other things, favorite dances of Queens and Presidents of the United States. The Shareholder Proposal goes on to describe in great detail the Proponent's very personal day-to-day activities during the week prior to the submission of the Shareholder Proposal.

Although page 24 (out of more than 200 pages submitted) contains a heading "My supporting statement," what follows is a stream of consciousness that begins with "shareholders will be appreciated by our honorable Board if we approve this," and moves on to other disconnected thoughts involving a former supervisor ("Ms. Eckert was my supervisor. My work was to provide services to disadvantaged persons. Ms. Eckert's job was to provide services to disadvantaged persons such as me"), and ends with a statement that laments about the Proponent's lack of friendship with the Company's Secretary ("Ms. Shannon and I have had many chances to become friends. We are not friends.") More importantly, the Shareholder Proposal does not appear to contain a proposal to which the Supporting Statement relates. While over 200 pages, nothing in the Shareholder Proposal appears to relate to the Company or its business or affairs.

For the reasons that follow, the Company believes it may exclude the Shareholder Proposal from its 2003 proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8(a), Rule 14a-8(b), Rule 14a-8(i)(3), Rule 14a-8(i)(5), Rule 14a-8(d), and Rule 14a-8(c) under the Exchange Act.

Rule 14a-8(a)

Question (1) of Rule 14a-8(a) states that "[a] shareholder proposal is your recommendation or requirement that the company and/or its board of directors take action, which you intend to present at a meeting of the company's shareholders. Your proposal should state as clearly as possible the course of action that you believe the company should follow."

In its Objection Letter, the Company requested the Proponent to clarify his proposal contained in the Original Proposal. The Proponent has not only failed to clarify any proposal which may have existed in the Original Proposal, but failed to even include any recognizable shareholder proposal in the Shareholder Proposal. The staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Staff") has repeatedly confirmed that a shareholder proposal is properly excludable if there is no recommendation for a company or a board of directors to take any specific action. See, e.g., CSX Corporation (Publ. Avail. February 1, 1999) (proposal consisting of three poems could be omitted under Rule 14a-8(a) because it did not recommend or require any action by the company or its board of directors); Sensar Corporation (Publ. Avail. April 23, 2001) (proposal that expressed shareholder displeasure over the terms of stock options granted to management, the board of directors and certain consultants could be omitted under Rule 14a-8(a) because it did not recommend or require any action by the company or its board of directors).

Based on the foregoing, the Proponent has failed to submit a proposal that recommends or requires the Company or its Board of Directors (the "Board") to take action, and the Company may, therefore, omit the Shareholder Proposal pursuant to Rule 14a-8(a).

Rule 14a-8(b)

Pursuant to Question (2) of Rule 14a-8(b), if the proponent is not a registered holder of the securities and if the proponent has not filed security ownership schedules or forms with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), then the proponent must prove that he or she is eligible to submit a proposal by (1) submitting to the company a written statement from the record holder of his or her securities verifying that, at the time he or she submitted the proposal, the proponent continuously held the securities for at least one year and (2) providing a written statement by the proponent that he or she intends to continue to hold the securities through the date of the shareholder meeting.

In its Objection Letter, the Company requested the Proponent to establish his ownership of the Company's common stock. Buried in the exhibits to the Shareholder Proposal are the Proponent's monthly account statements from Advest, Inc. covering the period from January 1, 2002 up to and including October 30, 2002. (There are also statements from Fidelity Investments that do not appear to relate to the Company.) There does not appear to be any other ownership information in the Shareholder Proposal that relates to the Company. As a result, because the first monthly statement of January 1, 2002 is dated only nine months prior to the date of the Shareholder Proposal, the Proponent has failed to verify that at the time the Shareholder Proposal was submitted, he continuously held the required amount of the Company's common stock for at least one year.

Based on the foregoing, the Proponent has failed to demonstrate that he is eligible to submit a shareholder proposal, and the Company may, therefore, omit the Shareholder Proposal pursuant to Rule 14a-8(b)(2).

Rule 14a-8(i)(3)

Pursuant to Rule 14a-8(i)(3), a shareholder proposal may be omitted from a registrant's proxy statement if the proposal or supporting statement is contrary to any of the SEC's proxy rules. Misleading or vague shareholder proposals may be excluded under Rule 14a-8(i)(3) as contrary to Rule 14a-9. Exclusions on the grounds of vagueness are based on whether the proposal is so vague and indefinite "that shareholders voting upon the proposal or the Company would not be able to determine with reasonable certainty exactly what action or measures the Company would be required to take in the event the proposal were to be implemented." See, e.g. Scientific Atlanta (Publ. Avail. August 5, 1981).

As described above, the Shareholder Proposal is in large part a personal narrative of the day-to-day activities of the Proponent. It appears that the only apparent objective of the Shareholder Proposal is to share personal stories, not to propose a coherent resolution for shareholder action. The Staff has permitted the exclusion of shareholder proposals that are a model of clarity when compared to the Shareholder Proposal. See, e.g., Tri-Continental Corp. (Publ. Avail. March 14, 2000) (proposal mandating that the company divest itself of stocks of corporations and other businesses which are organized in Germany, Austria, Italy or Japan until "just judgments" are made to victims of the Holocaust and their heirs and for "other inconveniences endured by the aggrieved" and their heirs could be omitted under Rule 14a-8(i)(3) on the basis that the proposal and its supporting statement were vague and misleading); Philadelphia Electric Company (Publ. Avail. July 30, 1992) (proposal to elect a committee of small shareholders to present a plan to the board of directors that "will in some measure equate with the gratuities bestowed on Management, Directors, and other employees" could be omitted under Rule 14a-8(i)(3) on the basis that it was "so inherently vague and indefinite that neither the shareholders voting on the proposal, nor the Company in implementing the proposal (if adopted), would be able to determine with any reasonable certainty exactly what actions or measures the proposal require[d]"). Based on the foregoing, the Company believes the Shareholder Proposal is so vague and indefinite that neither the Company's shareholders voting on the Shareholder Proposal nor the Company in implementing the Shareholder Proposal (if adopted) would be able to determine with any reasonable certainty exactly what actions or measures would be required.

Furthermore, the Proponent's Supporting Statement also sheds no light on what the Shareholder Proposal is requesting. As mentioned, it contains unrelated facts and references to persons and events unrelated in anyway to the Company or its business. Although the Supporting Statement states that providing copies of all the Proponent's letters and exhibits to shareholders will "promote discussion and intelligent balloting," no shareholder could possibly make sense of the exhibits. Because the Supporting Statement is vague and misleading, bears no relationship to any resolutions proposed and contains personal disclosures that are not appropriate for inclusion in a proxy statement, the Shareholder Proposal is properly excludable under Rule 14a-8(i)(3).

