Flughafen Wien AG:

Increase in passengers for June 2003 documents upward trend.

After weak traffic development in recent months because of the war in Iraq and SARS, Vienna International Airport recorded a plus of 2.3% in the number of passengers for June. This increase reflects the upward trend noted in international air travel. A total of 1,195,627 passengers were handled during the past month.

The temporary cancellation of flights to Peking and general reduction in long-haul flights led to a decline of 3.7% in the number of transfer passengers. Maximum take-off weight (MTOW) rose by 3.3% for the reporting period, and flight movements increased by 4%. Cargo volume decreased by 1.1%.

From January to June 2003 the number of passengers grew by 3.1%, flight movements rose by 4.6%, and maximum take-off weight (MTOW) increased by 5.9%. Growth was also recorded in the number of transfer passengers at 1.1% and cargo at 12.5%.
