ASXMedia Release

Thursday May 2, 2002

NEW MACQUARIE PROLOGIS TRUST TO RAISE A$400 MILLION

MACQUARIE Bank (ASX: MBL) and ProLogis (NYSE: PLD), the world's largest owner, operator and manager of distribution facilities, today announced plans to list a property trust specialising in North American assets on the Australian Stock Exchange (ASX) by late June.

Macquarie ProLogis Trust (MPT) will take an 80 per cent share in a broad portfolio of state-of-the-art distribution centres in key North American markets valued at approximately A$800 million.

Macquarie ProLogis Management will issue a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) in early June and raise up to A$400 million equity. MPT plans to issue units payable in two instalments - 75 per cent in the first tranche, with an additional 25 per cent payable by June 2003 - to fund the acquisitions.

The PDS will be available through Macquarie Equities and UBS Warburg Australia Ltd. Potential investors should consider the PDS in deciding whether to acquire units in MPT.

The joint venture partners will strongly align their interests with investors by owning the remaining 20 per cent of the seed assets (PLD 16 per cent, MBL 4 per cent).

PLD will manage the assets, located in the United States and Mexico, while MBL will manage the trust, which has the right to acquire further PLD North American developments that ProLogis decides to sell - until at least the end of 2003.

MPT will be the fifth sector-specific listed property trust managed by MBL's growing Property Group, taking the total value of assets it has under management to A$5.7 billion.

MBL Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer, Allan Moss, said MPT was an excellent example of MBL's strategy to diversify and expand its range of specialist listed funds and to deliver strong investor returns.

"We are also delighted to be working with a partner the calibre of ProLogis, the global leader in the provision and management of distribution facilities," Mr Moss said.

ProLogis owns, manages or has under development 1,571 distribution facilities in 77 markets across North America, Europe and Japan.

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of ProLogis, K. Dane Brooksher, said the planned ASX listing was consistent with his company's growth strategy.

"The formation and planned public offering of this fund are consistent with ProLogis' objective of continuing to diversify our global capital sources to support the growth of our North American development business, similar to what we have done in Europe," Mr Brooksher said.

"Macquarie's strengths in the creation of international specialist funds as well as its leading position and expertise in the Australian capital markets are ideal attributes in a management partner."

The majority of assets for the upcoming IPO have already been secured through an equity joint venture to which PLD has contributed A$16 million (US$8.5 million) and MBL A$91.3 million (US$48.4 million). MBL's equity will be recovered through the IPO in June.

Co-Head of Macquarie Property Investment Management and Chief Executive Officer of MPT, James Hodgkinson, said the group was ideally positioned through its global partnerships to deliver quality international property investment opportunities to Australian investors seeking strong returns and portfolio diversification.

"This is a great example of how the global real estate investment market is evolving, with significant benefits to both parties," Mr Hodgkinson said.

"MPT allows Macquarie Property to expand its funds management portfolio and secure high-quality, well-managed assets."

Mr Hodgkinson said the joint venture follows a strategic alliance between MBL and PLD announced in November 2001. He added that Macquarie is also a partner in Macquarie Capital Partners, a US-based real estate investment advisory business.

The MPT Board will be led by MBL Executive Chairman, David Clarke. Members are: Head of MBL Banking and Property Group, Bill Moss; Vice Chairman and Chief Investment Officer of PLD, Irving Lyons III; President and Chief Operating Officer of PLD North America, J. Seiple; Independent Trevor Gerber; MBL Director Real Estate North America and Europe, Mark Bastie; PLD Senior Vice President, James Cochran.

Recent highlights of the Macquarie Property Group include:

- Official opening of a new office today (Thursday) in Seattle, United States

Macquarie Bank is also a world leader in infrastructure funds management. Macquarie Infrastructure Group was the No. 1 performing stock on the ASX 100 for 2001. It has returned 41 per cent per annum since listing in December, 1996.

This press release is not an offer to sell any securities of Macquarie ProLogis Trust (MPT) and is not an offer to buy any securities of MPT. The MPT securities have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act") and may not be offered or sold in the United States of America or for the account or benefit of U.S. persons except in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Act.

Macquarie Bank Activates Dividend Reinvestment Plan

The Board of Macquarie Bank Limited has resolved to activate the dividend reinvestment plan ("DRP") for ordinary shareholders approved by shareholders at the 2001 Annual General Meeting. The DRP will commence in time for the Bank's next ordinary dividend.

Ordinary shareholders resident in Australia and New Zealand will be able to acquire new shares in the Bank under the DRP at a small discount to the prevailing market price and without transaction costs. The capital raised will be used to support the Bank's broad strategic development, especially in specialist asset class funds management.

The issue discount has been set by the Board initially at 2.5% of the prevailing market price of the Bank's ordinary shares, as determined in the rules of the DRP. The rules were lodged with ASX after the Annual General Meeting in July 2001.

The Bank's full year results announcement will occur on 16 May 2002 and the amount and timing of the 2002 final dividend will be announced at that time.

Documentation concerning the DRP will be mailed to ordinary shareholders in the next few weeks.

Yours faithfully

- 97% of 2003 forecast revenue and 87% of 2004 forecast revenue is already under long-term contracts – mostly with ABC and SBS

- $2.4b contract order book (assuming exercise of options), mostly with ABC and SBS (up to 15-year initial term)
- Growth above underpinned by increased revenue from new services under existing contracts

* Prima facie income tax on profit from ordinary activities is calculated at the rate of 34% (2001, 36%) on profit from 1 April to 31 September 2001 and at a rate of 30% (2001, 34%) on profits from 1 October 2001 to 31 March 2002.

The economic entity has a tax year ending on 30 September.

The economic entity is currently subject to an audit by the Australian Taxation Office ("ATO"). Some amended assessments have been issued by the ATO for the 1998 to 1993 years. Other issues of potential taxation liability have been raised but have not yet been subject to the issue of amended assessments. Objections have been lodged in respect of the amended assessments and the other issues of alleged liability are also disputed.

The ATO is also reviewing the interests held by the economic entity in research and development syndicates. Amended assessments have been issued in relation to one of these syndicates, against which objections have been lodged and denied. The matter is currently proceeding to litigation.

In relation to the MIS, a draft public ruling was issued by the ATO which suggests that deductions for distributions on this type of security may not be available. The Bank has received independent legal advice confirming that deductions are available for the distributions paid or provided.

In preparing this financial report the Directors have considered the information currently available and have taken legal advice as to the economic entity's tax liability and in accordance with this believe that provisions made are adequate.

7. EVENTS SUBSEQUENT TO BALANCE DATE

On 2 April 2002, a controlled entity of the Bank acquired 100% of the issued capital of ntl Belgium sprl, the chief entity of ntl Australia Holdings Pty Limited (collectively "ntl").

The principal activities of ntl are:

- provision of television and radio transmission services to Australian national broadcasters;
- provision of equipment hosting services to regional and community broadcasters, telecommunications operators, and emergency services communication providers; and
- construction of a microwave telecommunications network along the eastern coast of Australia for the carriage of digital video signals and wholesale bandwidth.

ntl Belgium sprl was purchased for an initial cost of $313 million with additional consideration payable of up to $20 million in 2003, subject to any warranty claims and purchase price adjustments.

The estimated fair value of the assets and liabilities of ntl at the date of acquisition were as follows:

	$'M
Cash and other assets	47
Fixed assets	584
Intangible assets
Customer contracts	247
Goodwill on acquisition	110
Payables and provisions	(138)
Enterprise Value	850
Borrowings	(517)
Total purchase price (subject to final adjustments)	(333)

The existing ntl borrowings have been refinanced through a bridge debt facility and funding from the MIII Group of $102 million.

The actual fair value of the net assets and resulting goodwill may change as a result of the completion of valuations (which are not yet completed due to the geographic diversity and number of assets acquired) and final allocation of the purchase price.

The financial effects of this transaction have not been brought to account as at 31 March 2002. The operating results, assets and liabilities of ntl will be consolidated from 2 April 2002.

MACQUARIE BANK ANNOUNCES $250 MILLION FULL YEAR PROFIT

Macquarie Bank today announced a $250 million profit after tax attributable to ordinary shareholders for the year to March 31, 2002.

The result was achieved without any major asset sales and is in line with the statement issued to the Australian Stock Exchange in February, which forecast a result slightly ahead of the previous year.

The result is an increase of 3.3 per cent over the $242 million profit for the year ended March 31, 2001 and represents a return on average ordinary shareholders' funds of 18.7 per cent per annum.

Profit before tax attributable to ordinary shareholders rose by 10 per cent to $326 million from $296 million. Earnings per share for the 12 month period decreased 4 per cent to 132.83 cents from 138.88 cents for the previous year.

Macquarie Bank Executive Chairman David Clarke said the result was achieved amid difficult conditions in many markets, where profits reported by international investment banking competitors over a comparable period fell an average of more than 50 per cent. "In these circumstances, we are pleased to report another record result," Mr Clarke said.

The Bank maintained a good spread of international income across businesses and regions, with especially strong growth in infrastructure businesses. "The geographical and industry diversification of international businesses has continued, positioning us well for future growth," Mr Clarke said.

"Our specialist funds strategy has been highly successful. Specialist funds under management grew by 73 per cent, while Funds Management Group and Financial Services

Group funds grew by 19 per cent. Total funds under management across the Bank's businesses rose from $30.9 billion to $41.3 billion for the full year, an increase of approximately 34 per cent.

The Investment Banking Group had an outstanding year. Other Groups also made substantial contributions, with Treasury and Commodities, and Banking and Property achieving record results, while Funds Management increased its contribution to earnings.

As forecast, the Financial Services Group – established in June 2000 to realise the Bank's potential in wealth creation for retail clients – reported a modest loss, with technology investment and other costs tracking according to our business plan.

Equity Markets – the Group most susceptible to trading conditions – had a disappointing year with strong contributions from its Australian and South African businesses offset by poor results from the Hong Kong and European businesses.

Macquarie Bank Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer Allan Moss said the year had been characterised by the rapid development of the Bank's specialist funds businesses and a broad increase in market share across many businesses.

These initiatives employed much of the $500 million capital raised in September 2001 to pursue specialist funds strategies and strategic initiatives.

Major funds launched during the year include the $1 billion Macquarie Airports (MLAP), the €600 million Macquarie Airports Group (MAG), and the Los Angeles-based Four Corners Capital Management, a collateralised debt obligation specialist funds management business. The Bank also announced the purchase of the Australian broadcast transmission business of NTL for an enterprise value of $850 million.

Mr Moss said specialist funds were also initiated by Macquarie Property, which established alliances with the Schroders Asian Property Fund and with the US-based property group, Prologis, the world's largest owner, operator and manager of distribution facilities. The alliance with Schroders has resulted in a Shanghai residential development and funds management joint venture, and earlier this year the Bank was also appointed senior advisor to the US$308 million Schroders Asian Property Fund.

The Macquarie managed Macquarie Infrastructure Group increased funds under management during the year by 11.5 per cent, completing two capital raisings – $1.7 billion to acquire a 40 per cent interest in Cintra in September last year and another $1 billion in March 2002, mainly to purchase a further interest in Highway 407 in Canada.

Since balance date the Bank has announced a number of strategic initiatives:

- The establishment, with ProLogis, of an $800 million property trust to be listed on the Australian Stock Exchange by late June. Building on the relationship established during the year, Macquarie will raise $400 million from investors for the trust, which will take an 80 per cent share in a broad portfolio of distribution centres in key North American markets.
- The purchase of one of Australia's premier office buildings, No.1 Martin Place, for $426.25 million, to be split equally between the Macquarie Office Trust and a newly formed syndicate the Macquarie Martin Place Trust (MMPT)
- The launch by Direct Investments of MIT IV – with a fund raising target of $400 million it is set to be one of the largest private equity funds in Australia.

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

In accordance with its announced distribution policy, the Bank has declared ordinary dividend payments of 93 cents per share for the year, comprising an interim dividend of 41 cents per share and a final dividend of 52 cents per share, both franked to 70 per cent. This is unchanged from the dividend for the year ended March 31, 2001.

Total income from ordinary activities for the year was $1,600 million up from $1,472 million for the previous year. Net fee and commission income rose by 21 per cent to $1,003 million from $831 million, while the contribution from net trading income fell, decreasing by 21 per cent to $361 million from $457 million last year. Net interest income increased from last year, rising by 22 per cent to $219 million, from $179 million last year.

GROUP OPERATING HIGHLIGHTS

- The Investment Banking Group's (IBG) unique model of combining investment banking and funds management around the needs of the client paid off handsomely during the year, with the completion of over 215 transactions, and an increase in funds under management from $5.3 billion to almost $12 billion. Major transactions included Macquarie Infrastructure Group's acquisition of 40 per cent of Cintra, and its subsequent acquisition of an additional 15 per cent of the world's largest private tollway, the 407, in Toronto. IBG acted as the financial adviser and

Half yearly/preliminary financial report

Segment reporting

Information on the business and geographical segments of the entity must be reported for the current period in accordance with AASB 1021 Segment Reporting and for half year reports, AASB 1022: Interim Financial Reporting. Because entities occupy different situations a pro forma cannot be provided. Segment information in the annual accounts of the entity's accounts should be reported separately and attached to the report.

The economic entity operates as a financial services provider principally in Australia. Some of the economic entity's services and products are offered in locations outside of Australia which they are predominantly managed as part of the Australian divisional businesses, not as separate geographic locations. Certain segment information is available in Note 28 to the full consolidated Financial Report - Geographical Concentration of Deposits and Borrowings and Note 21 to the full consolidated Financial Report - Credit Risk and Net Fair Value.

Comments by directors

Comments on the following matters are required by ASIC or in relation to the half yearly report, by AASB 1022: Interim Financial Reporting. The comments do not take the place of the directors' report and statement (as required by the Corporations Law) and may be incorporated into the directors' report and statement. For both half yearly and preliminary financial reports, if there are no comments in a section, state nil. If there is insufficient space to comment, attach notes to the report.

Basis of accounts preparation

20.1 If this report is a half yearly report, it is a periodic financial report prepared in accordance with the listing rules and AASB 1022: Interim Financial Reporting. It should be read in conjunction with the last annual report and any announcements to the market made by the entity during the period. (Does it preliminary financial report.)

20.2 Several factors affecting the revenues and expenses of the economic entity for the current period, for example, in a half yearly report, any seasonal or irregular factors affecting operations:

20.3 A description of each event since the end of the current period which has had a material effect and is not related to matters already reported elsewhere in the Accounts or in attachments, with financial effect qualified (if possible)

- See chapter 14 for defined terms.

On 2 April 2002, a controlled entity of the Bank acquired 100% of the issued capital of MBL Belgium sprl, the direct entity of MBL Australia Holdings Pty Limited (collectively "MFL").

The principal activities of MFL are:

- provision of television and radio transmission services to Australian national broadcasters;
- provision of equipment leasing services to regional and community broadcasters, telecommunications operators and emergency services communication providers; and
- construction of a microwave telecommunications network along the eastern coast of Australia for the carriage of digital video signals and wideband bandwidth.

MBL Belgium sprl was purchased for an initial cost of $113 million with additional consideration payable of up to $20 million in 2003, subject to any warranty claims and purchase price adjustments.

The estimated fair value of the assets and liabilities of MFL at the date of acquisition were as follows:

	$'M
Cash and other assets	47
Fixed assets	584
Intangible assets
Customer contracts	247
Goodwill on acquisition	110
Payables and provisions	(1,181)
Enterprise Value	827
Borrowings	(517)
Total purchase price (subject to final adjustments)	(313)

The existing MFL borrowings have been refinanced through a bridge debt facility and funding from the MBL Group of $100 million.

The actual fair value of the net assets and resulting goodwill may change as a result of the complexities of valuations which are not yet completed due to the geographic diversity and number of assets acquired and final allocation of the purchase price.

The financial effects of this transaction have not been brought to account as at 31 March 2002. The operating results, assets and liabilities of MFL will be consolidated from 2 April 2002.

20.4 Financing credits available and prospects for paying fully or partly franked dividends for at least the next year

$26 million (2001: $19 million)

The extent of franking of future dividends is uncertain and is dependent on the Bank's future Australian taxable income.

Notes

1. For announcement to the market The percentage changes referred to in this section are the percentage changes calculated by comparing the current period's figures with those for the previous corresponding period. Do not show percentage changes if the change is from profit to loss or loss to profit, but still show whether the change was up or down. If changes in accounting policies or procedures have had a material effect on reported figures, do not show either directional or percentage changes in profits. Explain the reason for the omissions in the note at the end of the announcement section. Entities are encouraged to attach notes or fuller explanations of any significant changes to any of the items in page 1. The area at the end of the announcement section can be used to provide a cross reference to any such attachment.
2. True and fair view If this report does not give a true and fair view of a matter (for example, because compliance with an Accounting Standard is required) the entity must attach a note providing additional information and explanations to give a true and fair view.
3. Consolidated profit and loss account
 - Item 1.1 The definition of "revenue" and an explanation of "ordinary activities" are set out in AASB 1004: Revenue, and AASB 1018: Statement of Financial Performance.
 - Item 1.6 This item refers to the total tax attributable to the amount shown in item 1.5. Tax includes income tax and capital gains tax (if any) but excludes taxes treated as expenses from ordinary activities (eg, fringe benefits tax).
4. Income tax If the amount provided for income tax in this report differs (or would differ but for compensatory items) by more than 15% from the amount of income tax prima facie payable on the profit before tax, the entity must explain in a note the major items responsible for the difference and their amounts. The rate of tax applicable to the franking amount per dividend should be inserted in the heading for the column "Franked amount per security at % tax" for items 15.4 to 15.7.
5. Consolidated balance sheet

Format The format of the consolidated balance sheet should be followed as closely as possible. However, additional items may be added if greater clarity of exposition will be achieved, provided the disclosure still meets the requirements of AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting, and AASB 1040: Statement of Financial Position. Banking institutions, trusts and financial institutions identified in an ASIC Class Order dated 2 September 1997 may substitute a clear liquidity ranking for the Current/Non-Current classification.

Basis of revaluation If there has been a material revaluation of non-current assets (including investments) since the last annual report, the entity must describe the basis of revaluation.

- See chapter 19 for defined terms.

adopted. The description must meet the requirements of AASB 1010: Accounting for the Revaluation of Non-Current Assets. If the entity has adopted a procedure of regular revaluation, the basis for which has been disclosed and has not changed, no additional disclosure is required.

6. Consolidated statement of cash flows For definitions of "cash" and other terms used in this report see AASB 1026: Statement of Cash Flows. Entities should follow the form as closely as possible, but variations are permitted if the directors (in the case of a trust, the management company) believe that this presentation is inappropriate. However, the presentation adopted must meet the requirements of AASB 1026. Mining exploration entities may use the form of cash flow statement in Appendix 5B.
7. Net tangible asset backing Net tangible assets are determined by deducting from total tangible assets all claims on those assets ranking ahead of the ordinary securities (i.e., all liabilities, preference shares, outside equity interests etc). Mining entities are not required to state a net tangible asset backing per ordinary security.
8. Gain and loss of control over entities The gain or loss must be disclosed if it has a material effect on the accounts. Details must include the contribution for each gain or loss that increased or decreased the entity's consolidated profit (loss) from ordinary activities and extraordinary items after tax by more than 5% compared to the previous corresponding period.
9. Rounding of figures This report anticipates that the information required is given to the nearest $1,000. If an entity reports exact figures, the $A'000 headings must be amended. If an entity qualifies under ASIC Class Order 98/0100 dated 10 July 1998, it may report to the nearest million dollars, or to the nearest $100,000, and the $A'000 headings must be amended.
10. Comparative figures Comparative figures are the unadjusted figures from the previous corresponding period. However, if there is a lack of comparability, a note explaining the position should be attached.
11. Additional information An entity may disclose additional information about any matter, and must do so if the information is material to an understanding of the reports. The information may be an expansion of the material contained in this report, or contained in a note attached to the report. The requirement under the listing rules for an entity to complete this report does not prevent the entity issuing reports more frequently. Additional material lodged with the ASIC under the Corporations Act must also be given to ASX. For example, a director's report and declaration, if lodged with the ASIC, must be given to ASX.
12. Accounting Standards ASX will accept, for example, the use of International Accounting Standards for foreign entities. If the standards used do not address a topic, the Australian standard on that topic (if one) must be complied with.

* see chapter 19 for defined terms

Appendix 4B
Half yearly/preliminary final report

13. Corporations Acts financial statements This report may be able to be used by an entity required to comply with the Corporations Acts as part of its half-year financial statements if prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards
14. Issued and quoted securities The issue price and amount paid up is not required in items 18.1 and 18.3 for fully paid securities.
15. Details of revenue and expenses AASB1018: Statement of Financial Performance requires disclosure of revenue and expenses from ordinary activities according to either their nature or function. Other accounting standards acceptable to ASX contain similar disclosure requirements. In line item 1.27 entities must disclose details of expenses using the layout (by nature or function) employed in their accounts. The information in lines 1.24 to 1.31 may be provided in an attachment to Appendix 4B.

Relevant Items AASB 1018 requires the separate disclosure of specific revenues and expenses which are not extraordinary but which are of a size, nature or incidence that disclosure is relevant in explaining the financial performance of the reporting entity. The term "relevance" is defined in AASB 1018. There is an equivalent requirement in AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting. For foreign entities, there are similar requirements in other accounting standards normally accepted by ASX.

16. $ Dollars If reporting is not in $A, all references to $A must be changed to the reporting currency. If reporting is not in thousands of dollars, all references to "000" must be changed to the reporting value.
17. Discontinuing operations

Half yearly report

All entities must provide the information required in paragraph 12 for half years beginning on or after 1 July 2001.

Preliminary final report

Entities which adopt AASB 1042 prior to its operative date and all entities for financial years beginning on or after 30 June 2002, must either provide a description of any significant activities or events relating to discontinuing operations equivalent to that required by paragraph 7.5 (g) of AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting, or, the details of discontinuing operations they have disclosed in their accounts in accordance with AASB 1042.

In any case the information may be provided as an attachment to this Appendix 4B.

18. Format

This form is a Word document but an entity can re-format the document into Excel or similar applications for submission to the Companies Announcements Office in ASX

MEDIA RELEASE

4 June, 2002

Townsville decision catalyst for coal seam gas industry expansion

Queensland coal seam gas company CH₄ Pty Limited ("CH₄") today welcomed the selection of Enertrade as the developer of the Townsville Power Station which will exclusively source gas supply from CH₄.

Enertrade agreement

Under the terms of the gas sales agreement with Enertrade, CH₄ will supply a maximum of 290Petajoules to be delivered over 15 years commencing in January 2005, making this contract one of the largest ever awarded in Queensland. CH₄'s gas field in the Bowen Basin is the closest source of gas to Townsville, located approximately 360 km south-west of Townsville.

CH₄ is confident of playing a leading role in the growing Queensland gas market thanks to the massive size of the CSG resource within ATP364P and its innovative use of Queensland developed technology to recover the gas. Independently verified data confirms gas in place within the ATP of more than 11,000 PJ's including more than 1,000 PJ's of 3P reserves within PL191. This compares with the total size of the Queensland gas market of more than 90 PJ per annum.

Gas will be produced using the innovative extraction technology developed by CH₄ which involves a horizontal in-seam well drilled from the surface intersecting with a vertical well around a kilometre away. Gas and water are produced to surface through a series of vertical wellheads.

CH₄ intends to source much of the plant and equipment needed for the wellheads, gathering systems and compressors from within Queensland where available, and will seek local engineering design and manufacturing services for well head equipment.

CH₄ Pty Ltd

Enertrade will install a compressor station at Moranbah and the 391km long high pressure gas pipeline needed to transport the coal seam gas from Moranbah to Townsville. Enertrade's successful bid and its decision to choose CH₄ as its gas supplier means CH₄'s extensive gas resources can now be delivered directly to Townsville to fuel the region's industrial growth.

CH₄ Background

CH₄ holds the operating and marketing rights to ATP364P covering an area 8,100 sq. km in the northern Bowen Basin. In March this year CH₄ was awarded Petroleum Lease (PL 191) enabling it to extract coal seam gas in a 260 square kilometre area immediately north of the mining township of Moranbah.

An independent reserves report by international consultants, Netherland Sewell Associates, Inc has previously confirmed recoverable gas of more than 1,000 PJ [One Trillion Cubic Feet (TCF)] in the 260 sq km area covered by PL 191 alone—compared to the total annual gas demand in Queensland of more than 90 PJ. Within the broader ATP364P—covering an area of approximately 8,100 sq km—gas in place of more than 11,000 PJ has been estimated.

CH₄ quote

Commenting on the announcement, CH₄ Director Mr David Wrench, said:

"This is a landmark for the development of Australia's coal seam gas industry which is poised to become a major source of affordable, clean energy for Queensland. CH₄ is strategically positioned to become a leading participant in the state's energy market through its use of a Queensland based resource to supply Townsville and surrounding areas.

"CH₄ is developing Queensland gas for Queenslanders using leading edge technology developed locally. We are delighted to be the exclusive supplier of gas to the Townsville Power station which will bring significant benefits not only to the people of Townsville but also to important regional areas such as Moranbah in central Queensland which is the focal point of our activities.

"CH₄— a Queensland company majority owned by Macquarie Bank— has plans for the investment of more than $150 million in the state's economy which will also benefit from royalties earned from the project," he said.

Background to CH₄

CH₄ is the chemical symbol for methane gas. CH₄ Pty Ltd is an Australian Company 90% owned by Macquarie Bank and 10% by private investors.

Technology developed by CH₄ is also being employed to de-gas underground coal mines - making mining safer and more environmentally acceptable by removing fugitive methane gas emissions released by mining of coal deposits.

CH₄ has been producing gas since April 2001 from pilot wells at its Grosvenor gas field near Moranbah at a rate of more than 1.5 million cubic feet per day.

CSG from various sources within Queensland currently supplies more than 10% of Queensland's gas needs and CSG is also a major source of energy in overseas markets, particularly the United States where it accounts for around 10% of gas consumed by the sizeable US energy market.

MACQUARIE BANK IN CONSORTIUM TO ACQUIRE AXA HEALTH

Macquarie Bank Limited (Macquarie) announced today it is arranging and participating in a consortium that will acquire 100 per cent of AXA Health Insurance (AXA Health). AXA Health is the third largest private health insurance business in Australia and operates as HBA in Victoria and Mutual Community in South Australia.

Under the terms of the transaction, Macquarie and AXA Asia Pacific Holdings (AXA APH) have agreed a purchase price of $595 million.

Macquarie has partnered with BUPA (the British United Provident Association Limited), which will acquire a 50 per cent equity interest in the consortium. Macquarie has reduced its maximum equity exposure to below $50 million and may seek to sell this down to institutional investors over the next 12 months.

Macquarie and AXA APH have also agreed to a profit sharing arrangement where, in certain circumstances, AXA APH would participate in profits upon a subsequent sell down of equity and/or sale of the business within a period of up to 18 months.

Payment for the acquisition comprises a $55 million deposit funded by equity and provision of $537 million of vendor finance for six months. The vendor finance will be refinanced through additional equity of $202 million, debt facilities of $300 million, underwritten by third party banks, and internally generated cash.

The transaction will not affect the 470,000 Australians insured with AXA Health, or the day to day running of AXA Health, which will continue to operate on a business as usual basis under existing management. As the strategic partner in the consortium, BUPA will work with the business' existing management team to ensure continuity for customers and advise on the future direction of the business. In the longer term, BUPA's expertise will help identify opportunities for business development and growth. The consortium plans to retain all staff.

AXA Health reported profit after tax for the 15 months ended December 31, 2001 of $126 million on revenue of $1.136 billion.

Richard Facioni, transaction leader on the consortium acquisition and an Executive Director in Macquarie's Investment Banking Group, said: "The AXA Health business is already the most efficient operator in the industry, a function of its high quality management and staff, led by Richard Bowden. With the introduction of a strategic partner such as BUPA, and access to further capital, there is significant scope to expand its business and improve overall industry efficiency. It is important to note that continuity of services to policyholders is of paramount importance in this transaction."

BUPA has international operations in Ireland, Spain, Saudi Arabia, Hong Kong, Thailand and Singapore and owns the Hurstville Community Hospital in Sydney. It is a broad-based health and care organisation with a growing international presence. Its main interests are health insurance, hospitals, care services for the elderly, health assessments and workplace health. Insuring nearly five million customers in 190 countries, BUPA employs 40,000 staff and had revenues in calendar 2001 of in excess of $6.5 billion. It is the leading company in its sector in the UK.

BUPA's Chief Executive Val Gooding said: "The acquisition extends our overseas portfolio and in particular our business interests in the Asia Pacific region, which we have previously identified as an area of potential growth."

It is anticipated the sale will be completed in August 2002, following completion of confirmatory due diligence and obtaining necessary regulatory approvals.

16 May 2002

Dear Shareholders,

I am pleased to advise you that the Macquarie Bank Limited Board has resolved to activate the Dividend Reinvestment Plan (DRP) that was approved by shareholders at the 2001 Macquarie Bank Annual General Meeting. You will be able to participate in the DRP in respect of the next ordinary dividend which will be paid on 2 July 2002.

The purpose of the DRP is to provide you with the ability to apply your Macquarie Bank ordinary dividends towards acquiring further Macquarie Bank shares rather than receiving the dividends in the form of cash.

The DRP provides you with the opportunity to acquire fully paid ordinary Macquarie Bank shares:

- at a 2.5% discount to the prevailing market value; and
- without any transaction costs.

Participation in the DRP is optional. If you choose not to participate at this time, you may elect to participate anytime in the future whenever the DRP is operational. You may also terminate your participation at any time.

A leaflet summarising the DRP and a copy of the rules of the DRP are attached. Please read these carefully before deciding whether to participate in the DRP. You may also wish to see independent advice from your financial adviser or stockbroker.

If you wish to participate, complete the attached Notice of Dividend Election and return it in the enclosed Reply Paid Envelope.

To be eligible to participate in the DRP for the 2 July 2002 dividend, your Notice of Dividend Election must be received by Computershare Investor Services by the close of business on Thursday, 6 June 2002.

If you have any queries in relation to the operation of the DRP please call Computershare Investor Services on 1300 855 080.

Yours faithfully

MACQUARIE BANK LIMITED
FOR 2002 FEB 947
SUMMARY OF THE DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT
PLAN FOR ORDINARY SHAREHOLDERS

What is the Dividend Reinvestment Plan?

The Dividend Reinvestment Plan (DRP) provides ordinary shareholders of Macquarie Bank Limited (the "Bank") with the choice of applying dividends on their ordinary shares to acquiring new fully paid ordinary shares in the Bank rather than receiving those dividends directly in cash.

Benefits of participating in the DRP

The benefits of participating in the DRP are twofold:

1. Shares purchased through the DRP will be at a 2.5% discount to the Market Value of ordinary Macquarie Bank shares (see "Discount on DRP Shares" in this leaflet for details)
2. The issue of shares under the DRP will not be subject to brokerage, commissions, stamp duty or other transaction costs. All administrative costs will be met by the Bank.

However shareholders should note that the Bank does not assume liability for any taxes or other imposts assessed against or imposed on a participant.

Eligibility

Participation in the DRP is offered to all ordinary shareholders who are residents of Australia and New Zealand. Participation is not currently offered to a shareholder who is a citizen or resident of a place outside Australia and New Zealand, or a shareholder acting on their behalf, to whom the Bank may not lawfully make the offer or who may not lawfully accept the offer.

Shareholders resident in a country outside Australia and New Zealand may, in the future, be able to participate in the DRP if legal advice, satisfactory to the Bank, is provided to the Bank by a shareholder and at the shareholder's expense that it is lawful for the Bank to make the offer to participate in the DRP to all resident shareholders of that country without complying with conditions or assuming potential liability which the Bank considers unduly onerous.

Levels of participation - partial or full

Eligible shareholders may apply to participate in the DRP in respect of all or part of their holding. Shareholders who wish to partially participate in the DRP may nominate a specific number of shares to which they wish the DRP to apply.

Applying to participate

To participate in the DRP, eligible shareholders must complete the Notice of Dividend Election and return it to the Bank's share registry. A separate notice must be lodged for each shareholding account. Participation in the DRP will commence with the first dividend payment after receipt by the Bank of the notice of dividend election, provided it is received before the record date for that dividend. The notice of dividend election will also operate for all future dividends in respect of which the DRP operates, unless superseded by a notice of variation from the participant or the participant's participation in the DRP has been terminated.

Withdrawing from or varying participation in the DRP

Participating shareholders may vary the level of participation or withdraw from the DRP at any time by completing the Notice of Variation (available from the share registry) and returning it to the share registry.

On the termination or suspension of participation in the DRP any residual positive balance held in respect of the DRP relevant to that participation will be paid to the participant in cash.

Number of shares allotted

Shareholders will be entitled on each dividend payment, in respect of each participating shareholding account, to be allotted the nearest whole number of ordinary shares (rounding down) which the cash dividend on their DRP shares less any sum the Bank is entitled to retain in respect of the DRP shares (including withholding tax), would acquire at the issue price.

If there is a cash dividend on DRP shares left over after shares have been allotted under the DRP, this amount will be carried forward until the next dividend is paid and will be added to that dividend in determining the number of shares allotted under the DRP. Such carried forward amounts will bear no interest nor carry a dividend entitlement.

Discount on DRP shares

Shares allotted under the DRP will be issued at a discount of 2.5% from the then Market Value, as defined, of a Bank fully paid ordinary share. Market Value is defined as:

- (a) the weighted average market price of ordinary shares of the Bank sold on the ASX on the record date for the relevant dividend and the four following business days; or
- (b) if, at the absolute discretion of the Directors, the amount calculated in (a) above is not considered to represent the then fair market value of fully paid ordinary shares, the amount determined by the Directors as the then fair market value of such shares.

Ranking of DRP shares

Shares issued under the DRP will rank equally in every respect with the existing issued fully paid ordinary shares of the Bank and will participate in all dividends subsequently declared or paid.

Selling DRP shares

Shareholders participating in the DRP may sell any of their shares, including shares participating in the DRP or issued under the DRP, at any time. Shares participating in the DRP which are transferred will be automatically withdrawn from the DRP.

Keeping track of your holdings

Shareholders participating in the DRP will receive a statement at the time of each dividend payment showing, for each shareholding account, details of the amount of the dividend entitlement, the number of shares issued, the issue price, the issue date and any residual dividend carried forward.

Taxation

The following comments are an overview only of some of the possible tax consequences of participating in the DRP and only apply to shareholders who hold their shares on capital account and who are Australian residents for tax purposes. Shareholders should seek their own tax advice, referable to their circumstances.

Under the DRP, a shareholder requests that the cash from their dividend be utilised to subscribe for new fully paid ordinary shares. Cash dividends generally form part of a shareholder's assessable income.

Shares issued under the DRP are likely to be subject to Australia's capital gains provisions when sold by the shareholder. For capital gains tax purposes, the cost base of shares issued under the DRP to the shareholder will include the amount of the cash applied on their behalf to acquire the shares under the DRP. The time of acquisition of the shares by the shareholder will be the time the shares are issued.

Plan Rules and additional comments

The DRP will be operated in accordance with the rules of the DRP, a copy of which is available from the share registry. This summary is an outline only of the rules. To the extent there is any conflict between this summary and the rules, the rules will prevail.

The DRP may be varied, suspended, recommenced or terminated by the Directors of the Bank at any time by giving participants one month's written notice.

Participants are at all times bound by the rules of the DRP as modified from time to time.

Shares will not be issued under the DRP if the issue would breach any provision of any applicable law.

1 Interpretation

1.1 The following words have these meanings in these Rules, unless the contrary intention appears:

ASX means Australian Stock Exchange Limited (ACN 008 624 691).

Company means Macquarie Bank Limited.

Directors means the voting directors of the Company acting as a board or any duly appointed committee of the board.

Dividend means a cash dividend or cash component of a dividend in respect of Shares paid by the Company.

Eligible Member means a person registered as the holder of Shares other than a person whose participation, or to whom the making of an offer or invitation to participate, in the Plan would, in the reasonable opinion of the Directors, be unlawful, impractical, impossible, would require the issue of a prospectus under foreign law or would have an adverse effect on the regulatory approvals or licences which the Company holds or for which it intends to apply.

Market Value in relation to a Dividend means:

- (a) the amount which is the volume weighted average price for a Share sold on ASX on the Record Date of the relevant Dividend and the following four business days; or
- (b) if, at the absolute discretion of the Voting Directors, the amount calculated in (a) above is not considered to represent the then fair market value of Shares, the amount determined by the Voting Directors as the then fair market value of Shares.

Notice of Dividend Election means the application to participate in the Plan in respect of a particular shareholding account in the form that the Directors from time to time approve.

Notice of Variation means a notice in the form that the Directors from time to time approve for a Participant to increase or decrease the number of the Participant's Plan Shares.

Participant means an Eligible Member whose application to participate in the Plan in respect of a particular shareholding account has been accepted by the Directors.

Plan means the Macquarie Bank Dividend Reinvestment Plan, the terms of which are set out in these Rules.

Plan Shares means the Shares in a particular shareholding account which are designated by a Participant as Shares the dividend on which is to be applied in subscribing for Shares under the Plan.

Record Date has the same meaning as that term is defined in the ASX Listing Rules.

Shares means fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of the Company.

1.2 A reference to a person includes a corporation and the singular includes the plural and vice versa.

2 The Plan

2.1 The Plan and these Rules will commence operation on such date as the Directors in their sole discretion determine.

3 Invitations and applications to participate in the Plan

3.1 The Company may from time to time invite Eligible Members to participate in the Plan.

3.2 Participation in the Plan is optional and not transferable.

3.3 An Eligible Member who wishes to participate in the Plan may only apply for participation by lodging a Notice of Dividend Election with the Company.

3.4 A Notice of Dividend Election must be properly completed in accordance with the instructions contained therein for it to be valid.

3.5 A Notice of Dividend Election must be lodged for each shareholding account which the Eligible Member wishes to participate in the Plan, and each shareholding account of an Eligible Member will be treated separately for all purposes under the Plan.

4 Degree of participation

4.1 An Eligible Member must specify on the Notice of Dividend Election the degree to which the Eligible Member wishes to participate in the Plan in respect of the nominated shareholding account. Participation may be:

- (a) full participation for all the Participant's Shares from time to time however acquired (including Shares allotted under the Plan); or

(b) partial participant for a specific number of Shares nominated by the Participant together with the Shares allotted under the Plan and any bonus shares allotted in respect of Plan Shares. However, if at the Record Date for a Dividend, the number of the Shares held by the Participant is fewer than the nominated number, then the Plan will apply only to that lesser number for that Dividend.

- 4.2 Notwithstanding clause 3.1, the Directors may at any time with written notice to Eligible Members limit participation in the Plan by limiting the amount of Dividend which may be reinvested under the Plan.
- 4.3 Notices of Dividend Election received by the Company which do not indicate the degree of participation in the Plan will, without notice to the applicant, be deemed to be an application for full participation in the Plan.
- 5 Acceptance of applications
- 5.1 The Directors may in their absolute discretion accept or refuse any Notice of Dividend Election, without being bound to give any reason for doing so.
- 5.2 If the Directors refuse to accept a Notice of Dividend Election pursuant to clause 5.1, the Company must notify the Eligible Member as soon as practicable that the Notice of Dividend Election has been rejected.
- 5.3 Each Notice of Dividend Election accepted by the Directors will be effective in respect of:
- (a) the first Dividend payment after receipt of the Notice of Dividend Election, provided it is received before the Record Date for that Dividend; and
 - (b) every Dividend hereafter, unless superseded by a later Notice of Variation or by termination of the Participant's participation in the Plan, or the Plan has been suspended or terminated.
- 5.4 The Company will record for each shareholding account of each Participant particulars of:
- (a) the name and address of the Participant; and
 - (b) the number of Plan Shares held by the Participant from time to time.
- and the Company's records will be conclusive evidence of the matters so recorded.

6 Reinvestment of Dividends

6.1 Dividends on Plan Shares will be applied by the Company on the Participant's behalf in subscribing for Shares. Any Dividends on Plan Shares which the Company is entitled to retain under its Constitution or otherwise will not be available for subscribing for Shares. If withholding tax is payable in respect of a Dividend that tax will be deducted and only the balance will be applied in subscribing for Shares.

6.2 The Company will establish and maintain a Plan account for each shareholding account of each Participant. At the time of each Dividend payment, the Company will:

- (a) determine the Dividend payable in respect of the Plan Shares;
- (b) determine (where applicable) the Australian withholding tax deductible by the Company in respect of the Dividend, and any other sum the Company is entitled to retain in respect of the Plan Shares;
- (c) credit the amount in (a) above and debit any amount in (b) above to the Participant's Plan account;
- (d) determine the maximum whole number of Shares which can be acquired under these Rules by using the amount in the Participant's Plan account;
- (e) subscribe for Shares in the name of the Participant and debit the subscription amount against the balance in the Participant's Plan account; and
- (f) carry forward any residual positive balance.

6.3 The number of Shares issued to each Participant will be the whole number equal to, or when not a whole number, the nearest whole number below the number calculated by the formula:

where:

- D is the Dividend payable on the Participant's Plan Shares as at the Record Date for that Dividend;
- T is any withholding tax or other sum the Company is entitled to retain in relation to the Dividend or the Plan Shares;
- R is the residual positive balance carried forward in the Participant's Plan account;

C is the Market Value in relation to the relevant Dividend less such discount, if any, not exceeding 5%, as determined by the Directors from time to time.

Shares will not be issued under the Plan if the issue would breach any provision of any applicable law.

- 6.4 If the number of Shares allotted under the Plan to any Participant is the nearest whole number below the number determined in accordance with Rule 6.3, then the difference between the positive balance of the Participant's Plan account (before allotment) and the total subscription price for those Shares will be recorded as a residual positive balance in the Participant's Plan account and will be carried forward to the next Dividend. No interest will accrue in respect of residual positive balances. On the termination of participation in the Plan any residual positive balance at that time will be paid to the Participant in cash.
- 6.5 As soon as practicable after each allotment of Shares under the Plan, the Company will send to each Participant, for each shareholding account for that Participant, a statement setting out:
- (a) the number of the Participant's Plan Shares on the Record Date for the relevant Dividend;
 - (b) the Dividend payable in respect of that Participant's Plan Shares which has been apportioned towards subscription for additional Shares;
 - (c) the amount of any withholding tax or other sum the Company has retained in relation to the Dividend or the Plan Shares;
 - (d) the number, issue price and issue date of additional Shares allotted to that Participant under the Plan;
 - (e) the number of Shares (including Plan Shares) in respect of which that Participant is the registered holder after the allotment; and
 - (f) the amount of the Participant's residual positive balance, if any.
- 6.6 All Shares allotted under the Plan will from the date of allotment rank equally in all respects with existing Shares.
- 6.7 Shares to be allotted under the Plan will be allotted within the time required by ASX.

- 6.8 Shares allotted to a Participant under the Plan will be registered:
- (a) if the Plan Shares already held by the Participant are registered on one register - on that register; or
 - (b) if the Plan Shares already held by that Participant are registered on more than one register - on the register designated by that Participant or, in the absence of a designation, on the register selected by the Company.

6.9 The Company will make application promptly after each allotment of Shares under the Plan for quotation of those Shares on ASX, if other Shares of the Company are quoted at that time.

7 Variation or termination of participation

- 7.1 A Participant may, by lodging with the Company a Notice of Variation, increase or decrease the number of its Plan Shares or terminate participation in the Plan. A Notice of Variation must be lodged for each shareholding account. To be effective for a forthcoming Dividend, the Notice of Variation must be received by the Company before the Record Date for that Dividend.
- 7.2 If a Participant disposes of all the Participant's Shares without giving the Company a Notice of Variation and is not registered as a holder of any Shares when the Company's share register is next closed for payment of a Dividend, the Participant will be deemed to have terminated participation on the date when the Company last registered a transfer of the Participant's Shares.
- 7.3 When a Participant disposes of part of the holding of Shares of that Participant, and does not notify the Company otherwise, the Shares disposed of will, to the extent possible, be taken to be:
- (a) first, Shares which are not Plan Shares; and
 - (b) secondly, Plan Shares.

8 Limit on subscription

The Directors may at any time by notice in writing to Participants limit the amount of Dividend which may be reinvested in subscription for Shares under the Plan.

9 Modification, suspension, recommencement and termination of the Plan

- 9.1 The Plan may be modified by the Directors at any time after giving one month's notice to all Participants. A Participant's Plan Shares continue to participate in the modified Plan unless the Company is notified to the contrary by the Participant.
- 9.2 The Plan may be suspended, recommenced or terminated by the Directors at any time after giving one month's notice to all Participants.
- 9.3 Notice of suspension, recommencement or termination must be given to all Participants, and the suspension, recommencement or termination will be effective:
- (a) on the date determined by the Directors and notified to Participants; and
 - (b) until such time as the Directors resolve either to recommence or terminate the Plan.
- 9.4 Whilst the Plan is suspended, Dividends on Plan Shares will not be applied by the Directors on the Participant's behalf in subscribing for Shares.
- 9.5 The accidental omission to give notice of modification, suspension, recommencement or termination to any Participant or the non-receipt of any notice by any Participant will not invalidate the modification, suspension, recommencement or termination of the Plan.

10 Administration of the Plan

This Plan will be administered by the Directors who have the power to:

- (a) determine procedures for administration of the Plan consistent with the Rules;
- (b) settle in such manner as they think expedient any difficulties, anomalies or disputes which may arise in connection with, or by reason of, the operation of the Plan, whether generally or in relation to any Participant or any Shares and the determination of the Directors is to be conclusive and binding on all Participants and other persons to whom the determination relates; and
- (c) delegate to any one or more persons, for such period and on such conditions as they may determine, the exercise of any of their powers or discretions arising under the Plan.

11 Participants to be bound

Participants are at all times bound by the Rules of the Plan as modified from time to time.

12 Costs to Participants

No brokerage, commission or other transaction costs will be payable by Participants in respect of Shares allotted under the Plan. However the Company does not assume liability for any taxes or other imposts assessed against or imposed on a Participant.

13 Notices

All communications by the Company to Eligible Members or Participants under these Rules shall be given in accordance with the notice provisions of the Company's constitution.

ASS/News Release

GERRY MORIARTY APPOINTED DEPUTY CHAIRMAN OF NEW MACQUARIE COMMUNICATIONS INFRASTRUCTURE GROUP

The Head of Macquarie Bank's Investment Banking Group, Nicholas Moore, today announced the appointment of Gerry Moriarty as the deputy chairman of the newly formed Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group (MCIIG).

Mr Moriarty has resigned from his position of Group Managing Director, Infrastructure Services at Telstra, effective from the end of July 2002, at which time he will also become chairman of Broadcast Australia Limited, formerly NAB's Australian business, and work with Macquarie on a full-time basis.

Broadcast Australia - which forms the seed asset of MCIIG - was purchased by Macquarie Bank in February 2002 for an enterprise value of $850 million.

"We are delighted to have Mr Moriarty aboard. He is regarded as the foremost executive in the area of communications infrastructure and has a deep understanding of the sorts of assets MCIIG is looking at," Mr Moore said.

"He will assume a full-time role assessing MCIIG with evaluating and implementing new acquisitions and also working with Macquarie's Telecommunications, Media, Entertainment and Technology (TMEET) business generally."

Mr Moriarty said: "I look forward to this new and exciting opportunity and to building a global infrastructure fund. I expect that there will be further opportunities to buy quality infrastructure at attractive prices, as Macquarie has done with Broadcast Australia."

Broadcast: Australia's principal business is the transmission of radio and television broadcasts of the ABC and SBS under long term contracts. Its terrestrial broadcast network comprises 578 broadcast towers and covers over 98 per cent of the Australian population.

He has also held a number of other corporate appointments.

Helen Nugent, BA (Hons), PhD (Queensland), MBA (Harvard), joined the Board as a Non-Executive Voting Director in June 1999. She is a member of the Board Nominating Committee and the Board Remuneration Committee and is Chairman of Macquarie Airports.

Currently she is also a Director of TAB (Qld) and Australian Procell Corporation (as well as being Deputy Chairman of the Australia Council and Chairman of the Major Performing Arts Board of the Australia Council). In 1999 she chaired the Ministerial Inquiry into the Major Performing Arts. Prior to joining Westpac, Helen was Professor in Management and Director of the MBA Program at the Australian Graduate School of Management and a partner at McKinsey and Company.

Resolutions 5, 6 and 7: Approval of Executive Voting Directors' Participation in the Employee Share Option Plan

Requirement for Approval

ASX Listing Rule 10.14 provides that a listed company may only permit a director of the company to acquire, invest or rights to shares under an employee incentive scheme where that director's participation has been approved by an ordinary resolution of shareholders. This rule applies to Voting Directors of the Bank.

EXPLANATORY NOTES ON ITEMS OF BUSINESS

The approval of shareholders is sought to permit the three Executive Voting Directors of the Bank to participate this year with other executives in the Macquarie Bank Employee Share Option Plan ("Plan") up to the maximum acquisition amounts specified in the resolutions.

Following approval at last year's Annual General Meeting of shareholders, the following options were granted to Voting Directors, all exercisable at $24.75 cents:

- Under the Plan, Alan Moss was granted 126,000 options and David Curtis 60,000 options; and
- Under the Non-Executive Director Share Option Plan, each of John Alpass, Laurie Cox, Bryan Kemmer, Barrie Martin, Kevin McCann and Helen Nugent were granted 1,000 options.

Approval Limits

The maximum number of Macquarie Bank Limited fully paid ordinary shares ("Shares") and options to acquire Shares for which approval is sought assumes that all the options offered to the Executive Voting Directors are granted and subsequently exercised.

Terms of Issue

The proposed options will be granted pursuant to the rules governing the Plan ("Rules"), and, other than as described in these explanatory notes, will have the same terms as options issued to Executive Voting Directors under the Plan in recent years.

Under the Plan, a participant may nominate a Controlled Company as the holder of the options allocated. A Controlled Company is defined in the Rules to mean in relation to an executive, a body corporate in respect of which one or more of the following applies:

- (a) the executive holds more than one-half of the issued share capital;
- (b) the executive is in a position to cast, or control (directly or indirectly) the casting of more than one-half of the maximum number of votes that might be cast at a general meeting of the body corporate; and
- (c) the executive controls the composition of the board of directors, committee of management, board of other appointed authority.

The five year options will be exercisable at the weighted average price of Shares traded on ASX over the calendar month of June 2002 (adjusted for special trades and any cum-dividend trading). The options will vest as to one third of the allocation on each of 1 July 2004, 1 July 2005 and 1 July 2006.

Each tranche of vested options may only be exercised if the Bank's average annual return on ordinary equity for the three previous financial years is at or above the 65th percentile of the corresponding figures for all companies in the then S&P/ASX 300 Industrials Index, with the condition to be assumed delivery from vesting until expiry of the options. Options which have vested but are not able to be exercised at a particular examination date, will be exercisable (until expiry) at other future quarterly examination dates when, and if, the exercise condition pertaining to any of those dates has been met.

The above exercise condition is similar to that imposed on grants of options to Executive Voting Directors of the Bank in recent years. However, the previous condition had progressive hurdles at the 55th, 65th and 75th percentiles of three year return on equity of companies in the ASX All Industrials Index. The ASX All Industrials Index will shortly no longer be published and the Bank has selected the S&P ASX 300 Industrials Index as its replacement. It has been decided to have a single hurdle at the 65th percentile having taken into consideration:

- Compared with the ASX All Industrials Index, the S&P ASX 300 Industrials Index relates to a smaller number (about 250 companies) versus about 400 companies of larger market capitalisation companies which, on average, might be expected to have higher returns on equity; and
- Consistent with the strategic initiatives announced last year, the Bank raised over $500 million in new capital during the year to pursue opportunities in shareholders' interests, causing a reduction in return on equity.

In 1999/2000, the Bank moved the basis of its employee option allocations to a more individual contribution based method. As a result, option allocations more closely resemble the annual allocation of profit shares. The practical implication of this move was that, because of the Bank's belief that they will be granted a smaller number of options more often, this was previously the case. This allows the Bank to better match reward with performance and to

to the vesting over time of employee options, provides further incentives for these executives to stay with the Bank.

This year, it is proposed to grant Alan Moss, 156,800 employee options, David Clark, 78,400 employee options and Mark Johnson 98,200 employee options, consistent with the approach described above. These options will provide a further reward for their efforts and a further incentive to improve the Bank's future performance and share price. The proposed option grants are recommended to shareholders by the Board and, if approved, will be made as soon as practicable and no later than 30 September 2002.

The following voting Directors are entitled to participate in the Plan, Alan Moss, David Clark and Mark Johnson. At present, Alan Moss holds 352,371 employee options, David Clark holds 184,250 employee options and Mark Johnson holds no employee options. Further information on their remuneration and holdings is contained in the Directors' Report in the 2002 Annual Review and in the 2002 Financial Report.

Resolution 8: Renewal of Approval of Proportional Take-over Provisions

Article 48 of the Bank's existing Constitution provides that a proportional take-over bid for the Bank's shares may only proceed after shareholder approval. Under the Corporations Act 2001, this Article must be renewed every three years by shareholders. The Article was last approved at the 1993 Annual General Meeting and is now proposed to be put to shareholders this year for renewal by special resolution.

Effect of Article 48

If shareholders agree to renew the Article and a proportionate take-over bid is subsequently made for a class of shares in the Company, the Voting Directors will be required to either convene a general meeting of shareholders in that class to vote on a resolution to approve the bid or conduct a postal ballot to approve the bid. This resolution must be voted on at least 15 days before the offer closes. The bidder and any associates will be excluded from voting.

If the resolution is rejected by shareholders, then the bid will be deemed to be withdrawn and registration of any transfer of shares resulting from the bid will be prohibited. Acceptances will be returned and any contracts formed by acceptances will be rescinded.

If the resolution is approved, transfers of shares to the bidder will be registered provided they comply with the other provisions of the Company's Constitution.

If no resolution is voted on at least 15 days before the close of the bid then the resolution will be deemed to have been approved. The provisions of the Article will expire after three years, unless renewed again by shareholders by special resolution.

Requirement for Renewal of Article 48

Part 5.5 Division 5 of the Corporations Act 2001 permits the inclusion of proportional take-over approval provisions in a company's constitution. Without the proposed provisions, a proportional take-over bid for the Company might enable an offeror to obtain control of the Company without shareholders having the opportunity to sell all their shares. The proposed provisions give shareholders the opportunity to decide whether a proportional take-over bid should proceed. If it does proceed, individual shareholders can make a sensible decision as to whether they wish to accept the bid for their shares.

Present Acquisition Proposals

As at the date of this statement, no Voting Director is aware of any proposal by a person to make a proportional take-over bid for the Company's shares.

Potential Advantages and Disadvantages

The proposed provisions will enable the Voting Directors to ascertain the views of shareholders on a proportionate take-over bid. Apart from this, there is no specific advantage or disadvantage for Voting Directors, as Voting Directors, of inserting the take-over approval provisions.

The provisions will ensure that all members will have an opportunity to study a proportionate take-over bid proposal and vote on whether it should be permitted to proceed. This should ensure that the terms of any future proportionate offers are structured to be attractive to a majority of independent shareholders.

It could be argued that the take-over approval provisions make a proportionate take-over more difficult to achieve and therefore proportionate bids will be discouraged. This in turn may reduce opportunities which shareholders may have to sell some of their shares at an attractive once to persons securing control of the Company and may reduce an element of take-over speculation from the Company's share price. It may also be argued that the provisions constitute an additional restriction on the ability of shareholders to deal freely with their shares.

The Board considers that removal of Article 48 of the existing Constitution is in the best interests of shareholders.

Resolution 9: Approval of Amendments to Constitution

ASX Listing Rule 15.11.1 requires a listed company's constitution to be consistent with those listing rules. In order for the Bank's Constitution to be consistent with the current ASX Listing Rules some minor amendments are necessary.

The proposed change to the definition of "Listing Rules" is to match the form adopted by the Listing Rules and agreed by ASX.

In relation to the proposed new Article 8 ("Lien"), the relevant Listing Rule allows a lien over shares for unpaid calls or instalments only where they are due and unpaid on those shares. The current Article 8 gives the bank a lien over each partly paid share for:

- all money due in respect of that share, whether that money is presently payable or not; and
- for all money payable by a sole holder of partly paid shares or his estate to the Bank.

The lien in existing Article 8 is broader than the Listing Rules allows because it may apply to an amount owed that is not presently payable or an amount owed that does not relate to the holder's partly paid shares. The proposed amendments to Article 8 will remove these minor inconsistencies.

Currently, the Bank has no partly paid shares on issue.

ASX has confirmed that these amendments are acceptable.

Requirement for Approval

Changes to the Constitution require the approval of shareholders.

MACQUARIE BANK ADVISES WINNING SYDNEY AIRPORT CONSORTIUM

Macquarie Bank announced today that the Southern Cross Consortium has been named the winning bidder for Sydney's Kingsford Smith Airport (Sydney Airport). Consortium sponsors are Macquarie Bank, HOKITIEF Airport and Commonwealth Bank.

The Federal Government announced earlier today that the Southern Cross Airports Corporation Consortium had won the bid for Sydney Airport with a price of $5.396 billion and has assumed the obligation to pay the balance of the purchase price of the Ansett terminal for $192 million. The price represents a multiple of 14.3 times forecast June 2003 earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) of $377 million. The forecast after tax equity internal rate of return is more than 20 per cent per annum.

Head of Macquarie Bank's Investment Banking Group Nicholas Moore said Sydney Airport is an outstanding international airport.

"Investors participating in this investment through Macquarie's funds will be able to share in the growth of the aviation industry - where long term traffic growth has been increasing at around twice the rate of Gross Domestic Product - through exposure to essential airport infrastructure which does not have the volatility usually associated with the aviation industry," Mr Moore said.

Direct equity investment in Sydney Airport has been made by a range of Macquarie Bank-managed funds, which together hold a 53 per cent shareholding in the asset, and by a range of local and international institutions. While Macquarie Bank does not have a direct equity stake in Sydney Airport, it is a 10 per cent stakeholder in the unlisted Macquarie Airports Group (MAG), which in turn has taken a 12 per cent interest in the asset.

"We are also delighted with the calibre of co-investors this transaction has attracted," Mr Moore said. Equity investors in the airport include the listed Macquarie-managed airport fund, Macquarie Airports (MAp) (40 per cent), HOCHTIEF AirPort (15 per cent), Ferrovial Aeropuertos (20 per cent), MAG (12 per cent), Abbey National Treasury Services (5 per cent), Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board (5 per cent), Motor Traders Association of Australia Superannuation Fund (2 per cent), and Macquarie Global Infrastructure Fund (1 per cent).

Mr Moore said as well as consortium sponsor, Macquarie Bank's roles in the transaction include financial adviser and equity arranger, joint arranger and underwriter (net underwriting exposure of $200 million) of a new hybrid instrument, FLIERS, and provision of Letter of Credit facilities totalling $146 million.

Macquarie Bank Managing Director Allan Moss said: "As an Australian organisation, the Macquarie Bank Group is very conscious of the public responsibility inherent in involvement in the management of Australia's leading domestic airport and the nation's most important international gateway."

"In addition, we are very pleased to facilitate a transaction which has resulted in Australian ownership, exceeding 60 per cent under the Airports Act, of this outstanding asset which is one of the largest contributors to the New South Wales economy."

FLIERS

A $600 million innovative hybrid capital instrument forms part of the funding package for the Sydney Airport acquisition. The instrument, Floating Rate, IPO Exchangeable, Reset Securities (FLIERS), has an investment grade rating and was developed jointly by Macquarie Equity Capital Markets and UBS Warburg. FLIERS are a 10 year redeemable, convertible preference share paying a quarterly floating rate dividend. Institutional and retail investors will have an opportunity to invest in FLIERS via an issue of units by the Southern Cross FLIERS Trust. Units in the Southern Cross FLIERS Trust will be offered to the public by Macquarie Specialised Asset Management Limited. A disclosure document for the units in the Southern Cross FLIERS Trust will be made available when the units are offered to the public which is expected to be shortly after the acquisition of Sydney Airport. Applications to acquire units must be made on an application form that will be in or will accompany the disclosure document.

- (b) payment of the greater amount is satisfied by the payment of the difference between the lesser amount and the greater amount.

2.8 Modification of Vesting Period, Exercise Period and Exercise Condition

The Committee in its absolute and unfettered discretion may determine any or all of the following, where the Relevant Participant of the Grantee ceases or gives notice that the Relevant Participant intends to cease to be an Employee during the Vesting Period of an Option of the Grantee or if the invitation under clause 3.1 in relation to an Option so provides,

Where a Participant receives an invitation under clause 3.1, either the Participant or a Controlled Company of the Participant or a Permitted Trustee for the Participant may apply for the Options specified in the invitation.

4. APPLICATION FOR OPTIONS4.1 Deed

A Grantee who wishes to apply for Options specified in an invitation made under clause 3 must on or before the closing date stated in the invitation (or any later date that the Bank may allow either generally or in a particular case):

- (a) do what is specified in the invitation in order to apply for the Option; and
- (b) execute the Deed, or arrange for the execution of the Deed on the Grantee's behalf.

4.2 Execution by Bank

Where the Grantee has complied with clause 4.1, the Bank may (but need not) execute the Deed.

4.3 Grant and Certificate

Where the Bank executes a Deed under clause 4.2, and all other parties whose execution of the Deed is required for the Deed to be effective have executed the Deed, the Bank:

- (a) grants the relevant Options to the Grantee in accordance with the Deed; and
- (b) may issue the Holder an Option Certificate in respect of those Options.

5. OPTION TO SUBSCRIBE5.1 Exercise

The Grantee may exercise any Option granted to the Grantee under clause 4.3 only:

- (a) during an Exercise Period for the Option;
- (b) if all Exercise Conditions applying to that Option at the time of Exercise have been met;
- (c) by giving a notice and doing all the other things required by clause 5.2 during that time; and
- (d) if the Grantee at the same time either:
 - (i) exercises a number of Options so that the Bank will issue a minimum of a number of Shares or multiple of a number of Shares that the Committee determines; or
 - (ii) exercises all the Options granted to the Grantee which the Grantee is then entitled to exercise.