As discussed above, the Proponent's letters to the Company lack clarity and accuracy in presenting his proposals. Staff Legal Bulletin No. 14 ("SLB 14") states in Section E.1 that "when a proposal and supporting statement will require detailed and extensive editing in order to bring them into compliance with the proxy rules, [the Staff] may find it appropriate for companies to exclude the entire proposal, supporting statement, or both, as materially false or misleading." Requiring the Staff to spend large amounts of time reviewing proposals "that have obvious deficiencies in terms of accuracy, clarity or relevance . . . is not beneficial to all participants in the [shareholder proposal] process and diverts resources away from analyzing core issues arising under rule 14a-8." The Shareholder Proposal and Supporting Statement contain exactly the kinds of obvious deficiencies and inaccuracies that make the Staff review unproductive and would require detailed and extensive editing to bring them into compliance with Rule 14a-8.

Based on the foregoing, the Company believes that the Shareholder Proposal is misleading and vague and, therefore, may be excluded under Rule 14a-8(i)(3) as contrary to the SEC's proxy rules.

Rule 14a-8(i)(5)

Rule 14a-8(i)(5) permits a registrant to omit a shareholder proposal if it "relates to operations which account for less than 5 percent of the company's total assets at the end of its most recent fiscal year, and for less than 5 percent of its net earnings and gross sales for its most recent fiscal year, and is not otherwise significantly related to the company's business."

The Shareholder Proposal and exhibits and letters that the Proponent wants the Board to review and comment on and the shareholders to consider have nothing to do with the Company's operations or business. The incoherent nature of the exhibits provides no guidance as to why they are relevant to the Company's business or why they should be provided to shareholders or discussed. Accordingly, the Shareholder Proposal may be omitted under Rule 14a-8(i)(5) because it has no relevance to the Company's operations or business.

Rule 14a-8(d)

Pursuant to Question (4) of Rule 14a-8(d), a shareholder proposal may be omitted from a registrant's proxy statement if "[t]he proposal, including any accompanying supporting statement ... exceed[s] 500 words."

As discussed above, the Shareholder Proposal contains a section that the Proponent calls "My Supporting Statement," which not only requests that the Company make available to its shareholders the exhibits to the Shareholder Proposal, but also requires the Board to review and comment on all of the exhibits, and send the Board's reports, along with the letters and exhibits themselves, to the shareholders. The exhibits range from photocopies of an Altoid mint container, a passport of an unknown individual and numerous receipts from coffee shops and convenience stores. While it is unclear what relevance any of these exhibits have to the Company, its Board, its business or anything else that could be considered a subject matter of a shareholder proposal, it is clear that the Proponent desires the Company's shareholders to discuss, in some way, his letters and exhibits. In order to assess any proposal of the Proponent, the Company's shareholders need to have his letters and exhibits available to them. They are not publicly available and would not be accessible by a shareholder. As a result, the Proponent seeks to impermissibly incorporate materials into the Shareholder Proposal and, accordingly, the Shareholder Proposal may be excluded pursuant to Rule 14a-8(d). See, e.g., Templeton Dragon Fund, Inc. (Publ. Avail. June 15, 1998) (indicating that the reference to an internet website might violate the word requirements of Rule 14a-8).

Rule 14a-8(c)

Pursuant to Question (3) of Rule 14a-8(c), a shareholder proposal may be omitted from a registrant's proxy statement if the shareholder submits "more than one proposal to a company for a particular shareholders' meeting."

As stated above, the Shareholder Proposal does not contain any recognizable request for the Board or the Company to take any action. Although it is not clear, the Original Proposal does appear to request that the Company's proxy statement contain at least the following four items: (1) an explanation of the Company's governance of its donations to IRS-approved private foundations in the previous year; (2) an explanation of standards of denial of the Company's donations to foundations and other persons; (3) a list of IRS-approved foundations that the Board plans to donate to in the upcoming year; and (4) an explanation as to how the IRS-approved foundations specified in (3) meet the standards and procedures described in (1) and (2). Assuming that the Original Proposal has not been superseded by the Shareholder Proposal and contains the proposal that the Proponent desires to be included in the 2003 proxy statement, the Proponent requests several distinct actions. The Company in the Objection Letter requested that the Proponent clarify whether he was submitting more than one proposal. Instead of responding to the Company's request, the Shareholder Proposal adds two additional proposals for shareholder action. The Supporting Statement requests that the Board arrange "for copies of all my letters (including front and rear pieces of them) and exhibits to be available immediately prior to the stockholder meeting" and "cause to be attached a twenty-five (25) to fifty (50) word statement regarding relevancy, irrelevancy, and why and those too will accompany those reports to stockholders."

For the foregoing reasons, the Shareholder Proposal relates to more than one proposal and, therefore, is excludable under Rule 14a-8(c).

Conclusion

In conclusion, the Company respectfully requests that the Staff confirm, at its earliest convenience, that it will not recommend any enforcement action to the SEC if the Proponent's proposal is excluded from the Company's 2003 proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8(a), Rule 14a-8(b), Rule 14a-8(i)(3), Rule 14a-8(i)(5), Rule 14a-8(d), and Rule 14a-8(c). By copy of this letter, the Proponent has been notified of the Company's intention to omit his Shareholder Proposal from its 2003 proxy statement.

The Company is currently planning to mail its 2003 proxy statement to shareholders on or about April 1, 2003. We would appreciate a response to this filing in time to permit the Company to meet this schedule.

If you have any questions or comments regarding this request, please contact the undersigned (212-770-5123) or Eric N. Litzky (212-770-6918) of the Company.

Very truly yours,

Escrow Message

We are required by law to withhold and pay to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) 30% of interest, dividends and certain other payments if you do not provide us with a properly completed IRS Form W-9. Payer's Request for Taxpayer Identification Number. If you are a nonresident alien, you must instead provide us with Form W-8: Certificate of Foreign Status, in order to prevent your account from being treated as that of a U.S. citizen.

We withheld 30% from your reportable payment(s) and placed the withheld amount(s) in escrow within your account. Since our records indicate that we did not receive from you a completed IRS Form W-9 (or W-8) within 30 days, all amounts held in escrow were paid to the IRS. This information is reflected in the activity portion of your statement.

*Note: Form W-9 (or W-8) must be received within 30 days from the opening date of your account.

SIX(106)A OF one Hundred - Two (102)

For the past year we have been telling people where our wedding reception would be held. As we answered, "the Milton Hoosic Club", eyebrows would raise and the inevitable question would be asked...

