AGL welcomes Victorian Government's move on Loy Yang

The Australian Gas Light Company (AGL) today welcomed the Victorian Government's decision to support the continued bidding process for Loy Yang A Power (Loy Yang) through the making of a regulation under the Electricity Industry Act 2000 (Vic).

"AGL welcomes the decision. It is obviously in the best interests of consumers and demonstrates the Victorian Government's commitment to investment in Victoria", AGL Managing Director Greg Martin said.

"This decision addresses the Victorian cross ownership issue. Whilst not dealing with all issues raised by the ACCC last week, it allows AGL to continue to assess its options in relation to an acquisition of a minority stake in Loy Yang."

AGL considering options for Loy Yang A purchase

The Australian Gas Light Company (AGL) has received formal advice that the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) intends to decline clearance for the Company to purchase a minority interest in Loy Yang A Power (LYA) in Victoria.

AGL has previously expressed an interest in LYA and had sought ACCC clearance as part of investigating that investment.

"AGL is disappointed in the outcome but remains interested in the purchase of an interest in LYA and is considering the options available," AGL Managing Director Greg Martin said.

"Assertions being made about the impact on electricity prices arising from the acquisition by AGL of a minority interest in LYA are not well considered and are unwarranted," Mr Martin concluded.

NEWS MEDIA RELEASE

NGC Concludes Surrey Gas Purchase Agreement

NGC Holdings Limited announced today it has taken a further step in the development of its gas trading portfolio with the conclusion of a two-year agreement with Westech Energy to purchase gas from the Surrey field, onshore Taranaki.

Under the agreement, NGC will buy at least 1 petajoule (PJ) of gas from the field, which lies southeast of Inglewood. Westech, a subsidiary of Energy Corporation of America, is completing the development of surface production facilities, including a 1km gas export pipeline that will interconnect with NGC's gas pipeline system. Gas deliveries are expected to commence next week and will ultimately be directed through NGC's gas treatment plant at Kapuni for processing to reticulated market specification. Commercial arrangements surrounding the agreement are confidential.

The Surrey field was discovered last year, with production currently from one well. Additional development wells will be drilled over the next 12 months.

The agreement with Westech follows last month's entry by NGC into a gas purchase option with Indo-Pacific Energy New Zealand Limited. Under that agreement, NGC made a $2 million prepayment against future gas purchases, and is entitled to negotiate first for gas produced by Indo-Pacific for the next 10 years.

NGC Chief Executive Phil James said: "NGC's agreement with Westech is a further important step towards bringing new gas resources to the market, and in the ongoing development of NGC's position in the gas sector. As the industry looks to the post-Maui supply era, NGC is demonstrating its commitment to working with exploration companies and providing practical assistance to facilitate the development of the smaller, previously uneconomic fields that, taken together, will make a major contribution to future gas supplies in New Zealand."