The exercise of an Option does not prevent the exercise of any other Option.

5.2 Notice

To exercise an Option the Grantee must give a notice to the Bank specifying that the Grantee exercises the Option. In addition, if a power of attorney in the form set out in schedule 2 (or in such other form as may be approved by the Plan Company) has not previously been provided by the Grantee to the Plan Company, and the Grantee does not request the Bank waive the application of the Restrictions and the Non-Disposal Period in accordance with clause 11.1, the notice must include an executed power of attorney in the form set out in schedule 2 (or in such other form as may be approved by the Plan Company).

The notice must be accompanied by:

- (a) the relevant Option Certificate if any; and
- (b) payment of the full amount of the Exercise Price in accordance with clause 5.3.

Exercise of an Option is only effective when the Bank receives full value for the full amount of the Exercise Price.

5.3 Payment

All payments of the Exercise Price for an Option must be made by cheque, bank draft or other immediately available funds in favour of the Bank.

5.4 Allotment

Not more than 15 Business Days after the exercise of an Option becomes effective, the Bank must allot and issue to the Holder the Shares the subject of the Option.

5.5 Share allotted upon exercise of Option

The Shares allotted and issued following exercise of an Option, upon allotment rank pari passu in all respects (including as to dividends the entitlement to which is determined after the allotment) with those then issued fully paid Shares which are entitled to participate in full in any dividend and are subject to the Constitution of the Bank.

5.6 Lapse

Each Option lapses on the earlier of the following times:

- (a) on exercise of the Option under clause 5.1;
- (b) if the Option is not exercised under clause 5.1 during the Option Period, at the end of the Option Period;
- (c) if the Relevant Participant of the Grantee:
 - (i) subject to clause 10.2, dies;
 - (ii) ceases to be an Employee during the Vesting Period; or 11.

- (iii) subject to clause 10.3, ceases to be an Employee after the Vesting Period and the Option is not exercised within six months after that happens;
- (d) if the Committee becomes aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Committee indicate that the Relevant Participant has acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of his or her obligations to the Bank or any Associated Company and the Committee (in its absolute discretion) determines that the Option lapses;
- (e) if the Bank commences to be wound up; or
- (f) if the Grantee was a Controlled Company of the Relevant Participant when the Option was granted under clause 4.3 and, without the prior written consent of the Committee, the Grantee ceases to be a Controlled Company of the same Participant.

5.7 Proportionate lapse

Where a Holder's Options are issued subject to an Employment Event specified in the invitation made in respect of those Options, a proportion of those Options will lapse upon the occurrence of that Employment Event in respect of the Relevant Participant, as specified in the invitation made in respect of those Options, except with the written approval of the Committee in its absolute discretion.

5.8 Balance certificate

If the Grantee exercises less than all of the Options referred to in an Option Certificate, the Committee may issue to the Holder an Option Certificate in respect of the Options not exercised at that time.

5.9 Listing on ASX

The Shares to be issued to any Grantee upon exercise of an Option will not be quoted on any stock exchange on which the Shares of the Bank are quoted until the Option is exercised, at which time the Bank must, if it is Listed, apply to ASX (and any other stock exchange on which the Shares of the Bank are quoted) for, and will use its best endeavours to obtain, quotation for those Shares.

5.10 No additional rights

The Plan does not give a Grantee any additional rights to compensation or damages as a result of the termination of employment or appointment.

6. ADJUSTMENTS6.1 Capitalisation of profits or reserves

Where during the Option Period the Bank issues Shares by way of capitalisation of profits or reserves, subject to clause 6.6, the Committee may in its absolute discretion adjust either or both the number of Shares to be issued on exercise of an Option and the Exercise Price for that Option.

6.2 New issues

Where before the end of the Option Period the Bank gives holders of Shares the right (pro-rata with existing shareholdings) to subscribe for additional Shares and the Option is not exercised as contemplated in clause 6.3, the Exercise Price of an Option after the issue of those Shares is adjusted in accordance with schedule 1.

6.3 Rights/entitlements issues

Where after the Vesting Period but during the Option Period of an Option, the Bank makes an offer or invitation to holders of shares for subscription for cash for shares options or other securities of the Bank or any other entity, the Bank must give the Grantee notice not less than 10 Business Days before the books closing date to determine entitlements to receive that offer or invitation to enable the Grantee to exercise the Option and receive that offer or invitation in respect of the Shares allotted on exercise of the Option.

6.4 Sub-division, consolidation or conversion

Where during the Option Period the Bank subdivides or consolidates its shares, the Shares issued to the Grantee on exercise of the Option are the number of securities of the value and with the rights that the Shares which would otherwise have been issued on exercise of the Option would have become as a result of that sub-division, consolidation, conversion or reconversion.

6.5 Reconstruction, reduction or return of capital

Where during the Option Period the Bank reconstructs, reduces or returns its issued capital or buys back Shares, the number or nominal value of the Shares to be issued on exercise of an Option are reconstructed in the same proportion as the issued capital of the Bank is reconstructed, reduced or returned (subject to the same provisions with respect to rounding of entitlements as applied in relation to the reconstruction, reduction or return of capital) but in all other respects the terms for the exercise of the Option are unaltered.

6.6 Pro-rata bonus issues

Where during the Option Period the Bank makes a pro-rata bonus issue to holders of Shares and an Option is not exercised before the books closing date to determine entitlements to that bonus issue, the number of shares to be issued on exercise of the Option is the number of Shares before that bonus issue plus the number of bonus shares which would have been issued to the Holder if the Option had been exercised before that books closing date.

6.7 Notice of adjustment

The Bank must give notice to Holders of any adjustment to the number description or terms of security which are to be issued on exercise of an Option or to the Exercise Price (if the Bank is Listed, in accordance with the applicable Listing Rules)

6.8 Listing Rules

If the Bank is Listed, each amendment contemplated by the provisions of this clause 6 is subject to its being consistent with the Listing Rules.

6.9 Cumulative adjustments

Each adjustment provided for in clauses 6.1 to 6.6 (inclusive) is to be made to either or both the Shares and the Exercise Price in respect of each Option granted and unexercised at the time the relevant clause applies on each occasion during the Option Period of the Option that the relevant clause applies.

6.10 Rounding

Before an Option is exercised under clause 5.1, all adjustment calculations are to be carried out including all fractions (in relation to both the Shares and the Exercise Price of the Options), but on exercise by a person of a number of Options, the aggregate number of Shares issued to that person as a result of those exercises is rounded down to the next lower whole number and the Exercise Price per Option rounded up to the next higher cent.

7. DURATION OF THE PLAN7.1 Discretionary

The Plan continues in operation until the Committee decides to terminate or discontinue it.

7.2 Suspension

The Committee may decide to suspend the operation of the Plan either for a fixed period or indefinitely and may also decide to end any period of suspension.

7.3 No prejudice

If the Plan terminates or is discontinued or suspended for any reason, that does not prejudice the accrued rights of Holders or Grantees of Options.

8. AMENDMENT OF THE PLAN8.1 By the Committee

Subject to clause 8.2, the Committee may at any time and from time to time by resolution:

- (a) amend all or any of these Rules or all or any of the rights or obligations of the Grantees or Holders or any of them; and
- (b) formulate (and subsequently amend) special terms and conditions, in addition to those set out in these Rules, to apply to Participants employed in, resident in, or who are citizens of, a particular jurisdiction.

8.2 Listing Rules

If the Bank is Listed, the Committee's exercise of its powers under clause 8.1 is subject to any restrictions or procedural requirements relating to the amendment of the terms of an employee incentive scheme or of issued options imposed by the Listing Rules and applicable to the Plan or the Options, as the case may be, unless those restrictions or requirements are relaxed or waived by ASX or any of its delegates either generally or in a particular case or class of cases and either expressly or by implication.

9. NOTICES AND CORRESPONDENCE9.1 To the Bank

Any notice required to be given by a Holder, Participant or Grantee to the Bank or the Committee or any correspondence from a Holder, Participant or Grantee to the Bank or the Committee in connection with the Plan must be in writing signed by (or on behalf of) the person giving it and must be given or made to the principal place of business of the Bank or any other address of which the Bank gives notice.

9.2 To a Grantee

Any notice required to be given by the Bank or the Committee to a Holder, Participant or Grantee or any correspondence from the Bank or the Committee to a Holder, Participant or Grantee in connection with the Plan must be in writing and must be given or made by a person authorised by the Committee on behalf of the Bank or the Committee to the place of employment of the relevant person or to the last address of that person given to the Bank.

10 TRANSFER OF THE OPTION10.1 No transfer

Each Option is personal to the Grantee and is not transferable, transmissible, assignable or chargeable, except in accordance with clause 10.2, clause 10.3 or with the prior written consent of the Committee.

10.2 Death

If the Relevant Participant or the Grantee of an Option dies after the Vesting Period and before the end of the Option Period, with the written approval of the Committee in its absolute discretion, the Option may (but only at a time permitted by the approval and in accordance with any conditions specified in the approval) be exercised by the Grantee (if it was a Controlled Company of the Relevant Participant or a Permitted Trustee for the Participant) or, in any other case, the legal personal representatives of the Grantee in accordance with clause 5.1 and to the extent necessary for this to occur, the Option may be transferred to the legal personal representatives and does not lapse.

10.3 Termination of Employment

If the Relevant Participant of the Grantee of an Option ceases to be an Employee after the Vesting Period and before the end of the Option Period, the Committee may in its absolute discretion (on any conditions which it thinks fit) decide that the Option does not lapse under clause 5.6(c)(iii) but lapses at the time and subject to the conditions it may specify by notice to the Grantee. In making a decision under this clause, the Committee may consider any relevant matter (including, without limitation, whether the Relevant Participant ceased to be an Employee by reason of retirement, ill-health, accident or redundancy).

11 RESTRICTIONS ON SHARES ISSUED ON EXERCISE OF THE OPTION11.1 Restrictions on transfer of Shares

Shares issued to a Grantee on exercise of an Option must be held by the Grantee subject to the Restrictions and the Non-Disposal Period, unless the Grantee has requested that the Bank waive the application of those provisions, (such request to be made at the same time the notice is provided in accordance with clause 5.2) and that request has been approved by the Bank.

The Bank may only refuse a waiver request if the Bank is aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Bank, indicate that the Relevant Participant may have acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of his or her obligations to the Bank or any Associated Company.

11.2 Restrictions on granting a Security Interest

A Grantee must not grant a Security Interest over any Shares held under the Restrictions:

- (a) only in the case of Shares which are not subject to the Non-Disposal Period, without submitting a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares and without such notice having been approved by the Plan Company; or
- (b) in any case where the Shares will continue to be held subject to the Restrictions, without the written consent of the Plan Company and approved by the Bank, the giving of such consent being at the absolute discretion of the Plan Company (having regard to ensuring any arrangements do not affect any rights of the Plan Company or the Bank to enforce the Restrictions over the Shares) and may be subject to such conditions or restrictions as the Plan Company may, in its absolute discretion, determine.

11.3 Enforcement of Restrictions

The Plan Company is entitled to make such arrangements as it considers necessary to enforce the Restrictions and the Non-Disposal Period on a Grantee dealing with Shares or granting a Security Interest over Shares, including forfeiture under clause 11.10, and the Grantee and the Relevant Participant must agree to such arrangements.

11.4 Withdrawal of Shares by Grantee

Except as expressly provided by these Rules, a Grantee may not submit a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares until the expiration of the Non-Disposal Period.

After the expiration of the Non-Disposal Period, and if the Shares of a Grantee held subject to Restrictions have not been forfeited under clause 11.10, a Grantee may:

- (a) continue to hold some or all of their Shares subject to the Restrictions; or
- (b) decide to hold some or all of their Shares not subject to the Restrictions and request the Plan Company to remove the Restrictions in respect of those Shares by submitting a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares to the Plan Company; and

11.5 Withdrawal of Shares on End Date

A Share held by a Grantee, as and from the End Date in relation to that Share will, at the direction of the Bank, after the Bank has determined that the Shares are not to be forfeited in accordance with clause 11.10, be released from the Restrictions by the Plan Company and will be held by the Grantee no longer subject to the Restrictions. No Notice of Withdrawal of Shares is required to be submitted by the Grantee to the Plan Company in this case.

11.6 Withdrawal of Shares on cessation of employment

A Share held by a Grantee when the Relevant Participant ceases to be an Employee of the Bank or an Associated Company will, at the direction of the Bank, after the Bank has determined that the Shares are not to be forfeited in accordance with clause 11.10, be released from the Restrictions and the Non-Disposal Period by the Plan Company and will be held by the Grantee no longer subject to the Restrictions and the Non-Disposal Period. No Notice of Withdrawal of Shares is required to be submitted by the Grantee to the Plan Company in this case.

For the purpose of this clause 11.6, a Relevant Participant ceasing to be an Employee includes the circumstance whereby the employer of that person ceases to be an Associated Company in relation to the Bank.

11.7 Withdrawal of Shares in Special Circumstances

Despite clause 11.1, but subject always to clause 11.10, a Grantee may, in the event of Special Circumstances, at any time submit a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares. Where such a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares has been submitted, approval for withdrawal of the Shares will only be given by the Plan Company if the Bank is satisfied that the Special Circumstances exist in respect of that Relevant Participant.

11.8 Withdrawal of Shares on a Takeover

Despite clause 11.1, but subject always to clause 11.10, if an offer is made for all of the Shares and the Bank has been served with a bidder's statement under the Corporations Law in respect of that offer, then if the Bank so directs, Grantees may dispose of the Shares the subject of Restrictions or a Non-Disposal Period by accepting the offer.

11.9 Withdrawal of Shares in other circumstances

Despite clause 11.1, but subject always to clause 11.10, if:

- (a) any notice is despatched to members of the Bank in relation to a meeting to approve a compromise or arrangement proposed for the purposes of or in connection with a scheme for the reconstruction of the Bank or its amalgamation with any other company or companies, then a Grantee may submit a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares the subject of Restrictions or a Non-Disposal Period;
- (b) notice is given to members of the Bank of a proposed resolution for the voluntary winding-up of the Bank, then a Grantee may submit a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares the subject of Restrictions or a Non-Disposal Period; and
- (c) the relevant Shares are subject to compulsory acquisition under any law, then a Grantee may dispose of Shares the subject of Restrictions or a Non-Disposal Period to the person entitled to acquire them.

11.10 Forfeiture

A Grantee (and any person claiming through the Grantee) must forfeit any right or interest in any Shares or other entitlements subject to the Restrictions to the Plan Company if the Relevant Participant:

- (a) has been convicted on indictment of an offence against the Corporations Law in connection with the affairs of the Bank or an Associated Company; or
- (b) commits any act of theft, fraud or defalcation in relation to the affairs of the Bank or any Associated Company (whether or not charged with any offence); or
- (c) does an act (or fails to do an act) which in the opinion of the Bank brings the Bank or any Associated Company into disrepute.

11.11 Dealing with Forfeited Shares

Subject to clause 11.12, the Bank may by notice in writing to the Plan Company determine that the Plan Company transfer any Forfeited Shares (or the proceeds of sale of such Shares) to:

- (a) one or more Employees;

(b) a provident, benefit, superannuation or retirement fund established and maintained by the Company or an Associated Company in which no body corporate in the Group is beneficially interested; or subject to any conditions specified by the Bank.

(c) a participant in any other employee or director share scheme of the Bank.

Subject to clause 11.12, if a notice under this clause 11.11 has not been received by the Plan Company within 60 days after the time Shares become forfeited then the Plan Company must sell Forfeited Shares and hold the cash proceeds of sale until it receives a notice from the Bank under this clause 11.11.

Under no circumstances may the Plan Company pay the proceeds of sale of any Forfeited Shares to the Bank.

11.12 Authorized Deductions

Before making any payment or allocating any Shares under clause 11.11, the Plan Company is authorised to deduct:

- (a) all outgoings and expenses it incurs in buying, selling and otherwise dealing with Shares for Grantees; and
- (b) any tax (including stamp duty) which, in the opinion of the directors of the Plan Company, is or would be payable by the Plan Company in connection with its obligations under the Plan; and
- (c) any other amounts that in the opinion of the directors of the Plan Company it is fair to deduct.

11.13 Termination of the Plan

If the Plan is terminated then all Restrictions will immediately cease to apply to Shares otherwise held subject to the Restrictions.

11.14 Distributions

A Grantee is entitled to receive any dividend or other distribution made in respect of Shares held subject to Restrictions but this does not apply if the Shares are to be forfeited under clause 11.10.

11.15 Bonus and rights issues

A Grantee can participate in any bonus issue of Shares or pro rata rights issue of Shares made by the Bank or sell renounceable rights. If any shares are issued in respect of, or exchange for, or in substitution of, any Shares by reason of any bonus issue or other change in the capital structure of the Bank, such shares are to be held by the Grantee according to the terms of the Restrictions and any Non-Disposal Period.

11.16 Distributions on Forfeited Shares

The Plan Company may use any dividend, bonus issue or other benefit received in connection with Forfeited Shares for any purpose relevant to the Plan or apply them in accordance with the directions of the Bank.

11.17 Connection with other schemes

Participation in the Plan does not affect, and is not affected by, participation in any other scheme of the Bank unless the terms of that scheme provide otherwise.

11.18 Plan Company capacity

The Plan Company acts as principal in the operation of the Plan and not as a trustee or an agent of the Bank or, subject to clause 11.18, of Grantees or Participants.

11.19 Plan Company as agent

The Plan Company may act as agent for the relevant Grantee in the sale of Shares.

11.20 Replacement of Plan Company

The Bank may replace the Plan Company and appoint a new entity to be Plan Company at any time by notice in writing to the Plan Company and on such other terms (if any) as agreed between the Bank and the Plan Company.

11.21 Limited application of Plan

These Rules:

- (a) do not confer on any Relevant Participant the right to continue as an Employee; and
- (b) do not affect any right which the Bank or an Associated Company may have to terminate the employment of that Relevant Participant; and
- (c) may not be used to increase damages in any action brought against the Bank or an Associated Company in respect of that termination.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

1. OVERVIEW

This Prospectus sets out the terms and conditions of the 2002/2003 Offers under the Macquarie Bank Employee Share Option Plan. It is to be read subject to the formal Rules which govern the Option Plan, a copy of which is available on MacNet or upon request and which are summarised in this Prospectus.

The Option Plan is an incentive scheme for senior employees of the MBL Group. Currently, participation in the Option Plan is limited to Associate Directors, Division Directors and Executive Directors of, or consultants to, the MBL Group, (together referred to as "Executives" in this Prospectus). The objective is to enhance their performances by providing them with equity interests in the Bank and, hence, further aligning their interests with those of the MBL Group and its shareholders.

Participation in the Option Plan is open only to Eligible Executives and is entirely at the discretion of the Board (and/or the Executive Committee to whom certain administrative powers have been delegated). Eligible Executives have been offered the number of Options and the Options are exercisable at the price, set out in the personalised Application Form. No consideration is payable for the grant of Options.

The Options carry no voting or dividend rights but they allow the holder of the Options to participate in any growth in the Bank's ordinary share price and future bonus and cash issues by exercising the Options in the future at the price set now.

For Options granted on promotion or as part of annual remuneration reviews in 2002, each allocation of Options will vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, on 1 July 2004;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, on 1 July 2005; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, on 1 July 2006.

For Options granted to new MBL employees, Options vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, after the second anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, after the third anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, after the fourth anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS

unexercised Options will lapse after the Expiry Date, normally five years from the date of grant. When an Eligible Executive leaves the employment of the MBL Group, unvested Options will generally lapse immediately and vested Options will also lapse after six months. Options also lapse in certain other situations. For further details see sections 2.4 and 2.5 below.

Each Option is exercisable into one fully paid ordinary share in the Bank (subject to adjustment over time for bonus issues and similar events described in section 2.11 below), which will be the same as all other Shares then on issue. The Exercise Price for Eligible Executives granted Options pursuant to promotion or annual compensation review in 2002, will be the weighted average price of the Shares traded on ASX during the month of June 2002 (adjusted for cum-dividend trading and excluding certain special trades). For Eligible Executives being granted Options on commencing employment, the Exercise Price is generally the weighted average price of the Shares traded on ASX during the calendar month before the date the offer of employment was accepted.

Exercise of Options is subject to the Bank's staff trading rules. Further, Options granted to UK residents and to Executive Directors of the Bank are subject to certain exercise conditions which must be met before exercise is allowed. See sections 2.7 and 2.9 below. Options granted to US residents and the Shares resulting from the exercise of those Options are subject to transfer restrictions. See section 2.8 below.

Options granted may not be assigned or charged. However, an Executive will be free to deal with any Shares resulting from the exercise of any Options, subject to the Deferred Exercise Share Option Plan or DESOP provisions described in Section 3 of this Prospectus and other Bank restrictions, for example, staff trading rules.

Options may only be acquired in the name of the Eligible Executive or a Controlled Company of the Eligible Executive or a Permitted Trustee of the Eligible Executive and in all cases will be registered in the name of a nominee company, Lacuna. The Options may not be acquired in any other name. Eligible Executives who are not resident in Australia should note that there may be restrictions on their acquiring Options in other than their own name.

A description of the Option Plan is contained in the following pages. Please carefully read this Prospectus before proceeding to apply for Options.

2. THE OFFER AND THE OPTION PLAN

2.1 TIMETABLE

The Offer period applying to an Eligible Executive is set out on the personalised Application Form which accompanies this Prospectus. The completed Application Form must be received by 5.15 pm Sydney time on the date shown on the Application Form. Late applications will not be accepted.

2.2 THE OPTION PLAN

The object of the Option Plan is to assist in the recruitment, reward, retention and motivation of employees of the MBL Group, including persons who provide services to the Group on a long term consultancy basis. The Plan is governed by the Rules, which are summarised in the following sections of this Prospectus. A full copy of the Rules is available on MacNet or upon request from Joanne Hawkins or Helen Bortland.

Under the Rules, at any time, the total number of Shares which the Bank would have to issue if all Options which have not lapsed were exercised; may not exceed 20 per cent of the aggregate of:

- the number of Shares on issue at that time (whether fully paid or partly paid); and
- the total number of Shares (whether fully paid or partly paid) which the Bank would have to issue if all rights to require the Bank to issue Shares which the Bank has then granted (including, without limitation, all Options and assuming all those rights are then fully exercisable or enforceable) were enforced or exercised to the greatest extent permitted.

The Board has also put in place a second limit on the number of Options that may be outstanding at any point in time. This is the same as the limit above but assuming that any exercised Options granted less than five years ago, where the Executive is still with the Group, are still unexercised.

This second Board imposed limit is subject to Board review and amendment over time.

2.3 GRANT OF OPTIONS

2.3.1 Participation in Option Plan

Participation in the Option Plan is entirely at the discretion of the Board (or by delegation, the Executive Committee). In making these determinations, the Board or Executive Committee typically considers:

- (a) the Executive's position with the MBL Group and the services provided to the MBL Group by the Executive;
- (b) the Executive's record of employment with or service to the MBL Group;
- (c) the Executive's potential contribution to the growth of the MBL Group; and
- (d) any other matters which are indicative of the Executive's merit.

If this Offer is accepted, the Bank will grant the specified number of Options to the Eligible Executive or his/her nominated Controlled Company or his/her nominated Permitted Trustee, which will be registered in the name of Lacuna, on the Optionholder's behalf. On exercise by the Optionholder, Lacuna, as nominee, will initially be allotted Shares which will rank pari passu with all other Shares then on issue. These Shares are then transferred to the beneficial owner or otherwise dealt with by the beneficial owner, subject to the DESOP provisions described in Section 3 which place certain restrictions on the beneficial owner's ability to deal with these Shares.

2.3.2 Exercise Price

The Exercise Price applicable to an Eligible Executive is set out in his/her personalised Application Form.

The Exercise Price is determined by the Bank. Eligible Executives receiving invitations resulting from the Bank's annual promotion and compensation review process in 2002 will have an exercise price which is the weighted average price of Shares traded on ASX during the month of June 2002 (adjusted for cum-dividend trading and excluding certain special trades). For Eligible Executives being granted Options on commencing employment, the exercise price will normally be the weighted average price of Shares traded on ASX during the calendar month before the date of formal acceptance of the offer of employment. However, subject to the Listing Rules, the Board and the Executive Committee have discretion to vary the method of determining the Exercise Price applicable to any allocation of Options.

2.3.3 Controlled Company/ Permitted Trustee

The Rules allow an Eligible Executive to nominate a Controlled Company, as defined in the Rules, as the beneficial owner of the Options allocated to the Eligible Executive. A Controlled Company is defined in the Rules to mean, in relation to an Executive, a body corporate in respect of which one or more of the following applies:

- (a) the Executive holds more than one-half of the issued share capital;
- (b) the Executive is in a position to cast, or control (directly or indirectly) the casting of, more than one-half of the maximum number of votes that might be cast at a general meeting of that body corporate; and
- (c) the Executive controls the composition of the board of directors, committee of management, council or other governing authority.

If an Eligible Executive wishes to nominate such a company, the Eligible Executive should notify Joanne Hawkins in writing as soon as possible with the name, ACN, place of incorporation and registered office address of the company so that revised Powers of Attorney can be sent to the Eligible Executive in time to reply by the closing date. The Deed of Grant will be required to be entered into by both the Eligible Executive and the Controlled Company and hence a Power of Attorney for each will be required.

The Rules allow an Eligible Executive to nominate a Permitted Trustee, as defined in the Rules, as the beneficial holder of the Options allocated to the Eligible Executive. A Permitted Trustee is defined in the Rules to mean an entity approved by the Committee to hold an Option on trust for a Participant from time to time. The only entity currently approved as a Permitted Trustee is the "International Pension Plan", which is a pension plan available to certain employees on international assignment in the United Kingdom. Eligible Executives are advised to take their own independent legal and taxation advice in respect of the consequences of nominating a Permitted Trustee as the beneficial holder of their Options.

Eligible Executives, who are not resident in Australia should note that there may be restrictions on their acquiring Options in other than their own name.

If an Eligible Executive accepts this Offer, the Eligible Executive will be required to execute an agreement between the Bank, Lacuna and the Eligible Executive. This agreement will provide that Lacuna will hold the Options as nominee for the Optionholder and that all benefits of ownership will be passed to the Optionholder.

Eligible Executives should note that there are likely to be different taxation consequences in taking up the Options via a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee (see section 4.4 below).

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

No cash outlay will be required to be paid to the Bank other than payment of the Exercise Price on exercise of the Options, plus any Exercise Fee which may be payable in respect of the exercise of Options subject to United Kingdom National Insurance Contributions, (see section 2.7 below).

Any liabilities associated with holding Options are the responsibility of the Optionholder, particularly as regards the payment of any exercise amount, tax and duties

Options will be granted shortly after the closing date of the Offer.

2.4 EXPIRY AND LAPSE OF OPTIONS

Options will expire on, and so may not be exercised after, the fifth anniversary of the date of grant ("Expiry Date").

2.4.1 Lapse of Options

Each Option lapses:

- (a) on exercise of the Option;
- (b) if the Option has not been previously exercised, on the Expiry Date;
- (c) if the relevant Executive:
 - (i) dies;
 - (ii) ceases to be an employee of the MBL Group before the Option has vested (see below); or
 - (iii) ceases to be an employee of the MBL Group after the Option has vested and the Option is not exercised within six months of ceasing to be an employee;
- (d) if the Executive Committee becomes aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Executive Committee, indicate that the relevant Executive has acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of his or her obligations to the Bank or any associated company of the Bank and the Executive Committee (in its absolute discretion) determines that the Option lapses;
- (e) if the Bank commences to be wound up; or
- (f) if the Optionholder was a Controlled Company of an Executive or a Permitted Trustee of an Executive when the Option was granted and, without the prior written consent of the Executive Committee, the Optionholder ceases to be a Controlled Company of the same Executive or a Permitted Trustee of the same Executive, as the case may be.

If the relevant Executive ceases to be an employee of the MBL Group after an Option has vested and before the Expiry Date, or the Executive's Application Form so provides, the Executive Committee may in its absolute discretion (on any conditions which it thinks fit)

decide that the Option does not lapse but lapses at the time and subject to the conditions it may specify by notice to the Optionholder. In making such a decision, the Executive Committee may consider any relevant matter (including, without limitation, whether the Executive ceased to be an employee by reason of retirement, ill-health, accident or redundancy)

2.4.2 Employment Events

Options granted under this Offer are issued subject to a condition that a proportion of those Options, held in respect of an Executive which have not yet vested will lapse if an Employment Event occurs in respect of that Executive. For the purpose of Options issued under this Offer, an Employment Event occurs if:

- (a) the Executive changes from full-time work to part-time work including part-time consultancy arrangements; or
- (b) takes leave without pay, apart from maternity leave, in excess of 3 months; or
- (c) the Executive reduces his/her part-time hours of work.

If an Executive takes maternity leave for a period of 12 months, which is immediately followed by a period of approved unpaid leave of more than 3 months, an Employment Event will only occur in respect of that Executive when the period of unpaid leave exceeds 3 months. The number of Options which will lapse as a result of an Employment Event will be calculated immediately prior to the relevant vesting date of the Options, as set out below.

If an Employment Event occurs in respect of an Executive, the number of Options held in respect of that Executive which would be retained by the relevant Optionholder is:

- (a) all vested Options at the time of the occurrence of the Employment Event; and
- (b) the following proportion of each tranche of unvested Options (determined immediately prior to the relevant vesting date for that tranche):

Tranche 1 (ie those Options which vest on 1 July 2004 or the second anniversary of the date the Executive commenced employment with the MBL Group as the case may be)

$$\frac{\text{number of paid hours worked in 24 months preceding the vesting date}}{2 \times \text{annual full time hours}} \times \text{first tranche}$$

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Tranches 2 and 3 (ie those Options which vest on 1 July 2005 and 1 July 2006 respectively, or on the third and fourth anniversary of the date the Executive commenced employment with the MBL Group as the case may be)

$$\frac{\text{number of paid hours worked in 12 months preceding the vesting date}}{\text{annual full time hours}} \times \text{second or third tranche}^*$$

* as appropriate

The remaining unvested Options held in respect of that Executive, which are not to be retained by the relevant Optionholder as determined above will lapse.

The relevant MBL Group Head may determine in their absolute discretion, that some or all Options which would otherwise lapse because of a prior Employment Event do not lapse, in their absolute discretion.

For the purposes of employment at MBL, full-time employment is recognised to comprise 37.5 hours per week. No Executive is entitled to be granted more Options if an Employment Event occurs such as the Executive changing from part-time employment or consultancy to full-time employment or the Executive, being a part-time employee or consultant, increases the number of hours he or she works per week.

For example:

An Executive who holds 3000 unvested Options that were issued under this Offer works full-time from 1 July 2002 to 30 June 2003, that is 37.5 hours per week. If that Executive then changes to part-time work ie 3 days per week from 1 July 2003 to 30 June 2004, that is 22.5 paid hours per week (37.5 x 3/5 = 22.5), then the Executive will retain the following number of the first tranche of his/her Options:

$$\frac{(52 \times 37.5) + (52 \times 22.5)}{2 \times (52 \times 37.5)} = \frac{3120}{3900} \times 1000 \text{ options} = 800 \text{ Options}$$

Therefore, 200 of the Executive's unvested options will lapse.

If the Executive continues part-time work for 3 days per week from 1 July 2004 to 30 June 2005, then the Executive will retain the following number of the second tranche of his/her Options:

$$\frac{(52 \times 22.5)}{(52 \times 37.5)} = \frac{1170}{1950} \times 1000 \text{ options} = 600 \text{ options}$$

Therefore, 400 of the Executive's unvested options will lapse.

If the Executive reverts to full time work from 1 July 2005 to 30 June 2006, then the Executive will retain all of the third tranche of his/her Options, being 1,000 Options.

2.5 VESTING OF OPTIONS

The Options are subject to a vesting arrangement such that Options which have not vested at the date of ceasing employment with the MBL Group will, unless the Board or Executive Committee resolve otherwise, immediately lapse unexercised. The vesting arrangement applicable to the Options offered to an Eligible Executive is set out in his/her Application Form.

For Options granted on promotion or as part of annual remuneration reviews in 2002, each allocation of Options will vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, on 1 July 2004;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, on 1 July 2005; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, on 1 July 2006.

For Options granted to new MBL employees, Options vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, after the second anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, after the third anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, after the fourth anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group.

Once vested, each Option is exercisable until the Expiry Date into one Share in the Bank (subject to adjustment over time for bonus issues and similar events described in section 2.11 below), which will be the same as all other Shares then on issue.

2.6 EXERCISE OF OPTIONS

Exercise of Options by Executives is subject to the Bank's staff trading rules at the time of exercise. Under the current staff trading rules, Options may only be exercised:

- (a) from the ex-dividend date for the Bank's Shares in May/June until the end of August;
- (b) from the ex-dividend date for the Bank's Shares in November/December until the end of February; and/or
- (c) during the month immediately preceding the Expiry Date.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

The Rules set out other periods during which Options may be exercised including where the Bank makes a rights or entitlements issue of securities to its ordinary shareholders (and the Options have vested), where there is a deemed "Change in Control" of the Bank and where a takeover offer is made for the Shares. Please refer to the Rules for further details.

Subject to the Rules (in particular as described in section 2.10 below) and the staff trading rules, once an Optionholder, (or if the Optionholder is a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee, the relevant Eligible Executive), leaves the employ of the MBL Group, any vested Options may be exercised during the next six months, (subject to the above staff trading rules) after which the Options will lapse unexercised.

At the time of exercising Options, Optionholders will need to consider whether they are in possession of information which may lead to any contravention of the insider trading laws in the Corporations Act. If in any doubt please seek professional legal advice.

To exercise an Option, an Optionholder must give a notice specifying that he or she wishes to exercise the Option to the Bank accompanied by:

- (a) the relevant Option Certificate, if any; and
- (b) payment of the full amount of the Exercise Price.

Exercise of an Option is only effective when the Bank receives full value for the full amount of the Exercise Price, which must be made by cheque, bank draft or other immediately available funds in favour of the Bank. The Bank does not currently require a minimum number of Options to be exercised but the Rules provide that the Executive Committee may, in the future, determine a minimum number. The exercise of an Option does not prevent the exercise of any other Option.

Not more than fifteen business days after the exercise of an Option becomes effective, the Bank must allot and issue the Shares the subject of the Option. These Shares will rank pari passu in all respects (including as to dividends the entitlement to which is determined after the allotment) with all other Shares then on issue. The Bank must apply to ASX (and any other stock exchange on which the Shares of the Bank are then quoted) for, and will use its best endeavours to obtain, quotation for those Shares.

Where at the same time an Optionholder is obliged under the Rules to make a payment to the Bank and the Bank is also obliged under the Rules to make a payment to the Optionholder, the Executive Committee may decide to set off the amount of those payments so that:

- (a) payment of the lesser amount is fully satisfied; and
- (b) payment of the greater amount is satisfied by the payment of the difference between the lesser amount and the greater amount.

Please also refer to Section 3 for information on restrictions on Shares resulting from the exercise of Options.

Dealing in Shares resulting from the exercise of Options is also subject to the Bank's rules on staff trading. The current policy is that there are three staff trading periods per year during which staff may buy or sell Shares, each of approximately two to four weeks duration following the announcements of the Bank's interim and final results and after the Bank's shareholder annual general meeting.

2.7 EXERCISE CONDITIONS ON OPTIONS ISSUED TO UK RESIDENTS

In the United Kingdom ("UK"), National Insurance ("NI") contributions will be payable by the Bank at the time of exercise of Options issued to UK residents after 5 April 1999. Employers' NI contributions are currently levied at the rate of 11.9% and in respect of Options will (based on current legislation) be applied on the difference between the amount paid for the Option and the market value of the resulting share(s). Based on current legislation, UK NI contributions will be payable on exercise of Options even if the Grantee has subsequently ceased to be a resident of the UK.

The Executive Committee has resolved to apply the existing Group-wide policy of recovering the cost of such taxes and charges from the affected employees. As a result, Options issued to UK residents pursuant to this Prospectus will be subject to a special "Exercise Fee."

This Exercise Fee will be equivalent to the amount of any taxes or charges (including but not limited to employers' UK NI contributions) which are or may become payable as a result of the exercise of the Options. This amount will be in addition to the Exercise Price of the Options and will be payable at the time the Options are exercised.

UK Residents should also note that employees' NI contributions are also payable by the Grantee calculated at the rate of 7% per annum of income derived from UK services, but are subject to a maximum of £215 per month.

A specific Application Form must be completed by Optionholders who will be resident in the UK at the time that their Options are granted. This Application Form sets out details of the Exercise Fee.

2.8 U.S. TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS

Neither the Options nor the Shares issuable upon exercise of the Options have been, or will be, registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or any U.S. state or other securities laws. The Options and the Shares have not been approved, disapproved or recommended by any U.S. federal, state or other securities commission or regulatory authority.

The Options and the Shares issuable upon exercise of the Options constitute "restricted securities" within the meaning of Rule 144 under the Securities Act. The Options or Shares may be offered, sold or otherwise transferred only (a) outside the United States in an offshore transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 903 or Rule 904 of Regulation S under the Securities Act, (b) pursuant to an exemption from registration under the Securities Act provided by Rule 144 under the Securities Act (if available), (c) to a person whom it reasonably believes is a Qualified Institutional Buyer in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A under the Securities Act, or (d) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act covering the shares, and in each case in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States or other jurisdiction.

2.9 EXERCISE CONDITIONS ON EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OPTIONS

Options granted to Executive Directors are subject to additional exercise conditions which must be met before exercise is allowed. If applicable, refer to your personalised Application Form. In summary, vested Options granted to Executive Directors who are not members of Executive Committee at the time of grant, may be exercised if the Bank's average annual return on ordinary equity for the three previous financial years is at or above the 50th percentile of the corresponding figures for all companies in the then S&P/ASX 300 Industrials Index.

Executive Directors who are members of the Executive Committee at the time of grant may exercise vested Options if the Bank's average annual return on ordinary equity for the three previous financial years is at or above the 65th percentile of the corresponding figures for all companies in the then S&P/ASX 300 Industrials Index.

The condition will be examined quarterly from vesting until expiry of the Options. Options which have vested, but are not able to be exercised at a particular examination date, will be exercisable (until expiry) at or after future quarterly examination dates when and if the exercise conditions pertaining to any of those dates have been met.

2.10 MODIFICATION OF VESTING PERIOD, EXERCISE PERIOD AND EXERCISE CONDITIONS

Where an Executive ceases or gives notice that she/he intends to cease to be an employee of the MBL Group before any Options held vest, or the Executive's Application Form so provides, the Board or Executive Committee in their absolute and unfettered discretion may determine any or all of the following:

- (a) that the vesting period of an Option is reduced to a period shorter than that specified in the invitation made in relation to that Option;
- (b) that the period during which an Option may be exercised is extended for a specified period following the time that the Executive ceases to be an employee (but not beyond the Expiry Date); and
- (c) that any exercise condition of the Option be waived.

2.11 DIVIDEND, VOTING, ADJUSTMENTS AND OTHER RIGHTS

Options carry no dividend or voting rights. The Rules also state that the Option Plan does not give an Executive any additional rights to compensation or damages as a result of the termination of employment or appointment.

2.11.1 Capitalisation of profits or reserves

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank issues Shares by way of capitalisation of profits or reserves, subject to the clauses on Pro-Rata Bonus issues (see 2.11.6 below), the Board or the Executive Committee may in their absolute discretion adjust either or both the number of Shares to be issued on exercise of an Option and the Exercise Price for that Option.

2.11.2 New Issues

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank gives holders of Shares the right (pro-rata with existing shareholdings) to subscribe for additional Shares and the Option is not exercised as contemplated below (see 2.11.3), the Exercise Price of an Option after the issue of those Shares is adjusted in accordance with the formula below:

$$O' = O - \frac{E \cdot P}{N + 1}$$

where:

O' = new Exercise Price of the Option;

O = old Exercise price of the Option;

E = number of Shares into which one Option is exercisable,

P = the average closing price on the Automated Trading System provided for the trading of Shares on ASX, excluding special crossings, overnight sales and exchange traded option exercises per Share (weighted by reference to volume) during the 5 trading days ending before the ex-rights date or ex-entitlements date;

- S= subscription price for one Share under the rights or entitlements issue;
- D= dividend due but not yet paid on Shares (except those Shares to be issued under the rights issue or entitlements issue);
- N= number of Shares with rights or entitlements that must be held to receive a right to one new Share.

2.11.3 Rights/entitlements issues

Where an Option has vested and prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank makes an offer or invitation to holders of Shares for subscription for cash for shares, options or other securities of the Bank or any other entity, the Bank must give the Optionholder notice not less than ten business days before the bank's closing date to determine entitlements to receive that offer or invitation. This is to enable the Optionholder to exercise the Option and receive the offer or invitation in respect of the Shares allotted on exercise of the Option.

2.11.4 Sub-division, consolidation or conversion

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank subdivides or consolidates its shares, the Shares issued to the Optionholder on exercise of the Option are the number of securities of the value and with the rights that the Shares, which would otherwise have been issued on exercise of the Option, would have become as a result of that sub-division or consolidation.

2.11.5 Reconstruction, reduction or return of capital

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank reconstructs, reduces or returns its issued capital or buys back Shares, the number or nominal value of the Shares to be issued on exercise of the Option are reconstructed in the same proportion as the issued capital of the Bank is reconstructed, reduced or returned (subject to the same provisions with respect to rounding of entitlements as applied in relation to the reconstruction, reduction or return of capital). In all other respects the terms for the exercise of the Option are unaltered.

2.11.6 Pro-rata bonus issues

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank makes a pro-rata bonus issue to holders of Shares and the Option is not exercised before the bank's closing date to determine entitlements to that bonus issue, the number of Shares to be issued on exercise of the Option is the number of Shares, which would have been issued on exercise of the Option before that bonus issue, plus the number of bonus Shares which would have been issued to the Optionholder, if the Option had been exercised before that book's closing date.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

2.11.7 Notice of adjustment

The Bank must give notice to Optionholders of any adjustment to the number or description of securities which are to be issued on exercise of an Option or to the Exercise Price (if the Bank is listed on ASX, in accordance with the applicable Listing Rules).

2.11.8 Listing Rules

If the Bank is listed on ASX, each amendment contemplated by the provisions described above is subject to its being consistent with the Listing Rules.

2.11.9 Cumulative adjustments

Each adjustment described in 2.11.1 to 2.11.8 above is to be made to either or both the Shares and the Exercise Price in respect of each Option granted and unexercised at the time of the adjustment.

2.11.10 Rounding

Before an Option is exercised, all adjustment calculations are to be carried out including all fractions (in relation to both the Shares and the Exercise Price of the Options). On exercise by a person of a number of Options, the aggregate number of Shares issued to that person as a result of those exercises is rounded down to the next lower whole number and the Exercise Price per Option rounded up to the next higher cent.

2.12 AMENDMENT OF THE OPTION PLAN

Subject to the Listing Rules, the Board or Executive Committee may at any time and from time to time by resolution:

- (a) amend all or any of the Rules or all or any of the rights or obligations of the Optionholders or any of them; and
- (b) formulate (and subsequently amend) special terms and conditions, in addition to those set out in these Rules, to apply to Eligible Executives employed in, resident in, or who are citizens of, a particular jurisdiction.

2.13 TRANSFER OF OPTIONS

Each Option is personal to the Optionholder and is not transferable, transmissible, assignable or chargeable, except in the situations described immediately below or with the prior written consent of the Executive Committee.

If an Optionholder, or the Eligible Executive of an Optionholder, if the Optionholder is a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee, dies after an Option has vested and before the Expiry Date of the Option, with the written approval of the Executive Committee in its absolute discretion the Option may (but only at a time permitted by the approval and in accordance with any conditions specified in the approval) be exercised by:

- the legal personal representatives of the Optionholder and to the extent necessary for this to occur, the Option may be transferred to the legal personal representatives; or
- the Optionholder if the Optionholder is a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee.

2.14 ADMINISTRATIVE ARRANGEMENTS

The Deed of Grant, whereby Options are granted, between an Eligible Executive, (the Eligible Executive's Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee, if applicable), the Bank and Lacuna may be executed by an Attorney for the Eligible Executive and, if applicable, the Controlled Company or the Permitted Trustee.

Eligible Executives wishing to be granted Options should complete the Power(s) of Attorney incorporated in the Application Form, which appoints Dennis Leong, Company Secretary, Amelia Cho, Assistant Company Secretary and Joanne Hawkins, Assistant Company Secretary as the attorneys to execute the Deed of Grant, and return to Joanne Hawkins by the date stated in the invitation.

A separate power of attorney is also incorporated into the Application Form which relates to the DESOP (see section 3.4 below).

A sample Deed of Grant is attached as the Appendix.

3. DEFERRED EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN

3.1 INTRODUCTION

In May 2000, the Board approved amendments to the Option Plan Rules to introduce a six month Non-Disposal Period and other Restrictions relating to granting security over or disposing of the Shares issued on exercise of an Option issued under the Option Plan. Shares issued on exercise of an Option may also be forfeited in certain circumstances. These amendments are referred to as the Deferred Exercise Share Option Plan ("DESOP").

Shares resulting from the exercise of Options will be placed under the DESOP, unless Optionholders request the Bank waive the application of the DESOP arrangements to some or all of the Shares. Unless the Bank is aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Bank, indicate that the relevant Executive may have acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of his/her obligations to the Bank or any Associated Company then this request will be granted by the Bank.

The taxation implications of participating in the DESOP are set out in the "Taxation Considerations" section below.

3.2 HOW THE DESOP OPERATES

3.2.1 MBL Shares resulting from the exercise of Options

An Optionholder's Shares resulting from the exercise of Options are now automatically placed into the DESOP. The Option Exercise Form must be completed and signed by the Optionholder at the time the Optionholder elects to exercise their Options. At this time the Optionholder may also request the Bank waive the application of the Non-Disposal Period and Restrictions on Shares issued on exercise of the Option. The Shares will be held outside the DESOP, provided this request is accepted by the Bank.

3.2.2 How the Shares are held in DESOP

The Shares which are held in the DESOP will be registered in the name of the Optionholder and cannot be held under any other name. The Shares are held subject to the terms of the DESOP. The Shares will be uncertificated. A DESOP Participant will be sent a holding statement shortly after the Shares are registered in their name.

3.2.3 Purpose and role of the DESOP

The Bank has introduced the DESOP into the Option Plan to further encourage long term employee share ownership and alignment of the interests of employees with shareholders. The Shares resulting from the exercise of the Options are placed into the DESOP and held in the Optionholder's name.

Shares held in the DESOP may qualify for a tax deferral until the earlier of ten years from the date of grant of the underlying Options or the date the relevant Eligible Executive resigns from the Bank or an Associated Company of the Bank. (See section 4, "Taxation Considerations").

The Shares are subject to a six month Non-Disposal Period from the date that the Shares are placed into the DESOP and are subject to the Restrictions which apply at all times while held under the DESOP.

3.2.4 How the DESOP is administered

The day to day administration of the DESOP is undertaken by the Plan Company, an independent company owned by White梨花 Chartered Accountants. The Bank may replace the Plan Company and appoint a new entity to act as the Plan Company at any time by notice in writing to the Plan Company or otherwise as agreed between the Bank and the Plan Company.

3.3 MAIN CONSEQUENCES TO EXECUTIVES FROM DESOP

The Shares may be held under the DESOP until ten years from the date of grant of the Options (or until the DESOP Participant elects to sell or withdraw the Shares, or the relevant Executive leaves the employ of the Bank or an Associated Company, if earlier).

Where the Eligible Executive is the Optionholder and provided the Eligible Executive does not make the taxation election discussed in section 4, "Taxation Considerations" below, no tax will be payable on grant or exercise of the Options. Normal income tax (not capital gains tax) will be payable by the DESOP Participant (based on the market value of the Shares less the Exercise Price paid on the exercise of the Options) at the earlier of:

- (a) ten years from the date of grant;
- (b) the date the Eligible Executive ceases employment; or
- (c) the date when Shares may first be sold, having been withdrawn from the DESOP.

Where a Controlled Company is the Optionholder, participation in the DESOP will create no additional taxation consequences.

The Shares held in DESOP do not attract fringe benefits tax and are not subject to any superannuation restrictions. In addition, DESOP Participants are not responsible for administration costs involved in operating the DESOP as these costs are borne by the Bank.

Some examples of situations in which an Executive may wish to request the Bank waive the application of the Non-Disposal Period and Restrictions on Shares

1. Executives who do not want Shares to be subject to a six month Non-Disposal Period and ongoing Restrictions and forfeiture provisions (as described in section 3.6) for the entire time the Shares are held in DESOP;
2. Executives who wish to grant security over Shares issued on exercise of their Options. A third party is likely to be reluctant to accept security over Shares which are held subject to the Restrictions and forfeiture provisions of the DESOP, assuming such security is permitted by the Plan Company and the Bank;
3. Executives who are overseas residents;
4. Executives who hold their Options via a company structure and who pay tax on receipt of the Options;
5. Executives who are intending to resign within a short time frame from the Bank or an Associated Company of the Bank (once employees resign, they cannot remain in the DESOP); and
6. Executives who wish to sell the Shares on exercise of the Options.

3.4 HOW TO EXERCISE AND NOT PARTICIPATE

The Application Form for Eligible Executives to apply for Options also includes a DESOP Power of Attorney, which must be completed as part of the application for Options. The DESOP Power of Attorney will enable the Plan Company and its officers to acquire, dispose of, or to otherwise deal with, any Shares under the DESOP on behalf of the DESOP Participant. Shares issued as a result of the exercise of Options will automatically be placed under the DESOP.

Before an Optionholder exercises Options, the Optionholder must complete an Option Exercise Form. The Option Exercise Form will allow an Optionholder to request the Bank to waive the application of the Non-Disposal Period and Restrictions on all or a lesser nominated amount of Shares. Unless the Bank is aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Bank, indicate that the relevant Executive may have acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of their obligations to the Bank or any Associated Company then this request will be granted by the Bank. Any remaining Shares not subject to a waiver will be held in the DESOP. A DESOP Participant must hold a minimum of 100 Shares under the DESOP. There is no maximum limit on the number of Shares the Optionholder may hold in the DESOP in relation to Shares resulting from the exercise.

3.5 ENTITLEMENTS RELATING TO SHARES HELD IN DESOP

Shares held in DESOP are fully paid ordinary Shares ranking equally with all other fully paid ordinary Shares of the Bank then on issue. DESOP Participants who hold Shares in DESOP will, (unless the Shares are forfeited):

- receive dividends in relation to the Shares under the DESOP. When the dividends are received, they become part of the DESOP Participant's income and will need to be declared in their taxation return. The Share Registry will send dividend statements directly to the DESOP Participant;
- qualify for rights, bonus and other issues of the Bank's Shares (if any); and
- have normal voting rights.

3.6 RESTRICTIONS ON DEALING WITH SHARES HELD UNDER DESOP

The Shares held under the DESOP will be subject to the Non-Disposal Period and the Restrictions as set out in the Rules and summarised below.

3.6.1 Non-Disposal Period

A DESOP Participant may not sell, transfer, or dispose of any Shares held under the DESOP for a period of six months from the date that the Shares are issued to the DESOP Participant on exercise of the Option, unless:

- i. the Plan Company approves the DESOP Participant's request for withdrawal because of special circumstances (eg death, total and permanent disability or demonstrated hardship) of the relevant Executive;
- ii. the relevant Executive leaves the employ of the Bank or an Associated Company in the meantime. In this case, the Shares which are held by the relevant DESOP Participant will cease to be subject to the terms of the DESOP and will be held by the DESOP Participant outside the DESOP assuming the Shares are not liable to be forfeited; or
- iii. a special situation arises such as a takeover of the Bank, a voluntary winding up of the Bank, the Shares become subject to compulsory acquisition, or the Bank being subject to a reconstruction or an amalgamation with other companies, in which case the Executive may be able to withdraw from the DESOP.

3.6.2 Forfeiture

A DESOP Participant will forfeit any right or interest in any Shares or entitlements under the DESOP to the Plan Company if the relevant Executive is dismissed with cause or commits any act of theft, fraud or defalcation in relation to the affairs of the Bank or any Associated Company (whether or not the Executive is charged with any offence) or if the relevant

Executive does an act (or fails to do an act) which, in the opinion of the Bank, brings the Bank or any Associated Company into disrepute.

The Bank may determine that any forfeited Shares or their proceeds are to be transferred to another employee, used in another employee share plan of the Bank or used in the Macquarie Bank Superannuation Fund.

3.6.3 Security Interests

Security interests, including charges and mortgages, may only be granted in respect of Shares held by the DESOP Participant under the DESOP if the DESOP Participant receives the prior written consent of the Plan Company and is approved by the Bank. Such consent will only be provided where the Plan Company and the Bank are satisfied that the security interest would not interfere with their ability to enforce the restrictions and forfeiture provisions under the Rules. It is expected that financiers may have difficulty in accepting Shares held in the DESOP as security and DESOP Participants should not assume that they will be able to charge or mortgage their DESOP Shares.

3.6.4 Enforcement of Restrictions

The Plan Company is entitled to make such arrangements as it considers necessary to enforce the six month Non-Disposal Period, the other Restrictions on a DESOP Participant dealing with Shares or granting a security interest over Shares and the forfeiture provisions, and the DESOP Participant must agree to such arrangements.

3.7 WITHDRAWAL AND SALE OF SHARES

Following the expiry of the six month Non-Disposal Period, DESOP Participants wishing to sell Shares may do so only after the Shares are withdrawn from the DESOP. Shares may remain subject to the DESOP for a period of up to ten years from the date of grant of the Options. DESOP Participants who wish to withdraw Shares from the DESOP (whether to sell them or otherwise) must submit a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares which must be approved by the Plan Company.

Shares held by a DESOP Participant will also be withdrawn from the DESOP (provided those Shares have not been forfeited) on the earlier of:

- i. the relevant Executive ceasing to be employed by the Bank or an Associated Company; and
- ii. ten years from the date of grant of the underlying Options.

If an Executive leaves the employ of the Bank or an Associated Company, then subject to the operation of the forfeiture provisions of the DESOP, the Plan Company will, on receiving notification from the Bank of his/her ceasing employment, advise the Share Registry to lift any restrictions on the relevant DESOP Participant's Shares.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS

Trading in Shares will still be subject to the Bank's then applicable rules on staff trading. However, it is noted that even during staff trading periods, staff who personally are in possession of non-public, price sensitive information about the Bank must not deal in Shares.

4. TAXATION CONSIDERATIONS

4.1 GENERAL COMMENTS

The following comments regarding the taxation implications of participation in the Option Plan are general in nature and based on current Australian tax laws and practices. Taxation in relation to the Option Plan is complex. Eligible Executives are advised to seek their own taxation advice in relation to their personal tax liabilities and, if relevant, those of their Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee. Such advice should be obtained at the time of application for Options and of completing their tax returns for the years including the date of grant, lapses of Options, exercises of Options, cessation of employment, and on sale of any Shares resulting from exercise of Options.

Eligible Executives subject to tax in overseas jurisdictions should seek specific tax advice on their particular situations.

Relationship with other Equity Plans of the Bank

Participants in other employee equity plans should ensure that they are aware of, and carefully consider, their taxation positions under those plans as it is important to consider the overall effect of making (or not making) the section 139E taxation election. Only one election can be made each financial year and this will apply to all employee equity plans under which the employee acquires shares or options in that year, but not to acquisition of shares pursuant to the exercise of options.

DESOP Conditions

Shares issued on the exercise of Options will, unless a waiver is granted, automatically be subject to the DESOP Non-Disposal Period and other Restrictions.

DESOP participants should note that the Bank does not warrant that any particular taxation treatment will apply. Participants should seek professional financial and taxation advice referable to their individual circumstances to assist in determining whether or not to request a waiver of the DESOP restrictions.

4.2 ELIGIBLE EXECUTIVE AS OPTIONHOLDER AND NO SECTION 139E ELECTION MADE

If the Options are taken up by the Eligible Executive personally and the Tax Act section 139E election (see below) is not made, no tax is payable on grant of the Option.

In such a case, the taxing point for the Options, called the "Cessation Time", is the earliest of the following events:

- i) where the DESOP conditions apply to the Shares acquired on exercise of the Options, the first time that those Shares could be traded following release from the DESOP conditions (i.e. the first day of the next staff trading period if the release occurs outside a staff trading period);
- ii) when the Executive ceases employment with the Bank or an Associated Company (see section 4.5 below);
- iii) ten years from the date of grant of the Options;
- iv) where the Bank has waived the DESOP conditions the exercise of the Options will be the taxing point.

Note in relation to (i), the Commissioner may take the view that the cessation time is the time of release from DESOP conditions, not the first day of the next staff trading period.

If an Optionholder sells the Shares within 30 days of the Cessation Time, the Optionholder will be taxable as ordinary income (not capital gain) on an amount equal to the net sales proceeds of the Shares less the Exercise Price of the Options.

If an Optionholder holds the Shares beyond 30 days of the Cessation Time the Optionholder will be taxable on an amount equal to the market value of the Shares at the Cessation Time less the Exercise Price of the Options. This amount will be taxable as ordinary income (not capital gain) in the hands of the Optionholder. The market value is deemed to be the weighted average of the prices at which MBL Shares traded on ASX during the one week period up to and including the Cessation Day. For future capital gains tax ("CGT") purposes, the Shares will have a cost base equal to the market value of the Shares at the Cessation Time.

Should the Exercise Price exceed the market value, no amount will be required to be included in the Optionholder's assessable income. Strictly speaking, in these circumstances, the Shares will have a cost base (for CGT purposes) equal to their market value. However it may be that the Australian Taxation office ("ATO") will accept the Exercise Price as the cost base given that the provisions of the Tax Act do not seem to contemplate the situation where the market value is less than the Exercise Price.

4.3 ELIGIBLE EXECUTIVE AS OPTIONHOLDER AND SECTION 139E ELECTION MADE

If the Options are taken up personally by the Eligible Executive, the Tax Act section 139E election is available should the Eligible Executive wish to be assessed for tax in the tax year of grant, in which case there is no further tax until the sale of the Shares. Any further taxable amounts at that time are taxed as capital gains, not ordinary income. Note that the section 139E election covers all grants of shares and rights under employee share acquisition schemes during the tax year in question (but not the acquisition of shares pursuant to the exercise of options), and enables the tax-concession under the Macquarie Bank Employee Share Plan ("S1,000 Employee Share Plan") to be accessed. An Eligible Executive has until the date of lodgement of the tax return for the year of grant of the Options to decide whether to make the election.

If an Eligible Executive makes the election, he/she must include a specified percentage of the Exercise Price as ordinary income for the year of grant. This same amount is also included in the capital gains cost base of the Option, and ultimately, the Share. Exercise of the Option does not trigger any tax liabilities but the Exercise Price is also included in the cost base of the Share.

The Share will be subject to the Non-Disposal Period and DESOP Restrictions unless these are waived by the Bank. Where the election has been made, the DESOP conditions do not have any tax effect; neither entry nor exit from the DESOP is a taxable event.

The specified percentage to be included in the Optionholder's assessable income for the year of grant of the Options depends on the "market value" of Shares on the date of grant relative to the Exercise Price. If these amounts are equal, the specified percentage is 11.6% (for a 5 year option). If the market value has increased between the time of calculation of the exercise price and the grant of the Options, the specified percentage increases significantly. (In the extremely unlikely event that the Share price exceeds the Exercise Price by more than 37%, the gain itself is included in assessable income instead.)

If having made the election the Option expires unexercised, the Eligible Executive's tax return should be amended and the overpaid tax refunded (together with taxable interest).

50% CGT Concession

The 50% CGT concession will apply to a capital gain made on Shares which are sold more than 12 months after their acquisition date. There are currently two views as to the correct interpretation of the acquisition date provisions. The preferred view is that the acquisition date is the date the Options are exercised. On this view, the 50% CGT concession will only apply once the Shares have been held for 12 months starting from the day the Shares are acquired through the exercise of Options. On this view, if an Eligible Executive sells the Shares more than 12 months after the date the Shares are acquired, any capital gain on sale of the Shares would be eligible for the 50% CGT concession.

The alternative view is that the acquisition date is the date the Options are acquired on the basis that the grant of the Options constitutes an agreement to acquire the Shares, and the 12 month holding period commences from the date the agreement to acquire the Shares is entered into. If this view is correct, an Eligible Executive would not have to hold the Shares for more than 12 months for a capital gain to be eligible for the 50% CGT concession (provided the Eligible Executive acquired the Options at least 12 months prior to the disposal of Shares acquired pursuant to their exercise). The Commissioner of Taxation has disputed this treatment.

The Bank does not warrant any particular treatment. Therefore, if you wish to adopt the alternative view you should discuss with your personal tax adviser the applicability of the alternative views above to your particular circumstances.

4.4 CONTROLLED COMPANY OR PERMITTED TRUSTEE AS OPTIONHOLDER

If a Controlled Company (acting either as principal or as trustee of a family trust) or a Permitted Trustee, which is an "associate" (as defined) of an Eligible Executive takes up the Options, there are a number of important tax implications. No deferral of tax is available; an assessable income amount computed on the same basis as 4.3 above should be included as ordinary income in the Eligible Executive's personal tax return for the year of grant. This amount is also included in the capital gains cost base of the Options in the hands of the Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee.

No tax liabilities are triggered by exercise of the Options or the Eligible Executive leaving the employment of the MBL Group. The capital gains cost base of the Shares includes both the Exercise Price and the amount previously included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income. If the Option lapses, the Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee would crystallise a capital loss equal to the amount previously included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income but in this case, the tax paid by the Eligible Executive is not refunded.

Shares acquired as a result of the exercise of Options will be subject to the Non-Disposal Period and DESOP restrictions unless these are waived by the Bank. Note that in these circumstances the DESOP restrictions do not have any tax effect; neither entry to nor exit from the DESOP is a taxable event.