"the where? The Hoosic-whats-its Club???" So, for any of you who are wondering "what the heck is a Hoosic?!?!?", please keep reading.

What's A Hoosic?

Centuries before European settlement, the Massachusetts Indians, or "People of the Great Hills" lived and thrived in the nearby Blue Hills and Houghton's Pond area. They settled around a splendid pond and named it "Hoosickwhisick" or, in their language, "beautiful still water". Around the pond, at the base of the Great Blue Hill, the Massachusetts hunted caribou, bear, deer, small mammals, gathered wild berries and nuts, and planted corn and squash.

Fast forward to 1891 and in that year, a family-oriented social club in Milton was established. They built a grand clubhouse with sport facilities for the members' enjoyment. At the same time, another social club was established in the neighboring town of Canton. This club in Canton took the Massachusetts name for the nearby Houghton Pond and was established as the "Hoosic-Whisick" club.

The club in Canton built a state-of-the-art golf facility. The two clubs maintained separate facilities and memberships for many years, although each had discernable lacks: the club in Canton did not have a decent clubhouse, and the Milton club did not have a golf course. In 1946, having thought about it for half a century, the clubs merged and formed the Milton-Hoosic Club. In 1991 the Milton-Hoosic Club celebrated its centennial year.

So, there you have it... a Hoosic is beautiful still water. So the next time you're driving by the Charles River, Lake Ontario or Lake Michigan, you can impress your friends and comment on the "beautiful hoosic".

We look forward to seeing you at 6:00PM over at the Milton Hoosic Club!!!

Collectibles

ALTOIDS® the Original Celebrated Curiously Strong Mints®, presents Curiously Strong Collectibles, a series of limited edition tins featuring the advertising for which ALTOIDS® is famous. This landmark campaign was launched in the U.S. in 1995 and is admired for the wit and humor used to portray the curious strength of the mints.

ALTOIDS® mints were first produced in England at the turn of the 19th century during the reign of King George III. Today, ALTOIDS® mints are made with the same exacting standards as the original ALTOIDS® developed more than 200 years ago.

For the past year we have been telling people where our wedding reception would be held. As we answered, "the Milton Hoosic Club", eyebrows would raise and the inevitable question would be asked...

"the where? The Hoosic-whats-its Club???" So, for any of you who are wondering "what the heck is a Hoosic?!?!?", please keep reading.

What's A Hoosic?

Centuries before European settlement, the Massachusetts Indians, or "People of the Great Hills" lived and thrived in the nearby Blue Hills and Houghton's Pond area. They settled around a splendid pond and named it "Hoosickwhisick" or, in their language, "beautiful still water". Around the pond, at the base of the Great Blue Hill, the Massachusetts hunted caribou, bear, deer, small mammals, gathered wild berries and nuts, and planted corn and squash.

Fast forward to 1891 and in that year, a family-oriented social club in Milton was established. They built a grand clubhouse with sport facilities for the members' enjoyment. At the same time, another social club was established in the neighboring town of Canton. This club in Canton took the Massachusetts name for the nearby Houghton Pond and was established as the "Hoosic-Whisick" club.

The club in Canton built a state-of-the-art golf facility. The two clubs maintained separate facilities and memberships for many years, although each had discernable lacks: the club in Canton did not have a decent clubhouse, and the Milton club did not have a golf course. In 1946, having thought about it for half a century, the clubs merged and formed the Milton-Hoosic Club. In 1991 the Milton-Hoosic Club celebrated its centennial year.

So, there you have it... a Hoosic is beautiful still water. So the next time you're driving by the Charles River, Lake Ontario or Lake Michigan, you can impress your friends and comment on the "beautiful hoosic".

We look forward to seeing you at 6:00PM over at the Milton Hoosic Club!!!

The Strong Man, 1995.

One of the most popular and recognizable ads in the campaign, The Strong Man helped introduce the 200 year-old-mint to a new American audience. Bearing the tagline "Nice Altoids," this ad was the personification of curiously strong and became an icon ad for the brand.

Curiously Strong
Collectibles

ALTOIDS®, the Original Celebrated Curiously Strong Mints®, presents Curiously Strong Collectibles, a series of limited edition tins featuring the advertising for which ALTOIDS® is famous. This landmark campaign was launched in the U.S. in 1995 and is admired for the wit and humor used to portray the curious strength of the mints.

ALTOIDS® mints were first produced in England at the turn of the 19th century during the reign of King George III. Today, ALTOIDS® mints are made with the same exacting standards as the original ALTOIDS® developed more than 200 years ago.

Dana H. Gallup, at 81, Court of Appeals official

Dana H. Gallup of Cambridge, the Court of Appeals after being a retired chief deputy clerk of the U.S. Court of Appeals, died Friday at his home. He was 81.

Born in Boston, Mr. Gallup was a lifelong resident of Cambridge. He attended Cambridge public schools and received his bachelor's degree from Suffolk University. He continued his education at Northeastern School of Law.

He was an Army Air Forces veteran of World War II. After the war, he served in the Air Force Reserves, retiring as a lieutenant colonel.

Mr. Gallup began his legal work as a court crier in the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. He was later appointed to chief deputy clerk for the Court of Appeals after being admitted to the Massachusetts bar. He provided 41 years of service, until his retirement.

He served many years as deacon and was chairman of the Board of Deacons at the Old Cambridge Baptist Church. Husband to the late Pauline, he is survived by his wife, Clara (Klein); three sons, Dana T. of Medford; Richard W. of Norfolk and Steven C. of Marshfield; a sister, Ruth Bowers of Old Mystic, Conn.; and four grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre. Burial will be private. Arrangements by Eaton & MacKay Funeral Home, Newton.

Obituaries Mr John J. CRAPO to

Harvard University Dana Gallup, 81, Court of Appeals clerk

By Emma Stackgold,
GLOBE CORRESPONDENT

Dana Gallup, who spent more than four decades translating legal jargon for lawyers and laymen at the US Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, died of prostate cancer on Friday. He was 81 and died in the same Cambridge house where he had lived his entire life.

A tall man with a crew cut and a brisk walk, Mr. Gallup was a Harvard Law School clerk who worked through the ranks, beginning as a court clerk, closing and opening sessions by calling out "Hear ye! Hear ye!"

Mr. Gallup, who later served as the first circuit executive of the court, could often be seen through a lawyer's pinyon tree to postpone a hearing, and would "express himself in uncertain terms," former Chief Judge Frank Coffin said yesterday. Coffin also remembered Mr. Gallup for his lunch, always a peanut butter and cheese sandwich and two apples.

Colleagues said that Mr. Gallup could keep a secret, which judges and lawyers appreciated.

