With regard to handheld related sales for the three months ended June 30, 2003, GAME BOY ADVANCE SP, which launched during the previous period, maintained strong sales. As for compatible software, "Pocket Monsters Ruby & Sapphire" was well received in both the Japanese and the U.S. markets. On the other hand, with regard to console related products, Nintendo strived to expand hardware sales by releasing the NINTENDO GAMECUBE and GAME BOY PLAYER bundle. As for compatible software, "The Legend of Zelda: The Wind Waker", which was released in Europe during this first quarter, was sold well.

Although, because operating results of the Nintendo group have seasonal fluctuations, and demand in the first quarter is relatively low, net sales were 83.8 billion yen. Income before income taxes and extraordinary items was 17.7 billion yen due to contributing factors such as the trend of yen depreciation. Net income was 11.4 billion yen.