It should be noted that capital losses can (subject to other requirements in the tax laws) only be offset against the Controlled Company's or Permitted Trustee's current or future capital gains. Any step-up in the cost base of assets in the hands of a company or trust may be effectively clawed back if the untaxed gain is distributed. It should also be noted that the discount capital gains concession is not available to companies.

You should seek your own independent taxation advice in relation to the taxation implications arising from the acquisition of Options by a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee.

4.5 IMPLICATIONS OF CESSATION OF MBL EMPLOYMENT

4.5.1 Optionholder is an Eligible Executive who has not made the section 139E election in respect of the year of grant of the Options

The Eligible Executive will be subject to income tax on cessation of employment with the MBL Group in respect of any vested Options or Shares acquired on exercise of those Options held subject to the DESOP restrictions. The lapsing of unvested Options (or the cancellation of vested Options) does not have any tax implications in these circumstances.

Vested Options

- If the vested Options are exercised on or before the date of cessation of employment and the Shares are sold in an arm's length sale within 30 days of the date of exercise, the sales proceeds less the Exercise Price must be included in the Eligible Executive's normal assessable income (not capital gain) in the tax return for the year of exercise.

FINAL

- If the vested Options are exercised on or before the date of cessation of employment (and the Shares are not held subject to the DESOP restrictions) and the Shares are not sold within 30 days of the date of exercise, the Eligible Executive must include in his/her tax return for the year of exercise the "market value" of the Shares at the date of exercise less the Exercise Price. The Shares acquired on exercise of those Options will have a capital gains cost base equal to their "market value" at the date of exercise of the Options. The "market value" is the weighted average Share price during the one week period up to and including the day of exercise. If there were no transactions during that period the latest offer price within that period is treated as the market value.

However, if the vested Options are exercised after the date of cessation of employment, the Eligible Executive must include in his/her tax return in the year of cessation of employment the greater of:

- (i) the "market value" of MBL Shares on the date of cessation of employment less the Exercise Price of the Options; and
- (ii) a specified percentage of the Exercise Price, calculated by reference to the remaining life of the Options, and the "market value" of MBL Shares at the date of cessation of employment relative to the Exercise Price (refer to the Taxation Division for detailed calculation).

The amount included in assessable income is also included in the cost base of the Options and, on exercise of the Options, is included in the cost base of the Shares acquired on exercise of those Options.

DESOP Shares

If the Options have been exercised during employment and the Shares acquired on exercise of those Options are held subject to the Non-Disposal Period and DESOP Conditions, the Shares will leave the DESOP on the cessation of employment. This will be the taxing point (the Cessation Time).

If the ex-DESOP Shares are sold in an arm's length sale within 30 days of leaving the DESOP, the sales proceeds reduced by the Exercise Price must be included in the Eligible Executive's normal assessable income. CGT does not apply to the disposal unless the Exercise Price exceeds the net sales proceeds, in which case a capital loss will result.

- If the ex-DESOP Shares are held beyond 30 days of leaving the DESOP, the Eligible Executive must include an income amount in his/her tax return for the year of cessation of employment being the "market value" of the ex-DESOP Shares at the date of leaving the DESOP reduced by the Exercise Price. The Shares will have a capital gains cost base equal to the market value of the Shares.

- Should the Exercise Price exceed the market value, no amount will be required to be included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income. Strictly speaking, in these circumstances the Shares will have a capital gains cost base equal to their market value. However, it may be that the ATO will accept the Exercise Price as the cost base given that the provisions of the Tax Act do not seem to contemplate the situation where the market value is less than the Exercise Price.

Lapsed Options

There are no tax implications if the Options lapse on the Eligible Executive leaving the Bank.

4.5.2 Eligible Executive has made the section 139E election to be taxed in the year of grant or if the Options are taken up in a Controlled Company or by a Permitted Trustee

In these situations, the taxing point of the Options occurred at the date of grant. Consequently, there are no taxation implications of the cessation of employment in respect of vested Options, or any Shares acquired on exercise of those Options. Shares will leave the DESOP on cessation of employment.

Irrespective of any conditions, where Options are exercised the cost base of Shares acquired on exercise of those Options will include both the Exercise Price and the amount initially included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income. (It is noted that exercise must occur generally within six months of leaving).

Lapsed Options

If Options held by an Eligible Executive lapse unexercised, the tax paid on grant may be refunded (with taxable interest). If the Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee took up the lapsed Options it should instead incur a capital loss equal to the amount initially included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income.

4.6 REFORM OF THE AUSTRALIAN INCOME TAXATION SYSTEM

In August 1998 the Federal Government established the Review of Business Taxation Committee for the purpose of considering reforms to several areas of Australian revenue law. On 21 September 1999 the report of the Committee (the "Ralph Report") was released publicly, together with an announcement of the first stage of reforms to be implemented by the Federal Government. On 11 November 1999, the Treasurer announced the second stage of the reforms.

JULY 2002

A number of these tax reforms have already been legislated. Pursuant to Government announcements, some tax reform proposals are not going to be progressed. Other measures have been proposed but not yet enacted including a proposal to introduce a new "cessation time" to employee share plans. If enacted, this new cessation time will apply to employees who cease to be a tax resident in Australia and who have not made an election to be taxed in the year of the grant of the Options. This will result in the relevant employees having a tax liability based on the market value of the relevant shares on their departure from Australia. As the details of this and other reforms have not been finalised or enacted, it is not possible to accurately state the implications of these reforms.

5. FINANCIAL BENEFITS AND RISKS OF OPTION/SHARE INVESTMENT

5.1 FINANCIAL BENEFITS AND RISKS OF OPTION/SHARE INVESTMENT

The value of the Options will fluctuate with the value of the Shares, which are quoted on ASX. As Options cannot be transferred, the mechanism by which holders may obtain benefits is through exercising the Options into Shares. However, Options need not be exercised so that unlike Shares, a loss may be avoided by not exercising if the market price of the Shares is below the Exercise Price. No amount is payable for the grant of the Options.

Once Options are exercised, the holder of the resultant Shares is exposed to the normal risks of owning Shares. The price of the Shares will fluctuate and depend on the Bank's performance, investors' perceptions and the Australian sharemarket generally. Being senior executives of the Bank, Eligible Executives will be aware of the myriad of factors which affect the Bank's performance.

There are two main financial benefits that may arise from owning Shares:

- income in the form of dividends; and
- growth in the value (capital appreciation) of Shares.

There are also risks associated with Share ownership. The Bank is a limited liability company and persons holding Shares are not obliged to contribute more share capital in the event of losses. However, it is possible that, if there are losses or profits fall, holders of Shares may not receive dividends or dividends may be reduced and the value of their Shares may fall.

Every investment involves an element of risk. Shares should be considered a long-term rather than a short-term investment. The price of Shares as quoted on ASX is volatile and moves up and down with market sentiment as well as with factors which are specific to the Bank.

The price at which Shares trade on ASX may be higher or lower than historical prices. If investors decide to sell their Shares, the amount which may be received on the sale may be higher or lower than their present market price.

JULY 2002

Many factors will affect the price of Shares. At any point in time these factors may include:

Company Factors

- the profitability of the Bank;
- the profit outlook for the Bank;
- the dividend policy of the Bank;
- the level of franking of the Bank's dividends;
- the credit ratings and strength of the balance sheet of the Bank; and
- the performance and success of the Bank's staff, management and Board and its policies and strategies.

External Factors

- movements in the general level of share prices on local and international share markets;
- the success of marketing and other strategies adopted by the Bank, relative to its competitors' strategies;
- developments in the banking, investment banking, stockbroking and other industries generally;
- the economic outlook in Australia and internationally;
- changes in government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies;
- turnover and volatility of financial markets in Australia and overseas; and
- changes in interest rates, inflation rates, exchange rates and commodity prices.

Please also refer below for discussion of the risks impacting on the Bank's performance.

Neither Macquarie Bank Limited nor any related body corporate of Macquarie Bank Limited nor any of its officers guarantees the value of the Options or Shares, that the Share price will be above an Optionholder's Exercise Price during exercise periods, the performance of Shares, the repayment of capital or the payment of a particular return on Shares.

5.2 RISKS TO THE BANK'S FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Risk Factors

Continued superior performance cannot be assumed. There are many risks in the markets in which the Bank operates. Performance can be influenced by a range of factors, many of which are not within the Bank's control. In many parts of its business, the Bank constantly and deliberately assumes financial risk in a calculated and controlled way. Once a decision is made that a risk is acceptable, the Bank puts in place limits and an extensive range of procedures to monitor the risk.

The performance of all of the Bank's major businesses can be influenced by external market and regulatory conditions. If all or most of the Bank's businesses were affected by adverse circumstances in the same period, overall earnings would suffer significantly.

Market Risk

Market risk arises from changes in market prices or volatility which may result in adverse revaluation of Macquarie's trading portfolios. Macquarie trades in foreign exchange, interest rates, commodities, bond and equities markets, including being an active price maker in derivatives in these markets. Changes in market prices, particularly rapid and unexpected changes, could cause losses. The Bank's policy is to manage this risk by imposing limits on the size of its exposure in each market.

The Bank depends on external parties for credit and trading limits to carry out its funding and trading operations and in the process manage its market risks. These parties rely, to some extent, on the credit ratings assigned to the Bank by ratings agencies. Any downgrading of the Bank's rating could increase costs and restrict availability of credit and funding limits.

Credit Risk

Like any bank, the MBL Group assumes credit risk in its banking and securities businesses. Credit risk arises from both lending and trading activities. In the case of trading activity, credit risk reflects the possibility that the trading counterparty will not be in a position to complete the contract once the settlement becomes due. The resultant credit exposure will be a function of the movement of prices over the period of the underlying contract. Credit losses can, and have, resulted in significant losses and sometimes financial failure in other financial institutions. The MBL Group puts great emphasis on credit management. While some credit losses have been incurred from time to time, these have not been material in relation to the Group's overall profitability or its capital base.

Most of the Bank's credit exposures arise from lending and trading contracts with Australian counterparties and counterparties based in OECD countries. In addition, however, there are exposures to counterparties in some non-OECD countries in Asia Pacific, Africa and Latin America. Where appropriate, the country risk is covered by political risk insurance.

Underwriting risk

Equity and debt underwriting risk is also assumed by the MBL Group in the normal course of business. The MBL Group's general approach is to substantially sub-underwrite these risks but underwritten positions are assumed and can expose the MBL Group to losses.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the Bank's requirement to fund its banking and trading operations on a daily basis. Any failure to meet this requirement may result in increased costs, inability to maintain market positions and review of the Bank's credit rating. The Bank adopts liquidity policies to manage this risk.

Operational risk

Operational risk arises from the manner in which the Bank conducts its business. The Bank faces operational risks which could lead to reputation damage, financial loss or regulatory risk in the event of an operational failure. Policies have been adopted to manage this risk. There remains a risk that the policy framework may prove inadequate or of failure to comply which may result in loss.

Macquarie's tax risk

In the ordinary course of its activities the MBL Group is exposed to risks arising from the manner in which the Australian and international tax regimes may be regarded by the relevant revenue and judicial authorities as applying to transactions entered into by the MBL Group. The MBL Group has in place controls and procedures to mitigate these risks but any changes in interpretation, application and administration of the law by the courts and the revenue authorities may result in significantly increased tax liabilities.

Legal risk

The MBL Group in the ordinary course of its business enters into transactions and provides advisory services which involve legal risk.

Legal risks include the risk of breaches of applicable laws and regulatory requirements, actual or perceived breaches of obligations of fidelity or confidence to clients and counterparties, unenforceability of counterparty obligations, fraud, negligence, misleading conduct or the inappropriate documentation of contractual relationships. The size and frequency of transactions entered into or in respect of which advice is provided are such that, should these risks result in losses to the MBL Group, the losses could have a material impact. The Bank has controls and procedures which seek to manage these risks.

Developments in banking and investment banking industry

MBL operates in the highly competitive financial services industry in Australia and overseas. Developments and competition in the industry place pressure on margins which may impact on profitability.

Economic outlook

The performance and earnings of MBL are impacted by changes in economic conditions, activity and sentiment in Australia and overseas including interest rates, foreign exchange rates and equity markets.

Regulation and legislation

MBL may be subject to changes in government regulatory policies or changes in legislation in Australia and other countries where MBL operates. Areas of regulation which impact on MBL include taxation and regulation relating to prudential supervision.

6. DESCRIPTION OF MACQUARIE BANK LIMITED

6.1 ISSUED ORDINARY SHARE CAPITAL

At 31 May 2002, the Bank's issued ordinary share capital was as follows:

	Number
Ordinary Shares	198,499,828

As at 31 May 2002, the Bank had on issue 21,309,462 Options over unissued Shares. All Options were exercisable into one Share per Option and were issued (with various exercise prices) pursuant to the Option Plan.

Changes to the Bank's issued capital and Options are normally reported monthly to ASX. If all Options over unissued Shares had been exercised as at 31 May 2002, the Shares issued on exercise would have represented approximately 9.69% per cent of the then issued capital of the Bank.

Invitations for the grant of approximately 7.25 million Options are being made initially pursuant to this Prospectus. Further invitations may also be made during the coming 12 months.

6.2 FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Bank's consolidated financial statements for the year to 31 March 2002 and comment on performance and outlook are contained in the Bank's 2002 Annual Report. Further financial information concerning the Bank is generally available as described in Section 7.1.

The Bank's annual Basic Earnings Per Share (Basic EPS), for the last five years have been:

6.3 RIGHTS ATTACHING TO SHARES

The Shares carry the following rights, privileges and restrictions. Full details of the rights attaching to the Shares are set out in the Constitution of the Bank.

General Meetings and Voting

Each holder of Shares is entitled to receive notice of, and to attend and vote at, general meetings of the Bank and to receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be furnished to shareholders under the Constitution, the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

Shareholders may attend in person or by proxy and vote on issues requiring a shareholders' resolution at general meetings. Such issues include the election of Directors and any changes to the Constitution of the Bank. Notice is given to shareholders when those meetings are to be held and of the items of business to be considered. At a general meeting every holder of Shares present in person or by proxy or attorney has one vote on a show of hands and, on a poll, one vote per fully paid Share (and a proportion of a vote for shares partly paid, equal to the proportion the amount paid on the share bears to its total issue price).

Dividends

It is the Bank's present policy to pay dividends twice yearly. Subject to the rights of holders of shares issued with any special or restricted rights, that portion of the profits of the Bank which the Voting Directors may from time to time determine to distribute by way of a dividend, must be declared and paid on all of the shares of a particular class in respect of which the dividend is paid.

In 2002, the Bank activated its Dividend Reinvestment Plan. Ordinary shareholders may elect to reinvest their dividends in new shares at a 2.5% discount to the prevailing market price.

Annual Report

Shareholders have the opportunity to receive each year a copy of the Bank's annual report, (which this year comprises the 2002 Annual Review and 2002 Financial Report Booklets) which provides a review of the MBL Group's performance as a whole during the previous financial year. The 2002 Annual Review and Financial Report are available on Macnet.

Share Buy-Backs

The Bank is entitled to purchase Shares in itself in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act.

6.5 DIVIDEND POLICY

A review of the Bank's distribution policy was undertaken in 2000, taking into account recent changes in the local investment environment. As part of a capital management programme and in an effort to maximise shareholder value and give the Bank's investors more flexibility in their strategies relating to the Bank's Shares, the Bank revised its distribution policy such that future cash ordinary dividends will be maintained at current levels of 93 cents per share, until such time as the dividends can be fully franked. Thereafter, consideration will be given to increasing ordinary dividends as the Bank's franking capacity increases.

The Directors cannot give any assurances concerning future dividend policy, the extent of future dividends, or the franking of any such dividends as they are dependent on the future profits and the financial and taxation positions of the Bank.

Investment Highlights

MOIG has been established to make equity and equity-related investments in communications infrastructure. MOIG will target communications infrastructure assets which, in its opinion, offer predictable cashflows and revenue growth.

Key investment highlights are set out below:

Stable Revenue

Owners of communications infrastructure typically benefit from high barriers to entry as a result of high capital costs and the regulatory, environmental and planning requirements for new entrants.

These barriers, and the ability to secure long term supply contracts with customers, typically enable the owners of communications infrastructure to earn stable revenues over the long term.

High Quality Asset Investment

MOIG's asset investment is a 100% shareholding in Broadcast Australia Pty Limited (Broadcast Australia).

Broadcast Australia is Australia's leading independent broadcast transmission service provider. Broadcast Australia's core business is the provision of infrastructure for the transmission of television and radio broadcasts to audiences across Australia.

Broadcast Australia owns and operates the most extensive broadcast transmission infrastructure network in Australia. Broadcast Australia provides transmission services from 281 transmission sites across metropolitan, regional and rural Australia and reaches 98% of the country's population.

Broadcast Australia has secured long term contracts to supply television and radio broadcast services to the Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC) and the Special Broadcasting Service Corporation (SBS).

These contracts, which represent 79% of Broadcast Australia's forecast revenue for FY 2003 to FY 2006, provide a high degree of predictability for near term growth although timing of revenue from some contracts is subject to timing of service commencement, as disclosed in Section 5.9 Financial Information.

Broadcast Australia's strategic broadcast communications infrastructure and long term contracted cashflows offer strong downside protection and contracted growth from the introduction of digital television services in Australia. There is further potential upside from the possible introduction of new services such as data delivery via terrestrial transmission, digital radio and new television and radio licenses.

The Implied Purchase Price of Broadcast Australia for Staked Security Holders represents an EV/EBITDA multiple of 12.5 times forecast EBITDA for FY 2003 and 9.8 times forecast EBITDA for FY 2004, as calculated in Section 5.9 Financial Information.

The Base IRR for MOIG's equity investment in Broadcast Australia is 20.6% based on the Implied Purchase Price. The Base IRR is calculated as described in Section 5.9 Financial Information and is based on the assumptions set out in Section 5.10 Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IRR. The Base IRR does not take into account some potential revenue streams discussed in Section 5.9 Financial Information.

Attractive Yield

Based on the assumptions described in Section 5.5 Forecast Distributions, the Manager expects to pay distributions for FY 2003 totaling approximately 15 cents per Staked Security which represents a forecast yield of 7.7% based on the Application Price, and expects to pay distributions for FY 2006 totaling approximately 29 cents per Staked Security which represents a forecast yield of 14.4% based on the Application Price.

Growth

MOIG intends to invest in communications assets which will provide investors with a stable dividend stream and the opportunity to benefit from the potential for significant earnings growth.

Global Investment Opportunities

MCI expects a number of investment opportunities will arise as a result of the ongoing restructuring in the communications infrastructure sector globally, including privatisation of government owned infrastructure, mobility transformation involving the separation or ownership of communications infrastructure from the provision of communications services, and the sale of communications infrastructure assets by cash constrained companies.

MCI is currently considering several near term opportunities to acquire broadcasting assets and other communications infrastructure.

Experienced Board and Management Team
MCI and its Manager each have an experienced board of directors who, between them, have extensive industry knowledge and infrastructure expertise.

MCI is managed by a wholly owned subsidiary of Macquarie Bank. The Macquarie Bank Group has a proven track record in delivering value for infrastructure investors and has one of the world's largest infrastructure advisory groups with over 300 employees in 13 countries.

MCI's management team has expert knowledge of the communications infrastructure sector and extensive experience in the broadcast infrastructure industry.

The Macquarie Bank Group has a proven track record in delivering value for infrastructure investors

MCI's seed asset, Broadcast Australia, is Australia's leading independent broadcast transmission service provider. Broadcast Australia's core business is the provision of infrastructure for the transmission of television and radio broadcasts to audiences across Australia.

Broadcast Australia's strategic communications infrastructure network and long term contracted revenues offer strong defensive characteristics with potential upside.

Broadcast Australia owns and operates the most extensive broadcast transmission infrastructure network in Australia, reaching 98% of the population

89% of Broadcast Australia's forecast revenue for FY 2003 to FY 2005 is projected to come from existing contracts

Broadcast Australia has secured long term contracts with the ABC and SBS, which represent more than 79% of forecast revenue for FY 2003 to FY 2005

MCI is targeting investments in communications infrastructure, including broadcast towers and related infrastructure, mobile telecommunications towers, satellites and wireline infrastructure.

Chairman's Letter

Dear Investor,

It is my pleasure to invite you to become an investor in MCIQ. MCIQ is a new investment vehicle that intends to invest in communications infrastructure.

MCIQ will seek to acquire a global portfolio of communications infrastructure assets which will provide Staked Security Holders with predictable cashflows and revenue growth.

MCIQ's initial investment is a 100% shareholding in Broadcast Australia. Broadcast Australia operates an infrastructure network for the transmission of television and radio broadcasts to audiences across Australia. This network operates from 661 strategic sites across metropolitan, regional and rural Australia reaching 60% of the country's population. Broadcast Australia has entered into long term contracts with the ABC and SBS, which represent more than 70% of Broadcast Australia's forecast revenue for FY 2003 to FY 2006.

MCIQ intends to leverage its management expertise to make further investments in selected global communications infrastructure. MCIQ expects that the industry trend towards privatisation of government owned communications infrastructure and the separation of ownership of communications infrastructure assets from the delivery of communications services will provide a number of attractive investment opportunities.

MCIQ will be managed by a team of executives from the Macquarie Bank Group which has expert knowledge of the communications infrastructure sector and extensive experience in the broadcast transmission industry.

Based on the assumptions set out in Section 8.6, Forecast Distributions, MCIQ expects to pay distributions totalling approximately 15 cents per Staked Security for FY 2003, which represents a forecast yield of 7.7% based on the Application Price. MCIQ expects to pay distributions totalling approximately 29 cents per Staked Security for FY 2006, which represents a forecast yield of 14.4% based on the Application Price.

The Prospectus contains detailed information about MCIQ which I encourage you to read carefully.

On behalf of my fellow directors, I look forward to welcoming you as a Staked Security Holder in MCIQ.

Yours sincerely,

Kevin McCann
Chairman
Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Limited

1 Summary of Key Information

1.1 Summary of the Offer

The Offer consists of 155 million Structured Securities to be issued by MCI, and the Manager of MCI.

1.2 Use of Proceeds

Funds raised under the Offer by MCI are intended to be used as follows:

	$ million
Included Purchase Price of Broadcast Australia*	270
Working capital	7
Provision for delayed consideration	20
Expenses of the Offer	13
Total	310

* Refer to Section 4.2 for further details.
  MCI is obliged to pay interest consideration related to the acquisition of Broadcast Australia of $2 million on 15 January 2003 and $16 million on 30 September 2003 (subject to the terms of the Share Sale Agreement) as stated in Section 11.12 Summary of Material Contracts.

Macquarie Bank Group has undertaken to subscribe $11.69 million for approximately 20% of the total Structured Securities on issue following completion of the Offer. Macquarie Bank Group may also take up Structured Securities pursuant to MCI's underwriting obligations under the Underwriting Agreement and has agreed that for at least 12 months after the date of Listing, it will not dispose of any Structured Securities allotted to it, up to a maximum of 50 million Structured Securities or approximately 32% of the Offer.

1.3 Investment Strategy

MCI is aiming to acquire a portfolio of communications infrastructure assets which will provide Structured Security holders with a combination of stable long term cash flows and capital growth, through improved business and active management.

MCI will target investments in communications infrastructure which display some or all of the following characteristics:

- predictable cash flow and revenue growth;
- strategic characteristics which offer revenue enhancement opportunities through the delivery of existing services to new customers or new services using existing assets;

- high barriers to entry;
- availability of significant stakeholdings which will enable it to influence the key strategic, commercial and financial decisions of the business; and
- an experienced and capable operational management team.

MCI will consider investments in communications infrastructure located in OECD member countries or countries which have comparable sovereign credit ratings or economic performance. Suitable infrastructure could include:

- communications towers and related infrastructure;
- wireless communications facilities including microwave transmission devices;
- other network infrastructure (including satellite) related to the provision of broadcast and other communications services; and
- certain wireless infrastructure including infrared networks, local access networks and submarine cables.

A further description of these types of communications infrastructure is found in Section 3, Industry Overview.

MCI will target communications infrastructure in unlisted entities, except where a strategic or operational level threshold is identified.

The investment strategy may be varied with reasonable notice to Structured Security holders.

1.4 Structure
 MCG's current structure is as follows:

Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Trust Prospectus

MCG consists of two entities:

- MCL, an Australian public company, which, through wholly owned subsidiaries, indirectly holds all of the shares in Broadcast Australia. MCL will seek to acquire controlling interests in communications infrastructure but may acquire lesser interests where MCL believed there may be an opportunity to subsequently accumulate a controlling interest.
- MCT, an Australian registered managed investment scheme which may acquire non-controlling interests in communications infrastructure.

Initially, the Manager of MCL and responsible entity of MCT will be Macquarie Specialised Asset Management Limited (MSAM). It is intended that MSAM will be replaced as Manager of MCL and responsible entity of MCT by Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Management Limited (MCIML), a wholly owned subsidiary of Macquarie Bank. It is intended that MCIML will replace MSAM as Manager of MCL and responsible entity of MCT after MCIML has been issued an Australian financial services licence authorising it to operate and manage MCT and provide management services to MCL.

Each Special Purpose Vehicle issued by MCG will consist of one share in MCL and one unit in MCT. Shares in MCL and units in MCT will be traded together and will not be able to be traded independently.

Further details of the structure of MCG, funding arrangements between MCL and MCT and the tax implications of an investment in MCG are set out in Section 8, Investment Structure and Taxation and Section 9.2, Independent Taxation Ruling.

The constitutions of MCL and MCT (which stipulate of units in MCL and shares in MCT) and, if required in the future, other instruments

1.5 Seed investment

MCG's seed investment is a 100% shareholding in Broadcast Australia (formerly known as NTL Australia Pty Limited).

Broadcast Australia owns and operates the most extensive broadcast transmission infrastructure network in Australia. The network operates from 681 transmission sites across metropolitan regional and rural Australia and reaches 95% of the country's population.

Broadcast Australia has entered long term contracts for supply of television and radio broadcast services to the ABC and SBS.

Prior to its acquisition by Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Holdings Limited (MCIHL), a wholly owned subsidiary of MCL, Broadcast Australia was an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of NTL, a cable television and broadcast services company, with operations in the UK and Europe. On 12 April 2002, MCL's wholly owned subsidiary acquired 100% of Broadcast Australia from NTL. As disclosed in Section 11.10, Summary of Material Contracts, $20 million of deferred consideration is payable by MCL to NTL during 2003.

1.6 Manager and Responsible Entity

MCG will initially be managed by MCGAM Manager.

Manager

MCL has entered into a Management Agreement under which the Manager will provide management services to MCL. The terms of the Management Agreement are described in more detail in Section 11.10, Summary of Material Contracts.

The members of directors of MCL and the Manager (from MCIHL's appointment) will have a number of common directors. Details of the board of directors and management are provided in Section 7, Board and Management.

Responsible Entity

It is a requirement of the Corporations Act for registered managed investment schemes to have a responsible entity. MSAM is the responsible entity of MCI.

The directors of MSAM are Michael Conwell, Anthony Kahn, Gregory Osborne and Mark Ramsey, who are all executives of Macquarie Bank.

A Compliance Committee has been approved for MCI and is detailed in further detail in Section 7, Board and Management.

1.7 Management Fees

The remuneration of the Manager comprises a Base Fee and a Performance Fee. The Manager will meet the costs of the senior personnel which Macquarie Bank Group records to MCI and Broadband Australia and will also bear the costs of its own staff, premises and operating expenses in providing management services to MCI, MCI and MCI will meet all other costs of MCI.

The calculation of the fees payable to the Manager is detailed below.

Base Fee

The Base Fee is payable quarterly in arrears and is calculated as follows:

- 1.50% per annum of the first $500 million of Net Investment Value; plus
- 1.25% per annum of the next $500 million of Net Investment Value; plus
- 1.00% per annum of the Net Investment Value in excess of $1,000 million.

Net Investment Value for any quarter equals:

- the average market capitalisation of MCI over the last 15 trading days of the quarter; plus
- the amount of any external borrowings of MCI and MCI and their wholly owned entities at the end of the quarter (but not including borrowings by or on behalf of operating or project entities wholly owned by MCI); plus
- the amount of any firm commitments by MCI, including its wholly owned entities to make further investments; plus

- amounts invested by MCI and MCI and their wholly owned entities in respect of cash equivalents but not including cash in cash equivalents held by operating or project entities wholly owned by MCI.

In calculating its Base Fee, the Manager does not intend to include borrowings (cash or cash equivalents) made to or received by MCI or its wholly owned entities such as Broadband Australia and Broadband Australia Finance Pty Ltd, Finance SPV.

Performance Fee

The Manager will receive a Performance Fee, calculated and payable quarterly in arrears if the performance of the Stapled Securities exceeds the performance of the S&P/ASX 200 Industrials Accumulation Index (Benchmark Index).

The Performance Fee equals 20% of the Return above the Benchmark Return for the period. If the Return is less than the Benchmark Return in any period, the amount of the deficit is carried forward and taken into account in calculating whether the Return exceeds the Benchmark Return for subsequent periods.

The Performance Fee for each period is calculated as follows:

Performance Fee = 20% x (Return - Benchmark Return), where:

Return for a period equals:

- the average market capitalisation of MCI over the last 15 trading days of the previous period (except for the first period where it is the number of Stapled Securities on issue multiplied by the issue price on the closing date of the Offer) multiplied by

- the movement in the accumulation index for the Stapled Securities (Securities Index) over the relevant period expressed as a fraction, based on the average daily closing value of the index over the last 15 trading days of the period compared with the average daily closing value of the index over the last 15 trading days of the previous period (except for the first period where it is the initial accumulation index figure ascribed to the Stapled Securities).

Benchmark Return for a period equals:

- the average market capitalisation of MCI over the last 15 trading days of the previous period (except for the first period where it is the number of Stapled Securities on issue multiplied by the issue price on the closing date of the Offer) multiplied by
- the movement in the Benchmark Index over the relevant period expressed as a fraction, based on the average daily closing value of the index over the last 15 trading days of the period compared with the average daily closing value of the index over the last 15 trading days of the previous period, or in the case of the first period, the average daily closing value of the index over the last 15 days immediately prior to the closing date of the Offer.

The Securities Index measures the performance of MCI over a period. It will be provided for the Manager by an appropriately qualified independent party and constitute the accumulated total return (derived by Stapled Security Holders, excluding all distributions) from the date of Listing of MCI.

The first Performance Fee will be calculated in respect of a period from the listing of MCI to 31 December 2002. The Performance Fee in subsequent periods will be calculated on a quarterly basis.

The Performance Fee is payable to the Manager in cash. Subject to the Corporations Act and ASX Listing Rules, the Manager may apply to meet the Performance Fee in Staked Securities. Non-executive directors of the Manager will assess the impact of the application on Staked Security Holders at that time. The decision to accept or reject the application will be made by non-executive directors acting in the interests of Staked Security Holders.

The price of the Staked Securities issued to the Manager as a Performance Fee will be calculated as the weighted average price of Staked Securities over the first 15 trading days after the end of the relevant period.

In accordance with a waiver granted by ASX, the right of the Manager to purchase for Staked Securities is subject to Staked Security Holder approval every three years.

1.8 Relationship Between MCIIG, Macquarie Bank and other Funds Managed by Macquarie ISF

The Investment Bankers Group of Macquarie Bank (Macquarie IBG) occasionally originates, structures and arranges infrastructure financed by Macquarie IBG, one of the world's largest infrastructure advisory groups with over 500 employees in 15 countries. In 2007, Macquarie IBG advised on infrastructure projects with a total value of over $20 billion. Project Finance International ranked Macquarie Bank number 1 in the Asia Pacific region and number 3 globally for infrastructure advisory in 2007.

Macquarie IBG will be excluded from the 10% limit on share MCIIG and the product vendor's (where applicable) commission to individuals' transactions. Any limit that will be applied by MCIIG for these services will be:

Macquarie IBG frequently acts as the financial adviser to consortia on infrastructure projects. Macquarie IBG's role typically includes developing a financial plan, devising a detailed financial model, creating the most appropriate corporate and operating structures, arranging the required finance and devising and implementing financial arrangements.

MCIIG may wish to make investments or participate in transactions where Macquarie IBG acts as adviser to a third party. There are no formal arrangements or obligations requiring Macquarie IBG to introduce transactions to MCIIG. Macquarie IBG may, from time to time, act as principal in a transaction. MCIIG is under no obligation to take up an investment opportunity presented by Macquarie IBG.

While MCIIG and the Manager will have a working relationship with other areas of Macquarie IBG, strict "Chinese Wall" policies are in place between Macquarie ISF and other divisions of Macquarie Bank to guard against the disclosure of confidential information.

In addition, Macquarie Bank, the Manager's parent company, may provide credit facilities to MCIIG from time to time. Any such loans will be on market terms.

It is the intention of the board of directors of MCIIG to exempt payments for fees payable to Macquarie IBG in relation to advisory services (in services outside the scope of the management role of the Manager) to ensure that any fees payable can be determined and shared amongst projects where applicable.

From an investment perspective (refer Section 4, MCIIG's Investment Objectives and Operating Model), MCIIG is not entitled to compete directly for investment opportunities with any existing funds managed by the Investment Bank and Specialised Funds Division of Macquarie Bank (Macquarie ISF) which forms part of Macquarie IBG.

In the future, Macquarie IEG may establish new funds with objectives similar to MCIQ. If MCIQ and one or more funds established by Macquarie IEG target the same investment opportunities, it is possible that the funds will co-invest.

1.9 Distribution Policy

Depending on the availability of funds for distribution, investors in MCIQ may receive distributions from MCIQ and dividend from MCL.

Distributions to Stated Security Holders are expected to be payable half yearly in arrears in February and August in respect of the preceding six month periods ending 31 December and 30 June. The first distribution to Security Holders is expected to be paid in February 2003 for the period to 31 December 2000.

Unless otherwise determined by the Manager, the distributable income of MCIQ is the taxable income of MCIQ.

MCIQ will, unless otherwise determined by the Manager, distribute all of its taxable income in respect of each six month period. The distribution policy for MCL will be determined by the directors of MCL each year.

Forecast distributions for MCIQ are covered in Section 6.6, Forecast Distributions.

MCIQ may also consider the reinvestment of a distribution reinvestment plan, which would allow Stated Security Holders to reinvest distributions in additional Stated Securities.

1.10 Exchange Rate Hedging Policy

Investments by MCIQ in overseas companies will involve investments in the Australian dollar value of assets or currency denominated debt claims.

MCIQ will generally hedge initial government and corporate investments to those jurisdictions. Macquarie IEG's other regulated member funds,

- on acquisitions and debt, MCIQ intends to hedge both around the date of commitment to the debt funds are paid/owed,

- on capital expenditure, MCIQ may hedge on its equity contributions, but only where such contributions are made in the short term; and

- MCIQ does not intend to hedge other contributions of the transaction on non-financial assets in which MCIQ may invest.

1.11 Borrowing Policy

The assets in which MCIQ invests are likely to be financed in part by external debt.

MCIQ is targeting investments in communications infrastructure assets characterised by long term contracts with credit worthy counterparties offering predictable revenue. The operating costs of MCIQ's investments are likely to reflect the supply of communications infrastructure assets for debt financing.

Section 5.8, Borrowings, describes in more detail $250 million of medium term notes issue by Finance SPV, a wholly owned subsidiary of MCL, which has been guaranteed by Brookfield Australia Holdings and Brookfield Australia.

All the funded debt MCIQ is permitted to incur will be secured with mortgages to real estate investments.

1.12 Investment Risks

Investments in MCIQ are discussed in this Prospectus are subject to general and specific risks. Some of these risks are discussed in detail in Section 10, Risk Factors. Before investing in MCIQ, investors are urged to consider these risk factors carefully, and to read the Prospectus in its entirety.

2.7 CHESSE and Holding Statements

MCG intends to apply to participate in CHESSE and, in accordance with ASX Listing Rules and the SGI Business Rules, will maintain an electronic issuer sponsored sub-register and an electronic CHESSE sub-register.

Following the issue of Staged Securities to successful Applicants, Staged Security Holders will receive an initial statement of holding together in a book account statement that sets out the number of Staged Securities that have been allocated to them in the Offer.

This statement will also provide details of a Staged Security Holder's HIN in the case of a holding on the CHESSE sub-register, or SPIN in the case of a holding on the issuer sponsored sub-register. Staged Security Holders will be required to quote their HIN or SPIN, as appropriate, in all dealings with a stockbroker or the Register.

Staged Security Holders will receive subsequent statements during the first week of the following month if there has been a change to their holding on the register and as otherwise required under ASX Listing Rules and the Corporations Act. Additional statements may be requested in any other form, either directly through the Staged Security Holders' sponsoring broker, in the case of a holding on the CHESSE sub-register, or through the Registry in the case of a holding on the issuer sponsored sub-register. MCG or the Registry may charge a fee for these additional issuer sponsored statements.

3 Industry Overview

3 Industry Overview

3.1 What is Communications Infrastructure?
Communications infrastructure provides the physical facilities for the transmission of electronic communications signals. Such infrastructure may be used, for example, to deliver television and radio broadcasts or to provide voice and data services.

Communications Infrastructure Includes:

- broadcast towers and related infrastructure;
- mobile telecommunications towers;
- satellite and related infrastructure; and
- wireline infrastructure including landline networks, local area networks, and cable networks.

Communications infrastructure relates primarily to the carriage and delivery of information, rather than its content. Owners of communications infrastructure typically derive revenue from the provision of transmission services (including broadcast services), site and access rental and other services.

In contrast, service and content providers derive revenue from the sale of communications services to end users and related revenue streams, including advertising, connected with those end users.

3.2 Industry Overview

Broadcast Transmission Infrastructure
Broadcast transmission infrastructure includes towers, towers, antennas, satellite dishes and transmitters which are used to transmit television and radio signals. Television and radio broadcast stations incorporate tall (typically above 100 meters), long range transmission towers. Broadcast transmission towers have a high power output to ensure good signal strength across a wide designated area. They are often located on prominent hills to maximize geographic coverage of the broadcast signal.

There are three generic types of broadcast tower structures:

- monopole (single purpose towers generally reaching up to 30 metres high);
- self-supporting (multi-purpose structures generally reaching up to 150 metres high); and
- guyed towers (multi-purpose structures tied to the ground by cables).

Broadcast transmission infrastructure provides wireless transmission of electronic information and entertainment content (video, audio and data), which, depending on the transmission equipment, can either be in digital or analogue form.

Each broadcast entity provides coverage within a defined area, within limitations imposed by the power of the transmission, natural or man-made obstructions to the signal (eg hills or buildings) and licence regulations. Typically, multiple transmission sites are established to cover large geographic areas.

Broadcast transmission network operators own the towers and transmission equipment (responsible for broadcasting the signal to the audience). In some cases, they also own the infrastructure or distributor of the broadcast signal to the tower sites.

The customers of broadcast transmission operators generally enter into long term contracts (typically 10 to 15 years) that require the supply of services by broadcast transmission operators. These service agreements cover all aspects of service to the customer, including construction, performance levels, maintenance and network management. As a result, the revenue model of broadcast transmission owners is characterised by stable and predictable cashflows over the long term.

Major customers include terrestrial television and radio broadcasters and media content companies.

Traditionally, broadcast transmission infrastructure has been owned by governments, telecommunications companies and terrestrial radio broadcasters. However, a combination of factors, discussed in the following paragraphs, has led to the diverse ownership of broadcast transmission infrastructure and communications service providers in a number of countries. Private transmission infrastructure companies exist in the US, Australia, the UK and the Czech Republic (the latter three cases being former government owned national Broadcasters and governments in several other

From last transmission of television and radio can be achieved through technology that do not use terrestrial towers (e.g. satellite, HFC cables and possibly other technologies (eg. U.S.). These solutions are discussed in Section 3.3, Independent Industry Report.

Status of Digital Terrestrial Television in OECD Countries

countries have commenced, or indicated an intention to commence, privatisation of national broadcast networks.

Digital Terrestrial Broadcasting

Digital terrestrial broadcasting of television and radio is still in its infancy but there are plans to roll out digital services in most OECD countries. Digital terrestrial broadcasting has commenced in five OECD countries including Australia, the US and the UK.

A key advantage of digital technology is that the bandwidth required to broadcast a television or radio channel is reduced significantly, therefore enabling multiple channels to require a single satellite channel and/or making spectrum available for other uses. Digitisation also enhances the viewer experience, can support higher interactive use and improves the quality of the reception of radio transmission services.

The digitisation of terrestrial broadcasting will require significant capital expenditure and engineering commitments by network owners to upgrade their transmission equipment. MCEI believes that the only realistic path to privatisation by governments is to government owned broadcasters who have undertaken the substantial privatisation of government owned or controlled assets in the UK and Australia and who are unwilling to, or incapable of, undertaking the engineering and capital expenditure required to provide digital broadcast transmission services.

Mobile Towers

Mobile towers generate revenue by sharing the same airwaves and spectrum space on the towers to multiple telecommunications operators who sell airtime services and the tower operators in providing wireless communications networks. Such lease arrangements are typically three to five years in length. Under the business model, ownership of the base station equipment goes to the towers is retained by the mobile telecommunications operators. In addition to rental payments, mobile tower owners generally receive a fee for installing customers' base station equipment on the tower. Mobile tower owners only also receive serious revenue for the purchase of the base station electronic equipment.

In contrast to a limited broadcast transmission tower network, mobile tower networks consist of a large number of smaller towers with lower power capability. This is because a mobile telecommunications network is a two way network (it sends and receives signals, requires channel exchange and to ensure efficient use of the spectrum to carry voice and data signals).

Traditionally, mobile transmission networks have been established and owned by mobile telecommunications companies. However, as in the broadcast infrastructure sector, an independent mobile tower industry has emerged over the past five years, especially in the US.

This trend has been driven by a shift in strategy among some mobile telecommunications operators willing to relinquish ownership. In order to free up capital for the growth and management of their customer base and expansion of their service offering, mobile operators are beginning to share tower infrastructure with third operators or sell their tower infrastructure to independent tower companies. A number of mobile telecommunications operators are shifting their strategy from one of self ownership and management to the business brand marketing and customer service. Governments in many OECD countries require mobile towers to be jointly used to reduce their environmental impact.

The US has arguably the most developed independent mobile tower market, with independent tower companies owning over half of all mobile towers in that country. This trend has also been noticed in Australia and the UK. To date, there have been a limited number of sales of mobile towers in Europe.

Mobile technologies are either digital or analogue. Analogue mobile technologies are referred to as first generation (1G) networks. Wireless technologies have evolved with the development of second (2G) and third generation (3G) networks. 2G networks are digital and provide better quality and higher capacity at a lower cost to consumers. 3G digital networks are currently being developed. It is envisaged that 3G networks will provide faster communications services, including voice, fax and data, with enhanced global roaming.

Currently mobile technologies in most OECD countries are based on 1G or 2G networks. Analogue and digital networks coexist in many countries.

All core operators are starting to build 3G networks which require substantial capital expenditure, and many operators are unable to fund the massive 3G networks without requiring more capacity in call sites that support mobile networks. While some 3G sites will be on towers and cable structures, there may also be an increase in demand for mobile towers, particularly in densely populated areas. Environmental and regulatory constraints plus the large capital expenditure requirements associated with constructing mobile towers may encourage the evolution.

Satellite Systems

Satellite systems will offer a number of communications services including high capacity point-to-point links, broadcast of television signals and mobile telecommunications. Satellite based systems are used for the majority of long-haul systems, where the bandwidth is provided by a direct broadcast system or by terrestrial routes.

There are three main types of satellite systems: low earth orbit systems and geostationary orbit. Low earth orbit systems are used for mobile systems, while geostationary orbit systems are used primarily for mobile telephony. Geostationary satellites are used for all forms of communications to relay information from point to point or point to multipoint over a large coverage area.

The orbital location spot of a satellite is a core asset for a satellite operator. Ownership of the spot requires approval of the International Telecommunications Union and typically involves a long negotiation process. There are only 180 slots worldwide and slots serving the major continents are fairly scarce.

Generally satellites have a limited lifespan of 10 to 15 years. To design, build and launch a major communications satellite generally takes two to three years and costs approximately US$200 million. Although there are high initial capital costs, the operational costs, including management and construction of ground stations are relatively low. These relatively low operating costs can lead to high EBITDA margins for the satellite operators.

Satellite operators generate revenue by entering into long term contracts with parties wishing to use capacity on the satellite system. These parties include:

- telecommunications operators and cable operators providing services which need to provide international backbone communications;
- satellite telephony and
- mobile telecommunications operators.

In the case of broadcasting, once a customer has established a contract with a satellite operator which has a specific slot in a particular orbital plane it will attract a number of viewers and may permit it to be repackaged for other customers or through satellite operators. As a result, contracts between broadcast satellite operators and their customers tend to be recurring and long term in nature. Many operators also sell satellite services to other operators on a range of contract.

Historically, satellites in orbit were owned by inter-governmental treaty organisations. However, many of these satellite systems have been privatised recently including Inmarsat, Intersat and Eutelsat. Today, the majority of satellite constellations are owned by large telecommunications companies, satellite manufacturing companies and pay television companies. In some countries, including the UK, private concerns also own and operate the cables upstream and downstream facilities.

Terrestrial Wireline And Submarine Cable Networks
 Terrestrial wireline and submarine cable networks are used for transmitting voice, data, images and telecommunications services. These networks are point-to-point systems. The infrastructure for terrestrial wireline and submarine cable networks involves significant initial capital expenditure. However, once constructed, the ongoing cost of light delivery is relatively low.

Terrestrial Wireline Networks

Terrestrial wireline networks comprise national, international, metropolitan and local loop networks, repeaterless and access lines which connect end users.

There are a number of types of cable networks:

- twisted copper pairs (generally used in local access networks to connect end customers);
- coaxial, which consists of copper wire surrounded by an insulating copper tube (e.g.);
- fibre optic cables, which contain glass or plastic fibres carrying light signals.

Fibre optic cables have several advantages over traditional metal cables, including significantly greater bandwidth for the unit cost and increasing high speed applications for video, data and voice, low susceptibility to interference and greater immunity to lightning data damage.

Owners of terrestrial cable network infrastructure mutually generate revenue by leasing capacity on the cable network to customers via medium to long term contracts. The cable owners may also provide their customers with operation and maintenance services. Instead of the leased capacity, the cable owners could network infrastructure themselves to generate revenue from customers.

Many customers generally include telecommunications companies, internet service providers, pay television operators, government agencies and high corporations.

Submarine Cable Networks

Submarine cables are the unidirectional trunk network connections which carry voice, data and video between countries and continents. The majority of international telecommunications traffic is carried over submarine cables.

In the past five years, a number of independent non-telecommunications companies have built submarine cable networks with the objective of financing the cost through sale of capacity to telecommunications operators or internet service providers. The success of global capacity has led to financial difficulty for a number of new cable operators.

4 MCIG's Investment Objectives and Opportunities

4.1 Investment Objectives

MCIG will consider investments in selected communications infrastructure in OECD countries and countries which have comparable sovereign credit ratings or economic performance. An initial focus of MCIG is likely to be broadband transmission towers and related infrastructure. However, MCIG may also consider investing in other communications infrastructure, including satellite and cable infrastructure and wireless communications facilities. MCIG will target communications infrastructure in unlisted entities, except where a strategic or undervalued listed investment is identified.

MCIG will aim to acquire a portfolio of assets which will provide Stated Security Holders with a combination of stable long term cash yields and capital growth, through improved business and capital management.

Total returns to Stated Security Holders will depend on returns from MCIG's investments, which may vary according to the type of communications infrastructure, the stage of development and the type of income generated. Should MCIG determine that it is in the interests of Stated Security Holders to alter MCIG's investment objectives, Stated Security Holders will be notified in advance.

4.2 Investment Strategy

MCIG considers that its investment objectives can best be achieved by targeting communications infrastructure with some of the following characteristics:

- predictable cashflows and revenue growth - communications infrastructure which offers predictable cash flows and revenue growth;
- revenue enhancement opportunities - assets located in strategic locations or serving markets which offer revenue enhancement opportunities through the delivery of existing services to new customers or the introduction of new services;
- high barriers to entry - investments which have unique characteristics that are difficult to duplicate such as premium geographic locations or which have high capital costs or significant regulatory, environmental and planning requirements for new entrants;

- availability of significant stakeholding - investments allowing MCIG to influence the key strategic, commercial and financial decisions of the business; and
- capable operational management - communications infrastructure with an experienced and capable operational management team.

The Manager's intention is not to make any investments which would cause MCIG to be classified as a public trading trust for the purposes of Division 6C of the Tax Act. To remain outside of Division 6C, MCIG must not, among other things, control or have the ability to control, directly or indirectly, the affairs of the operations of any entity in which it invests. It is currently envisaged that any such investments would be made through MCL.

4.3 Investment Approach

MCIG's investment approach is illustrated in the following diagram.

The Investment Lifecycle

Deal Flow

MCGS believes investment opportunities are likely to come from three primary sources:

- pro-active identification - opportunities identified by the Manager and marketed to an existing owner of communications infrastructure;
- private trade sales - opportunities where MCGS has approached the vendor in relation to the secondary sale of communications infrastructure on an exclusive basis; and
- public tenders - opportunities where tenders are invited from a range of parties in relation to the privatisation or secondary sale of communications infrastructure.

MCGS believes ongoing restructuring and rationalisation in the communications infrastructure sector will result in a significant deal flow for MCGS, including opportunities to potentially acquire existing infrastructure at less than installation cost.

Investment Analysis and Due Diligence

Each opportunity identified will be subject to an initial review by the Manager to determine whether it is consistent with MCGS's investment objectives and investment strategy. Once an opportunity passes this initial review, it will undergo an extensive evaluation process. This will include:

- business plan - evaluation of the business plan including strategies for developing new communication services, increasing customer base, increasing revenue, reducing operating expenses and optimising capital expenditure;
- asset and market due diligence - a comprehensive review of available information to identify material risks and validate accuracy of the investment case. This would include the employment of experts to review key risk areas including environmental, insurance, environmental and technical matters;
- asset valuation - an assessment of the fair value of an investment opportunity. This would involve the distillation of key risks and business model;
- tax and accounting analysis - working to the investor's/parent's financial model or accounting impacts for MCGS; and
- sensitivity analysis - using the business and financial model to develop financial modelling options and ensure that it reflects strategy, sensitivity analysis.

Ongoing Management of Investments

In most cases MCGS will seek to acquire significant shareholdings in order to provide MCGS with influence over the key strategic, commercial and financial decisions of the assets in which MCGS has invested.

MCGS will seek board representation, input into the business planning process and the ability to meet with management regularly to review progress against targets. It will also identify opportunities to provide or procure specialist technical support for management as required.

MCGS will seek to reallocate distributions to Stapled Security Holders through dividends and other capital management. Where appropriate, MCGS will reallocate its investments to maintain an optimal capital structure for each asset and accelerate distributions to Stapled Security Holders.

Macquarie IBO

Macquarie IBO's worldwide network and relationships with players in the communications infrastructure sector is expected to generate deal flow for MCGS primarily while allowing IBOG to remain independent of any single industry player in the communications infrastructure industry.

As stated in Section 1.6, Macquarie IBOG is under no obligation to introduce the portfolio to MCGS and MCGS is under no obligation to take up an investment opportunity presented by Macquarie IBOG. However, if MCGS takes up an investment opportunity introduced by Macquarie IBOG, Macquarie IBOG will participate in most aspects of the investment process, in particular transaction structuring, financial evaluation, structuring (including raising of debt and equity) and execution. Macquarie IBOG will receive a separate commission fee for these services.

4.4 Relationship Between MCIQ and Other Funds Managed by Macquarie ISF
Macquarie ISF has established and manages a number of funds which invest in infrastructure.

The only existing Macquarie ISF fund that has invested in communications infrastructure is the Macquarie Global Infrastructure Fund (GIF). GIF invests in infrastructure and businesses involved in the provision of services or technology to infrastructure assets in OECD countries. GIF typically targets assets in which it can make equity investments of around $25 million to $50 million. While MCIQ may also make equity investments in this range, it is likely that it will target larger investments unless they are of particular strategic significance to MCIQ.

MCIQ is not expected to directly compete for communications infrastructure with other funds managed by Macquarie ISF. As new specialist funds are established by Macquarie ISF, circumstances may arise where MCIQ and the new funds target similar investments. In these circumstances, it is the responsibility of the Manager to act at all times in the best interests of Existing Security Holders.

If MCIQ and one or more other funds managed by Macquarie ISF target the same investment opportunities, it is possible that those funds will co-invest.

4.5 Investment Opportunities

Investment opportunities may arise in each of the key categories of communications infrastructure, discussed in Section 3.3, Industry Overview.

Broadcast Transmission Infrastructure

MCIQ is currently evaluating a number of opportunities to acquire broadcast transmission assets. The digitisation of broadcasting is likely to accelerate the construction of broadcast transmission networks, due to:

- the substantial capital expenditure required for installing digital transmission equipment; and
- regulatory changes.

MCIQ also believes that other opportunities may come from the divestment of transmission networks by broadcast and telecommunications operators wishing to unlock the capital invested in these assets and telecommunications operators seeking to diversify their infrastructure from their wireless and content businesses.

MCIQ believes that it is well positioned to take advantage of opportunities to acquire broadcast transmission assets.

Section 7, Board and Management, contains a description of the experience of Broadcast Australia's former management team in particular. Broadcast Australia's management team has been involved in the acquisition of broadcast ventures in the UK and Australia.

MCIQ has identified acquisition opportunities for broadcast transmission assets in a number of overseas countries including the UK, Ireland, Canada, New Zealand, Italy and the Czech Republic. For example, there is currently a privatisation process underway in Ireland in which MCIQ is likely to seek to participate.

There is no guarantee that MCIQ will secure any of these opportunities.

Mobile Towers

MCIQ believes that the increased focus by wireless communications operators on marketing and customer service including the provision of new products and services will lead some operators towards outsourcing their tower networks. This trend is expected to be accelerated by the introduction of 3G mobile networks and may provide further investment opportunities in mobile tower infrastructure.

Several European mobile telephony companies have engaged processes (which have not been completed) to divest mobile telephony towers under arrangements which preserve long term lease contracts.

In addition, MCIQ believes that there may be investment opportunities associated with the acquisition of tower portfolios from mobile operators and other tower companies expanding their networks, in cases that may provide attractive returns to MCIQ.

Satellite Systems

MCIQ often believes that there may be opportunities for the acquisition of ground-based or satellite ground equipment that is complementary to existing satellite-based networks, and possibly existing wireless companies and services, should they be seeking to expand their networks.

Terrestrial Wireless and Submarine Cable Networks

MCIQ believes that a limited number of opportunities for investment in communications infrastructure are likely to arise in the form of terrestrial wireless networks and submarine cable networks. Such opportunities could develop in existing networks where operators diversify their infrastructure as part of a trend of focusing on their customer base and other than network ownership.

In order to fund such investments, MCIQ will need to raise capital in a variety of ways, in the form of debt, equity or a combination of both.

MCIQ is a subsidiary of Macquarie ISF

5 Initial Investment - Broadcast Australia

5.1 Key Features

MCG's initial investment is a 100% shareholding in Broadcast Australia.

Broadcast Australia is the owner and operator of a national broadcast transmission network which provides transmission services to the ABC and SBS, and to regional television and other media, telecommunications and community organisations.

Broadcast Australia's key features include:

- Predictable revenues from long term contracts and revenue growth - The ABC and SBS have both signed a series of long term contracts with Broadcast Australia. These customer relationships are expected to continue to grow as new broadcasting services are rolled out. Based on revenue growth from its existing long term contracts and the forecast provision of new services, and a relatively fixed operating cost base, Broadcast Australia has forecast 24% compound annual growth in EBITDA between FY 2002 and FY 2005.
- Predictable operating costs - Broadcast Australia's operating costs are largely fixed or closely scalable.
- Strong competitive position - Broadcast Australia's network is currently the only infrastructure network capable of providing near national coverage by satellite delivery with 561 strategic antenna sites across metropolitan, regional and rural Australia, reaching 98% of Australia's population, and
- Experienced management team - Broadcast Australia has an experienced and knowledgeable board and management team which has built strong relationships with key participants in the broadcasting and communications infrastructure industries.

These key features are described in more detail below:

Predictable Revenue from Long Term Contracts and Revenue Growth

Broadcast Australia's forecast revenue comprises:

- Contracted revenue from public-funded broadcasters - Broadcast Australia's two major customers are the ABC and SBS. Contracted revenue from the ABC and SBS is forecast to represent 87% of forecast revenue for FY 2002.

- Contracted revenue from commercial broadcasters and major telecommunications companies - Broadcast Australia's other customers include regional commercial television and radio broadcasters, community broadcasters, telecommunications operators and emergency service organisations who share facilities on its sites. Contracted revenue from commercial entities is forecast to represent 12% of forecast revenue for FY 2002, and

- Uncontracted revenue from the provision of new services and the continuation of existing contractual services to existing customers:

- Analogous television and radio - Broadcast Australia intends to actively pursue and is well positioned to secure new analogue television and radio transmission service revenues, such as the extension of ABC radio networks and extension of SBS television coverage in regional Australia;
- Digital television with the ABC and SBS - Significant opportunities exist for new digital television revenues in addition to growth from existing digital contracts currently being rolled out for the ABC and SBS, and
- Facilities leasing to regional broadcasters - New facilities leasing opportunities are expected to arise from the digitisation of the regional commercial broadcasters' television services.

In addition, there is potential revenue upside for Broadcast Australia from the following new services which have not been included in Broadcast Australia's forecast revenue and EBITDA:

- New digital transmission services - Other opportunities exist in the introduction of digital transmission services to holders of broadcast licences, the provision of services to a fourth commercial television licence and digital radio, and
- Other new revenue streams - Broadcast Australia is actively pursuing the delivery of new revenue streams such as leasing facilities to mobile operators and wireless internet services for regional Australia.

Predictable Operating Costs

Broadcast Australia's operating costs comprise four major items:

- Operations and Maintenance (41% of total forecast FY 2003 costs) and Property (17% of total forecast FY 2003 costs) are mainly the subject of long term contractual arrangements and are not expected to rise significantly as revenue grows, particularly from digital television, a achievement.
- Electricity (17% of total forecast FY 2003 costs) is the major variable cost, being a function of the costs from electricity distributors and the number of services provided by Broadcast Australia; and
- Overheads and Other Costs including employee costs (25% of total forecast FY 2003 costs) are expected to remain stable, as major compliance requirements are outsourced and Broadcast Australia has already obtained its number of employees in anticipation of the forecast digital transmission service implementation program.

Strong Competitive Position

Broadcast Australia is the only owner or operator of broadcast infrastructure delivering independent Australia wide transmission services.

There are owners of alternative terrestrial transmission infrastructure in both metropolitan and regional markets. However, for many regional areas of Australia, Broadcast Australia's transmission network currently represents the only infrastructure capable of providing terrestrial transmission. In addition to offering a substantially wider geographic footprint than any other provider, Broadcast Australia's terrestrial network generally offers superior service. Broadcast Australia management believe it would be difficult for another provider to enter the infrastructure due to environmental and planning impediments, and the substantial capital cost of establishing a competing national network of transmission infrastructure.

By virtue of the general norms applicable to digital and analogue transmission infrastructure in Australia, it is possible for alternative transmission service providers to provide services using Broadcast Australia's infrastructure, subject to an access fee being agreed with Broadcast Australia. In addition, potential competitors could broadcast signals via satellite, radio, coding their party tower infrastructure or the establishment of new broadcast tower infrastructure. In this regard, Broadcast Australia's competitive position is ultimately protected by:

- its existing contractual arrangements with the ABC and SBS for both analogue and digital signal transmission;
- the underlying advantages of terrestrial broadcasting compared to other technology alternatives, particularly for regional Australia, including the distribution of local content, the availability of in-country and existing reception equipment and the efficiency of terrestrial broadcasting in providing free to air services to virtually all viewers and listeners; and
- the substantial cost to the community involved in installing satellite receiving equipment on a widespread basis.

Further discussion of Broadcast Australia's competitive position and alternative delivery systems is contained in section 6.2, the Access Inquiry Report.

Strong Management Team

MCG has retained Broadcast Australia senior management team which has played a pivotal role in developing the business following the NTA's privatisation and sale to NTL in 1999 (see Section 7, Executive Management). In addition, Broadcast Australia's ongoing relationship with NTL, and other of the major communications providers, and of NTL's acquisition of the former NTA, is detailed in the Summary of Material Contracts that provides ongoing details of the various agreements between Broadcast Australia and its related bodies corporate.

5.2 Broadcast Australia's Tower Network
 Broadcast Australia operates 581 strategic transmission tower sites located across metropolitan, regional and rural Australia (see map above).

Broadcast Australia owns approximately 40% of its sites on a freehold basis. Details of the ownership of Broadcast Australia's transmission sites are shown in the following table:

Details	Broadcast Australia	Government Departments	Teleco	Regional Organisations	Trial/Partners	Total
Freehold	243					243
Leasehold/Lease		90			41	131
Leasehold/Partners		15			1	16
Shared Sites	7		101	83	3	194
Total	250	105	101	83	45	584

5.3 Services Provided by Broadcast Australia
 Using its portfolio of broadcast infrastructure, Broadcast Australia derived revenue from two main sources:

- Broadcast services - providing a managed transmission service for television and radio broadcasts, and;
- Facilities leasing - leasing of space on Broadcast Australia's sites and infrastructure to commercial television and radio broadcasters and other telecommunications and other industry organisations.

Broadcast Services
 Broadcast Australia's primary source of revenue is the transmission of national television and radio broadcasts for the ABC and SBS.

Broadcast Australia's revenue in the ABC and SBS is provided on a fee by site basis. Accordingly, the majority of Broadcast Australia's revenue is derived from the provision of transmission services in regional Australia.

Copyright © 2000 Broadcast Australia Pty Ltd. All rights reserved.

Broadcast Australia's broadcast transmission service commences when it receives the input signal to be processed at its transmission site. The input signal is received through fibre optic cable, optical link or microwave link.