During World War II, he interrupted his studies at Brown University to join the Army Air Corps flying B-24s around stateside bases. After his service, Mr. Gallup used the GI Bill to get a law degree from Northeastern University, attending night classes while studying his work with the First Circuit court.

After passing the bar exam in 1949, he went back to get an undergraduate degree from Suffolk University by attending night classes while serving as chief deputy clerk, and he received a bachelor's of science degree in 1959.

Having held nearly every position in the First Circuit, he became its clerk in the 1970s.

In 1983, when the circuit expanded to handle the high volume of cases, he became the first circuit executive for the court. As clerk and later as circuit executive, Mr. Gallup guided lawyers through the process of filing legal briefs, and helped people who could not afford lawyers to understand legal terminology.

He also introduced computers and new management techniques to the court.

"Dana never retreated to his office," former Chief Judge Levin Campbell said. "He was always a pleasant guy. Under pressure, he didn't lose his temper or start screaming at other people."

During his 41 years at the First Circuit, Mr. Gallup served under many distinguished chief judges, including Justice Stephen Breyer, who was appointed to the Supreme Court by President Bill Clinton in 1994.

He also was chairman of the Board of Deacons at the Old Cambridge Baptist Church, later serving as moderator of the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre.

Mr. Gallup leaves his wife, Clara Klein Gallup of Cambridge, his sons, Steven of Marshfield and Dana J. of Medford, and Richard of Norfolk, and four grandchildren.

A funeral was held yesterday in First Baptist Church in Newton Centre. Burial will be private.

STATE RETIREMENT BOARD

WILLIAM F. McLAUGHLIN, SUPERINTENDENT

VS

G. EVA L. STROMWELL

DECISION PROMULGATED August 5, 1971

On Tuesday, April 13, 1971, the State Retirement Board held a hearing on the application of William F. McLaughlin, M.D., Superintendent of Metropolitan State Hospital, wherein he requested the involuntary retirement of G. Eva L. Stromwell, 475 Trapelo Road, Waltham, Massachusetts, an employee of Metropolitan State Hospital. The hearing was held in accordance with General Laws Chapter 32 section 16 (1) (a) & (b). All members of the State Retirement Board were present and both Dr. McLaughlin and Miss Stromwell were represented by counsel.

Miss Stromwell has been employed at the Walter E. Feinold State School from August 1, 1934 until August 1, 1938 and thereafter at Metropolitan State Hospital until the present time as a psychologist.

At the hearing Dr. McLaughlin testified that Miss Stromwell has been spending most of her time with one patient who is not being carried on the hospital rolls as a patient although he did feel that there was a moral if not a legal responsibility to follow up with a patient who had been discharged. This preoccupation with one patient does not allow Miss Stromwell to carry her normal workload or caseload. On cross examination he stated that Miss Stromwell did not refuse assigned work although she was reluctant to take on additional work.

Dr. McLaughlin's testimony was corroborated by Miss Stromwell's supervisor, Louis J. Ventola, who testified that her case production was substantially lower than the other psychologists because of her overinvolvement with one ex-patient. On cross examination he testified that although Miss Stromwell was reluctant, she did attend an in service training program. He also testified that her testing work while not faulty was inadequate. He demonstrated his testimony by the introduction of exhibits 3 and 4. Exhibit 3 which was an evaluation prepared in 1953 by Miss Stromwell contained 3 single spaced typewritten pages reporting on testing and conclusions. Exhibit 4 prepared in 1966 contained only a brief 6 line summary of her evaluation.

Both Dr. McLaughlin and Mr. Ventola felt that Miss Stromwell had been successful in the treatment of the one patient with whom she had been spending most of her time.

John J. Crapo, a psychiatric social worker at Metropolitan State Hospital testified that his office was across the hall from Miss Stromwell and that she works every day under difficult conditions. She has no telephone, the lighting is poor and there is little heat. She is the only psychologist without a phone. She does have many patients come to her office and since Mr. Ventola is in another building and there is no telephone, Mr. Ventola would not know about the work that Miss Stromwell is doing.

Miss Stromwell testified in her own behalf that Dr. McLaughlin reduced her workload so that she was given only I.Q. tests. He requested that she make brief reports. She testified that she has not refused any assignments.

After due consideration of all the evidence, we find that while Miss Stromwell has been spending an undue amount of time

EXHIBIT THREE (03) "C" OF 145 -

OCT 17 2002

John J. Crapo, P.S.O. SR

With one patient, she has taken all of the assignments given to her. Admittedly, her work production has fallen off as has the quality of her written reports. But this is accounted for by uncontroverted evidence that her workload has been reduced by the employer as has the type of work assigned to her. It would also seem appropriate to mention here that since testimony concerning Miss Stromwell's working conditions was allowed to stand without rebuttal, this Board will accept such testimony as true. Therefore, since the quality and quantity of a person's work must depend to some extent on the conditions under which she operates, the deterioration in the quality and quantity of her work reports is understandable. The request of William F. McLaughlin, M.D., Superintendent of Metropolitan State Hospital, for the superannuation retirement of G. Eva L. Stromwell is denied.

Dr. McLaughlin submitted requests for findings of fact and we act on those requests as follows:

1. Allowed, 2. Allowed, 3 through 9 Denied.

he protested to the contrary. His desire for "distinction" was too great. Patriotism burned in him like a blue flame. "I have a zeal at my heart for my country and her friends which I cannot smother or conceal," he told Abigail, warning that it could mean privation and unhappiness for his family unless regulated by cooler judgment than his own.

In less than a year's time, as a delegate to the Continental Congress at Philadelphia, he had emerged as one of the most "sensible and forcible" figures in the whole patriot cause, the "Great and Common Cause," his influence exceeding even that of his better-known kinsman, the ardent Boston patriot Samuel Adams.

He was a second cousin of Samuel Adams, but "possessed of another species of character," as his Philadelphia friend Benjamin Rush would explain. "He saw the whole of a subject at a glance, and . . . was equally fearless of men and of the consequences of a bold assertion of his opinion. . . . He was a stranger to dissimulation."

It had been John Adams, in the aftermath of Lexington and Concord, who rose in the Congress to speak of the urgent need to save the New England army facing the British at Boston and in the same speech called on Congress to put the Virginian George Washington at the head of the army. That was now six months past. The general had since established a command at Cambridge, and it was there that Adams was headed. It was his third trip in a week to Cambridge, and the beginning of a much longer undertaking by horseback. He would ride on to Philadelphia, a journey of nearly 400 miles that he had made before, though never in such punishing weather or at so perilous an hour for his country.

The man riding with him was Joseph Bass, a young shoemaker and Braintree neighbor hired temporarily as servant and traveling companion.