Once Broadcast Australia receives the input signal:

- program input equipment converts the input signal to a transmittable signal;
- transmitters convert the signal into wireless form and amplify the input signal to the required broadcast signal strength;

The signal is fed directly to the antenna via a feeder cable, or into a combiner unit and combined with other signals in the same frequency band prior to being fed to the antenna, and

- terminals bunch the processed signal in the form of electromagnetic signals for ultimate reception at a domestic transmitter and receiver.

Broadcast Australia's transmission services are operated and managed by staff at its network operations centre located in Core Hill, Sydney. This facility is designed to enable Broadcast Australia to quickly detect and respond to network faults, so as to maintain the use of services 24/7/365.

Analogue Television Broadcasting

Broadcast Australia receives requests for the following analogue television broadcasting services:

- ABC - Broadcast Australia is the sole provider of analogue television transmission services for the ABC. It is currently providing 440 analogue television services for the ABC in the transmission of a television signal or a particular programme from a particular site. Broadcast Australia has also won the right to provide 10 analogue television transmission services that the ABC has purchased since April 1995, and
- SBS - Broadcast Australia provides 203 analogue television transmission services for SBS, making Broadcast Australia the provider of the majority of analogue television transmission services for SBS. Broadcast Australia has won the right to provide 11 analogue television transmission services out of a total of 18 analogue television services that SBS has purchased since 1993.

Analogue Radio Broadcasting

Broadcast Australia has the largest network of AM and FM radio broadcast transmission facilities in Australia and currently provides the following services:

- ABC - Broadcast Australia is the sole provider of analogue AM/FM radio and high frequency transmissions for the ABC's regional, national and international radio services. These comprise three AM and two FM national radio networks and the Radio Australia signal transmitted internationally from Australia. Broadcast Australia provides over 100 analogue services for the ABC and has won the contract to provide all 17 new analogue radio transmission services that the ABC has tendered since April 1995.

- SBS - Broadcast Australia is the sole provider of analogue AM and FM radio transmission for SBS, both nationally and regionally, and

- Others - Broadcast Australia has various transmission contracts with other commercial radio broadcast entities, primarily for the use of Broadcast Australia's sites and transmission infrastructure. Broadcast Australia has also secured carriage of private contracts for new analogue radio services such as UMS Radio in Sydney and AIR4040 in Brisbane.

Digital Television Broadcasting

Broadcast Australia receives requests for the following digital television broadcasting services:

- ABC - In December 2000, following an extended public tender process, Broadcast Australia awarded a Digital Terrestrial Television Broadcasting (DTTB) contract with the ABC to broadcast a whole of network digital transmission service (previously known as Broadcast Australia's digital television service) to provide analogue (downlink) services for ABC's digital television services to a contract with SkyTel (Cable & Wireless) Pty Ltd. from 1 January 2001. ABC digital services have been available to 200 million homes in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Perth and Adelaide and during 2001 Broadcast Australia launched the ABC's digital service in Canberra, Hobart and Darwin. In 2002 Broadcast Australia has purchased digital terrestrial television and other new services on the Sunshine Coast. A further 10 new DTTB services are due to be tendered in 2002.

with an additional 45 minutes expected to commence in 2005.

- SBS - SBS is tendering its digital transmission requirements as separate packages rather than through a single tender. To date, Broadcast Australia has won the three major contracts that SBS has put to tender, which include 16 year contracts to provide services to Sydney, Melbourne, Perth, Adelaide, Brisbane, Canberra, Hobart and Darwin and a 10 year contract for 17 former services to be commissioned during 2002 and 2003. SBS is currently tendering for the provision of a package of 47 regional and metropolitan DTTN digital television transmission services. These services have scheduled service start dates beginning in 2003, 2004 and 2005. Broadcast Australia has submitted a comprehensive tender response, and

- Other Regional Commercial Broadcasters - Prime, WIN and South West Coast Broadcasting have executed agreements to utilize Broadcast Australia's fibre and infrastructure for their digital television services and mechanisms are continuing for additional services.

Further details on the rollout of digital television in Australia are set out in Section 5.5 Digital Television Services.

Facilities Leasing
Broadcast Australia has 405 sites available for facilities leasing. Customers include commercial television and radio broadcasters, telecommunications service providers and providers of telecommunications services such as mobile, land and satellite services.

Television
Analogue Television Facilities Leasing
As part of the acquisition of the NTA from the Commonwealth Government in 1997, Broadcast Australia entered into a number of long term agreements, typically 10 years with an option to renew for a further 10 years, for regional commercial broadcast stations to share its fibre and infrastructure. These services range from a commercial broadcaster placing its own equipment, including transmitters and program input and output, on a Broadcast Australia site and sharing space on Broadcast Australia's tower, to a "portal service" where the broadcaster owns a transmitter which is plugged into a portal on Broadcast Australia's container for transmission. Major commercial customers include Prime, WIN and Southern Cross Broadcasting.

Digital Television Facilities Leasing
In addition to securing the ABC and SBS digital television contracts, the geographic reach of Broadcast Australia's network provides a unique opportunity to provide digital television leasing or portal services to regional and other commercial (outside of broadcast) To date, Prime and Southern Cross Broadcasting have executed agreements to utilize Broadcast Australia's fibre and infrastructure for digital television services for Cairns and Mackay respectively. It is well advanced for further contracts covering services for other regional commercial broadcasters are expected to require over the next three years. A portal service agreement for the rollout of 20 digital television portal services has been executed with WIN, and the Cairns and Mackay. The services have recently been commissioned.

Radio
Broadcast Australia has extensive telephony contracts with the commercial radio network operators, primarily for the use of broadcast Australia's fibre and infrastructure.

Telecommunications, Radiocommunications and Others
Broadcast Australia currently holds agreements to provide emergency services organisations an image of Australia's telecommunications operations such as Telstra, WorkPac, the Australian AATF and Sirenet. Unlike Broadcast Australia's telephony infrastructure, currently located in regional cells and therefore does not offer low power mobile cellular coverage especially in metropolitan areas. However, the portfolio is well positioned to provide major fibre, especially long haul services for fixed and mobile telephony carriers of all technologies. An aggregation of the telephony services is available through its existing fibre network.

3.4 Further Opportunities

Given Broadcast Australia's extensive transmission infrastructure and relationship with key industry players, it is likely placed to provide new broadcast media initiatives, including:

- Digital Radio Broadcasting - while the introduction of digital television is being driven by Commonwealth Government policy, there remains considerable uncertainty surrounding the timeframe for the introduction of digital radio in Australia. The Commonwealth Government has yet to formally announce its technical framework for digital radio in Australia and as such, the commercial issues surrounding its introduction remain unclear. Broadcast Australia conducted initial digital radio transmission trials in the mid-1990s and a subsequent trial in early 2000 in preparation for its introduction, and is well positioned to participate in the opportunity when it emerges.
- Delivery of Digital Data - using similar technology to digital television to transmit data into households via the television set or a set top box. This may be interactive, integrating internet functionality with television programs. While the future business opportunity from this technology is potentially quite substantial, there remains a high degree of uncertainty on service offerings in the short to medium term. As the largest owner and operator of UHF analogue systems in the nation, which are likely to be prominent in the delivery of terrestrial data or other digital services, Broadcast Australia is well positioned to benefit from the implementation of these new services using UHF spectrum and
- Other - opportunities include using broadcast spectrum to provide enhanced internet access to personal computer services for regional and rural communities, and other interactive digital services

3.5 Digital Television Rollout

The Commonwealth Government has legislated the introduction of digital television from January 2001 in metropolitan markets and a phased rollout in other regions of Australia.

The introduction of digital television broadcasting represents a major development for the broadcasting industry. In order to provide an opportunity for all consumers to adapt to the new technology, the Commonwealth Government has a regulated policy for all broadcasters to transmit their signals in both analogue and digital format for at least eight years - in some markets, following the introduction of digital television in that market (Simulated Period). The eight year minimum Simulated Period is subject to review by the Commonwealth Government in 2008.

Given the potential sensitivity associated with changing consumers' access to analogue television, MCA's reports that the Simulated Period will be maintained until ownership of digital television or interactive services approaches full penetration in the relevant market. If the Simulated Period is extended, then Broadcast Australia would expect to benefit from a longer period of dual revenue streams from the provision of both analogue and digital television transmission services.

Broadcast Australia has secured the contract to act as the ABC's sole provider of digital television transmission services across Australia. The rollout of new digital television services for the ABC is subject to the approval of the Commonwealth Minister for Communications, with the contract providing for a minimum and maximum annual intended rollout rate. The ABC has confirmed funding arrangements with the Commonwealth Government for the purpose of the digital television transmission services contract, although each new service requires an implementation plan to be approved by the Commonwealth Minister for Communications before the ABC confirms service commencement with Broadcast Australia.

Broadcast Australia is not obliged to commence construction on any new services until a firm order for the service is received from the ABC, hence, revenues and capital expenditure for digital television are expected to be closely correlated.

Summary of Broadcast Australia's Long Term Contracts

The table below details the value of Broadcast Australia's key long term contracts as at 1 June 2002 in respect of broadcasting services and facilities leasing. The value of contracts is expressed in 2002 dollars excluding inflation adjustments to which Broadcast Australia is entitled in accordance with those contracts.

Broadcast Australia's long term contracts are output-based and are independent of population coverage or actual viewer numbers. Thus, while a significant proportion of the Australian population falls within the five major metropolitan transmission service areas, these markets represent a relatively minor proportion of Broadcast Australia's total contracted revenues.

Under these contracts, Broadcast Australia's primary obligation is to launch broadcast transmission signals from its transmission facilities of a prescribed signal quality in order to meet contracted availability targets. Annual pricing increments are typically determined on a CPI minus 0.8% base.

Bank Facility

The $175 million Bank Facility has been underwritten by Barclays Capital, the investment banking division of Barclays Bank PLC and Macquarie Bank. The Bank Facility has a term of five years. It comprises a $150 million capital expenditure facility and a $25 million revolving credit facility, which may be drawn at any time to fund capital expenditure associated with the rollout of digital television and other new customer services and ongoing working capital requirements, respectively. No amount is currently drawn under this facility.

Interest Rate Hedging

Broadcom Australia has entered into a $300 million interest rate swap which effectively locks in the floating rate for 80% of Series 2 and Series 3 of the $770 million at 5.25% per annum until March 2007. The swap is under the Bank Facility ensure Broadcom Australia to maintain an interest rate hedging policy such that floating interest rate exposure is hedged to a level of not less than 75% on a five year rolling basis.

Overview

Broadcom Australia's historic and forecast financial performance reflects 2006 contracted revenues from analogue radio and analogue television transmission services provided under contracts with the ABC, SBS and commercial broadcasters. Strong growth in revenue and EBITDA is forecast to be generated, in part, from the cessation of capital cessation services for the ABC and SBS. Launching of satellites to commercial broadcasters and telecommunications companies provides an additional contribution to historic and forecast revenue and EBITDA.

Basis of Preparation

The historic and forecast statements of financial performance of Broadcast Australia relate to:

- historic and forecast EBITDA and operating expense of Broadcast Australia;
- forecast amortisation expense of MCRPL (the entity that acquired Broadcast Australia) as a Director of Australia was directly incurred this charge; and
- forecast interest expense of Finance SPV as a Broadcast Australia was directly incurring this expense.

The historic financial performance for FY 2000 and FY 2001 is based on audited accounts. Forecast Broadcast Australia financial performance for FY 2002 to FY 2005 is based on unaudited forecasts prepared by the company and is subject to various uncertainties, including changes in revenue and expenses.

The estimated financial performance for FY 2002 is based on audited accounts of Broadcast Australia (AASB) for the period up to 2 April 2002, unaudited management accounts for the months of April and May 2002 and management estimates of financial performance for the month of June 2002, and adjusted to exclude non-recurring items of revenue and expense.

The historic financial performance for FY 2003 and FY 2004 and the forecasted financial performance for FY 2005 are based on the EBITDA level of financial performance (EBITDA) which includes depreciation, amortisation and interest expenses only. The acquisition of Broadcast Australia by NABU and the forecasted financial performance for FY 2003 to FY 2005 are based on the forecasted financial performance for FY 2003 to FY 2005.

These revenue forecasts are underpinned by the high percentage of contracted revenues and the high proportion of revenues expected to be received from the ABC and SBS.

Financial Analysis - Forecast Revenue Breakdown FY 2003 to FY 2006

The majority of Broadcast Australia's forecast revenue is already contracted - for example, contracted revenue represents 86% of total forecast revenue between FY 2003 and FY 2006 with the ABC and SBS comprising 67% of the total forecast revenue.

Accordingly, 15% of the ANZSIS contracted revenue in the pie chart above remains subject to the timing of digital television rollout, pending the ongoing process of Ministers approval of implementation plans. A slower than projected rollout would reduce forecast revenue and EBITDA, as shown in Section 5.11, Sensitivity Analysis.

The timing assumptions in the Prospectus have been developed through detailed discussions with the Commonwealth Government and customers and reviewed by the independent industry expert whose report appears in Section 5.3, Independent Industry Report.

Television Revenue

Television revenue forecasts are underpinned by the provision of analogue television services to the ABC and SBS under separate long-term service Agreements (TSAs). The ABC signed a TSA with its regulated exchange operator, which was one of the ANZSIS carriage television services across Australia. The current term of the carriage TSA runs until December 2004 with the ABC having the option to extend for a further five years or the March 2005 end contract. The current term of SBS analogue TSA runs until June 2004, of which time SBS has the option to extend for two further periods of three years each on the same terms and conditions. This revenue is received by the provider of carriage TV in the first June

2003 Revenue - One Step Ahead

2004, the first of three options of three years will be exercised by SBS. There is no guarantee that SBS will exercise any of these options.

Television revenues are forecast to be $71.2 million in FY 2003, an increase of 125% on FY 2000 revenues of $31.7 million. The main drivers of the growth have been:

- the delivery of 79 new analogue television services during 2000 and 2001 for SBS, which are contracted to continue until 2012; and
- the establishment of the initial digital television services for the ABC and SBS in major metropolitan and several regional service areas.

Television revenues are forecast to continue to grow to $115.5 million in FY 2005 mainly as a result of the continued rollout of digital television transmission services for the ABC and SBS. The ABC services will be provided under the single-of-reason digital contract for a term of 15 years from commissioning of each service with the ABC having the option to extend for a further term of five years. Digital Television Rollout is discussed in more detail in Section 5.5, Digital Television Rollout and Section 11.12, Summary of Material Contracts. The forecast revenues include revenue from the provision of satellite downlink services under an existing subcontract agreement with SingTel Optus in relation to the distribution of ABC digital television signals.

Revenue will also be generated through the delivery of the next contracted phase of digital transmission services for SBS (17 regional and metropolitan HD services). Broadcast Australia is well placed to secure further revenue growth from the provision of managed transmission services or infrastructure access for the rollout of digital television to new communities that SBS is yet to award contracts to public tender.

Radio Revenue

Revenues from the provision of radio transmission services to the ABC and SBS form a core revenue stream through the forecast period to 2005. These are derived under the ABC and SBS analogue TSAs that also cover analogue television transmission discussed above. Radio revenues are forecast to be $68.8 million in FY 2003, representing an increase of 20% on revenues of $57.5 million in FY 2000. The growth has been delivered primarily through the establishment of 17 analogue radio services for the ABC and certain new commercial FM services. The provision of additional analogue radio services to the national broadcast network is forecast to contribute to further growth in radio revenue.

Facilities Leasing Revenue

During the period from FY 2000 to FY 2003, 57% of facilities leasing revenues result from contracted analog broadcast services and 24% relate to contracted services for telecommunications service providers. The forecast growth in revenues is attributable to the forecast increase in facilities leasing fees from the commercial broadcasters who currently utilise Broadcast Australia sites, as their digital services are rolled out in regional Australia.

Forecast Operating Costs

Set out below is a summary of the forecast operating costs during the forecast period from FY 2000 to FY 2005.

More than 55% of the total operating costs over the period are under long term contracts.

Operating and maintenance is outsourced under a fixed price subcontracting arrangement with TVR2 until 2003, as discussed in Section 5.6, Operations and Maintenance. A summary of the O&M Agreement with TVR2 is contained in Section 11.12, Summary of Material Contracts.

Property costs include all land (new) leases and primarily reflect existing leasehold and access arrangements. Property costs are forecast to increase mainly reflecting the forecast rollout of new services.

Electricity is a significant operating cost associated with the provision of transmission services, and is an operational cost associated with the provision of new digital transmission services. The growth in electricity costs over the forecast period reflects the forecast increase in consumption of electricity as new digital transmission services are commissioned. Electricity costs as a percentage of revenue are forecast to decrease due to the greater efficiency in power consumption of digital transmission equipment compared to that for analogue.

Overheads primarily comprise employee costs and general administrative expenses. The moderate growth during the forecast period reflects a small increase in the number of employees, as personnel levels have already been increased in anticipation of greater activity arising as a consequence of implementing digital television, with other costs mainly remaining stable. The costs of senior management seconded to Broadcast Australia by Macquarie Bank Group are not recharged to Broadcast Australia.

Other costs of sales include insurance, communication and marketing costs.

Forecast Capital Expenditure

The pie chart above illustrates forecast capital expenditure from FY 2003 to FY 2005. Nearly 80% of the total capital expenditure over the period is associated with digital television rollout. The commitment to capital expenditure is subject to the existing contracts to the extent of the rollout which is determined by the timing of Ministerial approval of Implementation Plans under Section 5.3, Digital Television Rollout and Broadcast Australia's ability to secure further contracts with SBS and regional commercial broadcasters.

Forecast capital expenditure to establish new services has been based on detailed design and pricing provisions of a contract by project cost. For each of the major cost categories required to establish new transmission facilities, Broadcast Australia currently has in place purchasing term agreements with major equipment suppliers and integrative contractors. Under these term agreements, capital purchases are generally denominated in Australian dollars in the medium term.

* Cashflows after Debt Service in the above table are based on all of the services under the terms of the 2003-2005 plan. The 2004-2005, 2005-2006, and 2006-2007 forecasts are based on the 2003-2005 plan. The 2007-2008 forecast is based on the 2003-2005 plan. The 2008-2009 forecast is based on the 2003-2005 plan. The 2009-2010 forecast is based on the 2003-2005 plan.

Basis of Preparation

The forecast cashflows of Broadcast Australia reflect:

- cashflow from operating and capital expenditure of Broadcast Australia; and
 - debt service cashflows of Finance SPV as if Broadcast Australia directly incurred these cashflows.
- (Excluded consideration of $20 million payable by NBN to Broadcast Australia in the 2003-2005 term of forecast cashflows)

Base IRR

The Base IRR from MCG's investment in Broadcast Australia is 20.5% based on the implied Purchase Price of $270 million and calculated based on a number of assumptions (see Section 5.10, Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IRR).

The Base IRR calculation does not include a number of potential revenue streams that management believes may become available to Broadcast Australia on the basis that there is a greater degree of uncertainty in forecasting their quantum compared to those revenue streams included in the Base IRR.

Potential revenue streams not taken into account in calculating the Base IRR include:

- revenue from uncontracted telecommunications and telecommunications services leasing
- revenue from developing, writing, marketing and/or merchandising opportunities
- revenue from a potential fourth terrestrial television channel
- revenue from digital radio services, and
- revenue from the re-use of spectrum vacated following analogue television switch-off.

The Base IRR calculation reflects the following:

- the IRR for MCG's equity investment in Broadcast Australia after subtracting one-off starting charges;
- income taxes forecast to be paid by Broadcast Australia have been deducted from the cash flows used to calculate the IRR; and
- deferred consideration payable by MCG, as mentioned in Section 11.02, Summary of Material Contracts, has been deducted from the cash flows used to calculate the IRR.

Management believes that the IRR has not been undervalued from the discounts used to calculate the Base IRR as they do not apply at the level of individual investments.

5.10 Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IRR

The Forecast Information and Base IRR have been prepared on the basis of numerous assumptions. The material assumptions are set out below. This information is intended to assist investors in assessing the feasibility and likelihood of the assumptions occurring and it is not a representation that the assumptions will occur.

Broadcast Australia - Forecast Revenue Breakdown per Assum Year from 2006 June

Investors should be aware that the timing of actual events and the magnitude of their impact may be different from the assumptions in preparing the Forecast Information and Base IRR and that the new may have a positive or negative effect on Broadcast Australia's actual financial performance and cash flows. Investors are advised to make their own assessment in conjunction with the sensitivity analysis set out in Section 5.11, Sensitivity Analysis.

Cost of Sales

Operations and Maintenance Costs

- Post 2006 O&M costs are forecast to increase at CPI minus 0.5%.

Property Costs

- Forecasts reflect existing lease/finance arrangements taking into account forecast rollout of new services and the forecast renewal terms on expiry of existing lease arrangements; and
- these costs are forecast to increase at CPI after 2006.

Electricity Costs

- Forecast electricity costs are based on historic consumption rates, known transmitter power levels for existing services and anticipated transmitter power levels for new services and electricity rates consistent with experience.

Other Cost of Sales

- Forecasts reflect existing costs and anticipated trends in these costs based on forecast rollout of new services; and
- these costs are forecast to increase at CPI after 2006.

Overheads Assumptions

Employee Costs

- Employee costs have been forecast on the basis of approved recruiting requirements, taking into account expected retirement levels, adjusted for CH.

Other Administrative Costs

- Other administrative and overhead costs are forecast to increase at CPI.

Capital Expenditure

- Forecast digital capital expenditure is based on detailed design on a project by project basis and coded using contracted prices with equipment suppliers and subcontractors;
- In addition to projects subsequent to the expiry of purchasing terms agreements and subcontractor agreements, the closing of unused broadcast projects is noted. Assets in other projects will be retained for equipment purchases and other services on similar terms and conditions acquired for CH;
- other capital expenditure is based on historic experience and known requirements; and
- ongoing maintenance capital expenditure beyond the rollout of digital television is approximately $5 million per annum.

The assumed timeframe for capital expenditure is listed with details to each project is illustrated by the timetable below which shows cumulative digital rollout capital expenditure in the specified year as a percentage of total cumulative digital expenditure when rollout is complete:

2002	30%
2005	68%
2010	95%

Debt and Interest Rates

- Until the end of March 2007.
- $320 million of debt hedged at 6.25% per annum.
- Interest rate on remaining outstanding debt accounts with anticipated trends in interest rates as reflected by the three month Bank Bill Swap Rate forward curve adjusted on a quarterly basis calculated at 26 June 2002.
- After March 2007 the interest rate on all outstanding debt is based on the forward curve.
- MTNs refinanced at expiry with debt fully repaid by 2009 and
- Bank Facility refinanced at expiry with debt fully repaid by 2014.

Base IRR

Calculation of the Base IRR includes a value for Broadcast Australia in the base year of the 16 year IRR calculation period (a terminal value) equal to eight times average EBITDA in the last three years of the IRR calculation period. The assumed multiple reflects a comparison to stockmarket valuations of comparable companies and sectors, and cost of capital discount rates with which EBITDA multiples have an inverse relationship.

General Assumptions

- There are no significant changes in prevailing economic conditions or the rate of economic growth in Australia.
- There are no significant industrial, contractual, competitive or political disturbances impacting Broadcast Australia and the continuity of its operations.
- There are no significant changes in statutory, legal or regulatory requirements that would have a material effect on Broadcast Australia's operations.
- There are no significant changes in Broadcast Australia's operating policies.

- There are no material changes in Australian Accounting Standards, Statements of Accounting Concepts or other mandatory professional reporting requirements including Urgent Issue Group Circulars, Views and the Corporations Act, which may have a material effect on Broadcast Australia's forecast financial performance and cashflows.
- There is no change in taxation legislation which will have a material impact on Broadcast Australia's forecast financial performance and cashflows.
- The forecasts do not take into account any acquisitions during the forecast period and
- The inflation (CPI) rate is 2.6% per annum.

5.11 Sensitivity Analysis

The Forecast Inflation and Base IRR presented in Section 5.9, Financial Information, are sensitive to changes in key assumptions used in preparing these forecasts and calculating the Base IRR. Set out below is a summary of the forecast impact on Broadcast Australia's forecast EBITDA and Base IRR from possible changes in some of these assumptions. The forecast impact on EBITDA is shown as a positive/negative adjustment to the forecast in millions of dollars. The forecast impact on the Base IRR is shown as a positive/negative adjustment to the Base IRR in percentage points.

The sensitivity table should be considered in conjunction with the accompanying discussion of the sensitivity analysis. Care should be taken in interpreting the sensitivity analysis. The analysis isolates each change in the specified assumption in relation to the others, whereas in many cases changes may be interdependent, with accelerated changes potentially having cumulative or mitigating impacts. The analysis presented is an indication of the likely level of variation that could occur in relation to each assumption. Proportional portions of the changes presented may not result in a proportionate change to the forecast impact.

Inflation

The sensitivity table on the opposite page shows the impact of increasing/decreasing the CPI assumption by 50 basis points throughout the forecast period and Base IFR calculation period. Broadcast Australia's main customer contracts provide for increases in revenue linked to increases in CPI. In the majority of cases, inflation rates start from 1 July based on December to December movements in the underlying index. A movement in CPI has greater impact on forecast revenue than forecast expenses due to their relative quantum. Accordingly, Broadcast Australia's EBITDA and Base IFR are both forecast to be positively correlated to CPI inflation.

Interest Rates

As discussed in Section 5.10, Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IFR, and Section 5.8, Borrowings, Broadcast Australia has $300 million of debt hedged at an interest rate of 6.25% per annum through until March 2007. Changes in interest rates prior to March 2007 will therefore only impact Broadcast Australia's interest expense in relation to the amount of unhedged floating rate debt. The sensitivity table shows the impact of increasing/decreasing the assumed interest rates on unhedged floating rate debt by 100 basis points throughout the forecast period and Base IFR calculation period. An increase in interest rates is forecast to decrease the Base IFR and forecast cashflows after debt service. There is no impact on EBITDA because this is a measure of earnings before deducting interest expenses.

Non-Contracted Revenue

As discussed in Section 5.10, Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IFR, the Forecast Information and Base IFR are based on certain assumptions regarding various of orders by Broadcast Australia's customers under existing contracts, securing renewal of certain existing contracts on similar terms and conditions to existing contracts, and securing certain new contracts. The sensitivity table shows the impact of increasing/decreasing by 5% the assumed opening up or such renewal of contracts, opening of contracts and securing new contracts.

Operating Expenses

The sensitivity table on the opposite page shows the impact of increasing/decreasing contracted costs (other than amortisation and maintenance costs) by 10% of the forecast revenue throughout the forecast period and Base IFR calculation period, and from 11 December 2006 for contracted and maintenance costs. As discussed in Section 5.6, Operating and Maintenance, overheads and maintenance is accounted under a fixed price arrangement (arrangement with NAB) until December 2006. A summary of the O&M Agreement with NAB is contained in Section 11.12, Summary of Major Contracts.

Capital Expenditure

The sensitivity table shows the impact of increasing/decreasing capital expenditure costs by 10% of the forecast amount from 30 June 2006. As discussed in Section 5.7, Capital Expenditure, Broadcast Australia has a number of purchasing time agreements with major equipment suppliers and infrastructure contractors, most of which have terms of between three and five years from 2001. There is no impact on EBITDA because that is a measure of earnings before deducting the depreciation expense.

Digital Rollout

Broadcast Australia's forecast digital rollout is discussed in Section 5.6, Digital Television Rollout, and Section 5.10, Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IFR. The sensitivity table shows the impact of a slower timetable for digital television rollout for those services that do not yet have an approved implementation plan. In particular, the table shows the impact if half the number of digital television sites forecast to be rolled out in each year are rolled out one year later (one year delay for 50% of sites) or two years later (two year delay for 50% of sites). A slowdown in digital television rollout may be associated with a delay in the rollout of analogue television, which delay would have a positive impact on the Base IFR.

Debt Structure

As discussed in Section 5.10, Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IFR, the calculation of the Base IFR assumes that the MTRs are refinanced or repaid on amortisation terms that fully repay that debt by 2007 and that the Bank Facility is refinanced or repaid on amortisation terms that fully repay that debt by 2014. The sensitivity table shows the impact of refinancing the MTRs and the Bank Facility on terms that do not provide for amortisation of the debt, but is the case for 100% current terms. There is no impact on EBITDA because that is a measure of earnings before deducting financing costs.

Terminal Value Multiple

As discussed in Section 5.12, Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base IFR, the calculation of the Base IFR includes a terminal value of eight times average EBITDA in the last three years of the IFR calculation period. The sensitivity table shows the impact of using a six times multiple and a ten times multiple, calculated in the same way as the Base IFR. There is no impact on EBITDA because the terminal value only applies to the calculation of the Base IFR.

The fair costs of Broadcast Australia acquired are included at book value pending completion of valuations of the fair value of assets acquired at acquisition. The valuation will be finalized subsequent to the issue of the Final Offer. Any increase or decrease in the value of fixed assets will be matched by a corresponding decrease or increase in shareholder liabilities. There will be no impact on cashflow of MCG or Broadcast Australia of the final valuation, however, the final valuation could result in a change in timing of recognition and distribution of assets in the Statement of Financial Performance.

The Accumulated Loss amount in the Pro Forma Aggregated Statement of Financial Position relates to the purchase of approximately $65 million of debt between Broadcast Australia Holdings and an entity that is the former part of MCG as a result of a restructure of MCG and the payment of approximately $20 million to Merzone Bank to partly fund the return to Merzone Bank disclosed in Section 11.5, Other Issues.

Statement of Financial Position as at 2 April 2002

6.3 Significant Accounting Policies and Notes to the Pro Forma Aggregated Statement of Financial Position

Aggregated Accounts

MCG is comprised of an Australian trust, MGT, and an Australian company, MCL. Units in MGT and shares in MCL will be traded pursuant to the Listing Rules and under the constitutions for MCL and MGT as summarized in Section 11.12, Summary of Masters Contracts. Each Stapled Security in MCG will comprise one Unit in MGT and one share in MCL. Units in MGT and shares in MCL cannot be traded independently and can only be traded as a Stapled Security. MCG will be required to prepare aggregated financial statements combining the financial statements of MGT and the consolidated financial statements of MCL. Transactions between the entities will be eliminated in the aggregated financial statements of MCG.

Processes of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements of MCL will incorporate the assets and liabilities of all entities controlled by MCL and the financial performance of all controlled entities for the period then ended. The effects of all transactions between entities in MCL are eliminated in full. Outside equity interests in the financial performance and equity of MCL will be shown separately in the consolidated statement of financial performance and consolidated statement of financial position respectively.

Where control of an entity is obtained during a financial year, its financial performance will be included in the consolidated statement of financial performance from the date on which control commences. Where control of an entity ceases during a financial year, its financial performance is included for that part of the year during which control existed.

Investments in associates are accounted for in the consolidated financial statements using the equity method. Under this method, the consolidated entity's share of the post-acquisition financial performance of the associate is recognised in the consolidated statement of financial performance, and its share of post-acquisition movements in reserves is recognised in consolidated reserves. The cumulative post-acquisition movements are adjusted against the cost of the investment. Associates are those entities over which the consolidated entity exercises significant influence but does not control.

Investments

Investments in listed and unlisted securities, other than controlled entities and associates in the consolidated financial statements, are brought to account at cost and dividend income is recognised in the financial period when receivable.

Investment acquisition costs will be capitalised into the value of the investment at the time of purchase. Additions and other expenditure on investments which are capital in nature will be capitalised as incurred.

Intangibles

Goodwill

Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase consideration over the fair value of identifiable intangible assets acquired at the time of acquisition of a business or securities in a controlled entity.

Identifiable Intangible Assets

Subsequent to their initial recognition as assets on acquisition, other identifiable intangibles in which MCG holds a controlling interest, will be measured at cost.

Recoverable Amount of Non-Current Assets

The recoverable amount of an asset is the net amount expected to be recovered through the cash inflows and outflows arising from its continued use and subsequent disposal.

Where the carrying amount of a non-current asset is greater than its recoverable amount, the asset is written down to its recoverable amount. Where net cash inflows are derived from a group of assets working together, recoverable amount is determined on the basis of the relevant group of assets. The difference in the carrying amount is recognised as an expense in the statement of financial performance in the reporting period in which the recoverable amount is written down to cost.

Depreciation and Amortisation of Non-Current Assets

Property, Plant and Equipment

Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis to write off the net cost of property, plant and equipment over its estimated useful life. Estimates of remaining useful life will be made on a regular basis for all assets, with annual reassessments for major assets. The expected useful life of property, plant and equipment owned by Broadspec Australia is as follows:

Leased Assets	50 years
Land improvements	20 years
Buildings	50 years
Buildings improvements	10 years
Furniture and Equipment	5-20 years
Leased intangibles	20 years
Motor vehicles	5 years

Goodwill

Goodwill in relation to the acquisition of Broadcast Australia is amortized by the straight-line method over a 10-year period during which benefits are expected to be realized.

Identifiable Intangible Assets

Identifiable intangibles are amortized over the period that the benefits are expected to be recovered or below:

- Analogous transmission contracts 12 years
- Digital transmission contracts 21 years
- Other contracts 5 years

Revenue Recognition and Unearned Revenue

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the entity and the revenue can be reliably measured.

The unearned revenue of $36 million included in current and non-current other liabilities will be caught to account on a straight-line basis over the life of the contracts to which it relates.

The fixed assets of Broadcast Australia acquired are included at book value in order to avoid a comparison of valuations of the fair value of assets acquired at acquisition. The valuation will be adjusted subsequent to the issue of this Prospectus. Any increase or decrease in the value of fixed assets will be reflected by a corresponding decrease or increase in identifiable intangibles. There will be no impact on the net assets of MCI of Broadcast Australia of the fair value adjustments. However, the fair valuation could result in a change in terms of disclosure and an enhancement of detail in the Statement of Financial Performance.

The deferred purchase consideration for Broadcast Australia of $20 million has been included in Other Liabilities in the Pro forma Aggregated Statement of Financial Position.

5.A Forecast Financial Performance of MCI

As there is no reasonable basis to prepare a forecast for MCI due to the difficulty in assessing the timing and exact details of further investments to be made by MCI, and the distributions to be received from future investments, the Manager and MCI have not prepared forecasts of financial performance for MCI.

The aggregated statement of financial performance for MCI for each period will reflect the following:

- consolidated financial performance of controlled entities, primarily being Broadcast Australia and Finance SPV (refer Section 5.9, Financial Instruments);
- consolidated financial performance of any future entities or controlled entities;
- share of equity accounted associate investments' post-acquisition financial performance for any future acquisitions of associates;
- interest income earned on cash deposits;
- distribution of dividend income received from investments that are not classified as associates;
- operating costs; and
- management fees.

6.5 Distribution Policy

Distributions to Shareholders in Staged Security Notes will be made on a half yearly basis in February and August in respect of the preceding six month periods ending 31 December and 30 June. The first distribution to Staged Security Holders is expected to be paid in February 2003 for the period to 31 December 2002. Unless otherwise determined by the Manager, the distributable income of MGT is the taxable income of MGT.

MGT will unless otherwise determined by the Manager distribute all of its taxable income in respect of each six month period. The distribution policy for MGT will be determined by the directors of MGT each year.

6.6 Forecast Distributions

The Manager's forecast distributions for FY 2003, FY 2004 and FY 2005 are as follows:

Year to 30 June	2003	2004	2005
Distribution per Staged Security*	15 cents	22 cents	29 cents
Yield based on $2.00
Application Rates	7.7%	11.2%	14.4%

* Forecast is based on net

The forecast distributions for FY 2003 to FY 2005 are based on the forecast cashflows of Broadcast Australia as shown in Section 5.9, Financial Information, which are based on the assumptions set out in Section 5.10. Key Assumptions for Forecast Information and Base FPL and assume payment of Base Fees and other costs of MGT.

For the period FY 2003 to FY 2005 MGT intends to distribute all of the available cashflows of Broadcast Australia, after payment of management fees and all other costs of MGT.

If returns from Broadcast Australia are greater than those forecast, the Manager may, at its discretion, consider making a distribution which is higher than the forecast distribution. If returns from Broadcast Australia are lower than those forecast, the Manager may make distributions which are lower than forecast distributions, or no distributions at all.

MGT's necessary to pay distributions may be reduced or negatively affected by the impact of future investments and may be impacted by the payment of Future Funding Fees. If investments or Fees are payable during the forecast period, MGT may consider paying such fees in the form of Staged Securities or make a distribution by returning cash to Staged Security Holders in order to make any distribution of interest.

The Manager may also at its discretion consider returning capital to Staged Security Holders.

The Manager can give no assurance for FY 2003 to FY 2005 or for any future period regarding the payment of distributions as actual events might differ from the assumptions used in assessing the anticipated cashflows of MGT to pay those distributions.

6.7 Financing Facilities

The responsible entity of MGT and the directors of MGT, jointly and severally, intend to issue MGT MTNs, MGTs, other than secured debt managed by or on behalf of investments of MGT. However, it is possible that MGT may use temporary borrowings to finance acquisitions and working capital from time to time.

Section 5.6, Borrowings, contains a description of the borrowings of MGT's investments including $650 million of MTNs and a $175 million unsecured Bank Facility.

8 Investment Structure and Taxation

The comments in this Section 8 are intended only as a broad guide to the likely Australian income tax consequences of an investment in MOGL. Except where indicated otherwise, the comments are based on the law in force at the date of the Prospectus. The comments do not address the circumstances of all kinds of investors and are not advice to any existing or prospective investors. They should not be relied upon by any investor who (if necessary) should obtain their own advice specific to their own circumstances.

8.1 Investment Structure
MOGL's current structure is as follows:

MOGL consists of two entities:

- MGL, an Australian public company which, through its wholly owned subsidiary, indirectly holds all of the shares in Broadcast Australia. MGL will seek to acquire controlling interests in communications infrastructure but may acquire these interests where MOGL believes there may be an opportunity to subsequently accumulate a controlling interest. The manager of MGL will initially be MSAM; and
- MCI, an Australian registered managed investment scheme which may acquire non-controlling interests in communications infrastructure.

The responsible entity of MCI and manager of MCI will initially be MSAM. It is anticipated that MSAM will remain and be replaced as responsible entity of MCI and manager of MCI by MCIPL, a wholly owned subsidiary of Macquarie Bank. It is intended that MCIPL will replace MSAM as responsible entity of MCI and manager of MCI, after MCIPL has been found an Australian financial services licence authorising it to operate and manage MCI and provide management services to MCI.

MSAM currently manages other funds. MCIPL will have a specialist board with expertise in the communications industry. Macquarie ISF is currently in the process of obtaining an Australian financial services licence for MCIPL.

Each Stapled Security issued by MCIQ will consist of one share in MCL and one unit in MCI. Shares in MCL and units in MCI will be traded together and will not be able to be traded independently. As a result, any market price of each Stapled Security will be the combined price of a unit in MCI and a share in MCL.

The capital structure of MCI and MCL is summarised in the table below:

| | Issue Price | Number of Securities | $ million |
|--------------------|-------------|----------------------|------------|
| MCI units | $1.98 | 155 million | 308.9 |
| MCL shares | $0.02 | 155 million | 3.1 |
| Stapled Securities | $2.00 | 155 million | 312 |

8.2 The Role of Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Trust
The trust raised by the issue of units in MCI will be used to fund investments by MCI and by MCL. In order to fund investments by MCL, MCI will subscribe for Redeemable Preference Shares in MCL. MCI may receive dividends on the Redeemable Preference Shares and make distributions to Stapled Security Holders from those dividends and any income earned on other investments.

8.3 The Role of Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Limited
MCL has acquired all of the shares in Broadcast Australia through its wholly owned subsidiary and will be used to acquire new investments by MCL. MCL will derive its income from interest received on loans to its facilities and dividends from its subsidiaries. MCL will distribute returns in excess of the return on the Redeemable Preference Shares as dividends on its shares in MCL.

8.4 Terms of the Redeemable Preference Shares
Redeemable Preference Shares in MCL may be issued upon and subject to the following terms and conditions and shall confer upon their holders the following rights, namely:

Attendance and Voting at Meetings
The holders of Redeemable Preference Shares shall be entitled to receive notice of and attend any meeting of MCL, but shall not be entitled to vote except as permitted by Rule 5.3 of the ASX Listing Rules.

Dividends
The holders of Redeemable Preference Shares shall be entitled to receive a fixed cumulative dividend at a rate of 12% per annum on the capital paid up on the share. The dividend to be payable on MCL in each year:

When the holders of Redeemable Preference Shares are entitled to a dividend on paid up capital but the company has not been paid the holder will be entitled to receive a fixed return at a rate of 12% per annum on the unpaid dividend from the date it should have been paid to the date of actual payment.

MCL may not pay a dividend on any other class of shares while the holders on the Redeemable Preference Shares which have not been paid remain unpaid.

Distribution of Capital on Winding Up
On distribution of capital on a winding up of MCL, holders of Redeemable Preference Shares shall be entitled to repayment of the capital paid up or treated for the purposes of the Corporations Act as paid up on the Redeemable Preference Shares in priority to any repayment of capital to any other shareholder in MCL.

The Redeemable Preference Shares shall confer no other right to participate in the capital or profit of MCL.

Redemption
A Redeemable Preference Share shall be redeemable on the date 17 years after the issue date of the share provided that any redemption must be effected in accordance with the Corporations Act.

The directors of MCL may issue Redeemable Preference Shares on other terms subject to any approval by special resolution of Stapled Security Holders required by the Corporations Act.

8.5 Taxation
As the income of MCI will primarily be dividends on the Redeemable Preference Shares and MCI is not able to control MCL, it is expected that the Trust will not be subject to Division 80 of Part III of the Tax Act which requires a public trading trust to be treated as a taxation payable as if it were a company.

MCL will pay income tax at the rate applicable to companies on the amount of its taxable income. Assuming the Redeemable Preference Shares are considered debt for tax purposes, 5% should be added to a tax deduction for dividends paid to MCI on the Redeemable Preference Shares. To the extent that income tax is paid by MCL, it should be set a position to pay, through dividends to Stapled Security Holders subject to available profits available.

Further details on the tax treatment of distributions to investors are set out in Section 9.2, Independent Taxation Report. Prospective investors should, however, seek independent taxation advice on their own behalf.

Background

MCIQ has been established to make equity and equity-related investments in global communications infrastructure. MCIQ's initial investment, as set out in Section 5 of the Prospectus, is the acquisition of the share capital of Broadcast Australia Pty Limited (Broadcast Australia).

MCIQ is a stapled entity comprising MCIIL and MCIIT. The shares in MCIIL and the units in MCIIT will be stapled pursuant to the Stapling deed, creating Stapled Securities in MCIQ.

Each Stapled Security in MCIQ will comprise one share in MCIIL and one unit in MCIIT. The shares in MCIIL and the units in MCIIT cannot be traded separately and can only be traded as a Stapled Security.

In accordance with Australian mandatory professional reporting requirements, MCIQ will be required to prepare aggregated financial statements which combine the consolidated financial statements of MCIIL and the financial statements of MCIIT. Transactions between MCIIL and MCIIT will be eliminated in the aggregated financial statements of MCIQ.

The pro forma aggregated statement of financial position of MCIQ has been prepared as at 2 April 2002 as if MCIQ received $310 million from the proceeds of the offer and applied those proceeds as set out in Section 1.2 of the Prospectus.

Scope

You have requested PricewaterhouseCoopers Securities Ltd to prepare an independent Accountants' Report (the Report) covering the following information:

Historical financial information

- (a) the adjusted historical financial performance of Broadcast Australia for each of the two years ended 30 June 2001 as disclosed in Section 5.9 of the Prospectus, and
- (b) the pro forma consolidated Statement of Financial Position of MCIQ as at 2 April 2002 which requires completion of the pro forma transactions disclosed in Section 1.2 of the Prospectus.

Consequently, the Historical Financial Information:

Forecast financial information

- (a) the forecast financial performance of Broadcast Australia for each of the three years ending 30 June 2005 as disclosed in Section 5.9 of the Prospectus;
- (b) the forecast cash flows of Broadcast Australia for each of the three years ending 30 June 2005 as disclosed in Section 5.9 of the Prospectus;
- (c) the forecast internal rate of return (IRR) relating to the investment in Broadcast Australia as disclosed in Section 5.9 of the Prospectus; and
- (d) the forecast distributions to investors from MCIH for each of the three years ending 30 June 2005 as disclosed in Section 6.6 of the Prospectus (collectively, the Forecasts).

This Report has been prepared for inclusion in the Prospectus. We disclaim any assumption of responsibility for any reliance on this Report or on the Historical Financial Information or the Forecasts to which it relates for any purposes other than for which it was prepared.

Scope of review of Historical Financial Information

The Historical Financial Information has been extracted from the financial statements and other accounting records of MCIH and Broadcast Australia, and incorporates such adjustments as the Directors of MCIH and the Directors of the Responsible Entity of MCIH (RE) considered necessary to reflect the operations of MCIH and Broadcast Australia going forward. The Directors of MCIH and the Directors of the RE are responsible for the preparation of the Historical Financial Information, including determination of the adjustments.

We have conducted our review of the Historical Financial Information in accordance with Australian Auditing Standard AUS 402 "Review of Financial Reports". We made such inquiries and performed such procedures as we, in our professional judgement, considered reasonable in the circumstances including:

- an analytical review of the financial performance of Broadcast Australia for the relevant historical periods;
- a review of work papers, accounting records and other documents;
- a review of the pro forma transactions used to compile the pro forma aggregated financial position of MCIH;
- a comparison of consistency in application of the recognition and measurement principles in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements to

 Monopole Specialised Asset Management Limited

Australia, and the accounting policies adopted by MCIQ disclosed in Section 6.1 of the Prospectus, etc

- capacity of directors, management and others

These procedures do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, thus the level of assurance provided is less than given in an audit. We have not performed an audit test, accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Review statement on Historical Financial Information

Based on our review, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that:

- the pro forma aggregated Statement of Financial Position of MCIQ has not been properly prepared on the basis of the pro forma transactions
- the pro forma transactions do not form a reasonable basis for the pro forma financial information
- the Historical Financial Information does not present fairly:
 - (1) the adjusted historical financial performance of Bundoran Australia for each of the two years ended 30 June 2001 as disclosed in Section 5.9 of the Prospectus; and
 - (2) the pro forma consolidated Statement of Financial Position of MCIQ as at 2 April 2002 which states a completion of the pro forma transactions disclosed in Section 4.2 of the Prospectus

in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles prescribed by Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and accounting policies adopted by MCIQ disclosed in Section 7.3 of the Prospectus

Scope of review of Forecast financial information

The Directors of MCIQ, and the Directors of the RE are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the Forecasts including the best estimate assumptions on which they are based

Our review of the Forecasts was conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standard AUS 402 "Review of Financial Reports". Our procedures included primarily of enquiry and confirmation and other such analytical review procedures we considered necessary in order to subsequently evaluate

Specialist Communications Management Group Prospectus

The Directors
Morgans Commercial Infrastructure Limited
Morgans Specialist Asset Management Limited

whether the best estimate assumptions provide a reasonable basis for the Forecasts. These procedures included discussion with the Directors and management of MCKG, the RE, and Broadmont Australia, which have been undertaken to form an opinion whether anything has come to our attention which causes us to believe that the best estimate assumptions do not provide a reasonable basis for the preparation of the Forecasts and whether, in all material respects, the Forecasts are properly prepared on the basis of the assumptions and are presented fairly in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles prescribed in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the accounting policies of MCKG disclosed in Section 6.3 of the Prospectus so as to present a view of Broadmont Australia which is consistent with our understanding of Broadmont Australia's past, current and future operations.

The Forecasts have been prepared by the Directors to provide investors with a guide to the proposed future financial performance and cash flows of Broadmont Australia, and its impact on distributions from MCKG, based upon the achievement of certain economic, operating, development and trading assumptions about future events and actions that have not yet occurred and may not necessarily occur. There is a considerable degree of subjective judgement involved in the preparation of Forecasts. Accordingly, investors should have regard to the investment risks set out in Section 10 and the Sensitivity Analysis set out in Section 5.11 of the Prospectus.

Our review is substantially less in scope than an audit examination conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. A review of this nature provides less assurance than an audit. We have not performed an audit and we do not express an audit opinion on the forecasts included in the Prospectus.

Review statement on the Forecasts

Based on our review of the Forecasts, which is not an audit, nothing has come to our attention which causes us to believe that:

- (a) the best estimate assumptions set out in Section 5.10 and 6.6 of the Prospectus do not provide a reasonable basis for the preparation of the Forecasts, and
- (b) the Forecasts are not properly prepared on the basis of the best estimate assumptions and presented fairly in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles prescribed in Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the accounting policies adopted by MCKG disclosed in Section 6.3 of the Prospectus.

Independent Taxation Report

Dear Sirs

We have been requested to comment on the Australian income tax and capital gains (issues associated with investing in the Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group ("MCIG")) pursuant to a prospectus ("the Prospectus") to be dated on or around 3 July 2000.

This letter should be read in conjunction with the presentation of the Prospectus. Terms used in this letter are as defined in the Prospectus, unless otherwise indicated.

This letter does not purport to address all of the Australian tax implications relevant to Stapled Security Holders (herein referred to as "investors") who subscribe for Stapled Securities pursuant to the Prospectus. Potential investors should obtain, and rely only upon, their own independent advice specific to their own circumstances.

Our comments are based on the relevant taxation laws in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 and the Income Tax Rates Act 1986 (referred to collectively herein as "the Tax Act") as at the date of this letter, except where otherwise indicated.

Australia is in the process of major taxation reform. It is possible that future legislation will affect the matters considered in this letter.

General

Investors will subscribe for one share in MCIL and one unit in MCIT. The shares in MCIL and units in MCIT are to be treated as Stapled Securities.

Members are invited to the AGM (to be held under the Corporations Act 1999 (NSW)).

Taxation - MCTT and its Distributions

A net asset is treated as a company if it falls within either Division 4B or Division 6C of Part III of the Tax Act. Based on MCTT's expected circumstances and operations as detailed in the Prospectus, in our view MCTT should not fall under either Division.

Accordingly, we expect that MCTT should be a "flow-through" entity for tax purposes. If the net income (taxable income) of MCTT is fully distributed in respect of a year, investors will generally be liable for tax on their share of that net income at their own applicable tax rates. Investors will generally be subject to tax in respect of the year in which the net income is derived by MCTT, even if it is not distributed to them until after that year.

Distributions received by investors from MCTT will retain the character that the income had in the hands of MCTT. As pointed out in our opinion, the same type of income to be derived by MCTT will be dividends from MCIL on the RPS. Based on our view of income, the RPS should in our opinion be characterized as debt interests for tax purposes under the Tax Act. As a result, any dividends received by MCTT on the RPS will be assessable but will not be capable of being franked.

If the net income of MCTT of any year is not fully distributed by MCTT, an investor could in certain circumstances be liable to income tax on an amount of that net income in excess of the cash distributed to that investor.

Dividends paid by MCIL to MCTT on the RPS, if they are undistributed by MCTT to a non-Australian resident investor, will generally be subject to 10 per cent Australian withholding tax. MCIL to tax may also be withheld from distributions of other securities to non-residents of Australia.

An adjustment may be required in the cost base of MCTT units where a distribution by MCTT includes an amount which is not subject to tax in the hands of the investor. In general, any such adjustment will reduce the investor's cost base of the MCTT units by the amount not subject to tax. If the cost base of the units is ever reduced to nil, any further such amounts would constitute capital gains to investors.

Taxation - MCIL Dividends

In our opinion an investor who is a shareholder in MCIL should treat an equity interest for tax purposes under the Tax Act such that dividends paid through MCIL should be capable of being franked.

Australian resident individual and superannuation fund investors

Dividends paid by MCIL to Australian resident individual and superannuation fund investors should be included in the investor's assessable income in the year the dividend is paid. If the dividend is franked (i.e. company tax has been paid on the profits out of which the dividend is paid), then the amount of the associated franking credit will also be included in the investor's assessable income. In these circumstances, the investor will generally be entitled to a tax credit.

equal to the franking credit. Where this tax credit exceeds the resident investor's tax payable as assessed, the investor will generally be entitled to a refund of the excess credit.

Australian resident corporate investors

Under recent legislative changes, corporate shareholders are now also required to include both the dividend and associated franking credit in their assessable income. They are then allowed a tax offset up to the amount of the franking credit on the dividend.

An Australian resident corporate investor should be entitled to credit its own franking account to the extent of the franking credit on the distribution received. This will allow the corporate investor to pass on the benefit of the franking credit to its own shareholders on the payment of dividends.

Non-Australian resident investors

Unfranked dividends paid by MCIL to non-Australian resident investors will be subject to Australian dividend withholding tax (DWT). DWT will be imposed at 30 per cent unless the investor is a resident of a country with which Australia has a Double Taxation Agreement, in which case the DWT is generally at 15 per cent.

Fully franked dividends are not subject to DWT.

Holding period rule

For shares acquired after 1 July 1997, a shareholder is required to hold ordinary shares "at risk" for more than 45 days in order to qualify for franking benefits, including franking credit and the imputation dividend rebate. This "holding period rule" is subject to certain exceptions, including where the total franking rebates of an individual in a year of income do not exceed $5,000. Special rules apply to trusts and beneficiaries. The Government has indicated that in the future it may reduce the holding period.

Disposal of securities

The comments below do not apply to investors who will hold Stapled Securities on revenue account, for example share traders. Such investors may have amounts included in their assessable income under the ordinary income provisions of the Tax Act if they dispose of Stapled Securities. The comments below relate to investors for whom only the capital gains tax ("CGT") provisions will be applicable.

For CGT purposes, the disposal of a Stapled Security will involve the disposal of two separate assets - a share in MCIL and a unit in MACT. The CGT rules will apply separately to each asset.

Australian resident investors

Australian resident investors will be subject to Australian CGT on the disposal of a share and a unit.

An investor will derive a capital gain on the disposal of a share or unit to the extent that the consideration on disposal exceeds the CGT cost base of the share or unit.

An investor will incur a capital loss on the disposal of a share or unit to the extent that the consideration on disposal is less than the CGT reduced cost base of the share or unit.

All capital gains and capital losses arising in a year are added together to determine whether an investor has derived a net capital gain or incurred a net capital loss in a year.

If an investor derives a net capital gain in a year, this amount is, subject to the exceptions below, included in the investor's assessable income. If an investor incurs a net capital loss in a year, this amount is carried forward and is available to offset capital gains derived in subsequent years, subject in some cases to the investor satisfying certain rules relating to the carryforward of current forward losses.

Individuals

Australian resident individual investors will in certain circumstances be liable to tax on only half of any capital gain made on the disposal of a share or unit. This 50 per cent "discount" is only available if the share or unit is owned by the investor for at least twelve (12) months prior to disposal.

Superannuation funds

The CGT treatment of complying Australian resident superannuation funds is, in general, the same as that that apply for Australian resident individuals, except that the "discount" is one-third rather than 50 per cent.

Non-Australian resident investors

A non-Australian resident investor will not be subject to Australian CGT on the disposal of a share or unit unless it (together with its associates) held 10 per cent or more of the issued capital of MCTL or 10 per cent or more of the issued units of MCTL at any time during the five years before the disposal of the Stapled Security. If a non-resident will be subject to Australian CGT, any applicable Double Taxation Agreements may be relevant.

Trusts

If a trustee of a trust holds a Stapled Security, the terms of the trust will be deemed the trustee's beneficial interests, who will be taxable on the income and gains of the trust.

Dear Sir

Independent Technical Report

1. Introduction

The Board of Directors of Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Limited has commissioned KPMG Consulting to prepare an independent technical expert's report to be included in a Prospectus for Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group's (MCI) initial public offering (IPO).

It is intended that MCI be listed on the Australian Stock Exchange immediately following the IPO. The structural arrangements of MCI and the terms of the IPO are set out in detail in the Prospectus.

2. Scope

The scope of this report requires KPMG Consulting to provide its opinion in three areas:

a) Technology risk

■ An assessment of the potential threat to terrestrial transmission or television non radio services (in both analogue and digital modes) from competing technologies/satellite platforms such as satellite, DVB and DSL.

b) Digital TV broadcast rollout

■ An assessment as to whether the network (being sites and transmission infrastructure) will assets owned and operated by firms/2001 Australia are digital, capable of providing an appropriate investment of capital to update its common infrastructure; and

■ An opinion on the appropriateness of financing arrangements relating to Digital Terrestrial Television (DTT) rollout contained in the Prospectus.

Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Limited is a registered company in Australia

ii) Potential new services

- A conclusion as to Broadcast Australia's ability to introduce other new digital services including datacasting, a possible fourth free to air (FTA) commercial television business and digital radio broadcasting (DRB)

Our scope specifically excludes any comment on the reasonableness or achievability of Broadcast Australia's business plans or financial models. Hence, whilst we are aware of Broadcast Australia's existing customers, particularly the ABC and SBS (the National Broadcasters) and the current contractual arrangements in place with them, we have not spoken with those customers nor studied the contracts or considered the likelihood of their extension in the future.

3. Summary of Conclusions

Based on the scope set out above and the analysis we have undertaken as set out in this report in our opinion:

a. Technology risk

- whilst competitive digital platforms are likely to emerge in both television and radio, in the immediate future, there is no material threat to the long term, ubiquitous use (other than in Remote Areas as determined by the Australian Broadcasting Authority (ABA) under the Broadcasting Services Act 1992) of both analogue and digital terrestrial television and analogue terrestrial radio transmission. There is not yet a commercial market for digital radio in Australia, however, as and when it is established, terrestrial transmission will be the dominant technology platform.

■ digital TV broadcast rollout

- assuming an appropriate level of capital investment, Broadcast Australia's network and other resources, including its people, are "digitally capable" in that they can receive, transmit and create DTT, and
- the assumptions used by MCG in the Prospectus as regards the timing of DTT rollout and analogue equipment switch-off in Australia are reasonable in the light of prevailing regulatory, commercial and technical considerations.

■ potential new services

- Broadcast Australia has an appropriate base of network and other resources, including people, to be well placed to provide various new types of digital service if, and when they emerge on a commercial scale in the Australian market.

4. Source of Information

In preparing this report, we have relied on the following sources of information:

- various technical documents and data provided to us by Broadcast Australia's management
- a tour of Broadcast Australia's Network Operations Centre (NOC) and one of its major digital and analogue transmission sites

KPMG Consulting

- extensive discussions with a number of members of Broadcast Australia's senior management, and
- third party research and discussions with a number of independent industry participants as we deemed appropriate.

5. Approach Overview

Our approach is divided into four areas as follows:

- i. Introduction to Broadcast Australia's network infrastructure and services,
- ii. Technology visit to Broadcast Australia's television and radio transmission business,
- iii. Rollout plan for Broadcast Australia's new digital television services, and
- iv. Other future revenue opportunities.

6. Introduction to Broadcast Australia's network infrastructure and services

Broadcast Australia's network infrastructure currently provides for the "over-the-air" delivery of analogue and digital television services, as well as analogue AM and FM radio services.

Generally, in any given location, analogue television, digital television and FM radio services share the same site and tower facilities. All these services are on the VHF and UHF spectrum bands, and hence share similar electro-magnetic propagation characteristics. Figure 1 below depicts a typical VHF/UHF site.

KPMG Consulting

Broadcast services are usually distributed to the transmission site from the television or radio studio by means of satellite microwave or fibre optics. (This distribution service is generally provided by entities such as Telstra or Optus and does not form part of Broadcast Australia's core transmission service)

For each television service (e.g. ABC Melbourne), or radio service (e.g. ABC Classic FM), generally, there is a dedicated transmitter environmentally housed in a building. This transmitter amplifies and prepares a signal for distribution to an antenna located on the tower. As it is possible for a number of services to share the same antenna, there is usually also a "combiner" linking each transmitter serving a particular antenna. The combined signal is distributed through feeder systems to the antenna which emits, in wireless form, the broadcast signals for reception by viewer or listener according to the service (e.g. television or radio). Examples of such VHF/UHF sites include Gore Hill in Sydney and Mt. Lofty in Adelaide.

In comparison to these VHF/UHF services, AM radio is broadcast in the MF frequency band and requires a different type of site. MF mast antennas are generally 80-200 metres tall and are supported by insulated stay wires back to the ground. Such an antenna generally requires a land parcel in the vicinity of 2-10 hectares. AM radio does not have the line of sight requirements of VHF and UHF services, hence the antenna location is less critical. A typical Broadcast Australia MF site is at Liverpool, on the outskirts of Sydney, which broadcasts the ABC AM radio signals (of Radio National, Local Radio and News Radio) to the greater Sydney market.

Table 1: Number of Broadcast Australia's sites/towers where broadcast services are transmitted

| Geographical Area | Television | | Radio | |
|-------------------|------------|---------|-------|-----|
| | Analog | Digital | AM | FM |
| Metropolitan | 20 | 12 | 11 | 7 |
| Regional | 257 | 8 | 52 | 221 |
| Remote | 173 | 6 | | |
| TOTAL | 450 | 18 | 163 | 228 |

Key Broadcast Australia management

Broadcast Australia offers both "fully managed" broadcast services (generally taken by Broadcast Australia's two largest customers, the ABC and SBS) and a more limited "leasing" style of service traditionally taken by commercial broadcast customers, such as WIN and Prime.

Under a fully managed service, Broadcast Australia provides all the necessary infrastructure as depicted in Figure 1 above and is held accountable for the quality of the signals broadcast to viewers/listeners against pre-agreed technical parameters, such as minimum RF power levels and availability targets. In contrast, under "leasing" service arrangements, Broadcast Australia provides access to certain infrastructure components with service remaining the responsibility of the broadcasters.

7. Technology risk to Broadcast Australia's television and radio transmission business

In our view, Satellite and HFC Cable are the two commercially deployed technology platforms that present a competitive alternative to Broadcast Australia's analogue and digital terrestrial television services. Other, less extensively deployed and less commercially proven, technologies platforms such as ADSL and wireless technologies (e.g. 3G, MMS), may also materialise as threats, although in our view, if these platforms may materialise as credible commercial threats in the broadcast market, it will not be in the foreseeable future.

KPMG Consulting

However, before assessing the competitive threat of these digital technology platforms in further detail, it is important to appreciate the current market and regulatory positioning of both analogue and digital terrestrial television services.

7.1 Analogue Terrestrial Television

Analogue terrestrial television has, and continues to provide an attractive value proposition for free to air (FTA) broadcasters and viewers alike. From the broadcaster's perspective, the pay-by-the-minute nature of the technology platform allows localised programming (e.g. Boardroom News or advertising spots for Perth). Also, once a site is set up, given the point to multi-point nature of terrestrial transmission, there is no incremental cost to broadcasters to add new viewers.

From a consumer's perspective, analogue requires a relatively low one-off investment in a reception antenna installed on the household roof or on the television set (depending on the reception area). Around 98% of Australian households are currently capable of receiving analogue terrestrial FTA television. Hence, to receive television by any other means, including digital terrestrial, virtually every viewer in Australia will need to buy additional, or alternative, reception equipment. This is a significant barrier to entry in our view.

All national, commercial and community television FTA broadcasters have chosen to use analogue terrestrial as their delivery means in all but the Remote Areas of Australia, where Direct to Home (DTH) satellite is also used. As a result, the metropolitan and regional commercial broadcasters own a considerable amount of their own terrestrial VHF/UHF infrastructure. In some geographical areas this provides potential infrastructure-based competition to Broadcast Australia. A high level summary of this competitive environment is as follows:

- In the five major metropolitan areas, TX Australia (TXA) owns between two and three main towers that directly serve the same population base as Broadcast Australia's tower(s). They also have a number of metropolitan hill top service sites.
- In second tier areas such as Wollongong or the Gold Coast, there is quite often a competing tower owned/controlled by one of the regional broadcasters (e.g. WIN, Five, NBN or SCR) which provides an alternative to the Broadcast Australia tower and
- In smaller towns and urban fringe areas, sites are more likely to be owned by an independent party such as the local council, Telstra, a private land/building owner or Nobina Parks. Generally, Broadcast Australia has established access rights to use the tower in such areas which may, or may not, be on an exclusive basis.

Broadcast Australia achieves its analogue availability of its service (NBS) at an average greater than 99.94% on an aggregated national service basis.

7.2 Digital Terrestrial Television

The regulatory framework governing the rollout of DTT is summarised in section 5.5 of the Proceedings, particularly in the shaded box entitled "Digital Television in Australia". The recommended 240 potential viewers in MCIQ read that section carefully.

KPMG Consulting

In summary, DTT has considerable follow in Australia and it will eventually be the major digital choice. In broad terms, we expect the competitive environment within DTT to be similar to that discussed for analogue transmission as discussed in section 7.1 above, hence we do not intend to cover that subject again. However, some comments on the experience to date with DTT in Australia are provided at the end of this section of our report.

From the perspective of competing technology platforms, satellite and HFC Cable can currently provide a competitive alternative to both analogue and digital terrestrial transmission. We can foresee that over time many consumers will choose to watch FTA television through one of these alternatives such that FTA signal reception may become more fragmented across technologies. Indeed, this fragmentation is in evidence now as, for example, Pay TV operators choose to bundle Pay TV channels with FTA channels and distribute all of them through suburban HFC cable networks.

Nevertheless, in our opinion, there are three fundamental drivers working strongly in favour of DTT. These drivers are:

- 1 current broadcasting legislation mandates that DTT duplicate analogue terrestrial coverage in all but remote population areas. Hence, at a minimum, a change in legislation would be required in order to allow FTA broadcasters to delay, forgo, or scale back, their planned DTT rollouts.
- 2 once DTT has penetrated even a small proportion of the population in any given area, in our view, it will be difficult and politically risky for any Government or broadcaster to subsequently "turn-off" DTT and
- 3 for the Government to seriously consider a change in legislation, it is reasonable to assume that rival technology platforms would need to be available to 100% of households (whether by DTT, as a comparable cost basis, and be able to deliver the full digital FTA product (ie all channels, local news inserts etc.) to viewers.

With regard to the three alternatives, we knowe significant limitations for each of the alternative technology platforms previously identified. These are set out below.

Satellite

- An installed satellite dish and decoder set top box (STB) will generally cost over A$1000 where the dish is often visually obtrusive and impractical to install for many customers, and
- unlike DTT, to deliver the same local news or advertising inserts to each geographies area (as exemplified previously) within the satellite footprint, broadcasters must send down multiple programming streams over the national satellite thereby significantly increasing their satellite capacity costs.

HFC Cable

- it is relatively expensive to install HFC cable and the required decoder/STB in the home, and
- coverage in 2001 in that HFC cable currently passes less than 30% of Australian homes and is unlikely to extend beyond 50-55% in the foreseeable future since neither Telstra or Optus presently appears to have any plans to extend their existing urban networks. There is some concern in selected regional locations run by operators like Neighbourhood Cable in

KPMG Consulting

Works and TransAct in Canberra but it is specific to particular viewer cases only. Even if Point-to-Point and Optics prioritise to a single network, we do not believe HFC cables will ever become ubiquitous.

Other technologies such as xDSL and wireless technologies (e.g. 3G, 4G/5G)

- All the other feasible technologies of which we are aware, either require expensive reception devices such as encoders, decoders and hardware, or have yet to develop the reception device technology required to receive television broadcasts.
- None has yet achieved significant market penetration or, in our opinion, is likely to in the foreseeable future for streaming video applications such as network television, and
- It is doubtful that xDSL, in particular, will have the bandwidth capacity to economically deliver all FTA channels that viewers would demand for these to be credible alternatives to DTT.

While it is in commercial operation and has inherent advantages over the competing digital platforms to be discussed below, DTT provides a less compelling value proposition for viewers than does analogue terrestrial television. Digital conversion costs for consumers are quite substantial, while the perceived benefits over analogue FTA under PayTV are, arguably, not yet compelling. To receive DTT, a consumer must purchase a High Definition Digital Television (HDDT) (currently A$5,000+) or a STB decoder (currently around $A700). For this investment, viewers currently receive ancillary services (e.g. ABC Kids) from the National Broadcaster, better picture quality and if a HDDT set is purchased, possibly some HDQT. (All broadcasters will be mandated to transmit in HDQT for a minimum of 20 hours per week commencing in 2011).

Over time it is expected that the benefits of DTT will increase e.g. more HDQT broadcasts and eventually, interactivity. (There is also industry speculation and indeed, lobbying, in favour of multi-channeling over HDQT on the grounds that viewers may prefer more channels to higher quality pictures on a single channel.) It is also expected that the costs of HDDT sets and STBs will reduce over time.

However, at present, since the introduction of DTT in Australia on 1 January 2001, take up of DTT has been very slow and it is estimated by FACTS that around 15,000 STBs and a much smaller number of HDDT sets have been sold to date. Nonetheless, in the long run, digital television will completely replace analogue.

In conclusion, eventually DTT will match the current geographic coverage of analogue terrestrial transmissions in Australia. Many viewers will have alternative technology platforms through which they may choose to receive their digital television signals such that DTT is unlikely to match analogue terrestrial's level of television set penetration. However, Broadcast Australia's revenue from DTT payments is not related to the number of viewers using it to receive their television services.

DTT's advantages as a technology over such platforms (coupled with Government legislation and the obstacles inherent in withdrawing the service once established mean that, in our view, both analogue and DTT have a secure place in the Australian market for the foreseeable future and will be deployed by broadcasters in Metropolitan and Regional Areas. (We have not conducted an analysis of Remote Areas as there is still legislative uncertainty as outlined earlier).

7.3 Radio

With regard to Broadcast Australia's analogue terrestrial radio services, we do not foresee any serious replacement technology threats at this point in time. A major protection mechanism for AM/FM terrestrial radio is that there is a very large installed base of radio receivers in the homes and cars of the listening public. It is estimated that 70% of Australian homes own two or more receivers, which would need to be replaced or substituted by a rival technology. Any credible alternative technology platform, such as digital radio broadcasting (DRB), mobile cellular, satellite, HFC cable or the Internet, would be capable of reaching the vast majority of Australian listeners, with equal or lower cost receiving equipment, and be capable of providing at least the same features in terms of portability (which is crucial to the 'one time' market).

In our view only the wireless technologies: DRB, satellite and mobile cellular, provide the requisite portability. However, even though capable of providing alternative value propositions to consumers (e.g. digital quality sound), their mass-market appeal is, at best, uncertain, while the cost of each of the receiving devices is currently significantly more expensive than analogue radio.

Work on alternative radio technologies overseas is beginning to focus more on the blend of audio and multimedia content for delivery to portable receivers, such as combining DRB with mobile telephony. We expect that such developments may commence in Australia by the middle of this decade, however, they are expected to target market niches rather than compete "head-on" with the mass-market of analogue AM/FM radio. Consequently, in our view, there is no serious competitive threat to analogue radio in Australia in the reasonably foreseeable future.

As and when DRB emerges on a commercial scale, functional drivers of take up such as sound quality, portability, geographic reach and cost of both transmission and receiving equipment, mean that, in our view, terrestrial transmission will be the predominant technology platform.

6. Rollout risk for Broadcast Australia's new digital television services

In assessing the risks associated with Broadcast Australia successfully rolling out digital television, we believe there are three key questions to be addressed:

- 1) Is Broadcast Australia's physical network infrastructure capable of converting to digital mode (assuming appropriate funding is available)?
 - 2) Does Broadcast Australia possess the resources and capabilities to successfully complete digital rollout?
 - 3) What are the major policy/political and market risks with regard to the scope and timing of digital rollout?
- 4.1 Is Broadcast Australia's physical network infrastructure capable of converting to digital mode?

In continuing commitment to DTI at any given time, Broadcast Australia usually conducts a physical site survey and re-examines the original site design and BSEF management documentation in order to assess its capacity to convert to digital mode.

Generally the most important issue at any given time is the ability of the existing network to cope with the addition of new digital channels during the rollout period. At that level, existing antennas can be used because their power and voltage ratings are usually already sufficient high to allow the extra digital channels to be combined into the existing analogue channels. Digital requires significantly less power than analogue and the digital channel frequencies are usually adjacent to each broadcast's analogue channel.

0. Licence 14/1/13

KPMG Consulting

In circumstances where these conditions do not apply and the existing antenna cannot be shared, then generally, new equipment is required. Importantly, the tower structure we usually need to be strengthened, or structurally altered, in order to cope with the new antenna loads to meet applicable Australian building standards. Broadcast Australia expects that this structural work will be required for about 10-20% of the total tower portfolio. In such cases, the cost of site conversion is naturally higher. Also, Developers Approval is required from the relevant local planning authority, where there is a structural change to the building or tower physical envelope. Such planning consents pose one of the most significant threats to the planning timeline for a site and can often add many months to the process.

We are confident that in the vast majority of cases, Broadcast Australia's towers and sites are capable of being expanded in case with digital conversion. Several of the most technically challenging sites have already been successfully converted to digital by Broadcast Australia, for example, in Sydney, ABA channel planning did not provide adjacent channels for the ABC meaning that new antennas and substantial structural work were required for both of the main towers. Also, there are a number of other industry stakeholders, such as the ABA and the commercial broadcasters, who have independently concluded that, given the right planning approach, Australia's broadcasting infrastructure (including Broadcast Australia's), is usually capable of converting to digital. Furthermore, key issues, such as channel planning and antenna power as detailed above, are being actively managed by the ABA as part of the industry consultation process so as to achieve technically and economically efficient outcomes.

One area that may require re-configuration of Broadcast Australia's network in the future will be any requirements for new transmitter sites to ensure equivalent coverage. (These are effectively non-sites that supplement the signal in reception areas spots.) Since digital transmission does not have exactly the same properties as analogue transmission, it may have back spots or outlying locations that could require the creation of new transmitter sites. At present, there are no formal, independent quality tests of DTT in Australia. However, our enquiries lead us to conclude that, any requirements in this area should not present a significant technical challenge for Broadcast Australia.

In summary, in our opinion, assuming an appropriate level of capital investment, Broadcast Australia's network is "digitally capable".

6.2 Does Broadcast Australia possess the resources and capabilities to successfully complete digital rollout?

Completing the digital conversion process requires a diverse mix of activities, skills and resources over a relatively long time horizon. The key activities we have identified include engineering-level site design, implementation planning, installation-level design and construction and operations. Each of these activities is discussed below.

KPMG CONSULTING

KPMG Consulting

8.2.1 Engineering-level site design

The phase commences up to a year prior to a particular site converting to digital. The scope addressed include: the predicted digital RF coverage from the site; antenna design; transmitter selection; noise-power approach; and building (floor space) adequacy. With the exception of the structural analysis that may be required for tower strengthening, we believe Broadcast Australia's Engineering group possesses the necessary in-house skills and resources to complete these activities. Structural analysis is usually sub-contracted to Structural who are specialists in that discipline.

According to Broadcast Australia management, its engineering and project implementation teams previously coped with a yearly throughput of capital works at up to 100 sites which could be similar to the peak load expected during digital rollout. Whilst the majority of sites were previously associated with analogue services, we are confident that the bulk of design staff are transferrable to the digital environment. There is a deep wealth of experience in Broadcast Australia's workforce with many of them having greater than 10 years' in the industry, often with at Australia and the National Telecommunication Agency (NTA) (being Broadcast Australia's predecessor organisations).

8.2.2 Implementation Planning

Implementation Plans (IPs) are a formal regulatory submission required under the digital broadcasting legislation. An IP is a binding commitment by a broadcaster to provide a television service in digital mode from specified sites to cover specified areas, by specified dates, so as to achieve the same area of coverage in standard definition digital television mode as is achieved by that service in analogue mode. Also, as the Commonwealth funds the program on behalf of the National Broadcasters, the ABC and SBS's IP's must also contain the funding requirement of the conversion of a Broadcast Australia's cost to the National Broadcasters.

Under the ABC's whole of rollout digital contract, Broadcast Australia is responsible for developing IP's on the ABC's behalf whereas SBS has developed its draft IP's in-house (although, often with informal input from Broadcast Australia).

Historically, the major risk associated with successfully completing an IP has not so much been with the resources of Broadcast Australia but with the speed of decision making within other stakeholders who need to approve them. These stakeholders include the customer (e.g. the ABC), DOTA, the ABA, DoCITA and the Minister for Communications.

Broadcast Australia has now been involved in the successful approval of dozens of IP's for locations which are either already broadcasting in digital or are scheduled to do so over the next year.

8.2.3 Installation-level design and construction

Only once the Minister for Communications has approved the IP can the ABC or SBS formally commit expenditure with Broadcast Australia for the site(s) defined in the IP.

Most of the installation-level design and construction activity is carried out by sub-contractors. Tender documentation is issued to pre-qualified organisations who either bid for all of the work at a particular site, or for key sub-systems of construction e.g. specialist work such as tower construction. Broadcast Australia's preferred sub-contractors are all large, well-resourced entities that are well known within the industry.

KPMG Consulting

In our opinion, the assumptions set out in the Prospectus as regarding DTT rollout, simulcasting and analogue switch off, are reasonable in the light of presently foreseeable circumstances in the Australian television industry. This opinion is based on the following analysis.

2.2.1 Timing and scope of the DTT roll-out

The timing of DTT rollout by broadcasters is governed by the Broadcaster Services (Digital Conversion) Act 1998 which provides a framework of "commercially viable" for the simulcasting of analogue and digital terrestrial to the Metropolitan and Regional Licence Areas. (We refer later investors to section 5.5 of the Prospectus for an outline of this legislative regime.)

Under the regime, a broadcaster must, "as soon as practicable" after the start of the simulcast period for a Licence Area, complete its DTT rollout. The important issue here is the meaning of the term "as soon as practicable". We believe this term may be open to interpretation. For example, the ABA may interpret it to mean, say, three to four years (which is technically feasible for most ABA), while the commercial broadcasters might interpret it to mean, say, six to eight years based on a broader range of technical, commercial and market take-up considerations that they believe to be reasonable in any assessment of the term "as soon as practicable".

The scope of DTT rollout timing is a mixed one for commercial regional broadcasters. They have hundreds of sites to convert to digital, yet, based on current revenue expectations, expect to receive little, or no, additional advertising income from digital. Therefore, currently, the regional broadcasters have no compelling incentives to rollout digital, beyond the first site in a Licence Area (at which point they receive a Regional Equisation Allowance from the Government as a subsidy), or in large population areas such as the Gold Coast of Queensland where they have large audiences.

In our view, this commercial tension with the regional broadcasters, coupled with the governmental lack of clarity around the "as soon as practicable" rollout timing, may have a flow on effect to the National Broadcaster's preference for a more aggressive rollout. While the National Broadcaster could proceed in advance of the regional, the preference of the ABA, and the industry in general, is that all broadcasters switch on digital in a particular Area simultaneously. This facilitates minimisation of channel interference as well as offering digital viewers in that Area all TV channels concurrently from the outset. In this regard, we note that the Minister already briefly deferred one application for an ARC IP, requiring the ARC to coordinate its plan with "an industry-wide timetable" for the Area.

A further issue that may affect the timing of DTT rollout would be an extension to the length of the simulcast period (see section 5.5.2 below). A downside of an extended simulcast period by Broadcast Australia would be if commercial regional broadcasters used the extended simulcast period to advocate a position to the Government that would also effectively suspend the time to rollout digital. In our view, however, if the Government saw fit to extend the simulcast period, we do not believe it would also be pre-disposed to extending the time given to rollout DTT. Such a move would be counter-productive to minimising the length of the simulcast period (ie. the longer the DTT rollout is delayed, the slower consumer take-up of digital reception equipment and hence the greater the potential for pressure to extend the simulcast period further).

In conclusion, for non-Remote Areas, we believe the Assumptions in the Prospectus that the rollout for major digital transmitters in regional centres will be completed for the ABC and SBS by December 2004 and December 2005 respectively and that the balance of major transmitters and

In-SB translators will be completed by December 2011 (i.e. towards the end of the current simulcast period) for both ABC and SBS, see both roadmaps.

For Remote Areas, the key issue that will impact both the scope and timing of DTT rollout, will be the determinations of the Government's preference for a digital conversion scheme for Remote Areas. The Government is yet to determine any aspects of this scheme and therefore both the scope and timing of the rollout remains unknown. A decision to significantly delay conversion in Remote Areas would nullify both the timing of many of the ABC's smaller scale digital transmitter contracts in those Areas.

3.2.2 Simulcasting and analogue switch-off

A former Governmental review of the current eight year simulcast period is due for completion in 2005. We expect that a major factor influencing a decision to extend the eight year simulcast period (hence analogue switch-off) will be the extent to which digital television has been taken up by consumers at that time.

As noted earlier, to date, digital take-up by viewers has been very slow. Virtually every household in Australia currently has an analogue television set and many have multiple sets. Given the negative reaction that occurred in the community, especially regional locations, when analogue mobile telephony was switched off (even after the Government agreed to an extension of one year), we believe it is entirely likely that simulcasting could be retained for longer than eight years. Analogue television is far more central to, and ubiquitous to, most people's lives than was analogue mobile telephony when it ended. Therefore, in our opinion, it is likely that the simulcast period will be extended as an outcome of the 2005 review.

However, the slow consumer take-up of DTT (to date notwithstanding) there are also counter-vailing factors, which will work to constrain the extent of any simulcast period extension. These factors include:

- regional commercial broadcasters have already benefited from the Government's Regional Equalisation Plan which provides funds to assist digital conversion;
- the Government has contributed economically in digital TV by providing a 50% free condition to broadcasters to facilitate HDOT and has placed a moratorium on new commercial licences until at least 2007 (which is recently reconfirmed) whereas it could have chosen to auction spectrum or licences respectively; and
- there may be pressure to free the potentially valuable VHF/UHF spectrum which will become available following cessation of analogue services as this spectrum can be used by other services such as mobile cellular, new digital FTA or Pay TV television channels and DTT for which the Government could earn economic rent.

It should be noted that any extension to the simulcast period should be pressure for Broadcast Australia in that it would extend the time in which services are required for broadcasting both analogue and digital transmissions for its customers.

In conclusion, we believe that the assumption in the Prospectus that there will be progressive reduction of analogue television networks with reduction in service levels from 100% to 75% to full switch off by December 2014 is conservative as it only implies a two year extension to the current simulcast period.

9. Other future revenue opportunities

Broadcast Australia's transmission infrastructure positions it well to take advantage of potential new services that might emerge in the future digital environment. In this regard, the scope of this report covers the possibilities of a fourth commercial FTA operator, Digital Datacasting and Digital Radio.

9.1 A fourth commercial FTA

The licensing of a fourth commercial FTA broadcaster (i.e. in addition to Channels 7, 9 and 10) would provide an opportunity for Broadcast Australia to secure another major customer for its network. Based on our preceding analysis in this report we believe that Broadcast Australia would be well placed to provide transmission for any new FTA entrant. However, we note that the Government is legislatively committed to a moratorium on new commercial FTA broadcast licences until 1 January 2007.

9.2 Digital Datacasting

The technical transmission required for datacasting would be very similar to that required for a digital FTA broadcasting channel. Thus the introduction of datacasting would also provide a highly feasible opportunity for Broadcast Australia to secure another major customer(s) for its network. Currently, datacasting does not exist in Australia and it is not possible for us to form a conclusive view as to when, or if, it will commence in commercial form.

9.3 Digital Radio Broadcasting (DRB)

Broadcast Australia, through its existing national network of analogue AM and FM stations, is also well positioned to distribute on-line DRB services when they emerge. As noted in section 5.4 of the Prospectus, at present the Government has not set a timetable for DRB's introduction to Australia, nor is it possible for us to form a conclusive view as to when, or if, it will commence in commercial form.

While we have not formed an opinion on the potential new revenue opportunities identified above, based on our knowledge of Broadcast Australia as it operates today we believe it will be well placed to provide such services if, and when, they emerge in Australia.

Dividing Structured Securities will expose investors in a number of risks. These can broadly be classified as general risks relating to investing in listed securities, risks relating to investing in infrastructure, including communications infrastructure, risks specific to an investment in MCGI and thereby Prospectus Australia.

10.1 General Risks

Investment Risk

General movements in local and international stock markets, prevailing economic conditions, interest settlement and interest rates could all affect the market price of Structured Securities. As a consequence, the market price of Structured Securities may not fully reflect MCGI's underlying net asset value.

The value of an investment in MCGI could decrease as well as increase and Structured Security holders who sell their Structured Securities may receive less than the amount invested.

To the extent that any investment is made with a leveraged capital structure, such investment will be subject to increased exposure to adverse economic factors such as a significant rise in interest rates, a severe downturn in the economy or a downturn in the creditworthiness of the issuer. If such an investment is unable to generate sufficient cash flow to meet the principal and interest payments on its indebtedness or otherwise is unable to meet its obligations, the value of that investment could be significantly reduced or even eliminated.

Liquidity Risk

MCGI may invest in assets that are not listed on a stock exchange or for which there are only a limited number of potential investors. As a consequence, the realisable value of an asset may be less than its apparent value.

10.2 Risks Inherent to Communications Infrastructure

Demand Risk

Some portion of the revenue of communications infrastructure assets may be sensitive to changes in customer demand and resulting usage of the infrastructure. An economic downturn may reduce demand growth or even cause a reduction in the level of demand, adversely affecting the cash flows that MCGI receives from its investments.

Change of Law/Government Action Risk

There is a risk that the government or a government agency will repeal, amend, enact, or promulgate a new law or regulation, or that a government authority will issue a new interpretation of the law or regulation which will affect communications infrastructure. MCGI's investments may also be affected by court decisions and actions of government agencies.

Regulatory Risk

In some instances, economic regulation applies to communications infrastructure because of the natural monopolisation of the service. Where such regulation applies, typically an independent authority has the power to review, approve or disapprove the charges for access to the infrastructure. MCGI may invest in communications infrastructure that may be subject to economic regulation and there is a risk that MCGI's returns from such investments could be adversely affected by such regulation, including from changes to regulated access pricing, and changes to regulatory policy.

Communications infrastructure in some instances is subject to other regulatory regimes, including relating to licensing requirements for operators in the infrastructure. Examples include licence, spectrum and public numbering, required to or used to provide certain services, and other services related to telecommunications. There is a risk that MCGI's returns from investments in communications infrastructure may be adversely affected by failure to comply with, or changes to, such regulatory regimes. There is a risk that MCGI will seek to ensure that its investments have a competitive position in relation to other investments in the market.

Investors should refer to Section 11.11 Regulatory of Communications Infrastructure in Australia.

Supply and Network Operational Risk
 MCI's investments will be exposed to certain categories of risks including equipment failures as well as other man-made and nature disasters such as fire, flood, storms, hurricanes, earthquakes and landslides.

Operational disruptions on the part of MCI's investments, as well as supply interruptions from third parties, could both result in a loss of revenue for MCI. In addition, the cost of repairing or replacing damaged assets could be considerable. Repaired or broken-out assets may possibly result in permanent loss of customers, substantial litigation or penalties for regulatory or contractual non-compliance which could have a material adverse impact on MCI's investments.

In assessing the risks associated with potential investments, the Manager will examine whether the businesses have appropriate insurance to mitigate these risks. However, some risks may remain with the businesses and certain fire-related risks may be uninsurable or not cost-effective to insure against.

Interest Rate Risk
 Because communications infrastructure assets are normally capable of being leased, they are potentially exposed to adverse interest rate movements, when funds are committed to a fixed interest rate. While the risk may be reduced through interest rate hedging such as interest rate swaps or other mechanisms, some residual exposure may remain.

Fluctuating rates could also adversely affect MCI's investments and associated distributions if changes in interest rates cannot be recovered through corresponding adjustments to the tariff applicable to MCI's assets.

Achievement of Operational Efficiencies
 The long term profitability of infrastructure assets is partly dependent upon efficient operation and maintenance of the infrastructure. MCI's returns from its investments may be adversely impacted by inefficient operations.

Bypass Risk
 This risk occurs when a company replicates all or part of an infrastructure asset (either by a competing entrant to the existing infrastructure).

Although the cost of bypassing existing infrastructure is generally prohibitively high, such a risk cannot be ruled out and the construction of competing infrastructure may be viable in certain circumstances by using new, available technology, resulting in a loss of revenue for MCI's investments.

Environmental Risk
 Environmental laws and regulations can affect the operations of communications infrastructure assets. Such laws and regulations set various standards regarding health and environmental quality aspects and provide for penalties and other remedies in the event thereof.

Liability and penalties could be imposed for damages and in the event of certain discharges into the environment. In addition, communications infrastructure can have substantial environmental impact (actual or perceived) and may attract opposition from environmental groups for allegedly generating greater levels of pollution, poor visual impact, as well as adverse effects on flora and fauna.

Allegations have been made (from time to time) but not proven that communications infrastructure assets pose health risks to the community due to the emission of electromagnetic energy. The weight of scientific opinion is that there is no substantial evidence of adverse health effects to the community resulting from the normal operation of communications infrastructure assets.

Litigation and Legal Risk
 Litigation risks include, but will not be limited to, customer claims, native title claims, tortious disputes, environmental claims, local action from special interest groups, as well as third party claims resulting from network disruptions.

In addition, there is a risk that a communications infrastructure asset does not have, or might not obtain, certain licenses for the construction, operation or expansion of the asset. Permits or special rulings may be required on location, financial and regulatory-related issues. Licenses and permits have to be renewed and all of the requirements of these licenses and permits are met on an ongoing basis.

Technology Risk
 The telecommunications and broadcasting industries are subject to rapid and significant changes in technology and the impact of these changes on MCI's and its investments cannot be predicted. The cost of implementing emerging and future technologies could be substantial, and the ability of MCI or its entities to when it is needed to fund the implementation may depend on additional fundraising.

Taxation Risk
 The tax nature of their interconnection in relation to investments in MCI and its investments by MCI's may change during the life of MCI. In particular, both the rate and level of taxation may change. In addition, an investment in MCI may involve tax considerations which may differ from other telecommunications investments. Each prospective investor should consult its independent tax advisor to seek professional tax advice in connection with any investment in MCI.

10.3 Risks Specific to MCGI

Discount Rates

MCGI may invest in entities which are unlisted. The valuation of these investments will be undertaken using a variety of methods, including discounted cashflow. The valuations will therefore be sensitive to the choice of discount rate used. The Manager intends to use market determined discount rates, adjusted for the level of risk in performing the valuation. The market valuation of MCGI's assets will be susceptible to movements in comparative discount rates, which for communications infrastructure assets may be volatile given the relatively small number of investments available for comparison.

Foreign Currency Risk

To the extent that MCGI invests outside of Australia, adverse movements in currency exchange rates have the potential to reduce investment returns.

Investment Strategy

The success of MCGI depends upon the Manager's ability to identify and select investments, as well as its ability to realise maximum value from MCGI's investments. There is no guarantee that suitable investments will be or can be identified, or that they will be successful. No assurance is given that MCGI's investment strategy will be achieved.

If MCGI makes only a limited number of investments, poor performance by a few of MCGI's investments could severely reduce the total returns to Stapled Security Holders.

Reliance on the Manager

Stapled Security Holders will have no control over the day to day operations, including investment decisions, of MCGI. Stapled Security Holders must rely on the Manager and the board of MCGI to govern the conduct and affairs of MCGI.

Stapled Security Holders must rely on the judgment of the Manager and the board of MCGI, their directors and, in particular, on the judgment of those responsible for MCGI's affairs and employees. MCGI's success depends in large part on the performance of the Manager. The loss of a key principal or officer or the personnel of the Manager could have an adverse effect on MCGI.

10.4 Risks Specific to Broadcast Australia

Reliance on Key Customers

Broadcast Australia's two key customers are the Commonwealth owned national broadcasters, the ABC and SBS, which accounted for more than 85% of Broadcast Australia's total revenue in 2001. The ABC and SBS both receive Commonwealth Government funding. There is a risk that funding could be reduced or withdrawn. Broadcast Australia has entered into a tender of long term contracts with the ABC and SBS which are described in Section 11.12, Summary of Mergers Contracts. If these contracts are terminated and Broadcast Australia is not reimbursed, compensated, or the contracts are not renewed, that could have a material adverse effect on MCGI.

Demand Risk

The uncontracted portion of Broadcast Australia's forecast revenues may not materialise if a customer does not renew an existing contract with Broadcast Australia or does not intend to contract with new services or award the business to a third party.

Timing of Digital Rollout in Australia/Simulated Period

The Commonwealth Government legislated the introduction of digital television in Australia from January 2001 in metropolitan markets and phased introduction across the rest of the country.

It is Government policy that analogue and digital broadcast signals must be simulcast in metropolitan areas until 2008 (as a minimum) and in regional areas until 2012 (as a minimum).

There is a risk that the timetable for the rollout of digital television in Australia could be postponed or delayed or that Government policy could change and/or need to be legislative change.

There is a risk that the digital rollout in remote areas under Part 6 of the digital conversion scheme could be delayed or omitted from that first set by Broadcast Australia for national services. This is because the Commonwealth Government is yet to determine any aspects of Part 6 and therefore the timing for the rollout in remote areas is not certain.

If the existing digital transmission services in metropolitan and regional areas are discontinued and the introduction of digital transmission services to other areas does not occur, this could be expected to adversely affect the financial performance of Broadcast Australia.

Tenure Risk

The nature of Broadcast Australia's rights to occupy transmission towers and its related services is summarised in the table in Section 5.2, Broadcast Australia's Tower Network. Broadcast Australia has a greater density of towers. Most service contractual licences and related terms have fixed term agreements with options to renew for a further fixed term. Licences or permission terms may be terminable at the will of the grantor and a small number of fixed term licences may be terminable or subject to conversion. There is a risk that such termination, or upon expiry of a fixed contractual term or related term agreement, Broadcast Australia might not be able to negotiate for a further term and may have to vacate and/or move its site. This could potentially affect Broadcast Australia's ability to provide transmission services to its customers. It is the case, however, that the affected sites

Native Title Risk

There is a fee that native title has not been extinguished and that may have a effect in relation to some of the land on which the broadcast towers sites operated by Broadcast Australia are located. The main risk for Broadcast Australia is that certain sites and interests in the free state land granted after 1 January 2008 may be invalid to the extent of any inconsistency with native title if they were granted other than in compliance with the provisions of the Native Title Act. The exercise of rights pursuant to invalid sites may also give rise to a damage claim by affected native title holders. There is also the potential for process delay and costs in the event of a claim or challenge by a native title claimant or holder in a particular site or activity.

Environmental Risk

Although Broadcast Australia complies with the electromagnetic energy emission levels permitted by regulation, there is a risk that an actual or perceived health risk associated with broadcast transmission towers could lead to litigation involving Broadcast Australia or hinder Broadcast Australia in installing new broadcast transmission infrastructure.

The weight of scientific opinion is that there is no substantial evidence of adverse health effects to the community resulting from the normal operation of broadcast transmission towers.

Risk of Government Regulation

There is a risk that revenues from communications infrastructure services could be adversely affected by proposed additional regulation and/or the application of existing regulations.

In particular Broadcast Australia is subject to various provisions pursuant to the National Transmission Network Code Act (NTN) and the Television Broadcasting Service (Digital Convergence) Act (DCA). To date Broadcast Australia has negotiated agreements with all of its customers. However, if access terms between Broadcast Australia and third party access or network users cannot be agreed, the ACCC can arbitrate the dispute and determine the terms and conditions of access.

Competing Infrastructure Risk

There is a risk that Broadcast Australia's operations could establish infrastructure which competes with its existing network. Competing infrastructure would include, for example, Broadcast Australia's and Section 0.3 Independent Industry Record, described in more detail, competing technologies which may pose a competitive threat to Broadcast Australia. The establishment of competing infrastructure or alternative technologies may occur sooner and have an adverse effect on Broadcast Australia's financial performance.

Risk of Change of Ownership of the ABC or SBS

An event of default occurs under the arrangements with ABC or SBS if the arrangements in Section 6.8, Borrowings, 2 (amongst other things)

- the Commonwealth Government ceases to own more than 50% of the issued shares of the ABC and if the MTEs have not been repaid within 90 days;
- the Commonwealth Government ceases to own or control more than 50% of the issued shares of the ABC or SBS and this has a material adverse effect on Broadcast Australia's ability to perform its obligations under the Finance Arrangements.

An event of default of the nature may adversely affect Broadcast Australia's ability to finance the MTEs.

- 2) 5 class special shares in MCL to be issued to the Manager in his capacity as responsible entity of MCT to have voting rights to remove or appoint up to but no more than 25% of the directors of MCL.

A waiver from Listing Rule 10.11 is required necessary to permit MCL to issue Redeemable Preference Shares to MGT without obtaining unitholder approval, subject to the following conditions:

- 1) MGT and MCL make a full disclosure in any prospectus who may subscribe for Staged Securities under the Prospectus, that MCL may issue Redeemable Preference Shares to MGT; and
- 2) Details of the Redeemable Preference Shares issued to MGT are disclosed in the MCL's annual report for the year ended 30 June 2003.

It may be necessary to apply for a further waiver from Listing Rule 10.11 if MCL issues Staged Securities to MSAM in lieu of performance fees. The need for such a waiver will be addressed on a case by case basis.

Upon completion of the Offer, and for the purpose of ASX Listing Rules, MGT and MCL confirms that it will have sufficient working capital to carry out its objectives stated in the Prospectus.

ASIC Exemptions and Exemptions

ASIC has granted or indicated its intention to grant the modifications and exemptions summarized as follows:

- In recognition of the stacked structure of MCGG exemption in accordance with Section 601(4A)(1) of the Corporations Act from compliance with Part 5C.7 of the Corporations Act to enable the Manager to negotiate and proceed with the acquisition and management of the investments on a public level, rather than having to consider the separate company and trust components of MGTG, in the knowledge that it will not breach any related duty provisions of the Corporations Act, acts will not be required to call a members' meeting to approve every transaction involving in-group transactions or in-group investments during the course of which it will give a financial benefit out of scheme property to a related party.
- A modification to paragraphs 601(4A)(a) and 601(4A)(b) of the Corporations Act to enable the Manager to disregard the interests of the Staged Securities Holders in the MCGG group as well as other related party interests on a scheme by scheme basis.
- A modification of paragraph 601(4A)(1)(b) of the Corporations Act to limit the issue price of a Unit to be determined by the Manager on the Securities are issued. This will enable the Manager to issue units for a Staged Security between the Share and Unit components of that Staged Security as a debt.
- An exemption from Section 601(4) of the Corporations Act to permit MSAM to choose the responsible entity without members' approval on condition that:
 - MSAM prominently discloses in the Prospectus its intention to appoint MGTG as responsible entity of MGT;

- MSAM prominently discloses in the Prospectus that if 100 Applicants or Appointees who together would hold at least 5% of the total value of interests in MGTG immediately following the completion of the Offer ask for a vote on the proposed change of responsible entity by ticking the appropriate box on the Application Form accompanying the Prospectus, MSAM will arrange a postal vote or members' meeting to vote on the appointment of MCLM;
- the Application Form must contain a box which Applicants are invited to tick if they require a meeting or postal vote to approve the replacement of MSAM by MCLM, as responsible entity; and
- the replacement of MSAM as responsible entity must occur within three months of the completion of the initial public offering of MGTG.

11.11 Regulation of Communications

Transmission Towers in Australia

The construction and use of communications transmission towers in Australia is regulated by a number of federal statutes including the Broadcasting Services Act 1992 (Cth) (Broadcasting Services Act), the Radiocommunications Act 1992 (Cth) (Radiocommunications Act), the Television Broadcasting Services (Digital Conversion) Act 1998 (Cth), the Telecommunications Act 1997 (Cth) (Telecommunications Act) and the Trade Practices Act 1974 (Cth) (Trade Practices Act). In addition, Broadcast Australia as the owner of the National Transmission Network is regulated by the National Transmission Network. See Act 1997 (Cth) (NBN Act). The detail of trade regimes is set out in the following section. An overview is set out in the following table:

Digital Television

Broadcast Australia provides analogue and digital transmission services for the ABC and SBS to national broadcasters.

Schedule 4 to the Broadcasting Services Act sets out arrangements for the conversion, over time, of the transmission of television broadcasting services from analogue mode to digital mode. The rules of digital television for the national broadcasters as well as commercial broadcasters is governed by the Broadcasting Services Act, in conjunction with the commercial and national television conversion schemes as applicable, digital channel plans prepared by the ABA and implementation plans submitted by the broadcasters and approved by the ABA and the Minister for Communications.

|--|---------------------------|--|
| Ownership of analogue broadcast | Trade Practices Act | Private, community broadcaster, non-profit and Government bodies for limited purposes |
| Access to towers and sites for analogue broadcast purposes | Site Act | Commercial, National and community broadcasters, non-profit, emergency services and Government bodies for limited purposes |
| Access to towers for digital broadcast purposes | Broadcasting Services Act | Commercial and National broadcasters, broadcasters |
| Access to towers, sites and land for the installation of and maintenance of telecommunication facilities | Telecommunications Act | Telecommunications carriers |
| Telecommunications carriers services (Domestic Services) | Trade Practices Act | Telecommunications carriers or certain service providers |

Broadcast Australia is also subject to other Commonwealth, State and Territory legislation affecting Australian public and businesses generally. This includes, without limitation, property laws, planning and environmental laws, company and securities legislation, employment law and occupational health and safety legislation.

Broadcasting Services Act

The Broadcasting Services Act regulates broadcasting services (including television and radio), electronic services and online services in Australia. The Broadcasting Services Act also establishes the Australian Broadcasting Authority (ABA) as the industry regulator. The ABA's responsibilities include overseeing broadcast licensing and delivery of the broadcast service network.

As an owner and operator of communications transmission towers that are used to provide broadcasting transmission services, Broadcast Australia and its companies are impacted by the provisions of the Broadcasting Services Act, particularly those relating to digital television.

Digital Transmitter Access Regime

Part 5 of Schedule 4 to the Broadcasting Services Act sets out the transmitter access regime that applies to owners and controllers of transmission towers and associated facilities (antennas, cabling, towers and towers operators). The Broadcasting Services Act requires tower operators (such as Broadcast Australia) to give access to the towers, associated facilities and sites on which the towers are located to commercial television broadcasters, national broadcasters and detascaters for the purposes of providing digital television and broadcasting services.

There are some limited exemptions to the access obligations. Compliance with access obligations is not required if the ABA has issued a compliance order that compliance is not technically feasible. There are also certain exemptions set out in the Broadcasting Services (Transmitter Access) Regulations 2001. These exemptions include if giving access to a designated restricted facility would prevent an existing customer owner or operator of the facility from obtaining sufficient service to meet their reasonably associated requirements, or giving access in circumstances where there are reasonable grounds to believe that the access seeker would fail to protect the integrity of the network, or safety of individuals working on or using the network.

The Broadcasting Services Act provides that access to towers and associated facilities and sites should be on terms agreed between the tower operator and the access seeker. Failing agreement, terms of access can be determined by an arbitrator or, if the parties can't agree on an arbitrator, by the ADCC.

National Transmission Network Sale Act

The Sale Act will in place the framework for the sale of the Commonwealth National Transmission Network from the Commonwealth to National Transmission Companies (NTCs). Broadcast Australia, as the owner of the National Transmission Network, is an NTC and is subject to the Sale Act.

Analogue Transmitter Access Regime

Part 3 of the Sale Act establishes an access regime for the carriage of analogue broadcasting services. The Sale Act covers the telecommunications services regime in Part 10 of the Trade Practices Act and parts of the Telecommunications Act to apply, with some modifications, to:

- (1) the carriage of broadcasting services (where the network is for the purposes of analogue broadcasting and ancillary services provided by an NTC), or declared equivalent, and;
- (2) the provision of access to sites of telecommunications infrastructure in towers by an NTC (if declared equivalent).

Notified services, in favour of notified customers for specified commercial purposes.

Notified customers are the national broadcasters, commercial broadcasting licensees, non-profit bodies, community broadcasting licensee, emergency service organisations and Government bodies.

These access obligations only apply in cases where the notified customer is seeking access for a notified purpose. In general terms, the notified purposes are based on the ABC and SBS (purpose connected) with national broadcasting services or ancillary services and network in relation to other notified customers (for example, the notified purpose for commercial broadcasting licensee is access to sites of telecommunications transmission towers for purpose connected with providing a commercial broadcasting service in a defined remote area).

If terms of access cannot be agreed between the parties, and there is no access undertaking in place the Sale Act provides a regime for the ADCC to arbitrate the access dispute and pass the ADCC the ability to determine terms and conditions of access.

Ministerial Consent for Transfer of National Transmission Network Assets

Part 4 of the Sale Act imposes an obligation to obtain Ministerial consent before transferring (give or equipment) National Transmission Network assets. A transfer which takes place without Ministerial consent has no effect. One of the grounds on which the Minister may refuse to approve a transfer is if the Minister has reason to believe that the transfer might jeopardise continuity of service to a notified customer. Further, the Sale Act gives the Minister the ability to declare a person a declared customer of the NTC for the purposes of the Sale Act.

Powers and Immunities of the NTC

Part 6 of the Sale Act has the effect of conferring certain powers and immunities from Part 3 of the Telecommunications Act to an NTC (and its declared successors). In particular, Part 6 provides the NTC with various powers rights for the purposes of carrying out maintenance of the National Transmission Network, impose conditions on the exercise of those powers or rights, and imposes certain obligations from civil and tortious laws. The Part also requires the NTC to pay compensation for financial loss suffered by a person as a result of anything done by the NTC in the exercise of these access rights.

Radiocommunications Act

The Radiocommunications Act regulates the use of radio frequencies spectrum in Australia. The Australian Communications Authority (ACA) is responsible for administering the Radiocommunications Act. The ACA's radio communications responsibilities include issuing radio communications spectrum licences and issuing apparatus licences.

Spectrum licences and apparatus licences are a primary means of issuing the use of radio communications spectrum. Apparatus licences authorise the licensee and certain persons authorised by the licensee to operate specified radio communications devices for a maximum five years. Apparatus licences are transferred subject to the approval of the ACA. It is an offence to knowingly use a radio communications device unless it is appropriately licensed under the Radiocommunications Act. Licensees must observe all general licence conditions as well as any specific conditions determined by the ACA.

Spectrum licences authorise the licensee to use specified spectrum in a geographical area for up to 15 years and are transferable. The licensee has the freedom to deploy any device from any site within their spectrum space, provided that the device is compatible with the core conditions of the licence and the technical parameters for the bands.

In the broadcast radio bands, licences are normally allocated to Broadcast Australia. Broadcast Australia is the holder of apparatus licences. The ABC and SBS hold several hundred apparatus licences in respect of the transmitters for their broadcast services and have (as required by their contracts with Broadcast Australia) permitted Broadcast Australia to exercise under the transmitter licences under terms of endorsement in accordance with the Radiocommunications Act.

Telecommunications Act

The Telecommunications Act regulates the use of telecommunication services to provide telecommunication services and related services. The ACA is responsible for administering the Telecommunications Act including issuing telecommunication services licences, reviewing compliance with service licence conditions, and service providers need to monitor industry participants' performance and service quality.

There are three primary classes of telecommunication services regulated by the Telecommunications Act:

- carriers - which own infrastructure used to provide telecommunication services to the public;
- carriage service providers - which use infrastructure owned by a carrier to offer carriage services to the public;
- carriage service providers - which use carriage service supplied by carriage service providers to supply related services to the public.

The owner of a network used that is used for the provision of telecommunication services to the public is required to hold a carrier licence. Failure to do so is a breach of the Telecommunications Act for which substantial penalties apply. A network unit is defined in the Act to include mobile telecommunication transmission infrastructure, including cable networks and certain fixed telecommunication transmission. Broadcast Australia does not hold a carrier licence.

The Telecommunications Act grants carriage authority powers and entitlements which may be exercised in dealings with carriers, non-carriers and other third parties.

Schedule 3 to the Telecommunications Act provides that carriers have certain carriage access rights and entitlements for the purposes of conducting operations of land and the installation and maintenance of telecommunication facilities. Broadcast Australia as the owner of facilities may obtain access requests from third party carriers.

In exercising a carrier's access powers, the carrier must comply with certain conditions including:

- doing an act or damage is prohibited;
- acting in accordance with good engineering practice;
- giving notice to the owner of land; and
- complying with recognised industry standards, the regulations, Ministers codes of practice, and any conditions specified in an installation facility permit.

In the event that a person suffers financial loss or damage to their property because of anything done by a carrier in the exercise of its powers and entitlements under Schedule 3, the carrier has an obligation to pay the person reasonable compensation. This amount may be agreed between the parties or, failing agreement, as determined by a court.

Trade Practices Act

The Trade Practices Act governs restrictive trade practices and consumer protection. The Trade Practices Act also covers prohibited conduct (Part IIB) and access (Part IIC) in the telecommunications industry. The Trade Practices Act is administered by the ACCC.

The general objective of the provisions of the Trade Practices Act is to protect, among other things, against anti-competitive practices, such as cartels, price fixing arrangements, exclusive dealing, resale price maintenance, and the buying and selling of market power by competitors having substantial agreement power in a market.

Part IIB of the Trade Practices Act comprehensively addresses restrictive trade practices in the Trade Practices Act by dealing with anti-competitive conduct specifically within the telecommunications industry.

Part 200 of the Trade Practices Act provide for a mechanism to enable network and carriage service providers to gain access to each other's services. The ACCC may decide a carriage service is "Deemed Service" if the ACCC considers that provision of such a service would promote the long term interest of end users. A carrier or carriage service provider (Access provider) must comply with certain standard access obligations in supplying Deemed Services.

The regulatory regime encourages access providers and access seekers to reach commercial agreements on the supply of Deemed Services. If an agreement cannot be reached, the ACCC has the power to arbitrate. If there is no access undertaking in writing by an access provider which sets out the terms and conditions on which it will supply access to a Deemed Service, the ACCC may proceed to determine the terms and conditions of access that it considers reasonable.

National Broadcast Australia Contracts

The Initial Sale by the Commonwealth of the National Transmission Network to NTL. In 1998 the Commonwealth passed the Sale Act which provided the legislative framework for the privatisation of the National Transmission Network and authorised the Commonwealth's transfer of the network assets and liabilities to Broadcast Australia. Under the Sale Act ministerial consent is required for the further transfer of the original network assets, or any assets that are a replacement for an original asset. The Sale Act also provides, in certain circumstances, immunity from various planning, environmental and other laws in respect of the network sites and facilities owned by the Commonwealth or transferred to Broadcast Australia. The Sale Act also creates various provisions of the telecommunications access regime to apply to Broadcast Australia (subject to certain modifications if those refer to Section 11, 11, Regulation of Communications Transmission Towers in Australia).

After a public tender process in 1999 the Commonwealth agreed to sell the National Transmission Network to NTL under an agreement dated 10 March 1999 (Original Sale Agreement). The sale price was approximately $850 million NZD, an additional commitment by NTL to establish a $5 million regional community fund partnership with the Commonwealth, State and Territory Governments and National broadcasters to be used to provide an expanded outreach programme in regional and rural Australia. The sale completed on 26 April 1999 and was completed in two stages: the transfer by the Commonwealth of the network assets and liability relating to the National Transmission Network to Broadcast Australia, and the sale of Broadcast Australia to Broadcast Australia Holdings, a first class subsidiary of NTL.

Prior to the sale of Broadcast Australia to Broadcast Australia Holdings, the ABC and SBS entered into the Transition Service Agreements with Broadcast Australia for analogue television broadcasts and the Commonwealth Government entered into a transitional agreement for Radio Australia broadcasts. Under the Original Sale Agreement, NTL and Broadcast Australia Holdings guaranteed to the Commonwealth the continuation of all existing services at current levels of service and indemnified the Commonwealth for any loss it suffers as a result of the transfer of assets or operations under the agreement by NTL or its subsidiaries. The Original Sale Agreement also required further changes in control of Broadcast Australia and Broadcast Australia Holdings without consent from the Commonwealth and requires Broadcast Australia to comply with the terms of a number of analogue transmission agreements entered into prior to the sale with the ABC and SBS. If any of these agreements are terminated as a result of breach by Broadcast Australia the Commonwealth is entitled to use Broadcast Australia facilities to provide the relevant transmission services until another service provider is engaged.

The Original Sale Agreement was amended by an agreement between the parties and MCGI, dated 27 March 2002 (the Commonwealth Consent). The Commonwealth Consent amended the Original Sale Agreement as follows:

- the Commonwealth consented to the sale of Broadcast Australia to MCGI under the Sale Agreement described below;
- the Commonwealth also agreed to amend the change of control restrictions and permit any change of control which resulted from the sale or issue of stapled securities by MCGI under the terms of the LMS provided that:
 - 1) no person or group of related persons, other than Macquarie Bank or its wholly owned more than 25% of the issued shares of MCGI, and
 - 2) its wholly owned subsidiary of Macquarie Bank by the sole manager of MCGI, or MCGI itself is responsible for the day to day management of Broadcast Australia including the appointment of the CEO and through the CEO the senior management of Broadcast Australia, and
- NTL's debt secured liability was released from the original guarantee and indemnity MCGI is required to provide a new modified guarantee and indemnity cover Broadcast Australia from its current investment given being held in full liability for the period of time the liability exist. The release of liability under any such guarantee and indemnity is subject to being approved by the parties.

Sale of Broadcast Australia to Macquarie Bank
On 22 February 2002, Macquarie Bank agreed to purchase the shares in Broadcast Australia from NTL. The sale was effected through a wholly owned subsidiary of Macquarie Bank, MOHL, acquiring the shares in a Broadcast Australia holding company, via Bryson Corp, from two subsidiaries of NTL (Vendors) (Share Sale Agreement).

The Vendors provided customary commercial warranties and undertakings with respect to the business, assets and liabilities of Broadcast Australia. NTL also guaranteed payments due by the Vendors to MOHL, under or in relation to the Share Sale Agreement.

On completion and pursuant to the agreement, MOHL agreed to repay certain intercompany and external debts of Broadcast Australia (approximately $517 million) and pay $313 million for the shares in nd Bryson Corp. A further $20 million of the purchase price was retained as an unpaid liability of MOHL, and is to be paid in two tranches to NTL, the first on 15 January 2003 in respect of $5 million being payable and the second on 30 September 2003 (the balance being payable subject to any warranty and/or claims by MOHL under the Share Sale Agreement, including payments under the net asset adjustment mechanism and warranty claims in respect of MOHL's former subsidiary NTL). These amounts, together with an implied purchase price of Broadcast Australia (including its Macquarie Bank of $350 million) prior to the asset adjustments.

In May 2002, NTL filed for reorganisation under Chapter 11 of the US Bankruptcy Code. The bankruptcy proceeding is not expected to adversely affect MOHL. Under the Share Sale Agreement, MOHL may assert any bona fide claim it has against the Vendors or NTL against the $20 million final payment of the purchase price.

In providing certainty to MOHL as to the amount and timing of any payments under the net asset adjustment mechanism, Macquarie Bank has agreed to provide a limited recourse loan of $5 million to MOHL, with repayment linked to the payments received by MOHL under the asset sale mechanism. Any proceeds that may be received by MOHL, and paid to Macquarie Bank in respect of the loan, will comprise interest and any associated fees, in respect of the loan agreement. The amount of the net asset adjustment having regard to the agreed amount of the requested payment and other financial and commercial circumstances. As part of the loan agreement, Macquarie Bank has the right to direct MOHL in relation to the exercise of its rights regarding the net asset adjustment mechanism under the Share Sale Agreement. (Australia BOP) has undertaken to ensure that MOHL, by way of the above, is not exposed to the payment of any payments that MOHL is required to make in the event of any loss suffered by MOHL as a result of the loan or payments to MOHL. Macquarie Bank will be the attached the loan and the Share Sale Agreement.

Material Customer Contracts

Analogous Television Broadcasting Contracts
ABC Transmission Services Agreement
Broadcast Australia and the ABC entered into a Transmission Agreement on 24 March 1999. The agreement was varied by subsequent amendments which introduced additional analogue services with various minimum terms and termination options (Amended ABC Transmission Services Agreement). Under the agreement Broadcast Australia was appointed by the ABC to provide analogue television and radio transmission services from sites across Australia. The agreement commenced on 30 April 1999 and continues until 31 December 2003. The ABC may extend the term for a further five years by notice to Broadcast Australia.

Broadcast Australia charges the ABC an annual charge for each service provided from a site. Broadcast Australia notifies the ABC each year of the charge for the following year. The aggregate charges payable may be increased or decreased in limited circumstances, including the termination of a service for specific reasons in which case aggregate charges are reduced by the charge for that service or a reduction in scheduled transmission time which has been notified to Broadcast Australia in accordance with the agreement and reduced by savings in power costs, and an annual inflation factor. The ABC is entitled to reduce charges if transmission time targets are not reached or if there are issues for which Broadcast Australia is responsible and the annual charge will be reduced by any such savings (SARs). The service code norms vary according to the nature of the performance index and the location of the affected transmission site.

The ABC has the right to terminate the agreement in standard incapacity events, permanent cessation of Broadcast Australia's business or material breach of the agreement. If the ABC exercises its right to terminate the agreement (through fault of Broadcast Australia) and the event triggering the termination has not been ruled, then the termination will have the right to use Broadcast Australia facilities in accordance with the Original Sale Agreement.

The ABC may terminate a transmission service for certain "force majeure" events, if the transmission facility is interrupted because of an act or neglect of Broadcast Australia. The force majeure events include: (i) payments in arrears for more than 60 days; (ii) a failure to deliver 100% of the service; (iii) a failure to deliver 100% of the service; (iv) a failure to deliver 100% of the service; (v) a failure to deliver 100% of the service. In these cases, the aggregate annual charge payable by the ABC will be reduced by the amount of the terminated service.

The ABC may also terminate the supply of any transmission service (including any additional service provided under the amendments) from 1 January 2002, or before any time from 1 July 2004 until 31 August 2004, and within the same timeframe two, five and eight years later. If transmission services are so terminated charges may be reduced (depending on the effect of the termination on appropriate charges).

Broadcast Australia is liable in damages for breaches of the Amended Agreement which are negligent or deliberate, but its liability is capped at levels agreed by the parties. In addition Broadcast Australia has indemnified the ABC against all actions, claims, damages or loss as a result of Broadcast Australia's breaches or negligent breach of the conditions of an NBS Transmission License (except in certain circumstances) and any conduct, act or omission of Broadcast Australia or a Broadcast Australia nominated contractor or a site from which a service is provided by Broadcast Australia to the ABC.

SBS Transmission Services Agreement
Broadcast Australia and SBS entered into a Transmission Agreement on 30 April 1999 (SBS Transmission Services Agreement). The agreement commenced on 30 April 1999 and the minimum term is until 30 June 2004. SBS may extend the term further terms of three years by notice to Broadcast Australia. Under this agreement, Broadcast Australia provides to SBS analogue television and radio transmission services from sites across Australia.

Broadcast Australia charges SBS an annual charge for each service provided from a site, which is subject to inflation amounts. The service level regime and termination provisions are on the same terms as the Amended ABC Transmission Services Agreement, except that:

- SBS may also terminate the supply of any transmission service by not less than six months' notice prior to the expiry of the initial term or any subsequent term. If transmission services are so terminated charges may be reduced (depending on the effect of the termination on appropriate charges); and
- In addition to the discretionary termination provisions referred to above, SBS may cancel any affected services in circumstances where the relevant NBS Transmission License is cancelled, suspended or not renewed as a result of the commission of data. In these circumstances, the charges payable to Broadcast Australia will reduce as each NBS Transmission License in respect to analogue broadcasting is terminated as a result of the end of the services provided being terminated.

In addition Broadcast Australia's liability for negligent or deliberate breaches is capped at levels agreed to by the parties. Broadcast Australia has indemnified SBS against all actions, claims, damages, loss as a result of a deliberate or negligent act or omission by Broadcast Australia, its servants or agents which results in a breach of the agreement and any conduct, act or omission of Broadcast Australia or a Broadcast Australia nominated contractor or a site from which a service is provided by Broadcast Australia to SBS.

SBS Analogue Extension Agreement
Broadcast Australia and SBS entered into a tripartite Heads of Agreement - Transmission Services (Analogue Extension) on 12 July 2000 (SBS Analogue Extension Agreement). The agreement is the upper level document between the parties in relation to the extension of analogue services and its term expires on the day of 30 years after the Commencement Date of the last service to be commissioned or December 2012 (at SBS's option). The amended agreement extends SBS analogue television to an additional 70 sites. For each service, SBS must pay a spread charge, a monthly charge in arrears and any charges for additional services. Charges are subject to annual inflation.

SBS may terminate this amended agreement for standard insolvency events, material breach or cessation of Broadcast Australia's business or otherwise in control. In addition SBS may terminate the analogue services provided under the agreement in certain circumstances. If SBS terminates a service, SBS will be entitled to a once-off rebate based on the spread transmission charge for the terminated service.

Broadcast Australia's liability for death, personal injury or physical damage to property caused by Broadcast Australia's negligence and its aggregate liability (including content) is capped at levels agreed to by the parties.

In addition NTL (as amended Broadcast Australia's performance of its obligations in the event of certain extraordinary events occurring.

On 27 March 2002 the agreement was amended by the parties and MTRIL (SBS Consent). Under the SBS Consent:

- NTL has been released from its guarantee to SBS. MTRIL or MCL are only required to provide a new notified guarantee if Broadcast Australia ceases to fund its payment obligations (and it that case only for the period of time the consent is in force). SBS may require Broadcast Australia to provide a new notified guarantee in the event that MTRIL or MCL suffer an insolvency event. The maximum liability under any new guarantee and performance bond regime has been capped. MTRIL retains the bulk of the investment guarantee liability.

- SBS continued to the sale of Broadcast Australia to Macquarie Bank and continued to the sale of issue of Supaid Securities by MCG under the terms of this Offer provided that:

- 1) No person or group of related persons other than Macquarie Bank or its subsidiaries own more than 50% of the issued shares of MCHL or MCL; and
- 2) A wholly owned subsidiary of Macquarie Bank is the sole manager of MCHL and MCL and is responsible for the day to day management of Broadcast Australia including the appointment of the CEO, and through the CEO, the senior management of Broadcast Australia.

SBS Sydney Upgrade

Broadcast Australia and SBS entered into a Binding Heads of Agreement - Transmission Services Sydney, on 6 March 2000 (SBS Sydney Upgrade Agreement). The agreement term expires on the later of 96 months after the commencement of the agreement or 31 December 2006 at SBS's option. From the commencement date (20 November 2000), SBS Transmission Services Agreement ceased to apply at the Gore Hill site (with a corresponding reduction in aggregate charges payable under that agreement) and the charges for the Gore Hill Site are to be paid under the agreement. The agreement also sets out the terms for the upgrade of the transmission of SBS Television in the Sydney metropolitan area from Gore Hill and Artarmon sites. For each service provided under the agreement, SBS must pay an upfront payment, a second instalment when the service is available for a first time and two monthly instalments as monthly charge for the Artarmon site and a monthly charge for the Gore Hill site. Charges are subject to annual inflation.

SBS may terminate the agreement for standard or emergency events, material breach or cessation of Broadcast Australia's business. Broadcast Australia liability for death, personal injury or physical damage (including property damage) caused by Broadcast Australia's negligence and its aggregate liability is, in all, contract or otherwise to be capped at a sum agreed to by the parties.

Analogue Radio Contracts

Radio Australia Agreement

On 31 April 1999 Broadcast Australia Holdings and the Commonwealth entered a transitional agreement in relation to Radio Australia (Transitional Agreement). Under the agreement Broadcast Australia provides analogue transmission services for Radio Australia from Shepparton, Victoria and Emerald, Queensland to international audiences for an annual fee. Both parties have termination rights in respect of causing to carry on business and material default. The transitional agreement commenced on the acquisition of the network by Broadcast Australia and expired on the commencement of an agreement between Broadcast Australia and the ABC, executed on 7 May 2002 (ABC Radio Australia Transmission Services Agreement). This agreement will commence on the transfer to the ABC of licences, the ABC's subsequent authorisation of Broadcast Australia to operate transmission facilities under the Radiocommunications Act and the ABC's interim funding arrangements.