The day was Wednesday, January 24, 1776. The temperature, according to records kept by Adams's former professor of science at Harvard, John Winthrop, was in the low twenties. At the least, the trip would take two weeks, given the condition of the roads and Adams's reluctance to travel on the Sabbath.

TO ABIGAIL ADAMS, who had never been out of Massachusetts, the province of Pennsylvania was "that far country," unimaginably distant,

Home in France for the Adamses was a palatial house near Paris at Auteuil, which included five acres of garden and a staff of eight.

This day 8 months I sailed for Europe since which many new and interesting scenes have presented themselves before me. I have seen many of the beauties and some of the deformities of this old world. I have been more than ever convinced that there is no summit of virtue, and no depth of vice which humane nature is not capable of rising to on the one hand or sinking into on the other. I have felt the force of an adage which I have read, that "daily example is the most subtle of poisons." I have found my taste reconciling itself to habits, customs and fashions, which at first disgusted me.

In a letter to her sister Mary Cranch, February 20, 1785, Abigail Adams acknowledged that she had become reconciled to French habits, customs, and fashions that had at first "disgusted" her.

Challenging theoretical issues will be considered, including: staying committed, intimacy, and connected; sorting out, bridging, and re-negotiating; and the clinical challenges associated with gender, sexuality, partner violence, and "coming out." Treatment interventions will include behavioral, cognitive and psychodynamic approaches. Special attention will be paid to the impact of these issues on children. The course is intended for all mental health clinicians, marriage and family therapists, and others interested in couples and couple therapy.

John Adams was the first President to occupy the White House and the first to declare for reelection in an opposition party. Adams was one of the men experiencing men even to become President. As a Massachusetts, he studied law, became a lawyer in Boston in 1758. He played a major role in the struggle for independence without representation. Adams led the opposition to the Stamp Act of 1765, which required the purchase of stamps (effectively a tax) for all public documents. He showed his leadership in the Boston Massacre in 1770, where British soldiers accused of killing four people were acquitted.

As a member of the Second Continental Congress in 1775, Adams seconded the nomination of George Washington as commander of the Continental Army. The following year he secured the motion for independence, intense debates and Henry Lee, that three free and independent states "ought to be formed on the continent to do the Declaration of Independence." He was the first to sign the Declaration. He was the first to sign the Declaration of Independence. He was the first to sign the Declaration of Independence.

The treaty would be represented in the lower house of the legislature, the rich, well born, able, would serve in the upper house. CIVIL ACTION

KEMBLE M. THOMPSON, :
Defendant. :

AFFIDAVIT

STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS:
COUNTY OF Worcester SS.

CAROLINE C. THOMPSON, of full age, being duly sworn according to law, upon her oath, deposes and says:

1. That I am the complainant in the above entitled action.

2. That I have read the contents herein and the facts therein are true.

3. I was married to the defendant, Kemble M. Thompson, on the 31st day of December, 1947, by Albert I. Meyer, Mayor of the Borough of Seaside Park, in the County of Ocean, State of New Jersey. At the time of our marriage I was forty years of age and Mr. Thompson was approximately forty-one years of age.

4. At the time of our marriage, Kemble M. Thompson was a resident in Seaside Park, residing at 207 "N" Street, in the Borough of Seaside Park, County of Ocean, State of New Jersey and still resides at the same address.

5. That prior to marrying the defendant herein I was lawfully married to John H. Crapo and was divorced on the 30th day of June, 1943 and that there was a child born of the first marriage by the name of Jackie, now 13 years of age and that at the time of my marriage to the above named defendant, the agreed to adopt the said child and support and maintain him.

6. After we were married he took me to a single room at the above mentioned address and made no arrangements for me to live with him. He promised me that he would make arrangements to rent a house or an apartment, which he never did.

7. He was cruel and inhuman and refused to give me any money with which to support myself.

8. Prior to my marriage, I was residing in Boston, Massachusetts, and had a position with the U. S. Government and it was understood after our marriage that I was to go back to Boston and get a transfer to New Jersey for a position, so that I could be near Seaside Park, New Jersey.

9. That the room we occupied immediately after our marriage, at 207 "N" Street, Seaside Park, New Jersey, was a single room. I suggested a number of times that we take a house or apartment or provide suitable accommodations and he continuously refused.

10. On account of his neglect in failing to provide proper accommodations for me and my minor son, Jackie, I was compelled to leave him and go to my home in Boston, Massachusetts, to continue working. At no time did he ever request me to come back.

11. I lived at that time at 36 Lowell Street, Braintree, Massachusetts, County of Norfolk. I wrote several letters to the defendant during that time and finally on the 8th day of August, 1948, I went to Seaside Park, New Jersey. He met me and took me again to 207 "N" Street at Seaside Park, County of Ocean State of New Jersey, which room we occupied for two days during which time we co-habited and as a result of the same I became pregnant and on the 19th day of April, 1949, I gave birth to a son and christened him Christopher Wing Thompson.

12. I again was compelled to leave him on the 15th day of August, 1948, because he again refused to provide me with proper accommodations nor to maintain and support me. I told him that I had married him and I was perfectly willing to be his wife and perform the duties of a wife, but it was his duty as a husband to support and maintain me. This he refused to do and he continuously quarreled, insulted and humiliated me.

13. That he was then a Justice of the Peace and Building Inspector for the Borough of Seaside Park, New Jersey.

14. While I was at Seaside Park, on my last visit, I saw very little of him, except on the first night and morning following, and on account of his treatment towards me and his continuous refusal to discuss plans or arrangements to maintain me, I was compelled to leave him on the 15th day of August, 1948 and return to my home, which was at that time 36 Lowell Street, Braintree, Massachusetts. I am now residing at 57 Washburn Avenue, Fair Haven, Massachusetts.

15. At the present time, Kemble M. Thompson is engaged in the contracting business and earns in excess of $75.00 a week. He has refused at all times to contribute money toward my support and I have been compelled to work in order to support myself and I have had to pay the hospital bill and all medical bills incurred as a result of the birth of the child and at the present time, I am in no physical condition to continue to work.

16. At no time, has the defendant offered to take me back nor has he sent any money for my support and maintenance.

CAROLINE C. THOMPSON,

Plaintiff

vs.

CIVIL ACTION

KEMBLE M. THOMPSON,

ANSWERING AFFIDAVIT

Defendant

ss.

COUNTY OF OCEAN :

KEMBLE M. THOMPSON, being duly sworn according to law, on his oath deposes and says:

1. I am the Defendant in the above entitled action.
2. I was married to the Plaintiff on December 31, 1947, in the Borough of Seaside Park, County of Ocean and State of New Jersey, and at that time I was residing at 207 "N" Street, Seaside Park, New Jersey, and am still residing at the same place.
3. Prior to my marrying the Plaintiff herein, I was informed by her that she had a child born of her first marriage by the name of Jackie but I never saw or met the child. I never agreed to adopt this child nor did I agree to support and maintain him.