The ABC Radio Australia Transmission Services Agreement is more detailed and comprehensive than the Transitional Agreement. Under the agreement Broadcast Australia is only liable for deliberate or negligent breaches, capped to a level agreed to by the parties. In addition, Broadcast Australia indemnifies the ABC for all losses caused by its conduct or negligence in connection with losses caused by the ABC's negligence or deliberate breach (or its default or negligent breach) of conditions of the transmission licence to the extent Broadcast Australia has been made aware of these. The agreement expires on 31 December 2004 although the ABC can extend it a further five years. After expiry the usual termination rights for inadequacy and material breach through the ABC can terminate if certain upgrade work is not commenced by 31 December 2004 and the ABC can terminate if the conditions precedent for the agreement are not met by 7 September 2005.

Digital Television Broadcasting Agreements

SBS Digital Services Deal
Between SBS Australia and SBS (referred to as Digital Services Deal on 30 April 2009) SBS Digital Services Deal. There is no specific term, however, SBS may not make a request of Broadcast Australia after 31 December 2010 and any agreement made pursuant to the deal must expire no later than 31 December 2020. The deal establishes a framework for the negotiation of formal digital transmission service agreements between SBS and Broadcast Australia and can only be used at SBS's election. Under the deal:

- SBS may commence negotiations by making a request of Broadcast Australia for the supply of digital services. Broadcast Australia must respond to the request (except in a limited number of circumstances), and SBS may elect if negotiations are to take place. If SBS does so, it must acquire the services from Broadcast Australia; and
- SBS may also make tenders for the supply of digital services. If tenders are invited Broadcast Australia must be invited to tender and has the best right to match any genuine third party offers.

Both parties have termination rights where a party ceases to carry on business and mutual default. The deal has been superseded in relation to the area covered by SBC Digital Television Heads of Agreement. SBS and Broadcast Australia have entered into negotiations for the supply of digital transmission services for Hobart, Darwin, Cairns and 77 locations in New South Wales and Queensland, thus removing them from the application of the deal.

SBS digital television - Heads of Agreement - Digital Television Transmission Services No. 7
Broadcast Australia, SBS and NTL executed a binding Heads of Agreement on 8 March 2009 (SBS Digital Television Heads of Agreement). The agreement commenced on 8 March 2009 and terminates on the earlier of the entry by the parties into a longform agreement or 31 December 2015. Under the terms of this agreement Broadcast Australia is required to transmit SBS digital television transmission services in Sydney, Melbourne, Perth, Adelaide and Brisbane. Broadcast Australia must also operate the transmitter in accordance with specified performance levels and must commission, maintain and operate standby facilities in each of these cities. In addition, Broadcast Australia must provide improved SBS analogue services in Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Adelaide and Perth, an improved SBS FM service in Melbourne and associated consultancy and planning services.

Charges are payable by SBS monthly in arrears on a per-locity basis from the date of commencement of each transmission service. Charges may be reduced in a number of circumstances including if a standby facility would, if required, be unable to provide the transmission service, if the transmission service is provided by a standby facility in excess of a specified period of time, where there has been a delay in obtaining planning approvals, where there has been a variation of the charges as contemplated in the agreement and where a particular transmission service has been terminated. Charges are subject to annual escalation. SBS is entitled to service credits in respect of each transmission service where the total transmission time charges are not met in the agreement or not met or if the standby facility cannot provide the transmission service when required to do so. The amount of service credits to which SBS is entitled to during any particular period is limited.

Both parties have termination rights in respect of inaccuracy and material default. In addition to these rights SBS may terminate the entire agreement for non-permitted changes in control of Broadcast Australia. SBS may also terminate an individual transmission service if certain faults occur in a specified period and are not remedied within the time specified by SBS. SBS can terminate the entire agreement if a breach would result in the transmission services being provided to less than the specified percentage of the population coverage of all the services.

NTL guaranteed Broadcast Australia's performance of its obligations in the event of certain inaccuracy events occurring.

The total liability of Broadcast Australia in contract for, negligence or otherwise is limited in each year to the total annual amount of the charges for all the transmission services or capped at levels agreed to by the parties.

Under the terms of SBS's Contract, SBS consented to the Share Sale Agreement and the change in control and guaranteed provisions of the agreement were amended in substantially the same terms as the amendments to SBS Analogue Transmission Agreement to permit the OTR.

ABC Digital Television Agreement
 Broadcast Australia and ABC entered a Comprehensive Wide Area Network Digital Terrestrial
 Transmission Broadcasting Agreement on 6 December 2000 (DTTB). The agreement supersedes a deal between the ABC and Broadcast Australia in earlier terms to SBS Digital Services Deal. The significant difference between the ABC and SBS digital television deal is that the ABC has already agreed that Broadcast Australia is the provider of terrestrial transmission services for all areas from which the ABC is to broadcast its digital signal in Australia, whereas SBS is contracting its digital television transmission requirements on a placement basis. Under the DTTB, there is a separate 15-year term for each individual transmission service provided under the agreement commencing on the commissioning date of the relevant service, with an option for the ABC to extend for a further five years. The agreement terminates on the date of expiry of the last transmission service provided under the agreement.

Under the terms of the agreement, Broadcast
 Australia must:

- prepare implementation plan in relation to proposed digital services and associated planning activities
- design and construct digital transmission facilities when directed to by the ABC, and
- provide digital transmission services from those facilities in accordance with specified service plans.

Implementation plans for Brisbane, Melbourne, Sydney,
 Perth and Adelaide had been approved by the Minister prior to entry into the agreement and funding secured.

Under the DTTB, Broadcast Australia has commenced digital transmission in the following locations:
 Sydney, Melbourne, Perth, Adelaide, Brisbane, Hobart,
 Darwin, Cairns, Newcastle and the Sunshine Coast.
 Ministerial approval of implementation plans had already been obtained for a significant number of new services that are expected to commence service during the remainder of calendar 2002 and during calendar 2003.

The ABC must use reasonable endeavours to request at least 30 facilities to be constructed each year, but may not request more than 99 without Broadcast Australia's consent. However, there is no requirement on the ABC to request Broadcast Australia to build facilities where it has not obtained the relevant ministerial approval or funding, in addition the ABC may terminate the provision of individual broadcast services where there are commissioning delays that are within the assumed control of Broadcast Australia or serious operational faults, and may, terminate the entire agreement if a specified number of individual services are terminated in this way.

Changes to the DTTB only occur in circumstances where it has been constructed and implemented in accordance with specified terms and conditions procedure. There are no separate requirements in relation to the planning and design for transmission charges are payable monthly in arrears. Charges apply on a site by site basis and are subject to variation in certain limited circumstances, and to inclusion, exclusions apply for service level to used and there are also volume discounts. Charges operate on a "take or pay" basis so that the ABC must pay for transmission services even if it fails to deliver an input signal at the site for broadcast except where an intervening event that is a force majeure or a change in law occurs.

Both parties have termination rights in respect of insolvency and payment default. The ABC does not have the right to terminate the agreement for individual services at will during the 15-year term of any service, however, the ABC may terminate the entire agreement where more than a specified number of individual transmission services have been terminated by it for default or breach by Broadcast Australia under the agreement.

Schedules of service charges are the only commercially available to the ABC in respect of any breach of the agreement by Broadcast Australia, unless the breach involves willful default, gross negligence or recklessness by Broadcast Australia in which case liability is capped to a level agreed to by the parties. Breach of Broadcast Australia's planning obligations entitles the ABC to sue for damages capped at a level agreed to by the parties. If a facility has not been commissioned within six months of the relevant start date the ABC may terminate the relevant service and Broadcast Australia must reimburse the ABC for all costs and expenses resulting from the failure to be agreed equipment maximum. There is a mutual uncapped indemnity for damage which one party suffers as a result of the default of the other on a transmission site. In addition, the ABC indemnifies Broadcast Australia for losses caused by the breach of any broadcast or the operation of a transmission facility, in accordance with the relevant licence, and Broadcast Australia indemnifies the ABC if it breaches the conditions of a transmission licence. NTL has guaranteed the performance of Broadcast Australia's obligations under the agreement. Both its cash resources were captured under the DTTB. The Agreement by NTL to NTL, it returns under the guarantee. Broadcast Australia is required to and has provided a $10 million performance bond in respect of its day-to-day transmission obligations.

Satellite Downlink Services - Optus Television
 Broadcast Australia and Optus Networks Pty Limited entered into a downlink services agreement on 5 February 2007 (Optus Downlink Agreement). The agreement must be read together with a deed entered into between the parties and the ABC on the same date (Optus Variation Agreement). The agreement commenced on 8 February 2007. The agreement continues for a period of 10 years from the date on which the last downlink service is commissioned. Optus may extend the term for an additional period of five years. The agreement corresponds with an agreement between Optus and the ABC for Optus to provide services to the ABC for the satellite distribution of digital television signals from ABC studios in various transmission service areas around Australia. As part of these services, Optus has entered into the agreement with Broadcast Australia to downlink digital signals from its studios to Broadcast Australia's land based transmission network in Australia. Under the amended agreement Broadcast Australia must where required by Optus:

- construct, integrate, operate and maintain downlink sites, and
- test and commission downlink services.

Optus must not limit, or retain, any person other than Broadcast Australia to construct or provide any downlink service in the future and other specified in the agreement.

As in Broadcast Australia's agreement with the ABC, Optus cannot require Broadcast Australia to construct more than 90 downlink sites in any year without consent. Service charges are payable annually for each downlink service and are payable in the case of non-commissioning of each service. The amount payable depends on the class or type of each service. Service charges are subject to annual indexation. Service rebates are payable by Broadcast Australia for failure to meet certain specified performance levels. If the agreement is terminated by Optus, the service charges payable for that period are to be negotiated between the parties.

Optus may suspend payment of the service charges to terminate a downlink service where Broadcast Australia breaches certain service levels. Both parties must exercise rights in respect of insolvency and material default. However, Optus may terminate the agreement if it is not satisfied the service charges for the remaining term of the agreement will be discounted at a significant rate.

Each party indemnifies the other for any injury or death of the other's personnel in relation to the downlink services other than as a result of negligence or a willful act of the other, any claim made by the other as a result of the act or omission of the party giving the indemnity, or damage or destruction to property by the party giving the indemnity. Optus indemnifies Broadcast Australia for losses incurred by Broadcast Australia as a result of the breach of its confidentiality provisions contained in the agreement. Service credits are the only compensation payable by Broadcast Australia for breach of the agreement unless the breach involves willful default, recklessness or negligence by Broadcast Australia. In the case of willful default, recklessness or negligence by Broadcast Australia, Optus is entitled to service credits or damages to a level agreed to by the parties. In the case of Optus, Broadcast Australia may seek damages to a level agreed to by the parties for any breach or series of breaches. These limits do not apply in the case of personal injury or death, damage to property caused by willful default, recklessness or negligence, breach of intellectual property rights, insurance provisions or confidentiality provisions. Each party has excluded all liability for consequential loss.

Service and Assistance Agreements

Operations and Maintenance - TVM2
 Broadcast Australia and TVM2 entered into an Operations and Maintenance Agreement dated 4 June 1999 which was amended by a Splicing Needs of Agreement dated 3 July 2001 (Splicing, O&M Agreement), a Marketing Agreement, Marketing Agreement and a Design and Build Agreement (Design and Build Agreement). Under the O&M Agreement, TVM2 is required to operate and maintain Broadcast Australia's wire transmission network. The agreement commenced on 1 July 1999 and expires on 31 December 2009. Broadcast Australia is required to purchase all additional and maintenance services for purchasing and associated services exclusively from TVM2. Under the Marketing Agreement, TVM2 is appointed as the sole prime contractor for their maintenance (including upgrading, upgrading, replacement and minor maintenance but excluding design and build) for the term of this agreement.

At the end of the term Broadcast Australia has the option to re-appoint another or TVM2 continued in Broadcast Australia, but TVM2 assets and equipment and to be assigned the benefit of contracts entered into by TVM2 for the provision of operations and maintenance services.

Service charges are detailed in the agreement for each type of the agreement and are payable in monthly instalments in arrears. Charges for the replacement of digital transmission services may be included but not a capped rate for these services.

TVNZ is required to reimburse Broadcast Australia for any service credits Broadcast Australia incurs to SSG in the AGC under any transmission services agreement if those service credits are incurred due to TVNZ's failure to properly perform its obligations under the agreement, subject to a specified annual cap. The liability of TVNZ for service credits is limited to a specified annual amount.

TVNZ has provided a bank guarantee of up to $1.5 million and an indemnity from its parent company. TVNZ indemnifies Broadcast Australia for all loss and damage to the property of Broadcast Australia, the loss of income by Broadcast Australia, and any claim by a person in respect of personal injury arising out of the negligence of TVNZ. Broadcast Australia may rely on the guarantee in the event of the failure of TVNZ to perform any obligation under the agreement or on the termination or partial termination of the agreement. Broadcast Australia may rely on the indemnity in the event of the default or the termination or partial termination of the agreement by TVNZ.

Broadcast Australia may terminate the agreement in respect of material breach or a change in control. Both parties may terminate the agreement on termination of the marketing agreement described above. Broadcast Australia is not liable for a claim in respect of the breach of the agreement unless TVNZ notifies Broadcast Australia within a specified period of the date on which TVNZ could reasonably have been aware of the breach.

TVNZ Marketing Agreement
Broadcast Australia Holdings, Broadcast Australia and TVNZ executed the Marketing Agreement on 14 June 1999. The agreement was amended by a binding Heads of Agreement dated 3 July 2001 (Amended Marketing Agreement). Under the amended agreement the parties agree to jointly market facilities operated by Broadcast Australia (in particular the National Operations Centre/Business Operations Centre) and the marketing services provided by TVNZ. Where an opportunity to market the services arises, the relevant party must inform the other party of the opportunity and decide whether they are to jointly market or expressly waived in the opportunity. The agreement commenced on 14 June 1999 and continues until 31 December 2009. No payments are required to be made under the amended agreement.

Both parties have termination rights in respect of the agency and related debt and may also terminate the agreement if the O&M Agreement or the Design and Build Agreement has terminated. If the agreement is terminated, the party entitled to terminate the agreement may also terminate these other agreements. The parties agreed not to sue each other or sue to complete the work in the event of the other party terminating in Australia on or after 1 December 2001. To the appropriate extent of the other party's obligations under the other party's contract with TVNZ.

If a change of control occurs in relation to a party or there is a breach of the non-compete provisions, then:

- where the affected party is TVNZ, and in TVNZ's reasonable opinion, the change of control poses a material threat to the core business of TVNZ, TVNZ may terminate the agreement and Broadcast Australia cannot exercise the option to acquire TVNZ assets under the O&M Agreement, and
- where the affected party is Broadcast Australia, Broadcast Australia may terminate the agreement provided the earliest expiry date cannot be before 31 December 2004 and Broadcast Australia may exercise the option to acquire TVNZ assets under the O&M Agreement.

TVNZ consented to the Share Sale Agreement and the subsequent listing of MGL, contemplated by the Prospectus. The consent to change of control applies whilst Morgan Bank or a wholly owned Morgan Bank entity is Manager.

Design and Build Contracts

Broadcast Australia has design and build/construct contracts with the following contractors: TVNZ, Transfield, NCC and ESSA. The contracts relate to the extension of Broadcast Australia's network. These agreements incorporate Australian Standards contractor terms, except in relation to the following matters under the TVNZ agreement:

- TVNZ is guaranteed a maximum level of design and built work until 31 December 2003 subject to Broadcast Australia being authorised to maintain a sufficient number of new and/or upgraded transmission services. If Broadcast Australia is commissioned to provide new and/or upgraded transmission services and does not comply with TVNZ to provide those services, Broadcast Australia must pay to TVNZ an amount calculated in accordance with the terms of the agreement. In certain circumstances Broadcast Australia may reduce the minimum level of work required to be given to TVNZ and in all circumstances may accept any third party to perform the work; and
- the parties have the usual termination rights provided that either party may terminate the agreement if the O&M Agreement or Marketing Agreement are terminated. Broadcast Australia may terminate its contract with TVNZ in the event of the termination of a contract of extension of the network operated by Broadcast Australia, provided that such termination is necessary or desirable to complete a project.

Technical Assistance Arrangements

NTL, Broadcast Australia and MCAH, agreed under the Share Sale Agreement for technical support arrangements to be provided by NTL and relevant subsidiaries in the UK to Broadcast Australia, for a five year period from the date of completion of the Share Sale Agreement, being 2 April 2002. Under an agreement dated 2 July 2002 (which expired on 2 April 2007) National Telecommunications Limited (a UK subsidiary of NTL) has agreed to provide technical assistance of a specified level to Broadcast Australia in relation to:

- the design, deployment, operation and maintenance of technical facilities in television, radio and satellite broadcasting; and
- technical feasibility and costing analysis and financial feasibility modelling.

NTL and National Telecommunications Limited have also agreed to, largely at their cost, provide the employees with the appropriate skills and training to provide the said technical assistance on a cost recovery basis. Broadcast Australia may terminate the technical assistance arrangement with National Telecommunications Limited for standard recovery events and a material breach by NTL or National Telecommunications Limited.

Financing Arrangements

Senior Subscription Agreement

The Senior Subscription Agreement dated 25 June 2002 is between Finance SPV as borrower, Deutsche Bank PLC, Australian branch as agent (Agent), Barclays Bank PLC as finance and asset manager (Financier), and Broadcast Australia, Broadcast Australia Holdings and Finance SPV No. 2 (as Obligors).

Two non new facilities totaling $175 million are available to Finance SPV under the agreement:

- the Capital Expenditure facility - a credit revolving cash advance facility with a facility limit of $150 million; and
- the Working Capital facility - a credit revolving cash advance facility with a facility limit of $25 million.

The loan rolls are direct, senior and secured obligations of Finance SPV.

The Financier is committed to provide the facilities to Finance SPV. A Financier may decline its obligation in the facilities to a particular Finance SPV if the conditions mentioned set out in the agreement. Macquarie Bank Limited has entered into a participation with the Financier for 50% of the said commitments under the facilities.

The purpose of funds advanced under:

- the Capital Expenditure facility is mainly to fund capital expenditure of Broadcast Australia other than capital expenditure related to maintenance of NTL Communications Pty Limited; and
- the Working Capital facility is to finance the Broadcast Australia Group's ongoing working capital needs and for general corporate purposes.

Part of the unused facility limit under the Senior Subscription Agreement will be mandatorily cancelled if a specified number of SBS revenue contracts in respect of certain specified areas are not issued to Broadcast Australia.

Interest on the facilities is payable at the bank NIB (ARBSY) plus a margin depending on the interest cover ratio and the senior debt credit rating of Finance SPV at the relevant time.

Both facilities are available for a period of five years from the date of the agreement. All loan amounts under the facilities must be repaid in full at the end of the period (Final Redemption Date).

Mandatory early redemption of the loan rolls applies in some circumstances including if Finance SPV's interest cover ratio of both the credit rolls below specified cash sweep levels (using cover which is otherwise available for distributions to shareholders). The facility limit under the facilities will be permanently reduced by mandatory early redemption and any amounts may not be redrawn. Voluntary early redemption can also be made but will not reduce the facility limit (and consequently may be redrawn).

It is a review event if the Commonwealth causes to own at least 51% of ASO and BES or if Macquarie Bank ceases to be a facility agent as least 51% of the ordinary shares of Broadcast Australia. If a review event occurs, the Financier may elect to suspend the facilities. However, if no agreement is reached within the specified review period, then the Financier may require full repayment of the facilities before the Final Redemption Date.

Broadcast Australia Group's debt is payable through, by bank shares, 100% capital or more other debt under a Staged Security Mechanism (as defined in certain circumstances, including if Finance SPV's interest cover ratio of both the credit rolls below specified "trigger" levels, in which case debt repayments below a specified grade of the debt rolls, upon the relevant interest below) or regularly (under the specified level of distributions of cash or potential assets of debt roll holders). Distributions to Staged Security Holders are also subject to an interest cover of 1.25x under FY 2000, 1.45x under FY 2001, 1.65x under FY 2002, 1.85x under FY 2003 and 2.00x under FY 2004.

The following fees must be paid by Finance SPV.

- a commitment fee on the trust deed facility and for the facilities. The fee varies depending on Finance SPV's interest cover ratio at the time;
- an agency fee to the Agent; and
- an establishment fee to the lead arrangers of the facilities.

The agreement contains the representations and warranties and undertakings (including negative covenants) given by the Broadcast Australia Group. Finance SPV's undertakings include the establishment and maintenance of a debt service reserve account in the first year of the Facility (with minimum required balances ranging from $20 million in 30 June 2005 up to $25 million by 31 March 2006) in certain circumstances. Apart from some limited exceptions, moneys in the debt service reserve account can only be used to repay the Facility, if any of the cost saving ratios are triggered and no Loan Notes are outstanding under the Facility at the time. Finance SPV must pay moneys otherwise available for distribution to shareholders into a Cash Reserve Account. Amounts can only be withdrawn from the Cash Reserve Account to fund expenditure otherwise permitted to be funded by the Senior Subscription Agreement.

The agreement contains events of default provisions customary for this type of financing. These include a failure to satisfy certain financial ratios (including the interest cover ratio or the loan to cover ratio). Some of the events of default are beyond the control of the Broadcast Australia Group. If an event of default occurs, the Finance Trust, by notice to Finance SPV, declare all moneys to be immediately due and payable, cancel undrawn commitments under the Facilities and/or request enforcement of the Securities, subject to the terms of the Security Trust Deed.

Note Trust Deed and related Note Documents
The Note Trust Deed (Note Trust Deed) dated 21 June 2002 is between Finance SPV and Broadcast Australia, Broadcast Australia Holdings and Finance SPV (to be Guarantors (Guarantors)), Amcor Assurance Corporation (Financial Guarantor) and J.P. Morgan Institutional Services Australia Limited as Note Trustee, and others.

The deed constitutes the Note Trustee as trustee of the note trust for the benefit of holders of the Notes. The holders of Notes receive their payments under the deed through the Note Trustee and do not have direct rights of enforcement or recourse to the securities against Finance SPV.

The deed also contains the terms and conditions of the Notes to be issued by Finance SPV. There are three tranches of Notes as documented in pricing supplement issued by Finance SPV dated 3 July 2002:

- Series No. 1 fixed rate Notes maturing 9 July 2007 for $250 million;
- Series No. 2 floating rate Notes maturing 9 July 2009 for $250 million (issued at a discount of 99.999%); and
- Series No. 3 floating rate Notes maturing 9 July 2012 for $150 million (issued at a discount of 99.956%).

The deed sets out the powers and responsibilities of the Note Trustee (subject to the rights of the Financial Guarantor and the provisions of the Security Trust Deed (as defined below)).

The deed contains various undertakings including negative covenants given by Finance SPV and the Guarantors to the Note Trustee on behalf of the holders. It also contains events of default, some of which are beyond the control of the Broadcast Australia Group and sets out the rights and obligations of the Note Trustee following the occurrence of an event of default. If an event of default occurs, the Note Trustee may, by notice to Finance SPV, declare all moneys to be immediately due and payable under the Notes and/or request enforcement of the Securities, subject to the terms of the Security Trust Deed.

The deed also contains procedures for the Note Trustee to make claims on the Financial Guarantor under the Financial Guarantees (as defined below) if Finance SPV or the Guarantors fail to make a scheduled payment of principal or interest due under the Notes or where such payment is recovered from the holder of a note pursuant to Australian insolvency law.

Reimbursement Agreement
The Reimbursement Agreement (Reimbursement Agreement) dated 26 June 2002 is between Finance SPV and Broadcast Australia and Broadcast Australia Holdings as Guarantors (Guarantors), the Financial Guarantor and others.

Finance SPV agreed to pay the Financial Guarantor an amount equal to all amounts paid by the Financial Guarantor under the Financial Guarantees (as defined below) and indemnifies it against any loss, claim and liability of the Financial Guarantor in relation to the Notes. This clause gives the Financial Guarantor the full subrogation to the Note Trustee to the extent of any amount paid by the Financial Guarantor in respect of the Notes.

Broadcast Australia Group is obliged to pay dividends to its shareholders, through capital or other distributions to Special Security Holders as provided in certain circumstances, including if Finance SPV's interest cover ratio or debt service cover ratio falls below specified levels or if there is an event of default or potential event of default occurs.

The agreement contains representations, warranties and covenants (including negative covenants) given by Finance SPV and the Guarantor to the Financial Guarantor. The agreement also contains events of default some of which are beyond the control of Finance SPV and the Guarantor, including where any single transferee (other than MCG) or a subsidiary of MCG (collectively "MCG") acquires directly or indirectly at least 50% of the ordinary shares of Broadcast Australia and Finance SPV has failed to provide to the Financial Guarantor a letter from Standard and Poor's and Moody's affirming that the rating of the Notes, without the benefit of the Financial Guarantee, is not less than BBB and Baa2 respectively, and the Notes have not been rated within 140 days, or if the Commonwealth Government ceases to own more than 50% of the issued shares of the ABC and if the Notes have not been rated within 270 days, or if the Commonwealth Government ceases to own or control more than 50% of the issued shares of the ABC or SBS and this has a material adverse effect on Broadcast Australia's ability to perform its obligations under the finance documents. An event of default enables the Financial Guarantor (subject to the Security Trust Deed) to declare its independence of Finance SPV to the Financial Guarantor to be due and payable. An event of default under the Reimbursement Agreement also constitutes an event of default under the Note Trust Deed, which permits the Note Trustee to accelerate the Notes if it is so instructed by the Financial Guarantor.

Financial Guarantee

The Financial Guarantee (Financial Guarantee) dated 9 July 2005 is given by the Financial Guarantor in favour of the Note Trustee (who holds a trust of the holders of the Notes).

Under the Financial Guarantee, the Financial Guarantor guarantees scheduled payments of principal and interest due under the Notes.

Subject to certain customary exceptions, the Financial Guarantor will pay certain additional amounts received in US and Australia withstanding its status as long as creditors of the Notes submit certain US tax forms.

Following the occurrence of an event of default, the Financial Guarantor may accelerate payments under the Notes and pay unpaid principal and interest under the Notes.

The Financial Guarantor is subject to the rights of holders of the Notes, to the extent the Financial Guarantor makes a payment to the Note Trustee on behalf of the holders of the Notes.

Hedging Agreements

Finance SPV has entered, or will enter, into interest rate hedging agreements with various parties (including Barclays Bank PLC) (Hedge Counterparties) under the Senior Subscription Agreement and the Reimbursement Agreement. Finance SPV has agreed to hedge not less than 75% of its floating interest rate exposures on a 5 year rolling basis. The interest rate hedging agreements include a mutual early termination clause exercisable by either Finance SPV or the Hedge Counterparty upon the earlier of the maturity of the Senior Subscription Agreement or a refinancing of those facilities. Amounts owing under the hedging agreements to the Hedge Counterparties are secured by the securities granted to the Security Trustee.

Existing Subscription Agreement

The Subscription Agreement (Existing Subscription Agreement) dated 20 March 2001, last amended on or about 9 July 2005 is between Finance SPV, Broadcast Australia, J.P. Morgan Institutional Services Australia Limited as security trustee (Existing Security Trustee) and notes.

This is the agreement under which Finance SPV originates most of the proceeds of the capital raised notes as well as funds borrowed from the Financial Guarantor under the Senior Subscription Agreement to Broadcast Australia.

The provision of financial accommodation under it is agreed to by way of issue of debentures by Broadcast Australia subscribed for by Finance SPV. Finance SPV is the sole guarantor of debentures under this agreement with the exception of the National Australia Bank Limited (NAB) which holds a $100 debenture.

The terms under which Finance SPV lends to Broadcast Australia are "back to back" with the terms under which Finance SPV borrows the US dollars from the Financial Guarantor. However, the cash may be provided through an additional margin over the dollar to Broadcast Australia in certain circumstances.

Security Trust Deed, Debenture Trust Deed and Securities

The Security Trust Deed (Security Trust Deed) dated 20 June 2002 has amended pursuant to an amending deed dated 20 June 2009 is between Finance SPV, Broadcast Australia and Broadcast Australia Holdings as guarantors, J.P. Morgan Institutional Services Australia Limited as the security trustee, Security Trustee and various secured creditors.

The deed constitutes the Security Trustee as trustee of the security trust for the benefit of the secured creditors from time to time. The secured creditors include the Financiers and the holders of Notes.

Finance SPV has granted all assets fixed and floating charges to the Security Trustee to be held under the security trust. Finance SPV's main asset is its rights under the Dealing Subscription Agreement, the Debenture Trust Deed (described below) and the SubCo Documents.

The deed includes a guarantee from Broadcast Australia, Broadcast Australia Holdings and Finance SPV No. 2 of Finance SPV's obligations under the Senior Subscription Agreement and the Note documents. However, this guarantee is not directly secured and so provides only an unsecured right to the Security Trustee to sue Broadcast Australia, Broadcast Australia Holdings and Finance SPV No. 2 for the guaranteed amounts.

The deed also regulates certain interrelationships between the various classes of secured creditors (being senior creditors, mortgage creditors and subordinated creditors) and deals with matters such as:

- priority ranking of debt and security between the different classes of creditors;
- enforcement rights in relation to the security following the occurrence of an event of default as between different classes of creditors and as between senior and mortgage creditors; and
- enforcement of the deed and other financing documents.

At present, there are no mechanisms for subordination creditors, though there is a provision for those creditors to be added to the security trust arrangement.

The Debenture Trust Deed (Debenture Trust Deed) dated 30 March 2001 has amended in its current July 2009 version between Broadcast Australia and the Existing Security Trustee.

The deed constitutes the security trust under which the Existing Security Trustee holds the securities for the benefit of holders of debentures being only Finance SPV not NAB, under the Dealing Subscription Agreement.

The following security is provided in favour of the Existing Security Trustee to be held under the security trust:

- all assets loan and floating charges granted by Broadcast Australia (there are four charges in total); and
- a share mortgage over Broadcast Australia shares granted by Broadcast Australia Holdings to the Existing Security Trustee.

J.P. Morgan Institutional Services Australia Limited is paid a fee for each of the security trustee and corporate trustee roles it undertakes under the finance documents.

Under the SubCo Documents, Finance SPV remains part of the proceeds of the capital markets raise about to Finance SPV No. 2. In return, Finance SPV No. 2 has granted an all assets loan and floating charge in favour of the security trustee under a security trust held for the benefit of Finance SPV.

11.13 Litigation and Administration Action

On 24 May 2002 the NSW Court of Appeal handed down its judgment in Minister for Land and Water Conservation v NTI, Australia Pty Ltd (2002) NSWCA 149. These proceedings related to the Mt Sugarloaf Interim Order (the Interim Order) occupied by Broadcast Australia under a permissive occupancy granted by the New South Wales Department of Land and Water Conservation. The Court of Appeal held that the permissive occupancy granted to the Commonwealth had been terminated when the Commonwealth sought to transfer its occupancy rights to Broadcast Australia without consent. Therefore those rights were not effectively referred to Broadcast Australia.

As well from the Mt Sugarloaf transmission site, the decision potentially affects a small number of other transmission sites. Broadcast Australia has rights to occupy the Mt Sugarloaf transmission site and each of those other sites arising from its continued occupancy with the land owners' consent and payment of rent to them under the terms of the agreements in relation to Broadcast Australia in 1995. Broadcast Australia is in negotiations with the relevant land owners to formalise occupancy arrangements. Broadcast Australia does not expect that the decision will affect its ability to obtain transmission rights from those sites.

 $20\% \times ($800,000 - (-$415,501,925))$

As the Return for the period is greater than the Benchmark Return for the period, a Performance Fee is payable in respect of the period to the extent of $814,303.

| PERFORMANCE FEE PERIOD 3 | |
|--------------------------|---|
| (A) | Average market capitalization of MCG over the last 15 trading days of the previous period $344,100,000 |

 $= $3,200,000$

Benchmark Return for the period

 $= $24,554,545$

Performance Fee for the period
 $= 20\% \times ($3,200,000 - ($24,554,545))$
 $= $0$ since Return < Benchmark Return

Deficit carried forward into next period
 $= ($24,554,545 - $3,200,000)$
 $= $21,354,545$

As the Return is less than the Benchmark Return, the Performance Fee is payable in respect of the period and a deficit of $21,354,545 is carried forward into the next period.

Example 4

Assumptions

| PERFORMANCE FEE PERIOD 4 | |
|--------------------------|---|
| (A) | Average market capitalization of MCG over the last 15 trading days of the previous period $350,300,000 |

 $= A \times (C - B) / B$
 $= $350,300,000 \times (1.17 - 1.13) / 1.13$
 $= $12,400,000$

Benchmark Return for the period
 $= (A \times Z - Y) / Y$
 $= $350,300,000 \times (4464 - 4394) / 4394$
 $= $27,692,742$

Performance Fee for the period
 $= 20\% \times ($12,400,000 - ($27,692,742 + D))$
 $= 20\% \times ($12,400,000 - ($27,692,742 - $18,264,545))$
 $= $0$ since Return < Benchmark Return + Deficit

Deficit carried forward into next period
 $= ($27,692,742 + $18,264,545 - $12,400,000)$
 $= $33,557,287$

The Return is greater than the Benchmark Return for the period, however, because the sum of the Benchmark Return and the deficit is a result, the Performance Fee is payable in respect of the period and a deficit of $33,557,287 is carried forward into the next period.

ASX/Media Release

Monday July 8, 2002

GROUP OFFER SUCCESSFULLY UNDERWRITTEN

Macquarie Bank Limited (MBL) today announced that an Offer of 155 million stapled securities of Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group (MCIG) at $2.00 per security has been fully underwritten by the joint lead managers JB Were, UBS Warburg and Macquarie Equities. This follows a roadshow to institutional investors in Australia and overseas.

The cornerstone asset of MCIG at listing will be Broadcast Australia - the owner and operator of national broadcast transmission infrastructure used by broadcasters ABC and SBS, regional television and other organisations - which MBL in February 2002 announced it had agreed to acquire for an enterprise value of $850 million from NTL Inc.

Following refinancing and the exclusion of a 51 per cent interest in a start-up telecommunications carrier, NTL Telecommunications, the Broadcast Australia business is being valued at $440 million under the Offer. This comprises $270 million equity value, $650 million of gross debt and $20 million of deferred consideration which is payable to the previous owner of Broadcast Australia.

MBL's return on transferring the Broadcast Australia business into the fund, after taking into account third party costs during its holding period in relation to debt restructuring, legal, accounting, funding etc, is $46 million and reflects $30 million in investment banking fees for advice and debt arranging, and a pre-tax surplus of $16 million for acquiring and holding the asset on its balance sheet.

MBL will subscribe for a minimum of approximately 20 per cent of the Stapled Securities under the Offer. This shareholding, together with any additional shares acquired under the Underwriting arrangements, will be held for at least 12 months. Part of this subscription represents the full reinvestment of MBL's pre-tax return related to its period of holding Broadcast Australia.

A prospectus for the Offer will be lodged with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission this morning and will be available on the ASIC website. The offer is expected to open in mid July.

Dear Shareholder

We maintain the share register for Macquarie Bank Limited.

Since the Macquarie Bank Notice of AGM dated 12 June 2002 was dispatched last month, we have received and processed some proxy forms.

Unfortunately, a small number of completed proxy forms which were lodged with us on or prior to 5 July 2002 were destroyed by a fire before they were processed.

Although we believe that the number of forms destroyed is relatively small, we wish to account for them to ensure that no shareholder is disadvantaged. If you returned your proxy form on or prior to Friday 5 July, please contact us on 1300 835 040 so that we can confirm whether your proxy form has been received and processed. If we cannot confirm that your proxy form has been received and processed, a replacement proxy form will be issued to you immediately for your resubmission.

As the closing date for receipt of proxies is 10:30am, Sydney time on Tuesday 23 July, 2002, your immediate attention to this matter is required.

If you have returned your proxy form to us since Friday 5 July or if you have not already done so, you should disregard this notification. This letter has not been sent to those shareholders whose proxy forms we have already processed.

We thank you for your attention to this matter and apologise for the inconvenience that this incident may have caused.

Yours faithfully

ASX/News Release

Tuesday July 16, 2002

MACQUARIE UNDERWRITES MACQUARIE AIRPORTS' ROME AIRPORT ACQUISITION

A consortium comprising Macquarie Airports Group (MAG), Macquarie Airports (MAp) and the Macquarie Global Infrastructure Fund, today announced it had successfully acquired 44.74 per cent of Aeroporti di Roma (AdR) for €486 million ($842 million) from Leonardo Holdings S.p.A (Leonardo).

Leonardo purchased its airport stake in 1999 and was initially advised by specialist international airport advisory business The Portland Group which provided Leonardo with business advice. Macquarie Bank purchased The Portland Group in 2000 and has provided business advice to Leonardo since then.

Macquarie Bank acted as the adviser to the Macquarie funds consortium on the acquisition. Together with EBS Warburg Australia, Macquarie Equity Capital Markets has jointly underwritten $645 million of a $670 million capital raising for MAp.

Subject to MAp security holder approval, Macquarie Bank will apply for the $25 million balance of the offer (12.5 million securities) via a placement at the original issue price of $2.00 per security. The Bank holds a further 12.7 million securities in MAp, for which it will take up its entitlement offer.

In addition, and to further align the Bank's interests with those of MAp investors, the Bank has agreed to take its base management fee for MAp in newly issued MAp securities at an issue price of $2.00 per security (under an agreed formula) until the price of fully paid securities exceeds $2.00 per security.

03 JUL 14 11:17:21

Macquarie Bank also holds 56 million units in MAG.

Macquarie is offering margin lending and instalment products for investors in MAP.

Instalment Warrants can assist retail security holders wishing to participate in the capital raising. Taking up the entitlement using Instalment Warrants will reduce investors' upfront capital costs by approximately 65 per cent. The Instalment Warrants will be listed on the ASX and entitle holders to the benefits of share ownership such as potential capital growth and dividends.

MACQUARIE BANK SAYS FIRST QUARTER PROFIT WELL UP ON PRIOR CORRESPONDING QUARTER

Macquarie Bank Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer Allan Moss today said the Bank's first quarter profit, for the three months ended June 30, 2002 was well up on the corresponding quarter in 2001.

Speaking at the Bank's 2002 Annual General Meeting at the Westin Hotel in Sydney, Mr Moss said the first quarter's profit was "a very good result". He said the Bank had seen good increases in first quarter earnings from its Investment Banking Group, Treasury and Commodities Group and Banking and Property Group. He said as planned, Macquarie was progressing well on controlling expenses.

Speaking specifically on the Bank's operating groups for the first quarter, Mr Moss noted:

Investment Banking Group is performing well and exceeded last year's result in the first quarter.

Corporate and Structured Finance has had a solid start to the year, ahead of last year, and has a promising deal flow in prospect. For the six months to 30 June, the Bank was placed first in the Thomson league tables for value of Australian merger and acquisition transactions.

Macquarie was also a close second in the equivalent equity capital markets table on total capital raised and ranked first for Initial Public Offerings completed to June 2002.

Structured Finance has commenced the year well. Cross-Border Leasing is meeting expectations with several large transactions successfully completed in the first quarter including US leases for Qantas and Deutsche Telecom.

Infrastructure and Specialised Funds Division has been very active. Macquarie Infrastructure Group (MIG) is a top 30 Australian Stock Exchange vehicle and the airport funds have been involved in the acquisitions of Sydney Airport and a major share of Rome Airport. The Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group (MCIG) has been launched with the seed asset being the broadcast transmission towers of NTL Australia, now managed by Broadcast Australia.

Macquarie Capital continues to show good growth and to develop quality annuity income streams, particularly in Macquarie IT and Macquarie Leasing. Macquarie Equities also continues to perform well and is ahead of its result in the first quarter last year. Deal flow, in a difficult market, remains strong.

Treasury and Commodities Group's first quarter result was a record for the Group and significantly ahead of last year. Foreign Exchange had a notably good quarter with particularly good performances from the derivative sales and trading desks.

Metals and Mining recorded a strong quarter, mainly attributable to the performance of the bullion business. Debt Markets and Treasury also achieved first quarter results significantly ahead of the prior corresponding period.

Banking and Property Group recorded a strong result, well ahead of last year's first quarter. The Group's result was buoyed by the excellent performance of the Property Divisions, mainly due to the listing of the Macquarie ProLogis Trust. Banking and Mortgages both recorded significant increases on the first quarter last year with increased deposits and volumes, respectively.

The Funds Management Group has started the year with funds under management up $3.7 billion (15 per cent) on the prior corresponding period but profits are down slightly, due to the larger performance fees booked in this period last year.

Equity Markets Group has been profitable but the first quarter result was lower than achieved in the prior corresponding period. Australia, Hong Kong and South Africa all recorded profits in excess of those achieved in the first quarter of last year. Restructuring of the European operations was completed during the period.

Despite difficult market conditions in the first quarter, Financial Services Group's result was ahead of the previous corresponding period. The WRAP business had the highest net cash inflows into wrap platforms for the March 2002 quarter and assets under administration reached $5 billion at 30 June. The technology programme is now nearing completion and continues to be delivered on schedule and on budget.

Direct Investments did not realise any assets during the quarter but its underlying investments are doing well. In particular, the approximately 90 per cent owned, coal seam gas producer, CH4, won the tender to supply gas to the new Townsville power station.

OUTLOOK

"Investment of the capital raised in September 2001 will increasingly contribute to growth," Mr Moss said.

"We are confident about the continued growth in specialist funds with increasing numbers of international investors. Equity Markets Group continues to be leveraged to market conditions."

"We anticipate continued strong growth in business from our largest client set, investors and intermediaries. We will also benefit from cost initiatives implemented during the year. Subject to reasonable market conditions, we expect continued growth in revenue and profit."

MACQUARIE BANK LIMITED

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

2002 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING – 25 JULY 2002

(Check against Delivery)

GOOD MORNING LADIES AND GENTLEMEN

WELCOME TO MACQUARIE BANKS' 2002 ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

I AM INFORMED BY THE COMPANY SECRETARY THAT A QUORUM IS PRESENT.

AS WELL AS THE SHAREHOLDERS PHYSICALLY PRESENT HERE THIS MORNING, THE HOLDERS OF 141 MILLION SHARES, OR APPROXIMATELY 70 PER CENT OF THE BANK'S ORDINARY SHARES, ARE REPRESENTED BY PROXIES.

I WOULD ALSO LIKE TO WELCOME HOLDERS OF THE BANK'S CONVERTING PREFERENCE SHARES AND MACQUARIE INCOME SECURITIES.

ALTHOUGH THERE ARE NO RESOLUTIONS TODAY ON WHICH THESE HOLDERS MAY VOTE WE APPRECIATE THE INTEREST YOU HAVE SHOWN BY JOINING US HERE TODAY.

LET ME FIRSTLY TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO INTRODUCE YOUR DIRECTORS AND SOME OF OUR EXECUTIVES.

ON MY LEFT IS YOUR MANAGING DIRECTOR ALLAN MOSS.

NEXT TO HIM IS THE BANK'S CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER GREG WARD, THEN JOHN ALLPASS, LAURIE COX AND BARRIE MARTIN.

ON MY RIGHT IS OUR COMPANY SECRETARY DENNIS LEONG.

NEXT TO HIM, THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN MARK JOHNSON, THEN HELEN NUGENT AND KEVIN MCCANN.

WE CAN NOW TURN TO THE BUSINESS OF THE MEETING.

AS THERE IS A QUORUM PRESENT I DECLARE THIS MEETING OPEN.

DURING TODAY'S MEETING WE WILL DO THREE THINGS.

I WILL BRIEFLY REVIEW OUR RESULTS FOR THE PAST FINANCIAL YEAR AND TALK ABOUT THE BANK'S GOALS AND VALUES.

I WILL THEN ASK ALLAN MOSS TO DISCUSS THE YEAR IN MORE DETAIL AND GIVE YOU A PICTURE OF WHERE WE ARE HEADING.

WE WILL THEN CONSIDER, DISCUSS AND VOTE ON THE RESOLUTIONS SET OUT IN THE NOTICE OF MEETING.

AT THE END OF THE FORMAL PART OF THE MEETING, THE DIRECTORS AND MANY OF OUR SENIOR EXECUTIVES WOULD LIKE YOU TO JOIN US FOR TEA AND COFFEE IN THE FOYER.

AT THE OUTSET, LET ME SAY THAT 2001 WAS AN EXTRAORDINARY YEAR AND THESE REMAIN EXTRAORDINARY TIMES.

IT WAS A YEAR OF ENORMOUS CHALLENGES FOR ALL FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS AND THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT IT TESTED ALL OF US AT MACQUARIE.

WE HAVE SEEN A SERIES OF CONTINUING IMPACTS ON THE WORLD ECONOMY INCLUDING A GLOBAL RECESSION, A TERRORIST ATTACK ON NEW YORK, THE END OF THE TECHNOLOGY COMPANY BUBBLE, BANKRUPTCIES OF UNPRECEDENTED SCALE IN THE UNITED STATES, THE COLLAPSE OF ONE OF AUSTRALIA'S TWO MAJOR AIRLINES, A ROYAL COMMISSION INTO THE COLLAPSE OF A MAJOR AUSTRALIAN INSURANCE COMPANY, THE IMPLOSION OF THE ARGENTINEAN ECONOMY AND CONTINUING ECONOMIC PROBLEMS IN JAPAN.

ANY ONE OF THESE ISSUES ALONE WOULD HAVE BEEN VIEWED AS A VERY SIGNIFICANT BLOW TO FINANCIAL MARKETS.

TOGETHER THEY HAVE SHAKEN PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN CORPORATIONS AND FINANCIAL MARKETS WORLDWIDE.

WHILE THERE IS NO SIMPLE ANSWER TO THE ISSUE OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE, INDIVIDUAL COMPANIES LIKE MACQUARIE BANK NEED TO RENEW THEIR FOCUS ON THE LONG TERM, PRACTICE GOOD CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND DISCLOSURE AND EMPHASISE VALUES LIKE INTEGRITY AND WORKING TO THE HIGHEST POSSIBLE STANDARDS.

DESPITE THE CHALLENGES DURING THE YEAR MACQUARIE WAS ONE OF THE FEW MAJOR INVESTMENT BANKS IN THE WORLD TO RECORD AN INCREASE IN PROFIT.

OUR AFTER TAX PROFIT OF $250 MILLION WAS THREE PER CENT HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR AND WHILE THIS RESULT WAS BELOW OUR OWN EXPECTATIONS, IT WAS SIGNIFICANTLY AHEAD OF OUR GLOBAL PEERS.

IN FACT OVER THE SAME 12 MONTH PERIOD THE PROFITS OF OUR INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENT BANKING COMPETITORS FELL ON AVERAGE BY ABOUT 50 PER CENT.

THIS YEAR'S INCREASE MARKED A DECADE OF CONTINUOUS PROFIT GROWTH FOR MACQUARIE.

THIS CONTINUOUS GROWTH IN VALUE FOR OUR SHAREHOLDERS OVER THE LONG TERM, IS THE ONE OF THE REAL TESTS OF OUR SUCCESS.

WE BELIEVE THAT OUR INVESTORS HAVE THE RIGHT TO EXPECT THAT FROM MACQUARIE.

OUR PRE-TAX PROFIT ROSE TEN PER CENT TO $326 MILLION. THE AFTER TAX RETURN ON AVERAGE ORDINARY SHAREHOLDERS FUNDS WAS 18.7 PER CENT PER ANNUM.

ORDINARY SHAREHOLDERS WILL HAVE RECENTLY RECEIVED THEIR 2002 FINAL DIVIDEND.

IN LINE WITH MACQUARIE'S DISTRIBUTION POLICY THE DIVIDEND FOR THE FULL YEAR TOTALLED 93 CENTS A SHARE AND WAS 70 PER CENT FRANKED.

IMPORTANTLY MACQUARIE BANK IS IN A VERY STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION.

THE TWO KEY TESTS OF FINANCIAL STRENGTH ARE A BANK'S TIER ONE CAPITAL ADEQUACY RATIO AND ITS RATINGS AS DETERMINED INDEPENDENTLY BY THE INTERNATIONAL RATING AGENCIES.

AT MARCH 31 THIS YEAR OUR TIER ONE CAPITAL WAS $1.9 BILLION.

THIS WAS UP OVER $600 MILLION.

OUR TIER ONE RATIO WAS 17.8 PER CENT WHICH IS HIGHER THAN ALL OTHER BANKS IN AUSTRALIA INCLUDING THE MAJOR TRADING BANKS.

OUR CREDIT QUALITY IS VERY SOUND.

BAD DEBT WRITE OFFS WERE 0.16 OF 1 PER CENT FOR THE YEAR TO MARCH 31, 2002 AND HAVE REMAINED BELOW 0.2 PER CENT FOR THE LAST TEN YEARS

SO IN AN EXTRAORDINARILY DIFFICULT TIME, OUR PROFITS GREW, WE STRENGTHENED OUR FINANCIAL POSITION AND WE INCREASED OUR SHARE OF MANY IMPORTANT MARKETS.

BUT WHAT DO WE BELIEVE IS BEHIND THAT CONTINUED, CONSISTENT GROWTH?

WHY ARE WE CONFIDENT THAT IT WILL CONTINUE?

AND WHAT IS IN PLACE TO MANAGE RISKS?

I THINK THE STARTING POINT IS TO UNDERSTAND THAT MACQUARIE BANK IS NOW A MAJOR PARTICIPANT IN WORLD FINANCIAL MARKETS.

BY FOLLOWING A VERY FOCUSED STRATEGY AND A SET OF SIX IMPORTANT PRINCIPLES, A DEDICATED AND COMMITTED STAFF HAVE TAKEN MACQUARIE FROM A HANDFUL OF OFFICES IN 1985 TO NOW BEING RANKED AMONG THE TOP INVESTMENT BANKS IN THE WORLD.

IMPORTANTLY, FROM AN AUSTRALIAN PERSPECTIVE, OF THE TOP 15 INVESTMENT BANKS IN THE WORLD WE ARE THE ONLY ONE HEADQUARTERED IN AUSTRALIA.

MACQUARIE NOW HAS 22 OFFICES IN 15 COUNTRIES.

LAST YEAR, INTERNATIONAL INCOME WAS ABOUT 26 PER CENT OF OUR TOTAL INCOME AND THIS CAME FROM A DIVERSE RANGE OF ACTIVITIES INCLUDING CROSS BORDER LEASING, STRUCTURED PRODUCTS, EQUITIES BROKERAGE, EQUITY DERIVATIVES, TREASURY AND COMMODITIES AND PROPERTY AND FUNDS MANAGEMENT.

WE ARE RECOGNIZED AS A WORLD LEADER IN ARRANGING INFRASTRUCTURE FINANCING.

THE MACQUARIE BANK GROUP IS ALSO ONE OF THE WORLD'S LEADING INFRASTRUCTURE FUND MANAGERS, WITH OUR FLAGSHIP FUND, THE MACQUARIE INFRASTRUCTURE GROUP, OWNING INTERESTS IN TOLL ROADS IN THE UK, OTHER PARTS OF EUROPE, AUSTRALIA AND CANADA.

MACQUARIE ALSO MANAGES INFRASTRUCTURE EQUITY INVESTMENTS IN THE UNITED STATES, SOUTHERN AFRICA AND KOREA.

WHEN WE BEGAN AS MACQUARIE BANK IN 1985 WE HAD NO IDEA THAT AN ORGANIZATION OF ABOUT 480 PEOPLE WOULD TURN INTO THE MACQUARIE BANK OF TODAY.

BUT WE DID HAVE SOME BIG AMBITIONS.

WE DEVELOPED AN AMBITION TO BECOME THE PRE- EMINENT PROVIDER OF FINANCIAL SERVICES OVER THE LONG HAUL.

THIS WAS A PRETTY LOFTY AMBITION FOR A SMALL BANK AT THE WRONG END OF THE WORLD.

IT WAS ALSO A PRETTY LOFTY AMBITION IN AN INDUSTRY WHERE THE ONLY REAL DIFFERENCE BETWEEN INVESTMENT BANKS IS IN THEIR PEOPLE, THEIR REPUTATION AND THEIR CULTURE AND THE CONVENTIONAL WISDOM WAS, AND STILL IS TO SOME EXTENT, THAT ALL THE BEST PEOPLE ARE IN NEW YORK, LONDON, FRANKFURT OR TOKYO.

SO TO BE ABLE TO COMPETE, TO BE ABLE TO MEET THAT LOFTY AMBITION WE HAD TO FIND NICHES IN THE MARKET WHERE WE COULD HAVE A REAL ADVANTAGE.

WE HAD TO HAVE THE DISCIPLINE TO REMAIN FOCUSED ON THOSE NICHES AND NOT BE TEMPTED TO MEET OUR BIGGER AND FINANCIALLY STRONGER COMPETITORS HEAD ON.

WE ALSO HAD TO HAVE AN ABNORMALLY LARGE SHARE OF THE TALENT POOL. WE NEEDED TO MAKE MACQUARIE A PLACE WHERE THE BEST AND BRIGHTEST PEOPLE WANTED TO WORK.

TO DO THAT WE DEVELOPED SIX PRINCIPLES WHICH STILL GUIDE ALL OF US AT MACQUARIE IN 2002.

THESE WERE PUBLISHED IN A BOOKLET CALLED "MACQUARIE BANK – WHAT WE STAND FOR", A BOOKLET THAT IS USED A LOT IN MEETINGS WITH POTENTIAL CLIENTS AND POTENTIAL STAFF MEMBERS.

1. INTEGRITY

THE FIRST OF THE SIX PRINCIPLES IS INTEGRITY.

NO FINANCIAL INSTITUTION AND INCREASINGLY NO OTHER KIND OF INSTITUTION OR ORGANIZATION CAN SURVIVE WITHOUT INTEGRITY.

SOME YEARS AGO WE GAVE OUR TREASURER, PAUL ROBERTSON, THE ADDITIONAL ROLE OF INTEGRITY OFFICER.

ANYONE IN THE BANK CAN GO TO PAUL AND TALK CONFIDENTIALLY ON ANY CONCERN THEY HAVE ABOUT ANY ASPECT OF THEIR WORK OR WHAT THEY

SEE OTHERS DOING THAT MAY BE IN CONFLICT WITH SOUND ETHICAL PRACTICES OR OUR SIX PRINCIPLES.

WE HAVE FOUND PAUL'S ROLE DOES WORK AND MAKES A MAJOR CONTRIBUTION TO GOOD GOVERNANCE.

WHILE ON THE SUBJECT OF INTEGRITY, I SHOULD ALSO CONFIRM THAT ALL OUR ACCOUNTING PRACTICES ARE CONSERVATIVE AND ROBUST AS THEY ALWAYS HAVE BEEN.

2. CLIENT COMMITMENT

THE SECOND IS CLIENT COMMITMENT.

OUR CLIENTS ARE AT THE CENTRE OF ALL THAT WE DO.

OUR CLIENTS INCLUDE INVESTORS AND INTERMEDIARIES, CORPORATES AND GOVERNMENTS AND PROFESSIONALS AND ENTREPRENEURS.

3. STRIVE FOR PROFITABILITY

WE NEED TO STRIVE FOR PROFITABILITY.

ONLY IF WE ARE PROFITABLE CAN WE ATTRACT THE BEST PEOPLE, ATTRACT THE CHEAPEST CAPITAL, DELIVER VALUE TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS AND CONTRIBUTE TO THE BROADER COMMUNITY.

4. FULFILMENT FOR OUR PEOPLE

COMPARED TO MANY COMPANIES IN AND OUTSIDE FINANCIAL SERVICES, OUR STAFF TURNOVER, PARTICULARLY AFTER THE EARLY YEARS OF A PERSON'S CAREER IS VERY LOW AND OUR PEOPLE GENERALLY STAY WITH US FOR A LONG TIME.

ONE OF THE REASONS FOR THIS IS OUR COMMITMENT TO FULFILMENT FOR OUR PEOPLE AND OUR EMPHASIS ON BALANCE BETWEEN WORKPLACE AND PRIVATE LIFE.

5. TEAMWORK

WE ENCOURAGE ALL OUR PEOPLE TO WORK AS A TEAM.

WE WANT TO CREATE AN ENVIRONMENT WHERE FORMAL STRUCTURES AND POLITICS DON'T GET IN THE WAY OF PEOPLE DOING THE BEST JOB THEY CAN FOR OUR CLIENTS.

I WANT TO TAKE THE TIME HERE TO MAKE SPECIAL MENTION OF OUR 91 STAFF IN NEW YORK.

THREE OF THEM WERE IN THE WORLD TRADE CENTRE BUILDINGS AT THE TIME OF THE TERRORIST ATTACKS.

THANKFULLY THEY WERE NOT PHYSICALLY INJURED BUT LIKE ALL NEW YORKERS THEY WENT THROUGH A LONG PERIOD OF EXTRAORDINARY UNCERTAINTY AND STRESS AND ANGUISH.

TO ACKNOWLEDGE THEIR COMMITMENT IN A VERY DIFFICULT TIME, WE MADE A FINANCIAL CONTRIBUTION TO A NUMBER OF THE TRUSTS ESTABLISHED TO LOOK AFTER THE FAMILIES WHO LOST LOVED ONES ON SEPTEMBER 11.

6. HIGHEST STANDARDS.

THE FINAL BUT EQUALLY IMPORTANT PRINCIPLE IS ESTABLISHING AND WORKING TO THE HIGHEST PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS.

WE KNOW THAT WE WILL ONLY ACHIEVE SUPERIOR RETURNS THROUGH THE HIGHEST QUALITY WORK THUS PROVIDING SUPERIOR VALUE TO OUR CLIENTS AND OTHERS WITH WHOM WE DEAL.

I UNDERSTAND THAT WHEN I TALK ABOUT OUR PEOPLE, I KNOW THAT MANY OF YOU THINK OUR SENIOR EXECUTIVES ARE VERY HIGHLY PAID.

THE ISSUE THAT WE FACE IS THIS.

IN MANY WAYS WE HAVE BEGUN TO REALISE THAT AMBITION WE SET BACK IN 1985, WHEN THE BANK WAS FOUNDED OR IN FACT EVEN EARLIER WHEN WE WERE KNOWN AS HILL SAMUEL AUSTRALIA.

WE ARE NOW ONE OF THE TOP 15 INVESTMENT BANKS IN THE WORLD BUT...WE ARE THE ONLY ONE OF THOSE BANKS HEADQUARTERED IN AUSTRALIA.

THE REALITY FOR MACQUARIE BANK IS THAT WE COMPETE FOR TALENT WITH THE BIGGEST FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS IN THE WORLD BOTH HERE AND IN OUR OVERSEAS OFFICES.

WHILE NONE OF OUR MAJOR COMPETITORS HAVE TO DISCLOSE THE REMUNERATION PAID TO EXECUTIVES IN AUSTRALIA, WE KNOW THAT THEIR AUSTRALIAN STAFF ARE ON SIMILAR COMPENSATION PACKAGES TO OUR OWN.

WITH A LARGE AND GROWING OFFSHORE PRESENCE, INCLUDING OPERATIONS IN MANY OF THE MAJOR FINANCIAL CENTRES AROUND THE WORLD, OUR BENCHMARK IS NOT ONLY WHAT BRANCH OFFICES OF INVESTMENT BANKS PAY IN SYDNEY OR MELBOURNE BUT ALSO WHAT THE HEADQUARTERS OF INVESTMENT BANKS PAY IN WALL STREET, OR THE CITY IN LONDON OR IN FRANKFURT OR IN HONG KONG.

WE HAVE A RESPONSIBILITY TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS AND TO OUR INVESTORS TO OFFER REMUNERATION THAT ATTRACTS THE BEST PEOPLE TO MACQUARIE BANK AND KEEPS THEM HERE.

WHAT IS IMPORTANT IS THAT WE HAVE MECHANISMS TO ENSURE WE CAN OBJECTIVELY DETERMINE THE APPROPRIATE LEVEL OF COMPENSATION, THAT THE COMPENSATION IS PRIMARILY PERFORMANCE BASED AND THAT THE COMPENSATION ALIGNS THE INTERESTS OF OUR PEOPLE WITH THE INTERESTS OF SHAREHOLDERS.

THERE ARE THREE MAJOR ELEMENTS TO OUR REMUNERATION POLICY.

THE FIRST ELEMENT IS A MARKET RELATED BASE SALARY.

GIVEN CURRENT MARKET CONDITIONS THERE WILL BE NO INCREASE IN BASE SALARY PAID TO SENIOR EXECUTIVES IN THIS CURRENT YEAR AND INCREASES ELSEWHERE IN THE BANK WILL BE VERY LIMITED.

THE SECOND ELEMENT OF REMUNERATION IS A CASH BONUS WHERE ALL STAFF SHARE IN A PROFIT POOL.

THIS PROFIT POOL IS DETERMINED BY TWO FACTORS:

THE AMOUNT OF NET PROFIT AFTER TAX

AND

THE PROFIT EARNED THAT IS IN EXCESS OF THE COST OF CAPITAL.

FOR SENIOR EXECUTIVES OF THE BANK, THEIR ANNUAL REMUNERATION IS HEAVILY WEIGHTED TOWARDS THEIR PERFORMANCE COMPONENT SO THERE IS A STRONG INCENTIVE FOR THEM TO MAXIMISE THE BANK'S NET PROFIT AND RETURN ON EQUITY

FURTHER, FOR THE BANK'S EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS ... THE TOP 140 EXECUTIVES.... A COMPONENT OF THEIR REMUNERATION IS DEFERRED FOR UP TO TEN YEARS TO ENCOURAGE LONG TERM COMMITMENT TO THE BANK.

THIS DEFERRED COMPONENT IS ALSO SUBJECT TO FORFEITURE IN CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES.

FOR EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS OF THE BANK THERE ARE ALSO PERFORMANCE HURDLES BASED ON THE BANK'S THREE YEAR AVERAGE RETURN ON ORDINARY EQUITY WHICH MUST BE MET BEFORE OPTIONS CAN BE EXERCISED.

AS FAR AS WE ARE AWARE, FEW, IF ANY, OF OUR GLOBAL COMPETITORS IMPOSE PERFORMANCE HURDLES ON THEIR EXECUTIVE OPTION PLANS.

FINALLY ON REMUNERATION, IT'S IMPORTANT TO NOTE THAT THE BANK'S EMPLOYEE OPTION PLAN, WHICH IS AVAILABLE TO ABOUT 20 PERCENT OF THE BANK'S STAFF, PROVIDES FOR VESTING OF OPTIONS OVER A FOUR YEAR PERIOD, FURTHER ENCOURAGING LONGER TERM COMMITMENT.