4. At the time of my marriage to the Plaintiff, I was residing at 207 "N" Street, Seaside Park, New Jersey. The building in question is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sheppard and I pay rent for the use of one bedroom exclusively and also for the use of the facilities in the house. I have the right to keep food in the refrigerator, make use of the living room and other residential rooms in the property and I still reside in said premises with the same privileges.

5. Prior to my marriage to the Plaintiff, I discussed the situation relative to my intention to reside in the premises at 207 "N" Street, Seaside Park, N.J., under the same rental terms and conditions as I had heretofore lived there. The Plaintiff was agreeable to this and I never made any promise to make arrangements to rent a house or an apartment immediately after our marriage. In the course of my conversations with the Plaintiff we did speak of the fact that it would be nice to eventually own our own home and it was my intention when I was financially able to actually lease a home or purchase a house. The Plaintiff had knowledge of my financial situation.

6. Prior to my marriage to the Plaintiff she had agreed to attempt to obtain a position with the U.S. Government somewhere in New Jersey in order that she could reside with me in Seaside Park, N.J. After our marriage, I drove the Plaintiff to the Naval Air Station at Lakewood, N.J. and also to Fort Monmouth, N.J. where she made application for employment and transfer from her position with the U.S. Government in Boston.

7. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sheppard from whom I rent my room and household privileges, at the time of my marriage worked in Camden, N.J. and they only came to their house in Seaside Park on weekends when weather permitted and to spend their vacations.

8. Mr. Walter Sheppard was my Best Man at the time of my marriage to the Plaintiff; namely, on December 31, 1947 and the day after the wedding he returned to Camden and did not reside or stay at his house in Seaside Park. On our wedding night we resided at a Vision Beach Cottage in Ortleigh Beach, Dover Township, N.J. and the next day we moved to 207 "H" Street in Seaside Park, and at that time Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard were not at home. They were in Camden, N.J. The Plaintiff and I resided in said cottage from January 1st to January 8th 1948. At that time we were not living with Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard but had our own bedroom and had the use of the balance of the house. During said period the Plaintiff was argumentative and difficult to get along with.

January 6, 1948, the Plaintiff left without giving me any notice that she intended to go back to Boston, Mass. I found a note after she departed which read as follows, "Dear Ken: I am on my way back to Boston. Took the blankets and P.O. But the picture - you know - I want back - first opportunity. Best of luck - Carol"

9. After the Plaintiff left me, I wrote her a letter and asked whether she was coming back to live with me and just what her intentions were. I did not hear from her until May 1, 1948. In her letter to me of May 1, 1948, she stated that she was very reluctant to patch up our marriage and further stated that she did not wish me to write her again and that she wished to forget.

10. The Plaintiff, during the time that we resided together, was abusive and refused to sleep with me as man and wife; continually fought and bickered with me; went into my room and threatened to burn the house down; and made other threats against me.

11. The next time that I saw the Plaintiff after her leaving on January 8th was on the 13th day of August 1948 when she came to Seaside Park to visit me. This was a weekend and Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard were at the house. Prior to her coming she wrote a letter under date of August 11th informing me that she was coming to Seaside Park for a visit. After arriving in Seaside Park, I took her to 207 "W" Street, where I resided, and she stayed at the house and had meals there; and on August 15th she again left me and went back to Boston, Mass. During her stay she again became abusive, argumentative, and when I took her out with me on Saturday night she insulted my friends and caused considerable trouble. Again she refused to live with me as man and wife and also refused to sleep in the same room with me. She disappeared on August 15th without my knowledge and without informing me that she was again going back to Boston, Mass.

12. The Plaintiff in her affidavit stated that on said weekend she cohabited with me and as a result became pregnant and gave birth to a son on April 19, 1949. I state that said child is not mine and is not a result of my cohabiting with the Plaintiff. In addition, the Plaintiff never told me that she was pregnant and I did not know that she had given birth to a child until some time after the child was born when a friend of mine told me that he had heard from my wife and she stated that she had a son. In addition, after the Plaintiff left me she never asked or demanded that I support her and further informed me that she was able to support herself and did not wish to have anything to do with me. When the Plaintiff lived with me for the aforementioned short periods of time I at all times told her that I was willing to support her and actually did support her during the time that she was staying with me.

13. At the time that I married the Plaintiff, I was a Justice of the Peace in Seaside Park, N.J. and actually earned approximately $100.00 per year from said position; and in addition I then held the position of Building Inspector of Seaside Park and received as compensation the approximate sum of $500.00. In addition, I am an electrician and I contracted small electrical jobs from time to time. My income was moderate at said time and during the years 1948 and 1949 my net income from all sources amounted to approximately $1,800.00.

14. Homes are very expensive in the Shore area and rentals are extremely high due to the fact that practically the entire area is a Vacationland; few homes are heated and high Summer rentals are asked. Under the circumstances, considering my financial condition, I was not able to purchase a house or rent a house at a high rental fee. I thought that the arrangement I had at the home of the Sheppards for a room and the privilege of using the rest of the house was ample at the time and prior to my marriage the Plaintiff indicated that same would be satisfactory as far as she was concerned.

15. Before I married the Plaintiff she was always pleasant and very easy to get along with and we never had any trouble but after our marriage she became argumentative, mean, temperamental and constantly picked fights with me. I have always been willing to have the Plaintiff return and I have always been willing to support her. However, she has informed me that she did not wish support and that she could take care of herself and her son of her first marriage and didn't want to have anything to do with me.

To: Mr. Deaver:

I am beginning writing out questions I have for you. I will drop more off over the weekend at the lounge prior to our telephone meeting.

1. We should not be at any thing other than a pretrial conference stage, particularly given your motion to withdraw. I will be providing you with a list of material you promised to provide or obtain from the police/wilmington. I don't know the time sequence for obtaining same but I want written assurance that it has not been warned.

2. I will need to continue with these questions ^{COPIES} of the file the enclosed at the Court.

3. You offered the return of my entire 10,000 without the signing of a waiver. Is that or please put that in writing.

4. Why do you want to hurt me? You must know I need a rest prior to the police + Angi's harassment. Why are you so angry and at what?

The Schizop

THE FIRST TIME CHRIS COLES HEARD THE voice, it spoke to him after midnight. In a gentle tone, it instructed him to meet his friend at a beach cove, right then, and apologize. Chris, the voice told him, had been planning to date the friend's girlfriend. Although Coles was planning no such thing, he did as instructed, arriving at the cove at 2 a.m. It was deserted. He dismissed the incident, imagination, after all, can play tricks in the twilight between waking and dreaming. But the voices kept intruding. Coles saw visions, too. At the beach near his California home, he often saw a profusion of whales and dolphins swimming onto the beach, and a golden Buddha glowing from the bushes by the dunes. "I also had delusions of grandeur," says Coles, now 47. "I felt that I had power over things in nature, influence over the whales and dolphins and waves. I thought I could make things happen magically in the water."

Donna Willey's visions came out of a darker world. She saw "bloody images, cut-up people, dismembered people," she says. Voices, too, he-

Luke 15:1-10. This fellow welcomes sinners and eats with them.

Jesus is preaching and a group of tax collectors and other assorted sinners come close to hear. The Jews of Palestine despised tax collectors: they violated central Jewish laws and served the Roman army of occupation. It may have been the one thing upon which the entire spectrum of Jewish life, from Zealots to Essenes to Sadducees to Pharisees, could agree: these folks were scum. Yet they hear of this teaching, this rabbi who speaks so eloquently and forcefully of the kingdom of God, and they cannot stay away. Without the usual mantle of protection that their office provided them in the conduct of their dirty business, they come to hear this rabbi teach. Exposing themselves to insults and worse, they cannot stay away. Jesus, hearing the grumblings of the pious, offers the astonishing parables. God, he says, rejects no one. God is not interested in piety, or good works, or right living, although these are important. Deeply, passionately, with a dizzying force, God wants each and every human life brought back home to paradise. No one is outside this circle. Tax collectors, sinners, the fallen—God wants us all. Drug dealers, murderers, terrorists, religious zealots—God wants us all home. There will be words for each of us once we are in the household, but home first.

FOR TODAY

O God:

Give me strength to live another day;
Let me not turn coward before its difficulties or prove recreant to its duties;
Let me not lose faith in other people;
Keep me sweet and sound of heart, in spite of ingratitude, treachery, or meanness;
Preserve me from minding little stings or giving them;
Help me to keep my heart clean, and to live so honestly and fearlessly that no outward failure can dishearten me or take away the joy of conscious integrity;
Open wide the eyes of my soul that I may see good in all things;
Grant me this day some new vision of thy truth;
Inspire me with the spirit of joy and gladness;
and make me the cup of strength to suffering souls; in the name of the strong Deliverer, our only Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

O God of peace, who hast taught us that in returning and rest we shall be saved, in quietness and in confidence shall be our strength: By the might of thy Spirit lift us, we pray thee, to thy presence, where we may be still and know that thou art God; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Isaiah 7:10-25. Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, a young woman shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel.

Conforming his words of encouragement and hope which we considered yesterday, Isaiah tells Ahaz, the King of Judah, that deliverance from attacking nations will come in a few years, before a baby conceived now will be much more than a toddler.

Isaiah's striking words came true at that time, but his prophecy remained in scripture and acquired a new significance centuries later for those awaiting a Messiah and Savior. The Son of the blessed Virgin Mary was to be "God with us" not just in name but actual fact.

We give thanks to you, O God, for the goodness and love which you have made known to us in creation... in your Word spoken through the prophets; and above all in the Word made flesh, Jesus, your Son.

My exhibit starts - Kive (35) of 145 pages
By M. John J. (KAPQ. Pro Ae
Oct Seventeenth (17th) Year 2002

Starting in the 1960s, American doctors began prescribing estrogen pills to quell the hot flashes and night sweats, abate the vaginal dryness, and even out the mood swings that affect at least half of all women during menopause, when natural hormone levels decline.

In the 1970s and following decades, doctors began exploring estrogen's ability to prevent chronic conditions, in particular heart disease, the number-one killer of women. They were encouraged by laboratory studies that suggested estrogen might benefit the heart. For example, scientists found that estrogen lowers LDL ("bad") cholesterol and raises HDL ("good") cholesterol.

Over the years, hormone therapy's charms grew. Not only would it guard against disease, it would restore youth, believers claimed. Until recently, many doctors routinely recommended HRT to their menopausal and postmenopausal patients. In one book, a physician-author maintained that estrogen reduced the risk of various cancers, improved memory, alleviated arthritis pain, and made stronger muscles, firmer breasts, younger skin, and healthier hair. "Women were told, 'You'll look better, feel better, you'll be young forever,'" says Nanette Kass Wenger, a cardiologist at Emory University School of Medicine and chair of an international panel that recently conducted a four-year review of the research on menopause.

KNOWING WHEN AND HOW TO QUIT

How do I know if it's time to stop using hormones?

In general, doctors are steering patients away from using HRT for more than five years. If you've been using hormones for menopausal symptoms, you may want to try getting off after two to three years. "I suggest women try to wean themselves off therapy slowly and see how they feel," says Jan Shifren, M.D., director of the Menopause Program at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. "If they feel miserable," they probably should go back on and try again in another six months to a year.

If I decide to quit, should I go "cold turkey?" Many doctors advise tapering off gradually, although there is no scientific evidence it works better than going cold turkey. One method is reducing the dosage, for example, shifting down from 0.825 mg of estrogen per day to 0.4, 0.3, and then to zero, over a period of weeks or months. Another is gradually decreasing the number of days per week you take the pills. If you are on combination therapy, continue taking an appropriate dose of progestin along with the estrogen. And discuss your plan with your doctor before you proceed.

Will I go through menopause all over again? If you are still in menopause, your symptoms may resume. If you are past menopause, you may experience hot flashes, night sweats, or mood changes. If they occur, do not taper your regimen any further until they subside.

Vaginal dryness will return within two to three months. Breasts will lose any extra fullness they acquired.

If your skin became smoother or your hair thicker, those benefits may reverse themselves. Note that abrupt shifts in reproductive hormones can trigger hair loss, as many new mothers learn. The loss is temporary.

How long will my symptoms last?

That depends. If you are still going through menopause, you may experience a return of the symptoms. If you are past menopause, the night sweats and hot flashes that occur as you withdraw from HRT may last several weeks or months. Some women, whether or not they have used HRT, continue to have hot flashes for many years or even a decade after menopause begins.

What if my hot flashes don't go away?

Some postmenopausal women will have persistent and debilitating hot flashes even after they have given tapering a valiant try. Doctors believe only a small minority will have this trouble. If you are one of these unlucky few you may want to try a more gradual tapering regimen or try a lower dose of HRT. Ask your doctor about drugs such as Effexor (venlafaxine) that curb hot flashes. But you may decide that the benefits you reap from HRT outweigh its risks.