TOTAL EMPLOYMENT EXPENSES ARE APPROXIMATELY 50 PER CENT OF REVENUE WHICH IS IN LINE WITH OUR COMPETITORS IN AUSTRALIA AND OVERSEAS.

WHEN LOOKING AT DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE OFFICERS REMUNERATION IN THE ANNUAL REPORT IT IS IMPORTANT TO UNDERSTAND THAT THE INCREASE IN THE BASE REMUNERATION FROM THE PREVIOUS YEAR REPRESENTS EMPLOYMENT DECISIONS TAKEN 12 MONTHS AGO AND ALSO THE NUMBERS ATTRIBUTED TO OPTIONS RELATE TO OPTIONS ISSUED IN RESPECT OF THE 2001 FINANCIAL YEAR.

THIS ARISES BECAUSE THE OPTIONS WERE ISSUED SOME TIME AFTER BALANCE DATE. SIMILARLY, THE VALUE OF OPTIONS ISSUED IN RESPECT OF THE 2002 FINANCIAL YEAR WILL APPEAR IN NEXT YEAR'S ANNUAL REPORT.

ON THE ISSUE OF OPTIONS THERE HAS BEEN A LOT OF DISCUSSION RECENTLY ON WHETHER COMPANIES SHOULD TREAT OPTIONS GRANTED TO EMPLOYEES AS EXPENSES.

THE BANK'S VIEW IS THIS:

FIRSTLY WE BELIEVE A COMPANY'S REPORTING OF OPTIONS SHOULD BE TRANSPARENT.

WE ALREADY MAKE MORE DISCLOSURE IN RELATION TO OUR OPTIONS THAN PROBABLY ANY OTHER COMPANY ON THE AUSTRALIAN STOCK EXCHANGE.

AS A RESULT WHEN ANALYSTS LOOK AT MACQUARIE THEY ARE ABLE TO ASSESS THE IMPACT OF OPTIONS ON THE PROFIT AND LOSS ACCOUNT BECAUSE OUR REPORTING IS SO TRANSPARENT.

OUR CURRENT ESTIMATE OF THE AMOUNT THAT WOULD BE EXPENSED IF WE WERE TO ADOPT THE PROPOSED ACCOUNTING STANDARD WOULD BE IN THE ORDER OF $50M BEFORE TAX.

SECONDLY, IF AND WHEN, GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES CHANGE TO TREATING OPTIONS AS AN EXPENSE, WE WILL BE AT THE FOREFRONT OF THAT CHANGE.

OPTIONS ARE PROBABLY THE MOST CONTENTIOUS ISSUE A CHAIRMAN FACES AT QUESTION TIME AT AN ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING AND ONE THAT CAUSES A SIGNIFICANT AMOUNT OF COMMENT IN THE BUSINESS MEDIA.

THE REALITY IS THAT THERE IS ONLY ONE REASON ANY COMPANY USES OPTIONS AND THAT IS TO BE COMPETITIVE IN THE EMPLOYMENT MARKET.

WHILE THEY CAUSE CRITICISM, OPTIONS DO ALIGN THE INTERESTS OF EMPLOYEES AND SHAREHOLDERS.

THEY DO WORK.

WHEN SHAREHOLDERS ARE REWARDED, SO ARE EMPLOYEES.

WHEN SHAREHOLDERS FEEL PAIN, SO TOO DO EMPLOYEES.

CLEARLY, BEING ABLE TO ATTRACT AND RETAIN THE MOST TALENTED PEOPLE IS CRITICAL TO OUR SUCCESS.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT CONTRIBUTOR HAS BEEN OUR STRATEGY.

A VERY IMPORTANT ELEMENT OF THE BANK'S STRATEGY IS TO BUILD STRONG POSITIONS IN IMPORTANT NICHE MARKETS.

ALLAN WILL TALK MORE ABOUT OUR STRATEGY BUT LET ME JUST SAY THAT WE ARE MARKET LEADERS IN IMPORTANT SEGMENTS OF THE GLOBAL INFRASTRUCTURE MARKET SUCH AS ROADS AND AIRPORTS, AND IMPORTANT SEGMENTS OF THE CROSS BORDER STRUCTURED FINANCE MARKET.

THE NET RESULT OF IMPLEMENTING OUR STRATEGY IS THAT TODAY MACQUARIE HAS A MORE FOCUSSED YET MORE DIVERSE BUSINESS MIX THAT GENERATES MORE STABLE PROFITS.

OUR FUNDS ARE INVESTED IN ASSETS THAT ARE PRODUCING AND WILL CONTINUE TO PRODUCE VERY SOLID AND SAFE RETURNS OVER TIME, REGARDLESS OF STOCK MARKET FLUCTUATIONS.

EQUALLY WE HAVE CHANGED THE NATURE OF OUR SOME OF OUR BUSINESSES TO BUILD MORE ANNUITY INCOME INTO OUR BUSINESS MIX.

GIVEN THE SUSTAINABILITY OF OUR EARNINGS, OUR FINANCIAL STRENGTH AND OUR OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE, THE DROP IN OUR SHARE PRICE IS A DISAPPOINTMENT TO ALL OF US INSIDE THE BANK AND I KNOW PARTICULARLY TO YOU.

WE ARE VERY COMMITTED TO CREATING VALUE FOR EVERY INVESTOR IN MACQUARIE.

WHILE ALLAN WILL DETAIL SOME OF THE ACTIONS WE ARE TAKING TO ADDRESS THE ISSUES RAISED BY INVESTORS AND SHAREHOLDERS AND TALK ABOUT OUR SPECIALIST FUNDS, LET ME REITERATE ON BEHALF OF THE BOARD OUR COMMITMENT TO YOU AND TO CREATING AND DELIVERING SHAREHOLDER VALUE.

I ALSO WANT TO ASSURE YOU THAT THERE ARE VERY SOUND AND RIGOROUS PROCESSES IN PLACE TO ENSURE THAT OUR FUNDS BUY GOOD ASSETS AT GOOD VALUES.

THE APPROVAL PROCESS STARTS WITH A RISK ASSESSMENT CARRIED OUT BY THE RELEVANT FUNDS, INCLUDING APPROPRIATE DUE DILIGENCE.

THE APPROVAL PROCESS CONSIDERS FINANCIAL RISK, REPUTATION RISK, FUNDING REQUIREMENTS AND REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS.

IN EACH FUND, THERE ARE INDEPENDENT APPROVAL PROCESSES, WITH SEPARATE BOARDS, INCLUDING INDEPENDENT DIRECTORS WHO CAN, AND DO, SEEK INDEPENDENT ADVICE.

THERE ARE DEDICATED COMPLIANCE RESOURCES TO ENSURE THAT THE FUNDS MEET THEIR PROSPECTUS AND ONGOING COMPLIANCE OBLIGATIONS. THE APPROVAL PROCESSES ARE CONDUCTED WITH THE SAME RIGOUR AND DISCIPLINE AS APPLIES WITHIN THE BANK WHEN IT MAKES AN INVESTMENT DECISION.

FOR EXECUTIVES IN OUR FUNDS MANAGEMENT AREAS, THE PERFORMANCE OF THE RESPECTIVE FUNDS FOR INVESTORS IN THOSE FUNDS, IS A KEY CONSIDERATION IN ASSESSING EXECUTIVE PERFORMANCE.

OVER THE LAST SIX YEARS, MACQUARIE BANK HAS GROWN SIGNIFICANTLY.

WE HAVE MOVED INTO NEW AREAS LIKE ROADS AND AIRPORTS WHERE WE HAVE A MUCH WIDER RELATIONSHIP WITH THE GENERAL COMMUNITY IN AUSTRALIA AND INCREASINGLY OFFSHORE.

WHILE MACQUARIE HAS A TRADITION OF BEING INVOLVED IN THE COMMUNITY, WE NOW MANAGE A NUMBER OF ASSETS THAT ARE IMPORTANT TO THE WIDER COMMUNITY.

WE HAVE TO MOVE TO A BROADER DIALOGUE WITH THE COMMUNITY AND IN THIS AREA WE HAVE THINGS TO LEARN.

FOR OVER 20 YEARS, A PORTION OF OUR PROFIT EACH YEAR HAS GONE TO THE MACQUARIE BANK FOUNDATION TO HELP COMMUNITIES OF WHICH WE ARE A PART.

LAST YEAR WE SENT A COPY OF THE FOUNDATION'S REPORT TO EVERY SHAREHOLDER.

FROM THAT REPORT YOU WOULD HAVE SEEN OUR FOCUS IS ON EDUCATION, HEALTH RESEARCH, HEALTH CARE, WELFARE, THE ENVIRONMENT, THE ARTS AND INDIGENOUS AUSTRALIANS.

WE DIRECTLY SUPPORT MORE THAN 200 ORGANISATIONS AND OUR STAFF INDIVIDUALLY AND COLLECTIVELY SUPPORT MANY MORE.

OUR MAJOR PROGRAMS INCLUDE A PARTNERSHIP WITH ASTHMA AUSTRALIA TO FUND RESEARCH INTO A DISEASE THAT LIMITS THE LIFE EXPERIENCE OF THOUSANDS OF AUSTRALIAN CHILDREN.

THE FOUNDATION ALSO PROVIDES ASSISTANCE TO THE SYDNEY CITY MISSION, JUVENILE DIABETES, THE MS SOCIETY, THE NELSON MANDELA CHILDREN'S FUND, THE BANGARA DANCE THEATRE, THE SALVATION ARMY EDUCATION FOUNDATION AND THE CHILDREN'S CANCER INSTITUTE (TO NAME JUST A FEW).

WE SUPPORT OUR PEOPLE WHO VOLUNTEER TIME AND TAKE A LEADERSHIP ROLE IN HELPING OTHERS DEVELOP AND REACH THEIR POTENTIAL.

IN TERMS OF OUR OTHER MAJOR CONTRIBUTION TO AUSTRALIA'S ECONOMY, WE BELIEVE THAT WE ARE BUILDING A GREAT INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL INSTITUTION BASED IN AUSTRALIA.

THAT IN ITSELF HAS SIGNIFICANT BENEFITS.

OUR VIEW IS THAT THE ABILITY TO ATTRACT AND RETAIN CORPORATE HEAD OFFICES HELPS DETERMINE A NATION'S PROSPERITY.

THIS PROVIDES MORE CONTROL OVER A COUNTRY'S ECONOMIC FUTURE, HELPS CREATE BETTER QUALITY JOBS, ENHANCES THE COUNTRY'S REPUTATION, HELPS FORM AND CREATE INTERNATIONALLY COMPETITIVE SMALL BUSINESSES AND HAS IMPORTANT FLOW ON EFFECTS TO UNIVERSITIES AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS.

DIRECTLY AND INDIRECTLY, WE ESTIMATE THAT MACQUARIE SUSTAINS MORE THAN 15,000 JOBS IN AUSTRALIA.

THIS YEAR WE INCREASED STAFF NUMBERS AND EARNED OVER $380 MILLION IN INTERNATIONAL INCOME.

IN RECENT MONTHS, THROUGH OUR FUNDS, $4 BILLION HAS BEEN INVESTED IN AUSTRALIAN ASSETS, RETAINING THOSE ASSETS IN MAJORITY AUSTRALIAN OWNERSHIP.

BUT HAVING SAID THAT, WE UNDERSTAND THAT WE NEED TO STRENGTHEN OUR RELATIONSHIP BUILDING WITH THE COMMUNITIES IN WHICH WE WORK.

I KNOW THAT SHAREHOLDERS AND THE REST OF THE COMMUNITY EXPECT THAT FROM US.

NEARLY 5,000 PEOPLE MAKE UP MACQUARIE BANK.

THEY MADE A SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION THIS YEAR UNDER DIFFICULT CONDITIONS AND ON YOUR BEHALF I WANT TO THANK THEM ALL.

TO SUM UP:

WHILE FINANCIAL MARKETS HAVE BEEN HIGHLY VOLATILE, WE BELIEVE THE OUTLOOK FOR THE GLOBAL AND AUSTRALIAN ECONOMIES REMAINS REASONABLE.

IN THE US, STRONG CONSUMER SPENDING HAS UNDERPINNED AN UPTURN IN INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION PROMPTING THE US FEDERAL RESERVE TO REVISE ITS US GROWTH FORECAST UPWARDS.

THIS IMPROVEMENT IN DEMAND HAS, IN TURN, FLOWED THROUGH TO STRONGER GROWTH AMONG SOME OF AUSTRALIA'S ASIAN TRADING PARTNERS, SUCH AS KOREA AND CHINA.

OF COURSE IT IS POSSIBLE THAT SUSTAINED WEAKNESS IN FINANCIAL MARKETS COULD UNDERMINE CONFIDENCE AND SLOW THE PACE OF THE GLOBAL RECOVERY.

HOWEVER, GIVEN THE ABSENCE OF ANY INFLATIONARY PRESSURES IN THE GLOBAL ECONOMY, POLICYMAKERS HAVE THE ABILITY TO SUPPORT GROWTH IF THE NEED ARISES.

WE BELIEVE THE OUTLOOK ALSO REMAINS SOUND FOR AUSTRALIA.

WHILE A MODERATION IN HOUSING ACTIVITY SUGGESTS THAT ECONOMIC GROWTH MIGHT SLOW MODESTLY NEXT YEAR, FALLING UNEMPLOYMENT AND LOW INTEREST RATES HAVE RESULTED IN VERY STRONG LEVELS OF CONSUMER SENTIMENT AND THIS SHOULD CONTINUE TO UNDERPIN HEALTHY GROWTH IN CONSUMPTION.

AS ALWAYS, THERE ARE RISKS TO THIS OUTLOOK.

BUT, GIVEN THE LACK OF ANY SIGNIFICANT IMBALANCES IN THE AUSTRALIAN ECONOMY, THERE IS AMPLE SCOPE FOR POLICYMAKERS TO RESPOND QUICKLY TO THESE DEVELOPMENTS SHOULD THEY OCCUR.

THEY DID IN 2001.

GIVEN THE BANK'S FINANCIAL STRENGTH, OUR LEADING MARKET POSITIONS HERE AND OVERSEAS, A FIRM COMMITMENT TO OUR GUIDING PRINCIPLES AND A COMMITTED AND TALENTED STAFF WE EXPECT THAT SUBJECT TO REASONABLE MARKET CONDITIONS, MACQUARIE BANK WILL ENJOY CONTINUED GROWTH IN REVENUE AND PROFIT.

LET ME NOW INTRODUCE ALLAN MOSS WHO WILL COMMENT IN MORE DETAIL ON THE BANK'S PERFORMANCE DURING THE PAST YEAR AND THE OUTLOOK FOR THE BANK IN THE YEAR AHEAD.

ALLAN.

ASX/News Release

Tuesday August 13, 2002

MACQUARIE COMMUNICATIONS INFRASTRUCTURE
GROUP – MACQUARIE BANK ALLOTTMENT

Following the completion of Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group's (MCIG's) Initial Public Offer of stapled securities today and the underwriting of the issue earlier this month by Macquarie Equity Capital Markets (MECM), UBS Warburg and JB Were, Macquarie Bank Limited (MBL) announced today it has been allotted 50 million stapled securities in MCIG.

As disclosed in the MCIG Prospectus, $100 million of MBL's allotted stapled securities, representing approximately 32 per cent of MCIG's total securities on issue, will be escrowed for 12 months. The Bank has undertaken not to exercise its votes on these securities, underscoring the alignment of its interests with other MCIG securityholders.

In addition MECM has been allotted 15.78 million in stapled securities pursuant to its underwriting of the Offer. The allotment of securities to MECM reflects difficult market conditions since Prospectus date.

26 August 2002

Dear Macquarie Bank Limited Shareholder

I know that many of you were unable to attend our recent Annual General Meeting (AGM). In this letter, I would like to give you a brief summary of my address and the Managing Director's presentation to the AGM, discuss our outlook for the year ahead and talk about some of the issues you may have seen raised about the Bank and our specialist funds. My full address and the Managing Director's presentation are available on our website at www.macquarie.com.au/2002

Our website also contains all our recent investor presentations, media releases, annual reviews and financial statements and other useful information for both investors and clients. However, if you would like a hard copy of the address and presentation please call our Investor Relations Division on 021 8232 4750.

Our business is going well

- Macquarie recorded its 10th year of continuous profit growth in 2002
- Pre-tax profit was $326 million, up 10%
- Net profit after tax was $250 million, up 3%
- Return on shareholders' funds was 18.7% per annum
- Full year dividend was 93 cents per share, 70% franked.

We are very strongly capitalised

We have about $2 billion of Tier 1 capital relative to approximately $500 million in equity investments in seed assets and specialist funds. At 31 March 2002 our Tier 1 Capital ratio was a strong 17.8% and it remains high.

The share price

At the AGM, we addressed what we see as the main factors behind the recent drop in our share price. These included the downturn in world stock markets (which has particularly affected the market value of 'growth' stocks like Macquarie), the large supply of Macquarie related securities in recent months, concerns about the Bank's involvement with Sydney Airport and the listed Macquarie Airports (MAp) and MAp's low market price, increased equity holdings in the Bank's specialist funds and potential expensing of employee options.

Sydney Airport

In June 2002, Sydney Airport was acquired by the Southern Cross Consortium. The consortium is made up of three Macquarie managed funds and five other large institutional investors. The Southern Cross bid priced Sydney Airport at the lower end of the price paid for other Australian airports relative to EBITDA (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation).

Macquarie Bank Limited

On 21 August 2002, Sydney Airports Corporation Limited (SACL) announced an excellent full year result with an increase of 40% in EBITDA from $226.5m to $316.3m for the year to 30 June 2002. The result is impressive because it was achieved in a period when:

- Sydney Airport had lost its second largest customer (Ansett) and
- world air travel was hard hit by the aftermath of the tragic events of September 11 2001.

There has been extensive publicity about the negotiations between Virgin Blue and the operator of Sydney Airport, SACL, about Virgin Blue gaining access to the former Ansett terminal at Sydney Airport. You would understand that issues regarding the use of Sydney Airport facilities, and particularly commercial negotiations it is having with a potential tenant, are issues for SACL. While funds managed by Macquarie are significant investors in SACL, it is an independent corporation with other beneficial owners.

We understand that all the investors in the Southern Cross Consortium remain confident that Sydney Airport is an excellent long-term investment. The Bank shares this confidence. However, we are disappointed about the weak market price of MAp securities since the acquisition of Sydney Airport and more recently, Rome airports.

MAp has a portfolio of four significant airports - Bristol International Airport, Birmingham Airport, Sydney Airport and Rome Airport. MAp is one of the largest private sector airport owners in the world, with a globally diverse portfolio of outstanding assets. We believe this offers investors substantial long-term benefits. The team at MAp is working hard to help investors and others better understand the value of the portfolio of airports owned by the fund. If you would like more details about MAp and its investments please visit the website at www.macquarie.com.au/airports or phone MAp on 1800 181 895.

Outlook

As you are aware, world equity markets this year have been very difficult with widespread falls in share prices. Economic conditions in major world economies are weaker than anticipated. We are not immune from market conditions, as we saw last year when our Equity Markets Group had a significant profit decline. Nevertheless, the Bank overall reported a record profit in 2002 although profit growth was slower than in previous years.

Our first quarter profit this year was well up on last year's and, subject to reasonable market conditions, we expect continued growth in revenue and profit.

We have built a world class investment bank and the only major investment bank in the world headquartered in Australia. Through our specialist funds, we are building a world class portfolio of assets for our investors. We are very conscious of the need to continue providing good investment returns to our clients and investors and will be working very hard to achieve this in the period ahead.

Yours faithfully

How Chapter 10 for details to...

03 JUL 14 11:21

Peter Maher
Macquarie Financial Services Group

The FSG Philosophy is to create a sustainable competitive advantage and build our brand and capabilities around two core propositions

The power of an investment bank providing clients with unique opportunities and insight, delivered through an advice-based relationship

Help IFA's build better relationships with their clients by accessing product and insight capability of the investment bank and delivering it via integrated sales, service and administration platform relationships which maximises IFAs productivity and profitability

Macquarie Financial Services Group is structured to take advantage of our strong position in the IFA market and Direct Client Broking markets...

The need for financial advice is increasing...

- increasingly complex regulatory environment
- difficult investment markets
- Superannuation

Two key factors influencing the Advisor market are:

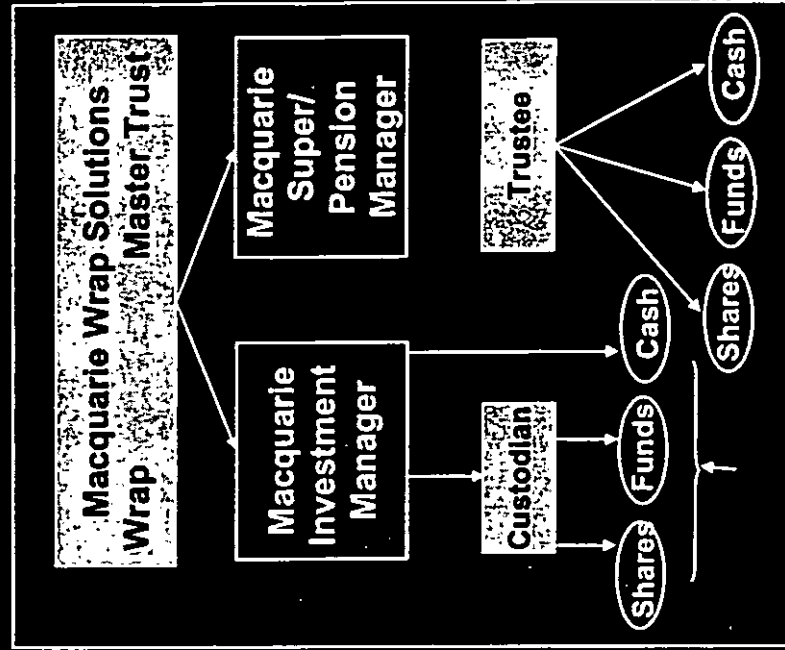

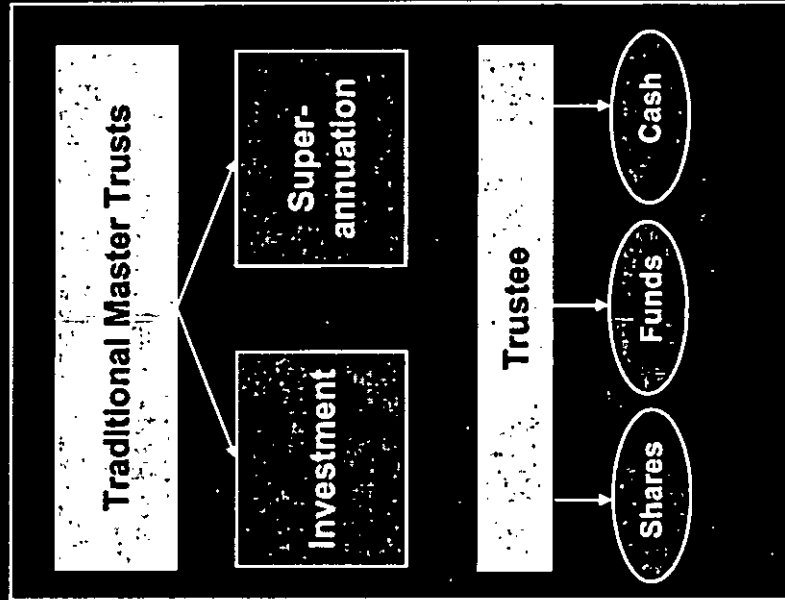

- administrative efficiency
- administrative quality, continuity
- ease of sale to their client
- simplification and transparency of revenue

By appealing to these drivers, platforms have been growing ...

- Sale of products via platforms is already significant
- over 80% of managed funds product flows are via platforms such as wraps

What is the difference between Master Trusts and Wrap Accounts?

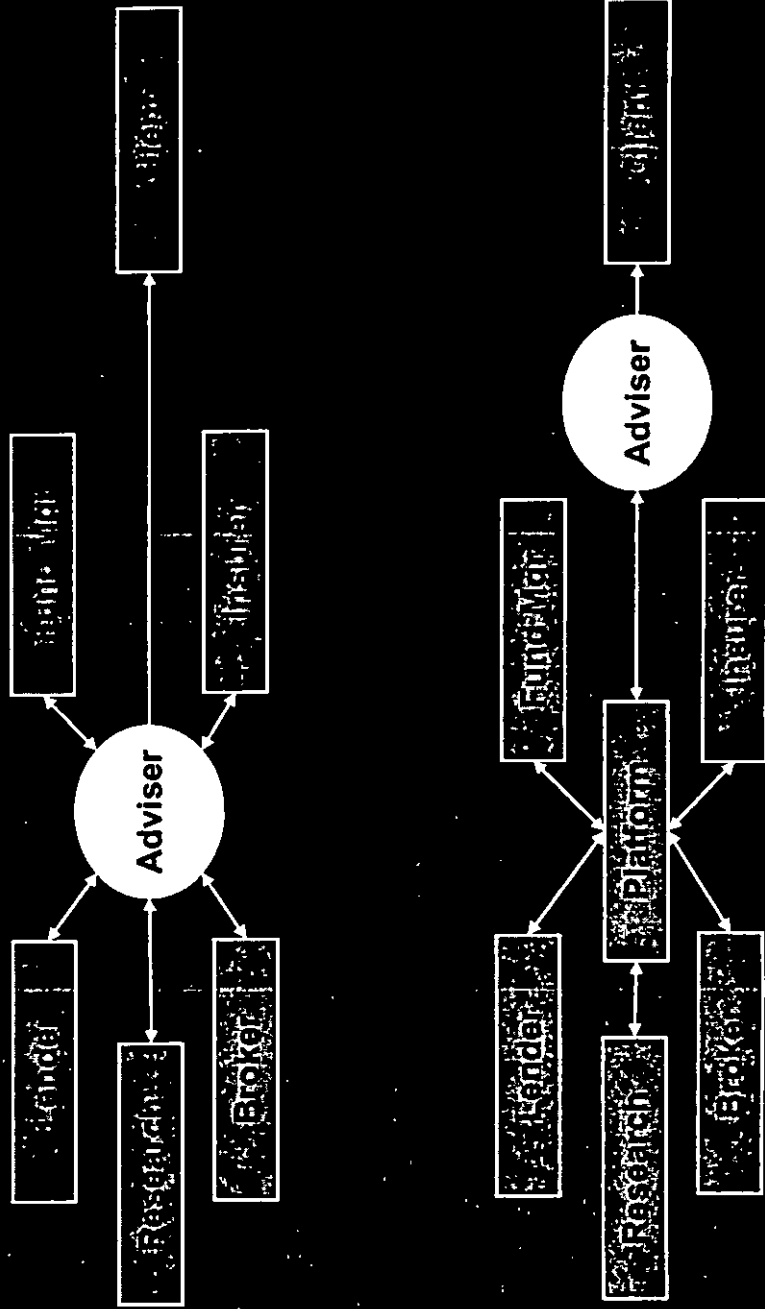

How they work?

How they simplify interactions for the IFA....

MACQUARIE

- Expected Industry consolidation
- IFAs favouring Wraps over MTs

What makes a successful wrap provider?

One that can provide the adviser target with:

- quality administration
 - more client control
 - superior reporting & transacting capabilities
 - online access to research
 - online reporting for clients
 - a flexible fee structure
 - its not just about software, you need a culture of service and deep experience in custody and service
- PLUS Brand, Flagship Product, Qlty of Senior Mgmt, transparency of fees

How do advisers use Wraps?

- most advisers use two or three providers
- the hurdle of having advisers understand a providers systems or processes can increase stickiness
- brand recognition & the presence of a flagship product helps the sales process with end clients
- advisers are highly repetitive in their investment choices, our research shows that advisers favour six investment providers
- wraps allow adviser to pass the cost of administration on to their client

The growing power of distribution...

- loss of retail margin
- loss of end client contact and details
- now buying shelf space

- want to be seen as Independent – the wrap fee allows transparency
- want to pass the administration cost to their client

- as it matures is moving from “product push” to “advice pull”

- now influence the investment decision
- have improved client experience at no cost to the adviser
- are charging the fund managers for the privilege of being on the platform

MACQUARIE

We see the market as...

Platforms are harvesting revenue from the value chain...

- In a market with strongly legislated growth, there is room for multiple players with many different strategies
- The increasing demand for advice means access to advisers either via IFAs or internally is more critical
- Wrap style platforms are helping change the value chain dynamics towards distribution
- Experience, reputation and scale will be critical determinants of success going forward

Recent share price volatility

Some factors which have affected the price

- General equity market conditions – especially growth companies
- The supply of MBL related securities relative to the Australian market - A$6 billion in 10 months

MEDIA RELEASE

31 October, 2002

DRILL PROGRAM SUCCESS LEADS TO A TRIPLING IN RESERVES FOR CH₄

Queensland coal seam gas company CH₄ Pty Limited ("CH₄") today announced a tripling in reserves within its PL191 Petroleum Lease in the central Queensland coal fields. The announcement comes amidst exceptionally strong production results from two recently completed production wells, with one well producing at a rate in excess of 1 million cubic feet per day.

International petroleum consultants Netherland, Sewell & Associates has estimated 212 PJ of 2P reserves within PL191 compared to the prior estimate of 72PJ.

CH₄'s recent drilling program has encompassed an additional 21 exploration wells and 2 production wells drilled since November 2001. The company's 'Grosvenor' gas field now has 5 wells in production, with a total of more than 600 days continuous production from the earlier wells.

The reserve upgrade and recent signing of a gas sales agreement with Enertrade represent key milestones in the development of CH₄'s coal seam gas project. CH₄ will supply up to 290PJ of gas over a period of 15 years for delivery to the Townsville market- one of the most significant gas sales contracts concluded in Queensland.

Commenting on the announcement, CH₄ Director, Mr David Wrench, said:

"This is a key milestone for CH₄ and confirms our belief that the gas resources within our lease area have the potential to supply the North Queensland market for many years to come. We are confident that CH₄ will be a major player in the future of the Queensland energy market beginning with our contract to supply gas to the Townsville Power Station.

"Our growing reserve position—equivalent to more than double Queensland's entire annual gas consumption, and the strong production from our five production wells ensures that we are on track to commence delivery of gas into Townsville for the commissioning phase of the Power Station project from July 2004.

"The size of the contract proves the potential of coal seam gas as a significant local resource which can be developed to foster industrial development in North Queensland while helping meet the Government's Cleaner Energy Policy of reduced greenhouse emissions," he said.

CH4 Background

CH₄ is the chemical symbol for methane gas. CH₄ Pty Ltd is an Australian Company 87% owned by Macquarie Bank and 13% by private investors.

CH₄ holds the operating and marketing rights to ATP364P covering an area 8.100 sq. km in the northern Bowen Basin. In March this year CH₄ was awarded a Petroleum Lease (PL 191) enabling it to extract coal seam gas in a 260 square kilometre area immediately north of the mining township of Moranbah.

Group comments

Investment Banking

Comments on the first half:

- Increase in net income on pcp despite investment write-downs
- Ranked 1st in Thomson league tables for value of Australian M&A transactions, 2nd for ECM total capital raised and 1st for IPOs completed in six months to 30 June 2002
- Continued strong growth in infrastructure funds under management. MAP market price remains a disappointment and a key focus of management attention
- Cross-border leasing income maintained though overall market depressed
- Continued growth in Macquarie Capital both domestically and offshore
- Contribution from institutional equities down, however market share for the year up in a challenging period

Investment Banking (contd.)

Current market conditions:

- Downturn in global equity markets has adversely affected Australian listed equity issuance and M&A market volumes
- Market shares and competitive position remain strong
- For Institutional Stockbroking and Macquarie Research Equities, growth subdued due to general economic conditions and the bear market

Outlook:

- Overall expect to maintain or improve on previous year
- Some businesses may be adversely impacted if international equities markets remain depressed
- Deal pipeline at least as strong as this time last year

Treasury and Commodities

Comments on the first half:

- Excellent six months up over 100% on pcp - strong performances across all business areas
- Metals & Mining – well above pcp with the precious metals business performing strongly
- FX - very strong first half because of strong customer business with good income diversity and increased market share
- Debt Markets – good first half, significantly ahead of pcp with a steady flow of deals
- Treasury (funding) – contribution well above pcp with strong liquidity management and increased offshore issuance
- Agricultural Commodities – strong first half above pcp; markets showing no signs of disruptions experienced during the second half of the prior year
- Futures – a good result above pcp. No. 1 position in clearing and No. 2 position in execution on the SFE maintained
- Risk Advisory – a good contribution in the first half. Liabilities under management over $4 billion

Treasury and Commodities (contd.)

Current market conditions:

- Continued volatility positive for business
- Competitors have exited some markets creating opportunities

Outlook:

- Transaction pipeline good; established businesses to continue to grow
- Income base continues to diversify
- Markets in which the Group operates are variable and market conditions will be an important factor
- Maintain conservative risk profile
- New oil and gas businesses focused on international markets operational

Banking and Property

Comments on the first half:

- ↑ Overall group contribution up 65% on pcp with record results from Property Investment Management, Property Finance, Property Investment Banking, Banking and Golf & Leisure
- ↑ Record volumes in the other businesses – Mortgages and Margin Lending
- ↑ Record deposits and improved fee based Banking revenue
- ↑ Strong income from large property projects, eg. World Square in Sydney
- ↑ Strong returns for property trust investors led to performance fees in two trusts: MOF, MCW
- ↑ Strong and strategic growth of property funds under management to almost $5b – successful launch of Macquarie Martin Place Trust and MPRCA (Macquarie ProLogis)

Banking and Property (contd.)

Current market conditions:

- A low and stable interest rate environment should see continued steady mortgage flow
- Property funds management benefiting from equity market volatility as investors turn to property market

Outlook:

- Expect second half to be below first half but broadly in line with pcp
- Positioned well for medium term
- Continue to replicate the Australian model in offshore markets by leveraging relationships (e.g. ProLogis)
- Develop a presence in Asian markets where REIT legislation is creating opportunities

Equity Markets

Comments on the first half:

- Operating profitably
- Australia – strong result on the back of resilient retail demand and leading instalment and vanilla warrant market share
- South Africa – good performance. JV terminated, investigating options
- Hong Kong – profitable despite continued low retail demand
- Europe – business now restructured – small trading loss – focusing on structured products and German warrants issuance
- Japan – break-even despite very poor market conditions
- Brazil – profitable – excellent result given uncertain political and economic market environment

Equity Markets (contd.)

Market Conditions:

- Markets, other than Australia and South Africa, characterised by extreme price volatility, low volumes, and lack of customer flow

Outlook:

- Highly leveraged to any upturn in overseas markets
- Advanced stages of negotiation for a new JV in Korea

Funds Management

Comments on the first half:

- Contribution marginally below pcp due to lower performance fees
- Total funds under management up 5% to $28.3b; inflows into fixed interest and property funds more than offset worsening equity market conditions
 - Wholesale domestic funds up 5% to $15.2b
 - Retail domestic funds up 2% to $11.2b
 - International funds up 24% to $1.9b
- Malaysian and Korean joint ventures performing well

Funds Management (contd.)

Current market conditions:

- Poor global equity market conditions but diversified nature of business enabled continued growth in funds under management
- Fixed interest and property inflows as investors seek lower risk
- Geographic diversification

Outlook:

- Expect strong growth in international business, particularly in Korea
- Growth expected within Australia from wholesale business and True Index products

Financial Services

Comments on the first half:

- Achieved breakeven as forecast despite difficult market conditions
- Strategic IT program substantially complete; completed projects now amortising
- Strategic objective to grow retail distribution is on track
 - Leading position in retail stockbroking
 - Macquarie Adviser Services strengthened its position in the IFA market with Macquarie WRAP growing by $1.9b to $5.7b (fastest growing administration platform in the June quarter)
- CMT up by over $300m to $8.5b

Financial Services (contd.)

Current market conditions:

- Volatile share market – erratic equity trading volumes impacting transactional income
- Reducing equity values reduce growth in funds under management and management fees
- Inflows into cash and fixed interest

Outlook:

- Continued growth in WRAP with a focus on functionality and service
- Full year result will be subject to market conditions

Overall outlook

- Many growth initiatives underway across the Bank – satisfactory transaction pipeline
- Confident of continued growth in specialist funds albeit near term slow-down in listed infrastructure in Australia
- Will continue to benefit from ongoing focus on costs

Outlook for second half:

- Expect second half to be up on pcp but lower than the first half because of timing of performance fees and uncertain global markets
- Expect continued growth in revenue and profit in the medium term

3. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The economic entity operates as a financial services provider principally in Australia. Some of the economic entity's services and products are offered in locations outside Australia, where they are predominately managed as part of the Australian businesses, not as separate geographic locations.

4. INCOME TAX EXPENSE

* Prima facie income tax on profit from ordinary activities is calculated at the rate of 30% (2001: 34%).

The economic entity has a tax year ending on 30 September.

The economic entity is currently subject to an audit by the Australian Taxation Office ("ATO"). Some amended assessments have been issued by the ATO for the 1988 to 1993 years. Other issues of potential taxation liability have been raised but have not yet been subject to the issue of amended assessments. Objections have been lodged in respect of the amended assessments and the other issues of alleged liability are also disputed.

The ATO is also reviewing the interests held by the economic entity in research and development syndicates. Amended assessments have been issued in relation to one of these syndicates, against which objections were lodged and subsequently upheld in the Administrative Appeals Tribunal ("AAT"). On 2 October 2002, the ATO lodged an appeal against the AAT decision with the Federal Court.

In relation to the Macquarie Income Securities, a public ruling has been issued by the ATO suggesting that deductions for distributions on this type of security may not be available. The Bank has received independent legal advice confirming that deductions are available for the distributions provided. An objection has been lodged and has been disallowed. An appeal has been made to the Federal Court.

In preparing this financial report the Directors have considered the information currently available and have taken legal advice as to the economic entity's tax liability and in accordance with this believe that provisions made are adequate.

The DRP was approved by ordinary shareholders at the 2001 Annual General Meeting. The DRP is optional and offers ordinary shareholders in Australia and New Zealand the opportunity to acquire fully paid ordinary shares, without transaction costs, at a 2.5% discount to prevailing market value. INDEPENDENT REVIEW REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF MACQUARIE BANK LIMITED
AS AT 30 SEPTEMBER 2002

Statement

Based on our review, which is not an audit, we have not become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the financial report, set out on pages 4 to 19 is not presented in accordance with :

- the Corporations Act 2001 in Australia, including giving a true and fair view of the financial position of the economic entity as at 30 September 2002 and of its performance for the half-year ended on that date
- Accounting Standard AASB 1029 "Interim Financial Reporting" and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

This statement must be read in conjunction with the following explanation of the scope and summary of our role as auditor.

Scope and summary of our role

The financial report – responsibility and content

The preparation of the financial report for the half-year ended 30 September 2002 is the responsibility of the directors of the Bank. It includes the financial statements for the economic entity, which incorporates the Bank and the entities it controlled during the half-year ended 30 September 2002.

The auditor's role and work

We conducted an independent review of the financial report in order for the Bank to lodge the financial report with the Australian Securities & Investments Commission. Our role was to conduct the review in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards applicable to review engagements. Our review did not involve an analysis of the prudence of business decisions made by the directors or management.

This review was performed in order to state whether, on the basis of the procedures described, anything has come to our attention that would indicate that the financial report does not present fairly a view in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, Accounting Standard AASB 1029 "Interim Financial Reporting" and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the Corporations Regulations 2001, which is consistent with our understanding of the economic entity's financial position, and its performance as represented by the results of its operations and cash flows.

The review procedures performed were limited primarily to:

- inquiries of Bank personnel of certain internal controls, transactions and individual items
- analytical procedures applied to financial data.

These procedures do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, thus the level of assurance provided is less than that given in an audit. We have not performed an audit, and accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Independence

As auditor, we are required to be independent of the economic entity and free of interests which could be incompatible with integrity and objectivity. In respect of this engagement, we followed the independence requirements set out by The Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia, the Corporations Act 2001 and the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board. In addition to our statutory audit and review work, we were engaged to undertake other services for the Group. In our opinion the provision of these services has not impaired our independence.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Macquarie Bank Executive Chairman Mr David Clarke today announced a number of significant corporate governance initiatives. The initiatives are part of the Board's continuing review of corporate governance and reflect the Board's commitment to the best representation of shareholder interests:

- The Board of Macquarie Bank Limited has resolved to ensure that in future it will have a majority of independent Directors. This will be achieved by the appointment of two new independent Directors as soon as possible, but no later than June 30, 2003.
- A new Corporate Governance Committee has been established, Chaired by Mr Kevin McCann, and also comprising Mr Barrie Martin and Mr Mark Johnson. It will be responsible for oversight of corporate governance at the Bank.
- Mr David Clarke will retire as Chair of the Bank's Remuneration Committee, to be replaced by Ms Helen Nugent.
- The Bank's Audit Committee will continue to be comprised solely of independent Directors.
- All other Board Committees will comprise a majority of independent Directors.
- The Macquarie Bank Board also noted that there is no generally accepted definition in Australia of what constitutes an "independent Director". After reviewing Australian "best practice" and international formulations, the Macquarie Bank Board has adopted the attached definition.
- In consequence of the adoption of the new criteria for independent Directors, Mr Kevin McCann will retire from the Board of the management company of Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group (MCIG) by not later than 31 December 2002 and Ms Helen Nugent will retire from the Board of the management company of Macquarie Airports (MAp) at the same time. It is intended that the vacancies created by the above retirements will be filled by senior Macquarie Bank executives. In addition Mr John Allpass and Mr Barrie Martin will retire from the Board of Macquarie Life Limited.

- The Boards of the listed specialist infrastructure funds managed by Macquarie Bank (MAp, MCIG and Macquarie Infrastructure Group) will continue to comprise a mix of Macquarie Bank representatives and independent directors. Going forward, Macquarie Bank's policy will be that all such Boards will comprise a majority of independent directors.

MACQUARIE BANK ANNOUNCES $183 MILLION INTERIM PROFIT

Macquarie Bank today announced a $183 million profit after tax attributable to ordinary shareholders for the half year to September 30, 2002.

The result is an increase of 41 per cent over the $130 million profit for the half year ended September 30, 2001 and represents a return on average ordinary shareholders' funds of 21.3 per cent per annum.

Profit before tax attributable to ordinary shareholders rose by 50 per cent to $250 million from $167 million. Earnings per share for the six month period increased 25 per cent to 91.2 cents from 72.7 cents for the previous corresponding period.

Macquarie Bank Executive Chairman David Clarke said the result reflects the strength and diversity of Macquarie's businesses. "We have been working extremely hard in what has been a challenging environment for the global investment banking industry."

"In difficult market conditions our overall staff numbers have remained steady and we have increased the number of staff working in client related activities. We have been very focused on developing a wide range of strategic initiatives to increase market share in our existing businesses and to ensure future sustainable growth in every one of our operating Groups."

"We have also benefited from cost initiatives implemented, with our expense to income ratio improving substantially over the previous corresponding period.

03 NOV 11 11:17:21

Macquarie Bank Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer Allan Moss said the Bank continued to apply conservative accounting principles and its credit quality remained sound.

“The Bank’s spread of businesses across industries and geographies has produced quality earnings, with the Investment Banking Group performing very strongly and Treasury and Commodities and Banking and Property Groups reporting record results,” Mr Moss said.

“Equity Markets Group improved from a poor result in the immediately preceding half year, Funds Management Group reported a steady result, and as forecast, Financial Services Group reported positive earnings following a period of technology and business investment,” Mr Moss said.

Mr Moss said Macquarie is now ranked the fourth largest fund manager in Australia. During the half year period, funds under management increased by $5.6 billion to $46.9 billion.

“Macquarie Bank is a significant exporter of financial services, deriving international income of $214 million for the half year to September 30, 2002. The Bank is a finalist in the Australian Business Limited’s (AUSTRADE) 2002 Australian export awards in the service exporter category, after winning the 2002 Premier’s New South Wales Exporter of the Year Award. This month, the Mt Eliza Business School also named Macquarie among Australia’s First XI top performing organisations which have adopted a winning formula over the past two decades.”

FINANCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

Total income from ordinary activities for the half (excluding transmission income and operating expenses for the four and a half month period the Bank held the Broadcast Australia assets on its balance sheet) was $983 million, up 23 per cent from $800 million for the previous corresponding period. Net fee and commission income rose by 28 per cent to $662 million from $518 million, while the contribution from net trading income rose by 11 per cent to $220 million from $198 million in the previous corresponding period. Net interest income increased from the previous corresponding half, rising by 48 per cent to $132 million, from $89 million previously.

GROUP OPERATING HIGHLIGHTS

Investment Banking Group exceeded last year's corresponding first half result.

Reflecting strong activity across all areas of the Group, Macquarie was placed first in the Thomson league tables for value of Australian merger and acquisition transactions, second in the equivalent equity capital markets table on total capital raised and first for completed Initial Public Offerings for the six months to June 30, 2002.

Corporate and Structured Finance performed ahead of last year's corresponding result completing a substantial number of significant transactions for the Bank's clients across each of the industry groups. The infrastructure group was again the most active, completing a range of transactions for third party clients and our funds including the acquisition of Sydney Airport and impending acquisition of a significant share of Rome Airport. The market price of Macquarie Airports (MAp) securities remains a disappointment and a key focus of management attention and investor relations efforts. The Bank's holdings in MAp were written down to market price during the period but the Bank remains confident of the long term value of MAp. The benefits of Macquarie's management are already evident at Bristol, Birmingham and Sydney airports. The Macquarie Communications Infrastructure Group was launched - with the seed asset being the broadcast transmission towers of Broadcast Australia, and Macquarie Infrastructure Group announced the acquisition of a majority interest in the SR125 toll road in San Diego, USA. Since balance date, the Westlink consortium, in which Macquarie Infrastructure Group has a 40 per cent interest, was named Preferred Tenderer for the Western Sydney Orbital project in Sydney.

Macquarie Equities has performed well in a difficult market. Since balance date Macquarie was named Joint Global Co-ordinator and Joint Bookrunner for the $2 billion Royal & Sun Alliance Initial Public Offering. Structured Finance performed well and Cross-Border Leasing successfully completed several large transactions. Macquarie Capital continues to show good growth and to develop quality annuity income streams, particularly in Macquarie IT and Macquarie Leasing.

Treasury and Commodities Group reported a record first half. Foreign Exchange's performance was excellent, following an increase in market share and generally strong customer business. Metals and Mining recorded a strong first half attributable mainly to the precious metals business, as did Debt Markets and Treasury. Agricultural Commodities and Futures results were up on the previous corresponding period.

Development of the energy business is continuing but is yet to contribute any income to the Group.

Banking and Property Group had an excellent half year including record results for the property businesses, Banking Division and the Golf and Leisure business. Property highlights included the listing of Macquarie ProLogis Trust in June, acquisitions by Macquarie Office Trust and Macquarie Countrywide Trust and several large project financing transactions. In total, the Group's listed property trusts (including those managed by its associates, Macquarie Goodman Management and Macquarie ProLogis Management) raised over $800 million during the six month period. Margin Lending achieved a record number of transactions in the June quarter, significantly outperforming the industry average volume growth.

Funds Management Group's funds under management grew by 5 per cent to $28.3 billion during the six month period, with inflows into fixed interest and property funds more than offsetting worsening equity market conditions. Profits in the first half were steady and the Group continued to grow its businesses in Malaysia and Korea.

Equity Markets Group's profitability was in line with the previous corresponding period, despite severely deteriorated trading conditions. Operations are appropriately positioned to benefit from any upturn in equity markets.

Financial Services Group reached break even, as forecast. The Macquarie WRAP product now has $5.7 billion in funds under administration following inflows of $1.9 billion in the last half. Macquarie Financial Services maintained a strong position in domestic retail broking despite difficult market conditions.

Direct Investments' portfolio performed well. There were no realisations during the half year.

DIVIDEND

The Bank has declared an ordinary interim dividend payment of 41 cents per share for the half year. The franking for this dividend was increased from 70 per cent to 85 per cent.

Mr Clarke said the Bank will at least maintain the higher franking level of 85 per cent over the short to medium term.

OUTLOOK

Mr Moss said he was confident of the strength of the businesses across the Bank. "There are many growth initiatives underway and the transaction pipeline is satisfactory," he said.

"Our specialist funds will continue to grow despite a near term slow-down in listed infrastructure in Australia.

"We currently expect net profit in the second half to be above the previous corresponding period, but below the first half because of the timing of performance fees and uncertainty in global markets. We will also benefit further from an ongoing focus on costs."

"Subject to reasonable market conditions we expect continued growth in revenue and profit over the medium term." Mr Moss said.

Segment reporting

(Information on the business and geographical segments of the entity must be reported for the current period in accordance with AASB 1005: Segment Reporting and for half year reports, AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting. Because entities employ different structures a pro forma cannot be provided. Segment information in the layout employed in the entity's ⁺accounts should be reported separately and attached to this report.)

The economic entity operates as a financial services provider principally in Australia. Some of the economic entity's services and products are offered in locations outside Australia, where they are predominately managed as part of the Australian businesses, not as separate geographic locations.

Comments by directors

(Comments on the following matters are required by ASX or, in relation to the half yearly report, by AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting. The comments do not take the place of the directors' report and statement (as required by the Corporations Act) and may be incorporated into the directors' report and statement. For both half yearly and preliminary final reports, if there are no comments in a section, state NIL. If there is insufficient space to comment, attach notes to this report.)

Basis of financial report preparation

19.1 If this report is a half yearly report, it is a general purpose financial report prepared in accordance with the listing rules and AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting. It should be read in conjunction with the last annual report and any announcements to the market made by the entity during the period. The financial statements in this report are "condensed financial statements" as defined in AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting. This report does not include all the notes of the type normally included in an annual financial report. [Delete if preliminary final report.]

19.2 Material factors affecting the revenues and expenses of the economic entity for the current period. In a half yearly report, provide explanatory comments about any seasonal or irregular factors affecting operations.

Nil

19.3 A description of each event since the end of the current period which has had a material effect and which is not already reported elsewhere in this Appendix or in attachments, with financial effect quantified (if possible).

Nil

19.4 Franking credits available and prospects for paying fully or partly franked dividends for at least the next year.

The extent of franking of future dividends is uncertain and is dependent on the Bank's future Australian taxable income and relevant legislation. However, the Bank currently expects to be able to at least maintain franking at 85% for the next year.

19.5 Unless disclosed below, the accounting policies, estimation methods and measurement bases used in this report are the same as those used in the last annual report. Any changes in accounting policies, estimation methods and measurement bases since the last annual report are disclosed as follows. (Disclose changes and differences in the half yearly report in accordance with AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting. Disclose changes in accounting policies in the preliminary final report in accordance with AASB 1001: Accounting Policies-Disclosure).

Notes

1. For announcement to the market The percentage changes referred to in this section are the percentage changes calculated by comparing the current period's figures with those for the previous corresponding period. Do not show percentage changes if the change is from profit to loss or loss to profit, but still show whether the change was up or down. If changes in accounting policies or procedures have had a material effect on reported figures, do not show either directional or percentage changes in profits. Explain the reason for the omissions in the note at the end of the announcement section. Entities are encouraged to attach notes or fuller explanations of any significant changes to any of the items in page 1. The area at the end of the announcement section can be used to provide a cross reference to any such attachment.
2. True and fair view If this report does not give a true and fair view of a matter (for example, because compliance with an Accounting Standard is required) the entity must attach a note providing additional information and explanations to give a true and fair view.
3. Condensed consolidated statement of financial performance
 - Item 1.1 The definition of "revenue" and an explanation of "ordinary activities" are set out in AASB 1004: Revenue, and AASB 1018: Statement of Financial Performance.
 - Item 1.6 This item refers to the total tax attributable to the amount shown in item 1.5. Tax includes income tax and capital gains tax (if any) but excludes taxes treated as expenses from ordinary activities (eg, fringe benefits tax).
4. Income tax If the amount provided for income tax in this report differs (or would differ but for compensatory items) by more than 15% from the amount of income tax prima facie payable on the profit before tax, the entity must explain in a note the major items responsible for the difference and their amounts. The rate of tax applicable to the franking amount per dividend should be inserted in the heading for the column "Franked amount per security at % tax" for items 15.4 to 15.7.
5. Condensed consolidated statement of financial position

Format The format of the consolidated statement of financial position should be followed as closely as possible. However, additional items may be added if greater clarity of exposition will be achieved, provided the disclosure still meets the requirements of AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting, and AASB 1040: Statement of Financial Position. Also, banking institutions, trusts and financial institutions may substitute a clear liquidity ranking for the Current/Non-Current classification.

Basis of revaluation If there has been a material revaluation of non-current assets (including investments) since the last annual report, the entity must describe the basis of revaluation adopted. The description must meet the requirements of AASB 1010: Accounting for the Revaluation of Non-Current Assets. If the entity has adopted a procedure of regular revaluation, the basis for which has been disclosed and has not changed, no additional disclosure is required.
6. Condensed consolidated statement of cash flows For definitions of "cash" and other terms used in this report see AASB 1026: Statement of Cash Flows. Entities should follow the form as closely as possible, but variations are permitted if the directors (in the case of a trust, the management company) believe that this presentation is inappropriate. However, the presentation adopted must meet the requirements of AASB 1026. ⁺Mining exploration entities may use the form of cash flow statement in Appendix 5B.

7. Net tangible asset backing Net tangible assets are determined by deducting from total tangible assets all claims on those assets ranking ahead of the ⁺ordinary securities (ie, all liabilities, preference shares, outside ⁺equity interests etc). ⁺Mining entities are not required to state a net tangible asset backing per ⁺ordinary security.
8. Gain and loss of control over entities The gain or loss must be disclosed if it has a material effect on the ⁺accounts. Details must include the contribution for each gain or loss that increased or decreased the entity's consolidated profit (loss) from ordinary activities and extraordinary items after tax by more than 5% compared to the previous corresponding period.
9. Rounding of figures This report anticipates that the information required is given to the nearest $1,000. If an entity reports exact figures, the $A'000 headings must be amended. If an entity qualifies under ASIC Class Order 98/0100 dated 10 July 1998, it may report to the nearest million dollars, or to the nearest $100,000, and the $A'000 headings must be amended.
10. Comparative figures Comparative figures are to be presented in accordance with AASB 1018 or AASB 1029 Interim Financial Reporting as appropriate and are the unadjusted figures from the latest annual or half year report as appropriate. However, if an adjustment has been made in accordance with an accounting standard or other reason or if there is a lack of comparability, a note explaining the position should be attached. For the statement of financial performance, AASB 1029 Interim Financial Reporting requires information on a year to date basis in addition to the current interim period. Normally an Appendix 4B to which AASB 1029 Interim Financial Reporting applies would be for the half year and consequently the information in the current period is also the year to date. If an Appendix 4B Half yearly version is produced for an additional interim period (eg because of a change of reporting period), the entity must provide the year to date information and comparatives required by AASB 1029 Interim Financial Reporting. This should be in the form of a multi-column version of the consolidated statement of financial performance as an attachment to the additional Appendix 4B.
11. Additional information An entity may disclose additional information about any matter, and must do so if the information is material to an understanding of the reports. The information may be an expansion of the material contained in this report, or contained in a note attached to the report. The requirement under the listing rules for an entity to complete this report does not prevent the entity issuing reports more frequently. Additional material lodged with the ⁺ASIC under the Corporations Act must also be given to ASX. For example, a director's report and declaration, if lodged with the ⁺ASIC, must be given to ASX.
12. Accounting Standards ASX will accept, for example, the use of International Accounting Standards for foreign entities. If the standards used do not address a topic, the Australian standard on that topic (if one exists) must be complied with.
13. Corporations Act financial statements This report may be able to be used by an entity required to comply with the Corporations Act as part of its half-year financial statements if prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards.

14. Issued and quoted securities The issue price and amount paid up is not required in items 18.1 and 18.3 for fully paid securities.

15. Details of expenses AASB 1018 requires disclosure of expenses from ordinary activities according to either their nature or function. For foreign entities, there are similar requirements in other accounting standards accepted by ASX. AASB ED 105 clarifies that the disclosures required by AASB 1018 must be either all according to nature or all according to function. Entities must disclose details of expenses using the layout (by nature or function) employed in their ⁺accounts.

The information in lines 1.23 to 1.27 may be provided in an attachment to Appendix 4B.

Relevant Items AASB 1018 requires the separate disclosure of specific revenues and expenses which are not extraordinary but which are of a size, nature or incidence that disclosure is relevant in explaining the financial performance of the reporting entity. The term "relevance" is defined in AASB 1018. There is an equivalent requirement in AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting. For foreign entities, there are similar requirements in other accounting standards accepted by ASX.

16. Dollars If reporting is not in A$, all references to $A must be changed to the reporting currency. If reporting is not in thousands of dollars, all references to "000" must be changed to the reporting value.

17. Discontinuing operations

Half yearly report

All entities must provide the information required in paragraph 12 for half years beginning on or after 1 July 2001.

Preliminary final report

Entities must either provide a description of any significant activities or events relating to discontinuing operations equivalent to that required by paragraph 7.5 (g) of AASB 1029: Interim Financial Reporting, or, the details of discontinuing operations they are required to disclose in their ⁺accounts in accordance with AASB 1042 Discontinuing Operations.

In any case the information may be provided as an attachment to this Appendix 4B.

18. Format

This form is a Word document but an entity can re-format the document into Excel or similar applications for submission to the Companies Announcements Office in ASX.

ASX/News Release

Tuesday December 17, 2002

MACQUARIE SAYS NEW GUIDELINES ON INSTALMENT WARRANTS WILL PROVIDE CLARITY TO SELF MANAGED SUPER FUNDS

Macquarie Bank, Australia's leading warrant issuer, today welcomed Australian Tax Office (ATO) and Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) guidelines which will provide clarity to Trustees and investors using Instalments Warrants in Self Managed Super Funds (SMSFs).

Macquarie Bank Equity Markets Executive Director, Jeff Weeden, said guidelines issued yesterday provide all investors with more certainty about strategies applicable to SMSFs. "The guidelines reconfirm that Trustees are obliged to ensure Instalments are considered in the context of the fund's overall investment strategy," Mr Weeden said. "Trustees must be aware of the risks involved both in dealing in ASX Securities and gearing generally and that they have appropriate risk management procedures in place."

The ATO and APRA announcement yesterday confirmed the use of Shareholder Applications by SMSFs would be prohibited. A Shareholder Application is used to convert existing shares into Instalments and is typically utilised by investors to free cash for portfolio diversification purposes. Authorities have given investors more than a year to pay up or sell Instalments created using a Shareholder Application and there is no immediate non-compliance issue created as a result of the announcement.

Mr Weeden said on the basis of actual turnover data for the 11 months to November 2002, the Shareholder Application prohibition announced yesterday would impact approximately 1.7 per cent of all Instalment Warrant activity this year.

Macquarie is the largest issuer of Instalments in Australia, accounting for approximately 60 per cent of the market turnover to date this calendar year. The market is expected to turnover more than $1.3 billion in 2003.

"From an education point of view we now have a greater degree of clarity of the way forward for instalment products." Mr Weeden said.

"We will be providing a record number of seminars and workshops for advisers, brokers, support staff and investors in 2003 and we will definitely be including additional information for Trustees in light of this announcement."

In Summary:

1. What Self-Managed Super Funds Must Do?

- The announcement confirmed that Trustees need to consider the use of Instalments in the context of the fund's overall investment strategy, that they are aware of the risks involved in ASX Securities and gearing and that they have appropriate risk management procedures in place.

2. What Self Managed Super Funds Now Can't Do?

- Convert existing shares to Instalments using the Shareholder Application Process if the shares are held by a Self Managed Super Fund.

3. What Self Managed Super Funds Can Do?

- Buy and sell Instalments on the ASX secondary market
- Buy Instalments using the Cash Application process
- Claim potential tax deductions for interest amounts as per the recent ATO Product Rulings for Macquarie Instalments.
- Receive franking credits from Instalment related investments

4. What if Shareholder Application Created Instalments are Held by Funds?

- Speak to the issuer of the Instalment about the alternatives available up to the next reset date. Macquarie has a special client service line to handle these inquiries – 1 800 80 30 10.
- Attend an MBL Instalment Workshop in 2003 - dates to be advised.

ASX release

MACQUARIE BANK TO DISPOSE OF MAP STAKE
PRIOR TO END OF MARCH 2003

Macquarie Bank Limited (MBL) notes that Macquarie Airports (MAp) is pursuing an appeal of the Australian Securities and Investment Commission (ASIC) decision requiring MBL to dispose of the 58.1 million securities by 31 March 2003.

Irrespective of that appeal, MBL intends to fully dispose of its entire stock overhang (resulting from the Priority Entitlement Offer launched in July 2002) of 58.1 million securities prior to 31 March 2003.

MBL has received a number of proposals to acquire the stock overhang but is currently not actively considering any proposals.

Dear Ms Blackburn

At its meeting held on 10 April 2002, the Market Practices Committee (the Committee) considered a matter concerning Macquarie Bank Limited (MBL) under the 'hearing procedures' outlined in General By-Laws G.11.18 to G.11.26. The Committee considered the written submission received from MBL on 30 January 2002 and also the verbal submissions presented by yourself and Mr Wilcox.

The Committee was of the opinion that actions of Mr Wilcox displayed an intent to utilise separate workstations with express intent to cross. Further, that on the basis that the orders were received from the same client, albeit for separate accounts, that there was motive for a cross trade to be effected. The Committee did not believe that Messrs Wilcox, Prosser and Beattie had "no idea" that each had opposing orders. This was partly due to the fact that opposing orders were released, on two (2) occasions within one (1) second of each other, and on one occasion, simultaneously.

The Committee also stated that it was highly unlikely that 28 December 2001 was a very busy day, and that this was evidenced by the fact that MBL was able to cross trades between the bid/offer spread.