Who has the most trouble quitting? Doctors say they have no way to predict which women will have more trouble than others. "Some women who never had hot flashes while going through menopause have significant hot flashes when wearing off HRT," and vice versa, says Shifren.

In theory, thin women may have more trouble than obese women, who tend to have higher levels of their own estrogen. Likewise, smokers, who generally have more hot flashes at menopause than nonsmokers, may have more trouble when quitting HRT.

Is it bad for my body to go off and on HRT?

Getting off hormones may take several attempts. Doctors have found no evidence that stopping and starting HRT will harm your body. Only make changes under the supervision of your health care provider. —M.H.

Re: American International Group, Inc. ("AIG")

Dear Mr. Crapo:

This letter is sent to you in accordance with Rule 14a-8 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pursuant to which we must notify you of any procedural or eligibility deficiencies in your shareholder proposal, dated October 21, 2002 and received October 28, 2002, as well as of the time frame for your response, if any, to this letter. For the reasons set forth below, we believe that your proposal may be excluded from our proxy statement for our upcoming 2003 annual meeting of shareholders, unless these deficiencies are cured in a timely resubmitted proposal.

Under Question (2) of Rule 14a-8, in order to be eligible to submit a proposal, a shareholder must have continuously held at least $2,000 in market value, or 1% of AIG's securities entitled to be voted on the proposal at the meeting for at least one year by the date the proposal is submitted and must continue to hold those securities through the date of the meeting. While your letter states that you have held shares of AIG common stock for the requisite period of time, according to our registrar and transfer agent, you are not a registered holder of shares of AIG's common stock. Thus, you must establish your eligibility to submit the proposal in one of the two ways specified in Rule 14a-8(b)(2).

Under Question (3) of Rule 14a-8, you may only submit one proposal. It appears that your proposal may relate to three matters: (1) the publishing of an explanation, in our proxy statement, of AIG's donations to Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") approved private foundations; (2) the publishing of a list, in our proxy statement, of IRS approved foundations that AIG plans to donate to in the upcoming calendar year; and (3) the publishing of an explanation, in our proxy statement, as to how the IRS approved foundations specified in (2) meet the standards and procedures described in (1). In light of this uncertainty, we request pursuant to Rule 14a-8(c) that you clarify your proposal.

Under Question (4) of Rule 14a-8, you must limit your proposal and supporting statement to less than 500 words. It is unclear from your correspondence where your proposal begins and ends and whether your proposal includes the attached exhibits. Please revise your proposal so that we may confirm that your proposal and supporting statement do not exceed 500 words.

Under Question (6) of Rule 14a-8, we are required to inform you that if you would like to respond to this letter or remedy the deficiencies described above, your response must be postmarked, or transmitted electronically, no later than 14 days from the date that you received this letter.

Very truly yours,

Kathleen E. Shannon

DIVISION OF CORPORATION FINANCE
INFORMAL PROCEDURES REGARDING SHAREHOLDER PROPOSALS

The Division of Corporation Finance believes that its responsibility with respect to matters arising under Rule 14a-8 [17 CFR 240.14a-8], as with other matters under the proxy rules, is to aid those who must comply with the rule by offering informal advice and suggestions and to determine, initially, whether or not it may be appropriate in a particular matter to recommend enforcement action to the Commission. In connection with a shareholder proposal under Rule 14a-8, the Division's staff considers the information furnished to it by the Company in support of its intention to exclude the proposals from the Company's proxy materials, as well as any information furnished by the proponent or the proponent's representative.

Although Rule 14a-8(k) does not require any communications from shareholders to the Commission's staff, the staff will always consider information concerning alleged violations of the statutes administered by the Commission, including argument as to whether or not activities proposed to be taken would be violative of the statute or rule involved. The receipt by the staff of such information, however, should not be construed as changing the staff's informal procedures and proxy review into a formal or adversary procedure.

It is important to note that the staff's and Commission's no-action responses to Rule 14a-8(j) submissions reflect only informal views. The determinations reached in these no-action letters do not and cannot adjudicate the merits of a company's position with respect to the proposal. Only a court such as a U.S. District Court can decide whether a company is obligated to include shareholder proposals in its proxy materials. Accordingly a discretionary determination not to recommend or take Commission enforcement action, does not preclude a proponent, or any shareholder of a company, from pursuing any rights he or she may have against the company in court, should the management omit the proposal from the company's proxy material.

March 5, 2003

Response of the Office of Chief Counsel
Division of Corporation Finance

Re: American International Group, Inc.
Incoming letter dated January 8, 2003

The proposal recommends that AIG's proxy statement contain information described in the proposal regarding AIG's charitable donations program.

We are unable to concur in your view that AIG may exclude the proposal under rule 14a-8(a). Accordingly, we do not believe that AIG may omit the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rule 14a-8(a).

Rules 14a-8(b) and 14a-8(f) require a proponent to provide documentary support of a claim of beneficial ownership upon request. Rule 14a-8(b) also requires a written statement that the proponent intends to hold the company's stock through the date of the shareholder meeting. While it appears that the proponent did provide some indication that he owned shares, it appears that he has not provided a statement from the record holder evidencing documentary support of continuous beneficial ownership of $ 2,000, or 1%, in market value of voting securities, for at least one year prior to submission of the proposal. It also appears that the proponent failed to provide a written statement of intent to hold the company's stock through the date of the annual meeting. We note, however, that AIG failed to inform the proponent of what would constitute appropriate documentation under rule 14a-8(b) and also failed to inform the proponent of his obligation to furnish a written statement of intent to hold the company's stock in AIG's request for additional information from the proponent. Unless the proponent provides AIG with appropriate documentary support of ownership and a written statement of his intent to hold the company's securities, within seven calendar days after receiving this letter, we will not recommend enforcement action to the Commission if AIG omits the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rules 14a-8(b) and 14a-8(f).

We are unable to concur in your view that AIG may exclude the proposal under rule 14a-8(c). Accordingly, we do not believe that AIG may omit the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rule 14a-8(c).

We are unable to concur in your view that AIG may exclude the proposal under rule 14a-8(d). Accordingly, we do not believe that AIG may omit the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rule 14a-8(d).

We are unable to concur in your view that AIG may exclude the entire proposal under rule 14a-8(i)(3). However, there appears to be some basis for your view that the entire supporting statement may be excluded under rule 14a-8(i)(3). Accordingly, we will not recommend enforcement action to the Commission if AIG omits the entire supporting statement from its proxy materials in reliance on rule 14a-8(i)(3).

We are unable to concur in your view that AIG may exclude the proposal under rule 14a-8(i)(5). Accordingly, we do not believe that AIG may omit the proposal from its proxy materials in reliance on rule 14a-8(i)(5).

Sincerely,