Accordingly the Committee resolved that MBL failed to comply with the following:

- (i) Trading Rule TR.17(c)(vii)
(Crossing via two (2) separate workstations with the express intent to cross)

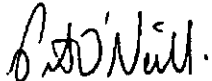

The Committee was of the opinion that such actions warranted the imposition of disciplinary action, and thus in accordance with General By-Law G.11.36(b), the Committee imposed a fine of $3,300 (inclusive of 10% GST) upon MBL for its failure to comply with the above.

The hearing procedures set out in General By-Law G.11.19 have been followed by the Committee, therefore the above findings are deemed to be made and the penalty imposed. In accordance with General By-Law G.11.60, the fine is due to be paid in full (ie. $3,300 inclusive of 10% GST) within ten (10) business days (ie. 3 May 2002). Alternatively, pursuant to General By-Law G.11.66, you may elect to appeal the above findings to the Business Conduct Committee (BCC) Should MBL elect to do so, please advise the undersigned in writing by 3 May 2002. Your early advice as to whether MBL wishes to lodge an appeal would be appreciated.

The Committee also made findings and imposed penalties upon Messrs Wilcox, Prosser and Beattie, and copies of the letters issued to them are attached.

Should you have any queries in relation to this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me on 9256 0413.

Yours sincerely

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

1. OVERVIEW

This Prospectus sets out the terms and conditions of the 2002/2003 Offers under the Macquarie Bank Employee Share Option Plan. It is to be read subject to the formal Rules which govern the Option Plan, a copy of which is available on MacNet or upon request and which are summarised in this Prospectus.

The Option Plan is an incentive scheme for senior employees of the MBL Group. Currently, participation in the Option Plan is limited to Associate Directors, Division Directors and Executive Directors of, or consultants to, the MBL Group, (together referred to as "Executives" in this Prospectus). The objective is to enhance their performances by providing them with equity interests in the Bank and, hence, further aligning their interests with those of the MBL Group and its shareholders.

Participation in the Option Plan is open only to Eligible Executives and is entirely at the discretion of the Board (and/or the Executive Committee to whom certain administrative powers have been delegated). Eligible Executives have been offered the number of Options and the Options are exercisable at the price, set out in the personalised Application Form. No consideration is payable for the grant of Options.

The Options carry no voting or dividend rights but they allow the holder of the Options to participate in any growth in the Bank's ordinary share price and future bonus and cash issues by exercising the Options in the future at the price set now.

For Options granted on promotion or as part of annual remuneration reviews in 2002, each allocation of Options will vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, on 1 July 2004;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, on 1 July 2005; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, on 1 July 2006.

For Options granted to new MBL employees, Options vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, after the second anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, after the third anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, after the fourth anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Unexercised Options will lapse after the Expiry Date, normally five years from the date of grant. When an Eligible Executive leaves the employment of the MBL Group, unvested Options will generally lapse immediately and vested Options will also lapse after six months. Options also lapse in certain other situations. For further details see sections 2.4 and 2.5 below.

Each Option is exercisable into one fully paid ordinary share in the Bank (subject to adjustment over time for bonus issues and similar events described in section 2.11 below), which will be the same as all other Shares then on issue. The Exercise Price for Eligible Executives granted Options pursuant to promotion or annual compensation review in 2002, will be the weighted average price of the Shares traded on ASX during the month of June 2002 (adjusted for cum-dividend trading and excluding certain special trades). For Eligible Executives being granted Options on commencing employment, the Exercise Price is generally the weighted average price of the Shares traded on ASX during the calendar month before the date the offer of employment was accepted.

Exercise of Options is subject to the Bank's staff trading rules. Further, Options granted to UK residents and to Executive Directors of the Bank are subject to certain exercise conditions which must be met before exercise is allowed. See sections 2.7 and 2.9 below. Options granted to US residents and the Shares resulting from the exercise of those Options are subject to transfer restrictions. See section 2.8 below.

Options granted may not be assigned or charged. However, an Executive will be free to deal with any Shares resulting from the exercise of any Options, subject to the Deferred Exercise Share Option Plan or DESOP provisions described in Section 3 of this Prospectus and other Bank restrictions, for example, staff trading rules.

Options may only be acquired in the name of the Eligible Executive or a Controlled Company of the Eligible Executive or a Permitted Trustee of the Eligible Executive and in all cases will be registered in the name of a nominee company, Lacuna. The Options may not be acquired in any other name. Eligible Executives who are not resident in Australia should note that there may be restrictions on their acquiring Options in other than their own name.

A description of the Option Plan is contained in the following pages. Please carefully read this Prospectus before proceeding to apply for Options.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

2. THE OFFER AND THE OPTION PLAN

2.1 TIMETABLE

The Offer period applying to an Eligible Executive is set out on the personalised Application Form which accompanies this Prospectus. The completed Application Form must be received by 5.15 pm Sydney time on the date shown on the Application Form. Late applications will not be accepted.

2.2 THE OPTION PLAN

The object of the Option Plan is to assist in the recruitment, reward, retention and motivation of employees of the MBL Group, including persons who provide services to the Group on a long term consultancy basis. The Plan is governed by the Rules, which are summarised in the following sections of this Prospectus. A full copy of the Rules is available on MacNet or upon request from Joanne Hawkins or Helen Borland.

Under the Rules, at any time, the total number of Shares which the Bank would have to issue if all Options which have not lapsed were exercised; may not exceed 20 per cent of the aggregate of:

- the number of Shares on issue at that time (whether fully paid or partly paid); and
- the total number of Shares (whether fully paid or partly paid) which the Bank would have to issue if all rights to require the Bank to issue Shares which the Bank has then granted (including, without limitation, all Options and assuming all those rights are then fully exercisable or enforceable) were enforced or exercised to the greatest extent permitted.

The Board has also put in place a second limit on the number of Options that may be outstanding at any point in time. This is the same as the limit above but assuming that any exercised Options granted less than five years ago, where the Executive is still with the Group, are still unexercised.

This second Board imposed limit is subject to Board review and amendment over time.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

2.3 GRANT OF OPTIONS

2.3.1 Participation in Option Plan

Participation in the Option Plan is entirely at the discretion of the Board (or by delegation, the Executive Committee). In making these determinations, the Board or Executive Committee typically considers:

- (a) the Executive's position with the MBL Group and the services provided to the MBL Group by the Executive;
- (b) the Executive's record of employment with or service to the MBL Group;
- (c) the Executive's potential contribution to the growth of the MBL Group; and
- (d) any other matters which are indicative of the Executive's merit.

If this Offer is accepted, the Bank will grant the specified number of Options to the Eligible Executive or his/her nominated Controlled Company or his/her nominated Permitted Trustee, which will be registered in the name of Lacuna, on the Optionholder's behalf. On exercise by the Optionholder, Lacuna, as nominee, will initially be allotted Shares which will rank pari passu with all other Shares then on issue. These Shares are then transferred to the beneficial owner or otherwise dealt with by the beneficial owner, subject to the DESOP provisions described in Section 3 which place certain restrictions on the beneficial owner's ability to deal with these Shares.

2.3.2 Exercise Price

The Exercise Price applicable to an Eligible Executive is set out in his/her personalised Application Form.

The Exercise Price is determined by the Bank. Eligible Executives receiving invitations resulting from the Bank's annual promotion and compensation review process in 2002 will have an exercise price which is the weighted average price of Shares traded on ASX during the month of June 2002 (adjusted for cum-dividend trading and excluding certain special trades). For Eligible Executives being granted Options on commencing employment, the exercise price will normally be the weighted average price of Shares traded on ASX during the calendar month before the date of formal acceptance of the offer of employment. However, subject to the Listing Rules, the Board and the Executive Committee have discretion to vary the method of determining the Exercise Price applicable to any allocation of Options.

JULY 2002

2.3.3 Controlled Company/ Permitted Trustee

The Rules allow an Eligible Executive to nominate a Controlled Company, as defined in the Rules, as the beneficial owner of the Options allocated to the Eligible Executive. A Controlled Company is defined in the Rules to mean, in relation to an Executive, a body corporate in respect of which one or more of the following applies:

- (a) the Executive holds more than one-half of the issued share capital;
- (b) the Executive is in a position to cast, or control (directly or indirectly) the casting of, more than one-half of the maximum number of votes that might be cast at a general meeting of that body corporate; and
- (c) the Executive controls the composition of the board of directors, committee of management, council or other governing authority.

If an Eligible Executive wishes to nominate such a company, the Eligible Executive should notify Joanne Hawkins in writing as soon as possible with the name, ACN, place of incorporation and registered office address of the company so that revised Powers of Attorney can be sent to the Eligible Executive in time to reply by the closing date. The Deed of Grant will be required to be entered into by both the Eligible Executive and the Controlled Company and hence a Power of Attorney for each will be required.

The Rules allow an Eligible Executive to nominate a Permitted Trustee, as defined in the Rules, as the beneficial holder of the Options allocated to the Eligible Executive. A Permitted Trustee is defined in the Rules to mean an entity approved by the Committee to hold an Option on trust for a Participant from time to time. The only entity currently approved as a Permitted Trustee is the "International Pension Plan", which is a pension plan available to certain employees on international assignment in the United Kingdom. Eligible Executives are advised to take their own independent legal and taxation advice in respect of the consequences of nominating a Permitted Trustee as the beneficial holder of their Options.

Eligible Executives, who are not resident in Australia should note that there may be restrictions on their acquiring Options in other than their own name.

If an Eligible Executive accepts this Offer, the Eligible Executive will be required to execute an agreement between the Bank, Lacuna and the Eligible Executive. This agreement will provide that Lacuna will hold the Options as nominee for the Optionholder and that all benefits of ownership will be passed to the Optionholder.

Eligible Executives should note that there are likely to be different taxation consequences in taking up the Options via a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee (see section 4.4 below).

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

No cash outlay will be required to be paid to the Bank other than payment of the Exercise Price on exercise of the Options, plus any Exercise Fee which may be payable in respect of the exercise of Options subject to United Kingdom National Insurance Contributions, (see section 2.7 below).

Any liabilities associated with holding Options are the responsibility of the Optionholder, particularly as regards the payment of any exercise amount, tax and duties.

Options will be granted shortly after the closing date of the Offer.

2.4 EXPIRY AND LAPSE OF OPTIONS

Options will expire on, and so may not be exercised after, the fifth anniversary of the date of grant ("Expiry Date").

2.4.1 Lapse of Options

Each Option lapses:

- (a) on exercise of the Option;
- (b) if the Option has not been previously exercised, on the Expiry Date;
- (c) if the relevant Executive:
 - (i) dies;
 - (ii) ceases to be an employee of the MBL Group before the Option has vested (see below); or
 - (iii) ceases to be an employee of the MBL Group after the Option has vested and the Option is not exercised within six months of ceasing to be an employee;
- (d) if the Executive Committee becomes aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Executive Committee, indicate that the relevant Executive has acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of his or her obligations to the Bank or any associated company of the Bank and the Executive Committee (in its absolute discretion) determines that the Option lapses;
- (e) if the Bank commences to be wound up; or
- (f) if the Optionholder was a Controlled Company of an Executive or a Permitted Trustee of an Executive when the Option was granted and, without the prior written consent of the Executive Committee, the Optionholder ceases to be a Controlled Company of the same Executive or a Permitted Trustee of the same Executive, as the case may be.

If the relevant Executive ceases to be an employee of the MBL Group after an Option has vested and before the Expiry Date, or the Executive's Application Form so provides, the Executive Committee may in its absolute discretion (on any conditions which it thinks fit) decide that the Option does not lapse but lapses at the time and subject to the conditions it may specify by notice to the Optionholder. In making such a decision, the Executive Committee may consider any relevant matter (including, without limitation, whether the Executive ceased to be an employee by reason of retirement, ill-health, accident or redundancy).

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS

2.4.2 Employment Events

Options granted under this Offer are issued subject to a condition that a proportion of those Options, held in respect of an Executive which have not yet vested will lapse if an Employment Event occurs in respect of that Executive. For the purpose of Options issued under this Offer, an Employment Event occurs if:

- (a) the Executive changes from full-time work to part-time work including part-time consultancy arrangements; or
- (b) takes leave without pay, apart from maternity leave, in excess of 3 months; or
- (c) the Executive reduces his/her part-time hours of work.

If an Executive takes maternity leave for a period of 12 months, which is immediately followed by a period of approved unpaid leave of more than 3 months, an Employment Event will only occur in respect of that Executive when the period of unpaid leave exceeds 3 months. The number of Options which will lapse as a result of an Employment Event will be calculated immediately prior to the relevant vesting date of the Options, as set out below.

If an Employment Event occurs in respect of an Executive, the number of Options held in respect of that Executive which would be retained by the relevant Optionholder is:

- (a) all vested Options at the time of the occurrence of the Employment Event; and
- (b) the following proportion of each tranche of unvested Options (determined immediately prior to the relevant vesting date for that tranche):

Tranche 1 (ie those Options which vest on 1 July 2004 or the second anniversary of the date the Executive commenced employment with the MBL Group as the case may be)

$$\frac{\text{number of paid hours worked in 24 months preceding the vesting date}}{2 \times \text{annual full time hours}} \times \text{first tranche}$$

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Tranches 2 and 3 (ie those Options which vest on 1 July 2005 and 1 July 2006 respectively, or on the third and fourth anniversary of the date the Executive commenced employment with the MBL Group as the case may be)

$$\frac{\text{number of paid hours worked in 12 months preceding the vesting date}}{\text{annual full time hours}} \times \text{second or third tranche}^*$$

* as appropriate

The remaining unvested Options held in respect of that Executive, which are not to be retained by the relevant Optionholder as determined above will lapse.

The relevant MBL Group Head may determine in their absolute discretion, that some or all Options which would otherwise lapse because of a prior Employment Event do not lapse, in their absolute discretion.

For the purposes of employment at MBL, full-time employment is recognised to comprise 37.5 hours per week. No Executive is entitled to be granted more Options if an Employment Event occurs such as the Executive changing from part-time employment or consultancy to full-time employment or the Executive, being a part-time employee or consultant, increases the number of hours he or she works per week.

For example:

An Executive who holds 3000 unvested Options that were issued under this Offer works full-time from 1 July 2002 to 30 June 2003, that is 37.5 hours per week. If that Executive then changes to part-time work ie 3 days per week from 1 July 2003 to 30 June 2004, that is 22.5 paid hours per week ($37.5 \times 3/5 = 22.5$), then the Executive will retain the following number of the first tranche of his/her Options:

$$\frac{(52 \times 37.5) + (52 \times 22.5)}{2 \times (52 \times 37.5)} = \frac{3120}{3900} \times 1000 \text{ options} = 800 \text{ Options}$$

Therefore, 200 of the Executive's unvested options will lapse.

If the Executive continues part-time work for 3 days per week from 1 July 2004 to 30 June 2005, then the Executive will retain the following number of the second tranche of his/her Options:

$$\frac{(52 \times 22.5)}{(52 \times 37.5)} = \frac{1170}{1950} \times 1000 \text{ options} = 600 \text{ options}$$

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Therefore, 400 of the Executive's unvested options will lapse.

If the Executive reverts to full time work from 1 July 2005 to 30 June 2006, then the Executive will retain all of the third tranche of his/her Options, being 1,000 Options.

2.5 VESTING OF OPTIONS

The Options are subject to a vesting arrangement such that Options which have not vested at the date of ceasing employment with the MBL Group will, unless the Board or Executive Committee resolve otherwise, immediately lapse unexercised. The vesting arrangement applicable to the Options offered to an Eligible Executive is set out in his/her Application Form.

For Options granted on promotion or as part of annual remuneration reviews in 2002, each allocation of Options will vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, on 1 July 2004;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, on 1 July 2005; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, on 1 July 2006.

For Options granted to new MBL employees, Options vest progressively over four years as follows:

- (a) as to one third of the Options, after the second anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group;
- (b) as to another one third of the Options, after the third anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group; and
- (c) as to the remaining one third of the Options, after the fourth anniversary of the date of commencement of relevant employment with the MBL Group.

Once vested, each Option is exercisable until the Expiry Date into one Share in the Bank (subject to adjustment over time for bonus issues and similar events described in section 2.11 below), which will be the same as all other Shares then on issue.

2.6 EXERCISE OF OPTIONS

Exercise of Options by Executives is subject to the Bank's staff trading rules at the time of exercise. Under the current staff trading rules, Options may only be exercised:

- (a) from the ex-dividend date for the Bank's Shares in May/June until the end of August;
- (b) from the ex-dividend date for the Bank's Shares in November/December until the end of February; and/or
- (c) during the month immediately preceding the Expiry Date.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

The Rules set out other periods during which Options may be exercised including where the Bank makes a rights or entitlements issue of securities to its ordinary shareholders (and the Options have vested), where there is a deemed "Change in Control" of the Bank and where a takeover offer is made for the Shares. Please refer to the Rules for further details.

Subject to the Rules (in particular as described in section 2.10 below) and the staff trading rules, once an Optionholder, (or if the Optionholder is a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee, the relevant Eligible Executive), leaves the employ of the MBL Group, any vested Options may be exercised during the next six months, (subject to the above staff trading rules) after which the Options will lapse unexercised.

At the time of exercising Options, Optionholders will need to consider whether they are in possession of information which may lead to any contravention of the insider trading laws in the Corporations Act. If in any doubt please seek professional legal advice.

To exercise an Option, an Optionholder must give a notice specifying that he or she wishes to exercise the Option to the Bank accompanied by:

- (a) the relevant Option Certificate, if any; and
- (b) payment of the full amount of the Exercise Price.

Exercise of an Option is only effective when the Bank receives full value for the full amount of the Exercise Price, which must be made by cheque, bank draft or other immediately available funds in favour of the Bank. The Bank does not currently require a minimum number of Options to be exercised but the Rules provide that the Executive Committee may, in the future, determine a minimum number. The exercise of an Option does not prevent the exercise of any other Option.

Not more than fifteen business days after the exercise of an Option becomes effective, the Bank must allot and issue the Shares the subject of the Option. These Shares will rank pari passu in all respects (including as to dividends the entitlement to which is determined after the allotment) with all other Shares then on issue. The Bank must apply to ASX (and any other stock exchange on which the Shares of the Bank are then quoted) for, and will use its best endeavours to obtain, quotation for those Shares.

Where at the same time an Optionholder is obliged under the Rules to make a payment to the Bank and the Bank is also obliged under the Rules to make a payment to the Optionholder, the Executive Committee may decide to set off the amount of those payments so that:

- (a) payment of the lesser amount is fully satisfied; and
- (b) payment of the greater amount is satisfied by the payment of the difference between the lesser amount and the greater amount.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Please also refer to Section 3 for information on restrictions on Shares resulting from the exercise of Options.

Dealing in Shares resulting from the exercise of Options is also subject to the Bank's rules on staff trading. The current policy is that there are three staff trading periods per year during which staff may buy or sell Shares, each of approximately two to four weeks duration following the announcements of the Bank's interim and final results and after the Bank's shareholder annual general meeting.

2.7 EXERCISE CONDITIONS ON OPTIONS ISSUED TO UK RESIDENTS

In the United Kingdom ("UK"), National Insurance ("NI") contributions will be payable by the Bank at the time of exercise of Options issued to UK residents after 5 April 1999. Employers' NI contributions are currently levied at the rate of 11.8% and in respect of Options will (based on current legislation) be applied on the difference between the amount paid for the Option and the market value of the resulting share(s). Based on current legislation, UK NI contributions will be payable on exercise of Options even if the Grantee has subsequently ceased to be a resident of the UK.

The Executive Committee has resolved to apply the existing Group-wide policy of recovering the cost of such taxes and charges from the affected employees. As a result, Options issued to UK residents pursuant to this Prospectus will be subject to a special "Exercise Fee."

This Exercise Fee will be equivalent to the amount of any taxes or charges (including but not limited to employers' UK NI contributions) which are or may become payable as a result of the exercise of the Options. This amount will be in addition to the Exercise Price of the Options and will be payable at the time the Options are exercised.

UK Residents should also note that employees' NI contributions are also payable by the Grantee calculated at the rate of 7% per annum of income derived from UK services, but are subject to a maximum of £215 per month.

A specific Application Form must be completed by Optionholders who will be resident in the UK at the time that their Options are granted. This Application Form sets out details of the Exercise Fee.

2.8 U.S. TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS

Neither the Options nor the Shares issuable upon exercise of the Options have been, or will be, registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Act"), or any U.S. state or other securities laws. The Options and the Shares have not been approved, disapproved or recommended by any U.S. federal, state or other securities commission or regulatory authority.

The Options and the Shares issuable upon exercise of the Options constitute "restricted securities" within the meaning of Rule 144 under the Securities Act. The Options or Shares may be offered, sold or otherwise transferred only (a) outside the United States in an offshore transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 903 or Rule 904 of Regulation S under the Securities Act, (b) pursuant to an exemption from registration under the Securities Act provided by Rule 144 under the Securities Act (if available), (c) to a person whom it reasonably believes is a Qualified Institutional Buyer in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A under the Securities Act, or (d) pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act covering the shares, and in each case in accordance with any applicable securities laws of any state of the United States or other jurisdiction.

2.9 EXERCISE CONDITIONS ON EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OPTIONS

Options granted to Executive Directors are subject to additional exercise conditions which must be met before exercise is allowed. If applicable, refer to your personalised Application Form. In summary, vested Options granted to Executive Directors who are not members of Executive Committee at the time of grant, may be exercised if the Bank's average annual return on ordinary equity for the three previous financial years is at or above the 50th percentile of the corresponding figures for all companies in the then S&P/ASX 300 Industrials Index.

Executive Directors who are members of the Executive Committee at the time of grant may exercise vested Options if the Bank's average annual return on ordinary equity for the three previous financial years is at or above the 65th percentile of the corresponding figures for all companies in the then S&P/ASX 300 Industrials Index.

The condition will be examined quarterly from vesting until expiry of the Options. Options which have vested, but are not able to be exercised at a particular examination date, will be exercisable (until expiry) at or after future quarterly examination dates when and if the exercise conditions pertaining to any of those dates have been met.

2.10 MODIFICATION OF VESTING PERIOD, EXERCISE PERIOD AND EXERCISE CONDITIONS

Where an Executive ceases or gives notice that she/he intends to cease to be an employee of the MBL Group before any Options held vest, or the Executive's Application Form so provides, the Board or Executive Committee in their absolute and unfettered discretion may determine any or all of the following:

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

- (a) that the vesting period of an Option is reduced to a period shorter than that specified in the invitation made in relation to that Option;
- (b) that the period during which an Option may be exercised is extended for a specified period following the time that the Executive ceases to be an employee (but not beyond the Expiry Date); and
- (c) that any exercise condition of the Option be waived.

2.11 DIVIDEND, VOTING, ADJUSTMENTS AND OTHER RIGHTS

Options carry no dividend or voting rights. The Rules also state that the Option Plan does not give an Executive any additional rights to compensation or damages as a result of the termination of employment or appointment.

2.11.1 Capitalisation of profits or reserves

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank issues Shares by way of capitalisation of profits or reserves, subject to the clauses on Pro-Rata Bonus issues (see 2.11.6 below), the Board or the Executive Committee may in their absolute discretion adjust either or both the number of Shares to be issued on exercise of an Option and the Exercise Price for that Option.

2.11.2 New issues

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank gives holders of Shares the right (pro-rata with existing shareholdings) to subscribe for additional Shares and the Option is not exercised as contemplated below (see 2.11.3), the Exercise Price of an Option after the issue of those Shares is adjusted in accordance with the formula below:

$$O' = O - \frac{E[P - (S + D)]}{N + 1}$$

where:

O' = new Exercise Price of the Option;

O = old Exercise price of the Option;

E = number of Shares into which one Option is exercisable;

P = the average closing price on the Automated Trading System provided for the trading of Shares on ASX, excluding special crossings, overnight sales and exchange traded option exercises per Share (weighted by reference to volume) during the 5 trading days ending before the ex-rights date or ex-entitlements date;

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

S= subscription price for one Share under the rights or entitlements issue;

D= dividend due but not yet paid on Shares (except those Shares to be issued under the rights issue or entitlements issue);

N= number of Shares with rights or entitlements that must be held to receive a right to one new Share.

2.11.3 Rights/entitlements issues

Where an Option has vested and prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank makes an offer or invitation to holders of Shares for subscription for cash for shares, options or other securities of the Bank or any other entity, the Bank must give the Optionholder notice not less than ten business days before the book's closing date to determine entitlements to receive that offer or invitation. This is to enable the Optionholder to exercise the Option and receive the offer or invitation in respect of the Shares allotted on exercise of the Option.

2.11.4 Sub-division, consolidation or conversion

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank subdivides or consolidates its shares, the Shares issued to the Optionholder on exercise of the Option are the number of securities of the value and with the rights that the Shares, which would otherwise have been issued on exercise of the Option, would have become as a result of that sub-division or consolidation.

2.11.5 Reconstruction, reduction or return of capital

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank reconstructs, reduces or returns its issued capital or buys back Shares, the number or nominal value of the Shares to be issued on exercise of the Option are reconstructed in the same proportion as the issued capital of the Bank is reconstructed, reduced or returned (subject to the same provisions with respect to rounding of entitlements as applied in relation to the reconstruction, reduction or return of capital). In all other respects the terms for the exercise of the Option are unaltered.

2.11.6 Pro-rata bonus issues

Where prior to the Expiry Date of an Option, the Bank makes a pro-rata bonus issue to holders of Shares and the Option is not exercised before the book's closing date to determine entitlements to that bonus issue, the number of Shares to be issued on exercise of the Option is the number of Shares, which would have been issued on exercise of the Option before that bonus issue, plus the number of bonus Shares which would have been issued to the Optionholder, if the Option had been exercised before that book's closing date.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

2.11.7 Notice of adjustment

The Bank must give notice to Optionholders of any adjustment to the number or description of securities which are to be issued on exercise of an Option or to the Exercise Price (if the Bank is listed on ASX, in accordance with the applicable Listing Rules).

2.11.8 Listing Rules

If the Bank is listed on ASX, each amendment contemplated by the provisions described above is subject to its being consistent with the Listing Rules.

2.11.9 Cumulative adjustments

Each adjustment described in 2.11.1 to 2.11.6 above is to be made to either or both the Shares and the Exercise Price in respect of each Option granted and unexercised at the time of the adjustment.

2.11.10 Rounding

Before an Option is exercised, all adjustment calculations are to be carried out including all fractions (in relation to both the Shares and the Exercise Price of the Options). On exercise by a person of a number of Options, the aggregate number of Shares issued to that person as a result of those exercises is rounded down to the next lower whole number and the Exercise Price per Option rounded up to the next higher cent.

2.12 AMENDMENT OF THE OPTION PLAN

Subject to the Listing Rules, the Board or Executive Committee may at any time and from time to time by resolution:

- (a) amend all or any of the Rules or all or any of the rights or obligations of the Optionholders or any of them; and
- (b) formulate (and subsequently amend) special terms and conditions, in addition to those set out in these Rules, to apply to Eligible Executives employed in, resident in, or who are citizens of, a particular jurisdiction.

2.13 TRANSFER OF OPTIONS

Each Option is personal to the Optionholder and is not transferable, transmissible, assignable or chargeable, except in the situations described immediately below or with the prior written consent of the Executive Committee.

If an Optionholder, or the Eligible Executive of an Optionholder, if the Optionholder is a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee, dies after an Option has vested and before the Expiry Date of the Option, with the written approval of the Executive Committee in its absolute discretion the Option may (but only at a time permitted by the approval and in accordance with any conditions specified in the approval) be exercised by:

- the legal personal representatives of the Optionholder and to the extent necessary for this to occur, the Option may be transferred to the legal personal representatives; or
- the Optionholder, if the Optionholder is a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee.

2.14 ADMINISTRATIVE ARRANGEMENTS

The Deed of Grant, whereby Options are granted, between an Eligible Executive, (the Eligible Executive's Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee, if applicable), the Bank and Lacuna may be executed by an Attorney for the Eligible Executive and, if applicable, the Controlled Company or the Permitted Trustee.

Eligible Executives wishing to be granted Options should complete the Power(s) of Attorney incorporated in the Application Form, which appoints Dennis Leong, Company Secretary, Amelia Cho, Assistant Company Secretary and Joanne Hawkins, Assistant Company Secretary as the attorneys to execute the Deed of Grant, and return to Joanne Hawkins by the date stated in the invitation.

A separate power of attorney is also incorporated into the Application Form which relates to the DESOP (see section 3.4 below).

A sample Deed of Grant is attached as the Appendix.

3. DEFERRED EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN

3.1 INTRODUCTION

In May 2000, the Board approved amendments to the Option Plan Rules to introduce a six month Non-Disposal Period and other Restrictions relating to granting security over or disposing of the Shares issued on exercise of an Option issued under the Option Plan. Shares issued on exercise of an Option may also be forfeited in certain circumstances. These amendments are referred to as the Deferred Exercise Share Option Plan ("DESOP").

Shares resulting from the exercise of Options will be placed under the DESOP, unless Optionholders request the Bank waive the application of the DESOP arrangements to some or all of the Shares. Unless the Bank is aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Bank, indicate that the relevant Executive may have acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of his/her obligations to the Bank or any Associated Company then this request will be granted by the Bank.

The taxation implications of participating in the DESOP are set out in the "Taxation Considerations" section below.

3.2 HOW THE DESOP OPERATES

3.2.1 MBL Shares resulting from the exercise of Options

An Optionholder's Shares resulting from the exercise of Options are now automatically placed into the DESOP. The Option Exercise Form must be completed and signed by the Optionholder at the time the Optionholder elects to exercise their Options. At this time the Optionholder may also request the Bank waive the application of the Non-Disposal Period and Restrictions on Shares issued on exercise of the Option. The Shares will be held outside the DESOP, provided this request is accepted by the Bank.

3.2.2 How the Shares are held in DESOP

The Shares which are held in the DESOP will be registered in the name of the Optionholder and cannot be held under any other name. The Shares are held subject to the terms of the DESOP. The Shares will be uncertificated. A DESOP Participant will be sent a holding statement shortly after the Shares are registered in their name.

3.2.3 Purpose and role of the DESOP

The Bank has introduced the DESOP into the Option Plan to further encourage long term employee share ownership and alignment of the interests of employees with shareholders. The Shares resulting from the exercise of the Options are placed into the DESOP and held in the Optionholder's name.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Shares held in the DESOP may qualify for a tax deferral until the earlier of ten years from the date of grant of the underlying Options or the date the relevant Eligible Executive resigns from the Bank or an Associated Company of the Bank. (See section 4, "Taxation Considerations").

The Shares are subject to a six month Non-Disposal Period from the date that the Shares are placed into the DESOP and are subject to the Restrictions which apply at all times while held under the DESOP.

3.2.4 How the DESOP is administered

The day to day administration of the DESOP is undertaken by the Plan Company, an independent company owned by White Hliffe Chartered Accountants. The Bank may replace the Plan Company and appoint a new entity to act as the Plan Company at any time by notice in writing to the Plan Company or otherwise as agreed between the Bank and the Plan Company.

3.3 MAIN CONSEQUENCES TO EXECUTIVES FROM DESOP

The Shares may be held under the DESOP until ten years from the date of grant of the Options (or until the DESOP Participant elects to sell or withdraw the Shares, or the relevant Executive leaves the employ of the Bank or an Associated Company, if earlier).

Where the Eligible Executive is the Optionholder and provided the Eligible Executive does not make the taxation election discussed in section 4, "Taxation Considerations" below, no tax will be payable on grant or exercise of the Options. Normal income tax (not capital gains tax) will be payable by the DESOP Participant (based on the market value of the Shares less the Exercise Price paid on the exercise of the Options) at the earlier of:

- (a) ten years from the date of grant;
- (b) the date the Eligible Executive ceases employment; or
- (c) the date when Shares may first be sold, having been withdrawn from the DESOP.

Where a Controlled Company is the Optionholder, participation in the DESOP will create no additional taxation consequences.

The Shares held in DESOP do not attract fringe benefits tax and are not subject to any superannuation restrictions. In addition, DESOP Participants are not responsible for administration costs involved in operating the DESOP as these costs are borne by the Bank.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Some examples of situations in which an Executive may wish to request the Bank waive the application of the Non-Disposal Period and Restrictions on Shares

1. Executives who do not want Shares to be subject to a six month Non-Disposal Period and ongoing Restrictions and forfeiture provisions (as described in section 3.6) for the entire time the Shares are held in DESOP;
2. Executives who wish to grant security over Shares issued on exercise of their Options. A third party is likely to be reluctant to accept security over Shares which are held subject to the Restrictions and forfeiture provisions of the DESOP, assuming such security is permitted by the Plan Company and the Bank;
3. Executives who are overseas residents;
4. Executives who hold their Options via a company structure and who pay tax on receipt of the Options;
5. Executives who are intending to resign within a short time frame from the Bank or an Associated Company of the Bank (once employees resign, they cannot remain in the DESOP); and
6. Executives who wish to sell the Shares on exercise of the Options.

3.4 HOW TO EXERCISE AND NOT PARTICIPATE

The Application Form for Eligible Executives to apply for Options also includes a DESOP Power of Attorney, which must be completed as part of the application for Options. The DESOP Power of Attorney will enable the Plan Company and its officers to acquire, dispose of, or to otherwise deal with, any Shares under the DESOP on behalf of the DESOP Participant. Shares issued as a result of the exercise of Options will automatically be placed under the DESOP.

Before an Optionholder exercises Options, the Optionholder must complete an Option Exercise Form. The Option Exercise Form will allow an Optionholder to request the Bank to waive the application of the Non-Disposal Period and Restrictions on all or a lesser nominated amount of Shares. Unless the Bank is aware of circumstances which, in the reasonable opinion of the Bank, indicate that the relevant Executive may have acted fraudulently, dishonestly or in a manner which is in breach of their obligations to the Bank or any Associated Company then this request will be granted by the Bank. Any remaining Shares not subject to a waiver will be held in the DESOP. A DESOP Participant must hold a minimum of 100 Shares under the DESOP. There is no maximum limit on the number of Shares the Optionholder may hold in the DESOP in relation to Shares resulting from the exercise.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

3.5 ENTITLEMENTS RELATING TO SHARES HELD IN DESOP

Shares held in DESOP are fully paid ordinary Shares ranking equally with all other fully paid ordinary Shares of the Bank then on issue. DESOP Participants who hold Shares in DESOP will, (unless the Shares are forfeited):

- receive dividends in relation to the Shares under the DESOP. When the dividends are received, they become part of the DESOP Participant's income and will need to be declared in their taxation return. The Share Registry will send dividend statements directly to the DESOP Participant;
- qualify for rights, bonus and other issues of the Bank's Shares (if any); and
- have normal voting rights.

3.6 RESTRICTIONS ON DEALING WITH SHARES HELD UNDER DESOP

The Shares held under the DESOP will be subject to the Non-Disposal Period and the Restrictions as set out in the Rules and summarised below.

3.6.1 Non-Disposal Period

A DESOP Participant may not sell, transfer, or dispose of any Shares held under the DESOP for a period of six months from the date that the Shares are issued to the DESOP Participant on exercise of the Option, unless:

- i. the Plan Company approves the DESOP Participant's request for withdrawal because of special circumstances (eg death, total and permanent disability or demonstrated hardship) of the relevant Executive;
- ii. the relevant Executive leaves the employ of the Bank or an Associated Company in the meantime. In this case, the Shares which are held by the relevant DESOP Participant will cease to be subject to the terms of the DESOP and will be held by the DESOP Participant outside the DESOP assuming the Shares are not liable to be forfeited; or
- iii. a special situation arises such as a takeover of the Bank, a voluntary winding up of the Bank, the Shares become subject to compulsory acquisition, or the Bank being subject to a reconstruction or an amalgamation with other companies, in which case the Executive may be able to withdraw from the DESOP.

3.6.2 Forfeiture

A DESOP Participant will forfeit any right or interest in any Shares or entitlements under the DESOP to the Plan Company if the relevant Executive is dismissed with cause or commits any act of theft, fraud or defalcation in relation to the affairs of the Bank or any Associated Company (whether or not the Executive is charged with any offence) or if the relevant

JULY 2002

Executive does an act (or fails to do an act) which, in the opinion of the Bank, brings the Bank or any Associated Company into disrepute.

The Bank may determine that any forfeited Shares or their proceeds are to be transferred to another employee, used in another employee share plan of the Bank or used in the Macquarie Bank Superannuation Fund.

3.6.3 Security Interests

Security interests, including charges and mortgages, may only be granted in respect of Shares held by the DESOP Participant under the DESOP if the DESOP Participant receives the prior written consent of the Plan Company and is approved by the Bank. Such consent will only be provided where the Plan Company and the Bank are satisfied that the security interest would not interfere with their ability to enforce the restrictions and forfeiture provisions under the Rules. It is expected that financiers may have difficulty in accepting Shares held in the DESOP as security and DESOP Participants should not assume that they will be able to charge or mortgage their DESOP Shares.

3.6.4 Enforcement of Restrictions

The Plan Company is entitled to make such arrangements as it considers necessary to enforce the six month Non-Disposal Period, the other Restrictions on a DESOP Participant dealing with Shares or granting a security interest over Shares and the forfeiture provisions, and the DESOP Participant must agree to such arrangements.

3.7 WITHDRAWAL AND SALE OF SHARES

Following the expiry of the six month Non-Disposal Period, DESOP Participants wishing to sell Shares may do so only after the Shares are withdrawn from the DESOP. Shares may remain subject to the DESOP for a period of up to ten years from the date of grant of the Options. DESOP Participants who wish to withdraw Shares from the DESOP (whether to sell them or otherwise) must submit a Notice of Withdrawal of Shares which must be approved by the Plan Company.

Shares held by a DESOP Participant will also be withdrawn from the DESOP (providing those Shares have not been forfeited) on the earlier of:

- I. the relevant Executive ceasing to be employed by the Bank or an Associated Company; and
- II. ten years from the date of grant of the underlying Options.

If an Executive leaves the employ of the Bank or an Associated Company, then subject to the operation of the forfeiture provisions of the DESOP, the Plan Company will, on

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

receiving notification from the Bank of his/her ceasing employment, advise the Share Registry to lift any restrictions on the relevant DESOP Participant's Shares.

Trading in Shares will still be subject to the Bank's then applicable rules on staff trading. However, it is noted that even during staff trading periods, staff who personally are in possession of non-public, price sensitive information about the Bank must not deal in Shares.

4. TAXATION CONSIDERATIONS

4.1 GENERAL COMMENTS

The following comments regarding the taxation implications of participation in the Option Plan are general in nature and based on current Australian tax laws and practices. Taxation in relation to the Option Plan is complex. Eligible Executives are advised to seek their own taxation advice in relation to their personal tax liabilities and, if relevant, those of their Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee. Such advice should be obtained at the time of application for Options and of completing their tax returns for the years including the date of grant, lapses of Options, exercises of Options, cessation of employment, and on sale of any Shares resulting from exercise of Options.

Eligible Executives subject to tax in overseas jurisdictions should seek specific tax advice on their particular situations.

Relationship with other Equity Plans of the Bank

Participants in other employee equity plans should ensure that they are aware of, and carefully consider, their taxation positions under those plans as it is important to consider the overall effect of making (or not making) the section 139E taxation election. Only one election can be made each financial year and this will apply to all employee equity plans under which the employee acquires shares or options in that year, but not to acquisition of shares pursuant to the exercise of options.

DESOP Conditions

Shares issued on the exercise of Options will, unless a waiver is granted, automatically be subject to the DESOP Non-Disposal Period and other Restrictions.

DESOP participants should note that the Bank does not warrant that any particular taxation treatment will apply. Participants should seek professional financial and taxation advice referable to their individual circumstances to assist in determining whether or not to request a waiver of the DESOP restrictions.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

4.2 ELIGIBLE EXECUTIVE AS OPTIONHOLDER AND NO SECTION 139E ELECTION MADE

If the Options are taken up by the Eligible Executive personally and the Tax Act section 139E election (see below) is not made, no tax is payable on grant of the Option.

In such a case, the taxing point for the Options, called the "Cessation Time", is the earliest of the following events:

- i) where the DESOP conditions apply to the Shares acquired on exercise of the Options, the first time that those Shares could be traded following release from the DESOP conditions (i.e the first day of the next staff trading period if the release occurs outside a staff trading period);
- ii) when the Executive ceases employment with the Bank or an Associated Company (see section 4.5 below);
- iii) ten years from the date of grant of the Options;
- iv) where the Bank has waived the DESOP conditions the exercise of the Options will be the taxing point.

Note in relation to (i), the Commissioner may take the view that the cessation time is the time of release from DESOP conditions, not the first day of the next staff trading period.

If an Optionholder sells the Shares within 30 days of the Cessation Time, the Optionholder will be taxable as ordinary income (not capital gain) on an amount equal to the net sales proceeds of the Shares less the Exercise Price of the Options.

If an Optionholder holds the Shares beyond 30 days of the Cessation Time the Optionholder will be taxable on an amount equal to the market value of the Shares at the Cessation Time less the Exercise Price of the Options. This amount will be taxable as ordinary income (not capital gain) in the hands of the Optionholder. The market value is deemed to be the weighted average of the prices at which MBL Shares traded on ASX during the one week period up to and including the Cessation Day. For future capital gains tax ("CGT") purposes, the Shares will have a cost base equal to the market value of the Shares at the Cessation Time.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Should the Exercise Price exceed the market value, no amount will be required to be included in the Optionholder's assessable income. Strictly speaking, in these circumstances, the Shares will have a cost base (for CGT purposes) equal to their market value. However it may be that the Australian Taxation office ("ATO") will accept the Exercise Price as the cost base given that the provisions of the Tax Act do not seem to contemplate the situation where the market value is less than the Exercise Price.

4.3 ELIGIBLE EXECUTIVE AS OPTIONHOLDER AND SECTION 139E ELECTION MADE

If the Options are taken up personally by the Eligible Executive, the Tax Act section 139E election is available should the Eligible Executive wish to be assessed for tax in the tax year of grant, in which case there is no further tax until the sale of the Shares. Any further taxable amounts at that time are taxed as capital gains, not ordinary income. Note that the section 139E election covers all grants of shares and rights under employee share acquisition schemes during the tax year in question (but not the acquisition of shares pursuant to the exercise of options), and enables the tax-concession under the Macquarie Bank Employee Share Plan ("$1,000 Employee Share Plan") to be accessed.

An Eligible Executive has until the date of lodgement of the tax return for the year of grant of the Options to decide whether to make the election.

If an Eligible Executive makes the election, he/she must include a specified percentage of the Exercise Price as ordinary income for the year of grant. This same amount is also included in the capital gains cost base of the Option, and ultimately, the Share. Exercise of the Option does not trigger any tax liabilities but the Exercise Price is also included in the cost base of the Share.

The Share will be subject to the Non-Disposal Period and DESOP Restrictions unless these are waived by the Bank. Where the election has been made, the DESOP conditions do not have any tax effect; neither entry nor exit from the DESOP is a taxable event.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

The specified percentage to be included in the Optionholder's assessable income for the year of grant of the Options depends on the "market value" of Shares on the date of grant relative to the Exercise Price. If these amounts are equal, the specified percentage is 11.6% (for a 5 year option). If the market value has increased between the time of calculation of the exercise price and the grant of the Options, the specified percentage increases significantly. (In the extremely unlikely event that the Share price exceeds the Exercise Price by more than 37%, the gain itself is included in assessable income instead.)

If having made the election the Option expires unexercised, the Eligible Executive's tax return should be amended and the overpaid tax refunded (together with taxable interest).

50% CGT Concession

The 50% CGT concession will apply to a capital gain made on Shares which are sold more than 12 months after their acquisition date. There are currently two views as to the correct interpretation of the acquisition date provisions. The preferred view is that the acquisition date is the date the Options are exercised. On this view, the 50% CGT concession will only apply once the Shares have been held for 12 months starting from the day the Shares are acquired through the exercise of Options. On this view, if an Eligible Executive sells the Shares more than 12 months after the date the Shares are acquired, any capital gain on sale of the Shares would be eligible for the 50% CGT concession.

The alternative view is that the acquisition date is the date the Options are acquired on the basis that the grant of the Options constitutes an agreement to acquire the Shares, and the 12 month holding period commences from the date the agreement to acquire the Shares is entered into. If this view is correct, an Eligible Executive would not have to hold the Shares for more than 12 months for a capital gain to be eligible for the 50% CGT concession (provided the Eligible Executive acquired the Options at least 12 months prior to the disposal of Shares acquired pursuant to their exercise). The Commissioner of Taxation has disputed this treatment.

The Bank does not warrant any particular treatment. Therefore, if you wish to adopt the alternative view you should discuss with your personal tax adviser the applicability of the alternative views above to your particular circumstances.

4.4 CONTROLLED COMPANY OR PERMITTED TRUSTEE AS OPTIONHOLDER

If a Controlled Company (acting either as principal or as trustee of a family trust) or a Permitted Trustee, which is an "associate" (as defined) of an Eligible Executive takes up the Options, there are a number of important tax implications. No deferral of tax is available; an assessable income amount computed on the same basis as 4.3 above should be included as ordinary income in the Eligible Executive's personal tax return for the year of grant. This amount is also included in the capital gains cost base of the Options in the hands of the Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS

No tax liabilities are triggered by exercise of the Options or the Eligible Executive leaving the employment of the MBL Group. The capital gains cost base of the Shares includes both the Exercise Price and the amount previously included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income. If the Option lapses, the Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee would crystallise a capital loss equal to the amount previously included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income but in this case, the tax paid by the Eligible Executive is not refunded.

Shares acquired as a result of the exercise of Options will be subject to the Non-Disposal Period and DESOP restrictions unless these are waived by the Bank. Note that in these circumstances the DESOP restrictions do not have any tax effect; neither entry to nor exit from the DESOP is a taxable event.

It should be noted that capital losses can (subject to other requirements in the tax laws) only be offset against the Controlled Company's or Permitted Trustee's current or future capital gains. Any step-up in the cost base of assets in the hands of a company or trust may be effectively clawed back if the untaxed gain is distributed. It should also be noted that the discount capital gains concession is not available to companies.

You should seek your own independent taxation advice in relation to the taxation implications arising from the acquisition of Options by a Controlled Company or a Permitted Trustee.

4.5 IMPLICATIONS OF CESSATION OF MBL EMPLOYMENT

4.5.1 Optionholder is an Eligible Executive who has not made the section 139E election in respect of the year of grant of the Options

The Eligible Executive will be subject to income tax on cessation of employment with the MBL Group in respect of any vested Options or Shares acquired on exercise of those Options held subject to the DESOP restrictions. The lapsing of unvested Options (or the cancellation of vested Options) does not have any tax implications in these circumstances.

Vested Options

- If the vested Options are exercised on or before the date of cessation of employment and the Shares are sold in an arm's length sale within 30 days of the date of exercise, the sales proceeds less the Exercise Price must be included in the Eligible Executive's normal assessable income (not capital gain) in the tax return for the year of exercise.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

— If the vested Options are exercised on or before the date of cessation of employment (and the Shares are not held subject to the DESOP restrictions) and the Shares are not sold within 30 days of the date of exercise, the Eligible Executive must include in his/her tax return for the year of exercise the "market value" of the Shares at the date of exercise less the Exercise Price. The Shares acquired on exercise of those Options will have a capital gains cost base equal to their "market value" at the date of exercise of the Options. The "market value" is the weighted average Share price during the one week period up to and including the day of exercise. If there were no transactions during that period the latest offer price within that period is treated as the market value.

However, if the vested Options are exercised after the date of cessation of employment, the Eligible Executive must include in his/her tax return in the year of cessation of employment the greater of:

- (i) the "market value" of MBL Shares on the date of cessation of employment less the Exercise Price of the Options; and
- (ii) a specified percentage of the Exercise Price, calculated by reference to the remaining life of the Options, and the "market value" of MBL Shares at the date of cessation of employment relative to the Exercise Price (refer to the Taxation Division for detailed calculation).

The amount included in assessable income is also included in the cost base of the Options and, on exercise of the Options, is included in the cost base of the Shares acquired on exercise of those Options.

DESOP Shares

If the Options have been exercised during employment and the Shares acquired on exercise of those Options are held subject to the Non-Disposal Period and DESOP Conditions, the Shares will leave the DESOP on the cessation of employment. This will be the taxing point (the Cessation Time).

If the ex-DESOP Shares are sold in an arm's length sale within 30 days of leaving the DESOP, the sales proceeds reduced by the Exercise Price must be included in the Eligible Executive's normal assessable income. CGT does not apply to the disposal unless the Exercise Price exceeds the net sales proceeds, in which case a capital loss will result.

— If the ex-DESOP Shares are held beyond 30 days of leaving the DESOP, the Eligible Executive must include an income amount in his/her tax return for the year of cessation of employment being the "market value" of the ex-DESOP Shares at the date of leaving the DESOP reduced by the Exercise Price. The Shares will have a capital gains cost base equal to the market value of the Shares.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

- Should the Exercise Price exceed the market value, no amount will be required to be included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income. Strictly speaking, in these circumstances the Shares will have a capital gains cost base equal to their market value. However, it may be that the ATO will accept the Exercise Price as the cost base given that the provisions of the Tax Act do not seem to contemplate the situation where the market value is less than the Exercise Price.

Lapsed Options

There are no tax implications if the Options lapse on the Eligible Executive leaving the Bank.

4.5.2 Eligible Executive has made the section 139E election to be taxed in the year of grant or if the Options are taken up in a Controlled Company or by a Permitted Trustee

In these situations, the taxing point of the Options occurred at the date of grant. Consequently, there are no taxation implications of the cessation of employment in respect of vested Options, or any Shares acquired on exercise of those Options. Shares will leave the DESOP on cessation of employment.

Irrespective of any conditions, where Options are exercised the cost base of Shares acquired on exercise of those Options will include both the Exercise Price and the amount initially included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income. (It is noted that exercise must occur generally within six months of leaving).

Lapsed Options

If Options held by an Eligible Executive lapse unexercised, the tax paid on grant may be refunded (with taxable interest). If the Controlled Company or Permitted Trustee took up the lapsed Options it should instead incur a capital loss equal to the amount initially included in the Eligible Executive's assessable income.

4.6 REFORM OF THE AUSTRALIAN INCOME TAXATION SYSTEM

In August 1998 the Federal Government established the Review of Business Taxation Committee for the purpose of considering reforms to several areas of Australian revenue law. On 21 September 1999 the report of the Committee (the "Ralph Report") was released publicly, together with an announcement of the first stage of reforms to be implemented by the Federal Government. On 11 November 1999, the Treasurer announced the second stage of the reforms.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

A number of these tax reforms have already been legislated. Pursuant to Government announcements, some tax reform proposals are not going to be progressed. Other measures have been proposed but not yet enacted including a proposal to introduce a new "cessation time" to employee share plans. If enacted, this new cessation time will apply to employees who cease to be a tax resident in Australia and who have not made an election to be taxed in the year of the grant of the Options. This will result in the relevant employees having a tax liability based on the market value of the relevant shares on their departure from Australia. As the details of this and other reforms have not been finalised or enacted, it is not possible to accurately state the implications of these reforms.

5. FINANCIAL BENEFITS AND RISKS OF OPTION/SHARE INVESTMENT

5.1 FINANCIAL BENEFITS AND RISKS OF OPTION/SHARE INVESTMENT

The value of the Options will fluctuate with the value of the Shares, which are quoted on ASX. As Options cannot be transferred, the mechanism by which holders may obtain benefits is through exercising the Options into Shares. However, Options need not be exercised so that unlike Shares, a loss may be avoided by not exercising if the market price of the Shares is below the Exercise Price. No amount is payable for the grant of the Options.

Once Options are exercised, the holder of the resultant Shares is exposed to the normal risks of owning Shares. The price of the Shares will fluctuate and depend on the Bank's performance, investors' perceptions and the Australian sharemarket generally. Being senior executives of the Bank, Eligible Executives will be aware of the myriad of factors which affect the Bank's performance.

There are two main financial benefits that may arise from owning Shares:

- income in the form of dividends; and
- growth in the value (capital appreciation) of Shares.

There are also risks associated with Share ownership. The Bank is a limited liability company and persons holding Shares are not obliged to contribute more share capital in the event of losses. However, it is possible that, if there are losses or profits fall, holders of Shares may not receive dividends or dividends may be reduced and the value of their Shares may fall.

Every investment involves an element of risk. Shares should be considered a long-term rather than a short-term investment. The price of Shares as quoted on ASX is volatile and moves up and down with market sentiment as well as with factors which are specific to the Bank.

The price at which Shares trade on ASX may be higher or lower than historical prices. If investors decide to sell their Shares, the amount which may be received on the sale may be higher or lower than their present market price.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Many factors will affect the price of Shares. At any point in time these factors may include:

Company Factors

- the profitability of the Bank;
- the profit outlook for the Bank;
- the dividend policy of the Bank;
- the level of franking of the Bank's dividends;
- the credit ratings and strength of the balance sheet of the Bank; and
- the performance and success of the Bank's staff, management and Board and its policies and strategies.

External Factors

- movements in the general level of share prices on local and international share markets;
- the success of marketing and other strategies adopted by the Bank, relative to its competitors' strategies;
- developments in the banking, investment banking, stockbroking and other industries generally;
- the economic outlook in Australia and internationally;
- changes in government fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies;
- turnover and volatility of financial markets in Australia and overseas; and
- changes in interest rates, inflation rates, exchange rates and commodity prices.

Please also refer below for discussion of the risks impacting on the Bank's performance.

Neither Macquarie Bank Limited nor any related body corporate of Macquarie Bank Limited nor any of its officers guarantees the value of the Options or Shares, that the Share price will be above an Optionholder's Exercise Price during exercise periods, the performance of Shares, the repayment of capital or the payment of a particular return on Shares.

5.2 RISKS TO THE BANK'S FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE

Risk Factors

Continued superior performance cannot be assumed. There are many risks in the markets in which the Bank operates. Performance can be influenced by a range of factors, many of which are not within the Bank's control. In many parts of its business, the Bank constantly and deliberately assumes financial risk in a calculated and controlled way. Once a decision is made that a risk is acceptable, the Bank puts in place limits and an extensive range of procedures to monitor the risk.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

The performance of all of the Bank's major businesses can be influenced by external market and regulatory conditions. If all or most of the Bank's businesses were affected by adverse circumstances in the same period, overall earnings would suffer significantly.

Market Risk

Market risk arises from changes in market prices or volatility which may result in adverse revaluation of Macquarie's trading portfolios. Macquarie trades in foreign exchange, interest rates, commodities, bond and equities markets, including being an active price maker in derivatives in these markets. Changes in market prices, particularly rapid and unexpected changes, could cause losses. The Bank's policy is to manage this risk by imposing limits on the size of its exposure in each market.

The Bank depends on external parties for credit and trading limits to carry out its funding and trading operations and in the process manage its market risks. These parties rely, to some extent, on the credit ratings assigned to the Bank by ratings agencies. Any downgrading of the Bank's rating could increase costs and restrict availability of credit and funding limits.

Credit Risk

Like any bank, the MBL Group assumes credit risk in its banking and securities businesses. Credit risk arises from both lending and trading activities. In the case of trading activity, credit risk reflects the possibility that the trading counterparty will not be in a position to complete the contract once the settlement becomes due. The resultant credit exposure will be a function of the movement of prices over the period of the underlying contract. Credit losses can, and have, resulted in significant losses and sometimes financial failure in other financial institutions. The MBL Group puts great emphasis on credit management. While some credit losses have been incurred from time to time, these have not been material in relation to the Group's overall profitability or its capital base.

Most of the Bank's credit exposures arise from lending and trading contracts with Australian counterparties and counterparties based in OECD countries. In addition, however, there are exposures to counterparties in some non-OECD countries in Asia Pacific, Africa and Latin America. Where appropriate, the country risk is covered by political risk insurance.

MACQUARIE BANK EMPLOYEE SHARE OPTION PLAN PROSPECTUS
JULY 2002

Underwriting risk

Equity and debt underwriting risk is also assumed by the MBL Group in the normal course of business. The MBL Group's general approach is to substantially sub-underwrite these risks but underwritten positions are assumed and can expose the MBL Group to losses.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the Bank's requirement to fund its banking and trading operations on a daily basis. Any failure to meet this requirement may result in increased costs, inability to maintain market positions and review of the Bank's credit rating. The Bank adopts liquidity policies to manage this risk.

Operational risk

Operational risk arises from the manner in which the Bank conducts its business. The Bank faces operational risks which could lead to reputation damage, financial loss or regulatory risk in the event of an operational failure. Policies have been adopted to manage this risk. There remains a risk that the policy framework may prove inadequate or of failure to comply which may result in loss.

Macquarie's tax risk

In the ordinary course of its activities the MBL Group is exposed to risks arising from the manner in which the Australian and international tax regimes may be regarded by the relevant revenue and judicial authorities as applying to transactions entered into by the MBL Group. The MBL Group has in place controls and procedures to mitigate these risks but any changes in interpretation, application and administration of the law by the courts and the revenue authorities may result in significantly increased tax liabilities.

Legal risk

The MBL Group in the ordinary course of its business enters into transactions and provides advisory services which involve legal risk.

Legal risks include the risk of breaches of applicable laws and regulatory requirements, actual or perceived breaches of obligations of fidelity or confidence to clients and counterparties, unenforceability of counterparty obligations, fraud, negligence, misleading conduct or the inappropriate documentation of contractual relationships. The size and frequency of transactions entered into or in respect of which advice is provided are such that, should these risks result in losses to the MBL Group, the losses could have a material impact. The Bank has controls and procedures which seek to manage these risks.

Developments in banking and investment banking industry

MBL operates in the highly competitive financial services industry in Australia and overseas. Developments and competition in the industry place pressure on margins which may impact on profitability.

Economic outlook

The performance and earnings of MBL are impacted by changes in economic conditions, activity and sentiment in Australia and overseas including interest rates, foreign exchange rates and equity markets.

Regulation and legislation

MBL may be subject to changes in government regulatory policies or changes in legislation in Australia and other countries where MBL operates. Areas of regulation which impact on MBL include taxation and regulation relating to prudential supervision.

6. DESCRIPTION OF MACQUARIE BANK LIMITED

6.1 ISSUED ORDINARY SHARE CAPITAL

At 31 May 2002, the Bank's issued ordinary share capital was as follows:

| | Number |
| Ordinary Shares | 198,499,828 |

As at 31 May 2002, the Bank had on issue 21,309,462 Options over unissued Shares. All Options were exercisable into one Share per Option and were issued (with various exercise prices) pursuant to the Option Plan.

Changes to the Bank's issued capital and Options are normally reported monthly to ASX. If all Options over unissued Shares had been exercised as at 31 May 2002, the Shares issued on exercise would have represented approximately 9.69% per cent of the then issued capital of the Bank.

Invitations for the grant of approximately 7.25 million Options are being made initially pursuant to this Prospectus. Further invitations may also be made during the coming 12 months.

6.2 FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Bank's consolidated financial statements for the year to 31 March 2002 and comment on performance and outlook are contained in the Bank's 2002 Annual Report. Further financial information concerning the Bank is generally available as described in Section 7.1.

The Bank's annual Basic Earnings Per Share (Basic EPS), for the last five years have been:

6.3 RIGHTS ATTACHING TO SHARES

The Shares carry the following rights, privileges and restrictions. Full details of the rights attaching to the Shares are set out in the Constitution of the Bank.

General Meetings and Voting

Each holder of Shares is entitled to receive notice of, and to attend and vote at, general meetings of the Bank and to receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be furnished to shareholders under the Constitution, the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

Shareholders may attend in person or by proxy and vote on issues requiring a shareholders' resolution at general meetings. Such issues include the election of Directors and any changes to the Constitution of the Bank. Notice is given to shareholders when those meetings are to be held and of the items of business to be considered. At a general meeting every holder of Shares present in person or by proxy or attorney has one vote on a show of hands and, on a poll, one vote per fully paid Share (and a proportion of a vote for shares partly paid, equal to the proportion the amount paid on the share bears to its total issue price).

Dividends

It is the Bank's present policy to pay dividends twice yearly. Subject to the rights of holders of shares issued with any special or restricted rights, that portion of the profits of the Bank which the Voting Directors may from time to time determine to distribute by way of a dividend, must be declared and paid on all of the shares of a particular class in respect of which the dividend is paid.

In 2002, the Bank activated its Dividend Reinvestment Plan. Ordinary shareholders may elect to reinvest their dividends in new shares at a 2.5% discount to the prevailing market price.

Annual Report

Shareholders have the opportunity to receive each year a copy of the Bank's annual report, (which this year comprises the 2002 Annual Review and 2002 Financial Report Booklets) which provides a review of the MBL Group's performance as a whole during the previous financial year. The 2002 Annual Review and Financial Report are available on Macnet.

JULY 2002

Winding Up

In the event that the Bank were ever wound up, depositors and other creditors would be paid out first. Any surplus available would be distributed among shareholders in accordance with the Corporations Act.

Transfer

Subject to the Constitution of the Bank, the Corporations Act, any other laws and the Listing Rules, Shares are transferable.

Variation of Rights

The rights attaching to shares of any class may be altered with the approval of a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of shares of that class or with the written consent of the holders of at least three-quarters of the issued shares of that class.

Share Buy-Backs

The Bank is entitled to purchase Shares in itself in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Act.

Proportional Takeovers

The Constitution of the Bank provides that shareholder approval will be required in relation to proportional take-over schemes.

It should be noted that the price at which Shares will trade on ASX in future may not necessarily reflect recent prices and will depend on factors including those stated in section 5 above.

6.5 DIVIDEND POLICY

A review of the Bank's distribution policy was undertaken in 2000, taking into account recent changes in the local investment environment. As part of a capital management programme and in an effort to maximise shareholder value and give the Bank's investors more flexibility in their strategies relating to the Bank's Shares, the Bank revised its distribution policy such that future cash ordinary dividends will be maintained at current levels of 93 cents per share, until such time as the dividends can be fully franked. Thereafter, consideration will be given to increasing ordinary dividends as the Bank's franking capacity increases.

The Directors cannot give any assurances concerning future dividend policy, the extent of future dividends, or the franking of any such dividends as they are dependent on the future profits and the financial and taxation positions of the Bank.
